

EYEWITNESS TRAVEL

GERMANY

CASTLES • BEER • MAPS

CATHEDRALS • ART

NATIONAL PARKS • RIVERS

ARCHITECTURE • HOTELS

THE GUIDES THAT SHOW YOU WHAT OTHERS ONLY TELL YOU

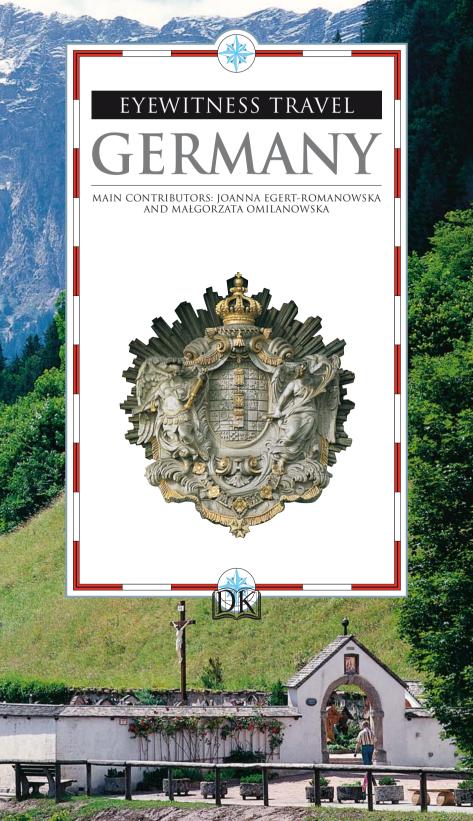

EYEWITNESS TRAVEL

GERMANY

LONDON, NEW YORK, MELBOURNE, MUNICH AND DELHI www.dk.com

PRODUCED BY Wydwnictwo Wiedza i Życie, Warsaw CONTRIBUTORS Małgorzata Omilanowska, Marek Stańczyk, Tomasz Torbus, Hanna Köster, Teresa Czerniewicz-Umer CARTOGRAPHERS Kartographie Huber (Munich), Magdalena Polak, Dariusz Romanowski OTOGRAPHERS Adam Hajder, Dorota and Mariusz Jarymowiczow

PHOTOGRAPHERS Adam Hajder, Dorota and Mariusz Jarymowiczowie, Wojciech Mędrzak, Tomasz Myśluk, Paweł Wójcik ILLUSTRATORS Lena Maminajszwili, Paweł Marczak,

Andrzej Wielgosz, Bohdan Wróblewski, Magdalena Żmudzińska DTP DESIGNERS Paweł Pasternak, Paweł Kamiński EDITORS Teresa Czerniewicz-Umer, Joanna Egert-Romanowska

PRODUCTION Anna Koʻzurno-Królikowska DESIGNERS Ewa Roguska, Piotr Kiedrowski Dorling Kindersley Limited EDITORS Sylvia Goulding, Irene Lyford TRANSLATORS Magda Hannay, Ian Wisniewski

DTP DESIGNERS Jason Little, Conrad Van Dyke PRODUCTION Marie Ingledew

Printed and bound by South China Printing Co. Ltd., China

First American Edition 2001 08 09 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

Published in the United States by DK Publishing, Inc., 375 Hudson Street, New York, New York 10014

Reprinted with revisions 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008 Copyright © 2001, 2008 Dorling Kindersley Limited, London

ALL RIGHTS RESERVED UNDER INTERNATIONAL AND PAN-AMERICAN COPYRIGHT CONVENTIONS. NO PART OF THIS PUBLICATION MAY BE REPRODUCED, STORED IN A RETRIEVAL SYSTEM, OR TRANSMITTED IN ANY FORM OR BY ANY MEANS, ELECTRONIC, MECHANICAL, PHOTOCOPYING, RECORDING, OR OTHERWISE WITHOUT THE PRIOR WRITTEN PERMISSION OF THE COPYRIGHT OWNER.

Published in Great Britain by Dorling Kindersley Limited. ISSN 1542-1554

ISBN 978-0-75662-635-8

Front cover main image: Rheinstein Castle, Rheingau, Hessen, Germany

THROUGHOUT THIS BOOK, FLOORS ARE REFERRED TO IN ACCORDANCE WITH EUROPEAN USAGE, I.E., THE "FIRST FLOOR" IS THE FLOOR ABOVE GROUND LEVEL.

The information in this Dorling Kindersley Travel Guide is checked regularly.

Every effort has been made to ensure that this book is as up-to-date as possible at the time of going to press. Some details, however, such as telephone numbers, opening hours, prices, gallery hanging arrangements and travel information are liable to change.

arrangements and travel information are liable to change.

The publishers cannot accept responsibility for any consequences arising from the use of this book, nor for any material on third party websites, and cannot guarantee that any website address in this book will be a suitable source of travel information. We value the views and suggestions of our readers very highly. Please write to:

Publisher, DK Eyewitness Travel Guides, Dorling Kindersley, 80 Strand, London WC2R ORL, Great Britain.

CONTENTS

HOW TO USE

INTRODUCING GERMANY

Heraldic shield over the entrance

DISCOVERING GERMANY 10

PUTTING GERMANY ON THE MAP 14

A PORTRAIT OF GERMANY 18

GERMANY THROUGH THE YEAR 40

THE HISTORY OF GERMANY 46

BERLIN AREA BY

INTRODUCING BERLIN
64

EASTERN CENTRE 66

WESTERN CENTRE 82

FURTHER AFIELD 94

SHOPPING IN BERLIN 106

ENTERTAINMENT IN BERLIN 108

> EASTERN GERMANY

INTRODUCING EASTERN GERMANY 122 BRANDFNBLIRG 128

SAXONY-ANHALT 142

SAXONY 158

THURINGIA 182

SOUTHERN GERMANY

INTRODUCING SOUTHERN GERMANY 200

MUNICH 206

SHOPPING IN MUNICH 230

Statue of a dancing figure, Stadtmuseum in Munich (see p214)

ENTERTAINMENT IN MUNICH 232

BAVARIA 238

BADEN-WURTTEMBERG 288

WESTERN GERMANY

INTRODUCING WESTERN GERMANY 330

RHINELAND-PALATINATE AND SAARLAND 336

HESSE 360

NORTH RHINE-WESTPHALIA 382

NORTHERN GERMANY

INTRODUCING NORTHERN GERMANY 418

> LOWER SAXONY HAMBURG AND BREMEN 424

SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN 454

MECKLENBURG-LOWER POMERANIA 466

TRAVELLERS' NEEDS

SHOPPING IN GERMANY 558

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES AND SPECIALIST HOLIDAYS 560

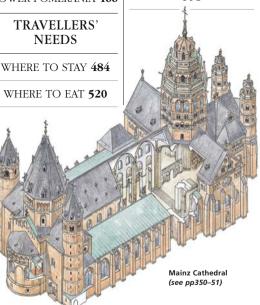

SURVIVAL GUIDE

PRACTICAL INFORMATION 566

TRAVEL INFORMATION 576

GENERAL INDEX 584

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS 604

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

WESTERN CENTRE

his guide will help you to get the most out of a visit to Germany, providing expert recommendations as well as thoroughly researched practical information. The first section, Introducing Germany, locates the country geographically and provides an invaluable historical and cultural context. Succeeding sections describe the main sights and attractions of the different regions and major cities. Feature spreads, with maps and photographs, focus on important sights. Information on accommodation and restaurants is provided in Travellers' Needs, while the Survival Guide has useful tips on everything you need to know from money to getting around.

BERLIN

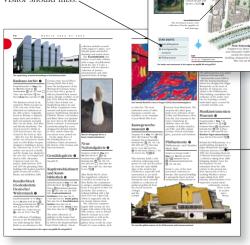

This section is divided into two parts: East and West. Sights outside the centre are described in the section Around Berlin. All sights are numbered and plotted on a map of the region. Detailed information for each sight is given in numerical order to make it easy to locate within the chapter.

Sights at a Glance

describes, by category, buildings in a particular area: Historic Streets and Buildings, Museums and Galleries, Churches, Parks and Gardens.

2 Street-by-Street Map gives a bird's-eye view of each sightseeing area described in the section.

Stars indicate the sights that no visitor should miss.

Pages marked with red refer

A locator map shows where you are in relation to the city plan.

Area Map

For easy reference the sights in each area are numbered.

A suggested route for a walk is marked with a broken red line.

3 Detailed Information All the sights of Berlin are described individually. Addresses, telephone numbers, opening bours, admission charges and information on how to get there are given for each sight. The key to symbols is shown on the back flap.

Introduction

The landscape, history and character of each region are described. showing how the area has changed through the ages. It also outlines the sights on offer for visitors.

GERMANY AREA BY AREA

In this guide, Germany is divided into 13 areas, each of which is covered in a separate section. The most interesting cities, towns, villages and sights in the area are marked on the Area Map.

This shows the main roads and the general topography of the area. All sights are numbered, and there are also details on how to get there.

Boxes contain additional information about sights

Colour coding at the edge of. every page makes it easy to find each particular region.

Detailed Information -3 All major towns, places of interest and other tourist sights are listed in order and numbered according to the Regional Map. Each entry contains information on important sights.

A Visitors' Checklist for each of the main sights provides practical information to help you plan your visit.

4 Major Sights
At least two pages are dedicated to each major sight. Historic buildings are dissected in order to show their interiors. Interesting towns or town centres have street maps with the main sights indicated and described.

PUTTING GERMANY ON THE MAP 14-17 A PORTRAIT OF GERMANY 18-39 GERMANY THROUGH THE YEAR 40-45 THE HISTORY OF GERMANY 46-61

DISCOVERING GERMANY

ermany is a country of marked contrasts and this is nowhere more apparent than in its geographic diversity. Modern cities of glass and steel sit only a few minutesdrive from ancient forests populated with ruined castles. From the windswept coasts of the northern part of the country to the alpine splendour of the southern states, Germany's natural beauty is multi-faceted. The same is true at the cultural level, where many regional differences can be seen in the architecture, dress and food. Visitors are certain to be impressed with the variety that Germany has to offer.

Sculpture on a Berlin bridge

The imposing steel and glass dome of the Reichstag in Berlin

BERLIN

- Checkpoint Charlie and the Kaiser-Wihelm-Gedächtnis-Kirche
- The Reichstag and Unter den Linden
- Shopping at KaDeWe

In terms of its museums. other cultural attractions. architecture and shopping. Berlin is on a par with Paris. London and New York. Checkpoint Charlie (see p80) and the Kaiser-Wilhelm-Gedächtnis-Kirche (see p86) are two of Berlin's most famous memorials to the aftermath of World War II and are not to be missed. As the political epicentre of Germany, Berlin hosts a variety of diplomatic visitors throughout the year and provides a home to the country's parliament, the Bundestag, in the newly renovated Reichstag (see p93) building. A stroll along Unter den Linden (see pp66–7) boulevard reveals a host of architectural and historical landmarks. Shopping opportunities abound, not least at KaDeWe (see pp106–7), one of the largest and most exclusively stocked shopping centres in Europe.

BRANDENBURG

- Spreewald Biosphere Preserve
- Potsdam's royal splendour
- Schloss Sanssouci

The federal state of Brandenburg is located in eastern Germany and surrounds the vibrant city of Berlin. The region has long been the country asylum for weary Berliners and it is well-known for its crystalclear lakes and waterways, broad expanses of countryside, verdant treelined roads, fruit orchards and unspoilt natural scenery. Its sleepy villages and cultural attractions are historically significant and the UNESCO protected Spreewald Biosphere Preserve (see p141) is geographically and culturally unique in Europe. Here you can punt between the island farmsteads of the area. The regional capital and former garrison town Potsdam (see bb134-5), is one of Europe's most magnificent royal cities. filled with baroque architectural wonders commissioned by the Prussian kings, like Schloss Sanssouci (see bb136-9).

SAXONY-ANHALT

- Historic Magdeburg
- Lutherstadt Wittenberg
- Wörlitz Park

Located close to the geographic centre of Germany is the Eastern German state of Saxony-Anhalt. Few other German regions offer a similar variety of historical tourist attractions in such a small area, Prehistoric, medieval, Reformation and Renaissance sights are all within close visiting distance and often within the same towns. In Magdeburg (see p152), the Monastery of Our Lady and the Cathedral are typical of the Romanesque architecture found in the area. Saxonv-Anhalt is the birthplace of the Reformation with Martin Luther's hometown of Eisleben and the city of Wittenberg (see pp154-5) where he first posted his 95 propositions. The region also has some beautiful rural areas with a number of parks and gardens, most notably Wörlitz Park (see pp156-7) which is well worth a visit.

Schloss Sanssouci in Potsdam, Brandenburg

A bridge over one of the many waterways in Wörlitz Park

SAXONY

- Meissen porcelain
- Erzgebirge mountain region
- Dresden's restored grandeur

Divided by the river Elbe, Saxony is considered Germany's gateway to the East with borders to both Poland and the Czech Republic. Saxony is also known for its unique craft traditions, the most famous of which is porcelain from Meissen (see p167). The Sächsische Silberstraße (see p166), which runs through the old silver mining route in the Erzgebirge mountains, offers delightful scenery, while the beautiful buildings of Dresden (see pp168–77) continue to enchant. The city was all but destroyed in the war, but much has been done in recent years to restore it to its former glory.

A tree-lined hiking trail in the Thuringian Forest

THURINGIA

- Thuringian Forest
- The mighty Wartburg
- · Weimar's literary culture

Thuringia is one of the least known regions of Germany, but should not be missed. Home to several natural reserves encompassing extensive walking trails in the Thuringian Forest (see pp190–91), it is one of Germany's top destinations for hiking enthusiasts. In Eisenach (see pp186–7), the Wartburg fortress dominates the city – Wagner immortalized it in his opera Tannbäuser and Martin Luther translated the New Testament into German here. The city of Weimar (see pp194–5), meanwhile, offers a glimpse into the lives of German authors Goethe and Schiller, who resided in this UNESCO heritage site, famous for its classical architecture

MUNICH

- Museums and architecture
- Hofbräuhaus Beer Hall
- Home to Oktoberfest

"Munich nestles between art and beer like a village between hills," wrote Heinrich Heine some 150 vears ago. Munich has much more to offer than just great beer however Composed of five central districts, the city manages to marry old Bavarian tradition with a vibrant modern life. The Marienplatz (see bb210–11) in the city's old town is a prime jumping-off point for seeing the city's beautiful architecture and numerous museums. There is a diverse music scene and a plethora of excellent restaurants Visitors will also want to visit the renowned Hofbräuhaus (see p215) beer hall to experience Munich at its most traditional, and, in October, the city hosts the world-famous Oktoberfest (see p227), the biggest folk and beer fair in Europe.

Revellers enjoying beer and music at the annual Oktoberfest

ΒΔVΔRΙΔ

- Fairvtale castles
- German alpine heartland
- Medieval towns

Bavaria is Germany's top tourist destination due to its mix of urban and rural landscapes. To the south, nestled among hills and lakes, is the eccentric King Ludwig II's 18th-century Schloss Neuschwanstein (see pp.282–3). The castle was built according to Ludwig's particular tastes in the style of a medieval fairytale castle.

Berchtesgadener Land (see pp276–7) is a region of impressively spectacular alpine scenery, while to the east there are tranquil river valleys, miles of forest and an abundance of lakes. Besides the magnificent display of natural wonders is a multitude of well-preserved medieval Bavarian towns.

Rothenburg ob der Tauber (see pp262–3) is foremost among these with its tiny cobbled alleyways, gabled houses and towers that form a picturesque skyline.

BADEN-WURTTEMBERG

- Stuttgart and Heidelberg
- Black Forest spa towns
- The Bodensee (Lake Constance)

Pristine and stately, Stuttgart (see pp308-13) is the regional capital with many parks and beer gardens to enjoy despite the high concentration of industry. However, Heidelberg (see pp296-9) is by far the most picturesque town in the region, with its mix of medieval and Baroque architecture. Baden Wurttemberg's Black Forest (see pp326-7) is renowned internationally for its spas, with elegant and exclusive Baden-Baden (see p301) topping this list. The Bodensee (see pp320–21), or Lake Constance as it is more commonly known, is on the border with Switzerland and is a favoured weekend spot, especially for sailing and caravanning enthusiasts.

The Bodensee (Lake Constance) from the Altes Schloss in Meersburg

RHINELAND-PALATINATE AND SAARLAND

- Palatinate and Mosel wine regions
- Saarbrücken's varied architecture
- Trier's Porta Nigra

These two regions bordering France account for much of Germany's wine production. These wines are best sampled by following the Deutsche Weinstraße (see p347) driving route where there are also many beautiful castles to be seen along the way (see pp354–5). With a history of changing nationality, both states share a wonderful cultural mix unlike anywhere else in Germany. This is most apparent in Saarbrücken (see p344) which was ruled in turn by the Celts, Romans and Franks. The city's resulting range of architecture is now its main attraction. The region's Roman heritage is evident in many cities, particularly in Trier (see pp340–43), with its Porta Nigra, the oldest defensive structure in Germany.

A sun-drenched vineyard in the Mosel Valley

HESSE

- The picturesque Waldecker Land
- Bustling Frankfurt
- Historic Wiesbaden

Hesse lies at the heart of western Germany and is home to the beautiful Waldecker Land (see pp366-7), which is full of wooded hills ideal for long rambles and cycling tours. At the heart of Hesse is Frankfurt (see pp374–9), Germany's ultramodern financial city which has some of Europe's tallest skyscrapers. The banking district's glass and steel architecture is a famous postcard skyline but only a few minutes' walk away is the lovely Römerberg square and the banks of the river Main with its fascinating Museum Mile. In contrast to Frankfurt, many of Hesse's other cities are full of history, and none more so than Wiesbaden (see pp372-3) with its spa town heritage.

NORTH-RHINE

- Gothic cathedral of Cologne
- Düsseldorf: fashion capital
- Modern culture in Dortmund and Essen

North Rhine-Westphalia is the most densely populated federal state in Germany. The city of Köln (Cologne) (see pp398-403) with its famous Gothic cathedral Roman ruins and enchanting old city is better known as a tourist destination than the state capital of Düsseldorf (see pp392-3), but the latter has excellent shops. Once the centre of the German mining industry and steel production, the Ruhr area. incorporating Dortmund (see p376) and Essen (see p376). is now renowned for its thriving arts scene.

Fischmarkt in Köln, overlooked by the Groß St Martin church

LOWER SAXONY, HAMBURG AND BREMEN

- Pristine Hannover
- Windswept East Frisian Islands
- City-states of Hamburg and Bremen

The regional capital of Lower Saxony, Hannover (see pp444–5), is well known as a trade fair city, but it has much more to offer. There are several parks, the magnificent Baroque Herrenhäuser Gardens and the unusual town hall, built on more than 6,000 beech pillars with Neo-Gothic and Secessionist detail. To the north are the seven Fast Frisian Islands (see t)428) which line up like pearls on a string just off the North Sea coast. They are popular holiday destinations and home to a unique ecosystem. The city-states of Hamburg (see bb434–8) and Bremen (see pp430-33) are located in this region. Being port cities. both Hamburg and Bremen have a strong international flavour, seen in the diversity of shops and restaurants. In Bremen, the Bremen Town Musicians monument is a must-see if you have read the famous Grimm fairytale.

SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN

- Sandy beaches on Sylt
- Flensburg's waterfront
- Gothic architecture in Lübeck

Schleswig-Holstein is the most northerly-situated state of Germany and possesses a distinct Nordic feel. With long stretches of coastline and the rugged sandy beaches of the North Frisian Islands, most particularly Svlt (see p459), this region makes an attractive holiday destination, especially for families. Flensburg (see p459) was once a trading centre with 200 ships: today there are some beautiful walks to be had around the harbour. Lübeck (see pp462-5) was the most important town in the area at the end of the Middle Ages and many of its superb Gothic buildings remain.

Bremen's most famous residents, the Bremen Town Musicians

MECKLENBERG-LOWER POMERANIA

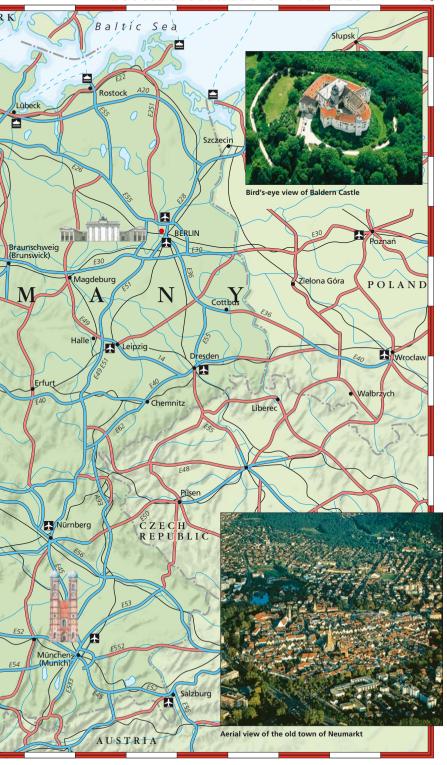

- Hanseatic city Rostock
- State capital Schwerin
- Rugged Rügen

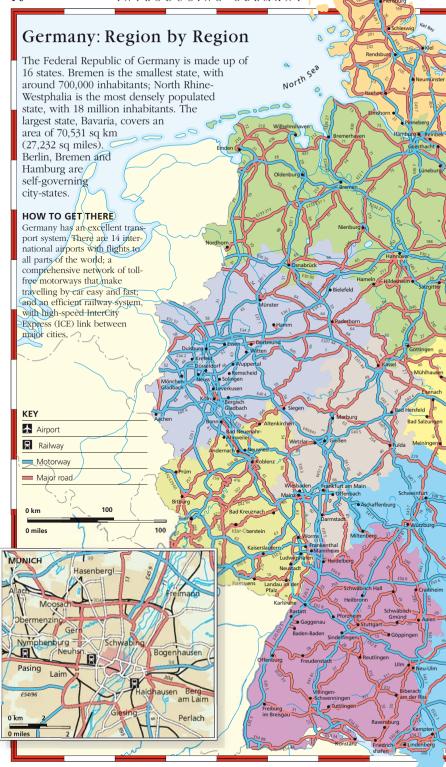

The Mecklenberg-Lower Pomeranian region is full of towns with verdant treelined avenues. Its Hanseatic towns, in particular Rostock (see p476), are filled with richly decorated townhouses. cathedrals, abbeys and town halls. Over 800 years old, it is the largest town in the region, but it is the smaller Schwerin (see pp470-71) that is the state capital. It is home to one of the most beautiful Neo-Renaissance castles in Germany. The stretches of Baltic coastline here are unspoilt natural attractions and the island of Rügen (see pp478-9) boasts miles of untouched sandy beaches.

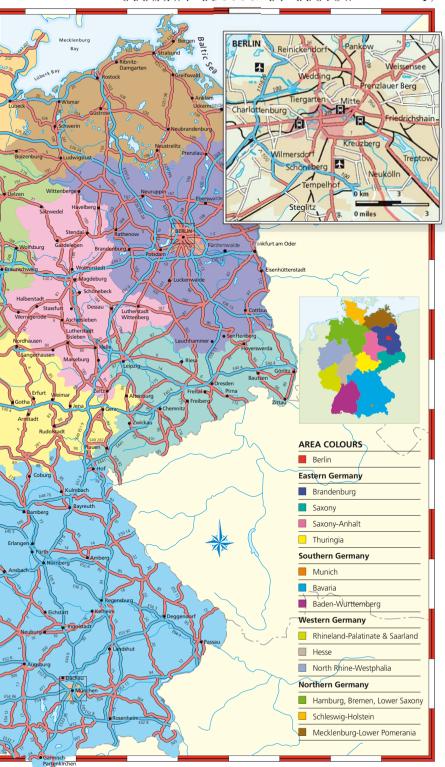

The picturesque harbour in Flensburg

A PORTRAIT OF GERMANY

ermany is a wealthy country, whose people are generally regarded as hard-working, determined and efficient. This view stems from the country's industrial might and the smooth functioning of its economy, but it overlooks other important aspects of Germany. These include its important contributions to art and culture, its breathtaking scenery and excellent tourist facilities.

Contemporary Germany is far removed from the traditional, stereotyped view of the country. In the last 50 years, it has developed into a multi-ethnic, multi-cultural melting pot. Over 7 million of Germany's inhabitants are immigrants; the majority of these are Turks, with more recent guest workers arriving from the former Yugoslavia, Italy and Greece. In the city of Stuttgart, every third inhabitant is a foreigner; in Frankfurt it is one in four. Hamburg has more mosques than any other city in Europe and, in some schools in Berlin, German children are in the minority. Almost every town has a selection of Italian, Chinese, Greek and Turkish restaurants and cafés, testifying to the multi-ethnicity of its population.

The colourful Bavarian coat of arms

HISTORY AND ROMANCE

For many, the river Rhine epitomizes tourist Germany, particularly the romantic stretch between Mainz and Cologne. The country has far more than this to offer in the way of scenery, however. There is the ever-changing Baltic coastline, the sandy islands of the North Sea, the lakes of Mecklenburg, lonely castles perched on crags in Baden and Thuringia, mountain ranges including the Alps, the vast Bodensee lake, medieval cities and fairy-tale villages. Not all of the latter are original, as countless towns were destroyed by bombs during World War II, but many have been meticulously rebuilt to the original plans, and now it is difficult to tell the difference between the old and the new.

Verdant Alpine meadow against a backdrop of majestic, snowy peaks

Bayarian scene on a beer glass

Procession during the Plärrer Fest, a beer festival in Augsburg

TRADITIONS

Today's German nation has evolved over the past thousand years, mainly from various Germanic tribes, notably the Franks, Saxons, Swabians and Bavarians. Traditions and dialects have developed within regional ethnic groups that emerged as a result of historical alliances. There is no such thing as a single German tradition. Even the assumption that Germany is a country of beerdrinkers is belied by the large numbers of wine-lovers. These groups, along with consumers of stronger beverages, have given Germany a high position in the world league table for alcohol use. Nevertheless, drunks are rarely seen in Germany.

Various ethnic groups in the country are ascribed different characteristics. The people of Mecklenburg, for example, are seen as introspective, while Swabians are regarded as thrifty; the Saxons are seen as disciplined and cunning, while Bavarians are typified as a people bound by rustic traditions, quick to quarrel and fight. Indeed, one of the most popular Bavarian men's folk-dances ends with them slapping each other in the face. Bavaria, of course, is home to the traditional Oktoberfest, a beer festival that brings millions of people to Munich every year from virtually all over the world.

The people of the Rhineland have a reputation for enjoying life. Their favourite season is the Carnival period, and they spend practically the entire year preparing for this weeklong event. It begins on the last Thursday before Lent, with

"town soldiers", helped by the huge crowds, storming the town hall. The town councillors surrender and power passes to the masked revellers. On the Monday, the Carnival proceeds through the thronged streets of the towns on the Rhine, and the pubs are busy until the end of Shroyetide.

Carnival is rooted in ancient rituals marking the banishment of winter. This custom was most common in the south of Germany, but it also reached the Rhineland, the Palatinate and Hessen. There is a special enthusiasm for the festival among the inhabitants of the former East Germany, where Carnival used to be banned, as it had been during the Third Reich.

Germany is a land of sagas and legends that tell of woodland spirits, beautiful

A Bavarian dressed in regional costume

princesses, magicians and sirens such as the Lorelei. These legends have had a strong influence on German art. An example is the German epic poem, the Nibelungenlied, which was written around 1200 on the basis of old legends. This poem was the inspiration for Richard Wagner's cycle of operas, The Ring of the Nibelungen, as well as for a trilogy of plays by Christian Friedrich Hebbel and a film by Fritz Lang.

Germans have won eight Nobel Prizes for Literature. The most recent prizewinner was Günter Grass, whose Tin Drum brought him world renown. More recently a film adaptation of the book was made by Volker Schlöndorff, which won the Golden Palm at the Cannes Film Festival. After a relatively stagnant period, the German film industry became revitalized around 1995 with a number of hits, albeit only at the national level. German cinemas are now always full and traditional cinemas are increasingly being replaced by multiplexes.

Germans read widely, even in today's age of television and the internet. Every year 70,000 new books are published in Germany and eight times that many titles are on sale. Germany is second only to the United States in the number of books published annually, while the number of bookshops per square kilometre is the highest in the world. The same applies to museums and art galleries.

Germany has over 2,000 national, provincial and local history museums,

The historical Frohnauer hammer forge near Annaberg in Saxony as well as numerous church museums, folk museums and former royal palaces. This variety and choice owes much to the fact that, in the past, local dukes acquired collections of art in order to impress others and to demonstrate their wealth. The Bayarian dukes also built up extensive collections of machines, artisans' tools, musical instruments and minerals. As early as the 16th century, Munich was an international centre of the arts and the Grünes Gewölbe in 17th-century Dresden was one of the largest treasuries for storing fine art in Europe. Of the many art galleries to be found throughout Germany, the finest are in Cologne, Frankfurt, Stuttgart, Munich and Berlin.

Music also flourishes in Germany. Most large cities have their own symphony orchestra and opera company and every year some 100 regional and local music festivals take place. Musical comedies are especially popular.

The imposing Schönburg Castle, near Oberwesel on the Rhine

SOCIETY AND POLITICS

The scars of World War II are more evident in Eastern Germany, although they are gradually disappearing there, too, Görlitz, Bautzen, Leipzig and Weimar have now acquired a splendour that was previously hidden behind the grim facade of East Germany. The mental. social and political scars of the war and subsequent division of Germany have, however, left deeper scars. Although reunification took place on 3 October 1990. unity among the people The Reichstag building, where the Bundestag sessions are held themselves has been longer in coming. East Germans are the poor relations: the region has high unemployment rates and its people tend to regard their western counterparts as arrogant and self-assured. The latter. for their part, claim that the inhabitants of the "new states" are jealous and ungrateful despite the billions of marks that have been poured into the region to equalize living standards.

Germany has almost always been divided regionally into states with fluctuating borders. The present-day states were, for the most part, created after 1945 while those in East Germany were not created until forty years later. In all cases, old territorial and historical ties were taken into account. That is the reason for their evocative names. such as the "Free State of Bavaria" or the "Free State of Saxony".

There are now 16 federal states, or provinces. North Rhine-Westphalia. Baden-Wurttemberg and Bayaria are the largest and are like economically powerful countries. At the other end of the scale, the tiny province of Saarland has only 1.1 million inhabitants, while the Free Hanseatic City of Bremen has fewer than 700 000. The former East German states are also relatively small but all play an important. role in the Bundesrat, or Federal Council, where they are instrumental in enacting legislation. All laws, apart from those relating to the Federation as a whole, such as defence or foreign policy, require the agreement of the Bundesrat, which is made up from current local governments. Depending on the number of inhabitants, each federal state has from four to six votes

The skyline of Frankfurt am Main, reminiscent of New York

A government with a majority in the Bundestag (parliament) cannot always count on support in the Bundesrat. even if it has a majority there. Each state looks after its own interests and often makes alliances with other states to achieve its own aims, without regard for party loyalty. The complex working of German federalism is based on the compromises that this system makes necessary.

DAILY LIFE

The traditional image of German women used to be summed up in the "three Ks": Küche. Kinder, Kirche (kitchen, children, church). As in other Western European countries. however, this stereotype no longer holds true. Although cookery is fashionable and there are countless TV cookery programmes starring celebrity chefs, for everyday meals, ready-prepared dishes are eaten, either at the work canteen or from the supermarket. The German birthrate is declining, while the anti-authoritarian model of education that was intro-Participant in a parade marking duced in the 1960s has to the Reunification some extent relieved parents of many of the more onerous duties of child-rearing. As a result, many young people show little respect for their elders. The churches, for their part, are usually empty. Although the largest churches (Catholic and Protestant) have many adherents, the vast majority are not practising believers and limit themselves to the payment of church dues.

celebrations

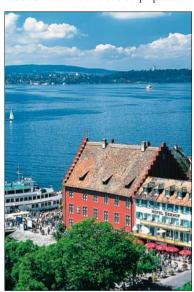

Germans speak of themselves as a high-performance society (Leistungsgesellschaft), which gives the highest rewards to those who devote almost all their energies to their careers. As a result, stress is often a factor in people's lives, from schooldays onwards. In Germany today there are increasing numbers of people who live alone.

Bathers on the sandy beaches of Norddeich

Single-person households are most common in the cities and even young people regard their careers as of paramount importance. Increasingly large numbers say that they are not interested in having a family.

Nevertheless, Germans enjoy mass events such as public holidays and popular festivals. The country has the highest number of public holidays in Europe and German workers have the longest annual holidays. Its citizens are Europe's most enthusiastic travellers, each vear spending over 35 million euros on foreign holidays. When they return there is a tendency to long for the southern climes they have just visited – perhaps this explains why restaurants offering Mediterranean food are so popular.

The Bodensee, a popular tourist destination

aull

Flora and Fauna

Germany is a vast country whose varied geography has given rise to a great diversity of flora and fauna. It is famous for its forests, many of mixed deciduous trees. including oak, beech and birch, Around Black-headed 31 per cent of the country is forested.

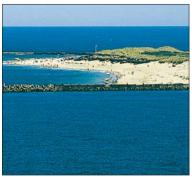

The Alpine regions have a rich variety of wild flowers, with meadow species a particular feature in spring and summer. On the northern peat moors, heaths and heathers are common. Germany is home to a wide range of wildlife, including wild boar, lynx and marmots. Many valuable wildlife areas have now been placed under protection.

GERMAN WILDLIFF

The fauna of Germany is typical of central Europe. with a variety of woodland wetland and Alpine birds. Of the larger mammals visitors are most likely to see deer, squirrels and foxes. Small populations of Alpine rarer species such raven as lynx and European beaver exist but these are threatened with extinction

COASTAL REGIONS

Germany's coasts vary considerably: the North Sea coast is predominantly flat with drained land, dikes and islands: the Baltic Sea coast is hillier with sandy inlets and cliffs. Together with differences in tides and temperature, these variations determine the variety of species found along coastal regions.

Cross-leaved heath

is a species of heath that is commonly found growing on the moors and peat bogs and in the damp coastal forests of northern Germany.

Sea holly is a beautiful thistlelike plant with an amethyst bue. It is commonly found growing in sand dunes.

LAKES

Most of Germany's lakes are grouped in the northern part of the country, mainly in the Mecklenburg region, where they are divided from the south by the mountain ranges, rifts and valleys of the Central Uplands. However, the largest lake in Germany – the Bodensee (Lake Constance) – is situated in the south. on the border with Austria and Switzerland

Yellow floating heart grows in shallow, fertile water. Its habitats are disappearing but it still survives in the Rhine basin and on the lower Elbe.

The white water

lily, with its elegant floating flowers and lush foliage, adorns lakes and reservoirs.

species forests.

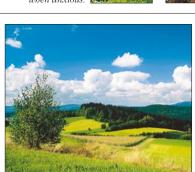

Marmots live on vegetation growing in the bigh Albine meadows. Rodents of the squirrel family, they sleep in burrows at night and whistle loudly when anxious.

UPLANDS

Upland landscapes dominate the southern part of Germany, including Bavaria. Here, the climate is mild, and forests cover nearly a third of the region. In this picturesque and popular part of the country, winter-sports centres and spa resorts are common.

Holly, the symbol of Christmas with its glossy leaves and scarlet berries, is found in forests of beech or beech and fir in the Hepatica is a protected plant in Germany. It blooms in early spring and the seeds of the blue, star-like flowers are distributed by ants.

MOUNTAINS

Mountain ranges in Germany vary both in age and in height above sea level. Older, not very high mountains covered with forests predominate. The Bavarian Alps are higher and more recent. Here sub-alpine plants grow, with alpine plants at higher altitudes.

Gentian, with its intensely blue trumpet-like flowers, is one of the most impressive plants to be seen in the Alps. It is pollinated by bumblebees.

Edelweiss is a small flowering plant with flat, white flowers and grey-green woolly leaves. It grows high up in the Alps.

Rhododendron hirsutum is a low, dense variety of rhododendron, one of a group of plants that grow at sub-Alpine levels.

German Literature

The first known examples of written German date from the 8th century. German literature flourished in the Renaissance, although it was mainly later writers who entered the world's canon of great literature. Goethe and Schiller, who wrote many of their most famous works in the Sturm und Drang (Storm and Stress) era, in the late 18th century, count among the greatest. Germany also produced many dramatists, poets and novelists in the 19th and 20th centuries. German writers have won eight Nobel Prizes for literature, awarded to Nelly Sachs, Thomas Mann, Heinrich Böll and Günter Grass among others.

Schleswig-Holstein

Gotthold Ephraim Lessing

(1729-81), the most famous German writer of the Age of Enlightenment, wrote dramas such as Nathan the Wise, reviews of plays performed in Hamburg as well as essays on literary and cultural theory.

Lower Saxony, Hamburg, Bremen

Erich Maria Remarque (1898–1970) emigrated from Germany in 1931. His pacifist writings, including All Quiet on the Western Front and L'Arc de Triomphe, brought bim acclaim around the world.

The Brothers Grimm, Jacob Ludwig
Karl (1785–1863)
Karl (1785–1863), were university professors and pbilologists, but better known as writers of some of the world's favourite fairy-tales.

Rhineland-Palatinate & Saarland

75

0 km

0 miles

Friedrich Schiller (1759-1805) wrote about the concept of individual freedom in bis great dramas, such as The Robbers and Wallenstein. He also wrote ballads and songs, including Ode to Joy.

Thomas Mann (1875–1955) was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1929 The best-known of his novels is Buddenbrooks, which chronicles the life of a Lübeck family.

Gerhart Hauptmann (1862–1946). dramatist novelist and winner of the Nobel Prize in 1912 lived and worked mainly in Silesia The Weavers is his most famous drama.

Theodor Fontane (1819-98) was born in Neuruppin, although his literary activities were chiefly connected with Brandenburg. He was the author of realistic novels such as Effi Briest, and he wrote excellent theatre reviews.

Saxony-Anhalt

Berlin

Brandenburg

Saxony

poet and director, wrote The Threepenny Opera, and was a co-founder of the Berliner Ensemble theatre company.

Thuringia

Karl May (1842–1912) was known around the world as the author of travel books but his great popularity stems from a cycle of stories featuring the Indian chief Winnetou, which he wrote in Radebeul.

Bavaria

Munich

Munich until his opposition to the National Socialists forced him to emigrate in 1933. He wrote in exile, alluding to contemporary events in his historical novels.

Music in Germany

Ge con Ma

Richard

German composers have made an enormous contribution to the world's cultural heritage. Many great musical geniuses were born and worked here, including Johann Sebastian worked here, including Johann Sebastian Bach and Ludwig van Beethoven. Today their work, and that of other German composers, continues to be performed to enthusiastic new generations of musiclovers in concert halls and opera houses around the world. In Germany, their work is celebrated regularly at hugely popular music festivals.

EARLY MUSIC

During the early Middle Ages, music evolved in the courts and monasteries of Europe. The basis of sacred music was the Gregorian chant, which was introduced by Pope Gregory I in the late 6th century. An influential role in medieval court music was played by roving poets (Minnesänger), who sang love verses to a lute accompaniment. From the 14th century. German singing guilds known as Meistersinger emerged. Unlike the Minnesänger, these artistes adopted a settled lifestyle. In the succeeding centuries, both vocal and instrumental music continued to evolve, with many new forms appearing.

In the second half of the 17th century, interest in organ music developed and organ schools were established in many towns. One of the best was in Nuremberg. This was directed by Johann Pachelbel (c.1653–1706), who worked in Vienna, Stuttgart, Erfurt and Nuremberg as a church organist. He is best known for his organ work Canon, a set of variations on a theme.

The first German opera, Dafne, was composed by Heinrich Schütz (1585–1672). Completed in 1627, the opera has unfortunately been lost.

THE 18TH CENTURY

A huge flowering of musical talent took place in Germany during the 18th century, when divisions both in German politics and religion led to the development of several important artistic and cultural centres. The most renowned figure in

Renowned composer, Johann Sebastian Bach (1685–1750)

German music in the 18th century was undoubtedly Iohann Sebastian Bach who. until 1717, was associated with the Weimar court. From 1723 until his death he was associated with Leipzig, where he was the choir master at the church of St Thomas Bach's output as a composer is vast and embraces most of the musical forms known at that time. His Passions are today performed in many countries during Holy

Week, and his Brandenburg
Concertos are among his most frequently performed works.
His sons – Wilhelm
Friedemann, Carl
Philipp Emanuel,
Johann Christoph
Friedrich and Johann Christian –

Philipp Emanuel, Johann Christoph Friedrich and Johann Christian – also became acclaimed composers and made significant contributions to German classical music.

Georg Friedrich Händel was another great composer of late Baroque music. Before forging a prestigious career in England, he began as the cathedral organist in Halle, from where he transferred to the opera house in Hamburg. A friend of Händel and another important composer. Georg Philipp Telemann (1681-1767) was employed as conductor at many German courts. His work includes chamber music, operas and church music.

MUSIC FESTIVALS

The Bach festival in Leipzig's Church of St Thomas

Germany is a country of musical festivals, which are usually held in the summer and early autumn. Among the most popular are the festivals dedicated to the works of a single composer, such as Wagner in Bayreuth, Bach in various cities of Thuringia. Handel in Halle and Beethoven in Bonn. Apart from these specialized festivals. opera festivals with a broader repertoire are also popular. These include the outdoor opera festival in Berlin and the Sommerfestspiele in Xanten.

Son of a court musician and arguably the greatest figure in classical music, Ludwig van Beethoven (1770–1827) was born in Bonn, although he worked mainly in Vienna. Among his best-known works are his nine symphonies, as well as piano and violin concertos, two masses, various chamber works and the opera Fidelio

The life of this great composer, is shrouded in legend. Succeeding generations have been fascinated not just by his music, but also by the fact that he began to lose his hearing at the age of 30. During his final years, when totally deaf, he composed from memory.

major figure from this time was Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, whose "Wedding March" from A Midsummer Night's Dream accompanies wedding celebrations around the world. As well as this famous piece of music, however, Mendelssohn left a legacy that includes five symphonies, piano music, chamber music and oratorios. In 1843, Mendelssohn founded Germany's first musical conservatory, in Leipzig.

The master of chamber music was Robert Schumann (1810–56), a poet and composer whose miniature works for piano, violin sonatas and song cycles all remain popular. The Hungarian composer Franz Liszt, who worked in Weimar from 1848 to 1861, also made a significant contribution to the evolution of German music.

Statue of Ludwig

van Reethoven

In the second half of the 19th century, Richard Wagner was the major influence on German opera. During his early years, he composed traditional operas such as Tamnbäuser. He later developed his own creative synthesis, integrating lyrics with the music. This found its finest expression in his Ring cycle, which was based on medieval sagas.

Wagner's ideas about musical theatre, including his use of Richard Wagner leitmotifs (recurring (1813-83) phrases), were adopted by Richard Strauss (1864–1949), who composed many operas, symphonies and songs. The first bars of his symphonic poem Zarathustra became a guiding musical motif in Stanley Kubrick's 1968 film 2001: A Space Odyssey. Johannes Brahms (1833-97) composed in traditional forms and was unsympathetic to the progressive ideas of Wagner and Liszt. From 1872 to 1875, Brahms was the musical director of the Gesellschaft der Musikfreunde (Society of Friends of Music).

Composer and pianist Johannes Brahms (1833–97)

THE 20TH CENTURY

During the 20th century, many contemporary composers continued the traditions of the earlier masters. One renowned figure was Paul Hindemith (1895–1963), whose work includes opera, ballet and concertos. His music was banned by the Nazis in 1933 and Hindemith emigrated to the USA in 1939.

Another important figure in German musical life was Carl Orff (1895–1982) whose best-known work is the oratorio

Carmina Burana, based on 13thcentury Latin and German poems found in a Benedictine monastery in Bavaria. The Austrian composer Arnold
Schönberg (1874–

1951) lived in Berlin during the 1920s and exerted great influence on German music.

Among the most important composers living and working in Germany today, mention should be made of Hans Werner Henze, Dieter Schnebel, Helmut Lachenmann, Moritz Eggert and Jörg Widmann.

THE 19TH CENTURY

Romanticism brought aboutthe flowering of opera in Germany. One of the leading creators in this tradition was the composer Ernst Theodor Amadeus Hoffmann (1776– 1822), whose opera Undine was staged for the first time in 1816 in Berlin. Carl Maria von Weber (1786–1826) rose to prominence following the success of his opera Der Freischütz. which was the first opera in the German Romantic tradition. Another

Composer Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy (1809–47)

German Painting

The diversity in German painting has its roots in the political and religious divisions that existed in the country in the past. The Old Masters working in the north, for example. were more likely to be influenced by the Netherlandish school, while artists working in the south leaned towards Italian styles. German art reached the peak of its individuality during the late-Gothic, late-Baroque and Expressionist periods – all periods when one of the chief characteristics of artistic style was strength of expression.

Emil Nolde (1867–1956), one of Germany's foremost Expressionists. painted landscapes of his native region. Pictured above is his North Friesian Landscape.

Schleswig-Holstein

Master Francke (14th-15th century) was the leading representative of the North German Late-Gothic style, working in Hamburg c.1410-24. He painted religious scenes and his works include St Thomas's Altar, of which this is a detail.

Bremen. Hamburg and Lower Saxony

Rhineland-Palatinate and Saarland

Westphalia

Peter von Cornelius (1783–1867) joined the Nazarenes during the anti-academic rebellion. He later became director of the academy in Dusseldorf and others. He painted the picture The Wise and Foolish Maidens at that time.

Adam Elsheimer

(1578-1610) was born in Frankfurt am Main but spent most of his life in Rome. His poignant landscapes, such as The Flight to Egypt shown bere, greatly influenced the development of 17thcentury painting.

Wurttemburg

Baden-

Mecklenburg-Max Liebermann Lower Pomerania

Caspar David Friedrich

(1774–1840) was one of the most prominent exponents of Romanticism. He created poignant images such as this Traveller above the Sea of Clouds, in which Man contemplates the power of Nature as created by God.

(1847-1935) is considered one of the leading representatives of Impressionism. His Man with Parrots was painted during his association with the Berlin Secession

Saxonv-Anhalt

Brandenburg

Saxony

Berlin

Thuringia

Lionel Feininger (1871–1956) was born in the USA but spent much of his life in Germany. He lectured at the Bauhaus and painted Cubistinspired scenes of architectural subjects, such as this Gelmeroda IX.

Albrecht Dürer (1471–1528) is one of the best-known German painters. This great master of the Renaissance period was also an outstanding engraver and artbistorian. His Paumgärtners' Altar was made for St Catherine's Church in Nuremberg.

0 kilometres 80

0 miles

Wilhelm Leibl (1844-1900) painted this scene of women praying in a village church in Bavaria, Three Women in a Church, which is regarded as one of the outstanding works of German Realism.

Castles in Germany

In a number of German regions, medieval castles are among the most characteristic features of the landscape. Some have survived only in the form of picturesque ruins, but many others, refurbished and modernized over the years, continue to be the main residence for the families for whom they

Crest from the castle portal in Gotha were built. The most impressive grouping of great fortresses is to be found along the banks of the Mosel and the central Rhine, while, in the Münster area, you will see the most beautiful moated castles to have survived in the lowlands

Marburg Castle is one of the best-preserved fortresses in Hesse. At its core is a 12th-century building, but the castle's current appearance is the result of work carried out between the 14th and 16th centuries (see p369).

Heidelberg Castle has survived as a picturesque ruin. A Gothic-Renaissance structure of imposing proportions, it continues to captivate with its commanding position and fascinating architecture (see pp298–9).

was an apartment specially designated for the use of important guests.

The Wartburg in

Eisenach is one of the most important monuments in Thuringia, not only because of its excellently preserved architecture but also for its association with Martin Luther (see pp186–7).

Gardens were laid out in the 19th century in an area between the castle walls and the site of the farm buildings.

The Great Knights' Hall, where knights ate, drank and entertained, was a feature of every castle

The 15th-century

kanelle

Michaels-

Raesfeld is one of the most beautiful castles in Münsterland, a region of Westphalia that is renowned for its historic moated castles. The castle was extended in the mid-17th century for Alexandra II von Velen (see p388).

19TH-CENTURY CASTLES

In the 19th century, many ruined castles in Germany were rebuilt in a wave of nostalgia for the Middle Ages. A number of completely new castles were built, which were modelled on medieval designs

The Schwerin castle. built on an island, bas a 16th-century chapel, but the rest, dating from 1843-57, was inspired by the French castles along the river Loire (see p470).

Lichtenstein castle owes its fame to the novel Lichtenstein by Wilhelm Hauff and its beauty to the Romantic-style remodelling that was carried out in 1840-41 (see p315).

Evangelical The main entrance Chapel to the castle leads through a gate house - here in the form of a tower.

BURG HOHENZOLLERN

The family seat of the Hohenzollern family, Burg Hohenzollern in Hechingen, is set on a clifftop in the Swabian Jura. The first building was established here in the 13th century and rebuilt many times over the years. The current medieval appearance is the result of work that was carried out in 1850-67 in the spirit of romantic historicism (see p314).

Wernigerode's

castle dominates the entire city. Despite later extensions, it bas retained a late-Gothic tower, a beautiful staircase dating from 1495 and some valuable furnishings (see p146).

Burg Eltz, set high above the Mosel, is one of the most beautiful castles in Germany. Built between the 12th and 16th centuries, it has survived with very few alterations (see p345).

German Scientists and Inventors

Germany is popularly regarded as a nation of practical people, so it is hardly surprising that the history books abound with the names of Germans who have made important contributions to technological progress and the development of science. They include Johann Gutenberg (c.1400–68), who invented printing with movable type, and Karl Benz (1844-1929) and Gottlieb Daimler (1834–1900) who developed the first petroldriven car. In terms of Nobel Prize winners alone (and not counting those who received the prize for achievements in other fields) there is currently a total of 69 Germans. One of the most illustrious of these is physicist Albert Einstein (1879-1955).

1791 Alexander von Humboldt, a naturalist and geographer, discovers the presence of carbon dioxide in the air

1671 Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz, philosopher and mathematician, is known for his important philosophical works and his (disputed) claim to have invented differential calculus

c.1707 Iohann F Böttger produces the first European porcelain

1718 Iacob Leupold constructs the first decimal scale 1747 Andreas Marggraf succeeds in extracting sugar crystals from sugar heet

1750

1700 1600 1650 1750 1800 1700

1600

1609, 1619 Johannes Kepler discovers the principal laws of planetary movement

1694 Rudolph Jacob Camerarius discovers the existence of gender in plants, and explains the role of stamens and pollen in fertilization

1740 Johann Pott, porcelain pioneer, discovers manganese

1650 Otto von Guericke, researching air pressure and electrostatic phenomena, develops the vacuum pump

German intellectuals have played a major role in the history of philosophy. Gottfried Leibniz (1646-1716), for example, was one of the most renowned exponents of modern rationalism. At the turn of the 18th and 19th centuries, Germany was a fertile source of new ideas, with the work of philosophers such as Immanuel Kant and G W Friedrich Hegel, Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels expounded materialism, while Friedrich Nietzsche developed his cultural and human philosophy. Martin Heidegger and Karl Jaspers were leading existentialists.

1650

Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Heael (1770-1831)

1781 Martin H

Klaproth, chemist, discovers uranium 1800

1831 Justus von Liebig develops a new method of chemical analysis

1841 Julius Mayer formulates the principle of conservation of energy

1865 Rudolf J E Clausius formulates the second law of thermodynamics

1850

1874 Otto Lilienthal constructs the first glider for engineless flights

1989 Wolfgang Paul and Hans Dehmelt receive the Nobel prize for research into nuclear and molecular physics and for their work in the 1950s developing the "Paul trap" – a device for capturing ions

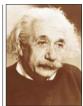

1987 Georg Bednorz and Karl A Müller receive the Nobel prize for discovering high temperature superconductivity in metal oxides 1991 Erwin Neher and Bert Sakmann receive the Nobel prize for research into defining the process of communication between cells

1876 Nikolaus Otto invents the internal combustion engine

1882 Robert Koch discovers the tuberculosis bacillus (Nobel prize in 1905)

1900

1950

1922 The Nobel Prize is awarded to Albert Einstein, who developed the theory of relativity

1999 Günter Blobel is awarded the Nobel prize for discovering the process that determines the direction of movement and the location of proteins within cells

2000

1850 1900 1950 2000

1885 Karl Benz and Gottlieb Daimler construct the first petrol-

> 1886 Heinrich Hertz discovers driven car

1866 Ernest W Siemens develops the dynamo

1850 Wilhelm Bauer constructs a submarine

1841 Christian Schönbein discovers ozone

1826 Georg S Ohm shows that the ratio of a steady current to voltage is a constant

1918 Nobel Prize awarded to Max K Planck who founded the principles of quantum theory

1903 Arthur Korn demonstrates how to transmit a photograph from a distance

> 1938 Ernst Ruska and Max Knoll construct the first electron microscope

1963 Nobel Prize awarded to Karl Ziegler for his work on industrial production of polymers

1944 Nobel Prize awarded to Otto Hahn for discovery (with Lise Meitner) of the process of nuclear fission

1941 Konrad Zuse constructs the Z3 calculator – the first digital "computer"

1901 Nobel Prize awarded to Wilhelm C Röntgen, for his discovery of X-rays and their uses

German Beer

Hon flower cones

Although fine wines are produced in Germany, beer is unquestionably the country's favourite alcoholic drink Germans drink an average of 140 litres of beer annually and Bavarians lead the world in consumption, drinking an average of 240 litres each per annum. Beer is drunk on every occasion, but it tastes best in the summer when it is poured straight from a barrel at one of the numerous festivals or public holidays.

One of the most popular styles of beer is Pils (short for Pilsener) a light, bottom-fermented beer of the lager type. Of the seasonal beers, it is worth trying spring beers such as Maibock or Doppelbock, and in autumn the strong beer that is brewed especially for the Oktoberfest. In the lower Rhine valley, Altbier is still produced; this is a top-fermented beer, prepared by traditional methods. In the south, Weizenbier, a wheat beer, is also produced. The Berlin version, Berliner Weisse (white beer), is served with fruit juice. Dark beers, such as Dunkel and Schwarzbier, also enjoy great popularity. Breweries have their own specialities. In Bamberg, they produce Rauchbier, which has a light smokiness; in

The mass is a tankard that is used to serve beer in Bavaria. It holds a litre. but waitresses are used to carrying eight or nine such tankards at a time

Historic brewing facilities in Freising (see p251)

STYLES OF BEER

GERMAN BREWERIES

In Germany most towns and the larger villages have a brewery. The country's oldest brewery, established in 1040, is the Weihenstephan Benedictine monastery in Freising, which is believed to be the oldest working brewery in the world. Many large breweries and consortiums produce beer that is known throughout the world, but beers produced by small operators, which are available only in a few regional pubs, are in no way inferior. When visiting Germany, do try the produce of small local breweries as well as the beer produced by the giants. such as Paulaner and Löwenbrau.

Logo of the famous Munich brewery. Daulaner

Wheat heer Berliner Weisse

beer, Bock

Seasonal autumn

The largest pub in the world, created during the Oktoberfest

DRINKING BEER

Kulmbach it is Eisbock, which gains its thicker consistency through a freezing process.

In Germany, beer is served with a head. Pouring lager from a barrel is supposed to take about 10 minutes, so the head sinks to the regulation level and has a thick consistency. A small beer is normally 0.3 litre, a large one 0.5 litre. In Bavaria, however, a large beer is served in a Mass, a tankard holding 1 litre. When travelling in Germany, order the brew of the local brewery, ideally in a Bierkeller or Bierstube (pub) and, in summer, in a Biergarten (beer garden). The largest gardens are in Bavaria - Munich's Hirschgarten caters for 8,000 beer drinkers. The Oktoberfest, which is celebrated each year in Munich (see p227), is the largest beer festival in the world.

hops

HOW BEER IS BREWED

The method of brewing beer that is now virtually standard dates from the 19th century, when Czech brewers first produced bottom-fermented beers at lower temperatures. The method was perfected by Gabriel Sedlmayr. Each brewery has its secrets, but the initial stages of production are the same.

A climbing plant, hops are trained to

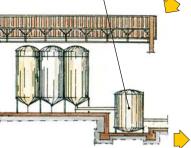

The main ingredients in the production of beer are barley, hops and crystal-clear water. Other grains, including wheat and rice, can also be used – for example Weizenbier is made from wheat rather than barley. The first stage of brewing is malting, when the grains are soaked and left to germinate. After a few days, these are dried and then milled.

2 The milled barley is mixed with warm water and placed in a copper mashing vat. During the mashing process, the starches in the grain turn into fermentable sugars. The mash is then filtered to separate out a liquid, known as the wort, from the mash.

A The wort is filtered again, cooled and combined with yeast. Fermentation then takes place. At temperatures above 20° C (68° F), the liquid reaches "top fermentation", which takes 3–5 days. "Bottom fermentation", where the temperature is below 12° C (54° F), takes 7–10 days.

3 The wort is put into a copper vessel with the hops and then cooked. Depending on the amount of hops added, the beer will be more or less bitter. Traditionally the bops are added to the vessel by hand, in carefully measured proportions. Sometimes, bowever, they are added, as required, during the cooking process.

5 The young beer produced by fermentation is left to rest in special containers that enable a higher pressure to be maintained. During this resting stage, which can last from a couple of weeks to a year or even longer, the beer matures. The effect of resting the beer is to make it stronger. Resting takes place in metal or traditional wooden barrels.

6 The mature beer, which is ready to be sold, is then transferred to bottles or cans and pasteurized. This process removes micro-organisms that threaten the quality of the beer.

Sport in Germany

Sport has long enjoyed a significant role in German life both for active participants and spectators. The country regularly produces world champions in a variety of activities, including football, tennis and motor racing. Excellent facilities exist throughout the country for taking part in sporting activities, including sailing, swimming, climbing and skiing as well as in field- or track-based events. Southern Germany plays host to a variety of winter sports and competitions.

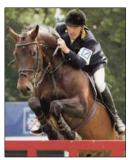

FOOTBALL

The largest sports organization in the country, the German Football Association has over 6 million registered members in some 25,000 clubs. The national team has won the World Cup three times – in 1954, 1974 and 1990 – and the European Cup in 1972, 1980 and 1996.

One of the outstanding figures in German football is Franz Beckenbauer, who was a member of the team that won the European Cup in 1972 and the World Cup in 1974. He trained the team that took second place in the 1986 World Cup and first place in 1990. Beckenbauer was twice named the best footballer in Europe.

The best-known club is Bayern München, which has won the German Cup a record 16 times. Matches between teams in the elite Bundesliga enjoy a great following. League matches are held on Saturday afternoons while European Cup games are usually held on Wednesday evenings. The club teams include a significant number of professionals from abroad. The 2006 World Cup was held in Germany.

Competing in Hamburg's annual Deutsches Spring Derby

SHOW-JUMPING AND EOUESTRIAN EVENTS

Show-jumping is another sport at which Germany excels. Since it was introduced to the Olympic Games in 1912, German riders have won 32 gold, 18 silver and 21 bronze medals. Major equestrian events are held in Hamburg and Aachen in June. Hamburg's Derby Week is popular with racing fans.

Bundesliga football match (Hertha BSC Berlin v FC Bayern München)

The German Open in Hamburger

LAWN TENNIS

The German Tennis Association is the largest in the world with over 2 million members, belonging to some 10 200 clubs. From the mid-1980s. Germany became one of the world's most successful tennis nations thanks to some outstanding players. In 1985, aged 18, Boris Becker was the voungest player to win the Wimbledon championships. He repeated his achievement in 1986 and 1989 and was runner-up to fellow-German Michael Stich in 1991 From 1987-91 Steffi Graf was ranked number one among the world's female tennis players.

ATHLETICS

During the Cold War period, East and West German athletes competed against each other for the glory of their rival political systems as much as for the love of their sport. The extraordinary achievements of the East German athletes during that time have since been tarnished by revelations of systematic drug abuse. Since reunification, some athletes have managed to maintain their reputations, but the majority have not.

Germany's most important event, the Internationales Stadionfest (DKB-ISTAF), is held each year in Berlin, as the climax of the season.

FORMILIA ONE

Back in the 1930s motorracing was dominated by the famous "Silver Arrows", made by Mercedes-Benz, Formula One has been a decidedly German discipline since its beginnings in 1950. In all the events there have always been at least three German drivers taking part. The German Formula One Grand Prix is held each July at the Hockenheim-Ring, near Heidelberg. In most years there is a second Grand Prix at the Nürburgring circuit close to the Belgian border. This is dubbed the European Grand Prix or the Luxembourg Grand Prix.

Germany's leading Formula One driver, Michael Schumacher, won the World Championship in 1994, 1995 and 2000. He has also twice achieved second place and been twice in third place.

Markus Eberle during the slalom in Ofterschwang in the Allgäu

SKIING

Since 1953, the last week of December and the first week of January have been dominated by the Four Ski Jumps Championship for ski jumpers. This classic event, which is held in Oberstdorf and Garmisch-Partenkirchen in Germany, as well as in Innsbruck and Bischofshofen in Austria, attracts several thousand spectators and millions of television viewers. German athletes have gained first place in this competition 15 times over the years.

As well as in the German Alps, which have the most popular ski resorts, excellent conditions exist for downhill and cross-country skiing in the less glamorous and less expensive Black Forest and the Harz Mountains.

The Hockenheim race track near Heidelberg

CYCLING

Cycling enjoys a great following in Germany. The Tour de France is broadcast simultaneously by two television stations, and everincreasing numbers of people are taking part in the sport. both for pleasure and competitively. Success on the cycle track has long been a German tradition, but Jan Ullrich exceeded all expectations when he won gold in the long distance and silver in a time trial at the Sydney Olympics in 2000.

SAILING

Kieler Woche is the most important regatta in the world, according to Paul Henderson, the President of the International Sailing Federation. On 1 September 1881, five officers of the Emperor's navy held a yachting race in the Bay of Kiel, as it was then called. The following year 20 yachts competed while thousands of spectators watched from the shore. The championship went on to become an international event, which gained in prestige as the Emperor took part in each race from 1894 until 1914.

Today it is traditional for the president of the German Federal Republic to formally open the regatta (in the last week of June) in which thousands of yachts from many countries take part.

SWIMMING

Swimming, more than any other sport in Germany, has seen a decline in success. since reunification and the subsequent cessation of competition between East and West. At the 1988 Olympics in Seoul, for example, Kristin Otto won 6 gold medals. In 2000, the reunified German team returned from Sydney having gained only three bronze medals. Two figures who rose to the top in the past are Michael Gross, who was a member of the West German team, and Franziska van Almsick, a member of the East German team.

Franziska von Almsick during the German Swimming Championships

GERMANY THROUGH THE YEAR

ermans love to have fun and this is evident from the huge number of light-hearted events that are held throughout the year. Virtually every town has a calendar of festivals and fairs. These include folk festivals connected with local traditions – for example celebrating the asparagus or grape harvest.

A festival

Many towns preserve the tradition of an annual fair – or Jahrmarkt – known in Westphalia as Kirmes and in Bavaria as Dult. Germany is also known for its music and film festivals, which attract an international audience, as well as for organizing major international trade fairs, such as the annual Frankfurt Book Fair.

Witches participating in the Walpurgisnacht celebrations in Thale

SPRING

Spring is an idyllic time to arrive in Germany. In the high mountains, conditions are still ideal for skiing, while in the valleys everything is already in bloom. In April and May the first spring fairs and festivals are held. Spring is also time for the traditional solemn observance of Easter and its associated celebrations. May Day, which is also International Labour Day, is marked both by traditional festivities and, in some cities, by demonstrations.

MARCH

largest folk festival in Thuringia, linked with a fair.

CeBIT (end of March)

Hanover. International trade fairs dedicated to information technology, telecommunications and automation.

Faster During Holy Week

Sommergewinn (3 weekends before Easter) Eisenach. The Easter During Holy Week, Passion concerts are held throughout the country and colourful church services take place, particularly in rural Catholic areas. On Easter Sunday, in cities in the Luzyce region, horse races and a gala take place. Leipziger Buchmesse Leipziger Buchmesse (end of March) Leipzig. International book fair, with antiquarian books.

Thüringer Bach-Wochen Celebration of the life and works of Johann Sebastian Bach with concerts and lectures: held in Arnstadt, Eisenach, Erfurt, Gotha, Mühlhausen and Weimar.

APRIL

Kurzfilmtage Oberhausen. The International Festival of Short Films has been held here since 1955.

The International Dixieland Festival, held annually in Dresden in May

Hannover Messe

(2nd half of April) Hanover. International industrial trade fairs.

Hamburger Dom (April, August and November)
Hamburg. The largest folk festival in northern Germany, held three times a year.
Walpurgisnacht (30 April/ 1 May). On the witches' sabbath, witches gather on Brocken Mountain and in several other places in the Harz mountains.

MAY

Maibaumaufstellen (1 May). In Bayarian villages. maypoles are decorated with highly ornamental wreaths. Rhein in Flammen (1st Saturday in May). Festival with firework displays, in towns in the Rhine Valley. Hafengeburtstag (7 May) Hamburg. A huge festival with fireworks, regatta and a parade of sailing boats. Ruhrfestspiele (May-July) Recklinghausen, Cultural festival with a number of concerts, performances and exhibitions.

International Dixieland Festival (2nd week of May)

Dresden. A traditional jazz festival has been held here since 1971. Blutritt (Friday after Ascension) Weingarten. A horseback procession carrying religious relics around the town – held here for 450 years, Leineweber Markt Leineweber Markt (end of May) Bielefeld. Street theatre, jazz and folk concerts.

SHMMER

In Germany the summer is a time of great open-air festivals and other outdoor events and activities. Nearly every town and village has its festival with a parade. street shows, concerts and fairs. In many places there are colourful illuminations and firework displays. Banquets and knights' tournaments are held in historic castles, while concert series are organized in palaces and castles with the tourist particularly in mind. In June, a number of classical music festivals take place, while July is a popular month for wine and beer festivals

Yacht race during the annual Kieler Woche regatta in Kiel

Internationales Stadionfest

JUNE

(DKB-ISTAF), (1st Sunday of June) Berlin. The largest athletics event of the season. Spreewaldfest (Tune) Spreewald. Festivals are held throughout the summer in Lübbenau and other villages. Fronleichnam. Observed in Catholic majority states. Processions in towns in Bavaria and in Cologne. Christopher Street Day (mid-lune). Gav and lesbian parades held in many cities, including Berlin and Köln. Kieler Woche (3rd week in June) Kiel. Huge regatta with concerts and fairs. Open-Air-Saison (4th week

Open-Air-Saison (4th week in June, beginning of July) Berlin. Opera festival held on outdoor stages.

A wedding couple during the Landshuter Hochzeit festival

Schützenfest (June) marks the traditional start of the hunting season. Celebrated in many north German cities.

JULY

Landshuter Hochzeit

(every 4th summer: 2005; 2009) Landshut. Re-enactment of the wedding feast of Georg, son of Duke Ludwig the Rich and Polish Princess Jadwiga. Costumed wedding procession and medieval tournament.

Love Parade (2nd Saturday)
Berlin. A parade for fans of techno music, who dance throughout the day and night in all the city's discos and around vehicles equipped with sound systems.

Internationaler Johann-Sebastian-Bach Wettbewerb Leipzig. International music competition dedicated to Johann Sebastian Bach. Schwörmontag (penultimate Monday) Ulm. Folk festival with a parade by the Danube Kinderzeche (3rd Monday) Dinkelsbühl. Ten-day folk festival commemorating the events of the Thirty Years' War (1618–48).

Richard-Wagner-Festspiele (last week July/August) Bayreuth. Festival dedicated to the works of Richard Wagner.

AUGUST

Zissel (beginning of August)
Kassel. Picturesque folk festival with parades, markets and concerts.
Mainfest. Frankfurt am Main.
Feast of the river Main.
Gäubodenfest (mid-August) Straubing. Folk festival with a market and beer tasting.
Rhein in Flammen (2nd Saturday) Koblenz. Huge firework display on the Rhine and a flotilla of illuminated passenger ships.
Wikingerfest (even years)

Wikingerfest (even years)
Schleswig. Historical festival with costumed participants, tournaments and regattas.
Weindorf (end August)
Stuttgart. Huge wine festival with wines served along with typical Swabian cuisine.

Performance of Tannhäuser at Richard-Wagner-Festspiele, Bayreuth

ΔΗΤΗΜΝ

Autumn is an extremely popular time for tourism in Germany, especially September and early October when many cities, including Berlin and Munich, organize cultural events and important festivals. The autumn is also the time when the most significant trade fairs and great sporting events take place At this time also conditions in the mountains and countryside continue to be ideal for outdoor activities such as walking and cycling.

SEPTEMBER

Berliner Festwochen, Berlin. Lasting all month, this is a major series of cultural events, opera performances, exhibitions and various literary events.

Beethovenfestival, Bonn. A musical festival celebrating the works of Beethoven in the city where he was born. Heilbronner Herbst (1st Saturday) Heilbronn. Popular wine festival, which also includes parades and firework displays.

Berlin-Marathon (last Sunday) Berlin. Marathon through the streets of the city centre, taking in several notable landmarks, with runners in various age groups and the participation of the disabled in wheelchairs.

Pumpkin race during Dorffest

Oktoberfest (last Saturday) Munich. World-famous beer festival held over 16 days, beginning with a parade through the city's streets. Ceremonial removal of the bung from a new barrel of beer that has been brewed for the festival

Plärrer (May and September) Augsburg. Two-week festival held twice a year, considered one of the most important in Swabia Dorffest im Spreewald (end) Lehde. Folk festival. Cannstatter Wasen (end September/beginning October) Stuttgart. The second largest beer festival in the world.

The International Book Fair in Frankfurt am Main

OCTOBER

Tag der Deutschen

Einheit (3 October).
National holiday, established after reunification. Concerts, parades and meetings.
Frankfurter Buchmesse
(2nd week in October)
Frankfurt am Main. The world's largest book fair, which attracts publishers from around the world.

Freimarkt (mid-October) Bremen. Two-week folk festival beginning with a procession.

Liszt-Tage Weimar. Celebration of the life and work of Franz Liszt, with concerts at which world-class musicians are invited to perform.

Ost-West Jazz Festival (end October) Nuremberg. International jazz folk festival.
Colmansfest (2nd Sunday)
Schwangau. Religious festival featuring hundreds of horses and decorated carriages.

NOVEMBER

St Leonard's Day (1st Sunday in November). Folk festival in Bavaria, which is held in conjunction with horse parades.

Kasseler Musiktage (beginning of November) Kassel. One of Europe's longest-established classical music festivals

Weinfest (1st weekend in November) Cochem. Festival celebrating the removal of the bung from the first barrel of young Mosel wine.

Martinsfest (11 November). St Martin's Day is celebrated in northern Baden and the Rhineland with fairs and the essential roast goose. In the Rhine Valley, St Martin's Day signifies the beginning of the Carnival season.

Internationales Filmfestival (2nd week in November) Mannheim-Heidelberg. Annual festival of short, documentary and educational films.

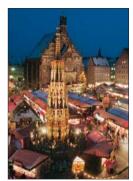

Berlinale – the grand festival of world cinema

WINTER

December is synonymous with Christmas festivities Every city has fairs where vou can buy Christmas-tree decorations, delicacies and presents. In December. shops have longer opening hours and the skiing season begins in the Alps. January and February are a time for parties and balls (the Carnival season), with enjoyment reaching a peak in the last few days of the season. Then the fun continues all weekend from Thursday. reaching a height on Rosenmontag then diminishing on the last Tuesday of Carnival.

DECEMBER

Christkindelsmarkt and Weihnachtsmarkt. Christmas fairs are held from the beginning of the month until Christmas Eve. The most beautiful are in Baden-Wurttemberg and in Bavaria, while the most renowned is held in Nuremberg.

The famous Christmas market in the city of Nuremberg

Christmas (25/26 December). Traditionally celebrated throughout Germany. A Christmas tree is considered essential, together with presents and delicacies.

New Year's Eve (31 December). The New Year is greeted at balls, opera galas, in restaurants, clubs, private houses and in the streets and squares of city centres.

JANUARY

Four Ski Jumps Tournament (begins 1 January). Renowned tournament for ski-jumping held annually in Garmisch-Partenkirchen.

Sechs-Tage-Rennen

(begins 1 January) Berlin. Spectacular cycle races with associated events, held in Berlin Velodrome.

Grüne Woche (last week)
Berlin. International trade fairs dedicated to agriculture, animal breeding and the food processing industry. Producers from all over the world offer specialities from their own national cuisines.

FEBRUARY

Berlinale-Internationale Filmfestspiele (2nd and 3rd weeks) Berlin. International film festival in which major stars participate. Fastnacht, also known as Fasnet Fasching or Karneval (Shrovetide) Carnival is celebrated enthusiastically in virtually every region of Germany. The most interesting events are held in the Rhine Valley, and particularly in Cologne. Karneval am Rhein, which marks the lasts three days of the Carnival begins on the Thursday of the week before Ash Wednesday with a women's parade known as Weiberfastnacht. On the Monday there is a superb costume parade, known as Rosenmontagsumzug.

Costumed revellers on the streets of Cologne during Carnival

PUBLIC HOLIDAYS

Neujahr New Year (1 Jan).

Hl. Dreikönige Three Kings (6 Jan: Bavaria, Baden-Wurttemberg, Saxony-Anhalt).

Karfreitag Good Friday.

Ostern Easter.

Maifeiertag/Tag der Arbeit Labour Day.

Christi Himmelfahrt Ascension.

Pfingsten Pentecost.

Fronleichnam Corpus Christi (Bavaria, Baden-Wurttemberg, Hesse, North Rhine Valley-Westphalia, Rhine Valley-Palatinate and Saar).

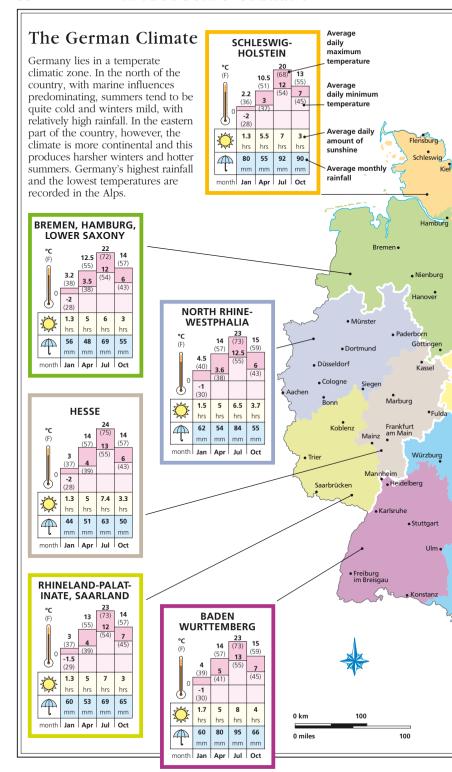

Mariä Himmelfahrt

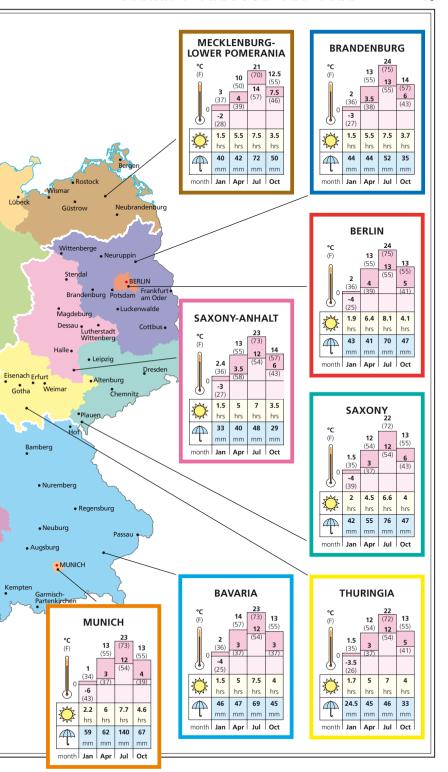

Assumption of the BVM (15 Aug: Bavaria, Saar).

Nationalfeiertag Reunification of Germany Day (3 Oct).

Allerheiligen All Saints (1 Nov: Bavaria, Baden-Wurttemberg, North Rhine Valley-Westphalia, Rhine Valley-Palatinate).

Weihnachten Christmas (25/26 Dec).

THE HISTORY OF GERMANY

ermany is a country of cultural and religious contrasts Regional differences in culture, language and traditions arose from the historical division of the country into many small states. Such differences have been further accentuated by the recent experience of generations of Germans who, until 1990, grew ub under two conflicting social systems: capitalism and communism.

Heinrich I. from the house of Liudolf

EARLY HISTORY

In the 1st millennium BC, the basins of the Rhine, Danube and Main rivers were settled by Celts, who had been largely displaced by Germanic tribes by the 2nd century BC. In the 1st century BC the Roman legions waged wars with the Germans, and conquered the territories west of the Rhine. The settlements they founded there later developed into towns like Trier, Mainz, Cologne and Xanten. The Romans made numerous attempts to conquer the eastern regions between the Rhine and the Elbe rivers. They eventually reached the Elbe at the end of the 1st century BC, but the Germans, under the leadership of Arminius, also known as Germanus, defeated the Roman armies in the Teutoburg Forest in AD 9, and so ended their presence in this region. A system of fortifications, or limes, built in the 2nd century along the course of the Danube and the Rhine, divided the region into two: Germania Romana, the Roman province, and Germania Libra, free Germany. The free German tribes, notably the Goths, often entered into alliances with the Romans. In the 5th century, however, they took advantage of Rome's weakness to appropriate parts of the empire for themselves.

EARLY MIDDLE AGES

After the collapse of the Roman Empire, the area between the Rhine and the Elbe was ruled by the

Franks, who gradually converted to Christianity from the 6th century. One of the most important figures in this process was the 8th-century missionary, St Boniface. When Charlemagne was crowned Emperor in 800, the territory of present-day Germany became part of the Frankish Empire. The Empire was partitioned by the Treaty of Verdun in 843, with the eastern part going to Ludwig the German. In the 10th century the kingdom, which was made up of numerous tribal states, passed to the house of Liudolf. Otto I, son of Heinrich I and the first king from this Saxon family, was crowned Emperor in 962 after several political and military victories, in

Stained-glass window in Augsburg cathedral

CONSOLIDATING POWER.

With Otto being crowned emperor, the dynasty of the Saxon house of Liudolf acceded to power. It gave the country three further rulers - Otto II Otto III and Heinrich II. In the vear 925 Otto Lannexed Lotharingia (presentday Lorraine). On the eastern frontier he created two "marks", the Nordmark and the Ostmark, as buffer states designed to subjugate the Slav-populated regions east of the Oder River. After Heinrich II's death, the house of the Salian Franks took the imperial throne and used their authority to limit the power of the local feudal dukes.

The dukes of Saxony used the opportunity to appoint a king in opposition to Heinrich, and the Pope attempted to intervene in the dispute. Heinrich IV saw himself forced to march to Canossa in Italy where the Pope had sought refuge in order to stop his empire from falling apart. Doing penance in this way forced the Pope to withdraw his excommunication However the dispute did not end there, but continued for several years. finally ending with the Signing of the Concordat of Worms in 1122

Enamelled Romanesque medallion. dating from c.1150

HOHENSTAUFENS AND WELFS

After the Salian dynasty died out in 1125 and the brief reign of Lothar III of the Saxon dynasty, another long drawn-out conflict broke out, between the houses of Hohenstaufen and Welf (known in Italian as Ghibellines and Guelphs). Imperial power went to the Hohenstaufens, while the greatest political victories were scored by Friedrich I Barbarossa (meaning "red beard"). He intended gradually to break up his subject principalities > and to rule them under a feudal system. The 12th centurv also saw further expansion eastwards and northwards into areas inhabited by the northwestern Slavic tribes. From the start of the 13th

THE INVESTITURE CONTROVERSY

In the 11th century the empire came into conflict with the papacy. Matters came to a head in the socalled "investiture controversy". Pope Gregory VII asserted the church's right to appoint bishops. Emperor Heinrich IV meanwhile, who had been relying on the support of the clergy he had appointed, called his bishops together and asked the Pope

12th-century reliquary from the Welf family vaults

TIMELINE

1027 Coronation of Konrad II, first Emperor of the Salians

1000

1138 Coronation of Konrad III. first Hohenstaufen Emperor

1155 Coronation of Friedrich I Barbarossa as Emperor to step down. Pope

Gregory VII excommunicated Heinrich

> 1122 The Concordat of Worms

1100

1077 Heinrich IV does penance at Canossa

1074

Investiture Struggle

Portable altar from the vaults of the Welfs

11th-century reliquary cross century Barbarossa also conquered territories occupied by the Baltic peoples and the Estonians, which involved armed expeditions by the North German cities and orders of knights

Friedrich II, crowned Emperor in 1220, was also King of Sicily and his Italian interests brought further conflict with the papacy. Ultimately his policies brought about the collapse of imperial power. After his death in 1250, his successor was unable to find any support, which led to the period known as the Great Interregnum.

Emperor Rudolf I of Habsburg

the right to elect the emperor. These were the Margrave of Brandenburg, the Elector of Palatine (or the Bavarian dukes), the Duke of Saxony, the King of Bohemia and the Archbishops of Trier, Cologne and Mainz. Starting with Rudolf I of Habsburg, who was elected

13th century a system evolved by which only seven elector-dukes had

Trier, Cologne and Mainz. Starting with Rudolf I of Habsburg, who was elected king of Germany in 1273, until 1438 the kings came from the rival houses of Habsburg, Wittelsbach and Luxemburg. After 1312, the same houses also competed for the title of Emperor. The most outstanding of the 14th-century rulers of Germany was Karl IV of Luxemburg, who resided permanently in Prague. In 1338 the electors had rejected the requirement for the Pope to confirm election results. In 1356 Karl IV issued the "Golden Bull" which underlined the federal nature of the state, and clarified the rules for electing its leader.

THE INTERREGNUM

The fall of the Hohenstaufens marked the end of the old imperial system. The absence of an overall ruler led to a breakdown in law and order, and resulted in the rise of the Raubritter (robber-barons). To protect their common interests, the trading cities set up alliances. The collapse of imperial power, and the decline in the power of the dukes thus gradually led to an increase in the power of the German cities.

From the beginning the imperial throne had been elective, with dukes electing the emperor from the male members of the dynasty. There was also no capital city, as the emperors moved from one city to another, thus spreading the costs of maintaining the imperial court among different duchies. In the the imperial court among A "Minneteppich" – part of a medieval tapestry, depicting a variety different duchies. In the of human traits and a griffin, the mythical beast

1250 Beginning of the Great Interregnum

1250 Beginning of the Great Interregnum

1250 Interregnum

12

1273 End of the Great Interregnum and coronation of Rudolf I 1348 Prague University founded

1386 Heidelberg University founded

The Hanseatic League

The German Hanseatic League, or Hanse, was only one of many guilds of traders or cities that existed in the Middle Ages, but its important historical role made it one of the best known. Established in the 13th century, it reached its peak in the 14th century and declined again in the 16th century. Over 160 cities, primarily the trading cities of northern Germany, but also including Baltic ports as far afield as Visby, Riga and Tallinn, joined the League. It exercised total control over trade from the Baltic in the east to England in the west. The Hanseatic cities were among the wealthiest in Europe, and crafts and the arts flourished there.

The Wise and Foolish Maidens
The flowering of art in the Hanseatic cities brought about works such as this portal of Magdeburg Cathedral.

Round wooden cranes with swivelling arms were used to unload ships. One example still survives in Lüneburg.

Hanse ships, loaded with merchandise, entering the > Revenue officials awaiting the > > cargo

Madonna of the Roses 15th-century painting by Stefan Lochner of the Cologne School.

Cogs

Cogs – heavy, flat-bottomed sailing ships with limited manoeuvrability – were fishermen's and merchants' boats or navy vessels in the North Sea and the Baltic from the 12th to the 14th centuries.

Panoramic view of Lübeck

The vast port town of Lübeck was the largest Hanseatic city. This 15th-century woodcut shows a view of the city with its numerous church spires.

Harbour officials in their offices

The Leichter was a harbour was a harbour boat used to carry cargo from the ships to the warehouses.

Hamburg merchants

Russian merchants, recognizab recognizable by their distinctive clothing, are engrossed in intense negotiations.

THE PORT OF HAMBURG

Hamburg, along with Bremen, Lübeck and Gdansk, was one of the leading Hanseatic cities. In the 14th century, it was the main centre for trade between the North Sea and the Baltic. This miniature, showing the port of Hamburg, dates from the 15th century.

THE HANSEATIC

In the major Hanseatic cities. the most prominent buildings grew up around the Markt (market square) and along the streets that led to the port. The market square would contain the Rathaus (town hall) with its multifunctional interiors, and the equally splendid banqueting halls and ballrooms, such as the Gürzenich in Cologne. The main cathedrals in the cities were dedicated either to St Mary or St Nicholas. The gabled residential houses had narrow facades with distinctive portals. The townscape of the port areas was dominated by granaries, warehouses and numerous cranes. The cities were all enclosed and protected by solid fortifications

The town hall in Brunswick, with its open upper arcades and statues of the Welfs, is one of the finest surviving Hanseatic secular buildings.

The Kröpeliner Tor in Rostock (see p476) is one of 22 towers on the defensive walls around the medieval city centre.

Jan Hus being burned at the stake

THE HUSSITE WARS AND THE HABSBURG DYNASTY

The last king and emperor of the house of Luxemburg, Sigismund, brought an end to the "Great Schism" in the Western church that had persisted since 1378. The Council of Constance, which he called in 1414, led to the election of a single, rather than two rival popes. However, new religious controversy was provoked by the death sentence for heresy passed in 1415 on Jan Ĥus, a religious reformer from Bohemia. The ensuing Hussite Wars ravaged the northern and western regions of Germany.

From 1482 the imperial crown went to the Habs- Title page of the first German burgs, who retained it until 1740. Attempts at political reform in the second half of the 15th century failed. The most ambitious reformer. was Maximilian I. He called an Imperial. Tribunal in 1495 which set about transferring part of the king's authority to the judiciary: however, it did not result in any great practical changes, although it gave slightly more power to the Reichstag, the imperial parliament

THE REFORMATION

Germany entered the 16th century as a country simmering with social conflict, gradually becoming steeped in the ideas of humanism, thanks to the writings of Erasmus of Rotterdam and others. The rise of Martin Luther. who in 1517 nailed his 95 Theses to the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, and who opposed the trade in indulgences conducted by the clergy, set the Reformation in motion (see pp126-7). The idea of ecclesiastical reform propounded by Luther gained a growing following. His supporters included princes who hoped to profit from the secularization of church property, as well as other social classes that simply saw an opportunity to improve their lot. In 1519 Maximilian I died, and Karl V was elected to succeed him. Karl's interests were focused on Spain and the Netherlands, and he was unable to prevent the spread of Lutheranism.

Lion-shaped water jug (1540)

edition of the Bible

TIMELINE

1419-36 Hussite Wars c.1450 The first printing press

Maximilian I

1540 The first stock exchanges are set up in Augsburg and Nürnberg

1517 Luther's Theses and the start of the Reformation

1524-25 The Peasants' War

1400

1438 Coronation of

1495 Edict banning the waging of private wars

1522 The Knights' War

1414-18 Council of Constance

Albrecht II, first Emperor of the House of Habsburg

Urban life in Germany in the early 16th century, in a painting by Jörg Breu the Elder (c.1475–1537)

The unrest led to rebellions such as the Knights' War of 1522 and the Peasants' War of 1524, and these were followed by continuous religious conflict. In 1530 the Protestants set up the League of Schmalkalden, which was finally broken up by the Emperor in the war of 1546–7. These basically religious clashes ultimately led to the division of Germany into a northern Protestant part and a Catholic south, a situation that was sanctioned in 1555 by the Peace of Augsburg. This established the principle of cuius regio, eius religio, which meant that each ruler had the right to decide on the faith of the region, and the only option left for anyone of a different persuasion was to move elsewhere

THE THIRTY YEARS'

The second half of the 16th century was relatively stable for Germany, despite the religious conflicts. However, the influence of the Counter-Reformation in the early 17th century ended this stability. The Protestant Union and Catholic League were established in 1608 and 1609 respectively. Unrest in Prague, where the states with a Protestant majority opposed the election of the Catholic Ferdinand II as king of Bohemia, began the Thirty Years' War. This religious war quickly spread throughout Germany, and also drew in Denmark. Spain. Sweden and France. Much of the country and many towns were laid waste, and vast numbers of people died. Finally, in 1648, the German states, France and Sweden signed the Peace of Westphalia in Münster, resulting in major losses of territory for Germany, mainly in the north. A new political system emerged, with the German princes enjoying complete political independence, under a weakened emperor and pope. The second half of the 17th century was marked by the rebuilding of towns and the hard work of restoring the ruined economic infrastructure.

However, the influ- A scene in the Thirty Years' War, in a painting by Wilhelm von Diez

1555 Religious Peace of Augsburg

1609 Establishment of the Catholic League

1608 Foundation of 1600

1618 Thirty Years' War breaks out

Monument to the Great Elector, Friedrich Wilhelm I

1550

1546 Schmalkalden War begins

16th-century tile, depicting a falconer

1640 Accession to the Brandenburg throne by Friedrich Wilhelm I 1650 1648 Pea

1648 Peace of Westphalia ends the Thirty Years' War

Goethe in the Roman Campagna by Johann H. W. Tischbein (1787)

ABSOLUTISM AND THE RISE OF PRUSSIA

In the second half of the 17th century and throughout the 18th century, Germany was a loose federation of small, politically weak states in the west, and much more powerful states in the east and the south – Saxony, which was ruled by the house of Wettin, and Bavaria, ruled by the Wittelsbachs. However, the rising star was the state of Brandenburg, ruled by the house of Hohenzollern, which from 1657 also ruled Prussia. In 1701 the Elector Friedrich III crowned himself King of Prussia (as Friedrich I), and subsequently the name "Prussia" was applied to all areas ruled by the house of Hohenzollern. During the 18th century Prussia became the greatest rival to Habsburg Austria. In 1740, Friedrich II, also known as Frederick the Great.

was crowned King of Prussia. Under his rule, Berlin became a major European city and a centre of the Enlightenment. In 1740–42, in the Seven Years' War, Frederick the Great took Silesia from the Habsburgs without major losses. In 1772 he took part in the first partition of Poland.

In the second half of the 18th century Germany produced a succession of great poets and playwrights – figures such as Gotthold

Ephraim Lessing, Friedrich Schiller and Johann Wolfgang von Goethe.

THE NAPOLEONIC WARS, RESTORATION AND REVOLUTION

From 1793 onwards the German states were involved in the Napoleonic Wars. After France's occupation of the lands west of the Rhine, a territorial reform was carried out by the Reichsdeputations Hauptschluss in 1803. This resulted in the secularization of most church property, and the total of 289 states and free cities was reduced to 112 larger states. States that gained from this supported Napoleon in his defeat of Austria in the war of 1805-7. In 1806 the Holy Roman Empire of German Nations was dissolved. and Bavaria, Saxony and Wurttemberg were given the status of kingdoms. Napoleon defeated Prussia at Jena and the country was occupied by France.

Portrait of Frederick the Great as successor to the throne

TIMELINE

1701 The first king of Prussia is crowned

1702–14 Germany joins the War of Spanish Succession 1740–42 The Silesian War

Leopold Hermann von Boyen, Prussian army general

1813 Battle of the Nations at Leipzig

1700 1730

...

1760

1803 Territorial reform
1756–63 The of the German states
Seven Years' War

1740 Frederick the Great crowned King of Prussia 1806 Dissolution of the Empire

1814–15 The Congress of Vienna

1710 Meißen porcelain factory opened

1700 Academy of Sciences founded in Berlin

The tide turned for Germany at the Battle of Leipzig in 1813. when Russia. Austria and Prussia defeated the French After Napoleon's final defeat at Waterloo in 1815, the Congress of Vienna established a German Confederation under supreme body was the

Bundestag (federal parliament), which met at Frankfurt am Main

The wars of liberation against Napoleon had led to a growth in nationalism and democratic awareness as well as a desire for unification. In > 1848 the March Revolution broke out in Berlin Its main driving force was the urban middle class, but the revolt was finally put down by Prussian troops in 1849.

In the 1820s and 1830s Germany underwent rapid industrialization, and the establishment of the Zollverein (customs union) in 1834 marked the first step towards a united Germany. Uniting Germany was the main goal of the Prussian premier Otto von Bismarck. Prussia's victories over Austria in 1866 and France in 1871 resulted in the proclamation of a German Empire on 18 January 1871.

THE SECOND REICH

The Second Reich was a federation of 25 states, and its first Chancellor was Otto von Bismarck. The unification of Germany led to a widespread confrontation between the state and the Austrian control. Its Victory Report at the Battle of Leipzig by Johann Peter Krafft (1839)

Catholic Church (known as the "Kulturkampf"). The economy, however, flourished, due to the boom in industry, in particular mining, metallurgy, electrical and chemical engineering. This led to the rise of a workers' movement, inspired by the ideas of Karl Marx. In 1875 the workers' parties united and formed the Social Democratic Party of Germany (SPD). Although the party was banned between 1878 and 1890, it rapidly gained support, and a system of social welfare for workers was gradually introduced.

At the beginning of the 20th century. Germany was a powerful state with overseas colonies. Imperialist tendencies grew, and increased tensions in European politics, particularly in the Balkans, led inevitably to war.

Fighting on the Barricades in May 1848, a fanciful picture of the revolution in Berlin by Julius Scholz

1834 German Customs Union (Zollyerein) is established

Vase with portrait of Kaiser Wilhelm II

> 1848 The Communist Manifesto is published 1848-49 The March Revolution

1871 Proclamation of the German Empire with Prussian king as Emperor Wilhelm I

1880

1898 Construction of the German navy begins

1820

1850 1844 Silesian weavers' uprising

Prussian War

1890 Fall of Bismarck

Abandoned, bas-relief

1870-71 Franco-

1910

Neo-Gothic chalice designed by K.F. Schinkel

1866 Prussian-Austrian War

Bismarck's Germany

The establishment of a Reich headed by the King of Prussia on 18 January 1871 ensured Prussia's prominent role over the following decades. The Chancellor was the Prussian Prime Minister Otto von Bismarck. Thanks to large reparations paid by France and a favourable economic situation, the economy flourished throughout the Reich. This in turn fostered the development of science and culture. The cities grew rapidly, and the housing shortage led to the development of huge Miets-kasernen, blocks of apartments for renting.

GERMANY IN 1871

■ The Second German Reich

Kaiser Wilhelm I

Mosaics, depicting a procession of members of the house of Hohenzollern, decorate the vestibule of the Kaiser-Wilhelm Gedächtnichskirche (memorial church) in Berlin.

The Kaiser's Family
Taking a Walk in Sanssouci Park
"Happy family" portraits such as this one were fien painted for propaganda purposes.

The Reichstag

The monumental Reichstag (parliament building), was built in the centre of the capital, Berlin, by the architect Paul Wallot.

Members of Parliament

Heads of the federal states

A Steel Mill in Königshütte

Germany's economic progress was achieved through a high degree of industrialization. Adolf von Menzel's painting depicts a steel mill in Königsbütte, Upper Silesia.

Officer's helmet

The

The characteristic spiked helmet worn by German soldiers was known as a Pickelhaube. Ludwig II of Bavaria

The federal states, which made up the Reich, enjoyed complete autonomy. Their rulers, however, for instance King Ludwig II of Bavaria, patron of Richard Wagner and builder of "fantastic castles and palaces, bad little real political influence.

Mourning dress was worn by the women and black ribbons by the men as a mark of respect for the two previous Kaisers who had died in 1888 – the father and grandfather of Wilhelm II.

- The Diplomatic

Otto von Bismarck

Kaiser Wilhelm II

INAUGURATION OF THE REICHSTAG

This vast canvas by Anton von Werner (1893) shows the opening ceremony for the Reichstag after the coronation of Kaiser Wilhelm II on 25 June 1888 in the Kaiser's Palace in Berlin. The painter depicts the moment when the Kaiser delivers his speech.

Otto von Bismarck

Originating from a Pomeranian family of Junkers, the Prussian Premier and Chancellor of the Reich was one of the most prominent political figures of his time.

WORLD WAR I

When Germany entered World War Lin 1914 the Kaiser's generals hoped for a quick victory, but their invasion of France was halted on the Marne The war dragged on for the next four years, devastating much of Europe. and ending in Germany's defeat. The Allied offensive in the summer of 1918 Ein Volk ein Reich ein Führer/ forced Germany to the negotiating table – it also led to the November revolution in Germany. Within days the state monarchs were toppled from power, Kaiser Wilhelm II abdicated. and on 9 November 1918 a republic was proclaimed. The form of government had not been decided, and at first the political advantage was held by the socialists. But the Workers' Uprising in Berlin in 1919 was defeated

THE WEIMAR REPUBLIC

The Treaty of Versailles of 1919 imposed many unfavourable conditions on Germany. The country lost a

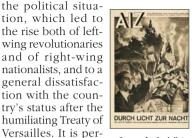

A Berlin synagogue burning during Kristallnacht, 1938

Propaganda poster for Adolf Hitler great deal of her territory. mainly to Poland. France and Lithuania and she was obliged to pay huge reparations, undergo partial demilitarization and limit arms production

During the Weimar Republic. Germany was riddled with instability. The economy collapsed under the heavy burden of reparation payments and the onset of hyperinflation. Constant changes of government failed to stabilize

Cover of a Socialist magazine attacking the book-burning culture flourished However, this was not sufficient to stave off the political disaster that led to the rise of the Nazi Party (the NSDAP or National Socialist German Workers' Party).

THE THIRD REICH

Adolf Hitler was appointed Chancellor by President Hindenburg on 30 January 1933 and immediately started to get rid of potential opponents. A fire that burned down the Reichstag served as a pretext for persecuting the communists,

TIMELINE

1914 World War I breaks out

1915

1919 Signing of the Treaty of Versailles

> 1921 Adolf Hitler becomes leader of the NSDAF

haps remarkable that at this time German

1926 Germany accepted in League of Nations

1920

1925

1926 Hitler Youth set up

Poster of Marlene Dietrich 9 Nov 1918 Declaration of the Republic

1923 Hitler's Putsch in Munich

1925 Hitler writes Mein Kampf

while in April 1933 a boycott of Jewish businesses began. Trade unions were banned, as were all parties apart from the Nazis. Books by "impure" authors were burned, and the work of "degenerate" artists was exhibited as a warning, marking the start of the persecution of artists and scientists. many of whom decided to emigrate At the same time. Hitler attempted to present to the world a face of openness and success, particularly with the Berlin Olympics of 1936. Germany broke almost all the demilitarization conditions of the Versailles Treaty. The growth in arms production brought with it an improved economic situation, increasing Hitler's popularity. All his opponents who had not managed to emigrate were either killed or sent to concentration camps.

In 1935 the Nuremberg Laws were passed, which officially sanctioned the persecution of Jews. During the Kristallnacht (crystal night) of 9 November 1938, synagogues throughout Germany were burned and Jewish shops and homes were looted, result> ing in streets littered with broken glass. Hitler's plans to conquer Europe were realized in March 1938. with the "Anschluss"

> > Austria, then in 1939 German forces occupied Czechoslovakia. After obtaining (annexation) of peace guarantees from the USSR. Germany invaded Poland on 1 September 1939, thus starting World War II.

The centre of Dresden after Allied carpet-bombing

WORLD WAR II

The first two years of World War II were marked by one victory after another for the German Army, which managed to occupy half of Europe. Great Britain was the only country that succeeded in fending off Hitler. In 1941 the Wehrmacht occupied large swathes of the Soviet Union, Terror and genocide were instigated in all occupied territories. The decision to exterminate all Jews in Europe was taken at the Wannsee Conference in Berlin in January 1942. Attempts to oppose Hitler in Germany were crushed. The course of the war did not change until 1943, when on 31 January Germany suffered a major defeat in the Battle of Stalingrad.

The Allied landings in Normandy and the creation of the second front helped bring the war to an end. When Soviet forces reached Berlin in 1945 the city lay in ruins and the populace was starving. During five and a half years, 55 million people had lost their lives.

1935 Enactment of law to build up army

30 Jan 1933 Hitler appointed Chancellor of the Reich

1930

1938 Anschluss with Austria; occupation of Czechoslovakia 9/10 Nov 1938 Kristallnacht

1 Sep 1939 German invasion of Poland: the beginning of World War II The Enigma Code machine

1940

1935

1936 Berlin

22 Jun 1941 Germany invades LISSR

Olympics 1935 November laws sanction persecution of Jews

20 Jan 1942 Wannsee conference

30 Apr 1945 Hitler commits suicide as Soviet troops enter Berlin

1945

Poster for the Berlin Olympics in 1936

Nazi war criminals on trial at Nuremberg

THE AFTERMATH OF WORLD WAR II

Germany's unconditional surrender was signed on 8 May 1945, ending the bloodiest war in human history. Peace negotiations began which were to shape the new face of Europe for decades to come. In fact, discussions on Germany's future had already taken place at the Tehran and Yalta Conferences where the leaders of the Big Three Powers met. But it was not until the Potsdam Conference that the terms were finally agreed.

Germany lost large parts of its territory to the east, displacing the German population there. It was decided to demilitarize Germany. The four Allied powers - the USA, the USSR. Britain and France - divided Germany into zones of occupation which they would rule until democratic structures were in place. The main perpetrators of war crimes were tried in Nuremberg and sentenced to death. Unfortunately, tensions increased between the Western powers and the Soviet Union, rapidly escalating in the "Cold War", which was largely played out in occupied Germany. In Graffiti-covered section of the Berlin Wall

1948 the three western zones introduced a new currency which led the Soviets to blockade the western part of Berlin Thanks to the Berlin Airlift which supplied the population with food and fuel, the blockade was abandoned. On 23 May 1949 the Federal Republic (Bundesrepublik) of Germany was established in the three western zones.

Federal Republic

□ DDR

and on 7 October 1949 the German Democratic Republic (DDR) was set up in the Soviet zone. West Berlin, as it was then Hknown, became an enclave inside East Germany.

The Berlin Airlift in 1948-9

GERMANY DIVIDED

The German Democratic Republic was democratic only in name. It became one of the satellites of the Soviet Union, and as the westernmost outpost of the Eastern Bloc it was subject to great restrictions. Attempted pro-

TIMELINE

4-11 Feb 1945 Valta Conference 8 May Germany capitulates

17 Jun 1953 Workers' uprising in East Berlin

13 Aug 1961 Building of the Berlin Wall

1973 West and East Germany accepted into UN

1945

1950

1955

1955 Federal Republic and German Democratic Republic gain sovereignty

1965

1972 Official relations established between Fast and West Germany: Munich Olympics

1975

24 Jun 1948 Blockade of West Berlin starts 1949 Federal Republic and DDR established Konrad Adenauer

1970

Reunification ceremony outside the Reichstag in Berlin in 1990

tests, such as the Workers' Uprising of 17 June 1953 in Berlin, were ruthlessly suppressed. For many people the only solution was to leave the country. As the exodus of skilled workers to the West continued, on 13 August 1961 a wall with barbed wire was built to contain them. Many attempts to cross the frontier between the two Germanies ended in death. A highly efficient apparatus was set up in East Germany to watch over citizens' activities by the infamous Stasi secret police.

The first Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, Konrad Adenauer, had Germany's integration into Western Europe as his main objective. Thanks to aid under the Marshall Plan, the economy rapidly recovered. Willy Brandt, first elected as Chancellor in 1969, pursued a policy of openness to the East, and recognized the German Democratic Republic.

REUNIFICATION

German reunification was made possible by a number of political events, in particular those going on in Eastern Europe. The Soviet premier Gorbachev's policy of glasnost led to the loosening of political constraints throughout the Eastern Bloc. Democratic changes in Poland set off a chain reaction. In 1989, people started to flee the German Democratic Republic en masse via its embassy in Prague and across the Austro-Hungarian border. Then, on 9 November 1989, the Berlin Wall fell and East Germans were free to leave. When, only three weeks later, Chancellor Helmut Kohl presented a ten-point plan for German reunification, few believed that it would happen, but the country was officially reunified on 3 October 1990. Since then, Germany has been undergoing a process of integration.

Crowds visiting the giant Expo 2000 exhibition in Hannover

1982 Helmut Kohl becomes German Chancellor 3 Oct 1990 Reunification of Germany

Helmut Kobl and Richard von Weizsäcker at the reunification ceremony

2002 Floods cause havoc across Germany

2010

1980

8 Nov 1989 Fall

8 Nov 1989 Fall of the Berlin Wall

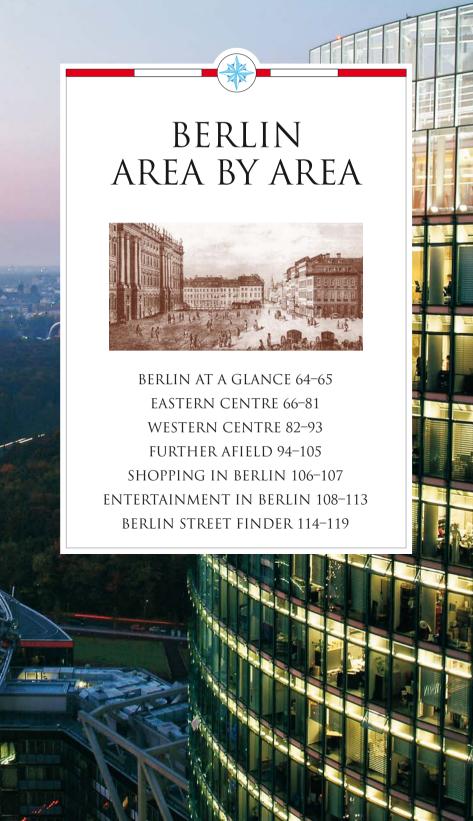

The Trabant, a trademark of East German industry 1994 Withdrawal of last Russian military units from Berlin 1998 Gerhard Schröder becomes Chancellor

1995

2000 Expo 2000 World Fair in Hannover

2005 Angela Merkel is the first female chancellor in a "Grand Coalition" government

Berlin at a Glance

Since the reunification of Germany in 1990, Berlin has become an increasingly popular destination for visitors. The following pages provide a useful guide to places of interest both in the town centre and the outskirts, including historic monuments such as Nikolaikirche (see p80), museums, modern developments, such as the Potsdamer Platz, as well as places of recreation and amusement, such as the Botanical Gardens (see p104). In the guide, we have divided central Berlin into two parts (east and west); these, however, do not correspond with the city's former partition into East and West Berlin.

OCATOR WAP

The Tiergarten was once a royal hunting estate but, after 1818, it was converted into a landscaped park by Peter Joseph Lenné (see p87) with lakes and streams.

0 metres

0 yards

400

The Reichstag is a vast, Neo-Renaissance building, designed in 1884 by Paul Wallot. It now features an elliptical dome, which was designed in the 1990s by Sir Norman Foster (see p93).

The Pergamonmuseum owes its name to the magnificent Zeus Altar from Pergamon, which stands in the main hall.

Built between 1912 and 1930, the museum bouses rich collections of Greek, Roman and Asian art (see pp76–7).

EASTERN CENTRE

The imposing Neo-Classical Brandenburg Gate stands at the end of Unter den Linden. It is crowned with a 6-m (20-ft) high sculpture of the Roman Quadriga driven by Victoria, the goddess of victory (see p69).

The Jüdisches Museum (Jewish Museum) is housed in a building designed by Daniel Libeskind. It features a symbolic projection of a broken Star of David (see p80).

EASTERN CENTRE

his part of Berlin is the historic This part of the city features most of centre of the city and includes the Mitte district and parts of Kreuzberg. Its beginnings date back to the 13th century when two its historic buildings. which are located mainly along Unter den Linden. It also includes Museumsinsel the location of the vast Berliner Dom as well settlements were established on the banks of the river Spree. One was the former Cölln, situated on an island, and the other its twin settlement Berlin Berlin's first church the Nikolaikirche, survives to this day.

Relief on Schadow-Haus

as of the impressive collection of museums that gives the island its name. These include the Pergamonmuseum. During the city's partition, Mitte belonged to East Berlin while Kreuzberg was in West Berlin.

SIGHTS AT A GLANCE

Street-by-Street: Around Bebelplatz

Eagle from Altes Palais

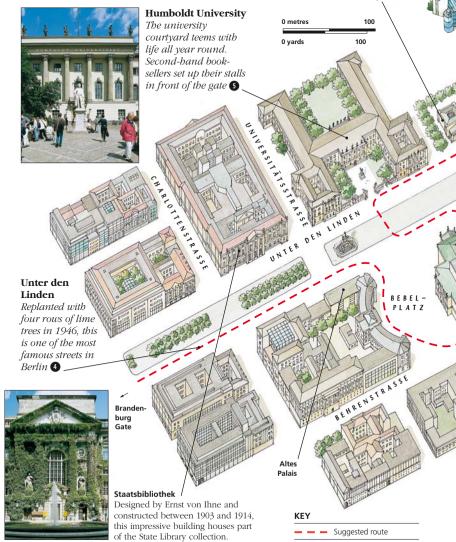

The section of Unter den Linden between Schlossbrücke and Friedrichstrasse is one of the most attractive areas in central Berlin, As well as some magnificent Baroque and Neo-Classical buildings, many of them designed by famous architects, there are also some restored palaces that are now used as public buildings. Of particular interest is the beautiful Baroque building of the Zeughaus (the former Arsenal). which now houses the German History Museum.

Neue Wache

Now serving as a memorial to all victims of war and dictatorship, this monument was designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel

St-Hedwigs-Kathedrale

Kronprinzenpalais
A magnificent portal from the dismantled Bauakademie building can be found the rear of the palace.

Bas-reliefs (1837) by Theodore Wilhelm Achtermann adorn the cathedral's supports 3

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Friedrichswerdersche Kirche
- ★ Zeughaus

Brandenburger Tor •

Brandenburg Gate

Pariser Platz. Map 4 A2, 15 A3. (S) Unter den Linden. (5) 100.

The Brandenburg Gate is the quintessential symbol of Berlin, A magnificent Neo-Classical structure, modelled on the Athenian Propylaea (the entrance to the Acropolis). it was constructed between 1788 and 1791. Its sculptured decorations were completed in 1795. A pair of pavilions, once used by guards and customs officers, frames its powerful Doric colonnade and entablature. The bas-reliefs depict scenes from Greek mythology and the whole structure is crowned by Johann Gottfried Schadow's famous sculpture, Ouadriga. In 1806, during the French occupati on, the sculpture was dismantled, on Napoleon's orders, and taken to Paris. On its triumphal return in 1814, it was declared a symbol of victory, and the goddess received a staff bearing the Prussian eagle and an iron cross adorned with a laurel wreath

Throughout its history, the Brandenburg Gate has borne witness to many of Berlin's important events. Located in East Berlin, the gate was restored between 1956 and 1958, when the damaged Quadriga was rebuilt in West Berlin. Over the next 40 years it stood watch over the divided city, until 1989, when the first section of the Berlin Wall came down.

Frieze and sculpture, Quadriga, on the Brandenburg Gate

Bebelplatz 2

Once named Opernplatz (Opera Square), Bebelplatz was intended to be the focal point of the Forum Fridericianum – an area designed to mirror the grandeur of ancient Rome. Although the plans were only partly implemented, many important buildings were eventually erected here.

On 10 May 1933, the square was the scene of the infamous book-burning act organized by the Nazi propaganda machine. Some 25,000 books, written by authors considered to be enemies of the Third Reich were burned

Today, a monument in the square commemorates this dramatic event. A translucent panel inserted into the road surface provides a glimpse of a room filled with empty bookshelves, while a plaque bears the tragically prophetic words of the poet Heinrich Heine, written in 1820: "Where books are burned, in the end people will burn."

Relief on the façade of the Staatsoper (Opera House), Bebelplatz

St-Hedwigs-Kathedrale 3

St Hedwig's Cathedral

Bebelplatz. Map 4 C2. Tel (030) 203 48 10. § & U Friedrichstraße. 100, 157, 348. § 10am–5pm Mon– Fri, 10am–4:30pm Sat,1pm–5pm Sun & holy days.

This huge church, set back from the road and crowned with a dome, is the Catholic Cathedral of the Roman Archdiocese of Berlin. It was built to serve the Catholics of Silesia (part of present-day Poland), which became part of the kingdom of Prussia in 1742 following defeat in the Silesian Wars.

The façade of St-Hedwigs-Kathedrale, with beautiful bas-relief sculptures

The initial design, by Georg Wenzeslaus von Knobelsdorff, was similar to the Roman Pantheon. Construction began in 1747 and the cathedral was consecrated in 1773, although work continued on and off until 1778. Later work was carried out from 1886 to 1887.

The cathedral was damaged during World War II and subsequently rebuilt between 1952 and 1963. The building received a reinforced concrete dome and its interior was refurbished in a modern style.

The crypt holds the tombs of many of the bishops of Berlin. It also contains a 16th-century Madonna.

Unter den Linden 4

Map 1 C4, 4 A2, B2, C2, 5 D2. ⑤ Unter den Linden. 400, 157, 348.

One of the most famous streets in Berlin, Unter den Linden starts at Schlossplatz and runs down to Pariser Platz and the Brandenburg Gate. It was once the route to the royal hunting grounds, which were later transformed into the Tiergarten.

In the 17th century, the street was planted with lime trees, to which it owes its name. Although the original trees were removed around 1658, four rows of limes were planted in 1820.

During the 18th century, Unter den Linden became the main street of the westwardgrowing city and gradually came to be lined with

WILHELM AND ALEXANDER VON HUMBOLDT

The Humboldt brothers rank among the most distinguished Berlin citizens. Wilhelm (1767–1835) was a lawyer and politician on whose initiative the Berlin University (later renamed Humboldt University) was founded in 1810. At the university, he conducted studies in comparative and historical linguistics. His brother Alexander (1769–1859), a professor at the university, researched natural science, including meteorology, oceanography and agricultural science.

Alexander von Humboldt prestigious buildings, which have been restored in the vears following World War II.

Since the reunification of Germany in 1990. Unter den Linden has acquired several cafés and restaurants, as well as many smart new shops. The street has also become the venue for interesting outdoor events. It is usually crowded with tourists and students browsing the bookstalls around the Humboldt Universität and the Staatsbibliothek (State Library).

Humboldt Universität 6

Humboldt University

Unter den Linden 6. Map 4 C2. ($) & U Friedrichstraße. 🚃 100, 157,

The university building wasconstructed in 1753 for Prince Heinrich of Prussia. The overall design of the palace. with its main block and the courtvard enclosed within two wings, has been extended many times. Two marble statues by Paul Otto (1883) stand at the entrancethese represent Wilhelm and Alexander von Humboldt.

Many famous scientists have worked at the university, including physicians Rudolf Virchow and Robert Koch and physicists Max Planck and Albert Einstein. Among its graduates are Heinrich Heine, Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels.

After World War II, the university was in the Russian sector and the difficulties encountered by the students of the western zone led to the establishment in 1948 of the Freie Universität.

Neue Wache 6

Unter den Linden 4. Map 7 A3, 16 E2. (S) Hackescher Markt. 🚃 100, 157, 348. 10am-6pm daily.

Designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel and built between 1816 and 1818, this monument is considered to be one of the finest examples of Neo-Classical architecture in Berlin. The front of the monument is dominated by a huge Doric portico with a frieze made up of bas-reliefs depicting goddesses of victory.

In 1930–31 the building was turned into a monument to soldiers killed in World War I. Following its restoration in 1960 Neue Wache became the Memorial to the Victims of Fascism and Militarism It was rededicated in 1993 to the memory of all victims of war and dictatorship. Inside is an eternal flame and a granite slab over the ashes of an unknown soldier, a resistance fighter and a concentration camp prisoner. In the roof opening is a copy of the sculpture Mother with ber Dead Son. by Berlin artist Käthe Kollwitz

Home to the German History Museum since 1952, it was renovated in 2005. A modern glass and steel wing, designed by architect I M Pei, now houses temporary exhibits, and there is a new and extensive exhibition on German history

Friedrichswerdersche Kirche (Schinkel-Museum) 3

Werderstraße, Map 5 D2, Tel (030) 2081 323. U & S Friedrichstrasse. 10am− 6pm Tue−Sun. 🚳 👢

The first Neo-Gothic church to be built in Berlin, this small, single-nave structure with its twin-tower facade was designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel and built between 1824 and 1830. Schinkel's original interior was largely destroyed in World War II. Following its reconstruction, the church was converted to a museum It currently houses Princesses Luise and the Nationalgalerie's permanent sculpture exhibition. Highlights include a model of the famous

This former arsenal was built in the Baroque style in 1706 under the guidance of Johann Arnold Nering, Martin

Zeughaus •

Grünberg, Andreas Friederike in the Schinkel-Museum Schlüter and Jean de Bodt, A magnificent structure, its wings surround an inner courtvard. Its exterior is decorated with Schlüter's sculptures, which

Part of the facade of the Zeughaus on Unter den Linden

Side elevation of the Französischer Dom, built for Huguenot refugees

Französischer Dom **©

French Cathedral

Gendarmenmarkt 6. Map 4 C2.

Tel (030) 204 15 07. Stadtmitte or Französische Straße. Museum noon-5pm Tue-Sat, 11am-5pm
Sun. Curch noon-5pm
Tue-Sun. Sun 10am.

Although the two churches standing on opposite sides of Schauspielhaus seem identical, their only common feature is their matching front towers. The French cathedral was built for the Huguenot community, who found refuge in protestant Berlin following their expulsion from France after the revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1598. The modest church, built between 1701 and 1705 by Louis Cavart and Abraham Quesnay, was modelled on the Huguenot church in Charenton, France, which was destroyed in 1688. The interior features a late-Baroque organ from 1754.

The structure is dominated by a massive, cylindrical tower, which is encircled by Corinthian porticos at its base. The tower and porticos were designed by Carl von Gontard and added around 1785. It houses the Huguenot Museum, which charts the history of the Huguenot community in France and Brandenburg.

A viewing platform (temporarily closed), which is 66 m (216 ft) above the ground, is the city's highest historic observation platform and offers stunning views of Berlin's skyline.

Konzerthaus @

Concert Hall

Gendarmenmarkt 2. Map 4 C2. Tel (030) 203 09 21 01. U Stadtmitte.

A late Neo-Classical iewel. this magnificent theatre building, known until recently as the Schauspielhaus, is one of the greatest achievements of Berlin's best-known architect Karl Friedrich Schinkel It was built between 1818 and 1821 around the ruins of Langhan's National Theatre, destroyed by fire in 1817. The portico columns were retained in the new design. Following bomb damage in World War II, it was reconstructed as a concert hall and the exterior was restored to its former glory. The Konzerthaus is now home to the Berlin Symphony Orchestra.

The whole building is decorated with sculptures alluding to drama and music. The façade, which includes a huge Ionic portico with a set of stairs, is crowned with a sculpture of Apollo riding a chariot pulled by griffins.

Sculpture from Deutscher Dom

In front of the theatre stands a shining white marble statue of Friedrich Schiller, which was sculpted by Reinhold Begas and erected in 1869. Removed by the Nazis during the 1930s, the monument was returned to its rightful place in 1988. The statue is mounted on a high pedestal surrounded by allegorical figures representing Lyric Poetry, Drama, Philosophy and History.

Interior of the Konzerthaus, formerly the Schauspielhaus

Deutscher Dom O

German Cathedral

Gendarmenmarkt 1. Map 4 C3. Tel (030) 227 30431.
☐ Stadtmitte or Französische Straße. Exhibition ☐ 10am-10pm Tue, 10am-6pm Wed-Sun (Jun-Aug 10am-7pm).

The cathedral at the southern end of the square is an old German Protestant-

Reformed church. Based on a five-petal shape, it was designed by Martin Grünberg and built in 1708 by Giovanni Simonetti. In 1785 it acquired a dome-acquired a domecovered tower identical to that of the French cathedral. Burned down in 1945, it was rebuilt in 1993, with its interior adapted as exhibition space. On display is the popular "Fragen an die Deutsche Geschichte" ("Questions on German History"), which was formerly on show in the Reichstag building.

Schlossbrücke @

Map 5 D2. (S) Hackescher Markt.

This is one of the city's most beautiful bridges, connecting Schlossplatz with Unter den Linden. It was built in 1824 to a design by Karl Friedrich Schinkel. Statues were added to the top of the bridge's sparkling red-granite pillars in 1853. These figures, made of white Carrara marble, were also created by Schinkel. The statues depict tableaux from Greek mythology, such as Iris, Nike and Athena, training and looking after their favourite young warriors. The elaborate wrought-iron balustrade is decorated with intertwined sea creatures.

The surviving Stadtschloss portal fronting a government building

Map 5 D2. (S) Hackescher Markt. (20) 100, 157, 348.

This square was once the site of a huge residential complex known as Stadtschloss (City Castle). Built in 1451, it served as the main residence of the Brandenburg Electors It was transformed from a castle to a palace in the mid-16th century when Elector Friedrich III (later King Friedrich D ordered its reconstruction in the Baroque style. The building works, which lasted from 1698 until 1716, were overseen initially by Andreas Schlüter and then by Johann von Göthe and Martin Heinrich Böhme.

The three-storey residence, designed around two court-yards, was the main seat of the Hohenzollern family for almost 500 years until the end of the monarchy. The palace was partly burned during World War II but, after 1945, it was provisionally restored and used as a museum.

In 1950–51, despite protests, the palace was demolished and the square was renamed Marx-Engels-Platz under the GDR.

Now all that remains of the palace is the triumphal-arch portal that once adorned the façade on the Lustgarten side. This is now incorporated into the wall of the former government building, the Staatsratgebäude, which was erected in 1964 on the square's south side. The building's decor features the remaining original sculptures, including the magnificent atlantes by the famous Dresden sculptor, Balthasar Permoser. Their inclusion was not due to their artistic merit, but rather to their propaganda value: it was from the balcony of the portal that in 1918 Karl Liebknecht proclaimed the birth of the Socialist Republic.

In 1989 the square reverted to its original name and a former GDR government building was torn down. The square is planned to have a new palace-like building, the Humbold-Forum, which will hold the Dahlem Museum and a library.

Berliner Dom @

Am Lustgarten. Map 5 D1. Tel (030) 20 26 91 36. ⑤ Hackescher Markt. 100, 200, M48, 248 ⑥ Oct-Mar: 9am-7pm Mon- Sat, noon-7pm Sun; Apr-Sep: 9am-8pm Mon-Sat, noon-9pm Sun. № 1 10am, 6pm Sun.

The original Berliner Dom was based on a modest Baroque design by Johann Boumann Built between 1747 and 1750 on the site of an old Dominican church, the cathedral included the original crypt of the Hohenzollern family, one of the largest of its kind in Europe. The present Neo-Baroque structure is the work of Julius Raschdorff and dates from 1894 to 1905. The central copper dome is 98 m (321 ft) high. Following severe World War II damage, the cathedral has been restored in a simplified form. The Hohenzollern memorial chapel. which adioined the northern walls has been dismantled

The Neo-Baroque interior of the Berliner Dom

BERLIN'S BRIDGES

Despite wartime damage, Berlin's bridges are still well worth seeing. The Spree river and the city's canals have some fine, exemplary architecture on their banks, while many of the bridges were designed and decorated by famous architects and sculptors. Probably the most renowned bridge is the Schlossbrücke designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel. Further south along the Kupfergrabenkanal, the Schleusenbrücke, dating from c.1914, is decorated with reliefs of the early history of the city's bridges and sluices.

The next bridge, heading south, is the Jungfernbrücke (1798), which is the last drawbridge in Berlin. The next bridge along is the Gertraudenbrücke. Where Friedrichstrasse crosses the Spree river is the Weidendammer Brücke, built originally in 1695-7 and subsequently rebuilt in 1923, with an eagle motif adorning its balustrade. On the Spree near the Regierungsviertel is the magnificent Moltkebrücke (1886-91). The bridge is guarded by a huge griffin wielding a shield adorned with the Prussian eagle, while cherubs dressed in a military fashion hold up lamps. On the arches of the bridges are portraits of leaders, designed by Karl Begas.

Ornamental feature of a bear on the Liebknechtbrücke

Street-by-Street: Museum Island

The long island that nestles in the tributaries of the Spree river is the cradle of Berlin's history. It was here that the first settlements appeared at the beginning of the 13th century: Cölln is mentioned in documents dating back to 1237, and its twin settlement, Berlin, is mentioned a few years later, in 1244. The island's character was transformed by the construction of the Brandenburg Electors' palace, which served as their residence from 1470. Although it was razed to the ground in 1950, some interesting buildings on the north side of the island have survived, including the Berliner Dom (Berlin Cathedral) and the impressive collection of

LOCATOR MAP
See Street Finder, maps 4 & 5

Bode Museum

A rounded corner of the building, crowned with a dome, provides a magnificent end-piece to the tip of the island 19

★ Pergamonmuseum

The museum is famous for its reconstruction of fragments of ancient towns, as well as the original friezes from the Pergamon altar 19

house exhibitions on antiquities and ancient Egyptian art after renovations are complete in 2009 fb

Alte Nationalgalerie

The equestrian statue of King Friedrich Wilhelm IV in front of the building is the work of Alexander Calandrelli 😈

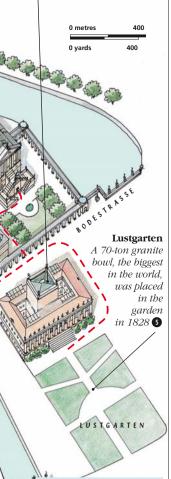

- Suggested route

* Altes Museum

The corners of the central building feature the figures of Castor and Pollux, heroes of Greek mythology (5)

STAR SIGHTS

★ Pergamonmuseum

★ Altes Museum

Altes Museum 6

Old Museum

Am Lustgarten (Bodestraße 1–3).

Map 5 D1. Tel (030) 20 90 55 77.

S Hackescher Markt. 100, 157, 348. 100 10am-6pm Mon-Wed & Fri-Sun, 10am-10pm Thu.

Designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel, this museum building is one of the world's most beautiful Neo-Classical structures, with an impressive 87-m (285-ft) high portico supported by 18 Ionic columns. Officially opened in 1830, the museum was purpose-built to house the royal collection of art and antiquities.

Following World War II, the building was used only for temporary exhibitions. It now houses the Antikensammlung and the Egyptian Museum, with a magnificent collection of Greek, Roman and Egyptian antiquities.

Many sculptures. sarcophagi, murals and architectural fragments of various eras are on display, including the famous bust of Nefertiti. Most popular is the collection from 19thcentury archaeological digs by Richard Lepsius and Johann Ludwig Burckhardt at Tell al-Amarna, Egypt. Tell al-Amarna was the capital founded by Pharaoh Amenhotep IV in the 14th century BC. In a break with tradition, Amenhotep and his wife, Nefertiti, are depicted in a more naturalistic manner.

Neues Museum 6

New Museum

Bodestraße 1–3. Map 5 D1. ③ Hackescher Markt or Friedrichstraße. 100, 147, 257, 348. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 13, 53, 58. until 2009.

The Neues Museum was built on Museum Island between 1841 and 1855 to a design by Friedrich August Stüler. Until World War II, it housed a collection of antiquities, mainly ancient Egyptian art. The rooms in the museum building were decorated specifically to complement the exhibitions they contained, while wall paintings by Wilhelm von Kaulbach depicted key events in world history.

The building was damaged in 1945 and is currently under reconstruction. The work is expected to be complete in 2009, when it will house the collection of Egyptian art once again as well as the Museum of Early History.

Alte Nationalgalerie 0

Old National Gallery

Bodestraße 1–3. Map 5 D1. Tel (030) 20 90 55 77. ⑤ Hackescher Markt or Friedrichstraße. © 100, 147, 257, 348. ② 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 13, 53, 58. ① 10am-6pm Tue—Sun, 10am-10pm Thu.

Pericles' Head

The Nationalgalerie building, designed by Friedrich August Stüler, was erected between 1866 and 1876. It was originally intended to house the collection of modern art that had been on display in the Akademie der Künste (Art Academy). After World War II, however, the collection was split up into several sections and part of it was shown in West Berlin, where the Neue Nationalgalerie was specifically erected for this purpose (see p88). This building was then renamed Alte Nationalgalerie.

Following the reunification of Germany, the modern art collections were merged again. Two new exhibition halls now show paintings from the German Romantic era, including work by Caspar David Friedrich and Karl Friedrich Schinkels. The famous 19th-century marble sculpture of the two Prussian princesses by Johann Gottfried Schadow is also on display, as is a significant collection of works by Adolph Menzel, including his most famous painting, The Balcony Room.

Pergamonmuseum ®

The Pergamonmuseum was built between 1912 and 1930 to a design by Alfred Messels and Ludwig Hoffmann. It houses one of the most famous collections of antiquities in Europe and owes its name to the famous Pergamon Altar, which takes pride of place in the main hall. The three independent collections – the Museum of Antiquities (Greek and Roman), the Museum of Near Eastern Antiquities and the Museum of Islamic Art – are the result of intensive archaeological excavations by German expeditions to the Near and Middle East at the end of the 19th and beginning of the 20th century.

★ Pergamon Altar (170 BC)
This scene, featuring the goddess
Athena, appears on the large frieze illustrating a battle between the gods and the giants.

Non-exhibition

First floor

> Main entrance

Roman Mosaic

(3rd or 4th century AD) This ancient mosaic was found at Jerash, Jordan. A second part of it is in the collection of the Stark Museum of Art, Texas.

Assyrian Palace

Parts of this beautifully reconstructed palace interior, from the ancient kingdom of Assyria, date from the 12th century BC.

Aleppo Zimmer

(c.1603)
This magnificent panelled room comes from a merchant's house in the Syrian city of Aleppo.

GALLERY GUIDE

The central section of the ground floor bouses reconstructions of ancient monumental structures, while the left wing is devoted to the Antiquities of Greece and Rome. The right wing houses the Museum of Near Eastern Antiquities, the first floor of the right wing houses the Museum of Islamic Art.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Bodestraße 1–3 (entrance from Am Kupfergraben). Map 4 C1, 5 D1. Tel (030) 20 90 55 55. G Friedrichstraße or Hackescher Markt. 100, 200, 348. 10am-6pm Mon-Wed & FriSun, 10am-10pm Thu. 11 Jan. Tue after Easter and Pentecost, 24, 25, 31 Dec. 12 1 Pm. 12 1 Pm. 12 1 Jan.

Façade of the Mshatta Palace (AD 744)

This fragment is from the southern façade of the Jordanian Mshatta Palace, presented to Wilhelm II by Sultan Abdul Hamid of Ottoman in 1903.

★ Market Gate from Miletus (c.120 AD) Measuring over 16 m (52 ft) in beight, this gate opened onto the southern market of Miletus, a Roman town in Asia Minor.

STAR EXHIBITS

- ★ Ishtar Gate from Babylon
- ★ Market Gate from Miletus
- ★ Pergamon Altar

★ Ishtar Gate from Babylon

(6th century BC)
Original glazed bricks decorate both the huge Ishtar gate and the impressive Processional
Way that leads up to it.

KEY

- Antiquities (Antikensammlung)
- Near Eastern antiquities (Vorderasiatisches Museum)
 - Islamic art (Museum für Islamische Kunst)
- Non-exhibition rooms

The Bodemuseum designed by Ernst von Ihne

Monbijoubrücke (Bodestraße 1–3). Map 4 С 1. Tel (030) 20 90 57 01. ⑤ Hackescher Markt or Friedrichstraße. 100, 147, 257, 348. 11, 2, 3, 4, 5, 13, 53, 58.

The fourth museum building on Museuminsel was constructed between 1897 and 1904. It was designed by Ernst von Ihne to fit the wedge-shaped northwestern end of the island. The interior was designed with the help of an art historian, Wilhelm von Bode, who was the director of the Berlin state museums at the time.

The museum displayed a rather mixed collection that included some old masters. Its original name, Kaiser Friedrich Museum, was changed after World War II. Following the reassembling of the Berlin collections, all the paintings were rehoused in the Kulturforum (see pp84–5), while the Egyptian art and the papyrus collection were moved to the Ägyptisches Museum (Egyptian Museum) at Charlottenburg (see p96).

Following its refurbishment, the building once again houses a collection of over 50,000 coins, plus medals and Byzantine art. It is also home to an extensive collection of sculptures, which includes the works of Tilman Riemenschneider, Donatello, Gianlorenzo Bernini and Antonio Canova. A copy of the magnificent equestrian statue of the Great Elector, Friedrich Wilhelm, by Andreas Schlüter, has also taken its place in the old hall.

Marienkirche @

Karl-Liebknecht-Straße 8. Map 5 E1. Tel (030) 242 44 67. ⑤ Hackescher Markt I 100, 157. ℂ Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm daily; Nov-Mar: 10am-4pm daily. ¶ 4:30am Sat. 10:30am & 6pm Sun.

St Mary's Church, or the Marienkirche, was first established as a parish church in the second half of the 13th century. Started around 1280, construction was completed early in the 14th century. During reconstruction works in 1380, following a fire, the church was altered slightly. but its overall shape changed only in the 15th century when it acquired the front tower. In 1790, the tower was crowned with a dome, designed by Carl Gotthard Langhans. which includes both Baroque and Neo-Gothic elements.

The Marienkirche was once hemmed in by buildings, but today it stands alone in the shadow of the Fernsehturm (Television Tower). The early

Baroque altar in the Marienkirche, designed by Andreas Krüger

Gothic hall design and the lavish decorative touches make this church one of the most interesting in Berlin. An alabaster pulpit by Andreas Schlüter, dating from 1703, is decorated with bas-reliefs of St John the Baptist and the personifications of the Virtues

The Baroque main altar was designed by Andreas Krüger around 1762. The paintings with which it is adorned include three works by Christian Bernhard Rode

A Gothic font, dating from 1437, is supported by three black dragons and decorated with the figures of Jesus Christ, Mary and the Apostles.

Rotes Rathaus @

Red Town Hall

Rathausstraße 15. Map 5 E2. U & ③ Alexanderplatz. U Klosterstraße.

This impressive structure is Berlin's main town hall. Its predecessor was a much more modest structure that, by the end of the 19th century, was inadequate to meet the needs of the growing metropolis.

The present building was designed by Hermann Friedrich Waesemann, and the construction works went on from 1861 until 1869. The architect took his main inspiration from Italian Renaissance municipal buildings, but the tower is reminiscent of Laon cathedral in France. The walls are made from red brick and it was this, rather than the political orientation of the mayors, that gave the town hall its name.

The whole building has a continuous frieze known as the "stone chronicle", which was added in 1879. The frieze features scenes and figures from the city's history and traces the development of its economy and science.

The Rotes Rathaus was severely damaged during World War II but, following its reconstruction between 1951 and 1958, it became the seat of the East Berlin authorities. The West Berlin magistrate was housed in the

Fernsehturm @

The television tower, called by the locals Telespargel, or toothpick, remains to this day the city's tallest structure at 365 m (1,197 ft). It is also the second-tallest structure in Europe. The tower was built in 1969 to a design by a team of architects including Fritz Dieter and Günter Franke, with the help of Swedish experts. However, the idea for the tower originated much earlier from Hermann Henselmann (creator of the Karl-Marx-Allee development) in the Socialist-Realist style.

View from the Tower

On a clear day the viewing platform offers a full view of Berlin. Visibility can reach up to 40 km (25 miles).

Concrete structure rising to 250 m (820 ft)

The concrete shaft contains two elevators that carry passengers to the café and viewing platform.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Panoramastrasse. Map 5 E1.

Tel (030) 242 33 33 § & U

Alexanderplatz. 100, 157.

Nov-Feb: 10am-midnight daily;

Mar-Oct: 9am-midnight daily.

The television antenna is visible all over Berlin.

Transmitter aerial

The metal sphere is covered with steel cladding.

Tele-Café

One of the attractions of the tower is the revolving cafe. A full rotation takes about half an hour, so it is possible to get a bird's-eye view of the whole city while sipping a cup of coffee.

The monumental, red-brick town hall, known as the Rotes Rathaus

Schöneberg town hall (see p103). Following the reunification of Germany in 1990, the Rotes Rathaus became the centre of authority, housing the offices of the mayor and the Berlin cabinet.

The forecourt sculptures by Fritz Kremer, which depict Berliners helping to rebuild the city, were added in 1958.

Alexanderplatz @

Alexanderplatz, or "Alex" as it is called locally, has a long history, although it would be hard now to find any visible traces of the past. Once known as Ochsenmarkt (oxen market), it was the site of a cattle and wool market. It was later renamed after Tsar Alexander I who visited Berlin in 1805. At that time, the square boasted a magnificent monumental colonnade, which was designed by Carl von Gontard.

In time, houses and shops sprang up around the square and a market hall and urban train line were built nearby. "Alex" became one of the city's busiest spots. Its frenzied atmosphere was captured by Alfred Döblin (1878–1957) in his novel Berlin Alexanderplatz.

In 1929, attempts were made to develop the square, though only two office buildings were added – the Alexanderhaus and the Berolinahaus, both by Peter Behrens.

World War II erased most of the square's buildings and it is now surrounded by characterless 1960s edifices, including the Forum Hotel (formerly Hotel Stadt Berlin) and the Fernsehturm. Now Alexanderplatz awaits its next transformation, to be based on the winning design chosen from a competition for the square's redevelopment.

Riverside buildings of the Nikolaiviertel

Nikolaiviertel @

Map 5 E2. U & (§) Alexanderplatz.
U Klosterstraße. = 100, 142, 157, 257, 348.

This small area on the bank of the Spree is a favourite place for both Berliners and tourists Some of Berlin's oldest houses stood here until they were destroyed in World War II. The redevelopment of the area, which was carried out by the GDR government between 1979 and 1987, was an interesting attempt to recreate a medieval village. Now, with the exception of one or two restored buildings. the Nikolaiviertel consists entirely of newly built replicas of historic buildings.

The Nikolaikirche was destroyed by bombing in 1945 and rebuilt in 1987. All that remains of the original structure, which was probably built around 1230, is the base of the two-tower façade of the present church, which dates from around 1300.

The only Baroque building in Nikolaiviertel to escape damage during World War II was the Knoblauchhaus, a small townhouse built in 1759 for the Knoblauch family. The current appearance of the building is the result of work carried out in 1835 when the façade was given a Neo-Classical look.

Ephraim-Palais was built in 1766 for Nathan Veitel Heinrich Ephraim, Frederick the Great's mint master and court jeweller. Parts of the original structure, which were saved from demolition, were used in the reconstruction.

Märkisches Museum 🛭

Am Köllnischen Park 5. Map 5 F2.

Tel (030) 24 00 21 62. Märkisches
Museum. Jannowitzbrücke.
147, 265. Mem-6pm Tue, ThuSun, noon-8pm Wed. Memonical Presentation of mechanical instruments 3pm Sun.

Built between 1901 and 1908. this complex of red brick buildings was inspired by the brick-Gothic style popular in the Brandenburg region. The museum founded in 1874 is dedicated to the cultural history of Berlin from the first settlements to today. The department "Berliner Kunst" (art), for example, presents a remarkable collection of paintings, sculpture, textiles, faiences, glass and porcelain. The main hall features the original Gothic portal from the sculpture Quadriga, which once crowned the Brandenburg Gate (see p69). A further collection is devoted to the Berlin theatre from 1730 to 1933. One of the galleries houses some oldtime mechanical musical Surrounding the museum is the Köllnischer Park, home to three brown bears – the city mascots.

Checkpoint Charlie @

Friedrichstraße 43–45. Map 4 C4.

Tel (030) 253 72 50. Wochstraße.

129. Haus am Checkpoint

Charlie 9am–10pm daily.

The name of this notorious border crossing between the American and Soviet sectors comes from the word that signifies the letter C in the international phonetic alphabet: Alpha, Bravo, Charlie.

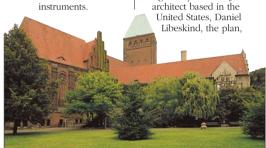

Between 1961 and 1990, Checkpoint Charlie was the only crossing for foreigners between East and West Berlin. It came to represent a symbol of both freedom and separation for the many East Germans trying to escape Soviet communism.

Today, a single watchtower is all that remains, and this houses a museum – Haus am Checkpoint Charlie. Its rich collection details the years of the Cold War in Berlin

Jüdisches Museum 2

Lindenstraße 14. Map 4 C5. Tel (030) 25 99 33 00. U Hallesches Tor or Kochstraße. W29, M41, 265. 10am–10pm Mon, 10am–8pm Tue–Sun.

The building housing the city's recently opened Jewish Museum is an exciting and imaginative example of 20th-century architecture. Designed by a Polish-Jewish

The exterior of the Märkisches Museum, echoing a medieval monastery shape, style, and interior and exterior arrangement of the building are part of a profoundly complicated philosophical programme. The museum's architecture itself is intended to convey something of the tragic history of the millions of Jews who perished in the Holocaust. For example, the zig-zag layout recalls a torn Star of David.

The interior arrangement is dominated by a gigantic empty crack, which cuts a swathe through the building. Several corridors lead to a windowless Holocaust tower.

The collection focuses on Jewish history and art. Also on display are artifacts that were once part of everyday Jewish life in Berlin.

The new museum is accessible only through an underground passageway in the former Berlin-Museum building next door.

The austere, steel-clad walls of the Jüdisches Museum

Topographie des Terrors @

Stresemannstraße 110 (enter on Niederkirchner Straße). Map 4 B4. Tel (030) 25 48 67 03. ⑤ & Ille Potsdamer Platz. Ille 129, 248, 341. May—Sep: 10am—8pm daily; Oct–Apr; 10am–6pm daily.

During the Third Reich, Prinz-Albrecht-Straße was probably the most frightening address in Berlin: here, three of the most terrifying Nazi political departments had their headquarters. The Neo-Classical Prinz-Albrecht palace, which stands at Wilhelmstraße No. 102, became the headquarters of Reinhard Heydrich and the Third Reich's security service. The school of arts and crafts at Prinz-Albrecht-Straße No. 8 was occupied by the head of the Gestano Heinrich Gestapo, Hennich Müller, while the Hotel Prinz Albrecht at No. 9 became the headquarters of the Schutzstaffel or SS.

After World War II, the buildings were pulled down. In 1987, however, in cellars that were once used as torture cells, an exhibition documenting Nazi crimes was mounted.

A new museum building is currently under construction.

Deutsches Technikmuseum Berlin 2

The Technical Museum was first established in 1982 with the intention of grouping more than 100 smaller, specialized collections under one roof. The current collection is arranged on the site of the former trade hall, the size of which allows many of the museum's exhibits, such as locomotives, water towers and storerooms, to be displayed full-size and in their original condition.

Exhibition documenting Nazi crimes at the Topographie des Terrors

Of particular interest in the collection are the dozens of locomotives and railway carriages from different eras, as well as vintage cars. There are also exhibitions dedicated to flying, the history of paper manufacture, printing, weaving, electro-technology and computer technology. There are also two windmills, a brewery and an old forge. The section called Spectrum is especially popular with children as it allows them to try the "handson" experiments. A new hall for aircraft and engines will open at the end of 2003.

A special attraction of the Technical Museum is the Historical Brewery, which opened in 1995. The building was once used by the brewery Tucker Bräu for storing beer, but it was destroyed in World War II. Decades later, the brewery was rebuilt on four levels. Some visitors claim they can smell roasted malt.

Classical Prinz-Albrecht palace, One of dozens of locomotives displayed in the Deutsches Technikmuseum

WESTERN CENTRE

Detail from Theater

des Westens façade

his part of Berlin includes the neighbouring Potsdamer Platz is now areas of Tiergarten. Charlottenburg and parts of Kreuzberg, as well as a small section of Mitte, which used to belong to East Berlin Tiergarten, which was once a royal hunting estate, became a park in the 18th century. It survives as a park to this day. although in an altered form.

To the south of Tiergarten is the Kulturforum - a large centre of museums and other cultural establishments, which was an ultra-modern development. built in recent years on the wasteland that formerly divided East and West Berlin.

Although the eastern part of Charlottenburg does not feature a great number of historic buildings, it is one of the city's most attractive districts, which, after World War II, became the commercial and cultural centre of West Berlin Kreuzberg is a lively area that is now populated by immigrants, artists created after World War II. The and affluent young professionals.

SIGHTS AT A GLANCE

Street-by-Street: Kulturforum

Sculpture by Henry Moore

The idea of creating a new cultural centre in West Berlin was first mooted in 1956. The first building to go up was the Berlin Philharmonic concert hall, built to an innovative design by Hans Scharoun in 1961. Most other elements of the Kulturforum were realized between 1961 and 1987, and came from such famous architects as Ludwig Mies van der Rohe. The area is now a major cultural centre that attracts millions of visitors every year.

★ Kunstgewerbemuseum

Among the collection at the Museum of Arts and Crafts you can see this intricately carved silver and ivory tankard, made in an Augsburg workshop around 1640 (2)

Kupferstichkabinett

The large collection of prints and drawings owned by this gallery includes this portrait of Albrecht Dürer's mother 10

1514

★ Gemäldegalerie / Among the most important works of the old masters exhibited in this gallery of fine art is this Madonna in Church by Jan van
Eyck (c.1425) ¶

Kunstbibliothek /

The Art Library boasts a rich collection of books, graphic art and drawings.

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Gemäldegalerie
- ★ Kunstgewerbemuseum
- ★ Philharmonie

KEY

Suggested route

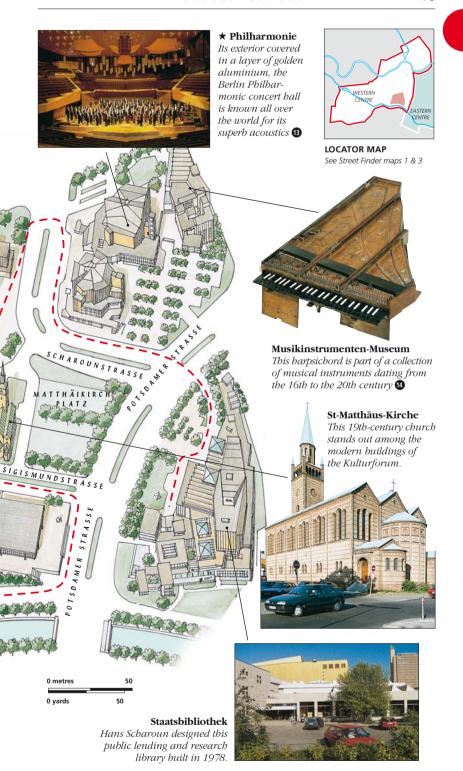

Neue Nationalgalerie Sculptures by Henry Moore and Alexander Calder stand outside this streamlined building, designed by Ludwig

NDWEHRKAN

REICHPIETSCHUF

Mies van der Rohe 🛈

Kaiser-Wilhelm-Gedächtnis-Kirche

This church-monument is one of Berlin's most famous landmarks. The vast Neo-Romanesque church was designed by Franz Schwechten. It was consecrated in 1895 and destroyed by bombs in 1943. After the war the ruins were removed, leaving only the front tower, at the base of which the Gedenkhalle (Memorial Hall) is situated. This hall documents the church's history and contains some original ceiling mosaics, marble reliefs and liturgical objects. In 1963, Egon Eiermann designed a new octagonal church in blue glass and a new freestanding bell tower.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Breitscheidplatz. Map 2 B4.

Tel (030) 218 50 23.

S. U Zoologischer Garten or U Kurfürstendamm.

100, 200, X-9. Church 9am-7pm daily. Gedenkhalle 10am-4pm Mon-Sat. 10am & 6pm Sun. W www. gedaechtnis-kirche.com

Tower

Clock

★ Kaiser's Mosaic Kaiser Heinrich I, seated on his throne, is depicted in this elaborate mosaic.

Main Altar

The massive figure of Christ on the Cross is the work of Karl Hemmeter.

Main entrance

STAR SIGHTS

★ Kaiser's Mosaic

Ku'damm 2

Plan 2 A5, 2 B4. U Kurfürstendamm. 209, 110, X10, M19, M29, M46.

The eastern area of the Charlottenburg region around the boulevard known as Kurfürstendamm (the Ku'damm) was developed in the 19th century. Luxurious buildings were constructed along the Ku'damm, while the areas of Breitscheidplatz and Wittenbergplatz filled up with hotels and department stores. After World War II, with the old centre (Mitte) situated in East Berlin, Charlottenburg became the centre of West Berlin. After the war the area was transformed into the heart of West Berlin, with dozens of new company headquarters and trade centres being built

Mother and Child, from the Käthe-Kollwitz-Museum

Käthe-Kollwitz-Museum 3

Fasanenstraße 24. Map 2 A5. Tel (030) 882 52 10. 1 Uhlandstraße or Kurfürstendamm. 109, 110, X10, M19, M29, 249. 11am–6pm Wed–Mon 🚳

This small private museum provides a unique opportunity to become acquainted with the work of Käthe Kollwitz (1867–1945). Born in Königsberg, the artist settled in Berlin where she married a doctor who worked in Prenzlauer Berg, a working-class district. Her drawings and sculptures portrayed the social

A tranquil area within the Tiergarten problems of the poor, as well as human suffering.

This museum displays the work of Käthe Kollwitz and includes posters, drawings and sculptures as well as documents, such as letters and photographs.

Zoologischer Garten 4

Zoological Garden

Hardenbergplatz 8 / Budapester Str. 34. Map 2 B3, C3, 2 B4, C4. Tel (030) 25 40 10. ⑤ & U Zoologischer Garten. W46, X9, X10, X34, 100, 109, 149, 200, 245, 249. mid-Mar-mid-Oct: 9am-6:30pm daily; mid-Oct-mid-Mar: 9am-5pm daily.

The zoological garden is actually part of the Tiergarten and dates from 1844, making this one of the oldest zoos in Germany, Among its attractions are the monkey house, which contains a family of gorillas, and a specially darkened pavilion for observing nocturnal animals. A glazed wall in the hippopotamus pool enables visitors to observe these enormous animals moving through the water. The large aquarium contains sharks, piranhas and unusual animals from coral reefs. There is also a huge terrarium with an overgrown jungle that is home to a group of crocodiles. Just to the west of the zoological garden on Jebenstraße is the Newton-Sammlung.

This gallery houses photographs by Berliner Helmut

Tiergarten 6

Map 2 C3, 3 D3, E3, F3.

S Tiergarten or Bellevue.
100, 187, 341.

Once a forest used as the Elector's hunting reserve, the Tiergarten was transformed into a landscaped park by Peter Joseph Lenné in the 1830s. A Triumphal Avenue, lined with statues of the country's rulers and statesmen, was built in the eastern section at the end of the 19th century.

World War II inflicted huge damage, but replanting has now restored the Tiergarten and its avenues are bordered with statues of figures such as Johann Wolfgang von Goethe and Richard Wagner.

Near the lake and the Landwehrkanal are memorials to Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, the leaders of the Spartakus movement who were assassinated in 1918.

Siegessäule 6

Triumphal Column

Großer Stern. Map 3 D2.

(§) Bellevue. 100, 187.

Apr-Oct: 8:30am-6:30pm daily;

Nov-Mar: 8:30am-5:30pm daily.

The triumphal column, based on a design by Johann Heinrich Strack, was built to commemorate victory in the Prusso-Danish war of 1864. After further Prussian victories in wars against Austria (1866) and France (1871), a gilded figure representing Victory, known as the "Goldelse" was added to the top of the column. It originally stood in front of the Reichstag building but was moved to its present location by the Nazi government in 1938. The base is decorated with bas-reliefs commemorating battles, while higher up a > mosaic frieze depicts the founding of the German Empire in 1871. An observation terrace at the top offers magnificent vistas over Berlin.

Siegessäule (Triumphal Column)

The captivating, streamlined buildings of the Bauhaus-Archiv

Bauhaus-Archiv •

Klingelhöferstraße 14. Map 3 D4, E4. Tel (030) 254 00 20. U Nollendorfplatz. 100, 187, M29. O 10am – 5pm Wed–Mon. (3) (free Mon.) Library 9am–1pm Mon–Fri.

The Bauhaus school of art, started by Walter Gropius in 1919, was one of the most influential art institutions of the 20th century. Originally based in Weimar, it inspired many artists and architects. Staff and students included Mies van der Rohe, Paul Klee and Wassily Kandinsky. The school moved to Berlin in 1932 from Dessau, but was closed by the Nazis in 1933.

After the war, the Bauhaus-Archiv was relocated to Darmstadt. In 1964 Walter Gropius designed a building to house the collection but, in 1971, the archive was moved to Berlin and the design was adapted to the new site. As Gropius had died in 1969, Alexander Cvijanovic took over the project. Built between 1976 and 1979 the gleaming white building with its glass-panelled gables houses the archive, library and exhibition halls.

Bendlerblock (Gedenkstätte Deutscher Widerstand) 3

Stauffenbergstraße 13–14. Map 3 E4, F4. Tel (030) 26 99 50 00. U Mendelssohn-Bartholdy-Park. — 148, M29. — 9am–6pm Mon–Wed, 9am–8pm Thu, 10–6pm Sat–Sun. — 1 Jan, 24, 25 & 31 Dec.

The collection of buildings known as the Bendlerblock was built during the Third Reich as an extension to the German State Naval Offices During World War II they were the headquarters of the Wehrmacht (German Army). It was here that a group of officers planned their assassination attempt on Hitler on 20 July 1944. When the attempt led by Claus Schenk von Stauffenberg failed, he and his fellow conspirators were arrested and death sentences passed, Stauffenberg, Friedrich Olbricht Werner von Haeften and Ritter Mertz von Ouirnheim were shot in the Bendlerblock courtvard. A monument commemorating this event, designed by Richard Scheibe in 1953, stands where the executions were carried out

On the upper floor of the building there is an exhibition which documents the history of the German anti-Nazi movements.

Gemäldegalerie

See pp90-91.

Kupferstichkabinett und Kunstbibliothek @

Matthäikirchplatz 8. Map 3 F3. Tel (030) 266 20 02. ⑤ & 및 Potsdamer Platz or 및 Mendelssohn-Bartholdy-Park. ➡ 148, 100, 123, 200, M29, M41. Kupferstichkabinett:

Exhibitions 10am-6pm Tue-Fri, 11am-6pm Sat-Sun. Studio gallery 9am-4pm Tue-Fri. Kunstbibliothek:

Exhibits 10am-6pm Tue-Fri. 11am-6pm Sat-Sun. Library 2-8pm Mon, 9am-8pm Tue-Fri. 🔯 👢 💅

The print collections of galleries in the former East and West Berlin were united in 1994 in the Kupferstichkabinett (Print Gallery), whose collection includes around 2,000 engraver's plates, over 520,000 prints and 80,000 drawings and watercolours.

The Kunstbibliothek (Art Library) is not only a library with a range of publications about the arts; it is also a museum with an extensive collection of posters, advertisements and other practical forms of design.

Munch's lithograph Girl on a Beach, Kupferstichkabinett

Neue Nationalgalerie 0

Potsdamer Straße 50. Map 3 F4. Tel (030) 266 26 51. U & ⑤ Potsdamer Platz or U Mendelssohn-Bartholdy-Park. □ 148, 100, 123, 200, M29, M41. □ 10am–6pm Tue & Wed, 10am–10pm Thu, 10am–8pm Fri–Sun. ② §

After World War II, when this magnificent collection of modern art ended up in West Berlin, the commission to design a suitable building to house it was given to Mies van der Rohe. The result is a striking building with a flat steel roof over a glass hall, which is supported only by six slender interior struts.

The collection comprises largely 20th-century art, but begins with artists of the late 19th century, such as Edvard Munch. German art is well represented: as well as the Bauhaus movement, the gallery shows works by exponents of a crass realism, such as Otto Dix. The most celebrated artists of other European countries are included, as are examples of post-World War II art.

Karl Schmidt-Rottluff's Farm in Daugart (1910), Neue Nationalgalerie

Kunstgewerbemuseum 2

Tiergarten-Str. 6. Map 3 F3. Tel (030) 266 0. ⑤ Potsdamer Platz. Ⅲ Potsdamer Platz or Mendelssohn-Bartholdy-Park. 100, 123, 148, 200, M29, M41. 〗 10am-6pm Tue-Fri, 11am-6pm Sat & Sun. 〗 Tue after Easter, Whitsun, 1 Oct, 24, 25 & 31 Dec. 🌠 👢 🌠

This museum holds a rich collection embracing many genres of craft and decorative art, from the early Middle Ages to the modern day. Goldwork is especially well represented, as are metal items from the Middle Ages. Among the most valuable exhibits is a collection of medieval goldwork from the church treasures of Enger

and the

Guelph

treasury from Brunswick. The museum also takes great pride in its collection of late Gothic and Renaissance silver from the civic treasury in the town of Lüneberg. In addition, there are fine examples of Italian majolica, and 18th- and 19th-century German, French and Italian glass, porcelain and furniture.

Philharmonie ®

Philharmonic and Chamber Music Hall

Herbert-von-Karajan-Straße 1.

Map 3 F3. Tel (030) 25 48 80.

$\mathbb{S}$ & \mathbb{U}$ Potsdamer Platz or Mendelssohn-Bartholdy-Park.

129, 148, M41.

Home to one of the most renowned orchestras in Europe, this unusual building is among the finest postwar architectural achievements in Europe. Built between 1960 and 1963 to a design by Hans Scharoun, the Philharmonie pioneered a new concept for concert hall interiors, with a podium occupying the central section of the pentagonal hall, around which are galleries for the public. The exterior is reminiscent of a circus tent. The gilded exterior was added between 1978 and 1981.

Between the years 1984 to 1987 the Kammermusiksaal, which was designed by Edgar Wisniewski on the basis of sketches by Scharoun, was added to the Philharmonie. This building consolidates the aesthetics of the earlier structure by featuring a central multi-sided space covered by a fanciful tent-like roof.

Musikinstrumenten-Museum @

Tiergartenstraße 1. Map 1 A5.

Tel (030) 25 48 11 78. ⑤ & II

Potsdamer Platz or II MendelssohnBartholdy-Park. ② 200. ☑ 9am—5pm Tue–Fri, 10am—5pm Sat–Sun.

Wurlitzer Organ demonstration noon, first Sat of the month. II

Behind the Philharmonie, in a small building designed by Edgar Wisniewski and Hans Scharoun between 1979 and 1984, the fascinating Museum of Musical Instruments houses a collection dating from 1888. Intriguing displays trace the development of each instrument from the 16th century to the present day. Most spectacular of all is a working Wurlitzer cinema organ dating from 1929. Saturday demonstrations of its impressive sounds attract

The tent-like gilded exterior of the Philharmonie and Kammermusiksaal

Gemäldegalerie o

Woman in a Bonnet by Rogier van der Weyden

The Gemäldegalerie collection is exceptional in the consistently high quality of its paintings. Unlike those in other collections, they were chosen by specialists who, from the end of the 18th century, systematically acquired pictures to represent all the major European schools. Originally part of the Altes Museum collection (see p75), the paintings achieved independent status in 1904 when they were moved to what is now the Bodemuseum (see p78). After the division of Berlin in 1945, part of the collection was kept in the Bodemuseum, while the majority ended up in the Dahlem Museum (see p104). Following reunification, and with the building of a new home as part of the Kulturforum development, this unique collection has finally been united again.

★ Cupid Victorious (1602)
Inspired by Virgil's Omnia vincit Amor, Caravaggio depicted a playful god trampling over the symbols of Culture, Fame, Knowledge and Power.

Ł

Madonna with Child (c.1477)
A frequent subject of Sandro Botticelli, the Madonna and Child are depicted here, surrounded by singing angels holding lilies to symbolize purity.

Portrait of Hieronymus Holzschuher (1526) Albrecht Dürer painted this affectionate portrait of his friend, who was the mayor of Nuremberg.

Circular lobby leading to the galleries _____

Birth of Christ (c.1480). This beautiful religious painting is one of the few surviving paintings on panels by Martin Schongauer.

19

M

0

4,

1

The Glass of Wine (1661/62)

Ian Vermeer's carefully composed picture of a young woman drinking wine with a young man gently hints at the relationship developing between them.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Matthäikirchplatz. Map 3 F3. Tel (030) 266 0

- (S) & III Potsdamer Platz Mendelssohn-Bartholdy-Park
- M29, M41, 123, 200,
- 10am-6pm Tue, Wed.
- Fri–Sun: 10am–10nm Thu
- first Tue after Faster and Whitsun, 1 May, 24, 25 & 31 Dec. 份 Y 本 州本 長 道 自

French Theatre This picture has a companion piece called Love in the Italian Theatre. Both by French painter. Jean-Antoine Watteau (1684-1721).

★ Portrait of Hendrickie Stoffels (1656-57)

Rembrandt's portrait of his lover, Hendrickje Stoffels, is typical of his work in the way it focuses on the subject and ignores the background.

GALLERY GUIDE

The main gallery contains over 900 masterpieces grouped by period and country of origin. These are complemented by around 400 works in the educational gallery on the lower floor and by a computerized digital gallery.

★ Dutch Proverbs (1559) Pieter Brueghel managed to illustrate more than 100 proverbs in this painting.

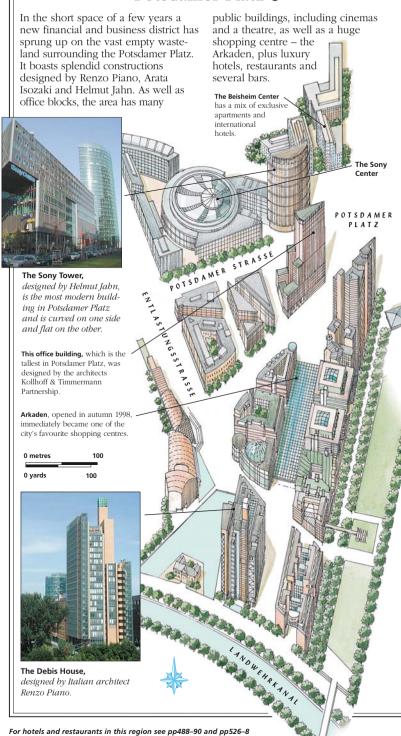

KFY

- 13th-16th-century German painting
- 14th-16th-century Dutch and French painting
- 17th-century Flemish and Dutch painting
- 18th-century French, English and
- German painting 17th-18th-century Italian painting, 17th-century German, French and Spanish painting
- 13th-16th-century Italian painting
- 16th-18th-century miniatures
- Digital gallery

STAR EXHIBITS

- ★ Cupid Victorious
- ★ Dutch Proverbs
- ★ Portrait of Hendrickje Stoffels

The Reichstag, crowned by a dome designed by Sir Norman Foster

Reichstag 6

Built to house the German Parliament, the Reichstag was constructed between 1884 and 1894 to a New-Renaissance design by Paul Wallot. Capturing the prevailing spirit of German optimism, it became a potent symbol to the populace.

In 1918, from the Reichstag, Philipp Scheidemann declared the formation of the Weimar Republic. The next time the world heard about the building was in February 1933, when a fire destroyed the main hall. The Communists were blamed, accelerating a political witchhunt driven by the Nazis, who then came to power.

With the onset of World War II, the building was not rebuilt, yet its significance resonated beyond Germany, as shown by a photograph of the Soviet flag flying from the Reichstag in May 1945, which became a symbol of the German defeat.

Following rebuilding work between 1957 and 1972, the Reichstag

provided a meeting-place for the lower house of the German Parliament as well as a spectacular backdrop for festivals and rock concerts. After German reunification in 1990, the Reichstag was the first meeting place of a newly elected Bundestag. The latest rebuilding project, to a design by Sir Norman Foster, transformed the Reichstag into a modern meeting hall in which the first parliamentary meeting took place on 19 April 1999.

Hamburger Bahnhof 0

This museum is situated in a Neo-Renaissance building, formerly the Hamburg Railway station, which dates from 1847. The building stood vacant after World War II but, following refurbishment by Josef Paul Kleihues, it was opened to the public in 1996. The neon installation surrounding the façade is the work of Dan Flavin. The museum houses a magnificent collection of contemporary art, including the work of Erich Marx and, from 2004, the world-

renowned Flick collection. The result is one of the

Jeff and Ilona (1991), Hamburger Bahnhof

> best modern art museums to be found in Europe, which features not only art, but also film, video, music and design.

Museum für Naturkunde @

Natural History Museum

Invalidenstraße 43. Map 1 E2. Tel (030) 20 93 85 91. 1 1 1 2 Innowitzer straße. ■ 147, 240, 245. ♠ 6, 8. ● 9.30am–5pm Tue–Fri, 10am–6pm Sat–Sun. Ø

Occupying a purpose-built Neo-Renaissance building constructed between 1883 and 1889, this is one of the biggest natural history museums in the world, with a collection containing over 60 million exhibits. Although it has undergone several periods of extension and renovation, it has maintained its unique old-fashioned atmosphere.

The highlight of the museum is the world's largest dinosaur skeleton, which is housed in the glass-covered courtyard. The colossal brachiosaurus measures 23 m (75 ft) long and 12 m (39 ft) high. It was discovered in Tanzania, in 1909, by a German fossilhunting expedition.

The adjacent rooms feature collections of colourful shells and butterflies, as well as stuffed birds and mammals. A favourite with children is Bobby the Gorilla, who lived in Berlin Zoo from 1928 until 1935. The museum also boasts an impressive collection of minerals and meteorites.

Brachiosaurus skeleton in the Museum für Naturkunde

FURTHER AFIELD

erlin is a huge city with a unique character that has been shaped by the events in its history. Until 1920 the city consisted only of the districts that now comprise mainly Mitte, Tiergarten, Wedding, Prenzlauer Berg, Friedrichshain and Kreuzberg. At that time the city was surrounded by satellite towns and villages that had been evolving independently over many centuries.

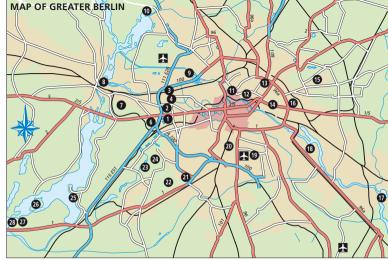

In 1920, as part of great administrative reform, seven towns, 59 parishes and 27 country estates were incorpoh a rated into the city, thus creating an entirely new city covering nearly 900 sq km (350 sq miles), with a population of 3.8 million. This metropolis extended to small towns of medieval origin, such as Spandau, as well as to private manor houses and palaces, towns and smart suburban districts. Although the 20th century has changed the face of many of these places, their unique characters have remained undiminished. Because of this diversity, a trip to Berlin is like exploring many different towns simultaneously.

SIGHTS AT A GLANCE

Museums and Galleries Olympiastadion 1 Neue Synagoge 🔞 Brecht-Haus M Pfaueninsel 26 Rathaus Schöneberg 🗿 Bröhan-Museum 1 Prenzlauer Berg 🚯 Schloss Charlottenburg 5 Brücke-Museum 🚳 Strandbad Wannsee Schloss Tegel 10 Gedenkstätte Berlin-Zitadelle Spandau 🚯 Streets, Squares and Parks Hohenschönhausen 6 Karl-Marx-Allee KFV Schlosspark 3 Museum für Ur- und Treptower Park (B) Central Berlin Frühgeschichte 4 Victoriapark 20 Outskirts of Berlin Sammlung Berggruen 2 Historic Buildings and Stasi-Museum 6 Airport Monuments Places of Interest Motorway Jagdschloss Grunewald 23 Flughafen Tempelhof Messegelände 6 Main road Klein Glienicke 🚳 Köpenick @ Secondary road 0 metres 400 Muzeumszentrum Dahlem 22 Railway line Nikolskoe 🚳 0 yards 400 MAP OF GREATER BERLIN

Pablo Picasso's Woman in a Hat (1939), Sammlung Berggruen

Bröhan-Museum

Schlossstraße 1a. Tel (030) 32 69 06 00. U Richard-Wagner-Platz & Sophie-Charlotte-Platz. ⑤ Westend. 145, 309. ○ 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. ◎ 24 & 31 Dec. [™]3 (free 1st Wed)

Located in a late-Neo-Classical building is this interesting, small museum. The collection was amassed by Karl H Bröhan who, from 1966, collected works of art from the Art Nouveau (Jugendstil or Secessionist) and Art Deco styles. The paintings of artists who were particularly connected with the Berlin Secessionist movement are especially well represented. Alongside the paintings are fine examples of other media and crafts including furniture, ceramics, glassware, silverwork and textiles.

Each of the main halls features an individual artist, often employing an array of media. There is also a display of furniture by Hector Guimard, Eugène Gaillard, Henri van de Velde and Joseph Hoffmann, glasswork by Emile Gallé, and porcelain from the best European manufacturers.

Sammlung Berggruen 2

Schlossstraße 1. Tel (030) 326 95 80.

Richard-Wagner-Platz & Sophie-Charlotte-Platz. (§) Westend. 145, 309.

145, 309.

The apm-8pm Thu.)

Heinz Berggruen assembled this tasteful collection of art dating from the late 19th and first half of the 20th century. Born and educated in Berlin, he emigrated to the US in 1936, spent most of his life in Paris, but finally entrusted his collection "Picasso and his Time" to the city of his birth.

The museum opened in 1996, in what was once the west pavilion of the barracks, using space freed up by moving the Antikensammlung to Museum Island (see p.74). The exhibition halls were modified according to the designs of Hilmer and Sattler, who also designed the layout of the Gemäldegalerie.

The Sammlung Berggruen is well known for its large collection of paintings, drawings and gouaches by Pablo Picasso. In addition to these, the museum displays more than 20 works by Paul Klee and paintings by other major artists – Van Gogh, Braque and Cézanne. The exhibition is supplemented by some excellent sculptures, particularly those of Henri Laurens and Alberto Giacometti.

Schlosspark 3

Palace Park

Luisenplatz (Schloss Charlottenburg).

I Richard-Wagner-Platz & Sophie-Charlotte-Platz (§) Westend. 109, 145, 309. Neuer Pavillon Tel (030) 32 09 14 43. | year-round: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. Mausoleum | Apr-Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. Belvedere Tel (030) 32 09 14 45. | Apr-Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun; Nov-Mar: noon-4pm Tue-Fri, noon-5pm Sat & Sun.

This extensive royal park surrounding Schloss Charlottenburg is a favourite place for Berliners to stroll. The park is largely the result of work carried out after World War II, when 18th-century prints were used to help reconstruct the layout of the original grounds. Just behind Schloss Charlottenburg is a French-style Baroque garden, constructed to a strict geometrical design with a vibrant patchwork of flower beds carefully trimmed shrubs and ornate fountains adorned with replicas of antique sculptures. Beyond the curved carp lake is a less formal English-style landscaped park. the original layout of which was created between 1819 and 1828 under the direction of the renowned royal gardener. Peter Joseph Lenné.

French-style garden in the Schloss Charlottenburg park

Designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel and completed in 1825, the Neo-Classical Neuer Pavillon is a charming twostorey building with rooms ranged around a central staircase. A cast-iron balcony encircles the entire structure

The Mausoleum in which Queen Luise, wife of Friedrich Wilhelm III, was laid to rest, was designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel in the style of a Doric portico-fronted temple. After the death of the king in 1840, the mausoleum was refurbished to create room for his tomb. The tombs of the king's second wife and those of Kaiser Wilhelm I and his wife were added later.

Built as a summerhouse for Friedrich Wilhelm II, with a mixture of Baroque and Neo-Classical elements, the Belvedere now houses the Royal Porcelain Workshop, with pieces ranging from the Rococo period up to late Biedermeier.

Museum für Ur- und Frühgeschichte 4

This Neo-Classical pavilion was designed by Carl Gotthard Langhans and added to the orangery wing of the Schloss Charlottenburg (see pp98–9) between 1787 and 1791. It was originally used as the court theatre but now houses a museum which documents cultures and civilizations from the Stone Age to medieval times. There is a magnificent collection of items excavated at Troy by Heinrich Schliemann, including the "Treasure of Priam".

See pp98-9.

The Funkturm (radio tower) in Berlin's Messegelände

Messegelände 6

Hammarskjöldplatz. (S) Witzleben.
U Kaiserdamm. (204, 149, 204, 219, X34, X49.

The pavilions of the vast exhibition and trade halls south of Hammarskjöldplatz cover more than 160,000 sq m (1,700,000 sq ft). The original exhibition halls were built before World War I, but nothing of these buildings remains. The oldest part is the Funkturm and the pavilions surrounding it. The building at the front (Ehrenhalle) was built in 1936 to a design by Richard Ermisch, and is one of the few surviving buildings in Berlin designed in a Fascist architectural style.

The straight motorway at the rear of the halls is the famous Avus, the first German autobahn, built in 1921. At one point adapted as a carracing track, it now it forms part of the autobahn system.

Olympiastadion 3

Olympischer Platz. 🚨 & 🕕 Olympia-Stadion. Tel (030) 25 00 23 22. Nov-late Mar: 10am-4pm daily; Jate Mar-Aug: 10am-7pm daily; Sep-Oct: 10am-6pm daily. 👢 🌠 www.olympiastadion-berlin.de Olympiastadion, originally known as Reichssportfeld, was built for the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin, It was designed by Werner March in theNazi architectural style and was inspired by the architecture of ancient Rome. To the west of the stadium lie the Maifeld and what is now called the Waldbühne. The former is an enormous assembly ground surrounded by grandstands and fronted by the Glockenturm, a 77 m (250 ft) tower, while the latter is an open-air amphitheatre. A four-year high-tech modernization project on the stadium was completed in 2004. It now features a sweeping, illuminated roof.

Newly modernized and ever impressive Olympiastadion

Schloss Charlottenburg 6

Detail from the main gate

The palace in Charlottenburg was intended as a summer home for Sophie Charlotte, the wife of Elector Friedrich III. Construction began in 1695 to a design by Johann Arnold Nering. Johann Eosander von Göthe enlarged the palace between 1701 and 1713, adding the orangery wing.

undertaken between 1740 and 1746 by Frederick the Great (Friedrich II) who added the new wing.

The palace was restored to its former elegance after World War II and its richly decorated interiors are unequalled in Berlin.

Museum für Vor- und Frühgeschichte

The museum is housed in a pavilion that served formerly as the court theatre, designed by Carl Gotthard Langbans.

Schlosskapelle

Only the pulpit in the court chapel is original. All the remaining furniture and fittings, including the splendid royal box, are reconstructions.

★ Porzellankabinett

This exquisite mirrored gallery bas walls lined from top to bottom with a fine display of Japanese and Chinese porcelain.

Palace Façade

The central section of the palace is the oldest part of the building. It is the work of Johann Arnold Nering.

First floor

GALLERY GUIDE
The ground floor of the guided tour. The upper main building can floor and the Neuer

Flügel can be visited independently.

only be visited by

Main

Monument to the Great Elector

seven other fine canvases by Antoine Watteau for his collection.

Hohenzollern coat of arms above the main gate of Spandau's citadel

Spandau 3

Zitadelle Spandau Am Juliusturm. Tel (030) 354 94 42 00. ☐ Zitadelle. ☐ X33. ☐ 9am-5pm Tue-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun. ☐

Spandau is one of the oldest towns within the area of greater Berlin, and it has managed to retain its own distinctive character. Although the town of Spandau was only granted a charter in 1232, evidence of the earliest settlement here dates back to the 8th century.

The area was spared the worst of the World War II bombing, so there are still some interesting sights to visit. The heart of the town is a network of medieval streets with a picturesque market square and a number of the original timber-framed houses. In the north of Spandau, sections of the town wall dating from the 15th century are still standing.

In the centre of town is the magnificent Gothic St-Nikolai-Kirche, dating from the 15th century. The church holds many valuable ecclesiastical furnishings, such as a splendid Renaissance stone altar from the end of the 16th century, a Baroque pulpit from around 1700 that came from a royal palace in Potsdam, a Gothic baptismal font and many epitaphs.

A castle was first built on the site of the Zitadelle Spandau (citadel) in the 12th century, but today only the 36 m (120 ft) Juliusturm (tower) remains. In 1560 the building of a fort was begun here, to a design by Francesco Chiaramella da Gandino. It took 30 years to complete and most of the work was supervised by architect Rochus Graf von Lynar. Although the citadel had a jail, the town's most infamous resident, Rudolf Hess, was incarcerated a short distance away in a military prison after the 1946 Nuremberg trials. In 1987, when the former deputy leader of the Nazi party died, the prison was torn down.

Gedenkstätte Plötzensee 9

Plötzensee Memorial

Hüttigpfad. Tel (030) 344 32 26. U Jakob-Kaiser-Platz, then 123, 126. Mar-Sep: 9am-5pm;
Nov-Feb 9am-4pm.

A narrow street leads from Saatwinkler Damm to the site where nearly 2,500 people convicted of crimes against

Memorial to concentration camp victims at Gedenkstätte Plötzensee

the Third Reich were hanged. The Gedenkstätte Plötzensee is a simple memorial in a brick hut, which still retains the iron hooks from which the victims were suspended

Claus Schenk von Stauffenberg and the other main figures in the assassination attempt against Hitler on 20 July 1944 were executed in the Bendlerblock (see p88), but the rest of the conspirators were executed here at the Plötzensee prison

Count Helmut James von Moltke, one of the leaders of the German resistance movement, was also killed here. He was responsible for organizing the Kreisauer Kreis – a political movement that gathered and united German opposition to Hitler.

Schloss Tegel

Adelheidallee 19–21. Tel (030) 434 31 56. U Alt Tegel. 124, 123, 133, 222. May–Sep: 11am–noon & 3–4pm Mon. 2 compulsory.

Schloss Tegel is one of the most interesting palace complexes in Berlin. The site was occupied in the 16th century by a manor house. In the second half of the 17th century, this was rebuilt into a hunting lodge for the Elector Friedrich Wilhelm. In 1766 the ownership of the property passed to the Humboldt family and, between 1820 and 1824, Karl Friedrich Schinkel thoroughly rebuilt the palace, giving it its current style.

Decorating the elevations on the top floor of the towers are tiled bas-reliefs designed by Christian Daniel Rauch, depicting the ancient wind gods. Some of Schinkel's marvellous interiors have survived, along with several items from what was once a large collection of sculptures. The palace is still privately owned by descendants of the Humboldt family, but guided tours are offered on Mondays.

It is also worth visiting the park in which the palace stands. On the western limits of the park lies the Humboldt family tomb, also designed by Schinkel. The tomb contains a copy of a splendid sculpture by Bertel Thorwaldsen. The original piece stands inside the Schloss Tegel.

The elegant Neo-Classical façade of Schloss Tegel

Bertolt Brecht's study in his former apartment

Brecht-Weigel-Gedenkstätte 0

Brecht-Weigel Memorial

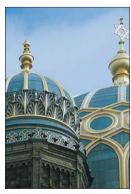

Playwright Bertolt Brecht was associated with Berlin from 1920, but emigrated in 1933. After the war, his left-wing views made him an attractive potential resident of the newly created German socialist state. Lured by the promise of his own theatre, he returned to Berlin in 1948 with his wife, the actress Helene Weigel.

In 1953, Brecht moved into Chausseestraße 125 and lived there until his death in 1956. His wife founded an archive of his work, which is located on the second floor.

Neue Synagoge @

New Synagogue

Construction of the New Synagogue was begun in 1859 by architect Eduard Knoblauch, and completed in 1866. The design was a highly sophisticated response to the asymmetrical shape of the plot of land, with a narrow facade flanked by a pair of towers and crowned with a dome containing a round vestibule. A series of small rooms opened off the vestibule, including an anteroom and two praver rooms - one large and one small. The two towers opened onto a staircase leading to the galleries, while the main hall had space for around 3,000 worshippers. An innovative use of iron in the construction of the roof and galleries put the synagogue at the forefront of 19th-century civil engineering.

The Neue Synagoge with its splendidly reconstructed dome

With its gilded dome, this was Berlin's largest synagogue, until 9 November 1938 when it was partially destroyed during the infamous Kristallnacht. The building was damaged further by Allied bombing in 1943 and was eventually condemned and demolished in 1958 by government authorities Reconstruction began in 1988 and was completed in 1995. Public exhibitions by the Centrum Judaicum are held in the front of the building.

Prenzlauer Berg

Sammlung Industrielle Gestaltung Kulturbrauerei entrance, Knaackstraße 97. Tel (030) 443 17868. ⑤ Senefelderplatz or Eberswalderstraße. ☐ phone ahead to check.

Towards the end of the 19th century this was one of the most impoverished, densely populated districts of Berlin, which became a centre for anti-Communist opposition.

After 1989, however, artists, journalists and students began to gather here from all parts of Berlin, creating a colourful, vibrant community.

Schönhauser Allee is the main thoroughfare of Prenzlauer Berg. A former old brewery was transformed into the "Kulturbrauerei", a centre for cultural events. It also houses a museum – Sammlung Industrielle Gestaltung – with a collection of industrial designs from East Germany.

Heading along Sredzkistraße vou reach Husemannstraße. At No. 12 was the former Museum Berliner Arbeiterleben; its collection of period interiors has been transferred recently to the Märkisches Museum (see p80). Amid the greenery around Belforter Straße is a water tower built in the mid-19th century. Nearby, on Schönhauser Allee, there is an old Jewish cemetery dating from 1827. Among those buried here is the renowned painter Max Liebermann.

Fragment of Socialist Realist decoration from Karl-Marx-Allee

Karl-Marx-Allee @

Map 5 F1. U Strausberger Platz or Weberwiese

The section of Karl-Marx-Allee between Strausberger Platz and Frankfurter Tor is effectively a huge open-air museum of Socialist Realist architecture. The route to the east was named Stalinallee in 1949 and chosen as the site for the showpiece of the new German Democratic Republic. The avenue was widened to 90 m (300 ft) and, in the course of the next ten years, huge residential tower blocks and a row of shops were built. The designers, led by Hermann Henselmann. succeeded in combining three sets of architectural guidelines. They used the style known in the Soviet Union as "pastry chef" according to the precept: "nationalistic in form but socialist in content", and linked the whole work to Berlin's own traditions. Hence there are motifs taken from famous Berlin architects Schinkel and Gontard, as well as from the renowned Meissen porcelain.

The buildings on this street, renamed Karl-Marx-Allee in 1961, are now considered historic monuments.

Gedenkstätte Berlin-Hohenschönhausen 6

Genslerstraße 66. Tel (030) 9860 82 30. ⑤ Landsberger Allee, then M5, M6. 256. 2 11am & 1pm Mon-Fri, 11am, 1pm & 3pm Sat-Sun.

This museum was established in 1995 within the former custody building of the Stasi. The building was part of a huge complex built in 1938. In May 1945, the occupying Russian authorities created a special transit camp here, in which they interned war criminals and anyone under political suspicion. From 1946 the buildings were refashioned into the custody area for the KGB; in 1951, it was given over to the Stasi.

The prisoners' cells and interrogation rooms are on view, two of which have no windows and are lined with rubber. Housed in the cellars was the "submarine" – a series of cells without daylight to which the most "dangerous" suspects were brought.

Forschungsund Gedenkstätte Normannenstraße (Stasi-Museum) 6

Ruschestraße 103 (Haus 1). Tel (030) 553 68 54. Magdalenenstraße. 11am-6pm Mon-Fri, 2-6pm Sat-Sun.

Under the German Democratic Republic, this huge complex of buildings at Ruschestrasse housed the Ministry of the Interior. It was here that the infamous Stasi (GDR secret service) had its headquarters. The Stasi's "achievements" in infiltrating its own community were without equal in the Eastern block.

Office of the infamous Stasi chief Erich Mielke at the Stasi Museum

Since 1990 one of the buildings has housed a museum that displays photographs and documents depicting the activities of the Stasi. Here, you can see a model of the headquarters, and equipment that was used for bugging and spying on citizens suspected of holding unfavourable political views. You can also walk around the office of infamous Stasi chief Erich Mielke.

Köpenick 1

⑤ Spindlersfeld, then ■ 167 or ⑤ Köpenick, then ■ 164, 167. ■ 27, 60, 61, 62, 68. Kunstgewerbemuseum Schloss Köpenick, Schlossinsel. Tel (030) 263 94 88 26. □ 10am-6pm Tue-Fri (from 11 am Sat & Sun).

Köpenick is much older than Berlin. In the 9th century AD, this island contained a fortified settlement known as Kopanica. In about 1240 a castle was built on the island, around which a town began to evolve. Craftsmen settled here and, after 1685, a large colony of Huguenots also settled.

In the 19th century Köpenick recreated itself as an industrial town. Despite wartime devastation it has retained its historic character and, though there are no longer any 13th-century churches, it is worth strolling around the old town. By the old market square and in the neighbouring streets, modest houses have survived that recall the 18th century, alongside buildings from the end of the 19th century.

At Alt Köpenick No. 21 is a vast brick town hall built in the style of the Brandenburg Neo-Renaissance. In 1906, a famous swindle took place here and the event became the inspiration for a popular comedy by Carl Zuckmayer, The Captain from Köpenick.

Köpenick's greatest attraction is a threestorey Baroque palace, built between 1677 and

A reconstructed drawing room from 1548 in the Kunstgewerbemuseum throne Friedrich (later King Friedrich I), to a design by the Dutch architect Rutger van Langfield. In 2003, the Kunstgewerbemuseum (see p88) opened a suite of Renaissance and Baroque

1681 for the heir to the

(see p88) opened a suite of Renaissance and Baroque rooms to the public in the Köpenick Palace.

Gigantic wreath commemorating the Red Army in Treptower Park

Treptower Park ®

Archenhold-Sternwarte, Alt-Treptow.

③ Treptower Park. ■ 166, 265, 365. Archenhold Sternwarte Tel (030) 534 80 80. ☑ compulsory: Sternwarte 8pm Thu, 3pm Sat-Sun; astronomical museum 2pm-4:30pm Wed-Sun; astronomical observations Oct-Mar: 8pm Fri; sun observations Jul-Aug; 3pm Wed.

The vast park in Treptow was laid out in the 1860s on the initiative and design of Johann Gustav Meyer. In 1919 it was where revolutionaries Karl Liebknecht, Wilhelm Pieck and Rosa Luxemburg assembled 150,000 striking workers.

The park is best known for the colossal monument to the Red Army. Built between 1946 and 1949, it stands on the grave of 5,000 Soviet soldiers killed in the battle for Berlin in 1945. The gateway, which leads to the mausoleum, is marked by a vast granite sculpture of a grieving Russian Motherland surrounded by statues of Red Army soldiers.

In the farthest section of the park is the astronomical observatory, Archenhold Sternwarte, built for a decorative arts exhibition in 1896. Given a permanent site in 1909, the observatory was used by Albert Einstein for a lecture on the Theory of Relativity in 1915. It is also home to the longest reflecting telescope in the world (21 m or 70 ft), and a small planetarium.

Beyond Treptower Park lies another park, Plänterwald.

Flughafen Tempelhof **©

Platz der Luftbrücke. U Platz der Luftbrücke. 🚃 104, 184.

Situated beyond Kreuzberg, the Tempelhof was once Germany's largest airport. Built in 1923, the structure is typical of Third Reich architecture. The additions to the original structure were completed in 1939.

In 1951, a monument was added in front of the airport. Designed by Edward Ludwig, it commemorates the airlifts of the Berlin Blockade. The names of those who lost their lives during the Blockade appear on the plinth.

Viktoriapark 🚳

U Platz der Luftbrücke.

This rambling park, with several artificial waterfalls short trails and a small hill. was designed by Hermann Mächtig and built between 1884 and 1894. The Neo-Gothic Memorial to the Wars of Liberation at the summit of the hill is the work of Karl Friedrich Schinkel and was constructed between 1817 and 1821. The monument commemorates the Prussian victory against Napoleon's army in the Wars of Liberation. The monument's cast-iron tower is well ornamented.

In the niches of the lower section are 12 allegorical figures by Christian Daniel Rauch, Friedrich Tieck and Ludwig Wichmann. Each figure symbolizes a battle and is linked to a historic figure – either a military leader or a member of the royal family.

Rathaus Schöneberg 2

Schöneberg Town Hall

John-F-Kennedy-Platz.

Transparent Communication

Transp

The Schöneberg town hall is a gigantic building with an imposing tower, which was built between 1911 and 1914. From 1948 to 1990 it was used as the main town hall of West Berlin, and it was outside here, on 26 June 1963, that US President John F Kennedy gave his famous speech. More than 300,000 Berliners assembled to hear the young president say "Ich bin ein Berliner" - "I am a Berliner", intended as an expression of solidarity from the democratic world to a city defending its right to freedom.

While Kennedy's meaning was undoubtedly clear, pedants were quick to point out that what he actually said was "I am a small doughnut".

Japanese woodcut from the Museumszentrum Dahlem 2

Lansstraße 8, Dahlem. Tel (830) 14
38. Dahlem Dorf. X111, X83.
Museum für Indische Kunst.
Museum für Ostasiatische Kunst, Ethnologisches Museum (formerly Museum für Völkerkunde),
Museum für Kunst Afrikas &
Nordamerika Ausstellung

10am-6pm Tue-Fri, 11am-6pm
Sat & Sun.

Dahlem's first museums were built between 1914 and 1923 but the district was confirmed as a major cultural and education centre after World War II with the establishment of the Freie Universität and completion of the museum complex. With many of Berlin's collections fragmented, a miscellany of art and artifacts was put on display here. In the 1960s the museums were extended and the new Museumszentrum was created to rival East Berlin's Museum Island.

German reunification in 1990 meant that the collections could be reunited and reorganized. Paintings were moved to the Kulturforum (see pp84–5), and sculptures to the Bodemuseum (see p78).

Five museums are now housed at Dahlem: the Ethnologisches Museum (Museum of Mankind); the Museum für Indische Kunst (Museum of Indian Art); the Museum für Ostasiatische Kunst (Museum of Far Eastern Art); the Museum für Kunst Afrikas (Museum for African Art) and the Nordamerika Ausstellung (Exhibition of Native North American Cultures).

Highlights include bronzes from Benin at the Museum of African Art, gold Inca jewellery at the Museum of Mankind, and Japanese woodcuts from Chinese Turkestan at the Museum of Far Eastern Art. The Exhibition of Native North American Cultures, opened in 1999, includes a collection of 600 ceremonial objects.

Jagdschloss Grunewald 3

Am Grunewaldsee 29. Tel (030) 813 35 97. mid-May-mid-Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun; mid-Oct-mid-May: 11am, 1pm, 3pm Sun (tours only).

Jagdschloss Grunewald is one of the oldest surviving civic buildings in Berlin. Built for the Elector Joachim II in 1542, it was rebuilt around 1700 in a Baroque style.

In this small palace on the edge of the Grunewaldsee is Berlin's only surviving Renaissance hall, which currently houses a collection of paintings that includes canvases by Rubens and van Dyck, among others.

In the east wing is the small Waldmuseum, which has illustrations depicting forest life and the history of forestry. Opposite the Jagdschloss, a hunting museum (Jagdmuseum) houses a collection of historic weapons and equipment.

Brücke-Museum 2

Bussardsteig 9, Dahlem. Tel (030) 831 20 29. . 115. 11am–5pm Wed–Mon.

This elegant Functionalist building hosts a collection of German Expressionist painting linked to the Die Brücke group. It is based on almost 80 works by Schmidt-Rottluff bequeathed to the town of Dahlem in 1964. In addition. to other works of art contemporary to Die Brücke. there are paintings from the later creative periods of these artists, as well as works of other closely associated artists. Nearby lie the foundation's headquarters, established in the former studio of the sculptor Bernhard Heliger.

Strandbad Wannsee 2

Wannseebadweg. (S) Nikolassee.

The vast lake Wannsee, on the edge of Grunewald, is a popular destination for Berliners seeking recreation. The most developed part is the southeastern corner where there are vachting marinas and harbours. Further north is one of the largest inland beaches in Europe, Strandbad Wannsee, which was developed between 1929 and 1930 by the construction of shops. cafés and changing rooms on man-made terraces. It is also pleasant to walk around Schwanenwerder island, with its many elegant villas.

Boarding point for lake cruises on the Wannsee

The Schloss Pfaueninsel designed

Pfaueninsel @

Pfaueninsel. Tel (030) 805 86 830.

③ Wannsee, then take 218.

Schloss Pfaueninsel. Apr-Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun.

This picturesque island, named for the peacocks that inhabit it, is now a nature reserve, reached by ferry across the Havel river. It was laid out in 1795 according to a design by Johann August Eyserbeck. Its final form, which you see today, is the work of the landscape architect Peter Joseph Lenné.

One of the most interesting sights on the island is the small romantic palace of Schloss Pfaueninsel. Dating from 1794, it was designed by Johann Gottlieb Brendel for Friedrich Wilhelm II and his mistress Wilhelmine Encke (the future Countess Lichtenau). The palace was built of wood, with a façade fashioned in the form of a ruined medieval castle. The cast-iron bridge that links the towers was built in 1807. The palace is open to the public in the summer months, when you can see the 18th- and 19th-century furnishings.

Other sights worth visiting include James's Well, which was built to resemble an ancient ruin. Towards the northeast corner of the island is the Luisentempel in the form of a Greek temple. Its sandstone portico was relocated to the island from the mausoleum in Schlosspark Charlottenburg (see pp98–9) in 1829. Nearby is a stone commemorating Johannes Kunckel, an alchemist who lived on Pfaueninsel in the 17th century. During his quest to discover how to make gold, he discovered a method of producing ruby-coloured glass. Near the Aviary, home to multicoloured parrots and pheasants, is a tall fountain that was designed by Martin Friedrich Rabe in 1824.

Nikolskoe @

Nikolskoer Weg. (S) Wannsee, then take A16 or 316.

Across the river from Pfaueninsel (Peacock Island) is Nikolskoe. Here you'll find the Blockhaus Nikolskoe, a Russian-style dacha (country house) that was built in 1819 for the future Tsar Nicholas I and his wife, the daughter of King Friedrich Wilhelm III.

The house was built by the German military architect Captain Snethlage, who was responsible for the Alexandrowka estate in Potsdam (see p134). Following a fire in 1985, the dacha was reconstructed. It currently houses a restaurant.

Close by is the church of St Peter and Paul, which was built between 1834 and 1837, to a design by Friedrich August Stüler. The body of the church is completed by a tower crowned by an onion-shaped dome, reflecting the style of Russian Orthodox sacral architecture.

Klein Glienicke @

316. Tel (030) 805 30 41. mid-May-mid-Oct: 10am-5pm Sat-Sun.

The palace in the palace-park of Klein Glienicke was built in 1825 according to a design by Karl Friedrich Schinkel for Prince Karl of Prussia. The charming parkin which it is located was created by Peter Joseph Lenné. Beyond the Neo-Classical palace extends an irregular cluster of buildings, grouped around a courtvard, including a pergola and staff cottages. Passing by the palace, you approach the Coach House, also designed by Schinkel and now housing a restaurant. Nearby are an orangery and greenhouses designed by Ludwig Persius Also by Persius is the Klosterhof, a mock monastery with pavilions, on whose walls are many Byzantine and Romanesque architectural elements from Italy. Towards the lake is the

Guests on the terrace of the Blockhaus Nikolskoe in summer

Grosse Neugierde, a circular pavilion based on the Athenian monument to Lysikrates from the 4th century BC. From here there are beautiful views across the Havel river and Glienicker Brücke (known under the East German regime as the bridge of unity). The border with West Berlin ran across this bridge where, during the Cold War, the exchange of spies was conducted.

Karl Friedrich Schinkel's Neo-Classical Schloss Klein Glienicke

106 BERLIN

SHOPPING IN BERLIN

ith a shopping centre in every district, each selling a variety of merchandise, Berlin is a place where almost anything can be bought, so long as you know where to shop. The most popular areas are Kurfürstendamm and Friedrichstrasse, but the smaller shops in Wedding, Friedrichshain, Schöneberg and the Tiergarten are also worth a visit. Small boutiques selling flamboyant Berlinstyle clothes crop up in unexpected courtyards, while the top fashion houses offer the latest in European elegance. Early on Saturday morning is often the best time to visit the city's various markets, the most popular of which – with their colourful stalls full of hats, bags and belts – can be found on Museum Island and at the Tiergarten. The Galeries Lafayette, KaDeWe and any of the city's numerous bookshops all make ideal venues for a pleasant afternoon's window shopping.

A shop-floor display in the lobby of

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

The majority of shops are open Monday to Friday from 10am to 8pm (10am to 4pm on Saturday). At Christmas, shops stay open until 8pm on Saturdays and the Berliner Verkehrs-Betriebe, or BVG. runs a useful service where you can leave your purchases on a special bus while you continue shopping. Some smaller stores do not accept credit cards, so be sure to have some cash, and if Berlin's options seem overwhelming, you can employ someone as a Shopping Guide.

DEPARTMENT STORES AND SHOPPING CENTRES

Kaufhaus Des Westens, better known as KaDeWe at Wittenbergplatz, is undoubtedly the biggest and the best department store in Berlin, while Galeries Lafayette on Friedrichstrasse is nothing less than a slice of Paris placed in the heart of Berlin. Perfumes, domestic accessories and clothing attract an enormous clientele.

Another very popular store is Wertheim on the Ku'damm. Although its range of goods is not as broad as the range at Galeries Lafayette, there is still an enormous choice and the top-floor restaurant offers excellent views over the city.

One of the newest shopping centres is the Potsdamer Platz Arkaden, which is a very popular meeting place. On a slightly smaller scale is Das Schloss in Steglitz, and the Gesundbrunnencenter is the biggest shopping passage in Berlin with stalls full of bargains. Europa-Center is the most visually stunning with its beautiful sculpted fountains.

FASHION

The Ku'damm and Friedrichstrasse areas play host to all the best known high street names and department stores, as well as most of the top fashion houses in Berlin Escada and MaxMara are two of the best known of the German designers, but Berlin also has a wealth of young designers and their lines are mainly to be seen in the northern part of the Mitte area. NIX. for example, offers timeless clothes made from heavy dark fabrics while Department Store 206 sells everything from evening dresses to casual wear and accessories. It offers only top international designer wear and many unique pieces. For men's fashions, once again the Ku'damm area is the

Lafayette on Friedrichstrasse is | The spacious Wertheim department store on Kurfürstendamm

Store front of German fashion house Escada place to look. Patrick Hellmann is certainly worth a visit with its wide choice of the best designer labels around.

ANTIQUES

The antiques trade in Berlin is booming, and there are many markets and galleries opening all the time. Berlin's most prestigious auction house is Gerda Bassenge while ART 1900 and Galeries Splinter offer endless trinkets and knickknacks from various periods. Many Berliners spend their Saturday and Sunday mornings at flea markets browsing the stalls. In particular, the Antik & Trödelmarkt am Ostbahnhof is considered one of the best places to pick up bargains.

FOOD PRODUCTS

All manner of foods and wine are available in Berlin, and they make excellent gifts and souvenirs. Kaffee und Kuchen (coffee and cakes) is a strong German tradition, so why not head to Buchwald and purchase one of their delicious cakes to take home. You will also find that bakeries all over the city sell traditional Berliners (doughnuts) along with a good value range of delicious pastries and breads.

Wine-fans will love
Viniculture, which offers one of the best selections of German wine around or, if you've become a fan of the many local meats, pick from a bewildering range of sausages at Fleischerei Bachhuber.

Berlin also plays host to a number of food markets. The Winterfeldmarkt is probably the most popular, but the Wochenmarkt on Wittenbergplatz also has a particularly loyal following.

DIRFCTORY

SEASONAL SALES

Twice a year (January and July) all the shops in Berlin empty their shelves in the end of season Schlussverkauf. Goods bought in a sale are officially non-returnable, though sometimes you may find you are able to negotiate with the shop assistant.

A number of shops sell "second season" items – these are new, but they were stocked for the previous season and as such are generously reduced in price and make great bargain buys.

The central "glass cone" of the Galeries Lafayette department store

PRACTICAL Gesundbrunnen-

INFORMATION Berliner VerkehrsBetriebe

Hardenbergplatz. Tel 194 49. www.bvg.de

Shopping Guide

Claudia Barthel. Tel (030) 28 59 86 22.

DEPARTMENT STORES AND SHOPPING CENTRES

Das Schloss Schlossstraße 34.

Map 2 E3.

Europa-Center

Breitscheidsplatz Map 2 B4. www.europacenter-berlin.de

Galeries Lafayette Französische Straße 23.

Französische Straße Map 4 C2. Tel (030) 20 94 80.

Gesund center

Gesundbrunnen S-Bahn.

KaDeWe

Tauentzienstraße 21. Map 2 C5. Tel (030) 21 21 00. www.kadewe-

Potsdamer Platz Arkaden

Debis Gelände.

Map 4 A3. www.
potsdamerplatz.net/arkaden

Wertheim

Kurfürstendamm 231. Map 2 B4. Tel (030) 80 00 30. www.karstadt.de

FASHION

Department Store 206

Friedrichstr. 71. Map 4 C2. Tel (030) 20 94 62 40.

Escada

Friedrichstr. 176–179. Map 4 C2. Tel (030) 238 64 04.

MaxMara

Kurfürstendamm 178. Map 2 B4. Tel (030) 885 25 45.

NIX

Oranienburger Str. 32. Map 5 D1. Tel (030) 31 50 98 82.

Patrick Hellmann Fasanenstr. 26. Map 2 A5.

Fasanenstr. 26. Map 2 A5 Tel (030) 882 42 01.

ANTIQUES

Antik & Trödelmarkt am Ostbahnhof

Erich-Steinfurth-Straße.

9am–3pm Sat,

10am–5pm Sun.

ART 1900

Kurfürstendamm 53. Map 2 A5. Tel (030) 881 56 27.

Galeries Splinter Sophienstraße 20–21.

Tel 28 59 87 37. Mon

Gerde Bassenge

Erdener Straße 5a. Tel (030) 89 38 02 90.

9am–6pm Mon–Fri.

FOOD PRODUCTS

Buchwald

Bartningallee 29. Map 3 D2.

. Tel (030) 391 59 31.

Fleischerei Bachhuber

Güntzelstraße 47. Tel (030) 873 21 15.

Viniculture

Grolmanstraße 44–45. Tel (030) 883 81 74.

Winterfeldmarkt

Wittenbergplatz.

8am-noon Wed & Sat.

Wochenmarkt

Wittenbergplatz.

8am-2pm Tue & Fri.

108 BERLIN

ENTERTAINMENT IN BERLIN

ith so much on offer, from classical drama and cabaret to variety theatre and an eclectic nightclub scene, it is possible to indulge just about any taste in Berlin. During the summer months many bars and restaurants set up outdoor tables and the areas around Unter den Linden, the Kurfürstendamm, Kreuzberg and Prenzlauer Berg in particular, seem to turn into one large social arena. The city really comes into its own at night, when its clubs, allnight cafés and cocktail bars give you the chance to dance till dawn. The city has many night-life centres, each with a slightly different character. Prenzlauer Berg is the best choice for mainstream bars, cafés and clubs, while Friedrichshain is more exclusive, and Kreuzberg has a vibrant gay scene. The Mitte district in the Eastern Centre offers a true mixture with its opera house and classical theatre surrounded by lively and inexpensive bars. On a Sunday, a quiet trip down the river or along the canals offers a pleasant way to unwind.

The Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

There are so many things going on in Berlin that it can be difficult to find what you are looking for. Listings magazines like Tip or Zitty are invaluable aids and offer the widest range of suggestions. Information on festivals, sports events, cinema programmes, theatre schedules, cabarets and concerts can be found on the following websites: www.berlinonline.de and www.berlin.de.

For visitors who have just arrived in town, however, and have not made it yet to an Internet café or a kiosk, the chances are the local bar or your hotel foyer has leaflets on the wall to point you in the right direction. There are also lots of posters around town telling you what is on offer. In addition, the free magazine Flyer is full of news about nightclubs and discos, and it should be available in most restaurants.

Tickets for events should be bought in advance, though last-minute tickets are available from HekticketTheaterkassen. The disabled, pensioners and students with the appropriate ID are often entitled to a discount. All major venues will provide good wheelchair access.

CLASSICAL MUSIC

The Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra is one of the world's finest orchestras and it performs regularly at the beautiful Philharmonie, with its awe-inspiring architecture and fantastic acoustics. Chamber orchestras perform in the smaller Kammermusiksaal attached to the bigger hall. Konzerthaus Berlin, formally known as the Schauspielhaus. is another important venue for classical music having been magnificently restored after World War II.

Opera lovers will find themselves well catered for in Berlin as there are three major opera houses. The Staatsoper Unter den Linden's impressive, yet conservative repertoire includes traditional German classics and Italian opera, while the Komische Oper is known for its broad range of lighter opera and, because its operas frequently have a long run, there are often last-minute tickets available. The Deutsche Oper on Bismarckstrasse is housed in a somewhat plainer building than the other opera venues, but it boasts performances ranging from Mozart to Wagner.

Prokofiev's The Love of Three Oranges staged at the Komische Oper

Traditional jazz music at Berlin's Jazzfest

MUSIC FESTIVALS

The Berliner Festwochen takes place throughout the month of September and top orchestras and performers come from all over the world to put on classical music concerts around the city.

Also in September, pop fans will love Popkomm, one of Europe's biggest music festivals, which hosts a mix of talks, parties and concerts in venues throughout Berlin.

Jazzfest Berlin takes place in July and tends to attract lovers of more traditional styles of jazz, but it also focuses on the more experimental and innovative styles of the genre in its accompanying Total Music Meeting.

ROCK, POP & JAZZ

Whether it is a major event by a world-famous band or a small-scale evening of jazz improvisation, you need not look too far to find what you want. The biggest concerts tend to take place in sports halls and stadiums, like the Max-Schmeling-Halle and the Olympiastadion (see p97), whilst smaller venues like Café Swing and SO 36 play host to the best new talent in popular music. In addition, a lot of the action tends to take place in the city's many bars, discos and clubs or, if you are looking for particularly atmospheric concerts, why not try those put on at the Passionskirche, a converted church in Kreuzberg.

Jazz clubs abound in Berlin, as the style remains very popular amongst locals. The A-Trane and b-flat are classical jazz bars where you can listen to small bands just about every night of the week, and Flöz is famous for its excellent acoustics and atmosphere.

Apart from the typical classical jazz clubs, jazz can also be heard in many of the city's smaller bars, like Schlot on Kastanienallee or Harlem in Prenzlauer Berg. If it is a mixture of soul, rap and jazz you want to listen to, then head for the Junction Bar in Kreuzberg. The pipapo, near Nollendorfplatz, is a worthy choice on a Sunday and the Badenscher Hof Jazzclub is always a good bet.

One of the many concerts at Berlin's annual Popkomm festival

WORLD MUSIC

With an increasingly multinational population, Berlin is home to a wide variety of world music. The Haus der Kulturen der Welt organizes all kinds of concerts at its own Café Global, and is one of the best Saturday evening music venues in Berlin.

Latin American discos are becoming ever more popular and Havanna in Schöneberg is one of the city's best.

Irish music is also well represented in Berlin's pubs – Wild at Heart is very popular.

Rosa's Dance Co. at the "Tanz" dance festival, organized by the Theater am Halleschen Ufer

CLASSICAL AND MODERN DANCE

There are three major ballet groups in Berlin and they work within Berlin's opera houses. The Komische Oper has a modern repertoire, whilst the Staatsoper Unter den Linden focuses on more classical work.

The Hebbel-Theater stages avant-garde pieces and welcomes troupes from all over the world. Together with Theater am Halleschen Ufer, it organizes the dance festival "Tanz" every August. The seating at both theatres is rather limited, so you need to book well in advance.

Tanzfabrik, based on Möckernstrasse in Kreuzberg, is an excellent stage for all kinds of modern dance and it also organizes dance workshops as well as popular bodywork courses. 110 BERLIN

NIGHTLIFE

Among its many artistic claims, Berlin is also the techno capital of Europe, with over a million devotees celebrating the genre at a number of annual festivals.

One of the best clubs for techno lovers is Tresor, situated in a former power plant. The best DJs in town can be heard here. Columbia Club is also guaranteed to provide what you are after, and so too is the special techno-room known as Subground, which is located in the subways of Pfefferbank. Techno is the dominant theme of the menu here, but Subground also caters for music lovers of all kinds

If it is a good old-fashioned disco you are looking for, with happy tunes and a little less techno, the Far Out is the place to go.

There is also a new generation of clubs offering a sleek combination of restaurant, lounge, dance floor and event centre. Each night there is a different, often themed, party, or simply a relaxed lounge occasion. The top two locations are 40seconds, set in an old highrise with a great view of the night-lit city, and the exclusive Spindler + Klatt. Other clubs. such as Felix and Annabelles. welcome a well-to-do clientele to contemporary pop music. By contrast. White Trash and Café Moskau attract a more alternative, hip and voung urban crowd.

During the summer, you can dance to pop music in the open air at Golgatha in Kreuzberg's Viktoriapark.

Delicious Doughnuts is one of the best places in town for ambient, house and acid-jazz, while lovers of soul and reggae should head for the lively Lumumba Tanzcafé. For anyone looking for something a little more intimate, the romantic atmosphere of Sophienclub might be worth investigating.

The city also has a vibrant gay and lesbian scene.

SchwuZ, Ostgut and
Ackerkeller are among the best gay venues in Berlin.

The reconstructed medieval settlement at the Museumdorf Düppel

SPECTATOR SPORTS

As a rule, Berlin's sports teams tend to be among the country's best, and rank highly in each of their respective leagues. Hertha BSC's football matches take place in the Olympiastadion and Alba Berlin's basketball games are on at the Max-Schmeling-Halle. For international events it is usually best to book in advance.

Lovers of horse racing have two tracks to choose from in Berlin. Trabrennbahn in Mariendorf is open all year and the races held here are strictly commercial. Galopprennbahn Hoppegarten, on the other hand, has a much more friendly, approachable feel.

CHILDREN'S ACTIVITIES

People of all ages are catered for in Berlin, and children are no exception. Berlin Tourismus Marketing GmbH can offer details of special children's discounts for many different activities. The Zoologischer Garten is verv popular, with its extensive parkland and many animal enclosures. Small children will love the Kinderhauernhof Görlitzer Bauernhof which has a collection of domestic animals. In addition, Berlin's museums are well set up for children The Deutsches Technikmuseum (see t)81) allows children to take part in all kinds of experiments. while the Ethnologisches Museum prepares special exhibitions for children A visit to the Museumsdorf Düppel is an excellent way to show a child life in a medieval village and the Puppentheatermuseum offers a chance for children to take part in minor performances.

Flamingos in the beautiful Zoologischer Garten

Another option is one of the city's many lively circuses, such as Circus Cabuwazi, or, if it is sport that your child enjoys, it is possible to swim in many rivers, lakes and, of course, swimming pools (the Berliner Bäderbetriebe hotline offers useful information). Also, each district has its own iceskating rink, but the Fisstadion Berlin Wilmersdorf is by far the best, whilst FEZ Wuhlheide offers a special daily programme for kids.

The Story of Berlin is a fun way to experience the history of Berlin in a multimedia exhibit, and the Berliner Gruselkabinett (Room of Fear) is suitably scary.

The Zeiss-Planetarium or the Planetarium am Insulaner offer kids the opportunity to explore the universe in a fun, yet educational, way.

DIRECTORY

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

Hekticket Theaterkassen

Hardenbergstraße 29d. Map 2 R4 Tel 230 99 30.

CLASSICAL MUSIC

Deutsche Oper

Bismarckstraße 34–37. Tel 34 10 249.

Philharmonie & Kammermusiksaal

Herbert-von-Karajan-Str. 1. Man 3 F3 Tel 25 85 23 74

Komische Oper

Behrenstraße 55-57. Map 1 F4. Tel 47 99 74 00

Konzerthaus Berlin

Gendarmenmarkt 2

Map 4 C2.

Tel 203 09 21 01/02.

Staatsoper Unter den Linden

Unter den Linden 7. Map 4 C2. Tel 20 35 45 55

MUSIC FESTIVALS

Berliner Festwochen

Schaperstraße 4. Map 2 B5. Tel 25 48 91 00

Jazzfest Berlin

Schaperstraße 24. Tel 25 48 90.

Popkomm

Messe Berlin. Tel 303 830 09

ROCK, POP & JAZZ

∆-trane

Pestalozzistraße 105. Map 2 A3 Tel 313 25 50.

h-flat

Rosenthaler Straße 13. Map 5 D4.

Tel 28 38 68 35. Badenscher Hof

Jazzeluh Badensche Straße 29. Tel 861 00 80.

Nassauische Straße 37. Tel 861 10 00.

Harlem

Rodeherastraße 37 Tel 444 56 54

Junction Bar

Gniesenaustraße 18. Tel 694 66 02

Passionskirche

Marheineckenlatz Tel 69 40 12 41

Ouasimodo

Kanststr. 12a. Map 2 B4. Tel 312 80 86

Schlot

Chausseestraße 18 Tal 118 21 60

SO 36

Oranienstraße 190. Tal 61 40 12 06

WORLD MUSIC

Café Global

John-Foster-Dulles-Allee 10 Map 3 F2. Tel 39 78 71 75.

Havanna

Hauptstraße 30. Tel 70 50 96 27.

Tempodrom

Möckernstr. 10. Map 4 B4.

Tel 695 33 885

Wild at Heart Wiener Stra. 20, Kreuzberg. Tel 611 92 31.

CLASSICAL AND MODERN DANCE

Hebbel-Theater

Stresemannstraße 29. Tel 25 90 04 27

Tanzfabrik

Möckernstraße 68

Tel 786 58 61.

Theater am

Hallenschen Ufer Hallesches Ufer 32.

Tel 251 09 41.

NIGHTLIFE

Ackerkeller

Ackerstraße 12. Mitte.

Annabelles

Mecklenburgische Straße 22a. Tel 824 69 84.

Café Moskau

Karl-Marx-Allee. Tel 24 63 16 26

Columbia Club

Columbiadamm 9-11. Kreuzberg.

Delicious Doughnuts

Rosenthaler Straße 9. Map 5 D1 Tel 28 09 92 74.

Far Out

Kurfürstendamm 156 Map 2 A5. Tel 32 00 07 23

Behrenstr. 72. Map 4 A2. Tel 20 62 86

40seconds

Potsdamer Str. 58 Tel 89 06 42 41.

Golgatha

Dudenstraße 48–64 Tel 785 24 53

Lumumba Tanzcafé

Steinstraße 12. Tel 28 38 54 65.

Ostaut Mühlenstraße 26–30.

Friedrichshain

Pfefferbank

Schönhauser Allee 176. Tel 20 91 49 90.

Schwu 7

Mehrinadamm 61 Tel 693 70 25

Sophienclub

Sonhienstraße 6 Tel 282 45 52.

Spindler + Klatt

Köpenicker Str. 16–17. Map 5 F3. Tel 69 56 67 75.

Tresor

Köpenicker Str. 59–73. Tel 24 72 49 82.

White Trash

Schönhauser Allee 167. Tel 50 34 86 68.

SPECTATOR SPORTS

Galopprennbahn Hoppegarten

Goetheallee 1. Tel (03342) 389 30.

Max-Schmeling-Halle

Am Falkplatz. Tel 44 30 44 30.

Olympiastadion

Olympischer Platz. Tel 25 00 23 22.

Trabrennbahn

Mariendorfer Damm 222. Tempelhof. Tel 740 12 12.

CHILDREN'S ACTIVITIES

Berlin Tourismus Marketing GmbH Δm Karlshad 11

Tel 25 00 25 www.btm.de

Rarlinar Bäderbetriebe

Tel (01803) 10 20 20. Rerliner

Grusselkabinett

Schöneberger Straße 23a. Tel 26 55 55 46.

Circus Cabuwazi Four locations

Tel (030) 611 92 75 www cabuwazi de

Deutsches Technikmuseum

Trebbiner Straße 9. Tel 90 25 40.

Eisstadion Berlin Wilmersdorf

Fritz-Wildung-Straße 9. Tel 824 10 12

Ethnologisches Museum

Lansstraße 8 Tel 20 90 55 66

FF7 Wuhlheide

An der Wuhlheide 197. Tel 53 07 15 04.

Kinderbauernhof Görlitzer Bauernhof

Wiener Straße 59b. Tel 611 74 24

Museumsdorf Düppel

Clauertstraße 11 Tel 802 66 71.

Planetarium am

Inculanor Munsterdamm 90. Tel 790 09 30.

Puppentheatermuseum

Karl-Marx-Straße 135. Tel 687 81 32.

The Story of Berlin

Kurfürstendamm 207-208. Tel 88 72 01 00

Zeiss-Planetarium

Prenzlauer Allee 80. Tel 42 18 45 12.

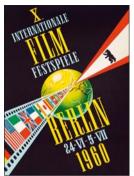

Zoologischer Garten

Hardenbergplatz 9, Charlottenburg. Tel 25 40 10.

112 BERLIN

Theatre and Cinema

Berlin can lay many claims to being a centre for artistic greatness, but possibly its most valid claims lie in the areas of theatre and cinema. Berlin has been the capital of German cinema since brothers Emil and Max Skladanowsky showed a series of short films to a spellbound German public in 1896. By 1918 there were already some 251 cinemas in Berlin and by 1925, the number of people involved in the film industry was nearly 50,000. At the same time, Berlin was fast becoming a landmark in European theatre thanks mainly to Reinhardt and Brecht. During the years of Nazi rule, many theatre people were killed or forced to emigrate as the stage became a propaganda machine, but after World War II a revival spread through Berlin's theatres. The popularity of theatre and cinema continues today, perpetuated by the annual Film Festival

A Berlin International Film Festival poster from 1960

TICKET AND PRICE INFORMATION

Tickets for both cinema and theatre are usually reasonably priced in Berlin, but there are a few tips which are useful to remember if you are planning to visit either.

Students and senior citizens do not always receive a discount at the cinema, but often Tuesday or Wednesday is declared Cinema Day, when some tickets are £1–2 cheaper. It is worth knowing that most ticket offices do not accept credit cards, so take cash.

For theatres, it is usually possible to pre-book tickets two weeks before a performance. You can buy them directly from the box office of the theatre or by telephone. Independent ticket vendors usually charge a commission of between 15 and 22 per cent.

Hekticket Theaterkassen specializes in last-minute tickets, so check with them on the day for special deals.

MAJOR STAGES

The Deutsches Theater and its small hall Kammerspiele on Schumannstrasse are top-class theatres and offer a varied repertoire of productions. At Volksbühne you can see interesting performances of classical plays in modern settings and new plays by young authors.

The Berliner Ensemble (or BE for short) was once managed by Bertolt Brecht and Heiner Müller. The spectacles created by these two are still performed today.

Other major venues include the Maxim Gorki Theater, the Renaissance-Theater and the Schaubühne.

ALTERNATIVE THEATRE

There are a number of alternative theatres in Berlin. Theater am Halleschen Ufer is devoted to avant-garde theatre and considered the city's best alternative stage. The smaller boulevard theatres like Theater am Kurfürstendamm or Komödie am Kurfürstendamm offer different, and somewhat lighter programmes.

Other notable venues include Bat-Studiotheater and the Kleines Theater.

There are three main musical

MUSICALS, REVIEWS AND CABARETS

theatres in Berlin, in addition to the many small venues which fit musicals into their more general repertoire. Friedrichstadtpalast and Admiralspalast, in the eastern part of the city, stage many of the new major shows while the Theater des Westens in Charlottenburg tends to be more traditional. In addition to these is the Theater am Potsdamer Platz, a modern theatre which was established in the newly built Potsdamer Platz in 1999 and shows recent musical hits

As for cabaret, there are probably as many acts in Berlin today as there were in the 1920s. Distel, in Friedrichstrasse, continues its success from GDR times, and Stachelschweine celebrates its popularity in western Berlin.

Other great venues for lively musicals, reviews and cabarets include Bar jeder Vernunft, Chamäleon Variété, Scheinbar, Wintergarten Variété and Wühlmäuse.

BIG SCREENS AND BIG FILMS

After the fall of the Berlin Wall, many new multiplex cinemas were built, the biggest being the CinemaxX Potsdamer Platz and the Cinestar Sony Center.

The retro facade of Friedrichstadtpalast in the east of Berlin

Mainstream Anglo-American movies tend to be dubbed rather than subtitled

For a breath-taking cinematic experience, try the IMAX on Potsdamer Platz - it is Germany's biggest screen.

STUDIO CINEMA

There are plenty of small studio cinemas scattered across town which show a number of new independent films Hackesche Höfe Kino or Central, situated near Hackescher Markt, offer a pleasant break from city life and have bars of their own

The Arsenal on Potsdamer Platz shows German film classics while, if you are interested in original language films Berlin has its fair share of options. Cinéma Paris in Charlottenburg is the place to go for French films, while the Odeon in Schöneberg specializes in English and American films

OPEN-AIR CINEMA

Open-air cinemas start operating as soon as the weather allows. The biggest is Waldbühne – a concert hall with seating for an audience of 20 000. Others can be found in Hasenheide Künstler Haus Bethanien garden in Friedrichshain or in UFA-Fabrik The films shown are a mixture of new releases and old classics, and showings tend to start at around 9pm

DIRECTORY

TICKET AND PRICE INFORMATION

Hekticket Theaterkassen

Hardenbergstraße 29d. Map 2 B4 Tel 230 99 30.

MAJOR STAGES

Berliner Ensemble

Bertolt-Brecht-Platz 1. Map 1 F3. Tel 28 408 155. www herlinerensemble de

Deutsches Theater

Schumannstraße 13 Map 1 F3 Tel 28 44 12 25.

www.deutschestheater.berlin.net

Kammerspiele

Schumannstraße 13a.

Map 1 F3 Tel 28 44 12 22. www.deutschestheater.berlin.net Maxim-Gorki

Theater Am Festungsgraben 2. Map 4 C2.

Tel 20 22 11 29.

Renaissance-Theater

Hardenbergstraße 6. Map 2 A3. Tel 312 42 02.

Schaubühne am Lehniner Platz

Kurfürstendamm 153. Tel 89 00 20

Volksbühne

Rosa-Luxembourg-Platz. Tel 247 67 72.

ΔITERNATIVE THEATRE

Rat-Studiotheater

Relforter Straße 15 Tel 44 01 89 12.

Kleines Theater

Südwestkorso 64 Tal 821 20 21

www kleines-theater-de

Komödie am Kurfürstendamm

Kurfürstendamm 206 Man 2 A5 Tel 88 59 11 88

Theater am Halleschen Ufer

Hallesches Ufer 32. Tel 25 90 04 27

Theater am Kurfürstendamm

Kurfürstendamm 206. Map 2 A5. Tel 88 59 11 88.

MUSICALS, REVIEWS AND CABARETS

Admiralspalast

Friedrichstrasse 101. Map 4 C1. Tel 47 99 74 99.

www.admiralspalast.de

Bar jeder Vernunft

Schaperstraße 24. Map 2 B5. Tel 883 15 82

Chamäleon Variété Rosenthaler Straße 40-41.

Map 5 D4. Tel 282 71 18.

Distal

Friedrichstraße 101. Map 1 F3. Tel 204 47 04.

Friedrichstadtpalast

Friedrichstraße 107. Map 1 F3. Tel 23 26 23 26. www.friedrichstadt nalast de

Scheinbar

Monumentenstraße 9 Tel 784 55 39

Stachelschweine

Furopa-Center. Map 2 C4. Tel 261 47 95. www.die-stachel schweine de

Theater am Potsdamer Platz

Marlene-Dietrich-Platz 1. Map 4 A3 Tel (0180) 544 44

Theater des Westens

Kantstraße 12 Tel (01805) 44 44. www.theater deswestens.de

Tipi-das Zelt am Kanzleramt

Tiergarten. Große Ouerallee. Map 1 D4.

Tel (01803) 27 93 58. www.tipi-das-zelt.de

Wintergarten Variété

Potsdamer Straße 96. Map 3 F4. Tel 25 00 88 88. www.wintergartenvariete.de

Wühlmäuse

Pommernallee 2-4. Tel 213 70 47.

RIG SCREENS AND RIG FILMS

CinemaxX Potsdamer Platz

Potsdamer Straße 1–19. Man 4 Δ3 Tel (0180) 524 63 62 99.

www.cinemaxx.de Cinestar Sony Contar

Postdamer Straße 4. Map 4 A3. Tel 26 06 62 60.

ΙΜΔΧ

Potsdamer Straße 4. Map 4 A3. Tel 26 06 64 00.

STUDIO CINEMA

Arsenal

Potsdamer Straße 2. Map 4 A3. Tel 26 95 51 00.

Central

Rosenthaler Straße 39. Map 5 D1. Tel 28 59 99 73.

Cinéma Paris

Kurfürstendamm 211. Tel 881 31 19.

Hackescher Höfe Kino

Rosenthaler Straße 40-41. Map 5 D1. Tel 283 46 03.

Odeon

Hauptstraße 115. Tel 78 70 40 19.

OPEN-AIR CINEMA

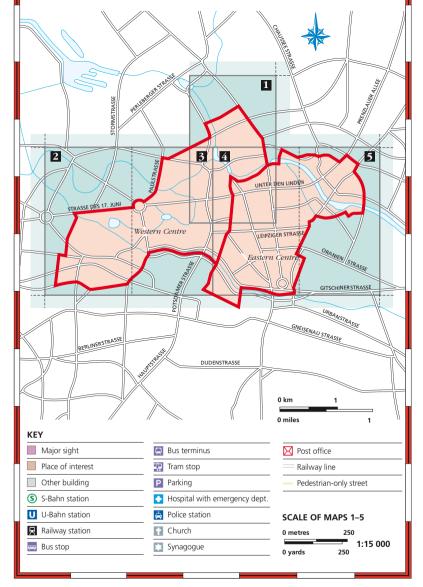

Waldbühne

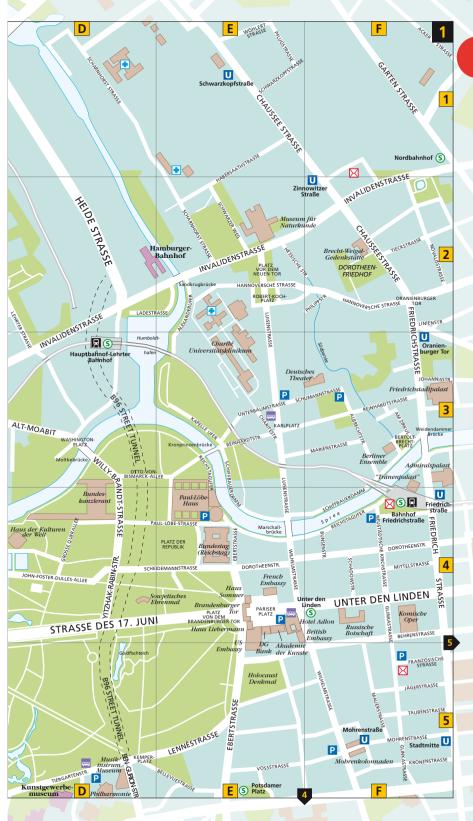

Glockenturmstraße 1. Tel (01805) 33 24 33. 114 BERLIN

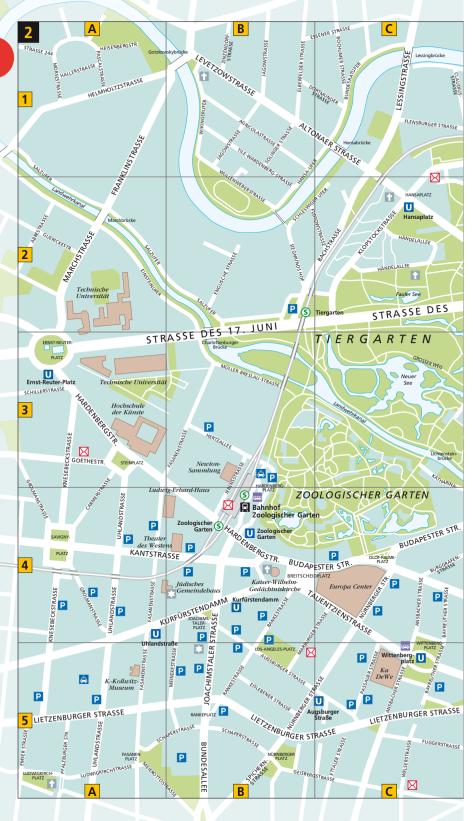

BERLIN STREET FINDER

ap references given for historic buildings, hotels, restaurants, bars, shops and entertainment venues refer to the maps included in this section of the guidebook. The key map below shows the area of Berlin covered by the Street Finder. The maps include all major sightseeing areas, historic attractions, railway stations, bus stations, U-Bahn stations and the suburban stations of the S-Bahn. The names of the streets and squares in the index and maps are given in German. The word Straße (or STRAS-SE, Str) indicates a street, Allee an avenue, Platz a square, Brücke a bridge and Bahnhofa railway station.

Eastern Germany at a Glance

The eastern region of Germany is immensely rich in tourist attractions. The imposing valley of the Elbe River the beautiful lake district of Lower Brandenburg, attractive trails in the Harz Mountains of Saxony-Anhalt, the Thuringian Forest as well as the Erzgebirge and the Lusatian Mountains in Saxony all invite the visitor with their dramatic scenery and excellent recreational facilities.

Eastern Germany is rich in historic sights, too. ranging from the Baroque residences of Potsdam in Brandenburg to the grand architecture of Dresden and Leipzig in Saxony and the important cultural centre of Weimar in Thuringia. The most rewarding destinations in the region are featured here.

Naumburg Dom is a huge, well preserved Gothic cathedral (see pp150–51), one of Germany's greatest buildings. Splendid statues of its founders, Ekkehart and Uta. adorn the walls of the presbytery.

The Magdeburg Reite. in the market square, is the copy of one of Thuringia's most famous sights. The identity of the rider is not cortain Erfurt Dom dominates the townscape. A massive Gothic structure, the cathedral's three towers were built on the Romanesque foundations of an earlier church.

SAXONY-ANHALT

ee pp142-57)

Weimar, with its picturesque market square (see pp194-5) and historic buildings, was an important cultural centre for many centuries. Friedrich Schiller, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe and Johann Sebastian Bach all lived here.

Sanssouci in Potsdam (see pp136–7), the enchanting Baroque summer residence built for Prussia's King Frederick the Great stands on the site of former gardens and vinevards.

0 km	20
0 miles	20

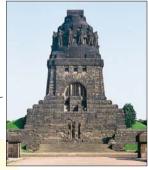

LOCATOR MAP

Schloss Wörlitz is surrounded by a romantic landscaped park (see pp156-7) criss-crossed by a network of waterways open to pleasure boats.

The Völkerschlachtdenkmal in Leipzig (see pp162-3) was erected to celebrate the centenary of the battle fought by Prussia, Austria, Russia and Sweden against Napoleon's army in 1813.

palace and a Baroque jewel, was immaculately restored to its original glory after World War II destruction.

Meissen Porcelain

Until the early 18th century the only porcelain known in Europe was that imported from the Far Fast, and the Chinese jealously guarded the secrets of its production. Finally, in 1707, Johann Friedrich Böttger and Ehrenfried Walther von Tschirnhaus succeeded in developing a recipe which made it possible to produce genuine porcelain. A factory was set up in Meissen, and from 1713 it began to export its products to the entire European continent. Its first famous designers were Johann Joachim Kändler and Johann Gregor Höroldt.

Figurine by J. J. Kändler

The Porcelain Museum, opened in 1906, holds exhibitions and demonstrations illustrating the various stages in the manufacture of porcelain. The museum also runs courses on porcelain-making.

BÖTTGER STONEWARE

Johann Friedrich Böttger's first success in recreating Chinese ceramics came in 1707 when, with the assistance of Ehrenfried Walther von Tschirnhaus, he managed to produce stoneware almost identical to that produced in Yi Hsing. The stoneware was dark, varying in colour from red to brown

These plates and bowls are typical examples of Böttger stoneware; its plain and simple lines were modelled on Far-Eastern designs.

colour of the dishes is due to the use of

The dark

The "Yellow Lion" design, dating from c.1728, was used to decorate the first Meissen service. The "Yellow Lion" was in reality a tiger.

FAR-EASTERN MOTIFS

Until the 17th century the only porcelain known in Europe came from the Far East, and the first items made from Saxon hard porcelain were initially strongly influenced by the Asian products. In Meissen, Chinese figurines and dishes were copied, adapting "European" shapes, but using Japanese or Chinese motifs for decoration. Special designs were created to adorn the services intended for the royal court. The oldest among these include the "Yellow Lion" and the "Red Dragon". New designs, inspired by European art, began to appear after 1738, and gradually replaced the Asian patterns.

PRODUCTION PROCESS

The process of porcelain production has not changed significantly over the centuries. The formula for "hard-paste" porcelain contains kaolin, quartz and feldspar. Each product is dried and fired, with glazed products being fired twice. The decoration can be applied before or after the glazing process. Hand-painted and gilded items are the most expensive.

Demonstration of the intricate art of handpainting porcelain at the Meissen factory

TABLEWARE

In the second half of the 18th and in the 19th centuries, porcelain manufacturers developed their own designs. This proved so popular that some remain in production to this day. The best-known Meißen designs are the "vine-leaves" and the "onion" patterns, first introduced in the 18th century. Customers can thus still replace items in the services which have graced their family tables for generations.

This coffee pot and cup is decorated with the cobalt "onion" pattern, depicting stylized pomegranate fruits.

FINE-ART MOTIFS

A new type of decoration, which became popular in the second half of the 18th century, involved the accurate copying of famous paintings or etchings onto a vase, a pot or a plate. This type of decoration proved particularly popular during the Classicist period.

Decorator copying an etching onto a vessel

Vase decorated with a miniature of a painting by Antoine Watteau

SERVICES AND FIGURINES

Several outstanding sculptors and painters were employed in the Meißsen porcelain manufacture to design unique services and figurines for the royal courts. The most famous among them are the services designed by Johann Joachim Kändler. He also created dining tables, vases and censers (containers for burning incense) for decorating the home, and large religious compositions for churches.

Figurine of August III

Europa, a figure from the "Four Continents" series, designed by J. J. Kändler

"Swan" Service Tureen

MARKS ON MEISSEN

All porcelain manufacturers mark their products with their own symbols. The symbols are generally applied under the glaze. at the bottom of the piece. The Meissen factory initially used marks that imitated Japanese or Chinese writing: later, for a short time. letters were used. and from 1724 blue trademarks in the shape of crossed swords became the standard mark. The last three symbols below identify the respective court for which each piece of porcelain was produced.

K.T.F.

Königliche Porzellan-Fabrik, trademark used in 1723

KTM

Königliche Porzellan-Manufaktur, trademark used in 1723–4

Trademarks used from 1724

Augustus Rex, the initials of King August

X.H.X

Königliche Hof-Küche

K.H.C.W.

Königliche Hof-Conditorei Warschau

Luther and the Reformation

In 1517, on the eye of All Souls' Day (31 October). Martin Luther nailed his 95 "theses" to the doors of the castle church in Wittenberg, condemning the practice of indulgences. His subsequent pronouncements.

in which he criticized many aspects of the Church's teaching, made him the "father" of the Reformation movement in Germany and other countries. Luther's teaching gained the support of many of the princes, who in 1531 formed the Schmalkalden Union and started to introduce a new administration to the Church. This led to religious wars which finally ended with the Augsburg Peace Treaty, signed in 1555, which confirmed the religious division of Germany.

The Bible, translated into German by Luther, was first tublished in one volume in . 1534. One vear later an illustrated, two-volume luxury version was published in Augsburg in Hartenfels Castle, in Torgau (see p164), was built in 1543-4 and consecrated by Martin Luther. It is generally considered to be the first church built specifically for the Lutheran community.

> The baptism of a child is performed by Philipp Melanchthon.

The Last Supper, at the centre of the altar, stresses the importance attached by Lutherans to the sacrament of communion. The figures of the Apostles are portraits of the main church reformers.

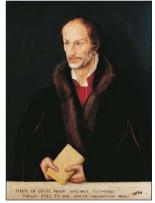

Martin Luther, the great theologian and religious reformer, initiator of Church reform and founder of Lutheranism, is depicted in this portrait by Lucas Cranach the Elder (1520).

of Luther's family.

Luther's Room (Lutherstube), shown bere, is part of Luther's House in Wittenberg (see p154). The famous reformer lived here with bis wife and family.

Philipp Melanchthon, an associate of Luther's and the co-founder of Lutheranism, initiated a great educational reform. He was also known as praeceptor Germaniae, Germany's teacher.

REFORMATION ALTAR

The main altar of St Mary's Church in Wittenberg (see pp154–5) is one of the most important works of art of the Reformation period. The central picture was painted by Lucas Cranach the Elder (c.1539), the wings by his son, Lucas Cranach the Younger, before 1547.

Cup Bearer Serving at the Table is the title of a portrait by Lucas Cranach the Younger.

is taken by Johannes Bugenhagen.

Protestant

Sermon preached by Martin Luther, who points to the figure of the crucified Christ. Katharina von Bora, a former nun, became Martin Luther's wife in 1525. She lies buried in the Marienkirche in Torgau (see p164), in a tomb which survives to this day.

BRANDENBURG

be province of Brandenburg is a lowland region criss-crossed by a dense network of rivers, canals and lakes. Quiet in part, it is also crossed by some of the main tourist routes to Berlin. Its most popular attractions are the historic sights of its capital city, Potsdam, and the Spreewald, where all day can be spent boating on the waterways of the Lusatian forests and villages.

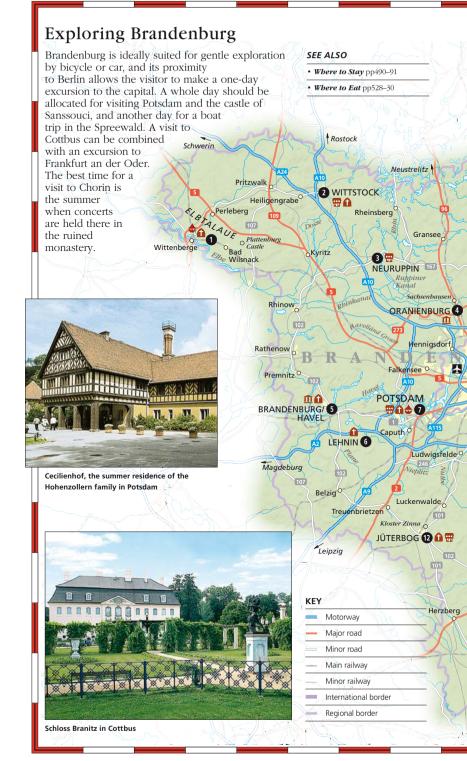

In early medieval times, the area that was to become present-day Brandenburg was the scene of violent conflict between various Germanic tribes. The latter conguered the region, and in 1157 created the margravate of Brandenburg. Its first ruler was Albrecht der Bär (Albert the Bear) from the house of Ascan. From 1415. Brandenburg was ruled by the Hohenzollern dynasty. It was quick to embrace the Reformation, which was officially adopted here as early as 1538. In 1618, Brandenburg merged with the duchy of Prussia through personal union. The region became entangled in the Thirty Years' War and suffered devastating losses; depopulated and plundered, it took Brandenburg many years to rise from the ashes. In 1701, the Great Elector. Frederick III, crowned himself King Frederick I, and the whole region now assumed the name of Prussia

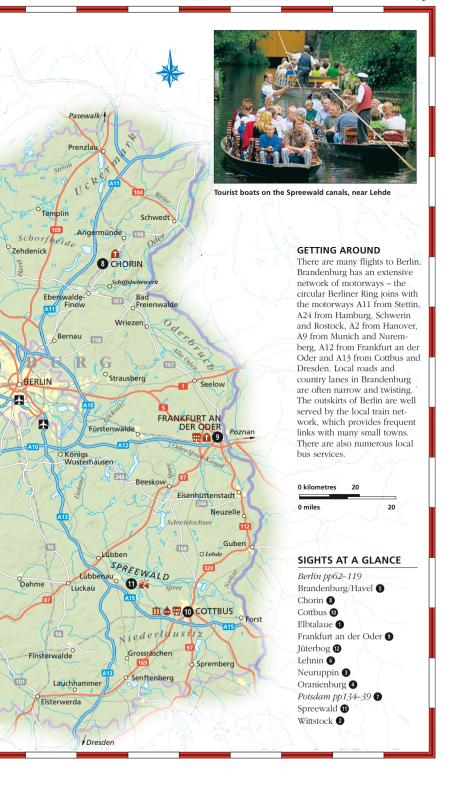

While Berlin remained the seat of power and a strong industrial and cultural centre, 18th-century Potsdam also played an important role: it was, after all, the favourite haunt of Frederick the Great. Other towns in the region were less significant – Brandenburg was, and still is, a fairly rural region. Reunification in 1990, however, has opened up the newly created land to Berliners and tourists alike.

Travellers in Brandenburg will encounter ancient tree-lined avenues that stretch to the horizon. The Spreewald, Brandenburg's lake district, is an oasis of tranquillity, ideal for boating and cycling. Brandenburg also has grand castles in Oranienburg, Branitz just outside Cottbus and Rheinsberg, Gothic churches and monasteries in Lehnin and Chorin and the towns of Brandenburg/Havel and Potsdam.

Baroque palace in Rheinsberg, on the shores of the Grienericksee

Elbtalane 0

Road map D2. 🖪 to Wittenberge or Bad Wilsnack. Am Markt 5, Rad Wilsnack (038791-26 20)

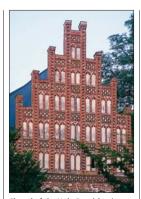

The Elbe valley in the western part of Prignitz is an area of gentle rolling hills and unspoiled nature. Storks, increasingly rare in Germany. nest here to this day. When travelling around this parkland it is worth stopping at Pritzwalk to admire the late-Gothic Nikolaikirche (St. Nicholas church) Another place of interest is Perleberg with its picturesque market square featuring an original 1515 timber-frame building. a sandstone statue of the French knight Roland (1546). now standing by the 1850 Town Hall, and the town's star attraction - the 15thcentury Gothic Jakobskirche (church of St Jacob).

Bad Wilsnack owes its fame to the discovery of the therapeutic properties of the iron oxide-rich mud found in the surrounding marshes. Already known in medieval times, the town was an important place of pilgrimage. After a church fire, in 1384. three hosts displaying the blood of Christ were found untouched on the altar. The Gothic Nikolaikirche (church of St Nicholas). which survives to this day, was built soon after for the pilgrims.

Plattenburg Castle, in a scenic situation on an island. is also worth a visit. Combining late-Gothic and Renaissance architecture.

it is used as a venue for concerts. Environs Ten km (6 miles) to the west lies Heiligengrabe, with its of its many highlights is

The Gothic-Renaissance Plattenburg Castle, in the Elbtalaue

Chapel of the Holy Sepulchre in Heiligengrabe, near Wittstock

Wittstock 2

Road map F2. 🚯 13.700. 🚃 🖺 Walter-Shulz-Pl. 1. Wittstock/Dosse (03394-43 34 42). www.wittstock.de.

The small town of Wittstock was first awarded its municipal status in 1284. From the 13th century to the Reformation, Wittstock was the see of the Havelberg bishops. Although much of the town was destroyed, the original city walls remained almost completely intact, with one surviving gate - the Gröper Tor. All that remains of the former bishop's castle is the gate tower, which now houses a small museum. The town's star attraction is the Gothic Marienkirche with its late-Gothic reredos depicting the crowning of St Mary. It originated in the wood carving workshop of Claus Berg, probably after 1532. Other interesting features include the 1516 sacrarium and the late-Renaissance pulpit.

Gothic Cistercian Abbey. One

the 1512 Chapel of the Holy Sepulchre with an intricately sculpted gable and some charming timber-frame cloister buildings

Road map E2. A 27,300. Karl-Marx-Str. 1 (03391-454 60). www.neuruppin.de.

The town of Neuruppin, in a scenic location on the shores of a large lake, the Ruppiner See, is mainly Neo-Classical in style, having been rebuilt to the design of Bernhard Matthias Brasch after the great fire of 1787. The only older buildings are the Gothic post-Dominican church and two small hospital chapels. Neuruppin is the birthplace of the architect Karl Friedrich Schinkel and the novelist Theodor Fontane (see p.27).

Environs

The beautiful, albeit neglected palace of Rheinsberg, 25 km (16 miles) to the north was converted from 16th-century Renaissance castle in 1734-7. In 1734-40 it was the residence of the Crown Prince. who later became Frederick the Great, King of Prussia. Some 30 km (19 miles) northeast of Rheinsberg is monument the National Socialist concentration camp Ravensbrück, for women and children. It is now a place of remembrance.

Schinkel

Oranienburg •

Road map E3, 🔼 30,000. Bernauer Str. 52 (033 01-70 48 33). www.tourismus-or.de.

The star attraction of the town is Schloss Oranienburg, the Baroque residence built for Louisa Henrietta von NassauOranien, wife of the Great Elector Friedrich Wilhelm. Designed by Johann Gregor Memhardt and Michael Matthias Smids, it was built in 1651–5 and later extended to reach its present H-shape.

11 Schloss Oranienburg

Schlossplatz 1. Tel (03301) 53 74 37.

Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm Tue-Sun;
Nov-Mar: 10am-5pm Sat-Sun.

Environs

Sachsenhausen, which is located northeast of Oranienburg, is now a place of remembrance and a museum. Opened in 1936 by the National Socialists, this concentration camp claimed the lives of 100.000 inmates.

M Sachsenhausen

Tel (03301) 20 00. mid-Marmid-Oct: 8:30am-6pm Tue-Sun; mid-Oct-mid-Mar: 8:30am-4:30pm Tue-Sun. www.gedenkstaettesachsenhausen.dev

Brandenburg/ Havel 6

Road map E3. $\frac{1}{16}$ 87,700. $\bigset$ = \bigset$

Steinstraße 66–67 (03381-20 87 29). $\tilde{10}$ Havelfestspiele (Jun). www. stadt-brandenburg.de

Brandenburg is the oldest town of the region. It was settled by Slavs as early as the 6th century, and a mission episcopate was established here in 948. Scenically sited on the Havel River, it has preserved historic centres on three islands, despite wartime destruction. The oldest island is the Dominsel, with its

Early-Renaissance palace in Caputh, north of Lehnin

Romanesque Dom St Peter und St Paul. This cathedral was constructed from 1165 to the mid-13th century. In the 14th century it was raised and given new vaultings. It contains numerous valuable Gothic objects, including the "Czech" altar (c.1375), the present main altar (from Lehnin, 1518) and the sacrarium of the same year. The most valuable treasures are on display in the Dommuseum.

Other sights worth visiting are the huge, 15th-century Katharinenkirche built by Hinrich Brunsberg, the Gotthardkirche, in the Altstadt ("old town"), with its Romanesque façade and Gothic interior, the Gothic Rathaus (Town Hall), with a statue of Roland from 1474, and the Stadtmuseum, a museum of local history.

n Dommuseum

Burghof 9. Tel (03381) 22 43 90. www.brandenburg-dom.de

10am–5pm daily, 12:30–5pm
Sun.

Stadtmuseum

Ritterstr. 96. Tel (03381) 58 45 01. 9am–5pm Tue–Fri, 10am–5pm Sat & Sun. 💋

Lehnin 6

Road map E3. (A) 3,100.

Visitors mainly come to see the huge Klosterkirche (abbey) founded for the Cistercian order of Otto I, son of Albert the Bear. The church was built from the late 12th to the late 13th century, originally in Romanesque, then in early-Gothic style. Following the dissolution of the monastery, in 1542, the buildings fell into disrepair, but much of the abbey has survived.

Klosterkirchplatz. Tel (03382) 76 86 10. Apr-Oct: 10am-4pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat, 1-5pm Son-, Nov-Mar: 10:30am-3:30pm Mon-Sat, 1-4pm Sun.

www.klosterkirche-lehnin.de

Environs

Caputh, situated 23 km (14 miles) to the north, has an early-Baroque Palace built during the second half of the 17th century, as summer residence for the wives of the Great Electors. The interior has many original features.

Potsdam •

An independent city close to Berlin, Potsdam, with almost 138,000 inhabitants, is also the capital of Brandenburg. The first documented reference to Potsdam dates back to AD 993; it was later granted municipal rights in 1317. The town blossomed during the times of the Great Electors and then again in the 18th century. Potsdam suffered very badly during World War II, particularly on the night of 14–15 April 1945 when Allied planes bombed the town centre.

A sculpture on display in Park Sanssouci

Sightseeing in Potsdam

Potsdam remains one of Germany's most attractive towns. Tourists flock to see the magnificent royal summer residence, Schloss Sanssouci, to stroll around Neuer Garten (new garden) with its Marmorpalais (marble palace) and Cecilienhof, to visit the old city centre and the Russian colony of Alexandrowka, to be entertained in the film studios of Babelsberg and to take a walk around the parks of Schloss Babelsberg.

♠ Cecilienhof

Am Neuen Garten (Neuer Garten).

Tel (0331) 969 42 44. 5695.

Apr-Oct: 9am-5pm Tue-Sun;
Nov-Mar: 9am-4pm Tue-Sun.
The Cecilienhof residence played a brief but important role in history, when it served as the venue for the 1945

Potsdam Conference (see p139). Built between 1914 and 1917, the palace is the most recent of all Hohenzollern dynasty buildings. Designed by Paul Schultze-Naumburg in the style of an English country manor, Cecilienhof is a sprawling, asymmetrical, timber-frame building with inner courtyards and irregular breaks.

The palace remained a residence of the Hohenzollern family after they had lost the crown – the family stayed in Potsdam until February 1945. Today the palace is a hotel, where visitors interested in history are able to relax amid green shrubs. The large, scenic park remains open to the public even when the rooms used during the Potsdam Conference are closed to visitors.

Marmorpalais

Am Neuen Garten (Neuer Garten). Tel (0331) 969 42 46, 5 695. Apr-Nov: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun: Nov-Apr: 10am-4pm Sat-Sun. This small palace, situated on the edge of the lake, is a beautiful example of early Neo-Classical architecture. The palace is named after the Silesian marble used on its facade. The main part of it was built between 1787 and 1791 by Carl von Gontard to a design and under the direction of Carl Gotthard Langhans, on the initiative of King Friedrich Wilhelm II.

Alexandrowka

Russische Kolonie Allee/Puschkinallee.

2. 95. 604, 609, 638, 639.

A visit to Alexandrowka takes the visitor into the world of Pushkin's fairy tales. Wooden log cabins with intricate carvings, set in their own gardens, create a charming residential estate. They were constructed in 1826 under the direction of the German architect Snethlage, for twelve singers of a Russian choir that was established in 1812.

Holländisches Viertel Friedrich-Ebert-Str., Kurfürstenstr.,

Hebbelstr., Gutenbergstr. 138, 601-604, 606-612, 614, 631, 632, 650. 19 92, 95. Just as amazing as the Russian colony of Alexandrowka is the Holländisches Viertel (Dutch quarter), part of a Baroque town built in the middle of Germany. Dutch workers arrived in Potsdam in the early 18th century and,

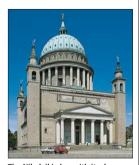

A view of the Baroque Dutch district known as Holländisches Viertel between 1733 and 1742, a settlement was built for them on the orders of Friedrich Wilhelm I to plans by Johann Boumann the Elder. It comprised 134 gabled houses arranged in four groups. The houses were built from small red bricks and finished with stone and plaster details.

♠ Nikolaikirche

Alter Markt. Tel (03381) 280 93. 601, 603, 692, 694, 91, 92, 93, 95, 96, 98. May–Oct: 2pm–5pm Fri–Sun; Nov–Apr: 2-4pm Sat–Sun. This imposing church built in the late Neo-Classical style, is indisputably the most beautiful church in Potsdam. It was built on the site of an earlier, Baroque church, which burned down in 1795. It was designed during 1828–30 by Karl Friedrich Schinkel and the building work was supervised by Ludwig Persius. The interior decoration and furnishings of the church date from the 1850s, but were mostly based on the earlier designs by Schinkel.

The Nikolaikirche, with its dome resting on a colonnaded wall

Marstall

Breitenstr. 1a. Tel (0331) 271 81 12.

6 = 601, 603, 692, 694. 91, 92, 93, 95, 96, 98. 10am-6pm daily.

This long Baroque pavilion, once used as royal stables, is the only remaining building of a royal residence. It was constructed in 1714 and currently houses a film museum devoted to the history and work of the nearby Babelsberg Film Studio.

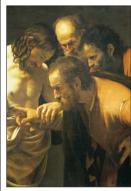

Bildergalerie

Zur Historischen Mühle. Tel (0331) 969 41 81. 1 12, 614, 695. 1 15 May-15 Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. 2 18 Baroque paintings once owned by Frederick the Great, including Caravaggio's Doubting Thomas. Guido

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map E3. Tel (0331) 27 55
80. Lange Brücke. Theidrich-Ebert-Str. 5, Am Alten
Markt (0331-27 55 80).
Fax (0331) 27 55 829.
Hofkonzerte (May-Sep);
Musikfestspiele S-anssouci (Jun).
www.potsdam.de

Reni's Cleopatra's Death, as well as paintings by Rubens and van Dyck, are on show in the picture gallery situated next to Schloss Sanssouci.

Caravaggio's Doubting Thomas, on show in the Bildergalerie

Commune

Situated next to a pretty courtyard.

unusually elegant used to house palace staff.

this building has an character It is now

Park Sanssouci

The enormous Park Sanssouci, which occupies an area of 287 hectares (700 acres), is one of the most beautiful palace complexes in Europe. The first building to be constructed on the site was Schloss Sanssouci, built as the summer palace of Frederick the Great. It was erected in 1747.

urn Park Sanccouri

on the site of a former orchard. Over the years. Park Sanssouci was expanded considerably and other palaces and pavilions added. To enjoy the park fully, allow at least a whole day.

★ Neues Palais

Constructed between 1763 and 1769, the monumental building of the Neues Palais is crowned by a massive dome

Römische Bäder

Shaded by pergolas overgrown with greenery, the Roman baths include a Renaissance-style villa.

0 metres	200
0 vards	200

STAR SIGHTS

★ Neues Palais

★ Schloss Sanssouci

Charlottenhof

Schloss

This Neo-Classical palace gained its name from Charlotte von Gentzkow, the former owner of the land on which the palace was built.

Lustgarten

The extensive parkland is made up of several gardens. The Lustgarten (pleasure garden) is nearest to the Orangerie.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

An Der Orangerie 1. Tel (0331) 969 42 02. ... 606, 695. ... Mar–Oct: 9am–5pm; Nov–Feb: 9am–4pm (in winter, visit possible only with guided tour). ... Fri. 7 (free access to park).

Orangerie

This large Neo-Renaissance palace was built in the mid-19th century to house foreign royalty and other guests.

Neue Kammern

Once the orangerie of the Sanssouci Palace, this Rococo pavilion was later rebuilt as a guest house.

★ Schloss Sanssouci

A beautifully terraced vineyard creates a grand approach to Schloss Sanssouci, the oldest building in the complex.

Bildergalerie

Built between 1755 and 1764, this is Germany's oldest purpose-built museum building. The Baroque pavilion houses an art gallery.

Chinesisches Teehaus

An exhibition of exquisite Oriental porcelain is housed in the small, Rococo-style
Chinese Tea House.

Friedenskirche

The Neo-Romanesque Church of Peace is modelled on the Basilica of San Clemente in Rome.

Paintings in the music room, in Schloss Sanssouci

♣ Schloss Sanssouci

Zur Historischen Mühle. Tel (0331) 969 41 90. Apr-Oct: 9am-5pm; Nov-Mar: 9am-4pm Tue-Sun. Damenflügel & Schlossküche: 15 May-15 Oct: 10am-12:30pm & 1–5pm Sat & Sun. ₩ This Rococo palace was built in 1745-7 by Georg Wenzeslaus von Knobelsdorff to sketches by Frederick the Great. Knobelsdorff and Johann August Nahl designed the interior. Sanssouci ("carefree") was the perfect name for the enchanting castle. The Damenflügel, the castle's west wing which was added in 1840 to house ladies and gentlemen of the court, and the Schlossküche (castle kitchen) can also be visited.

♣ Schloss Neue Kammern

Zur Historischen Mühle (Lustgarten). Tel (0331) 969 42 06 Apr-May 10am-5pm Sat & Sun; Mav-Oct 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. obligatory. The Neue Kammern (new chambers) adjoin Schloss Sanssouci in the west, like the Bildergalerie in the east. As part of this ensemble it was originally built in 1747 as an orangery, to a design by Georg Wenzeslaus von Knobelsdorff who gave it its elegant Baroque forms. The building has an attractive roof with sloping ends and sides. In 1777 Frederick the Great ordered the building to be transformed into guest accommodation. The architect, Georg Christian Unger, left the exterior of the orangery largely untouched but converted the interior into sumptuous suites and four elegant halls. The Rococo décor has been maintained, similar to that of other palaces and pavilions of Sanssouci.

Mav-Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun: viewing terrace Apr–May: 10am-5pm Sat & Sun; May-Oct 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. Above the park towers the Orangerie, designed in Italian Renaissance style and crowned by a colonnade. It was built to house guests, not plants, and served as guest residence for Tsar Nicolas and his wife. King Friedrich Wilhelm IV's sister. The Orangerie was constructed in 1852-60 for the king Figure on the roof of Chinesisches Teehaus by Friedrich August Stüler, with the final design partly based on plans design partly based on plans by Ludwig Persius. Modelled on the Regia Hall in the Vatican, the rooms were grouped around the Raphael Hall and decorated with replicas of this great Italian master's works. The observation terrace offers a good view over Potsdam.

Thinesisches Teehaus

Ökonomieweg (Rehgarten). Tel (0331) 969 42 22. 15 May-15 Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. The lustrous, gilded pavilion that can be seen glistening between the trees from a distance is the Chinese Teahouse Chinese art was very popular during the Rococo period - people wore Chinese silk, wallpapered their rooms with Chinese designs, lacquered their furniture, drank tea from Chinese porcelain and built Chinese pavilions in their gardens. The one in Sanssouci was built in 1754-56 to a design by Johann Gottfried Büring, Circular in shape, it has a centrally located main hall surrounded by three studies. Between these are pretty trompe l'oeil porticos. The structure is covered with a tent roof and topped with a lantern. Gilded ornaments. columns and Chinese figures surround the pavilion. Originally a tea room and summer dining house, it houses today a collection of 18th-century porcelain.

Römische Bäder

Tel (0331) 969 42 24. ■ 606. ■ 94, 96. □ 15 May-15 Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. The Roman baths, situated by the edge of a lake, form a picturesque group of pavilions which served as accommodation for the king's guests.

Lenné-Str. (Park Charlottenhof).

They were designed in 1829–40 by Karl Friedrich
Schinkel, with the help of Ludwig Persius. The audwig Persius. The gardener's house at the front stands next to a low, asymmetrical tower, built in the style of an Italian Renaissance villa. In the background, to the left, extends the former bathing pavilion, which is currently used for temporary exhibitions. The pavilions are grouped around a garden planted with colourful shrubs and vegetables.

★ Schloss Charlottenhof

Geschwister-Scholl-Str. (Park Charlottenhof). Tel (0331) 969 42 28. 94, 96. May-Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. Jobigatory. This small Neo-Classical palace stands at the southern end of Park Sanssouci, known as Park Charlottenhof. Built in 1826-9 for the heir to the throne the future King Friedrich Wilhelm IV, this small, single-storey building was designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel in the style of a Roman villa. Some of the wall paintings, designed by Schinkel in the so-called Pompeiian style, are still in place. There is also a collection of Italian engravings. The most interesting part of the interior is the Humboldt Room. The palace is surrounded by a landscaped park designed by Peter Joseph Lenné.

♠ Neues Palais

Am Neuen Palais. Tel (0331) 969 42 55. Apr-Oct: 9am-5pm Sat-Thu; Nov-Mar: 9am-4pm Sat-Thu. obligatory.

One of Germany's most beautiful palaces, this imposing Baroque structure, on the main avenue in Park Sanssouci, was built for Frederick the Great to initial plans by Georg Wenzeslaus von Knobelsdorff in 1750. Its construction, to designs by Johan Gottfried Büring, Jean Laurent Le Geav and Carl von Gontard, was delayed until 1763-9 after the Seven Years' War. The vast, three-wing structure comprises over 200 richly adorned rooms and has many interesting sculptures. The south wing houses the kings' quarters.

THE POTSDAM CONFERENCE

Towards the end of World War II, the leaders of the Allies Winston Churchill, Franklin Roosevelt, and Joseph Stalin – met in Schloss Cecilienhof in Potsdam. The aim of this conference, which lasted from 17 July until 2 August 1945. was to resolve the problems arising at the end of the war. The main participants changed however before it was concluded. Churchill was replaced by newly-elected Clement Attlee, and Harry S. Truman took over after President Roosevelt died. The conference set up the occupation zones, the demilitarization and monitoring of Germany, the punishment of war criminals and the reparations. It also revised the German borders These decisions established the political balance of power in Europe, which continued for 45 years.

Attlee, Truman and Stalin in Potsdam

♠ Schloss Babelsberg

Im Park Bahelsherg Tel (0331) 969 42 02

Mav-Nov: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. Built in 1833-5 for Prince Wilhelm (Kaiser Wilhelm I). by Karl Friedrich Schinkel. this extravagant castle ranks as one of his finest works. An irregular building with many towers and bay windows, built in the spirit of English Neo-Gothic. with allusions to Windsor Castle and Tudor style, it. now holds the Museum of Pre-History.

Filmpark Babelsberg

Großheerenstr Tel (0331) 721 27 55. early Apr–31 Oct: 10am–6pm daily. www.filmpark.de This amazing film park was laid out on the site where Germany's first films were produced in 1912. From 1917 the studio belonged to Universum-Film-AG (UFA). which produced some of the most famous films of the silent era, including Fritz Lang's Metropolis and some films with Greta Garbo. The Blue Angel, with Marlene Dietrich, was also shot at Babelsberg, but subsequently, the studios were used to film propaganda for the Nazis. The studio is still operational today, and the public can admire some of the old sets. the creation of special effects and stuntmen in action.

Einsteinturm

Albert-Einstein-Str. once every month, by arrangement with the Urania Society (0331-288 23 33). 🚃 694. This tower, built in 1920-21 by Erich Mendelssohn, is one of the finest examples of German Expressionist architecture. Its fantasy forms were to demonstrate the qualities of reinforced concrete to spectacular effect. However, the cost of formwork, assembled by boat builders, limited the use of the material to the first storey, while the upper floors are plastered brickwork.

The impressive Marble Hall in the Baroque Neues Palais

Chorin 6

Road map E2. M 510. Kloster Chorin, Amt 11A. Tel (033366) 703 77. Apr-Oct: 9am-6pm daily; Nov-Mar: 9am-4pm daily. A Choriner Musiksommer.

On the edge of the vast Schorfheide heathland, which has been listed as a World Biosphere Reserve by UNESCO, stands one of Brandenburg's most beautiful Gothic buildings - the Cistercian Kloster (abbey) of Chorin The Cistercians arrived here in 1258 but work on the present Gothic abbey did not start until 1270. The church is a triple-nave, transeptial basilica, with a magnificent facade. Preserved to this day are two wings of the monastic quarters plus several domestic buildings. Following the dissolution of the monastery in 1542, the entire complex fell into disrepair. Today the church, deprived of its traditional furnishings, is used as a venue for classical concerts. The park established by Peter Joseph Lenné is conducive to pleasant strolls.

Environs

For visitors to Niederfinow, the giant Schiffshebewerk (bargelift) is a definite must. This wonder of technology was designed for lifting and lowering ships from one canal to another. Commissioned in 1934, it is 60 m (197 ft) tall and capable of lifting barges laden with 1,000 tonnes or more.

Portal of the St Marienkirche in Frankfurt an der Oder

Frankfurt an der Oder o

Road map F3. 🚮 87,900. 💂 📟 Marl-Marx-Str. 1. (0335-32 52 16).
Frankfurter Musikfesttage (Mar);
Hansefest (Iul): Kleist-Tage (Oct).

Frankfurt, on the banks of the river Oder, was granted municipal rights in 1253, prospered in the 13th century and joined the Hanseatic league in 1368. In 1945, the right bank was ceded to Poland and is now known as Shibice

Viadrin University, founded in 1506, was reopened in 1991 and now educates both German and Polish students. The town's most famous resident was the playwright and writer Heinrich von Kleist who was born here in 1777.

The Gothic Rathaus (town hall) in the centre escaped destruction in World War II and now houses an art gallery. The main church Marienkirche (church of St. Mary), is a vast, five-nave Gothic hall which has stood in ruins since 1945. Some of the Gothic furnishings were rescued and can now be seen in St Gertraud (church of St Gertrude) which dates back to 1368. The main altar from 1489 and the huge, 5m- (16ft) -tall candelabrum from 1376 are particularly valuable. Another Gothic church, originally built for the Franciscans in 1270 has been transformed into the C.P.F. Bach Konzerthalle (concert hall), named after Carl Philipp Emmanuel Bach, son of Johann Sebastian.

Environs

Neuzelle, 36 km (23 miles) to the south, has a magnificent former Cistercian Abbey, with an impressive Baroque relief façade.

Cottbus @

Road map F3. [M. 121,000.]
Bahnhofstr. | Berliner Platz 6. (0355-754 20); www.cottbus.de

[Karnevalsumzug (Feb); Cottbuser
Musik-Herbst (Oct).

Tourists rarely visit Cottbus, despite the many attractions offered by the town. Its enchanting town square is surrounded by impressive Baroque buildings. The house

The Baroque Schloss Branitz in Cottbus

at No. 24 is the quaint Löwenapotheke (lion's pharmacy), which now houses a small pharmaceutical museum, the

Brandenburgisches

Apothekenmuseum, with displays of historical interiors. Nearby, the Gothic Oberkirche St Nikolai features an unusual original late-Gothic mesh vaulting. Another interesting Gothic structure, the Wendenkirche (Sorbian church), is a former Franciscan church, from the 14th—15th centuries.

Other attractions of the town include the remains of the medieval city walls with three preserved towers. Perhaps the most attractive building in Cottbus is the Staatstheater (state theatre) designed in Jugendstil (Art Nouveau style) by Bernhard Sehring and built in 1908.

The Wendisches Museum is devoted to the culture of the Sorbs which is experiencing a revival (see p181).

Schloss Branitz is a late-Baroque palace, originally built in the 18th century, at the southeastern edge of town. It became the residence of Prince Hermann von Pückler-Muskau in 1845, who had its interior redesigned by Gottfried Semper, Today, the palace houses the Fürst-Pückler-Museum, which exhibits paintings by Karl Blechen, a local artist from Cottbus. The star attraction of the palace is its Park, which was designed by Prince Pückler-Muskau himself. This vast landscaped garden includes a lake with an island on which stands a grasscovered mock-Egyptian earth pyramid containing the tomb of the extravagant and eccentric Prince.

ff Schloss Branitz and Fürst-Pückler-Museum

Kastanienalle 11. Tel (0355) 751 50. Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm daily, Nov-Mar: 11am-5pm; Tue-Sun.

Wendisches Museum

Mühlenstr. 12. Tel (0355) 79 49 30. 8:30am–6pm Tue–Fri, 2–6pm Sat–Sun and bank holidays.

Brandenburgisches Apothekenmuseum

Altmark 24. Tel (0355) 239 97.

10am-5pm Tue-Fri; 2 & 3pm
Sat-Sun. [6]

Boats and canoes in the Spreewald, near Lübben

Spreewald 0

Road map F3. 🖫 Lübben.

Raddusch, Lindenstr. 1 (035433-722 99), Lübbenau, Ehm-Welk-Str. 15 (03542-36 68). 🔝 🚳 Spreewaldfest in Lübbenau (Jul) and Lübben (Sep).

www.spreewald.de

Designated as one of the World Biosphere Reserves. this marshy region, crisscrossed by hundreds of small rivers and canals. attracts large numbers of tourists each vear. An all-day trip by Kahn (boat) or canoe, which is best started in Lübben or Lübbenau can prove to be an unforgettable experience. The splendour of nature. numerous water birds and the endless chain of small restaurants which serve meals straight from the jetty, ensure an exciting day for the visitor. Do not miss the local speciality, pickled gherkins.

Lübben has an original Gothic church and a Baroque palace, rebuilt in the 19th century. Lübbenau features a small Baroque church and the Neo-Classical house of the von Lynar family. In Lehde the small open-air museum and the private collection of the Bauernhaus- und Gurkenmuseum – the only gherkin museum in Germany – are highly recommended.

Environs

Luckau, 18 km (11 miles) west of Lübben, has a lovely town square, surrounded by attractive Baroque houses with stucco façades, and the ornamented, 14th-century Gothic Nikolaikirche.

Jüterbog 🛭

Road map E3. 🔼 13,000. 📮 🚃

Jüterbog is a small, picturesque town featuring many Gothic structures including some well-preserved sections of three city walls with gates and towers, dating back to the 15th century. It also boasts a beautiful town hall with arcades and three churches.

of St Nicholas), the largest of them, is a magnificent hall church, with a twin-tower façade, built in several stages. The so-called New Sacristy features a set of medieval wall paintings, while the naves contain many Gothic furnishings.

Environs

Five km (3 miles) to the north of Jüterbog stands Kloster Zinna, a former

Kloster Zinna, a former Cistercian Abbey with an early-Gothic stone town hall church. It features 16thcentury stained-glass windows depicting the saints Bernhard and Benedikt.

The early-Gothic ex-Cistercian Kloster Zinna, near Jüterbog

SAXONY-ANHALT

he scenic Harz mountains, a popular recreation area with fascinating rock formations and pleasant walks, are the best known attraction of Saxony-Anhalt. Yet this state also boasts a number of interesting towns, such as Lutherstadt Wittenberg and Magdeburg, steeped in history and blessed with magnificent historic remains, which range from Romanesaue churches and abbeys to medieval castles.

This province consists of the areas of the former Duchy of Anhalt and the Prussian province of Saxony, that part of the Kingdom of Saxony which was incorporated into Prussia after the Congress of Vienna (1815) as punishment for supporting Napoleon.

The landscape in this region is highly varied. Its northern part, the Altmark, is a largely flat area of farmland and heath. The gentle hills of the Harz Mountains in the southwest, although not especially high (their highest peak, the Brocken, rises to only 1142 m/3747 ft), are pictures que and fairly well provided with tourist facilities. The eastern, flat part of the region is more industrialized. It also includes two very important towns: the small town of Wittenberg, where

Martin Luther proclaimed his theses in 1517, thus launching the Reformation, and Dessau, the former capital of the Duchy of Anhalt and from 1925 to 1932 the seat of the Bauhaus Art School. The southern part of the province, with its interesting and varied landscape, features one of the land's most impressive historic buildings – the gigantic Naumburg Cathedral.

After World War II Saxony-Anhalt was occupied by the Soviets, and in 1949 it was incorporated into the GDR. It underwent major industrial development, mainly due to lignite mining. The state of Saxony-Anhalt was first created in 1947, only to be abolished five years later. It was finally re-established as a federal state in 1990, with Magdeburg as its capital.

Timber-frame houses in Quedlinburg

Exploring Saxony-Anhalt

Touring Saxony-Anhalt can be an unforgettable experience, especially for admirers of Romanesque art, as this region abounds in churches and abbevs of that period. A visit to Wörlitz provides the opportunity to see one of Germany's most beautiful landscaped gardens. Nature lovers, hillwalkers and, in the winter, cross-country skiers should include a few days in the romantic Harz Mountains in their schedule An added attraction here is a ride on the narrow-gauge railway drawn by a steam engine which, today as in years gone by. still links some of the most interesting places of the region.

in Havelberg

Zoo-Park in Dessau

Regional border Summit Pritzwalk 1

Sachausen

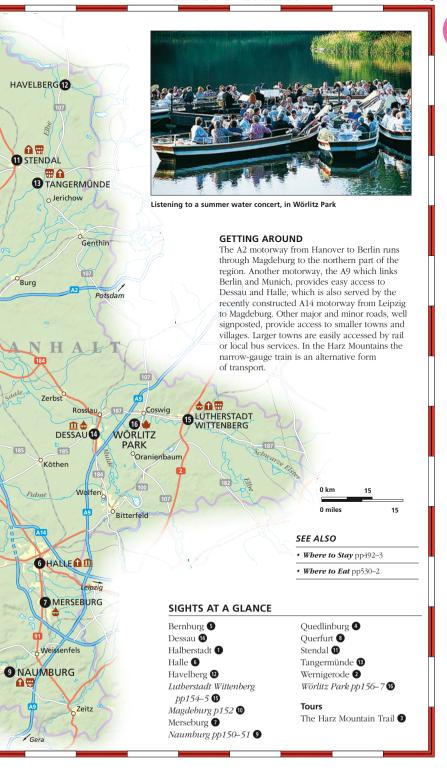

Milde

Rismark

Salzwedel

Klötze

Kakerbeck

Interior of the Gothic Cathedral of Halberstadt

Halberstadt 0

Road map D3. A 42,000. Hinter dem Rathause 6 (03941-55 18 15) www halberstadt de

Halberstadt enjoys a picturesque location in the foothills of the Harz Mountains, Its history goes back to the 9th century. when it became a seat of a mission episcopate. Once an important town. Halberstadt had 80 per cent of its buildings destroyed during World War II. Fortunately, many of its beautiful historic buildings have now been re-Romanesque Crucifixion stored to their former glory. The vast St

Stephans Dom is the fourth successive church built on the same site. Construction began in the 13th century and the church was consecrated in 1491. The two-tower transeptial basilica ranks as one of the most beautiful pure Gothic forms in Germany. Its oldest part is the 12th-century font. Also notable are the Romanesque Crucifixion group (c.1220), set above the choir screen, and several examples of Gothic sculpture. Stained-glass windows from around 1330 have survived in the Marian Chapel, and 15thcentury windows can be found along the cloisters and in the presbytery.

The adjoining chapter buildings contain one of Germany's richest cathedral treasuries = the Domschatz with precious 12th-century tapestries, numerous sculptures and liturgical vessels.

Other interesting churches to have survived in the old town district include the Romanesque 12th-century Liebfrauenkirche and the Gothic Marktkirche St. Martini with a statue of Roland, symbolizing the freedom of the city. Remaining timber-frame houses can be seen in Gröperand Taubenstrasse.

III Domschatz Tel 03941 24237. call for times. obligatory.

Environs

group in the Dom.

. Halberstadt

An original 12th-century Benedictine church stands in Huysburg, 11 km (7 miles) to the northwest.

Wernigerode 2

Road map D3. A 36,000. Marktplatz 10 (03943-55 37 835). Rathausfest (Jun); Schlossfestspiele (Jul & Aug). www.wernigerode.de

Wernigerode is attractively situated at a confluence of two rivers. Timber-frame houses lean across its steep, winding streets, and a massive castle rises above the town. The Harzquerbahn, a narrow-gauge railway which links the small towns and villages in the Harz Mountains between Wernigerode and Nordhausen, provides another popular tourist attraction. The Brockenbahn runs between Wernigerode and the Brocken mountain.

Strolling around the Old Town it is well worth stenping into St John's Church. featuring a Romanesque west tower It contains some late-Gothic features, including the font and the altar. The variety of ornaments adorning the houses in Wernigerode is truly staggering. Particularly interesting are the houses along Breite Straße, the town's main shopping street which is closed to traffic

★ Schloss Wernigerode

Am Schloss 1 Tel 03943-55 30 30 May-Oct: 10am-6pm: Nov-Apr: 10am-4pm Tue-Fri: 10am-6pm Sat & Sun. 🌃

The fairy-tale castle, spiked with towers, was created during the years 1861-83 on the site of an older fortress. Now a museum, it houses the Stolberg-Wernigerode family art collection. The castle ramparts afford a fantastic view of the town and the nearby Harz mountains.

Environs

The small town of Osterwieck. 22 km (14 miles) to the north. has over 400 timber-frame

The romantic facade of Schloss Wernigerode, now a museum

The Harz Mountain Trail

The tourist trail across the Harz Mountains leads through charming historic towns and villages, as well as past the other attractions of the region including some fascinating caves and unusual rock formations.

The Rübeland

Rübeland's main attractions are the Hermannshöhle and Baumannshöhle, two caves with amazing stalactites and stalagmites.

Blankenburg ②

This charming mountain town is overlooked by an 18th-century castle. The Teufelsmauer, a spectacular 4-km (2-mile) long sandstone cliff, attracts many climbers.

Thale ③

Many mountain walks start in Thale, including one to the Hexentanzplatz, a platform suspended above a cliff, from where witches fly to Sabbath celebrations in the Walpurgis Night.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Length: 55 km (34 miles)
Stopping places: there are many attractive restaurants all along the trail, in every town.

@Walpurgisnacht,
Thale: 30 Apr.

10th-century church of St Cyriacus. Its interior is devoid of ornaments, yet

enchantingly pure in form.

Burg Falkenstein 6

This huge castle, built in the 12th century and extended many times, is now a museum. From the castle, the visitor can enjoy a splendid view over the surrounding Harz Mountains.

Ballenstedt (5)

The former home of the von Anhalt-Bemburg family enchants visitors to this day with its imaginative design, including the Baroque castle set in a park.

0 km	2
0 miles		2
KEY
Tour route
Other road
= Scenic route
❖ Viewpoint

The Renaissance portal of Ouedlinburg Schloss

Quedlinburg 4

Road map D3. A 26,000. A see 26,000. A see

The rise of the small town of Quedlinburg was closely connected with its convent. established in 936 by Emperor Otto I and his mother. St Mathilde. On the hill above the town stands the vast Romanesque structure of the Stiftskirche St Servatius (Collegiate Church of St Servatius) built between 1017 and 1129. Its old crypt, the Huvsburg, which belonged to the previous church, features Romanesque wall paintings and contains tombs of the prioresses and of the Emperor Henry and his wife Mathilde.

An exhibition of treasures is shown in the arms of the transept, including the Romanesque reliquary of St Servatius and the remaining fragments of the 12th-century Knüpfteppich (tapestry). The Ouedlinburg Schloss.

a Renaissance palace surrounded by gardens, occupies the other side of the hill.

Both Old and New Town of Quedlinburg have valuable examples of timber-frame architecture. The buildings date from various times - the modest house at Wordgasse 3. from around 1400, is the oldest surviving timber-frame building in Germany, Also noteworthy are the numerous churches, including the 10thcentury Norbertinenkirche. the Wippertikirche with its early-Romanesque crypt, and the 15th century, late-Gothic Marktkirche St Benedicti

Bernburg 6

Once the capital of one of Anhalt's Duchies, Bernburg enjoys a picturesque location on the banks of the Saale River. It has a Bergstadt (upper town) and a Talstadt (lower town), and its attractions include the Gothic parish churches and the town square with its Baroque buildings. The most important historic building is the Bernburg Schloss, a castle built on a rock. It owes its present appearance to refurbishments (1540–70), yet many features of this multi-wing structure are much older, including the 12th-century Romanesque chapels and Gothic towers.

Burg Giebichenstein, in Halle, with the Arts and Crafts College

Halle 6

Road map D4. (A) 232,300. (2) was Marktplatz 13 (0345-47 23 30). (3) Händel-Festspiele (Jun); Hallesche Musiktage (Nov).

Halle is an old town with a rich history in commerce and trade, its wealth founded on the production and sale of salt. Later, the town was turned into a centre for the chemical industry. Halle has preserved most of its historic heritage. On the Marktplatz (town square) stands an interesting church. Unser Lieben Frauen (Our Dear Lady), whose late-Gothic main body (1530-54) was positioned between two pairs of towers that had remained intact from previous Romanesque churches. Nearby is the Roter Turm (Red Tower), an 84-m (276 ft) tall belfry, built in 1418-1506. The house at Nikolaistraße 5, the birthplace of Georg Friedrich Händel. now houses a small museum the Händel-Haus In Domplatz stands the early-Gothic Dom. built in 1280–1331 by the Dominicans and restored between 1525 and 1530 in Renaissance style, and elevated to the rank of cathedral. Inside there is an interesting pulpit dating from 1525, and the statues of saints situated by Peter Schroh's pillars.

The impressive Bernburg Schloss, built on a rock

Renaissance residence in Merseburg

Halle has some other medieval churches, including the late-Gothic Moritzkirche built in the latter part of the 14th century. It is also worth visiting the Staatliche Galerie. housed in the refurbished Citadel building known as Moritzburg and built during 1484-1503. On the outskirts of town stands Burg Giebichenstein, the former castle residence of the Magdeburg bishops. The upper part of the castle remains in ruins. while the lower part houses an Arts & Crafts College.

Friedemann-Bach-Platz 5. Tel (0345) 21 25 90. 11am–8:30pm Tue, 10am–6pm Wed–Sun & public holidays. 14 free last Sun of month.

Merseburg •

Road map D4. 🔼 40,000. 📮 🚃

The first sight visitors see as they arrive in Merseburg is the Domburg – a vast complex of buildings spiked with towers. consisting of a cathedral and residential premises. The cathedral is not uniform in style: it includes some Romanesque elements (the eastern section and twin towers in the west) erected in the 11th and 12th centuries and the late-Gothic triplenave main body, which was built in 1510-17 All that remains of the older, early-Romanesque structure is the crypt, underneath the presbytery. The cathedral contains remarkable Gothic and Renaissance features, as well as numerous sarcophagi of bishops, such as that of Thilo von Troth (1470). The chapter buildings house a library with precious manuscripts, including the Merseburg Bible (c. 1200). Adjacent to the cathedral is a three-wing Renaissance-style Schloss. Magnificent portals and an attractive oriel in the castle's west wing are noteworthy.

Ouerfurt 6

Road map D4. 🖟 11,000. 🚃

The narrow streets of Ouerfurt are crammed with timberframe houses and the giant Schloss towers over the town square with its Renaissance town hall. The castle's present form is the result of Renaissance refurbishments, but it maintains many Romanesque features, such as the 11thcentury donion (keep). known as Dicker Heinrich (Fat Henry) and a 12thcentury church. Also worth seeing is the burial chapel. the Baroque Fürstenhaus (ducal house) and a small museum, situated in the former armoury and granary.

Naumburg 9

Road map D4. 🚮 30,500. 💂 🚃

Markt 12 (03445-27 31 12).

www.naumburg-tourismus.de

Hussiten-Kirsch-Fest (Jun).

The town's star attraction is the Dom (cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul see pp150–51). There is a late-Gothic Rathaus (town hall), restored in Renaissance style, and the main square is surrounded by quaint houses. Further attractions include the Marientor gate (1455–6) with the puppet theatre, and the Gothic Stadtkirche St. Wenzel

(Church of St Wenceslas). The latter has two paintings by Lucas Cranach the Elder as well as the 18th-century organ that Johann Sebastian Bach played on. Friedrich Nietzsche, the philosopher, spent his childhood at No. 18 Weingarten, now a small museum.

Gothic stone retable of the main altar in Naumburg Dom

Naumburg Dom

The impressive Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul in Naumburg is one of the finest Gothic structures in Germany. The present cathedral is the second to be built on the same site; only a section of the eastern crypt survived of the earlier Romanesque church. Construction started before 1213, with the earliest parts including the late-Romanesque east choir, the transept and the main body. The early-Gothic west choir was built in the mid-13th century, the newer Gothic east choir c.1330. The northeast towers date from the 15th century, the southwest towers from 1894.

Stained-glass Windows in the Presbytery

The stained-glass windows depict scenes of the apostles of virtue and sin. Some sections are original 13th-century work, but two were completed in the 19th century.

★ Founders' Statues

The statues of Margrave Ekkehard and his wife, Uta, are true masterpieces – the artist succeeded marvellously in capturing the beauty and sensitivity of his subjects.

- ★ Founders' Statues
- ★ Portal of the West Reading Room
- ★ Main Portal

★ Portal of the West Reading Room The Gothic twin portal de picts the Cruc fixion, a mov and highly ex group sculptul byilliant "Na

West

twin portal depicts the Crucifixion, a moving and highly expressive group sculpture by the brilliant "Naumburger Meister" whose identity remains unknown.

Pulpit

The richly ornamented pulpit basket, from 1466, and the adjoining stairs bave recently been renovated.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Domplatz 16–17. Tel (03445) 23 01 10. Mar–Oct: 9am–6pm Mon–Sat, noon–6pm Sun; Nov–Feb: 10am–4pm Mon–Sat, noon–4pm Sun.

St Mary's Altar

This late-Gothic triptych (c.1510) depicts the Virgin Mary with the Infant, framed by Saints Barbara and Catherine, with the Apostles in the wings.

Sarcophagus of Bishop Dietrich II

> East choir

East Choir Altar

This Gothic altar features the Virgin Mary with the Infant Jesus, surrounded by the figures of the saints.

from another altar.

The late-Romanesque, 13th-century portal is decorated on the left side with eagles. The tympanum features Christ in a mandorla (almondshaped area) supported by angels.

Interior of the Gothic presbytery in the Magdeburg Dom

Magdeburg **©

Road map D3. 🔝 235,000. 😭 📻 First-Reuter-Allee 12 (0391-54 04 903). 🐼 Jazzfestival (lun), Klassik-Open Air (lul). www.magedeburgtourist.de

The large-scale development of Magdeburg, today the capital of Saxony-Anhalt and a port on the river Elbe. began in the 10th century when Emperor Otto I established his main residence here. In medieval times the town became a political and cultural centre. Following the abolition of the archbishopric and the destruction wrought by the Thirty Years' War, it lost its political importance. About 80 per cent was destroyed during World War II. but it is still worth a visit since many historic buildings have been reconstructed in the Old Town.

⊞ Dom St Mauritius und St Katharina

Domplatz. Tel (0391) 534 61 59. ☐ Mon-Sun.

The vast Magdeburg cathedral is one of the most important Gothic churches in Germany. Its construction which started in 1209 on the site of an earlier Romanesque church, was completed in 1520, although much of it was built by the mid-14th century. The result is a lofty, aisled basilica with transept, cloisters, a ring of chapels surrounding the presbytery and a vast twintower facade. The cathedral has several magnificent. original sculptures. Other notable features include the tomb of Emperor Otto I, as well as the 12thcentury bronze tomb plagues of archbishops Friedrich von Wettin and Wichmann, The memorial for the dead of World War I is the work of Ernst Barlach, dating from 1929. Visitors to the cathedral may notice several elements that were preserved from ancient structures and have been incorporated into the walls or used as ornaments inside.

the building.

★ Kulturhistorisches ★ Museum Otto-von-Guericke-Str. 68–73.

Tel (0391) 540 35 01. ☐ 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. ☐ This museum contains works of art, archaeological finds and historic documents of the town. Its most valuable exhibit is the Magdeburger Reiter (Magdeburg Rider), a sculpture dating from around Regierungsstr. 4–6.

1240 of an unknown ruler on a horse (probably Otto I).

Kunstmuseum Tel (0391) 56 50 20.

10 10am—Spm Tue—Sun.

This Austere Romanesque church, Magdeburg's oldest building, was built for the Norbertine order during the second half of the 11th and the early 12th centuries.

Stripped of all its ornaments, it now serves as a concert hall. The adjacent Romanesque abbey is a museum with medieval and modern sculptures (Barlach, Rodin).

Halle an der Buttergasse

Alter Markt. Weinkeller Buttergasse. The basement of a late-Romanesque market hall from c.1200 was rediscovered in 1948, and is used today as a wine cellar.

Rathaus

Alter Markt.

The present Baroque town hall, built in 1691-8 on the site of an earlier, late-Romanesque town hall, was restored after World War II.

♠ Pfarrkirche St Johannis

Am Johannisberg 1. Viewing tower Tel (0391) 540 21 26. Mar-Oct: 10am-6pm Tue-Sun: Nov-Feb: 10–5pm. 🔣 The ruins of this church, near the market square, are the remains of the Gothic church of St John, which was destroyed during World War II In 1524 Martin Luther preached here.

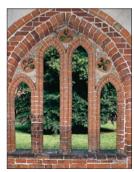

Stendal @

Road map D3. A 39,600.

Kornmarkt 8
(03931-65 11 90).

In medieval times Stendal was one of the richest towns of the Brandenburg margravate, and its most valuable historical remains date from that period. The late-Gothic St Nikolai cathedral was built in 1423–67, on the foundations of a Romanesque Augustinian church. Its star attractions are 15th-century stained-glass windows in the presbytery and the transept.

The late-Gothic, 15th-century church St Marien (St Mary) has some original Gothic elements, and the oldest parts of the Rathaus (town hall) date back to the 14th century. Other attractions include the remains of the town walls, with a beautiful tower, Uenglinger Torturm.

Gothic traceries of the cloisters in the Dom, Havelberg

Havelberg @

Road map D3. A 7,000. E 1 Uferstr. 1. (039387-79 091).

Havelberg played an important role in the Christianization of this region, with a mission episcopate established here as early as the mid-10th century. The present cathedral – Dom St Marien – was built in 1150–70, and although redesigned in the early 14th century, it nevertheless maintained its Romanesque character. Its most interesting features include huge stone candelabra taken from the former reading room, dating back to around 1300, and the present reading room, which is decorated with reliefs carved in the workshop of the Parler Family, in Prague, between 1396 and 1411.

Back of the Gothic Rathaus in the market square in Tangermünde

Tangermünde 🛭

Road map D3. A 10,000. A 55 Markt 2 (039322-223 93).

Situated at the confluence of the Tanger and Elbe rivers, this town grew rapidly during medieval times. For centuries it remained the seat of the Brandenburg margraves, and King Charles IV chose it as his second residence. The town joined the Hanseatic League, and grew in status thanks to its trade links.

The present Rathaus (town hall) has lovely timber-frame architecture. Today it houses the municipal museum.

The only remains of the old castle are its main tower and the Kanzlei (chancellery). In 1377, King Charles IV brought the Augustinian monks to town and had the St Stephanskirche (church of St Stephen) built for them. Construction continued until the end of the 15th century. This magnificent, late-Gothic hall church with transept and cloister contains interesting features: a 1624 organ made in the Hamburg workshop of Hans Scherer the Younger, the 1619 pulpit created by Christopher Dehne and a font dating from 1508, the work of Heinrich Mente.

The east wing of the beautiful Gothic Rathaus (town hall) dates back to 1430 and is the work of Heinrich Brunsberg, its richly ornamented spire being typical of his work. The west wing with its arcades was added around 1480, and the external stairs date from the 19th century.

Tangermünde has retained some remains of the city walls, dating from around 1300 and including a magnificent late-Gothic gate, the Neustädter Tor, whose tall, cylindrical tower has intricate, lacy ceramic ornaments.

Rathaus (Stadtgeschichtliches Museum)
Markt. Tel (039322) 42 153.

15 Feb-Nov 10am-5pm Tue-Sun.

Environs

A Romanesque Klosterkirche (abbey) in Jerichow, 10 km (6 miles) north of Tangermünde, is the earliest brick structure of the region. It was built in the 1150s, for Norbertine monks. The west towers were completed during the 15th century. Its austere, triple-nave vaulted interior is impressive. There are also many remains of the former abbey.

Interior of the former Norbertinenkirche, in Jerichow, north of Tangermünde

Dessau @

Road map E3. 🔝 84,400. 💂 🚃

Zerbster Str. 2c (0340-204 14
42). 🥂 Kurt-weill-fest (late Feb–Mar). www.dessau.de

Dessau, once a magnificent city and the capital of the duchy of Anhalt-Dessau, is less attractive today, yet it has some excellent historic sights. In the town centre are some interesting Baroque churches and the Johannbau, the remains of a Renaissance ducal residence

Dessau is also known for the Bauhaus complex. Built in 1925 to a design by Walter Gropius, it is the home of the famous art school, which moved here from Weiman The Bauhausmuseum is housed in one of its wings. Nearby, in Friedrich-Ebert-Allee five of the so-called Meisterhäuser – master houses for the Art College professors - have survived World War II. The houses of Lyonel Feininger and Paul Klee are open to the public. Wassily Kandinsky was also a former resident. The Kornhaus on Elballee restored in 1996, contains a restaurant. café and dance hall

Many splendid residences set in landscaped gardens were built in 18th- and 19th-century Dessau. In the town centre stands a Neo-Classical palace, Schloss Georgium, built in 1780 to a design by Friedrich Wilhelm von Erdmannsdorff. Today it houses a collection of old masters, including works by Rubens, Hals and Cranach.

☐ Bauhausmuseum
Gropiusallee 38. Tel (0340) 65 08
250. ☐ 10am–6pm daily. [6]

♣ Schloss GeorgiumPuschkinallee 100. Tel (0340) 61 38
74. ↑ 10am–5pm Tue–Sun.

Environs

Haldeburg, which is situated on the outskirts of Dessau, has a Neo-Gothic hunting lodge built in 1782–3, and Mosigkau boasts Schloss Mosigkau, Princess Anna Wilhelmina's Baroque residence, designed by Christian Friedrich Damm. It contains some excellent examples of 17th-century painting.

In Oranienbaum, 12 km (7 miles) east of Dessau, stands a late-17th-century, early-Baroque palace that was built for Princess Henrietta Katharine of Orange by the Dutch architect Cornelius Ryckwaert.

♣ Schloss Mosigkau Knobelsdorffallee 2. Tel (0340) 52 11 39. ☐ Apr-Oct: 11am-5pm Tue-Sun; May-Sep: 10am-6pm

Tue-Sun. Dec-Mar. 🜠 😹

Lutherstadt Wittenberg ®

Road map E3. M 55,000. R Schlossplatz 2 (03491-41 48 48). Wittenberger Stadtfest & Luthers Hochzeit (Jun). www.wittenberg.de

This small town, named after its most famous resident, Martin Luther, enjoys a scenic position on the banks of the Elbe River. Its main development took place during the 16th century, under the Great Elector, Frederick the Wise. Wittenberg became the capital of the Reformation thanks to the work of Martin Luther and Philipp Melanchthon, and as such it attracts many visitors. Another famous resident of that period was the painter Lucas Cranach the Elder.

♣ Schloss Wittenberg
Schlossplatz. Museum für
Naturkunde und Völkerkunde (Museum of Natural History and Ethnography) Tel (03491) 43 34
920. ☐ 9am-5pm Tue-Sun. ☑
Built for Frederick the Wise in 1489–1525, the castle was greatly altered during reconstruction following fire and wartime damage. A museum is housed in the west wing.

The tomb of Frederick the Wise, in Schlosskirche

♠ Schlosskirche

Schlossplatz. Tel (03491) 40 25 85.

May-Oct: 10am-6pm Mon-Sat,
11:30-6pm Sun; Nov-Apr:10am4pm Mon-Sat, 11:30am-4pm Sun.

Built after 1497, this church was made famous by Martin Luther, who allegedly posted his theses on its door in 1517. The original door no longer exists, but the church contains many interesting tombs, including that of Frederick the Wise, created in 1527 in the workshop of Hans Vischer, as well as modest tombs of Martin Luther and Melanchthon.

Schloss Georgium in Dessau

The market square with Baroque fountain, in Lutherstadt Wittenberg

Cranachhaus

Markt 4. Tel (03491) 420 19 17. 10am–5pm Mon–Sat (from 1pm Sun). Nov-Apr. Mon.

This beautiful, early 16th-century Renaissance house once belonged to Lucas Cranach the Elder and was the birthplace of his son, Lucas Cranach the Younger. His studio was located at No. 1 Schlossstraße.

Rathaus

Markt 26. until further notice. The Renaissance town hall was built in 1523–35, and later twice extended in the 16th century. In its forecourt are two 19th-century monuments: to Martin Luther by Gottfried Schadow and to Philipp Melanchthon by Friedrich Drake.

Marienkirche

Kirchplatz. Tel (3491) 40 44 15.

May-Oct: 10am-5pm daily;
Nov-Apr: 10am-4pm daily.
The Gothic church of St Mary with its twin-tower façade was built in stages, between the 13th and 15th centuries. Luther was married to Katharina von Bora in this church where he also preached, and six of their children were baptised. Inside there is a magnificent Reformation altar (constructed in 1547), the work of father and son Cranach, as well as interesting tombs and epitaphs.

Melanchthonhaus

Collegienstr. 60. Tel (03491) 40 32 79. Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm daily; Nov-Mar: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. This museum is devoted to Luther's closest ally, Philipp Schwarzerd, generally known as Melanchthon.

Lutherhalle

Collegienstr. 54. Tel (03491) 42 030.

same as Melanchthonhaus.

The museum, which is in the former residence of Martin Luther and his family, also chronicles the work of Lucas Cranach the Elder. It has a large number of documents relating to the Reformation and Luther's translation of the Bible.

Wörlitz Park 6

Wörlitz is a charming, English-style landscaped garden, the first of its kind in continental Europe. It was established in stages, commencing in 1764, for Prince Leopold III, Frederick Franz of Anhalt-Dessau. Many famous gardeners worked in Wörlitz, including Johann Friedrich Eyserbeck and Johann Leopold Ludwig Schoch, as well as the architect Friedrich Wilhelm von Erdmannsdorff. In its centre stands a Neo-Classical palace, holding a collection of paintings. Another interesting collection, including stained-glass paintings, can be admired in the Gotisches Haus

Floratempel

SCHOCHS

Modelled on an ancient temple with columns, this Neo-Classical temple served as a music pavilion.

SCHOCHS

★ Gotisches Haus

This country bouse, built in stages, is one of the earliest examples of German Neo-Gothic style. It now bouses a collection of stainedglass paintings.

Rousseau-Insel,

lined with poplars, was modelled on Ermenonville, the island where the French philosopher was first buried.

Rosen-Insel

Rose island was created as one of several artificial islands in the part of the garden designed by Johann Christian Neumark.

gondolas wait by the jetties to take tourists across the lake and to the islands.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

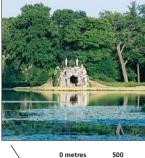

Förstergasse 26 (0349 05-202 16); www.woer-litz-information.de Schloss
Apr–Oct: 10am–5pm
Tue–Sun; May–Sep: 10am–6pm
Tue–Sun; M

Lake Concert

Classical concerts are beld on Wörlitz Lake in the evening during the summer season. The audience is all afloat in boats.

Amalien-Insel

In keeping with the fashion of the day, this artificial island, on Großes Walloch lake, has a grotto, which provides a cool resting place.

0 yards

WEIDEN-HEGER

The Pantheon, built in 1795–6, houses a collection of antique sculptures.

500

NEUE ANLAGEN

Wörlitzer See

The largest of the three lakes, which are all joined by canals, this is prettiest when the water lilies are in bloom.

> Stein, a working artificial volcano modelled on Mount Vesuvius in Italy, is currently being renovated.

Built in 1790 and modelled on the Vesta Temple in Rome, the synagogue was gutted by the National Socialists in 1938 and now shows a Jewish history exhibit.

STAR FEATURES

- ★ Gotisches Haus
- ★ Synagogue

SAXONY

axony has a long history and is rich in historic sites. Its capital city, Dresden, ranks among the most beautiful and interesting towns in Germany, despite the devastation it suffered during World War II. The region also boasts the enchanting Erzgebirge Mountains and the glorious scenery of "Saxon Switzerland", where the mighty Elbe river runs amid fantastic rock formations.

In the 10th century, Emperor Otto I created an eastern border province (margravate) in the area presently known as Saxony. It quickly grew in size as it expanded into neighbouring territories inhabited by the Polabian Slavs. It was divided and part became the Meissen Margravate, ruled by the powerful house of Wettin from 1089. This dynasty's political power increased when it acquired the Saxon Electorate in 1423; subsequently the entire region under their rule became known as "Saxony".

From 1697 until 1763 Saxony was united with Poland, and the Saxon Great Electors, Frederick Augustus the Strong and his son Frederick Augustus II, were also kings of Poland. During this period Saxony flourished, and Dresden became a major centre of the arts and culture until the Seven Years' War (1756–63) put an end to the region's prosperity. In 1806, Saxony declared itself on the side of Napoleon, and the Great Elector acquired the title of King. But Saxony paid a heavy price for supporting Napoleon – following the Congress of Vienna (1815), the kingdom lost the northern half of its territory to Prussia, and in 1871 it was incorporated into the German Empire. At the end of World War II Saxony was in the Soviet-occupied zone and became part of the GDR in 1949. Since 1990 it has been a state in the Federal Republic of Germany. Saxony is densely populated and in some parts heavily industrialized, but it also has many interesting and unspoiled towns.

The scenic Bastei rocks in Saxon Switzerland

Exploring Saxony

DRESDEN Freital

Prague

Stolpen

12 PIRNA

Coswig Radebeul

8 FREIBERG

Pockau

GETTING AROUND

Leipzig and Dresden both have airports, as well as excellent train and road connections with the rest of Germany. The A6 motorway runs west from Görlitz, through Dresden and Chemnitz; the A13 links Dresden with Berlin, and the A14 with Leipzig. Other roads, national and regional, are clearly sign-posted, and all the towns described in this guide can also be reached by local buses.

Saddle horses grazing on paddocks near Kamenz

Young musicians in the Barockgarten, in Großsedlitz, near Dresden

KEY		1
	Motorway	{
_	Major road	1
_	Minor road
	Under construction	Ý.
	Scenic route
5	Main railway
\rightarrow	Minor railway
	International border Country border
Δ	Summit

Leipzig o

Granted town status in 1165, Leipzig is not only one of Germany's leading commercial towns, but also a centre of culture and learning, with a university founded in 1409. An important centre for the German publishing and book trade, it is the home of the Deutsche Bücherei, the German national library established in 1912. During the Leipziger Messe (autumn and spring trade fairs), it receives a great number of visitors, and it has much to offer in terms of entertainment, including concerts by the renowned Gewandhaus symphony orchestra and the Thomanerchor boys' choir, which boasts Johann Sebastian Bach as a past choirmaster.

Lofty interior of the Neo-Classical

Exploring Leipzig

Most of the interesting sights can be found in the old town encircled by the Ring road, which includes Europe's biggest railway station, the Hauptbahnhof, built in 1902-15 to a design by William Lossow and Max Kühne. The heart of musical Leipzig beats in the eastern part of the old town, around Augustusplatz. Here stands the Neues Gewandhaus (built 1977- 81) and the Opernhaus (built 1959-60). The University Tower nearby is being redesigned.

In Nikolaikirchhof stands the Nikolaikirche (church of St Nicholas). The present church was built during the 16th century, although the lower sections of its north tower date from the 12th century. It has Neo-Classical furnishings. The Alte Handelsbörse (old stock exchange) in Naschmarkt is an early-Baroque building, designed by Johann Georg Starcke. Built in 1678–87 and reconstructed almost from the ground after World War II, it is now a concert hall. In front of the building stands a monument (1903) to Goethe showing him as a student.

In the market square, near the beautiful Renaissance town hall, is the Alte Waage, the old municipal weighhouse, a Renaissance work by Hieronymus Lotter. It was built in 1555 and reconstructed in 1964 following damage in World War II.

The area to the south of the town square is taken up by a block of trade fair buildings. The most interesting are the beautifully restored Specks Hof (Reichestraße/Nikohinstraße), the oldest arcade in Leipzig with three enclosed courts built between 1908 and 1929, and Mädlerpassage. built in 1912-14, a Modernist commercial building with a three-tier passageway connecting Grimmaische Straße and Naschmarkt. Beneath it is the Auerbachs Keller, magnificent, 16th-century vaults, immortalized by Goethe in Faust and featuring a room bearing his name. The (Klostergasse/Grimmaische Straße) and the Riquet Café, a fine Viennese-style coffee house, are attractive Art Nouveau buildings.

Commerzbank

Lovers of Johann Sebastian Bach's music will wish to visit Thomaskirche, the magnificent late-Gothic church of St Thomas, built in 1482-96 where Bach was the choirmaster from 1723. It now contains the composer's tomb. Worth noting are the beautiful Renaissance galleries built by Hieronymus Lotter, in 1570. The famous Thomanerchor choir still sings at services on Friday evenings and Saturday afternoons, and organ concerts are held in the churches of St Thomas and St Nicholas during the summer months Bach is also commemorated with a monument in front of the church (1908). Nearby. the Bosehaus, a Baroque 17th-century building, is the home of the Bachmuseum. devoted to the composer.

ffi Grassimuseum

Johannisplatz 5–11.

Museum für Völkerkunde
Tel (0341) 97 31 900.

Museum für Angewandte Kunst Tel (0341) 22 29 100. Museum für Musikinstrumente

Tel (0341) 97 30 750. www. grassimuseum.de ☐ Library and museum shop with workshops and lectures. Exhibitions 10am–6pm Tue–5un, 10am–8pm Thu. The Grassimuseum is one of Germany's greatest museum complexes, housing three complexes, housing three fascinating collections: the Museum für Völkerkunde (ethnography) with exhibits from around the world; the Museum für Musikinstrumente (musical instruments) with a magnificent collection, including the world's oldest surviving clavichord, and the Museum für Angewandte (decorative arts) with its stunning gold and ivory ornaments, as well as the valuable town treasury.

The early-Baroque pavilion of the Alte Handelsbörse, the old stock exchange

The Russische Kirche, a pastiche of the churches in Novgorod

nd Schriftmuseum

Deutscher Platz 1. Tel (0341) 227 13 24. 9am-4pm Mon-Sat. This museum is devoted to the history of German literature. It contains rare manuscripts and old prints.

Katharinenstr. 10 (Sachsenplatz).

Tel (0341) 216 99 14. ☐ 10am-6pm
Tue & Thu-Sun, noon-8pm Wed.
The Leipzig fine art museum has an excellent collection of German masters, including

Lucas Cranach the Elder, Martin Schongauer and Caspar David Friedrich, as well as other magnificent European paintings. There are canvases by Jan van Eyck, Rubens, Frans Hals, Tintoretto and sculptures by Balthasar Permoser, Antonio Canova and Auguste Rodin.

♠ Russische Kirche

Philipp-Rosenthal-Str. 51a.

Tel (0341) 878 14 53.
10am-5pm daily (to 4pm in winter).

The Russian Orthodox Church of St Alexius was built in 1912–13 to commemorate the 22,000 Russian soldiers who died in 1813, in the Battle of the Nations. The architect, Vladimir Pokrowski, based his design on the churches of Novgorod in Russia.

TVÖlkerschlachtdenkmal

Prager Str. Tel (0341) 878 04 71.

Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm daily,
Nov-Mar: 10am-4pm daily.

This giant, Teutonic-style monument is the work of Bruno Schmitz. Completed for the centenary of the 1813
Battle of the Nations, which pitched the combined Prussian, Austrian and Russian armies against Napoleon, it now houses a museum.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map E4. 4 493,000.
Flughafen Leipzig-Halle.
Willy-Brandt-Platz.
Tel (0341) 224 11 55 & 22 40.
Richard-Wagner-Str. 1 (0341-710 42 60). U Leipziger
Buchmesse (Mar); Leipziger
Orgelsommer (Jul-Aug); Internationaler Johann-Sebastian-Bach
Wettbewerb (Jul); Leipziger
Jazztage (Oct). www.leipzig.de

Altes Rathaus

Markt 1. Tel (0341) 261 77 60.

Museum für Geschichte der Stadt Leipzig ☐ 10am-6pm Tue-Sun.
The grand Renaissance town hall, built in 1556 to a design by Hieronymus Lotter, is now the home of the municipal museum. One room is devoted to Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, who conducted the symphony orchestra from 1845 until his death in 1847.

Bacharchive und Bachmuseum

Thomaskirchhof 15–16. Tel (0341) 913 72 00. ☐ 10am–5pm daily. This museum houses archives and documents relating to the life and works of the composer, J. S. Bach.

Doorway of Schloss Hartenfels, with its coat of arms, in Torqau

Torgau 2

This small town, with its scenic location on the Elbe. was once the favourite residence of the Saxon Electors. Its main square is surrounded by attractive houses of various styles, in particular Renaissance The Renaissance Rathaus (town hall), built in 1561-77, has a lovely semicircular oriel. Other old town attractions include the Marienkirche, a late-Gothic church with an extended Romanesque west section. The interior has many original features, including a painting by Lucas Cranach the Elder, The Fourteen Helpers, and the tomb of Luther's wife. Katharina von Bora, who died in Torgau.

The main historic building in Torgau is the Renaissance Schloss Hartenfels, built on the site of a 10th-century castle. Its courtyard is surrounded by clusters of residential wings, including the late-Gothic Albrechtspalast built in 1470-85, the Johann-Friedrich-Bau (1533-6) with its beautiful external spiral staircase and the early-Baroque west wing (1616-23). The Schlosskapelle (castle chapel), which was consecrated by Martin Luther in 1544, is considered to be one of the oldest churches built for Protestants.

Muldetal a

Road map E4.

Several magnificent old castles nestle in the scenic hills at the confluence of two rivers – the Zwickauer Mulde and the Freiberger Mulde. In the small town of Colditz, with its timber-frame houses, lovely Renaissance town hall and Gothic church of St Egidien, stands a huge Gothic castle built in 1578–91 on the site of an 11th-century castle. During World War II it was a famous prisoner-of-war camp known as Oflag IVC.

In Rochlitz, 11 km (7 miles) south of Colditz, stands another large castle, built in stages from the 12th to the 16th centuries. Travelling further south you will encounter other castles: the Wechselburg, a reconstructed Baroque castle featuring a late-Romanesque collegiate church, as well as the Renaissance castle in Rochsburg. In the neighbouring Zschopau valley stands the magnificent. oval Burg Kriebstein, built in stages and completed in the late 14th century. This fortress houses a small museum and concert hall, and medieval music concerts are held here during the summer.

Zwickau 4

An old commercial town, Zwickau flourished in the 15th and 16th centuries. Today it is known for the Trabant cars that were produced here during the GDR era. Almost all the town's attractions can be found in the old town, on the banks of the Zwickauer Mulde river and encircled by the Ring road The most important historic building in the town is the Dom St Marien (cathedral of St Mary), a magnificent late-Gothic hall-church built 1453-1537 Preserved to this day are its original main altar dating from 1479, the work of Michael Wolgemut, the grand architectural Holv Tomb of Michael Heuffner, dating from 1507 as well as a Renaissance font and a pulpit of 1538 both by Paul Speck.

Also worth visiting in the old town are the Old Pharmacy, the Schumann-Haus, the composer's birthplace (1810), and the Renaissance Gewandhaus (cloth house), once the seat of the Drapers' Guild and now a theatre.

Chemnitz 6

Road map E4. A 260,000. Georgstr. A Markt 1 (0371-19 433).

After World War II, when 90 per cent of its buildings had been reduced to rubble, the town was rebuilt in the

Gate of the Renaissance pulpit in the Dom St Marien, in Zwickau

Lew Kerhel's monument to Karl Mary at the Stadthalle in Chemnitz

Socialist-Realist style and renamed Karl-Marx-Stadt Only a handful of historic buildings escaped destruction. The most interesting among these is the Schlosskirche the former Benedictine abbey church St Maria, on the edge of a lake, built at the turn of the 15th and 16th centuries.

Sights in the town centre include the reconstructed Altes Rathaus (old town hall) the Gothic Roter Turm (red tower) and remains of fortifications. In the main square is the reconstructed Baroque Siegertsches Haus, originally built in 1737-41 to a design by Johann Christoph Naumann. The new town centre is dominated by the vast Stadthalle (city hall) with Lew Kerbel's 1971 monument to Karl Marx. The König-Albert-Kunstsammlungen has a museum of natural history and a fine arts collection, including works by Karl Schmidt-Rottluff.

Kunstsammlungen

Theaterplatz 1. Tel (0371) 488 44 24. noon-7pm Tue-Fri, 11am-7pm Sat, Sun. 🚳

Augustusburg 6

Road map E4. A 5,000 = 1 Marienberger Str. 24 (037291-395 50). Schloss Apr-Oct: 9:30am-6pm daily, Nov-Mar: 10am-5pm daily.

The small town is insignificant compared with the vast palace complex bearing the same name. The best way to get there is by cable car. from Frdmannsdorf This Renaissance hunting palace was built for the Great Elector Augustus in 1567–72 on the site of the former Schloss Schellenberg, which had been destroyed by fire. Constructed under Hieronymus Lotter and Erhard van der Meer it is a symmetrical square building with towered pavilions at each corner. ioined by galleries, gates and a chapel to the east, with an altar by Lucas Cranach the Younger, Today the palace houses several museums devoted to motorcycles. coaches and hunting.

Sächsische Silberstraße

See pp166-7.

Road map F4. 8 45.000. Burastr. 1 (03731-236 02). Bergstadtfest (Jun).

Development of this mining town was due to the discovery of silver deposits, and Freiberg was granted town status in 1186. It escaped World War II with remarkably little damage.

Today its attractions include the reconstructed old town and many historic buildings. the gem among them being the Dom St Marien (cathedral) This late-Gothic hallchurch, erected at the end of the 15th century, features a magnificent main portal, the Goldene Pforte, dating from 1225-30. Inside are many original items, such as a tulinshaped pulpit (1505), two Baroque organs by Gottfried Silbermann and many sculptures and epitaphs

When visiting nearby Untermarkt. it is worth going to the Stadt-und Bergbaumuseum (municipal and mining museum) which explains the history of mining in the area, as well as the collection of minerals at the Mineralien-und Lagerstättensammlung der

Freibera

Bergakademie A stroll along the winding streets will take the visitor to Obermarkt, where the 15th-century Gothic town hall, a fountain with the statue. of the town's founder and attractive houses can be seen

TOOM St Marien Untermarkt 1. Goldene Pforte Tel (03731) 225 98. May-Oct: 10 & 11am, 2, 3 & 4pm daily; Nov-Apr 11am. 2 & 3pm daily. Organ presentation 11:30am Sun.

ff Stadt-und Bergbaumuseum Am Dom 1. Tel (03731) 202 50.

10am-5pm Tue-Sun. Mineralien-und Lagerstättensammlung der Bergakademie Brennhausgasse 14. Tel (03731) 39 22 64. 9am-noon & 1–4pm Wed-Fri. 9am-4pm Sat

Façade of the Renaissance Schloss Augustusburg

Sächsische Silberstraße

The Saxon silver route, through the Erzgebirge (mineral ore mountains), takes the visitor to some of the most interesting and scenic places of the region. Silver was mined here from the 12th century, and mining traditions have been preserved to this day. Small towns entice visitors with their interesting parish churches, former mining settlements. museums and disused mines.

Schneeberg ①

A small mining town, which to this day cultivates its art and crafts traditions, Schneeberg is also famous for the St Wolfgangkirche, with an altar masterpiece by Lucas Cranach the Elder.

Annaberg-Buchholz ③

Although the town enjoyed only a brief spell of prosperity in the 16th century, its church from that period, St Annen, ranks among the most beautiful examples of late-Gothic architecture in Saxony.

This important wintersports resort, close to the Czech border and at the foot of the Fichtelberg, offers a ski-jump, downhill ski runs and toboggan runs.

Marienberg 6

This small town, with its wonderful Renaissance town hall, is known mainly for the production of furniture.

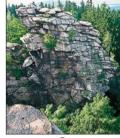

Suggested route

— Other road

Scenic route
State boundary

* Viewpoint

Greifensteine (5)

Fantastic, craggy rock formations in the north of the region, shaped like an amphitheatre, attract rockclimbers and hill-walkers.

Frohnau 4

The biggest attraction of this town is its old forge, featuring the Frohnauer Hammer, a huge original hammer that remained in use until 1904.

TIPS FOR DRIVERS

Length of the route: 55 km (34 miles).

Stopping points: inns and restaurants in every town.

Meissen

Road map 4E. 36,000. Markt 3 (03521-419 40) Stadt- und Weinfest (Sen) www.stadt-meissen.de Meissen is famous for its porcelain manufacture. Its history began in 929, when Henry I made it the bridgehead for his expansion to the east into Slav territories In 966 Meissen became the capital of the newly established Meissen Margravate, and in 968 a bishopric.

This town has retained much of its charm. In the town square is the late-Gothic Rathaus (town hall) built in 1472-8, some beautiful Renaissance houses and the Frauenkirche a late-Gothic 15th-century church boasting the world's oldest porcelain carillon which was hung here in 1929. It is also worth taking a stroll to St Afra's church. built in the 13th century for the Augustian monks.

★ Albrechtsburg Domplatz 1. Tel (03521) 47 070.

Mar-Oct: 10am-6pm daily. Nov–Feb: 10am–5pm dailv. ■ 10-31 Jan. 🐼 The Albrechtsburg is a vast. fortified hilltop complex with a cathedral and an Elector's palace. The latter was built in 1471–89 for the Wettin brothers. Ernst and Albrecht. Designed by Arnold von Westfalen, its special feature is the magnificent external spiral staircase. From 1710 the palace was used as a porcelain factory. It was restored to its

The Baroque hunting lodge in Moritzburg

former glory in 1864. Huge wall paintings of this period, showing historical scenes, are the work of Wilhelm Römann. The cathedral church of St John the Evangelist and St Donat. built from the mid-13th century to the early 15th century, has some splendid early-Gothic sculptures an altar by Lucas Cranach the Elder in the Georgskapelle and ducal tombs in the Fürstenkapelle.

🚾 Staatliche Porzellan. Manufaktur

Talstraße 9 Tel (03521) 46 87 00 Mav-Oct: 9am-6pm daily: Nov–Apr: 9am–5pm dailv. The first porcelain factory in Europe was set up in 1710 in the castle and moved to its present premises in 1865. Documents relating to the history of the factory and many interesting examples of its products are on display in the exhibition rooms. Guided tours and demonstrations take the visitor through all the stages of the porcelain manufacturing process.

Road map 4F. 🖪 🔛 Schlossallee 3b. (035207-85 40). M Kammermusikfestival (Aug): Fischzug (Oct)

The first hunting lodge in this marshy region was built in the mid-16th century for Moritz of Saxony The present Schloss Moritzburg is the result of extensive alterations ordered by Augustus the Strong, directed by Matthäus Daniel Pöppelmann, and carried out in 1723-26. The result is a square building, with four cylindrical corner towers. Much of the interior. has survived, including period furnishings and hunting trophies.

Also open to visitors is the 17th-century castle chapel decorated with splendid stucco ornaments. Augustus the Strong ordered the marshes to be drained, and the newly available land to be transformed into landscaped gardens and lakes. The Fasanenschlösschen (little pheasant castle) in the eastern part of the gardens features several interesting Rococo interiors, and also houses a zoological exhibition.

At the end of World War II. the German artist Käthe Kollwitz spent the last years of her life in Moritzburg. The house in which she lived and worked is now the Käthe-Kollwitz-Gedenkstätte.

Schloss Moritzburg

Tel (035207) 8730. Apr-Oct: 10am-5pm daily; Nov-Mar: 10am-4pm Tue-Sun. 🌠

Fasanenschlösschen as above. 🌠 compulsory.

The late-Gothic Rathaus in Meissen

Dresden o

One of Germany's most beautiful cities, Dresden first gained its pre-eminence in the year 1485, when the Albertine Wettins decided to establish their residence here. The town blossomed during the 18th century when it became a cultural centre and acquired many magnificent buildings. Almost all of these, however, were completely destroyed during the night of 13/14 February 1945, when British and American air forces mounted a vast carpet-bombing raid on the city. Today, meticulous restoration work is in progress to return the historic city centre to its former glory, now with renewed effort because of the damage caused by flooding in 2002.

Statue of the Saxon King Johann, in front of the Sächsische Staatsoper

T Sächsische Staatsoper

Theaterplatz 2. Tel (0351) 49 110. Tours Tel (0351) 491 14 96 The imposing, Neo-Renaissance building of the Saxon state opera is one of Dresden's landmarks. It is also known as Semperoper after its creator, the famous architect Gottfried Semper, who designed it twice: the first building, erected in 1838-41, burned down in 1869, the second one was completed in 1878. Reconstruction after World War II dragged on until 1985. The opera house was the venue for many world premieres, including Tannhäuser and The Flying Dutchman by Richard Wagner, as well as many works by Richard Strauss.

In front of the opera, in Theaterplatz, is a monument to the Saxon King Johann, by Johannes Schilling.

₩ Schinkelwache

Theaterplatz. Box office Tel (0351) 491 17 05. 10am-6pm Mon-Fri, 10am-1pm Sat. This small Neo-Classical building, with its sophisticated lines and its immaculate proportions, is the work of the famous Berlin architect, Karl Friedrich Schinkel. It was built between 1830 and 1832.

♠ Hofkirche

Theaterplatz. (Entrance on Schlossplatz). adaily. This monumental Baroque roval church has served as the Catholic Dom (cathedral church) of the Dresden-Meißen Diocese since 1980. The presence of this Catholic church in staunchly Protestant Saxony was dictated by political necessity: in his struggle for the Polish crown, the Elector, Augustus the Strong, was forced to convert to Catholicism. The church was designed by an Italian architect. Gaetano Chiaveri. and built in 1738-51.

The church's interior has two-tier passageways which run from the main nave to the side naves. Rebuilt after World War II, it features a magnificent Rococo pulpit by Balthasar Permoser, a painting by Anton Raphael Mengus entitled Assumption in the main altar, and the vast organ – the last work of Gottfried Silbermann.

Newly renovated Frauenkirche

♠ Frauenkirche

An der Frauenkirche. Tel (0351) 65 60 656. 10am-noon, 1pm-6pm dailv. This giant church, designed by Georg Bähr and built in 1726-43, has been largely restored to its former glory. Once again, the shining, giant dome dominates the city's skyline. Completely destroyed in 1945 by Allied bombing, its shell survived intact, only to collapse later. Reconstruction began in 1993 and is now complete. Notable features include an elegant cupola and, inside, a colourful dome.

Residenzschloss

Taschenberg 2. Temporary exhibitions Tel (0351) 49 14 619. ☐ 10am-6pm Wed-Mon. Hausmannsturm ☐ 10am-6pm Wed-Mon. This former residence of the Façade of a wing of the Residenzschloss, with sgraffito decoration

Wetting family was built in stages from the late 15th to the 17th centuries. It is now restored and houses some of the most beautiful art collections in East Germany, including the world famous Grünes Gewölbe (Green Vaults), a vast collection of royal jewels, gems and table decorations. The Hausmannsturm, which is a tall tower, affords a great view of the Dresden skyline.

₩ Fürstenzug

Augustusstr.

Langer Gang (long walk) is a long building, erected in 1586 –91, which connects the castle with the Johanneum. The elegant facade facing the courtvard is decorated with sgraffito and has shady arcades supported by slim columns. It provided an excellent backdrop for tournaments and parades. The wall facing the street features the so-called Fürstenzug (procession of dukes) – a magnificent, 102 m (111 vd)-long frieze depicting the procession of many Saxon rulers. The frieze was originally created by Wilhelm Walther in 1872-6 using the sgraffito technique, but it was replaced in 1907 by 24,000 Meissen porcelain tiles.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map E4 480,000. Dresden-Klotzsche 15 km (9 miles) from centre. Hauptbahnhof, Wiener Platz (0351-461 37 10). Prager Str. 10–11 (0351-49 19 20); Schinkelwache, Theaterplatz. www.dresden.de Sachsische Dampfschiffahrt, Radebeul, Hertha-Lindner-Str. 10. (0351) 86 60 90. Flottenparade der Sächs. Dampfschiffahrt (May); Elbhangfest (Jun); Stadtfest (Aun): Weihnarhtsmarkt (May-Der)

① Verkehrsmuseum

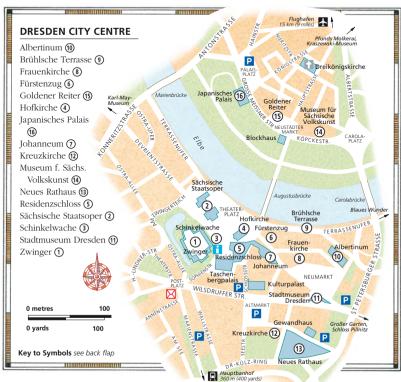

Augustusstr. 1. Tel (0351) 86 440.

☐ 10am – 5pm Tue – 5un.

This late 16th-century Renaissance building, originally designed as royal stables by Paul Buchner, was refurbished in the mid-18th century and housed first a gallery of paintings, later an armoury and a porcelain collection. Since 1956 it has been a museum of transport, with old trams, locomotives, a collection of vintage cars and models of famous German ships.

Fragment of the Fürstenzug, outside Langer Gang

Rrühlsche Terrasse

Brühlsche Terrasse

Once part of the town's fortifications, this attractive terrace subsequently lost its military importance and was transformed into magnificent gardens by Heinrich von Brühl after whom it is named Offering splendid views over the River Elbe, it was known as "the balcony of Europe". There are several great buildings on the terraces – the first one seen from Schlossplatz is the Neo-Renaissance Landtag (parliament building): next to it is a small Neo-Baroque building, the Secundogenitur library built for the second generation of Brühls, now a popular café; this is followed by the Kunstakademie (art academy), known as Zitronenpresse (lemon squeezer) because of its ribbed glass dome. Among the statues and monuments on the terrace are works by the sculptor Ernst Rietschel, the architect Gottfried Semper and the painter Caspar David Friedrich.

Albertinum

Brühlsche Terrasse Tel (0351) 491 45 90 Galerie Neue Meister closed for renovation until 2009. Originally a royal arsenal, the Albertinum was rebuilt in its current Neo-Renaissance style in the 1880s by Carl Adolf Canzler. Forty years earlier, Bernhard von Lindenau had donated his considerable fortune to the city to set up a collection of contemporary art, which was then housed in the Albertinum. Today, the building houses a number of magnificent collections. That of the Galerie Neue Meister. which was established in the mid-19th century, contains paintings from the 19th and 20th centuries, including

Secundogenitur library on Brühlsche Terrasse

Two Women on Tahiti, Paul Gauguin, 1892, in the Albertinum works by the German Impressionists Lovis Corinth and Max Liebermann, land-scapes by Caspar David Friedrich, canvases by the Nazarine group of painters and works by European masters such as Edgar Degas, Paul Gauguin, Vincent van Gogh, Édouard Manet and Claude Monet. The Skulpturensammlung (on display turensammlung (on display at the Zwinger (see p174–5) throughout the renovation work) is a small collection of sculptures, including remarkable works by Balthasar

Permoser. The most famous of the collections is the Grünes Gewölbe (green (green The Goldener Reiter vaults), a vast in the new town collection of royal jewels and other precious items. The Albertinum is closed for renovation until 2009.

♠ Kreuzkirche

An der Kreuzkirche. Tel (0351) 439 39 20. Summer:

10am–6pm Mon–Fri; winter:

10am–4pm Mon–Fri. Tower

10am-5pm daily.
The present
Baroque/NeoClassical church was built in 1764–92 to a design by Johann
Georg Schmidt. To commemorate the shelling in World War II, the interior has not been fully restored. The Cross of Nails from the ruins of Coventry Cathedral in England creates a powerful symbolic link between the two countries.

Goldener Reiter

Neustädter Markt.
The Neustadt (new town),
on the right bank of the Elbe, lost much of its former glory through destruction in World War II. Visitors may therefore be surprised to come across this glistening, gilded equestrian statue of Augustus the Strong in the middle of a square, at the end of the plane treelined Hauptstraße.

The monument.

which is the work of Jean Joseph Vinache, was erected in 1736.

Meues Rathaus

Dr.-Külz-Ring.
The giant Neo-Renaissance new town hall, in the southwest of the old town, was erected in 1905–1910. Its round tower (70 m/230 ft), crowned with a gilded statue of Hercules, offers the best view of the old city centre. In the foyer is a large model of the city as planned for 2015.

Museum für Sächsische Volkskunst (Jägerhof)

Köpckestr. 1. Tel (0351) 49 14 45 02. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. This Renaissance hunting lodge on the north bank of the Elbe was built between 1568 and 1613. Its west wing – the only part that escaped destruction – now houses a museum of ethnography with collections of Saxon culture and traditions, especially from the Erzgebirge Mountains.

① Japanisches Palais Palaisplatz Tel (0351) 81 44 50

Museum für Völkerkunde (Museum of Ethnography) 10am-6pm Tue-Sun Landesmuseum für Vorgeschichte (State Museum of Prehistory) 10am-6pm daily. Staatliche Naturhistorische Satitilingen Dresden 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. Originally the Dutch Palais. this three-wing structure was built in 1715. It was extended in 1729-31, by Zacharias Longuelune, for Augustus the Strong's Japanese porcelain collection at which time the palace changed its name. The porcelain was never actually housed here, however, and for years the palace served as a library.

TP Pfunds Molkerei

Bautzner Str. 79. Tel (0351) 80.80 80. 10am-6pm Mon-Sat. 10am-3pm Sun. In the 19th-century part of the Neustadt, with its many bars. galleries, pubs and fringe theatres, stands this old dairy founded by Paul Pfund. Its interior is lined with dazzling. multi-coloured tiles, showing Neo-Renaissance motifs relating to the dairy's products. Today there is a shop which offers hundreds of dairy products, as well as a small bar, where visitors can sample the specialities.

Ⅲ Kraszewski-Museum

Nordstr. 28. Tel (0351) 804 44 50.

10am-6pm Wed-Sun.

This small museum is devoted to the life of the Polish writer

The Baroque Schloss Pillnitz, Augustus the Strong's summer residence

Józef Ignacy Kraszewski who, having escaped arrest in Warsaw, settled in Dresden in 1853. Inspired by the town's history, several of his novels (for example Hrabina Cosel, Briibl) are set during the time of Augustus the Strong.

Großer Garten

City centre The history of this great garden goes back to the 17th century, although it has been redesigned several times since. At the park's centre stands an early Baroque palace built in 1678-83 to a design by Johann Georg Starcke. A miniature railway takes visitors to Carolasee, a boating lake. It also stops at the botanical gardens in the northwest section of the park. and at the zoo. The Mosaikbrunnen (mosaic fountain) nearby was designed by Hans Poelzig and built in 1926.

Blaues Wunder

Loschwitz/Blasewitzer Brücke. The suspension bridge which spans the River Elbe in the eastern part of the town is painted blue and nicknamed "blue wonder". Built in 1891–3, its main span is 141.5 m (464 ft) long. The bridge leads to Loschwitz, a neighbourhood in a picturesque location amidst hills, which has many attractive villas and small palaces built in the 19th century.

Schloss Pillnitz

Tel (0351) 261 30. Kunstaewerbemuseum Berapalais May-Oct: 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. Wasserpalais May-Oct: 10am-6pm Wed-Mon. This charming summer residence, on the banks of the Elbe, was built in 1720-23 by Augustus the Strong and designed by Matthäus Daniel Pöppelmann. There are two parallel palaces: the Bergpalais (mountain palace) and the Wasserpalais (water palace), the latter can be reached by stairs directly from the river jetty. Between 1818 and 1826 the two palaces were joined by a third one, the Neues Palais. Today the Bergpalais houses a fascinating crafts museum. The main attraction, however, is the large park, laid out in English and Chinese styles, with an orangery and pavilions.

Marl-May-Museum

Radebeul, Karl-May-Str. 5, Tel (0351) 837 30 10. Mar-Oct: 9am-5:30pm; Nov–Feb: 10am–3:30pm Tue-Sun. 24, 25, 31 Dec, 1 Jan. Radebeul. 5 km (3 miles) northwest of Dresden, is much visited by the fans of Winnteou, a fictional Indian chief, and his friend Old Shatterhand. A museum is devoted to the life and work of the author, Karl May, who lived and died in Radebeul. It also displays May's large collection of Native American costumes and other items.

The suspension bridge across the Elbe River, nicknamed "Blaues Wunder

The Zwinger

The most famous building in Dresden is the Zwinger, a beautiful Baroque structure. Its name means 'intermural', and it was built in the space between the former town fortifications. Commissioned by Augustus the Strong, it was constructed in 1709–32 to a design by Matthäus Daniel Pöppelmann, with the help of the sculptor Balthasar Permoser. Its spacious courtyard, once used to stage tournaments, festivals and firework displays, is completely surrounded by galleries into which are set pavilions and gates. Today it houses several art collections.

Physikalischer Salon A valuable collection of scientific instruments, clocks, sextants and globes, including a 13thcentury Arabic globe of the sky. The salon is closed until 2009.

Mathematisch-

Kronentor

This gate owes its name (crown gate) to the crown positioned on top of its dome.

Main entrance

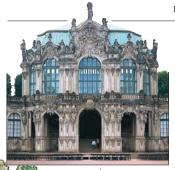

Allegorical figures crown the balustrades.

★ Porzellansammlung

The porcelain collection holds Japanese and Chinese pieces but its centrepiece is a collection of Meissen porcelain, including parts of the stunning Swan Service made for Heinrich Brühl, to a design by Joachim Kaendler.

Glockenspielpavillon

Once known as Stadtpavillon (town pavilion), the name of this building was changed to carillon pavilion when it acquired a carillon with Meissen porcelain bells, in 1924–36.

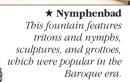

Wallpavillon

A stunning marriage of architecture and sculpture, this Baroque masterpiece is crowned by a statue of Hercules, symbolizing the Elector, Augustus the Strong.

Courtyard

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Sophienstraße/Ostra-Allee/Theaterplatz. Porzellansammlung Tel (0351) 491 42000. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. Mathematisch-Physikalischer Salon Tel 491 42000. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. Rüstkammer Tel 491 42000. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun.

Galerie Alte Meister This gallery of old masters occupies the wing which was added by Gottfried Semper (see pp176–7).

Exhibited in the armoury are magnificent arms, with the best examples dating from the 16th dating from the 16th century, including a suit of armour made for Erik XIV by Eliseus Libaerts in 1562–4.

★ Rüstkammer

STAR FEATURES

- ★ Nymphenbad
- ★ Porzellansammlung
- ★ Rüstkammer

Gemäldegalerie Alte Meister

The Dresden gallery of old masters contains what is considered to be one of Europe's finest art collections. Its core consists of the canvases collected by the Wettin family from the 16th century, but the majority of exhibits were purchased at the order of King Augustus II the Strong and his son Augustus III. It was during that time that the gallery was moved to its own premises – first to the Johanneum and later to its present home in the Zwinger, built by Gottfried Semper in 1847–55.

Feast of Love (c.1717)'
The so-called fête galante is one of many splendid paintings by Antoine Watteau, depicting a flirtatious group in a bark.

2nd floor

Madonna and Infant Triptych (1437) This superb small triptych depicting the Virgin Mary with the Holy Infant, St Catherine and the Archangel St Michael, is one of very few works signed by its creator, Jan van Eyck.

★ Self-Portrait with Saskia (c.1635) This magnificent painting depicting Rembrandt with his wife, Saskia, is considered by some to be a representation of the Prodigal Son of the Bible.

Girl Reading a Letter
(c.1659) This exquisite painting, of a lone woman by the window reading a letter, is among the finest works by Jan Vermeer van Delft.

Main entrance

GALLERY GUIDE

The ground floor has works by Canaletto; the 1st floor has German paintings and 15th to 18th-century European works, and the 2nd floor has 18th-century and Spanish pastels, paintings and miniatures.

Portrait of a Man (c.1633) This highly expressive portrait, by Diego Rodríguez de Silva y Velázquez, remained unfinished, yet it still captivates with its powerful imagery.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Theaterplatz 1. Tel (0351) 491 42000. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun.

Tribute Money (c.1516)
Titian depicts the theme of this popular New Testament parable in an unusual way, zooming in on the figures of Christ and a Pharisee who shows
Him a coin.

Dresden landscapes and portraits

Miniatures

Tapestry

room

Underground

vaults

Û

Sleeping Venus (c.1508–10) This famous nude was probably painted by Giorgione, but when he died of the plague in 1510, his friend, Titian, completed the work.

★ Sistine Madonna (1512/13)

This enchanting picture of the Madonna and Child by Raphael owes its name to St Sixtus's church in Piacenza, for which Pope Iulius II had commissioned it.

KEY

- 15th–17th-century Italian painting
- 15th–16th-century German painting
- Canaletto and scenes of Dresden
- 17th-century Dutch and Flemish painting
- 17th-century French painting
- Spanish painting
- 18th-century Italian and French painting
- German, Czech, Austrian, English and Swiss painting
- Non-exhibition space

STAR EXHIBITS

- ★ Self-Portrait with Saskia
- ★ Sistine Madonna

Market square with Renaissance Rathaus (town hall) in Pirna

Pirna 🛭

Road map F4. 🚮 38,000. 💂 🚃

Am Markt 7 (03501-55 64 47).

www.pirna.de

Stadtfest (Jun).

In the old town, on the banks of the River Elbe, Pirna has preserved an amazingly regular, chequerboard pattern of streets. Time has been kind to the many historic buildings in this town. Its greatest attraction is the Marienkirche, a late-Gothic hall-church with fanciful vaulting designed by Peter Ulrich von Pirna and painted by Jobst Dorndorff, in 1545–6. Inside, an original late-Gothic font and a Renaissance main altar can be seen.

Other interesting buildings are the mid-16th century Rathaus (town hall) with its Gothic portals, the beautiful houses in the town square and the ex-Dominican, Gothic church of St Heinrich. Schloss Sonnenstein, extended during the 17th and 18th centuries, towers above the old town.

Environs

10 km (6 miles) southwest of Pirna is the picturesque Schloss Weesenstein, much altered from its Gothic origins until the 19th century. It houses a small museum with an interesting collection of wallpapers.

Müglitztal, Am Schlossberg 1. Tel (035027) 54 26. Apr–Oct: 9am–6pm; Nov–Mar: 10am–5pm.

Sächsische Schweiz

Saxon switzerland, the wonderfully wild region around the gorge cut into the Lusatian mountains by the River Elbe, features stunningly bizarre rock formations and several formidable castles. The best way to explore the area is on foot as many places are inaccessible to cars. Alternatively you can admire the spectacular scenery from a boat, on the Elbe.

Großsedlitz ①
This vast Baroque park, established after 1719 to a design by Johann Christoph Knöffel, continues to delight visitors to this day with its flower beds and numerous sculptures.

Weissig

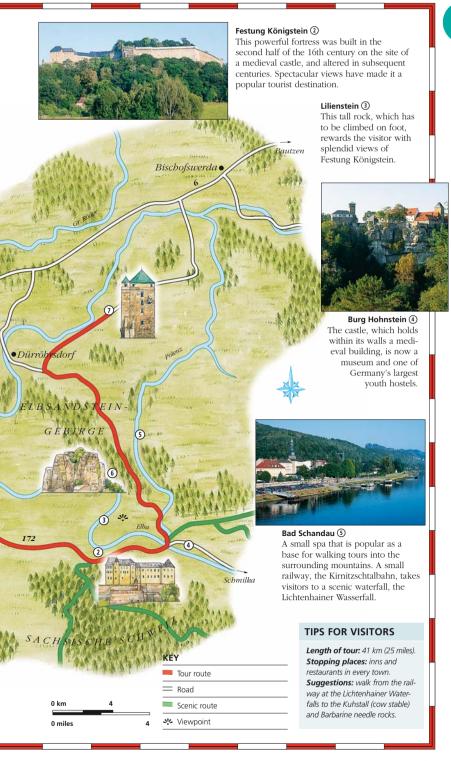

Stolpen ①
The 35-year old Countess
Cosel, one of Augustus
II the Strong's mistresses, was imprisoned in this castle, built on rock.

Bastei (5)
The "bastion" comprises so-called inselbergs – bizarre, tall rock formations that rise abruptly.
Connected by footbridges, they offer splendid views.

Gothic altar from 1513 in St Annen church, in Kamenz

Kamenz @

The best time for a visit to Kamenz is the end of May or June, when the rhododendrons that cover the Hutberg (294 m/965 ft high) are in flower. The poet, Gotthold Ephraim Lessing, was born in Kamenz in 1729. Although his house no longer exists, the Lessingmuseum, founded in 1929, is devoted to his work.

A great fire destroyed much of the town in 1842, but it spared the late-Gothic St Marien church, a four-nave 15th-century structure with Gothic altars and other interesting features. Equally noteworthy for their furnishings are the Gothic ex-Franciscan St Annen church and the unusual hall-church Katechismuskirche. Originally part of the town's fortification system, it has a row of loopholes on its upper storey. The old cemetery and the Gothic funereal church Begräbniskirche St Just are also worth a visit. As is the new Museum der Westlausitz, a museum of the local region.

Bautzen 6

Road map F4. 44,000. He Hauptmarkt 1 (03591-4 20 16). Vogelhochzeit (Jan); Internationales Folklorefestival (Jun).

This town is scenically situated on a high rock overhanging the Spree River valley. Known mainly for its top-security iail for political prisoners during the GDR era, today it enchants visitors with its beautifully reconstructed old town. Many signs are bilingual. German and Sorbian, reflecting the fact that Bautzen is the cultural capital of the Sorbs. The winding streets with their original houses, the city walls, the curiously crooked Reichenturm tower and the Baroque town hall in the town square form a very attractive complex. It is also worth climbing the

Impressive Baroque entrance to the Domstift in Bautzen

15th-century Alte Wasser-kunst, a tower that pumped Spree water up to the town. It is the symbol of Bautzen and offers splendid views

The cathedral Dom St Peter is now used jointly by Catholics (choir) and Protestants (nave). The late-Gothic Schloss Ortenburg houses the Sorbisches Museum, devoted to Sorbian history and culture.

M Sorbisches Museum

Ortenburg 3. Tel (03591) 42 403. Apr–Oct: 10am–5pm Mon–Fri, 10am– 6pm Sat & Sun; Nov–Mar: 10am– 4pm Mon–Fri, 10am–5pm Sat & Sun.

Doorway of the Neo-Renaissance palace in Bad Muskau

Bad Muskau 6

Road map F4. (A) 4,170. (E) Schlossstr. 6 (035771-504 92).

Bad Muskau, a small town and spa, boasts one of Saxony's most beautiful parks, which has been included in the UNESCO Cultural Heritage list. It was created in 1815-45 by the writer Prince Hermann von Pückler-Muskau. The Neo-Renaissance palace at its centre was destroyed in World War II and is currently closed for reconstruction, but the English-style landscaped park surrounding it, a nature reserve since 1952, is well worth visiting. Its main part, on the northern shores of the Lusatian Neisse River, is in Poland. A joint Polish-German programme, aimed at revitalizing the park, has opened the entire area to visitors from both sides of the border.

S A X O N Y 181

Baroque Neptune fountain in Untermarkt, in Görlitz

Görlitz @

Road map F4. 🚮 66,000. 💂 🚃 Brüderstraße 1 (03581-475 70 & 194 33). 🥳 Kultursommer (May-Sep); Sommertheater (Jul); Straßentheaterfestival (Aug).

This border town, whose eastern part, Zgorzelec, has belonged to Poland since 1945, boasts a long history. Its oldest records date back to 1071. Founded in 1210–20, the town flourished in the 15th and 16th centuries. In 1990 an extensive restoration plan was begun, and now visitors can see its historic buildings in their former glory.

The charming houses in Obermarkt (upper market), the Renaissance portals and decorations on houses in Brüderstraße and the fascinating Untermarkt (lower market), with its vast town hall complex, enchant everyone. The older wing of the town hall, the work of Wendel Roskopf, has an amazing external staircase with Renaissance ornaments, and winds around the statue of Justice.

One of the most remarkable churches is the imposing fivenave, 15th-century Haupt-stadtpfarrkirche St Peter und St Paul whose Baroque furnishings are among the finest in Saxony. Also noteworthy is the Oberkirche, with an original Gothic main altar and 15th-century wall paintings in the side nave. One of Görlitz's curiosities is the Heiliges Grab (Holy tomb), built in 1481–1504, a group of three chapels that are replicas of churches in Jerusalem. Görlitz still has remains of its medieval town fortifications with original towers and gates, including the Kaisertrutz, a 15th-century barbican, extended in the 19th century and now home to the town's art collection.

Environs

The small town of Ostritz, 16 km (10 miles) to the south, has a charming original Cistercian abbey, St Marienthal (1230). Its red-and-white buildings are to this day inhabited by nuns, who show visitors around and serve food and home-brewed beer

Zittau @

Road map F4. M 28,000. Markt 1 (03583-75 21 37). Markt 1 (03583-75 21 37). M Klosterfest (Ascension) (May); Fest am Dreiländereck (Jun).

Zittau is an excellent starting point for excursions into the Zittau Mountains, a paradise for rock-climbers, walkers and nature lovers. The town itself has a splendidly preserved old town, with many historic buildings such as the beautiful Baroque Noacksches Haus (Markt 2) The Neo-Renaissance Rathaus (town hall) was built in 1840-45, to a design by Carl Augustus Schramm. The Johanniskirche designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel combines elements of Neo-Classical and Neo-Gothic styles and is an excellent example of Historicist architecture.

Environs

The charming spa town of Oybrin, 9 km (6 miles) south of Zittau, can be reached by narrow-gauge railway. Its attractions include the hilltop ruins of a Gothic abbey, immortalized by Caspar David Friedrich. It is worth timing your visit for a Saturday evening in summer, when you can witness the procession of torch-bearing monks or listen to a concert.

Fountain with a statue of Roland, the French knight, in Zittau

THE SORBS

The Sorbs, also known as the Lusatians or Wends, are an indigenous Slav minority who live in the eastern regions of Saxony and Brandenburg. Their ancestors, the Lusatian Slavs, were conquered by Germans in the 10th century. Although condemned to extermination by the National Socialists, today they enjoy complete cultural autonomy. The revival of their language and traditions is apparent in the bilingual signs in towns.

THURINGIA

huringia is a beautiful state, with much to entice the visitor. The Thuringian Forest, in the south, is a highland area densely covered with spruce, beech and oak forests, inviting visitors to ramble along its enchanted trails, while the area's medieval abbeys, castles and charming small towns are popular destinations with those who are interested in art and history.

The Kingdom of Thuring, as it was known in the 5th century, was conquered by the Franks in the following century. The demise of the Thuringian landgraves, who had ruled here for hundreds of years, resulted in the outbreak of the Thuringian War of Secession. It ended in 1264, with most of Thuringia falling into the hands of the Wettin dynasty.

Split into several smaller principalities, the region lost its political might, but driven by the ambitions of many of its rulers, magnificent castles, churches and abbeys were built everywhere. Thanks to enlightened royal sponsors many towns became important cultural centres, such as 18th-century Weimar, whose residents at one time included Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, Friedrich Schiller, Johann Gottfried Herder and Christoph Martin Wieland.

After World War II, Thuringia was initially occupied by the US Army, but it soon passed into the Soviet sphere of influence, and in 1949 it became part of the GDR. In 1952 Thuringia lost its status as a federal state, but this was later restored in the reunited Federal Republic of Germany, in 1990.

The majority of tourist attractions can be found in the southern part of the state. The Thuringian Forest has many popular health resorts and wintersport centres, such as Oberhof. This highland area, cut with deep river gullies, is littered with medieval castles built on steep crags. Many of these are now no more than picturesque ruins, but others, such as the Wartburg, have been completely restored to their former glory, and today delight visitors with their magnificent interiors.

Schloss Belvedere, the royal summer residence in Weimar

Exploring Thuringia

A visit to Thuringia is most enjoyable in late summer, when the magnificent forests of the Thuringian Mountains are set ablaze with all the hues of red and yellow as the leaves turn colour, or in spring when verdant green cloaks the trees. Allow at least one day to explore Erfurt, the state's capital city, with a further two days in Weimar, Fisenach with its Weimar. Eisenach, with its magnificent Wartburg castle, is also a must Street vendor selling handpainted Easter eggs in Erfurt

SIGHTS AT A GLANCE

Altenburg 4 Eisenach-Wartburg

pp186-7 1

Erfurt pp192–3 3

Gera 🚯 Gotha 🚯

Heiligenstadt 2

Jena 10

Kyffhäuser Mountains
Mühlhausen

Mühlhausen

Rudolstadt 🕦 Saalfeld 🔞

Sondershausen 4
Weimar pp194–5 9

Walks

Thüringer Wald (Thuringian Forest) 7

Petersburg fortress in Erfurt

SEE ALSO

Halle

KYFFHÄUSER MOUNTAINS 5

> Bad Frankenhausen

> > Sömmerda

- Where to Stay pp495-7
- Where to Eat pp534-6

The fields near Meiningen, in the Thuringian Forest

GETTING AROUND

Erfurt has an airport. The A4 motorway running through Thuringia links Gera with Jena, Weimar, Erfurt, Gotha and Eisenach. Other towns can be reached by local roads, which are clearly sign-posted. When touring the Thuringian Forest it is well worth following one of the marked tourist routes, such as Klassikerstraße (the route of the classics) or Porzellanstraße (porcelain street).

VE

KEY

- Motorway
- Major road
- Minor road
- Under construction
- Main railway
- ___ Minor railway
- Regional border

The Renaissance town hall in Gotha

Eisenach - Wartburg o

The mighty fortress towering above the town is the legendary castle which was probably founded by Ludwig the Jumper, in the late 11th century. Reputedly, it was the setting for the singing contest immortalized by Wagner in his opera Tannhäuser. Between 1211 and 1228 the castle was the home of Saint Elizabeth of Thuringia, and from 4 May 1521 until March 1522 Martin Luther found refuge here while he translated the New Testament into German. Major reconstruction in the 19th century gave the castle its old-time romantic character

Festsaal

The impressive and ornate Festival Hall extends over the entire length and width of the Romanesque Palas. Today, it is the venue for a number of events.

The mosaics adorning the walls of St Elizabeth's rooms illustrate the story of the saint's life. They were designed by August Oetken and placed in 1902–06.

In 1854 the landgraves' chambers in the oldest part of the castle, the Palas, were decorated with paintings depicting the castle's history, by Moritz von Schwind.

- ★ Elisabethkemenate
- ★ Lutherstube

Bergfried

This vast, square tower crowned with a cross is the work of 19th-century restorers.

Vogtei

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map C/D4 35 44 000 Markt 9 (03691-79 23-0) Thüringer Bachwochen (Mar-Apr.) Warthurg Tel (03691) 25 00: www.wartburg-eisenach.de quided tours Mar-Oct: 8:30am-5pm daily (gate closes 8pm): Nov-Feb: 9am-3:30pm daily (gate closes

Exploring Eisenach

The town at the foot of the castle hill, was founded in the middle of the 12th century and played an important political role in medieval times. There are interesting remains of fortifications, dating from the late 12th century, which include a Romanesque gate. the Nikolaitor The Nikolaikirche nearby also Romanesque in style, once belonged to the Benedictine Sisters. In the market square is a 16thcentury town hall, and in Lutherplatz stands the house where Martin Luther once lived: it is now a small museum of his work

Predigerkirche

Predigerplatz 4. Tel (03691) 78 46 78 11am-5pm Tue-Sun. 🚳 This church built in honour of Elisabeth von Thüringen shortly after she had been canonized, is part of the Thüringer Museum and has been used for changing exhibitions since 1899. It also houses a permanent exhibition, "Medieval Art in Thuringia".

III Automobile Welt Eisenach

F. Naumanstr. 10. Tel (03691) 77 21 11am-5pm Tue-Sun. This car museum celebrates the local car manufacturing industry in Eisenach. Its collection includes old BMWs and Wartburgs.

Ⅲ Bachhaus

Frauenplan 21. Tel (03691) 7 93 40. 10am-6pm daily. 🚳 www.bachaus.de Johann Sebastian Bach, the famous composer, was born in Eisenach in 1685. His birthplace is now demolished, but this small museum nearby is devoted to his life and work.

The Bachhaus and museum. surrounded by a garden

Heiligenstadt 2

Road map C4. (A) 17,500. (D) (E) (E) (Wilhelmstr. 50 (03606-67 71 41).

This pleasant spa and health resort, well placed for visiting the landscaped gardens of Eichsfeld, is worth an extended stop. Heiligenstadt is the birthplace of Tilman Riemenschneider, an outstanding sculptor of the Gothic era; it is also the place where the poet and writer Heinrich Heine was baptized in 1825, at the age of 28.

Heiligenstadt has several churches worth visiting. including the Gothic Pfarrkirche St Marien with its original wall paintings dating from around 1500. Not far from the church stands the Friedhofskapelle St Annen an octagonal Gothic cemetery chapel. The town's most interesting church, however. is the Stiftskirche St Martin. dating back to the 14th-15th centuries. It has a well-preserved Romanesque crypt and an amusing Gothic pulpit. made in the shape of a bookholding chorister.

Mühlhausen 3

Road map D4. A 38,000. E E Ratsstr. 20 (03601-40 47 70). Mühlhauser Stadtkirmes (Aug).

Mühlhausen is one of Thuringia's older towns, with its earliest records dating back to AD 967. In medieval times it enjoyed the status of an imperial free town, which could explain why it became the centre of political activities during the 1525 Peasants'

Part of the well-preserved town walls surrounding Mühlhausen

War, led by Thomas Müntzer, a local clergyman. In 1975, on the 450th anniversary of the revolt, the town underwent restoration, and it delights visitors to this day with its beautifully preserved old town surrounded by city walls, including gates and towers, which have survived almost intact.

Mühlhausen's streets are lined with charming timberframe houses. It is also worth stepping into one of the six Gothic churches in this area. The Pfarrkirche Divi Blasii. built for the Teutonic Knights, has 14th-century stained-glass windows in the presbytery. The ex-Franciscan Barfüßerklosterkirche (on the Kornmarkt) houses a museum devoted to the Peasants' War. The huge five-nave 14thcentury Marienkirche, a hallchurch, is one of Thuringia's largest sacral buildings. It has a magnificent main portal and late-Gothic altars. Another interesting historic structure is the Rathaus (town hall), in a narrow street between the old and the new town. This vast complex was enlarged several times, from medieval times

Sondershausen 4

Road map D4. A 23,000. Markt 9 (03632-78 81 11). Residenzfest (Jun). www.sondershausen.de Sondershausen was the capital city of the small principality of Schwarzburg-Sondershausen. The town's main attraction is the Schloss (ducal palace), a sprawling building, almost triangular in shape, built in stages from the 16th to the 19th century. The palace features some interesting original interiors. Particularly noteworthy are the Am Wendelstein rooms. decorated with 17th-century stucco ornaments, as well as the Neo-Classical Liebhabertheater (connoisseurs' theatre c.1835) and the Baroque Riesensaal (giants' hall), a ballroom with 16 enormous statues of ancient gods. When strolling around the palace gardens it is worth looking at the Karussell, an octagonal building dating from 1700.

The most interesting Neo-Classical building complex in town can be found around Marktplatz (market square).

Environs

In the Hainleite hills, 4.5 km (3 miles) south of Sonder-shausen, stands the Jagdschloss Zum Possen, once an 18th-century hunting lodge, now an inn. The timber-frame observation tower nearby, dating from 1781, affords beautiful views of the district. Nordhausen, situated 20 km (12 miles) to the north, is worth visiting for its attractive timber-frame houses and its 14th-century cathedral, Dom zum Heiligen Kreuz, with a Romanesque crypt.

until the 18th century.

The extensive façade of the ducal palace in Sondershausen

Monument to Wilhelm I in the Kvffhäuser Mountains

Kyffhäuser Mountains 6

Road map D4. Bad Frankenhausen, Anger 14 (034671-71 7).

This small mountain range, which runs along the border between Thuringia and Saxony-Anhalt, is not only picturesque but also shrouded in legends and associated with important historic events.

According to one legend, the Emperor Frederick I Barbarossa found his final resting place in one of the caves. Allegedly, he did not drown during the Crusades, as historic records would have us believe, but is waiting here, in the company of six knights. As soon as his beard is long enough to wind three times around the table, it is said, he will return to save Germany from oppression. On the site of the former imperial palace now stands a giant monument with a figure of Barbarossa and an equestrian statue of Emperor Wilhelm I - the work of Bruno Schmitz, erected in 1891-6

A small health resort, Bad Frankenhausen, nestles at the foot of the mountains. It has a number of Gothic churches and a Renaissance palace, now home to a small museum. Nearby, on the Schlachtberg (slaughter mountain), the decisive battle in the Peasants' War took place. Today there is a circular pavilion with a vast panoramic picture of the battle, painted in 1971–5.

Gotha 6

From 1640 the old commercial town of Gotha was the capital of Saxe-Gotha and later of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha Duchy, the dynasty from which Prince Albert, Oueen Victoria's husband, descended. The vast ducal palace Schloss Friedenstein built in 1643-55, towers above the city. This mighty rectangular structure was the first Baroque building in Thuringia. Particularly noteworthy are the ballroom, the palace chapel with the ducal sarcophagi in the crypt and the court theatre, built in 1683. The palace museum houses an art collection including works by famous artists such as Peter Paul Rubens, Anton van Dyck, Frans Hals and Jan van Goven. The palace garden is also worth a visit. To the south of the palace stands a Neo-Renaissance building, which was purpose-built for the ducal art collection. Now it houses the Museum der Natur, a natural history museum. The Renaissance town hall (1567–77) in the old town is surrounded by a number of interesting houses.

Gotha played an important role in the German workers' movement: the Socialist Workers' Party (today's SPD), was founded here in 1875. The conference hall has been reconstructed and now houses the Gedenkstätte der Deutschen Arbeiterbewegung (memorial to the German workers' movement).

Schloss Friedenstein

Gedenkstätte der Deutschen Arbeiterbewegung

Am Tivoli 3. Tel (03621) 70 41 27.

Doorway of the Renaissance town hall on the Hauptmarkt, in Gotha

Thüringer Wald (Thuringian Forest) •

Narrow, winding roads lead through the mountains, which are densely covered with spruce forests. Small towns, charming spas and wintersports resorts nestle in the valleys, while the ruins of once fearsome castles occupy the hilltops. This is prime walking country, and Gotha is the best starting point for a walking holiday. For a longer hike, stop in Ilmenau, and from there follow the upward trail marked G, to a hunters' shelter and a foresters' lodge.

Friedrichroda ①

The Neo-Gothic Reinhardsbrunn castle in Friedrichroda was the place where Queen Victoria met her fiancé, Prince Albert von Sachsen-Coburg-Gotha, in 1840.

Drei Gleichen (9)

This name, meaning "three of the same", refers to three castles – Mühlburg and Burg Gleichen have stood in ruins for centuries, but the third castle, Wachsenburg, has survived and now serves as a hotel.

Arnstadt ®

This picturesque town, once the home of Johann Sebastian Bach, features a town hall in the Mannerist style, dating from the late 16th century. Other places of interest are an early-Gothic church and a Baroque palace which is now home to a wax museum.

Length: 150 km (90 miles). Stopping places: inns and restaurants in every town. Suggestions: walk along the Goethe-Wanderweg trail, from Ilmenau. Train journey by Waftbahn, from Gotha via Friedrichroda to Tabarz.

Trusetal ②

The magnificent waterfall in Trusetal, the work of human hands, was built in the mid-19th century. Another site worth visiting is the nearby Marienglashöhle in Friedrichroda, an unusual crystal grotto.

Erfurt

Schmalkalden ③
This charming little town, packed with timber-frame houses, attracts visitors to the Wilhelmsburg, its Renaissance palace, and to Neue Hütte, an interesting old smelting plant dating from 1835.

Weimar

Blankenburg

Oberhof 4

This is a popular wintersports resort, with excellent ski-jumps. In the summer it is worth visiting the Rennsteiggarten, the town's botanical gardens with a vast collection of alpine plants.

Famous from the 16th century as a centre of arms manufacture, Suhl's history can today be gleaned in the local Waffenmuseum (armaments museum).

Ilmenau ⑥

This small university town, teeming with life, is the starting point of the so-called Goethe-Wanderweg, a walking trail leading to all the places where the famous poet once stayed.

Paulinzelle ⑦

The 12th-century Romanesque abbey, now in ruins, was once a home for Benedictine monks, but it was later abandoned during the Reformation.

Suggested route

— Other road

Scenic route

Viewpoint

Erfurt 3

The Thuringian capital, Erfurt, is also the oldest town in the region – its earliest historic records date from AD729, and in AD742 a bishopric was founded here. As an important trading post between east and west, the town grew quickly. Erfurt University was founded in 1392; it became a stronghold for radical thought, and Martin Luther was one of its distinguished pupils. Until the 17th century, Erfurt was famous for its red dyes extracted from the madder root; in the 18th century the town became a horticultural centre, and to this day it hosts important horticultural exhibitions.

Picturesque half-timbered houses, lining the Krämerbrücke

Exploring Erfurt

the river Gera, is dominated by two hills. On the higher one, Petersberg, stands a huge fortress surrounding a Romanesque church, while the lower Domberg has two churches, the Dom St Marien and the St Severikirche. From the Domplatz, at the foot of the hill, a row of narrow streets leads to Fischmarkt. If you cross the river here, you will get to Erfurt's old commercial district and its market square, the Anger.

The town, on the banks of

♠ Dom St Marien

Domberg. Tel (0361) 646 12 65. May-Oct: 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun; Nov-Apr: 10am-4pm Mon-Sat, noon-4pm Sun. Maria Gloriosa closed for renovation work until 2007. The wide stairs leading from Domplatz to the main entrance of the cathedral provide a good view over the 14th-century Gothic presbytery, which is supported by a massive vaulted substructure, known as the Kavaten. The main body of the cathedral dates from the 15th century, but its huge towers are the remains of an earlier Romanesque building. Maria Gloriosa, a huge bell 2.5 m (8 ft) in diameter, hangs in the centre tower. Cast by Gerhard Wou in 1497, it is one of the largest bells in the world. The church interior has well preserved Gothic decorations and rich furnishings. Particularly valuable are the 14th-and 15th-century stained-glass windows, the Gothic stalls

Rich furnishings in the Gothic interior of Dom St Marien

(c.1370) and Wolfram, a Romanesque bronze candelabra, (c.1160), shaped like a man.

♠ St Severi-Kirche

Domberg. Tel (0361) 57 69 60.

May-Oct: 9am-5pm Mon-Sat,
1-5pm Sun; Nov & Apr: 10am-4pm
Mon-Sat, 1-4pm Sun.
This five-nave Gothic hall-church, next to the cathedral, dates from the late 13th and early 14th century. Inside it has the Gothic sarcophagus of St Severus, from about 1365, a huge font of 1467 and interesting Gothic altars.

Fischmarkt

This small market square. with its Neo-Gothic town hall (1870-74), is surrounded by houses dating from various periods, including the 16thcentury Renaissance buildings Zum Breiten Herd (No. 13 To the Wide Hearth) and Zum Roten Ochsen (No. 7, To. the Red Ox). On the streets off the market square are three Gothic churches: Michaeliskirche, opposite the ruins of the late-Gothic university buildings, the twinnave Allerheiligenkirche (late 13th to early 14th century) and the ex-Dominican Predigerkirche.

T Krämerbrücke

The "merchant bridge" which spans the River Gera is one of Erfurt's most interesting structures. The present stone bridge was built around 1325. It is lined by 32 houses with shops, dating mainly from the 17th to 19th centuries, which replaced its 60 original medieval houses. On its eastern viaduct stands Ägidienkirche, a 14th-century Gothic church.

Augustinerkloster– Augustinerkirche

Augustinerstr. 10. Tel (0361) 576 60 10. Apr-Oct: 10am-noon, 2-4pm Mon-Sat; Nov-Mar: 10am-noon, 2-3pm Mon-Sat. Sun after mass. This early Gothic church was built for Augustinian monks at the end of the 13th century. Particularly noteworthy are its original Gothic stained-glass windows. In the neighbouring monastery, the reconstructed cell where Martin Luther lived as a monk can be admired.

Fischmarkt, surrounded by houses from various periods

III Stadtmuseum

Johannesstr. 169. Tel (0361) 655 56 50. ☐ 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. Erfurt's history museum is housed in a beautiful, late-Renaissance building called Zum Stockfisch (To the Dried Cod), built in 1607.

Anger

Now pedestrianized, this is a market square and Erfurt's main shopping street, lined with attractive 19th-century mansions and commercial premises. There are two Gothic churches: Kaufmannskirche and Reglerkirche, with a huge Gothic altar dating from around 1470. At Nos. 37 and 38 there is the Dacherödensches Haus, a complex of beautiful Renaissance buildings.

11 Angermuseum

Anger 18. Tel (0361) 55 45 611. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun Barfüßerkirche Barfüßerstr 20 Tel (0361) 64 64 010. Apr-Oct: 10am-1pm & 2-6pm Tue-Sun, [6] The museum housed in a Baroque building, has a collection of decorative and sacred arts including paintings by Lucas Cranach the Elder, and 19th- and 20th-century German works One of its rooms is decorated with Expressionist murals (1923-4) by Erich Heckel The medieval section is in the presbytery of the Barfüßerkirche, a former Franciscan

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map D4. 200,000.
Flughafenstraße 4 (0361-65 60). Man Bahnhofsplatz.
Flughafenstraße 4 (0361-65 60). Man Bahnhofsplatz.
Flughafenseiter-Wagner-Straße. Man Bahnhofsplatz 1 (0361-66400).

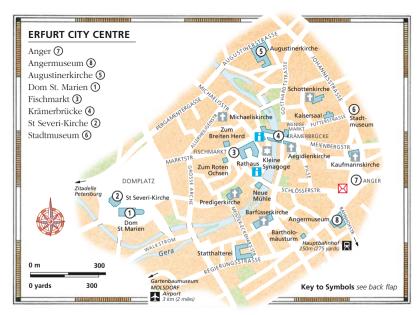

Krämerbrückenfest (June), Petersberafest (September).

church that was destroyed during World War II.

ffi EGA and Gartenbaumuseum

Environs

Molsdorf, 10 km (6 miles) to the southeast, has a lovely 16th-century Baroque palace set in landscaped parkland, with a museum.

Weimar o

Had it not been for the enlightened sponsorship of its rulers, Weimar would have become just another residential town in Thuringia. The town flourished, particularly under Duke Carl Augustus and his wife Anna Amalia, when Goethe, Schiller and Herder lived here. Famous 19th- and 20th-century residents included Franz Liszt, Richard Strauss, Friedrich Nietzsche and many distinguished writers and artists associated with the Bauhaus School, which was founded here in 1919. It also gave its name to the Weimar Republic, the democratic German State, lasting from World War I to 1933.

Exploring Weimar

Weimar is relatively small and most of its tourist attractions are near the town centre, on the left bank of the Ilm River. In the north of the centre are the Neues Museum and the Stadtmuseum (municipal museum). Many interesting buildings can be found around Theaterplatz, from where you proceed towards the Markt to visit the ducal palace. In the south of the centre are the former homes of Goethe and Liszt.

M Neues Museum

Weimarplatz 5. Tel (03643) 54 59 63. Apr-Oct: 11am-6pm Tue-Sun; Nov-Mar: 11am-4pm Tue-Sun. This Neo-Renaissance building, once the Landesmuseum (regional museum), was transformed into a gallery in 1999. It displays modern art, with its central collection made up of works by Paul Maenz.

M Stadtmuseum

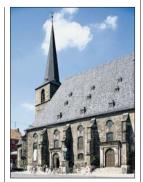

Karl-Liebknecht-Str. 5–9.

Tel (03643) 90 38 68.

☐ 11am-5pm Tue-Sun.

This museum is devoted to the history of Weimar, but it also holds an interesting natural history collection.

It is housed in a Neo-Classical house, which was built in the late 18th century for the publisher Justin Bertuch.

St Peter und St Paul, also known

Deutsches Nationaltheater

Theaterplatz 2. Tel (03643) 75 53 01. The present Neo-Classical building, built in 1906-7 to a design by Heilmann & Littmann, is the third theatre to stand on this site. Famous conductors who worked here include Franz Liszt and Richard Strauss, and it was also the venue for the world premiere of Wagner's Lobengrin. In 1919 the National Congress sat in the Nationaltheater and passed the new constitution for the Weimar Republic. In front of the theatre is a monument to Goethe (who founded the theatre) and Schiller. by the sculptor Ernst Rietschel (1857).

The Schloss in Burgplatz, with its tall Renaissance tower

III Bauhaus-Museum

Theaterplatz. Tel (03643) 54 59 61.

10am-6pm daily. This museum is devoted to the famous art school, which was founded in Weimar in 1919, moved to Dessau in 1925 (see p154) and later, in 1933, to Berlin (see p88).

M Wittumspalais

Theaterplatz.

Tel (03643) 54 53 77. Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm Tue-Sun; Nov-Mar: 10am-4pm Tue-Sun. The Dowager Duchess Anna Amalia lived in this Baroque palace, designed by Johann Gottfried Schlegel and built in 1767–9. Visitors can admire fine interiors and mementoes of the Enlightenment figure Christoph-Martin Wieland.

Ⅲ Schillerhaus

Schillerstr. 12.

Tel (03643) 54 53 50. ☐ Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm Wed-Fri & Sun-Mon, 9am-7pm Sat; Oct: 9am-6pm Wed-Mon; Nov-Mar: 9am-4pm Wed-Mon. ☑ The museum is in the house where Friedrich Schiller wrote Wilhelm Tell (1804) and spent the last years of his life.

A St Peter und St Paul

Herderplatz. Tel (03643) 85 15 18. ☐ Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm Mon-Fri, 10am-noon & 2-3pm Sat; Nov-Mar: 11am-noon & 2-3pm daily. This late-Gothic hall-church has Baroque furnishings and an original altar painted by the Cranachs. It is also known as the Herderkirche, after the poet who preached here.

ff Kirms-Krackow-Haus

Jakobstr. 10. Tel (03643) 54 53 83.

Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm daily.

Nov-Apr. This Renaissance house, which was extended in the late 18th century, is now the Herder-Museum and a literary centre.

★ Schloss

Burgplatz 4. Schlossmuseum
Tel (03643) 54 59 60. ☐ Apr-Oct:
10am-6pm Tue-Sun; Nov-Mar:
10am-4pm Tue-Sun. ☑
This vast ducal castle was rebuilt in the Neo-Classical style for Duke Carl Augustus. It has original interiors and fine paintings by the Cranachs and Peter Paul Rubens.

Picturesque Baroque summer residence known as Schloss Belvedere

♣ Herzogin-Anna-Amalia Bibliothek

Platz der Demokratie 4.

Tel (03643) 54 52 00.

☐ 10am-2pm Tue-Sun.

This former Mannerist palace, also known as Grünes Schloss (green castle), became the duchess' library in 1761–6. Its oval Rococo interior is one of the finest of its type in Europe.

▲ Schloss Belvedere

Tel (03643) 54 54 00. Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. This ducal summer residence, which was built between 1724 and 1732 in Belvedere Park, has a fine collection of decorative art from the Rococo period, and a collection of vintage vehicles.

Goethe-Museum

Frauenplan 1. Tel (03643) 54 53 00.

as Schillerhaus, but Tue-Sun. This house was presented to Goethe by the Duke Carl Augustus. Here the writer wrote his most famous work, Faust. Today the museum shows items associated with Goethe and other Enlightenment poets from Weimar.

Goethes Gartenhaus

Park an der Ilm. Apr-Oct:
10am-6pm daily; Nov-Mar:
10am-4pm daily. Goethe's first home in Weimar, and later his summer house, this small villa stands in the pleasant park alongside the River Ilm which Goethe helped design.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

TLiszt-Haus

Marienstr. 17.

Tel (03643) 54 54 01. Apr-Oct:
10am-4pm Wed-Mon.
Franz Liszt lived here in 1869–86, while he composed the Hungarian Rhapsody. His apartment and the room in which he worked have been preserved to this day.

Environs

Buchenwald, 8 km (5 miles) north of Weimar, was the site of a concentration camp set up by the Nazis. During the period 1937 to 1945, over 54,000 people were killed here. It is now a place of remembrance, a museum and a documentation centre.

M Buchenwald

Tel (03643) 43 02 00.

Apr-Nov: 10am-6pm Tue-Sun;
Nov-Mar: 10am-4pm Tue-Sun.

The modest Gothic town hall on

Jena 0

Road map D4. (A) 100,000. (2) (2) Johannisstr. 23 (03641-49 80 50). www.jena.de

Jena is famous for the worldrenowned Carl-Zeiss–Jena Optical Works and its university, founded in 1558. One of the most important schools in Germany, its former tutors included Schiller. Fichte and Hegel. The oldest university building is the Collegium Jenense. The main building was built by Theodor Fischer in 1905-8. The complex includes a 120-m (394-ft) cylindrical tower block, completed in 1972 and known as the "phallus Ienensis".

In the town's main square. Marktplatz, stands the late-Gothic Rathaus (town hall). dating from the early 15th century. Once every hour, a figure known as the Schnapphans tries to catch a ball, a symbol of the human soul. The Gothic church of St. Michael nearby was built in the 15th and the 16th centuries. The Stadtmusem Alte Göhre has an interesting collection of regional history. In Unterer Markt the Romantikerhaus is worth a visit: formerly the home of Johann Gottlieb Fichte, it now houses a museum devoted to the Romantic period.

Also worth visiting are the fascinating Optisches Museum on the history of the Carl Zeiss Works and the Zeiss-Planetarium, the world's oldest of its type. In the north is the Goethe-Gedenkstätte, a museum devoted to Goethe's work as poet, politician and scientist.

III Stadtmuseum Göhre

Markt 7. Tel (03641) 359 80. 10am–5pm Tue, Wed, Fri & Sat 2–10pm Thu, 10am–6pm Sun.

n Romantikerhaus Unterer Markt 12A. Tel (03641) 44

32 63. 10am–5pm Tue–Sun.

Optisches Museum

Carl-Zeiss-Platz 12. Tel (03641) 44 31 65. 10am-4:30pm Tue-Fri, 11am-5pm Sat.

Historical Zeiss-Workshop
11:30am Sat

Environs

Dornburg, 12 km (8 miles) to the northeast, has three palaces: the Altes Schloss, a Gothic castle transformed in the Renaissances; the Renaissanceschloss (1539–47) and the charming Rokokoschloss (1736–41).

Rudolstadt 0

Road map D4. A 28,000. A == 28,

Although Rudolstadt has the Gothic-Renaissance St Andreas church, a fascinating 16th-century town hall and some historic houses in the old town, tourists come here mainly to see majestic Schloss Heidecksburg, a vast palace perched on a hill. Its present form is mainly the result of reconstruction work carried out in the mid-18th century by Johann Christoph Knöffel and Gottfried Heinrich Krone. Inside are some beautifully arranged Rococo state rooms. The museum also holds a splendid porcelain collection, a gallery of paintings and the so-called Schiller's Room. From the castle there are fantastic views of the Schwarza valley.

Baroque Schloss Heidecksburg towering over Rudolstadt

Schloss Heidecksburg

Schlossbezirk 1. Tel (03672) 42 90 22. Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm Tue-Sun; Nov-Mar: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun.

Entrance gate to the 11th-century Schloss Ranis, near Saalfeld

Saalfeld @

Road map D4. 🔼 34,000. 📃 🚃

Saalfeld flourished in the 14th-16th centuries. From 1680 it was the seat of the Duchy of Sachsen-Saalfeld, and the magnificent Baroque Schloss, built between 1676 and 1720. dates from this period. The former palace chapel, now used as a concert hall, is particularly noteworthy. Also worth visiting is the Johanniskirche, a late-Gothic hall-church with interesting furnishings, a valuable Gothic Holy Tomb and the sculpted life-size figure of John the Baptist, carved by Hans Gottwalt, a student of Tilman Riemenschneider.

Another interesting building in Saalfeld is the early-Renaissance Rathaus (town hall), built in 1529–37. The town also has remarkably well preserved medieval town fortifications with gates and towers. In the southern part of the town stands the Hoher Schwarm, ruins of a Gothic castle from the 13th century. In Garnsdorf, on the outskirts of Saalfeld, are the Feengrotten, grottoes created by both natural and human activity. From the mid-16th century until 1846 alum slate was mined in this cave, called "Jeremiasglück" (Jeremiah's good fortune). It was finally closed due to humidity, but the dripping water has created some astonishingly colourful stalagmites and stalactites

Feengrotten

Feengrottenweg 2. Tel (03671) 550 40. Apr-Oct: 9am-5pm daily. Nov-Mar: 10:30am-3:30pm daily. Jan: 10:30am-3:30pm Sat-Sun.

Environc

From Saalfeld it is worth taking a trip to the Hohenwarte-Talsperre, an artificial lake and paradise for watersports enthusiasts. Schloss Ranis, a scenic hill-top castle was probably built in the 11th century for an emperor. Later it became the seat of the Thuringian landgraves, Meißen margraves and the counts of Schwarzburg, Now it houses a museum of the region's natural history.

Gera B

Road map D4, 🚯 121,000, 🖪 🚃 Heinrich Str. 35 (0365-830 44 80). Geraer Höhlerfest (Sep).

The second largest town in Thuringia. Gera is not very impressive at first sight, although it has many attractions, including a picturesque Rathaus (town hall) whose oldest. Renaissance part dates from 1573–6. The Geraer Elleblon, on the righthand side of the entrance, is a unit of measurement equal to 57 cm (22 in). A short distance from the market square, in Nikolaiberg, you will find the Salvatorkirche. This Baroque church received its Secessionstyle interior in 1903, after a fire. The theatre (1900-02) was designed in the same style, by

Picturesque Altenburg Castle complex

Heinrich Seeling. The Küchengarten (kitchen garden) surrounds the ruins of Schloss Osterstein of which only the Baroque orangerie remains, It now houses the Kunstsammlung, with paintings by Lucas Cranach the Elder Max Liebermann and others.

Otto Dix a leading artist of the Neue Sachlichkeit was born in Gera, and his birthplace has been turned into the Otto-Dix-Haus.

Kunstsammlung

Küchengartenallee 4. Tel (0365) 832 49 27. 1–8pm Tue, 10am–5pm Wed–Fri, 11am–6pm Sat & Sun,

TT Otto-Dix-Haus

Mohrenplatz 4. Tel (0365) 832 49 27. 1–8pm Tue, 10am–5pm Wed-Fri, 11am-6pm Sat & Sun.

The multi-coloured Renaissance doorway of the Rathaus in Gera

Altenburg @

Road map E4. 🔼 45,000. 🗔 🚃 Moritzstr. 21 (03447-51 28 00). Musikfestival (Aug/Sep); Prinzenraubfest (Jul).

In Germany, Altenburg is known as "Skatstadt", the town of skat, a traditional and very popular card game Altenburg also has some fascinating historic remains. The Schloss (ducal castle). which towers over the old town, has a 10th-century tower, reconstructed mainly in the Baroque style. Today the castle houses the Spielkartenmuseum (museum of playing cards). The late-Gothic castle church is also worth seeing. It has rich Baroque furnishings and an organ which was played by the composer Bach. Next to the castle gardens is the Lindenau-Museum, with Augustus von Lindenau's collection of 16th-20th century paintings and sculptures, including works by Simone Martini, Fra Angelico, Auguste Rodin, Ernst Barlach and Max Liebermann. The old town, at the foot of the hill, has a beautiful Renaissance town hall with an enormous octagonal tower. In Brühl Platz is a fountain and the figures of skat players, as well as the Baroque Seckendorffsche Palais and the Renaissance chancellery.

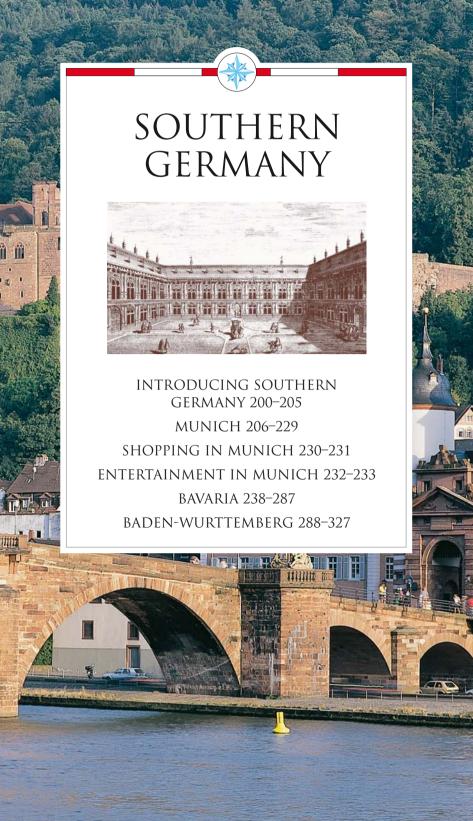

ff Schloss und Spielkartenmuseum

Schloss 2-4. Tel (03447) 31 51 93. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun.

11 Lindenau-Museum

Gabelentzstraße 5. Tel (03447) 895 53. noon-6pm Tue-Fri, 10am-6pm Sat, Sun.

Southern Germany at a Glance

The southern regions of Germany, with their wealth of natural beauty, historic sights and folk culture, are particularly attractive to tourists. This part of the country includes two Länder: Bayaria, famous for its Alps beer and the fairvtale castle of Ludwig II at Neuschwanstein, and Baden-Württemberg, whose highlights include the Bodensee lake. Heidelberg and taking a trip on the scenic Schwarzwaldbahn railway line between Offenburg and Villingen.

Würzburg Residenz

Set in a magnificent park on the eastern outskirts of the town, this imposing bishop's palace was built between 1720 and 1744, to a design by Balthasar Neumann. The palace is constructed in a U-shape, with a central pavilion flanked by four two-storey courts.

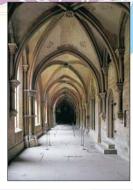

BADEN-WURTTEMBERG (see pp288-327)

Heidelberg Castle is one of Germany's finest examples of a Gothic-Renaissance fortress. Its origins go back to the 13th century, but new buildings sprang up around the inner courtyard during the 16th century as the castle gained importance as a royal residence.

Maulbronn Abbey, founded in the heart of the Stromberg region in 1147, is one of the bestpreserved abbeys in Europe. It was established by Cistercian monks with the beauest of a knight named Walter von Lomersheim and provides a graphic account of the austere life led by the monks.

Vierzehnheiligen

Church, built in 1743-72 to a design by Balthasar Neumann, is one of the most famous examples of South German Rococo. The monumental "Altar of Mercy" (Gnadenaltar) includes statues of the Fourteen Saints of the Intercession, to whom the church is dedicated

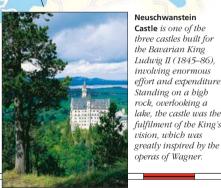

0 km

0 miles

Nördlingen Town Hall was built in the 14th century, but its present form dates from the early 17th century. Prisoners used to be held in a space beneath the external stone stairway. By the wooden entrance is a wall carving of a medieval fool bearing a German inscription that translates as "Now there are two of us."

Castle is one of the three castles built for the Bavarian King Ludwig II (1845-86), involving enormous effort and expenditure. Standing on a high rock, overlooking a lake, the castle was the fulfilment of the King's vision, which was

The Frauenkirche in Munich was completed in 1488 and features two 99-m (325-ft) high towers crowned with copper domes. The church is one of the largest in southern Germany.

The Baroque in Southern Germany

Because of religious conflicts and the Thirty Years' War (1618–48), the Baroque style did not flourish in Germany until the 18th century. Then it did so most lavishly in the southern, Catholic regions of the country. Here, influenced by Italian architecture, the Baroque reached new heights of flamboyance: the impressive spaciousness of religious buildings provided the setting for dynamic compositions in sculpture, fine stuccowork and vividly coloured trompe l'oeil paintings. Southern Germany's major artists of the 18th century included Balthasar Neumann, François Cuvilliés and the Asam brothers.

The main altar in Rohr, which was created by Egid Quirin Asam in 1723, is in the form of a proscenium (stage) with wings. The sculptural group depicts the Assumption of the Virgin Mary into Heaven.

Ceiling frescos were a basic element of the Baroque interior. This example by Johann Baptist Zimmermann in the Wieskirche in Steingaden, presents a glowing vision of the afterlife.

Light plays a vital role in enlivening the interior decoration.

add vitality to the interior.

Galleries with curved balustrades clad in flowing, dynamic robes and standing in curving, asymmetrical poses, complement the rich iconography and complex composition of the altars.

monasteries in southern Germany, like this one in Ottobeuren with its imposing stairway, are reminiscent of royal residences.

Vaults with fine painting and exquisite stuccowork round off the architectural elements

The pulpit and other furnishings are designed to blend harmoniously with the decoration.

Stuccowork fills every interior space that is not decorated with paintings. Sometimes gilded, sometimes white, it may depict complex scenes or, in some cases, be adorned with ornamental designs.

Late Baroque church

façades, such as that of the Theatinerkirche in Munich, have a "rippled" design that creates an unusual effect of light and shadow.

The monstrance in Passau is a fine example of the art of 18th-century goldsmiths, who created these receptacles for the consecrated Host.

BAROOUE INTERIORS

Although they may seem over-elaborate, the late Baroque interiors of southern German churches are carefully-planned compositions intended to have a powerful effect. Their magnificent combination of architecture, sculpture and painting, and often organ music, resulted in "Gesamtkunstwerk" – a homogenous work that combines all the arts.

BAROQUE RESIDENCES

South German Baroque was not limited solely to religious architecture. As well as the magnificent monasteries and pilgrimage churches, it was also the inspiration for the impressive residences that were built by abbots as well as by bishops. As in the rest of Europe. these were modelled on the French royal palace in Versailles with its imposing grandeur. striking interiors and breathtaking gardens.

The Baroque vestibule in the Neues Schloss in Schleissheim (see pp264–5) is decorated with exquisite stuccowork and frescos.

Schloss Nymphenburg

was a summer residence of the rulers of Bavaria. It has a grand driveway and a park (see pp224–5).

Schloss Favorite is a small palace that forms part of a huge Baroquestyle residence in Ludwigsburg (see pp306–7).

Δlnine

Mountain peaks

taking jagged rocks.

with their breath-

The German Alps

Part of Germany extends into a fairly moderate section of the Alps, Europe's highest mountain range. They stretch from the Bodensee (Lake Constance) to Berchtesgaden. A section of the northern calcareous Alps belonging to the Eastern Alps of Allgäu, Bavaria and Salzburg Chough falls within Germany. The mountains are a holidaymaker's paradise all year round. In the summer mountain walks can be enjoyed, with well-marked trails, as well as climbing, hang-gliding and paragliding; in the winter skiing is possible in superbly equipped resorts.

Alpine meadows are rich pasture lands, providing premium quality hay. They are also home to a rich variety of wildflowers.

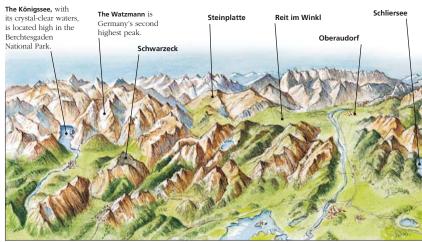

Mountain streams bave, over the years, cut a path through the rocks to create picturesque ravines. One of the most beautiful is this one at Wimbachklamm.

architecture blends happily into the landscape.

THE ALPINE LAKES

A melting glacier created many lakes in Bavaria. Their clear, unpolluted waters attract all kinds of watersports enthusiasts, while the picturesque surroundings are equally popular with other recreational users.

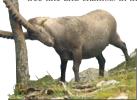

ALPINE FLORA AND FALINA

Alpine vegetation varies according to height above sea level. On the lower slopes are mixed deciduous forests. Higher up are Alpine forests, generally coniferous. Above the tree line, dwarf mountain pine grow and higher still are stretches of high-altitude meadows. Beyond this is bare rock. Wild goats are found above the tree line and chamois in the footbills

The Alpine ibex lives only in the Italian and Swiss Alps. This wild goat with long, backward-curving borns is a rare sight.

The mouflon is a wild sheep with large borns. It is also found in Corsica and Sardinia.

Alpine rock jasmine forms carpets of colour on the mountain slopes.

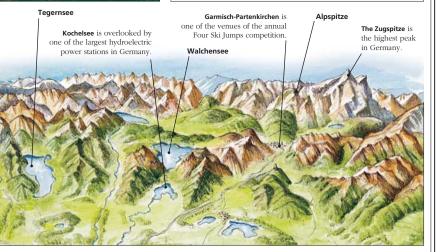

successfully to the harsh Alpine environment.

Alpine thrift, with its round beads of pink and purple flowers, is a delightful sight.

MUNICH

he capital of Bavaria, Munich is sometimes called "Germany's secret capital". Lying right at the heart of Europe, the city rapidly overshadowed once powerful neighbours, such as Ingolstadt, Augsburg and Nuremberg, to become southern Germany's main metropolis. With its vibrant cosmopolitan atmosphere, fine buildings, museums and shops, it is one of the country's most popular tourist destinations.

The citizens of Munich have been known for centuries for their love of the arts. The masterpieces that were created here during the Baroque and Rococo periods were equal to Italian and French works.

In the 19th century, the town's development continued along Neo-Classical lines, gaining for it the name of "Athens on Isar". Just how appropriate the name is can be seen when strolling along Ludwigstrasse or Königsplatz or visiting the Glyptothek, which houses Ludwig I's collection of Greek and Roman sculptures.

In the late 19th century the Munich Academy of Fine Arts was amongst Europe's best art schools. Not many cities have as great a choice of worldclass theatres, operas and museums as can be found here in Munich. But it is not only art that gives Munich its unique charm. The country's biggest folk festival, the Oktoberfest, is held each year in Theresienwiese, where visitors to the town can join in the revelries or just sit and watch, ordering a plate of sauerkraut with sausages and washing it down with some of the excellent Bavarian beer.

When planning a shopping trip to Munich visitors can be sure that its shops are equal to those of Paris and Milan, not only in the breadth of their range but also in terms of their prices.

The town is also one of Germany's main centres of high-tech and media industries. Many TV stations and film studios, as well as over 300 book and newspaper publishers, have their main offices in Munich.

The Neo-Gothic Rathaus in Marienplatz, Munich's central square

Exploring Munich

Munich, the capital of Bavaria, is exceptionally rich in interesting museums, churches and historic sights. This urban conurbation of about 1.3 million inhabitants increasingly swallows up the neighbouring areas. Many tourist attractions are located outside the town centre but, thanks to excellent public transport, it is easy to visit them. It is worth taking a trip to Nymphenburg to visit the famous palace and gardens there. Another interesting excursion is a stroll along Leopoldstraße or Theresienwiese, where the huge, annual Oktoberfest is held

GETTING THERE

Munich is an important railway junction and has its own international airport. It also has motorway connections with all the major towns and cities in Germany.

The distinctive towers of Munich's skyline

STAR SIGHTS

Churches

Asamkirche 6

Bürgersaal 1

Dreifaltigkeitskirche Frauenkirche 4

Ludwigskirche 22

Michaelskirche 2

Theatinerkirche (St Cajetan) 66

Buildings

Altes Rathaus @

Bayerische Staatsbibliothek 20

Feldhermhalle

Neues Rathaus 10

Propyläen 28

Residenz (pp216–17) 🐠

Schloss Nymphenburg

(pp224-5) 30

Villa Stuck 34

Museums and Galleries

Alte Pinakothek (pp222–3) 🛂 Archäologische

Staatssammlung 20

Bayerisches Nationalmuseum (18)

Fischereimuseum 6

Deutsches Museum

Glyptothek 26

Neue Pinakothek

Pinakothek der Moderne

Staatliche Antiken-

Stadtmuseum 1

Völkerkundemuseum 12

Other Attractions

Bayaria-Filmstadt 63

Englischer Garten @ Hofbräuhaus 13

Olympiapark 31

Theresienwiese 36 Viktualienmarkt 9

Deutsches Jagd- und

(pp228-9) 33

Haus der Kunst 10

Jüdisches Zentrum Jakobsplatz 8

Lenbachhaus 29

Schack-Galerie

sammlungen 20

Königsplatz III

KARLSTRASSE

Parking

KEY

Tourist information

Post office

Taxi-rank

Church, cathedral, chapel

Street-by-Street map pp210-11

SCHELLINGSTRASSE

GABELSBERGERSTRASSE

KARLSTRASSE

Ū

P

JOSEPHSPITALSTR

S Karlsplatz Р

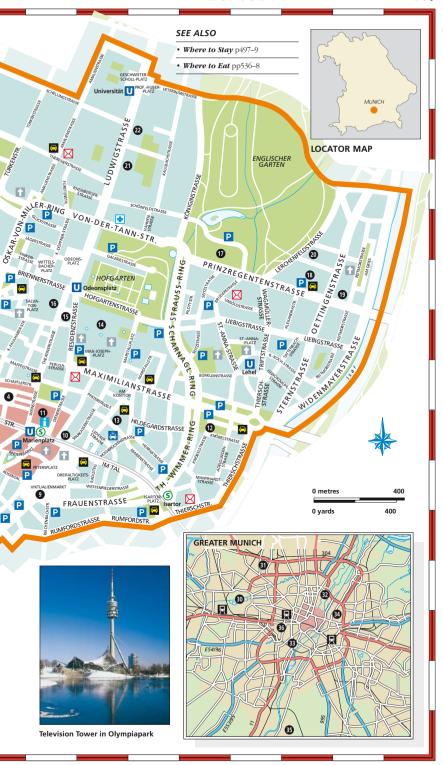

SONNENSTRASS

A

THERESIENSTRASSE

S-Bahn

U U-Bahn

Street-by-Street: Around Marienplatz

In medieval times, Marienplatz was Munich's salt- and corn-market. The origins of Munich itself lie with a handful of monks who built their abbev here, giving the place its name (from the word for 'monks') and its heraldic arms. In 1158 Welf Henry the Lion bestowed town status on Munich and 30 years later the town was allocated to the Wittelsbachs, who soon established a residence here. During the Reformation Munich became a bastion of Catholicism and an important centre of the Counter-Reformation Its magnificent churches, the Altes Rathaus (old town hall) and the Residenz all bear witness to that era

Karlstor

Known as the Karl's Gate, the west entrance to the old town was part of the medieval fortifications. It was given its present name in 1791, in honour of Elector Karl Theodore.

★ Bürgersaal

Bürgersaal was built in 1709–10 for a Marian congregation (followers of the Virgin Mary), as a place of meeting and worship. It includes an upper and lower church. Rupert Mayer, an opponent of Nazism, is buried in the crypt. He was beatified in 1987 1

HES 206-WILHELM

Michaelskirche

Michael's Church is surprisingly large. The massive barrel vaulting over the nave is the second largest after St Peter's Basilica in Rome 2

The interior of St

KFY

Suggested route

Augustinerbräu

The oldest and most celebrated brewery in Munich was founded by Augustinian monks in 1328. It currently occupies two 19th-century houses with picturesque façades.

0 metres

0 yards

★ Neues Rathaus

STAR SIGHTS

★ Bürgersaal ★ Frauenkirche

★ Altes Rathaus

M U N I C H 211

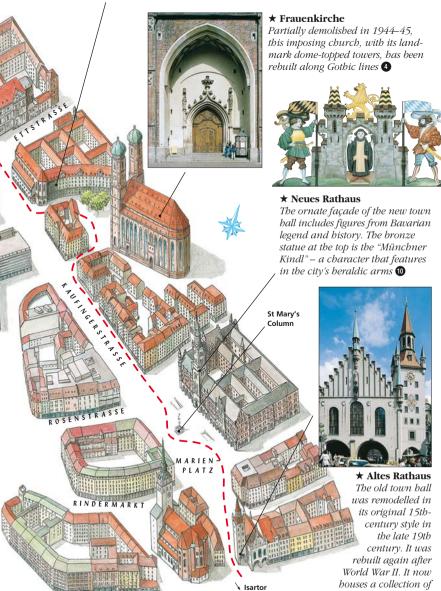

Deutsches Jagd- und Fischereimuseum

A huge collection of bunting and fishing exhibits is housed in the Augustinerkirche. The deconsecrated church, which has an ornate Rococo interior, once belonged to the Augustinian order § historic toys 9

LOCATOR MAP

Interior of the Bürgersaal, featuring original 19th-century frescoes

Bürgersaal 0

Neuhauser Straße 14. Map 1 F4. Tel (089) 219 97 20.
☑ or ⑤ Karlsplatz. 18, 19, 20, 21, 27. Lower church hall ○ 8:30am-7pm daily, Upper church hall ○ 10:30am-1pm daily.

This church belonging to the Marian congregation was designed by Giovanni Antonio Viscardi and built by Johann Georg Ettenhofer in 1709–10. (The Marian congregation, founded in 1563, is linked to the Jesuit order.)

The church was damaged during World War II, but still features original frescos. In the oratory is a figure of the Guardian Angel by Ignaz Günther (1770), a fine example of south-Bavarian Rococo. Rupert Mayer, parish priest during World War II and Munich's leading opponent of Nazism, is buried in the crypt.

Michaelskirche 2

St Michael's Church

Neuhauser Straße 52. Map 2 A4. U or ⑤ Karlsplatz. m 18, 19, 20, 21, 27. ○ 8:30am–7pm Mon–Wed, Sat, 8:30am–9pm Thu, 10am–7pm Fri, 7am–10pm Sun.

The monumental St Michael's Church was built by Duke Wilhelm V for the Jesuits who arrived here in 1559. The foundation stone was laid in 1585 and initial building work on the first church, which was smaller than the present one, commenced in 1588. However, the tower in front of the presbytery collapsed, demolishing a large part of the building. A transept and new presbytery were added to the remaining part of the building and the church which was the first Jesuit church in northern Europe was consecrated in 1597. The interior of Michaelskirche is awe-inspiring, with its wide, well-proportioned nave, three pairs of shallow chapels on either side, a short transept and an elongated presbytery. It is not certain who was the architect of the project, but it is believed that Wolfgang Müller created the main body of the church and Wendel Dietrich the Mannerist façade. Later extensions are thought to be the work of a Dutch architect, Friedrich Sustris.

Statue of St Michael at the entrance to Michaelskirche

In the church crypt, which is open to the public, are the tombs of many members of the Wittelsbach dynasty, including King Ludwig II.

Holy Trinity Church

Pacellistraße 6. Map 2 A3. 19. 8am–4pm daily.

The Baroque church of the Holy Trinity is one of the few historic buildings in the city to have avoided bomb damage during World War II. The church was built as a votive gift from the city's burghers, aristocracy and clergy in the hope of averting the dangers threatened by the War of the Spanish Succession (1702–14). The foundation stone was laid in 1711 and the church was consecrated seven years later. The royal architect, Giovanni Antonio Viscardi, assisted by Enrico Zucalli and Georg Ettenhofer, created a building that is one of the most beautiful examples of Italian Baroque in Munich. The church's original features include the dome fresco by Cosmas Damian Asam, The Adoration of the Trinity.

Frauenkirche 4

Frauenplatz 1. Map 2 B4. U or ($) Karlsplatz & Marienplatz \text{ } 19.
Church \(\) 7am-7pm Sat-Thu, 7am6pm Fri. Tower \(\) Apr-Oct: 10am5pm Mon-Sat. \(\) Sun & holidays.

The site of the Frauenkirche was originally occupied by a Marian chapel. which was built in the 13th century Some two hundred years later. Prince Sigismund ordered a new. much bigger church to be built on the site. Its architects were Jörg von Halspach and Lukas Rottaler The Frauenkirche was completed in 1488, though the distinctive copper onion-domes were not added to its towers until 1525. The church is one of southern Germany's biggest Gothic structures, which can accommodate a congregation of about 2,000.

A triple-nave hall with no transept features rows of side chapels, a gallery surrounding the choir and a monumental western tower. The whole huge structure measures over 100 m (330 ft) in length and almost 40 m (130 ft) wide.

The church treasures that escaped destruction during World War II include a Marian painting, dating from around 1500, by Jan Polak; the altar of St Andrew in St Sebastian's chapel, with statues by Meister von Rabenden and paintings by Jan Polak, dating from 1510; and the monumental tomb of Emperor Ludwig IV of Bavaria, the work of Hans Krumpper (1619–22).

Deutsches Jagdund Fischereimuseum 6

German Museum of Hunting and Fishing

Neuhauser Straße 2. Map 2 A4. Tel (089) 22 05 22. ① or ⑤ Marienplatz. ? 18, 19, 20, 21, 27. ② 9:30am–5pm Mon–Wed, Fri–Sun, 9:30am–9pm Thu. 『◎

Immediately adjacent to St Michael's Church is the Augustinerkloster, the former Augustinian church, which now houses the Museum of Hunting and Fishing. The original building dates from around 1300 (the first Augustinian monks arrived here in 1294). It was rebuilt in the mid-15th century and then remodelled in the Baroque style in 1620–21. The church was deconsecrated in 1803.

Since 1966, the building's ornate Rococo interior has housed a very interesting museum, with a collection of weapons dating from the Renaissance. Baroque and

Rococo periods, as well as hunting trophies and related paintings, prints and

Carving on main

Frauenkirche portal

Pulpit in the Rococo-style Asamkirche dioramas. Artists represented in the museum's collection include several great names such as Rubens, Snyders and Antonio Pisanello

Asamkirche 6

Asams' Church

Sendlinger Straße 32. Map 2 A5. U Sendlinger Tor. 16, 17, 18, 27. 52, 152. 63 8am-6pm daily. 55pm Mon, Tue, Thu, 8:30am Wed, 6pm Sat, 10am Sun. 17 noon Sat.

Officially known as St Johann-Nepomuk, this gem of Rococo architecture stands in Sendlingerstrasse and is part of a complex built by the Asam brothers in the mid-18th century. In 1729-30, the sculptor and stuccoist Egid Ouirin Asam acquired two properties that he intended to convert into a family home for himself. He subsequently acquired a plot adjacent to these properties, where he wished to build a church devoted to the newly canonized St Nepomuk, a Bohemian monk who had drowned in the Danube Above the entrance to the church is a statue of the saint.

At the same time, Cosmas Damian, the brother of Egid Quirin Asam, bought a plot on which he built the presbytery. The church building adjoins the residential house of Egid Quirin. The two buildings were joined by a corridor and from one of his bedroom windows the artist could see the main altar.

In this small but unique church. the Asam brothers achieved a rare and striking unity of style. In the church's dimly lit interior, with its rich, dynamically shaped single nave, no surface is left unembellished. Irresistibly, the eye is drawn to the altar, which features a sculpted group of the Holy Trinity.

A Wilhelm von Kaulbach painting (1847) in the Stadtmuseum

Stadtmuseum •

Town Museum

St Jakobsplatz 1. Map 2 A5. Tel (089) 23 32 23 70. U or (S) Marienplatz. U Sendlinger Tor. 1 10am–6pm Tue–Sun.

A few steps away from the Viktualienmarkt, on St Jakobsplatz, stands the Town Museum. Its rich collection has been housed since 1880 in the former arsenal building, which was built in 1491–93 by Lucas Rottaler. It is one of Munich's most fascinating museums, with exhibits illustrating the everyday lives of the city's citizens throughout the centuries.

Its greatest treasures are the famous ten dancing Moors by Erasmus Grasser (1480). carved in lime wood and originally numbering 18. Also on the ground floor, in the Waffenhalle, is a splendid collection of arms. Other displays include furniture (in styles ranging from Baroque to Art Deco), photographs, film, brewing equipment and musical instruments. There is also a large and fascinating doll collection, which includes a variety of original puppets, and a collection of paintings and prints.

The museum regularly stages special exhibitions. It also houses a cinema, the Filmmuseum, which puts on nightly showings of Englishlanguage films.

Jüdisches Zentrum Jakobsplatz ❸

Jewish Centre Jakobsplatz

The Jewish Museum, the Jewish Community Centre of Munich and Upper Bavaria, and the recently inaugurated main synagogue, Ohel Jakob, together constitute a prestigious new centre for Munich's Jewish community.

The museum is housed in a cube-shaped building. Three floors of exhibitions, plus a library and a learning centre, all provide extensive information on Jewish culture and history and highlight important aspects of contemporary lewish life.

The synagogue, also cubeshaped, is crowned by a lightflooded roof. The community centre contains the administrative department, the rabbinate, conference rooms, a kindergarden, a public fulltime school, a youth and arts centre and a kosher restaurant.

Viktualienmarkt 🛭

Peterplatz-Frauenstraße. Map 2 B5. U or S Marienplatz. 5 2.

Right at the heart of the city is the Viktualienmarkt, a large square that has been the city's main marketplace for the last 200 years. Apart from stalls selling vegetables and fruit brought in daily

Colourfully laden market stalls in Munich's Viktualienmarkt from suburban orchards or village gardens, the local beer garden provides a welcome retreat for a beer or snack.

One of the features of the square is a statue of a famous Munich actor and comedian, Karl Valentin (1882–1948).

An impressive view over the market can be enjoyed from the tower of Peterskirche (St Peter's Church), which stands alongside the square.

Signs of the Zodiac adorning the clock face on the Altes Rathaus

Altes Rathaus @

Old Town Hall

Marienplatz 15. Map 2 B4. U or § Marienplatz. to visitors. Spielzeugmuseum Tel (089) 29 40 01. 10am–5:30pm daily. 4 www.toymuseum.de Munich's old town hall stands in the eastern part of Marienplatz, immediately next to the new town hall. The original building, which has been remodelled several times, was built in 1470–75 by Jörg von Halspach, who also designed the Marian church.

The building's present Neo-Gothic look is the result of remodelling work carried out between 1877 and 1934, when the nearby dual carriageway ring road was being built.

The interior of the building, which was restored following World War II bomb damage, features the Dance Hall with a wooden cradle vault. It is adorned with an old frieze featuring 87 (originally 99) heraldic arms painted by Ulrich Fuetrer in 1478, and a further seven carved by Erasmus Grasser in 1477. The figures standing by the walls are copies of the famous dancing Moors, whose originals by Erasmus Grasser (1480) are kept in the Town Museum (Stadtmuseum).

The lofty tower rising above the old city gate (Talbrucktor) was remade in 1975 based on pictures dating from 1493. Since 1983, the tower has housed the toy collection of the Spielzeugmuseum.

Neues Rathaus @

New Town Hall

Marienplatz. Map 2 B4. Tel (089) 233 00. ☐ or ⑤ Marienplatz. ☐ Town Hall and Tower: May-Oct: 9am-7pm Mon-Fri, 10am-7pm Sat & Sun; Nov-Apr: 9am-5pm Mon-Thu, 9am-1pm Fri. ☐ Sat, Sun. ☐ ☐ Carillons: Apr-Oct: 11am, noon, 5pm daily; Nov-Feb: 11am noon

The Neo-Gothic new town hall standing in Marienplatz was built by Georg Hauberrisser in 1867–1909. Its 100-m (330-ft) high façade features a fascinating set of statues depicting Bavarian dukes, kings and electors, saints, mythical and allegorical figures as well as a variety of gargoyles inspired by medieval bestiaries. The central façade features an 80-m (260-ft) high clock tower.

known as Glockenspiele. Each day, at 11am and 5pm, the bells ring out a carillon. while mechanical knights fight a tournament and a crowd dances. The latter is a reenactment of the first coopers' dance. which was held in 1517 to boost the morale of citizens when the town

Statue on façade of Neues Rathaus mechanical

of figures appear in the windows

on the seventh was beset by the plague. Other floor in the evenings (9:30pm in summer, 7:30pm in winter). These are flanked by figures of the town guardsman carrying a lantern and the Guardian Angel blessing a Munich child, the "Münchner Kindl".

Richly decorated entrance to the Völkerkundemuseum

Völkerkundemuseum @

State Museum of Ethnography

On the opposite side of the ring road from the Maximilianeum (the Upper Bayaria Government building) is the State Museum of Ethnography. Built in 1858-65 to a design by E. Riedel, its facade is decorated with eight figures personifying the virtues of the Bavarian people: patriotism, diligence, magnanimity, piety, lovalty, justice, courage and wisdom. Originally intended to house the Bavarian National Museum (now in Prinzregentenstraße), the building has been home to the State Museum of Ethnography since 1925. It is the second largest (after Berlin) ethnographic museum in Germany.

The origins of the museum's collection go back to 1782. when curios taken from the treasures of various Bayarian rulers were exhibited in a gallery in the gardens of the residence. Attention began to focus on ethnography after expansion of the collection in 1868. The museum currently houses some 300,000 exhibits depicting the art and culture of non-European nations. with a particular emphasis on the Far East (China and Japan). South America and Eastern and Central Africa. The collection is presented in a series of changing exhibitions.

Hofbräuhaus @

Platzl 9. Map 2 C4. Tel (089) 22 16 76. U or ⑤ Marienplatz. ① 9am-midnight daily.

The Hofbräuhaus is the most popular beer hall in Munich and a great tourist attraction. Established as a court brewery in 1589 by Wilhelm V, it was originally housed in Alter Hof, but moved to Platzl in 1654. In 1830 permission was granted to build an inn where beer could be sold to the public.

The Neo-Renaissance form of the building dates from 1896. The Schwemme, on the ground floor, is a large hall with painted ceiling and room for about 1,000 guests. The Festall, on the first floor, has a barrel-shaped vault and can accommodate 1,300 guests.

In a courtyard, surrounded by chestnut trees, is the beer garden, which is always very popular during the summer.

Guests enjoying a drink in the beer garden of the Hofbräuhaus

Residenz o

Necklace dating from 1557

This former residence of Bavarian kings has housed a museum since 1920. Over the years, the original Wittelsbachs' castle, which had stood on the site since the 14th century, was gradually extended. Major work in the 17th century included new surroundings for the Brunnenhof and the construction of buildings around the imperial courtyard, Hofkapelle and Reiche Kapelle. Königsbau and Festsaalbau were added in the first half of the 19th century. The Renaissance façade includes two magnificent portals and features a statue of the Holy Virgin as Patroness of Bavaria (Patrona Boiariae).

Hofkapelle

This imposing chapel, dating from the early 17th century, was modelled on St Michael's Church. Vault decorations date from 1614.

Reiche Kapelle

This was the private chapel of Maximilian I. Though smaller than the Residenz's other chapel, it is richly furnished.

Grottenhof

In the eastern section of this courtyard is this grotto lined with crystal, coloured shells and tufa.

Built by Leo von Klenze, Königsbau features five Halls of the Nibelungs. The rooms owe their name to the wall paintings, which depict scenes from the famous German medieval epic Nibelungenlied.

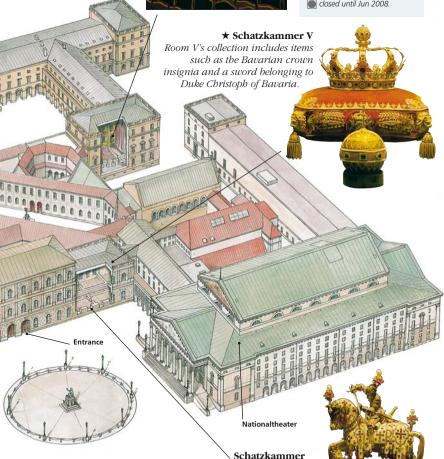

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Residenzmuseum Max-JosephPlatz 3. Map 2 C3. Tel (089) 29 06
71. Odeonsplatz. 1 Apr15 Oct: 9am-6pm daily; 16 Oct31 Mar: 10am-4pm daily. S
Staatliche Sammlung Ägyptischer Kunst Max-Joseph-Platz
3. Tel (089) 29 85 46. Odeonsplatz. 9am-5pm
Tue-Fri, 7-9pm Tue (additional),
10am-5pm Sat, Sun. C
Cuvilliés-Theater Residenzstrasse 1. Tel (089) 29 06 71.

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Cuvilliés-Theater
- ★ Nibelungensäle
- ★ Schatzkammer V

Besides royal insignia, liturgical vessels and various everyday objects, the treasure house contains some unusual gold and jewellery items. The star attraction of Room III is this small equestrian statue of St George, the work (1586–97) of Friedrich Sustris.

Feldherrnhalle 6

Odeonsplatz, Map 2 B3. U Odeonsplatz. 19. 🚃 53. to the public

Until 1816, the site of this monumental building was occupied by a Gothic town gate - Schwabinger Tor. In the early 19th century, however, when Kings Maximilian L Joseph and Ludwig L decided to expand Munich northwards and westwards their chief architect. Leo von Klenze, ordered the gate to be pulled down, as it stood in the way of the prestigious thoroughfare (Ludwigstrasse) that he intended to build.

Built in 1841-44, the Feldherrnhalle was designed by Friedrich von Gärtner, who modelled it on the Loggia dei Lanzi in Florence Intended as a monument to the heroes of Bayaria, the interior contains statues of two great military leaders, Johann Tilly and Karl Philipp von Wrede by Ludwig Schwanthaler.

The central carved composition devoted to the heroes of the 1870-71 Franco-Prussian War is much newer, dating from 1882. It was designed by Ferdinand von Miller The Feldhermhalle

Pediment on the gable of Theatinerkirche, with copper dome behind

HITLER AND THE FELDHERRNHALLE

On the evening of 8 November 1923, Adolf Hitler announced the start of the "people's revolution" in the Bürgerbräukeller and ordered the takeover of the central districts of Munich, On 9 November a march of some 2,000 people acting on his orders was stopped by a police cordon outside the Feldherrnhalle in Residenzstraße. Four policemen and 16 of Hitler's supporters were shot. The marchers were dispersed, and Hitler fled to Uffing am Starnberger See. but was arrested and imprisoned. When Hitler finally came to power in 1933. he turned what became known as the Hitler-Putsch into a central element of the Nazi cult.

The accused in the trial against the participants in the Hitler-Putsch of 1923

Theatinerkirche (St Cajetan) 6

St Caietan's Church

Theatinerstraße 22. Map 2 B3. III or (S) Marienplatz. 19. 7am-7pm daily.

In Odeonsplatz, next to Feldherrnhalle, stands one of the most magnificent churches in Munich. St Caietan's > Church, When Henrietta Adelaide of Savov Ferdinand with his longawaited heir. Maximilian. the happy parents vowed to build an abbey in Italian architect, Agostino Baralli. who based his design on St. Andrea della Valle in Rome

Although construction work on the church ended in 1690. the façade - designed by François de Cuvilliés - was not completed until 1765-68. The interior of the church is adorned with stuccos by Giovanni Antonio Viscardi and furnished in rich Baroque style. Its twin towers and copper dome are dominant features on the Munich skyline.

Haus der Kunst @

Arts House

Prinzregentenstraße 1. Map 3 D2. Tel (089) 21 12 71 13. 🚃 53, 55. 🦳 10am–8pm daily, 10am-10pm Thu.

Built between 1933 and 1937. the Neo-Classical building is the work of a Nazi architect, Paul Ludwig Trost. It opened its doors in 1937 with a display of propaganda art, which was proclaimed by the Nazis as truly German". This was followed by "The Exhibition of Degenerate Art", in which several masterpieces of modern art were displayed in order to be ridiculed.

Since 1945 the building has become a dynamic centre of modern art that is famous for its temporary exhibitions.

Its central hall, the Ehrenhalle (Hall of Honour), which was subdivided into smaller spaces, is currently being reopened in stages, each stage accompanied by a special exhibition. This process will continue into 2005, when the hall will once again become the centre of the building. It will house new visitor facilities, as well as a permanent exhibition documenting the history of the Haus der Kunst.

Bayarian National Museum

The Bavarian National Museum was founded in 1855 by King Maximilian II. Between 1894 and 1900 it acquired a new building in Prinzregentenstrasse, which was designed by Gabriel von Seidel; this building alone is worth a closer look. The complex structure consists of wings representing various architectural styles, while the ground floor features halls that are built in styles that are appropriate to their exhibits. This means that the visitor can see Romanesque and Gothic art in Neo-Romanesque and Neo-Gothic Neo-Gothic rooms, Renaissance art in Neo-Renaissance rooms and Baroque in Neo-Baroque rooms. The individual rooms have been arranged in subject groups, with paintings and sculptures supplemented

Conrad Meit's Judith (1515), Bavarian National Museum

> by superb collections of decorative art and everyday objects, including furniture. The exhibits include a beautiful sculpture of the Madonna by Tilman Riemenschneider.

The first-floor collections are arranged thematically and include German porcelain, clocks, glass paintings, ivory carvings, textiles and gold items. Particularly interesting is a collection of small oil sketches, painted by artists when designing some largescale compositions, such as an altar or a ceiling painting.

A special annex houses the Bollert Collection, which contains sculptures from the late-Gothic period.

Poster advertising an exhibition at

Schack-Galerie @

Prinzregentenstraße 9. Map 3 E3. Tel (089) 23 80 52 24. 10am–5pm Wed–Sun. 17.

The magnificent collection of German paintings on display in this gallery come from the private collection of Adolf Friedrich von Schack. They are housed in this elegant building built in 1907 by Max Littmann for use by the Prussian Legation.

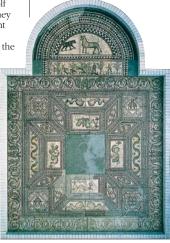

As Schack's main interest was in 19thcentury painting, the gallery features works that represent the Romantic period, including Leo von Klenze and Carl Spitzweg, as well as witty, fairy-tale works by Moritz von Schwind. Particularly notable are his Morning, In the Woods and Rübezahl – in which the mythical Guardian of the Riesengebirge Mountains wanders through an enchanted forest. Late 19th-century painters are represented by Franz von Lenbach, Anselm Feuerbach and, above all, by Arnold Bocklin. Bocklin's Romantic works, which are full of symbolism, include Villa on the Coast and Man Scaring a Deer. The gallery has a large collection of land-scapes, including interesting sun-soaked Italian scenes by German masters, as well as a valuable collection of paintings devoted to historic themes.

Archäologische Staatssammlung @

Prehistory Museum

Lerchenfeldstraße 2. Map 3 E2. Tel (089) 211 24 02. ∰ 17. ₩ 100. ☐ 9:30am–5pm Tue–Sun.

Immediately adjacent to the Bayarian National Museum is the Prehistory Museum, which was founded in 1885 by King Ludwig II. Since 1976, this spacious building has housed a rich collection of artifacts excavated in various parts of Bayaria. The oldest items in the collection date from the Palaeolithic era while later exhibits illustrate the region's early history. The collection includes Bronze Age, Roman and early Medieval treasures.

A 3rd-century mosaic floor from a Roman villa, on display in the Prehistory Museum

Bayerische Staatsbibliothek 2

Bavarian National Library

Ludwigstraße 16. Map 2 C1, C2. Tel (089) 286 38 23 22. U Odeon, Universität. 9am-9pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat-Sun. (telephone bookings required).

The monumental Bavarian national library was designed by Friedrich von Gärtner, who took over, in 1827, from Leo von Klenze as the main architect on the prestigious Ludwigstrasse project – commissioned by King Ludwig I. Gärtner was also responsible for the Feldherrnhalle, Siegestor, St Ludwig's Church, and the University building.

This massive structure, in a style reminiscent of the Italian Renaissance, was erected between 1832 and 1843. Its external staircase is adorned with the seated figures of Thucydides, Hippocrates, Homer and Aristotle, by Ludwig von Schwanthaler.

Equally impressive are the stairs leading to the main rooms, which are modelled on the Scala dei Gianti of the Doge Palace in Venice. With its collection of 5 million volumes, the library is on a par with the Berlin Staatsbibliothek (see p68) as the biggest in Germany.

A statue of Hippocrates at the Bavarian National Library

The imposing twin-tower façade of Munich's Ludwigskirche

Ludwigskirche @

St Ludwig's Church

Ludwigstraße 20. Map 2 C1.

U Universität. 7:30am–8pm daily.

Inspired by the Romanesque churches of Lombardy, Friedrich von Gärtner built this monumental triple-nave basilica with transept and twin-tower façade between 1829 and 1844.

The building's vast interior features magnificent original frescos that were designed by the main exponent of the Nazarene style, Peter von Cornelius, and painted by his associates. Von Cornelius himself painted the massive choir fresco, The Last Judgement. One of the biggest frescos in the world, it rivals in size Michelangelo's Last Judgement, which hangs in the Sistine Chapel, Rome.

Neue Pinakothek 3

The New Pinakothek

The Bavarian collection of modern European paintings and sculptures is housed in a building built by Alexander von Brancas between 1975 and 1981. It holds a representative collection of German works, from Neo-Classicism through Romanticism, the "Nazarenes", German and Austrian Biedermeier, Realism, Historicism, Impressionism, Pointillism and Secession paintings.

The collection also includes works by renowned French Realists, Impressionists, Post-Impressionists and Symbolists, purchased in 1909–11, when the gallery's director was the art historian Hugo von Tschudi.

The collection includes Ferdinand Georg Waldmüller's Young Peasant Woman with Three Children Standing at the Window (1840). Friedrich Overbeck's Italia and Germania (1828). Edouard Manet's Breakfast in the Studio (1868). Honoré Daumier's Don Ouijote (1868), Edgar Degas' Ironing Woman (1869). Paul Gauguin's Birth of Christ (1869). Walter Crane's Neptune's Horses (1892). Gustav Klimt's Music (1895) and Lovis Corinth's Portrait of Count Eduard von Kevserling (1900). The gallery ends with a small selection of Symbolist and Art Nouveau paintings.

The space between the Old and New Pinakothek has been turned into a sculpture park that features, among others, a work by Henry Moore.

Goya's Die Marquesa de Caballero in the Neue Pinakothek

Alte Pinakothek @

The Old Pinakothek

See pp222-3.

Facade of the Glyptothek, with its central column portico

Pinakothek der Moderne @

Barer Straße 40 Man 2 A2 Tel (089) 23 80 53 60. III Königsplatz. 🚃 53. 📆 27. 🦳 10am–6pm Tue-Wed & Fri-Sun, 10am-8pm Thu. 悠息■

www.pinakothek-der-moderne.de

Designed by the German architect Stephan Braunfels, this gallery was built to complement the collections in the Alte and Neue Pinakotheks nearby. The modern building brings together the worlds of art, design, graphics, iewellery and architecture under one roof.

Highlights of the collection include Cubist works by Picasso and Georges Braque. and paintings by Matisse, Giorgio De Chirico and Max Beckmann, Pop Art, Minimal Art and Photorealism are also represented. The design exhibition is outstanding.

Glyptothek @

Glyptotheca

Königsplatz 3. Map 1 F2. Tel (089) 28 61 00. T Königsplatz. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun, 10am-8pm Thu

The Königsplatz complex, including Glyptothek and Propylaeum, was the work of Leo von Klenze. It was built in 1816-34 to house Ludwig I's collection of Greek and Roman sculptures and was the first public museum to be devoted to a single art discipline.

The most famous pieces in the museum's collection are the ancient statue of a young man, Apollo of Terentia (560 BC), the tomb stele of Mnesareta (380 BC) and sculptures from the front of the Aphaia temple of Aegina.

Staatliche Antikensammlungen @

The National Collection of Antiquities

Königsplatz 1. Map 1 F2. Tel (089) 59 98 88 30. U Königsplatz. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun, 10am-8pm Wed.

Built in 1838-48 by Georg Friedrich Ziebland this building is on the south side of the Königsplatz. Since 1967 it has housed one of the world's finest collections of antique vases from the 5th and 6th centuries BC. There are also many other masterpieces of Greek, Roman and Etruscan ornamental art. jewellery and small statues. Among the famous exhibits is a golden Greek necklace from the 4th century BC.

Propyläen @

Königsplatz, Map 1 F2. W Königsplatz.

Derived from the Propylaea to the Athenian Acropolis, this magnificent Neo-Classical structure stands at the end of Brienner Strasse and is visible from as far as Karolinenplatz, Built by Leo von Klenze in 1846-62, its austere form, featuring Doric porticos, provides an excellent final touch to the composition of Königsplatz by linking together the National Collection of Antiquities and the Glyptotheca.

The Propyläen is also a symbolic gateway to the new parts of the city. It was funded by the private foundation of built after his abdication. the Lenbachhaus

The carved decorations depict scenes from the Greek War of Liberation against Turkey (1821-29), led by King Otto I. son of Ludwig I.

Lenbachhaus @

Luisenstraße 33. Map 1 F2. Tel (089) 23 33 20 00. TJ Königsplatz. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun.

This Italian-style villa was built between 1887 and 1891 by Gabriel von Seidl for Franz von Lenbach, a painter who was very popular with the establishment.

Since 1929, the villa has housed the Municipal Art Gallery. Apart from masterpieces such as Portrait of a Man, by Jan Polak (c.1500) and Friends from the Young Days by Carl Spitzweg (1855). it also has the world's biggest collection of works by a group known as Der Blaue Reiter (The Blue Rider) artists. The Russian painter Wassily Kandinsky was a leading proponent of this movement.

King Ludwig I, although Fountain in the beautiful front garden of

Alte Pinakothek

Construction work on the Alte Pinakothek. one of the world's most famous art galleries. began in 1826 and was completed 10 years later. Leo von Klenze designed the Italian-Renaissancestyle building. The history of princely collections goes back to the Renaissance period, when Wilhelm IV the Steadfast (ruled 1508-50) decided to adorn his residence with historic paintings. His successors were equally keen art collectors and. by the 18th century, an outstanding collection of 14th- to 18th-century paintings had been amassed.

Madonna (c.1484) This is one of the most frequently copied masterpieces by the Dutch painter Roger van der Wevden.

★ Four Apostles (1526) These two panels were painted by Albrecht . Dürer. a founding figure of the German school of art. They were acauired in 1627 by Maximilian I from the Emperor Charles V (1548) This portrait was painted by the Venetian artist Titian during the Emperor's visit to the Reich's Parliament in Augsburg.

KFY

- Flemish and Dutch paintings
- German paintings
- Italian paintings
- French paintings
- Spanish paintings
- 16th–17th-century paintings
- Temporary exhibitions
- Non-exhibition space

Adoration of the Magi (1504)

Main entrance

The depiction of the adoration is just one small part of the most important altarpiece by Hans Holbein the Elder.

STAR EXHIBITS

- ★ Descent from the Cross
- ★ Four Apostles
- ★ Land of Cockaigne

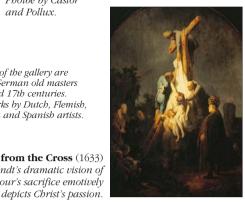

First floor

Rape of the Daughters of Leukippos (1618) A highlight of the museum is the Rubens collection. which includes his detriction of the abduction of Hilaeria and Phoibe by Castor and Pollux.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Barer Straße 27. Road map 2 A1 Tel (089) 23 80 52 16 U Königsplatz. 🚃 53. 🛅 27. 10am-6pm Wed-Sun. 10am–8pm Tue. 🚳 (admission free to children up to age 8.) 対象も■□□

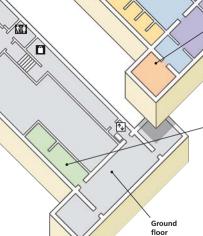

GALLERY GUIDE

The ground-floor rooms of the gallery are devoted to the works of German old masters dating from the 16th and 17th centuries. On the first floor are works by Dutch, Flemish, French, German, Italian and Spanish artists.

> ★ Descent from the Cross (1633) Rembrandt's dramatic vision of the Saviour's sacrifice emotively

> > Disrobing of Christ (c.1583-84) The gallery's small but interesting collection of Spanish paintings includes this work by El Greco, one of his three most important compositions.

In this vividly detailed painting by Pieter

Brueghel the Elder, the Flemish artist depicts the mythical land of plenty. The work is an ironic condemnation of gluttony and laziness, themes that are depicted in its many humorous scenes.

Schloss Nymphenburg

One of Europe's most beautiful palaces. Schloss Nymphenburg grew up around an Italianate villa built in 1663-64 for the Electress Henriette-Adelaide to a design by Agostino Barelli. The palace was dedicated to the pastoral goddess Flora and her nymphs, hence the name. Several additions were made over the vears, including four pavilions. These were designed by Joseph Effner and Enrico Zuccalli who directed works from 1715.

were connected by arcaded passageways.

Porcelain parrot Built to the side of the original villa, these in front of the factory ★ Gallery of Beauties Portraits of royal favourites include this one of Helene Sedlmayr, a 17-year-old girl from Munich.

Entrance to Schloss Nymphenburg

Seen in this view are the original Italianate villa and two of the side pavilions that were added later.

Marstallmuseum

The former stables house a collection of carriages that once belonged to Bavarian rulers. They include the magnificent carriages of Ludwig II.

Porcelain Factory

Established in 1747 by Franz Anton Bustelli and transferred to Nymphenburg in 1761, this is one of the oldest porcelain factories in Europe.

Suggested route

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Amalienburg
- ★ Festsaal
- ★ Gallery of Beauties

MUNICH 225

Badenburg

* Amalienburg

The interior of this hunting lodge in the Schlosspark is a superb example of Rococo style by François Cuvilliés.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Tel (089) 17 90 80.

U Rotkreuzplatz. 12.

Apr–15 Oct: 9am–6pm daily;

Magdalenenklause

After a lifetime of revels, Maximilian Emanuel commissioned a hermitage where be could pray and meditate. It was completed in 1725.

Pagodenburg

Museum Mensch und Natur

This museum is devoted to geology and human biology.

Lackkabinett

This small 17th-century cabinet owes its name to its panels of black and red Chinese lacquer.

A collection of botanical specimens, including many rare plants, is featured in this fascinating garden.

Featuring decorations devoted to the goddess Flora, this vast Rococo ballroom is the work of father and son – Johann Baptist and Franz Zimmermann.

The sports complex is located lake. Opposite it is a hill that was constructed from rubble

Apart from sporting events,

the Olympiapark hosts many works displays and regular in the summer months.

Englischer

U Giselastraße. 🚃 54.

Garten @

popular events, including fire-

open-air rock and pop concerts removed from the city after war destruction.

beside the park's artificial

View from the platform of the television tower in Olympiapark

Olympiapark Olympiapark

Tel (089) 30 67 24 14. U Olympiazentrum. 2 20, 25, 27. Television tower 9 9am−midnight daily.

Built for the 1972 Olympic Games, this vast sports stadium can be spotted from almost anywhere in Munich, as it is the site of a 290-m (950-ft) high television tower, the Olympiaturm. The entire complex was designed by Germany's leading architects, Behnisch and Partners.

The stadium has three main facilities: the Olympic Stadium, which seats 62,000 spectators, the Olympic Hall and the Swimming Hall. In what is one of the most original constructions of 20th-century German architecture, all three are covered by a vast transparent canopy, stretched between a series of tall masts to form an irregular tent.

The stadium includes many other facilities, such as an indoor skating rink, a cycle racing track and tennis courts.

The idea of creating this garden, which would be open to all the inhabitants of Munich and not only to its aristocracy, came from Count von Rumford, an Americanborn chemist and physicist who lived in Bavaria from garden covers an area of 5 sq km (1,235 acres) – right in the centre of a large city, was quite unique in Germany. In 1789, taking advantage of his influential position, he persuaded Karl Theodor to put his plans into action.

1784. As the region's Minister for reorganizing the Bavarian of War, he was responsible army. His idea of creating a garden of this size - the

The project leader was Friedrich Ludwig von Sckell. He was brought to Munich from Schwetzingen by the Elector to create the garden on an area of former marshland.

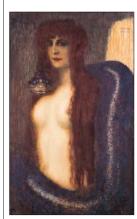

Opened in 1808, the Karl-Theodor-Park is today known simply as the Englischer Garten (English Garden). It is a popular place for long walks, jogging or just lying on the grass in the cool shade of a spreading old tree.

There are some interesting old buildings in the park, such as the Monopteros, a Neo-Classical temple by Leo von Klenze (1837), and the Chinese Tower (1789–90), which is similar to the pagoda in London's Kew Gardens. The Tower stands in one of the park's beer gardens.

It is also worth dropping in to the Japanese Teahouse, where the gentle art of tea brewing is demonstrated.

Deutsches Museum **®

See pp228-9.

Franz von Stuck's Die Sünde, on display in the Villa Stuck

Villa Stuck @

Prinzregentenstraße 60. Tel (089) 45 55 51 0. ♣ 18. ➡ 51, 55. 11am–6pm Wed–Sun. ❷

This villa was the home of the famous painter Franz von Stuck, the co-founder of the Munich Secession school of painting. As well as numerous portraits, nudes and sculptures, Von Stuck was the creator of many mythological and allegorical scenes, all painted in dark colours and full of

Chinese Tower in the Englischer Garten

Submarine used in the film Das Boot, displayed in Bayaria-Filmstadt eroticism. These include eight variations (1893) on the theme of sin. His Amazon (1897) stands in front of the villa

Franz von Stuck built the villa in 1897–98, to his own design, decorating it with his own paintings and sculptures. Since 1968, it has housed a museum. A permanent exhibition of Stuck's work is displayed in the magnificent music room on the ground floor, while the second-floor rooms are used for temporary exhibitions devoted mainly to early 20th-century art.

Bayaria-Filmstadt 69

Bavariafilmplatz 7. Tel (089) 64 99 20 00. 25 25. Mar–Oct: 9am–4pm daily; Nov–Feb: 10am–3pm daily.

Commonly known as Hollywood on Isar, this vast site in the southern suburb of Geiselgasteig covers an area of over 3.5 sq km (865 acres).

Since 1919 the world's greatest cinema stars have worked here, including Orson Welles and Billy Wilder. The British film director Alfred Hitchcock made his first films here (The Pleasure Garden, 1925 and The Mountain Eagle, 1926). Elizabeth Taylor, Gina Lollobrigida and Romy Schneider have all stood in front of the cameras here.

Strolling visitors to the site will often come across some well-known characters who have appeared in films such as E.T. or The Neverending Story, which were filmed here. The sets of other films made here, including Enemy Mine and Cabaret, can also be seen. You can also peep into the submarine that was reconstructed for Wolfgang Petersen's classic film Das Boot (1981) – the film follows the voyage of one such boat during World War II.

VIP tours of the Filmstadt include stuntmen shows and fascinating demonstrations of many technical film-making tricks and techniques. A special attraction is the cinema called Showscan, whose seats move according to the story on the screen, giving visitors the sensation of a trip through the universe or of flying through the tunnels of an old silver mine

While taking a look behind film sets you may even catch a glimpse of a movie star or a celebrity, as the studio is also used for recording TV shows.

Theresienwiese 6

Theresienhöhe. U Theresienwiese. Oktoberfest (Sep–Oct).

For most of the year this is simply a vast oval meadow encircled by the Bavariaring. Theresienwiese comes into its own once a year, however, during the Oktoberfest. Then it turns into a gigantic, boisterous beer-drinking venue, with stalls, marquees, funfair and loud music.

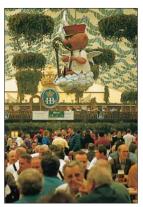

Towering above the meadow is a monumental 18-m (59-ft) high statue, symbol of the state of Bavaria. Made in 1844-50 the statue is the work of Ludwig Schwanthaler It incorporates an internal staircase leading to the figure's head. where there is a viewing platform.

OKTORFREEST

Munich's Oktoberfest is one of the biggest folk fairs in Europe. In 1810 the site on which it is held was the venue for a horse race, held to celebrate the marriage of Ludwig (later King of Bavaria) and Thérèse von Saxe-Hildburghausen. A few years later it became the venue for an autumn fair that has grown into an enormous event over the years. Chief amongst the attractions is beer, drunk in vast quantities, in marquees erected by the breweries. The festival starts in late

Revellers at the annual Oktoberfest in Theresienwiese

September with a huge procession through the town and the ceremonial opening of the first barrel of beer. It finishes, 16 days later, on the first Sunday of October.

Deutsches Museum

The Deutsches Museum, one of the oldest and largest museum of technology and engineering in the world, draws over 1.4 million visitors each year. It was founded in 1903 by Oskar von Miller, an engineer. The building in which it is housed, located on the Museum Island, was designed by Gabriel von Seidl in 1925. The collections cover most aspects of technology, from its history to its greatest achievements. The museum also houses one of the world's largest libraries of technology.

Exterior of the Museum The building combines NeoBaroque, Neo-Classical and modern elements

Second

First floor

Decorative Arts This plate with the portrait of a lady from Ludwig I's "gallery of beauty" is an example of reproduction techniques applied to porcelain. The ceramics section illustrates the development of faience, stoneware and porcelain.

★ Physics

Galileo's workshop features a large collection of the scientific equipment used by the famous astronomer and physicist to establish the basic laws of mechanics.

\star Pharmaceutics

Among the exhibits in this recently created section is a model of a human cell magnified 350,000 times and graphically illustrating bow it functions.

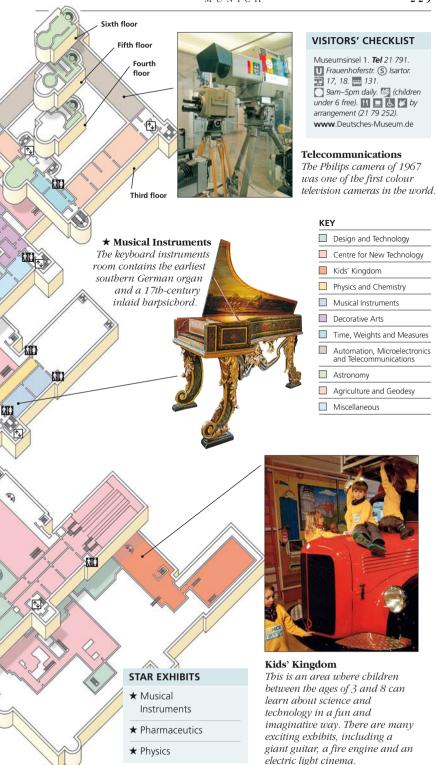

MUSEUM GUIDE

The museum's 20,000 exhibits are displayed over seven floors. While those on the lower floors include heavy vehicles and sections on chemistry, physics, scientific instruments and aeronautics, those on the middle floors relate to the decorative arts. The upper floors are devoted to astronomy, computers and microelectronics.

Ground -

230 MINICH

SHOPPING IN MUNICH

unich often claims to be Germany's richest and most sophisticated city, and so when it comes to shopping you are sure not to be disappointed. The key shopping areas are dotted around the centre of the city. You can conveniently walk around the pedestrianized central area, with numerous options for taking a break for lunch or a coffee. Not to be missed is the visual and gourmet treat of the Viktualienmarkt food market the classic department store Ludwig Beck and some of the smaller speciality stores tucked away in side streets. In the less commercial shopping

from Sline

streets, stores tend to open late morning or in the afternoon only.

MAIN SHOPPING AREAS

Munich's key luxury shopping street is Maximilianstraße and those streets connected to it Theatinerstraße, Briennerstraße and Residenzstraße Here you will find all the top international brands and iewellery stores. For more affordable shops head to the central pedestrianized area between Kaufingerstraße. Neuhauserstraße and Marienplatz. Here you will find family stores, large chains, mid-market fashion. souvenirs and department stores. For less conventional areas with small specialist boutiques and local designers seek out the Glockenbachviertel around Hans-Sachs Straße, or streets radiating out from Gärtnerplatz, home to the Art Nouveau State Theatre and relaxed cafés. Schwabing is the young Bohemian area with a variety of casualwear and jeanswear stores, plus fashion boutiques and plenty of laid-back bistros and coffee bars.

DEPARTMENT STORES AND SHOPPING CENTRES

The most famous department store in Munich is Ludwia Beck, which has a particularly impressive Christmas decorations department in December. Galeria Kaufhof is another large national department store chain offering several floors of goods. Shopping Centres (Einkaufspassagen) are also aplenty. Fünf Höfe ("the five courtvards") is central and upmarket. It sits between Theatiner, Maffei, Kardinal-Faulhaber and Salvator streets and mixes shopping, art and culture with cafés including a great restaurant/café attached to the Kunsthalle art museum. Munich has three other large shopping malls. Olympia-Einkaufszentrum (OEZ) is vast with over 140 stores on two levels. Perlacher shopping mall (PEP) has over 110 stores. The Riem Arcaden is home to the largest branch of H&M, a huge Lego store, C&A and Ludwig Beck Fashion.

Pedestrianized shopping area in central Munich

FASHION

Munich has a wide variety of shops for clothes and accessories. Try the following boutiques to find Munichstyle chic. Theresa has the best choice of designer fashion and accessories, while Slips in Gärtnerplatz boasts the pick of top brands and Off & Co in Schwabing has fashion items for both men and women. Hohenzollernstraße in Schwabing is a good place to shop for youth-styled street fashion and trainers. For traditional Bayarian Loden costumes take a look in Loden-Frey.

Munich is a stylish and expensive city and parents love to dress their children accordingly. This means there are some good shopping opportunities for kids' clothing and toys, mainly in the department stores and C&A. A large central store for

The exclusive shopping centre, Fünf Höfe

One of the city's regularly held flea markets mother, baby and toys is Schlichting, as well as Thierchen Kindermode for original handmade clothing. Noemi & Friends is a kids' beauty salon cum accessories shop, a haven for little and big girls. Die Puppenstube is also good for old-fashioned toys and gifts.

FLEA MARKETS

Flea markets are popular, especially at the weekends. Most take place on Saturday, some every two weeks and most only from spring to late autumn. The key ones around Munich are Zenith Flohmarkt at Lilienthalallee. Air Antik fleamarket at the airport between the terminals, every second Sunday in the month, and Flohmarkt Riem, the largest in Bavaria, at the trade show grounds.

FOOD SHOPPING

Viktualienmarkt (see p214) is a huge produce market, selling fruit, vegetables, spices, meat, poultry, fish, preserves and flowers. It is a feast for all the senses and a permanent fixture – open daily. Bio is the German word for organic and Germans have always been enthusiastic about organic produce. Basic Bio is a good organic supermarket in the city centre. For a selection of gourmet treats head to Dallmayr or Käfer, the city's top delicatessens, while butchers' shops sell the famous Bavarian white sausages.

CHRISTMAS MARKET

Munich holds a traditional Christmas market (Christkindlmarkt) from the first week of Advent until Christmas Eve. The market is a great tourist attraction and special trips are organized from all over Europe. Wooden stalls sell a huge variety of handcrafted decorations, in particular wooden mangers and tree decorations, all delicately carved, in addition to candles, ornaments, food and mulled wine.

Christkindlmarkt, Munich's Christmas market

DIRECTORY

DEPARTMENT STORES AND SHOPPING CENTRES

Galeria Kaufhof

Kaufingerstraße 1–5. Map 2 B4. Tel (089) 231851. www.galeria-kaufhof.de

Ludwig Beck

Marienplatz 11.

Map 2 B4.

Tel (089) 236910.

www.ludwigbeck.de

Fünf Höfe

Theatinerstraße. Map 2 B4. www.fuenfhoefe.de

Olympia Einkaufszentrum

Hanauerstraße 68. www.olympia-einkaufszentrum.de

Perlacher Einkaufspassage Thomas Dehler Straße 12.

www.einkaufscenterneuperlach.de

Riem Arcaden

Willy-Brandt-Platz 5.

FASHION

Loden-Frey

Maffeistraße 7.

Map 2 B4.

www.loden-frey.com

Off & Co

Belgradstraße 1. www.offandco.com

siips

Am Gärtnerplatz 2. www.slipsfashion.de

Theresa

Maffeistraße 3. Map 2 B4. www.mytheresa.com

CHILDREN'S SHOPS

Die Puppenstube

Luisenstraße 68. Tel (089) 2723267.

Noemi & Friends

Marktstraße 13, Schwabing.

www.noemiandfriends.de

Schlichting

Weinstraße 8. Map 2 B4. www.schlichting.de

Thierchen Kindermode

Hans-Sachs-Straße 15.

FLEA MARKETS

Air Antik

Munich Airport Center. Tel 01711 527396. www.airantik de

Flohmarkt Riem

Am Messeturm. Tel (089) 960 51632. www.flohmarkt-riem.com

Zenith Flohmarkt

Lilienthalallee. Tel (089) 30765512. www. flohmarkt-freimann.de

FOOD SHOPPING

Basic Bio

Westenriederstraße 35. Map 2 B4. Tel (089) 242 0890. www.basic-ag.de

Dallmayr

Dienerstraße 14–15. Map 2 B4. www.dallmayr.de

Käfer

Prinzregentenstraße 73. www.feinkost-kaefer.de

Viktualienmarkt

Peteplatz-Frauenstraße. Map 2 B4. 232 MINICH

ENTERTAINMENT IN MUNICH

unich is best known for the Oktoberfest, the Olympic grounds and Hofbräuhaus but it also has an international reputation as a city of culture. There are 56 theatres, three large orchestras and one opera house. Munich has the rich and the powerful of its past to thank for creating and preserving Munich Zoo over the world.

its many splendid venues. This cultured metropolis on the Isar caters to all tastes from traditional to modern whether in theatre music or film. There are several festivals during the year as well as various sporting events, when the city comes alive, attracting visitors from all

Bird from

ENTERTAINMENT GUIDES AND TICKETS

Munich Found is the best events magazine and the Tourist Board has com prehensive listings of events happening all over Munich. Also, check the Thursday edition of Süddeutsche Zeitung and the daily Münchner Merkur

You can book tickets direct from box offices by phone or in person. There are also two Zentraler Kartenverkauf ticket kiosks in Marienplatz underground concourse, or use the Abendzeitung Schalterhalle (kiosk)

THEATRE, OPERA AND CLASSICÁL MUSIC

State theatres are subsidized and so tickets are very reasonably priced. The Bavarian State Orchestra. Opera and Ballet all perform at the Nationaltheater. The Deutsches Theater offers musicals and shows, while the Prinzregententheater has the Bavarian State Opera and a concert hall. The Art Nouveau Staatstheater am Gärtnerplatz presents opera. ballet, operetta, musicals and the Symphony Orchestra. Gasteig Culture Center is a world-class concert hall home to the Munich Philharmonic Orchestra. The city also hosts an opera festival in July.

MUSIC AND DANCE

The Pasinger Fabrik offers a good programme of jazz. chansons and café theatre. There are numerous dance events and dance clubs. Big name artists, such as James Blunt, Massive Attack and The Rolling Stones tend to perform at the Circus Krone . Bau. Zenith Kulturhalle. Olympiahalle and the Olympic Stadium.

FII M

As the centre of the German film industry Munich offers 76 cinemas, the Bavarian Film Studios and a college for film and television. Try the English tour of the studios daily at 1pm. The Munich Film Festival in July boasts over 200 films on 15 screens, almost all of them German. European or world premieres.

FFSTIVALS

Munich's most famous festival is the Oktoberfest. For the whole of September it takes over a dedicated fairground. Theresienwiese with beer

Munich's world-famous Oktoberfest tents, traditional Bayarian brass bands, people dressed in traditional Bavarian costume (Trachten), fairground rides and the famous iced gingerbread hearts. Lebkuchen. There is also the Tollwood Festival in July and December, which has music. food, a circus, performances in tents, family fun and a craft fair. Munich also celebrates the Dult on three occasions throughout the year. Dult is the old word for street fair or market and there are traditional stalls and merry-gorounds. Carnival or Fasching is celebrated throughout Munich with parties, processions and dressing up, but it is not as important here as in other cities.

The imposing Nationaltheater on Max-Joseph-Platz

Munich's ultra-modern Allianz Arena

SPORT

Most Münchners love the outdoors. Many make regular trips to the not too distant Alps. Running, skiing, rollerblading, cycling, Nordic walking and football are all very popular. The English Garden in the city centre is a huge park where people rollerblade, cycle, run or just meet up with friends.

Munich has two football teams: FC Bayern and TSV 1860 München, also known as "the Lions" because they are sponsored by the Löwenbräu Munich brewery with a lion as its coat of arms. The Allianz Arena is the fantastic stadium built for the 2006 World Cup. It is an architectural marvel which lights up in various colours. For Bayern Munich merchandise head to the FC Bayern Shop in the Arena. The shop website gives

The shop website gives details of other stores located at Central Station and the Hofbräuhaus.

Other key sporting events are the Bavarian International Tennis Championships (ATP tournament), the BMW International Golf Open and Munich Blade Night, Monday evenings from April to September, when rollerbladers take over the streets. Runners will enjoy the Media Marathon and also the Münchner Stadtlauf (city run). A sport unique to Munich is surfing on the River Isar at the weirs.

DIRECTORY

KIDS' ENTERTAINMENT

Children will love Kids' Kingdom - Kinderreich - in the Deutsches Museum The area is designated for children and has giant interactive games and water games, plus a real fire engine. Adults can only enter with their kids. Several playgrounds can be found along the River Isar in the city centre, but the best is Westpark Spielzone Ost. which can be reached by the underground. The new Sea Life Olympia-park centre also provides an excellent outing. as does the zoo at Tierpark Hellahrunn

Sea life exhibit at Olympiapark

ENTERTAINMENT GUIDES AND TICKETS

Abendzeitung Schalterhalle

Sendlingerstr. 10. Map 2 A5. Tel (089) 267024.

Munich Tourist Board

www.muenchen.de

Zentraler Kartenverkauf

Tel 01805 481818. www.muenchenticket.de

THEATRE, OPERA AND CLASSICAL MUSIC

Deutsches Theater

Schwanthalerstr. 13. Map 1 E4. Tel (089) 552 340. Gasteig Culture

Rosenheimerstr. 5. Tel (089) 480980

Center

Nationaltheater

Max-Joseph-Platz. Map 2 B4. Tel (089) 218501

Prinzregententheater

Prinzregentenstr. 12. Map 3 D3. Tel (089) 218502.

Staatstheater am Gärtnerplatz Gärtnerplatz 3.

Tel (089) 202411.

MUSIC AND DANCE

Circus Krone Bau Marsstraße 43. Map 1 E3.

Tel 01805 247287. www.circus-krone.de

Olympiahalle and Olympic Stadium

Spiridon-Louis-Ring 21. Tel (089) 54 818181 (tickets). www.

olympiapark-muenchen.de

Pasinger Fabrik

August-Exter-Str. 1. (089) 82929079.

Zenith Kulturhalle

www.zenith-diekulturhalle.de

FILM

Bavarian Film Studios

www.filmstadt.de
Munich Film

Festival www.filmfest-muenchen.de

FESTIVALS

Oktoberfest www.oktoberfest.de

Tollwood Festival www.tollwood.de

SPORT

Allianz Arena www.allianz-arena.de

FC Bayern Shop www.shop.fcbayern.de

KIDS' ENTERTAINMENT

Kinderreich

Deutsches Museum, Museumsinsel 1. Tel (089) 21791. www.deutschesmuseum.de

Westpark Spielzone Ost

Pressburger Straße.

Sea Life Olympiapark

Willi-Daume-Platz 1.

Tel (089) 45 00 00.

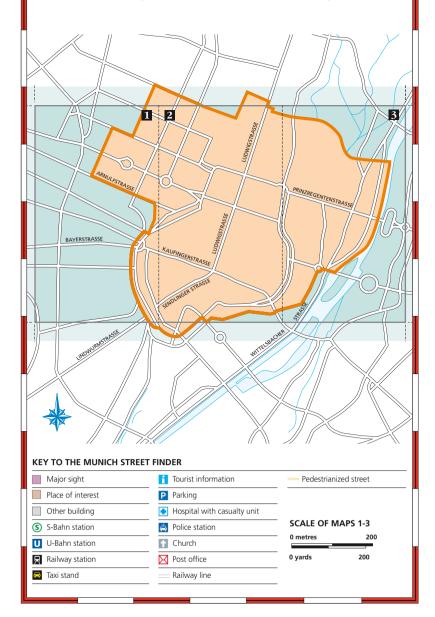

www.sealifeeurope.com

Tierpark Hellabrunn Tierparkstr. 30. Tel (089) 625 080. www.zoo-munich.de 2 3 4 M II N I C H

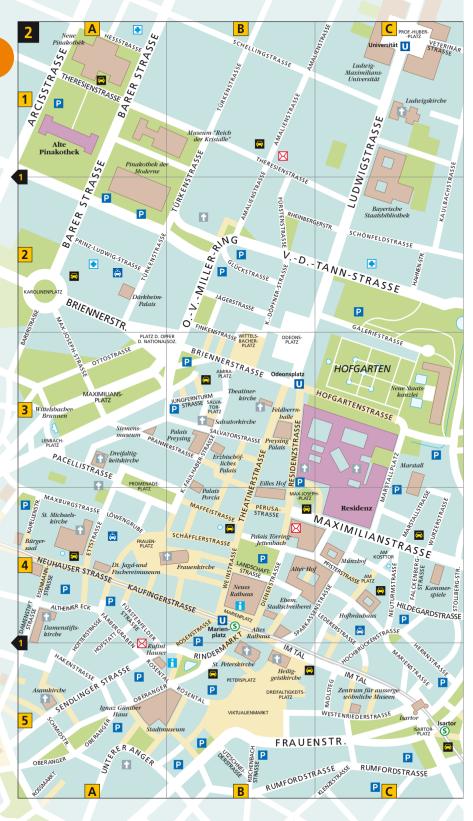

MUNICH STREET FINDER

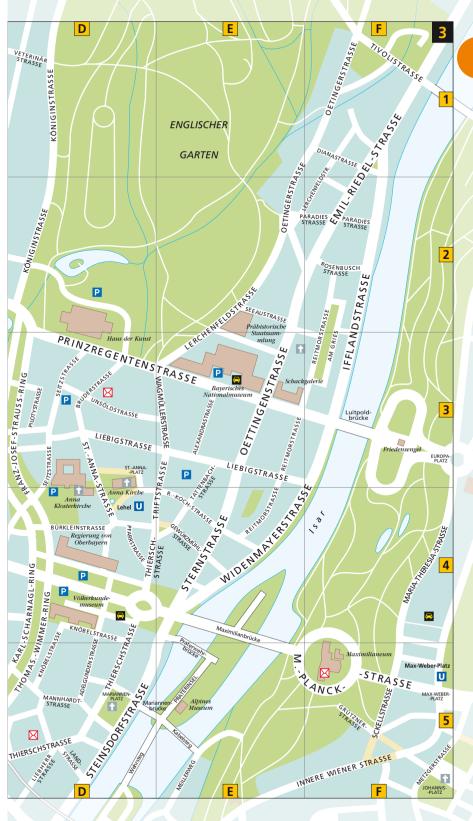

ap references given in this chapter for sights (and in the Munich hotel and restaurant listings at the back of the book) refer to the maps here. The key map below shows the area of Munich covered by the Street

Finder. The maps include the major sightseeing areas, historic attractions, railway stations, bus stations, U-Bahn and S-Bahn stations and train stations. The word Straße (Str.) indicates a street, Platz a square, Brücke a bridge and Bahnhof a railway station.

BAVARIA

avaria is the biggest federal state in the Federal Republic of Germany. It is made up of regions that, in the past, were either independent secular territories or bishoprics. It includes former free towns of the Holy Roman Empire, such as Nördlingen, Rothenburg ob der Tauber, Dinkelsbühl, Nuremberg and Augsburg, which lost their independence to Bavaria only in the early 19th century.

The area that is now known as Bayaria was inhabited in early times by Celts and Romans. The German Baiovarii, which gave the territory its name, arrived here during the 5th and 6th centuries. In the second half of the 6th century, the area was conguered by the Franks then, from 1180 until 1918. Bavaria was ruled by the Wittelsbach dynasty. During Medieval times, this split into the Upper Bayarian line (Straubing, Ingolstadt and Munich) and the Lower Bayarian line (Landshut). In 1505, separate provinces were once again combined into a single country. During the 16th and 17th centuries the duchy of Bavaria was the bulwark of Roman Catholicism within the Holy Roman Empire and during the reign of Maximilian I, Bavaria fought against the Protestant Union in the Thirty Years' War. For his loyalty to Rome, Maximilian I was rewarded in 1623 with the title of Elector, which meant that he could vote in elections for the Emperor. Following the fall of the Holy Roman Empire, Bavaria became a kingdom and remained as such until 1918.

Bavaria's turbulent history has left behind a rich architectural and cultural heritage. In addition to Roman antiquities, Baroque fortresses and fairy-tale castles, the region also has more than its share of glorious Alpine scenery, beer halls and colourful festivals, all of which make this one of the most popular parts of Germany for tourists. The capital, Munich, is a lively cosmopolitan city of wide boulevards and leafy squares with a wide choice of shops, restaurants, cinemas and theatres.

Girls dressed in national costume celebrating St Leonard's Festival overlooking the city

Red sandstone exterior of Schloss Johannisburg, Aschaffenburg

Aschaffenburg

Road map C5. A 67 000. Schlossplatz 1 (06021-39 58 00).

Situated in Lower Franconia, Aschaffenburg enjoys a scenic position on the hilly right bank of the river Main. The town became the second seat of the Mainz bishops in the 13th century, the first being Mainz.

The northwest part of the old town features a majestic, red sandstone riverside castle, Schloss Johannisburg, which was once occupied by the Mainz bishops-electors.

The castle gallery holds a fine collection of European paintings, dating from the 15th to the 18th century. It includes works by Hans Baldung Grien and the most important collection of Lucas Cranach canvases in Europe. In the castle library are valuable medieval codices, such as the 10th-century Book of Gospel Readings (Evangelarium) from Fulda.

Occupying a scenic position above a vineyard a short distance to the northwest of the castle is Pompejanum. The Bavarian king Ludwig I was so fascinated with the discovery of Pompeii that he ordered a replica of the Castor and Pollux villa (Casa di Castore e Polluce) to be built. This he filled with his rich collection of antiquities.

After undergoing restoration work to repair war damage, the museum opened its doors to the public again in 1994.

Pommersfelden 2

Road map D5. Hauptstraße 11 (09548-922 00).

On the edge of the Steigerwald – a popular hiking area is the small village of Pommersfelden, which is dominated by its magnificent Baroque palace. Schloss Weißenstein. The palace was commissioned by the Mainz Archbishop and Elector and the Prince-Bishop of Bamberg, Lothar Franz von Schönborn. It was built, in only five years (1711-16), to a design by the famous architect, Johann Dientzenhofer.

This masterpiece of secular Baroque architecture is worth visiting for several reasons. Particularly interesting is the threestorey-high ornamental ceiling by Johann Rudolf Byss. The most spectacular room is the Marble Hall, which features paintings by Michael Rottmayr. The well-preserved interior of the palace houses a gallery, a library, and a valuable collection of furniture. After visiting the palace, you can take a stroll around its gardens, which were created by Maximilian von Welsch in 1715, in what was the then fashionable, geometric French style. It is now laid out in Englishgarden style.

♣ Schloss Weißenstein

Apr-Oct: 10am-5pm daily.
every hour. (Short tour:
11:30am and 4:30pm.)

Coburg

Road map D5. A 44,000. H

Former residence of the Wettin family, Coburg is situated on the bank of the river Itz. It is dominated by a massive fortress, the Veste Coburg, which is one of the largest in Germany. Coburg's origins go back to the 11th century, but its present-day appearance is mainly the result of remodelling that was carried out in the 16th and the 17th centuries.

The fortress consists of a number of buildings clustered around several courtyards and surrounded by a triple line of walls. The complex is now a museum, housing various collections, including prints and drawings, arms and armour.

In 1530, the fortress provided refuge to Martin Luther who, as an outlaw, hid here from April until October. The room in which he hid is

Ornate entrance to Coburg's Stadthaus

furnished with antique furniture and features a portrait of Luther, painted by Lucas Cranach the Younger

Among the most important buildings in the old town are the late-Gothic church of St Maurice and a beautiful Renaissance college building that was founded by Prince Johann Casimir in 1605. On the opposite side of the market square is the town hall, originally built in 1577–79 and remodelled in the 18th century.

Further along is the town castle, Schloss Ehrenburg, which was built in the 16th century on the site of a dissolved Franciscan monastery. The castle burned down in 1693 and was subsequently rebuilt. The façade facing the square was remodelled by Karl Friedrich Schinkel in Neo-Gothic style.

The castle has some fine interiors, including the Baroque Riesensaal and Weisser Saal and a chapel with rich stucco decorations.

Vierzehnheiligen 4

High above the river Main is Banz Abbey, a Benedictine monastery built in 1695 by Johann Leonhard and Leonhard Dientzenhofer. Opposite is the pilgrimage church of the Fourteen Saints of Intercession. The first chapel, built in the 16th century, became too small to accommodate the growing numbers of pilgrims so, in 1741, the foundation stone

Interior of the monumental, Baroque Vierzenheiligen church was laid for the monumental new church, designed by Balthasar Neumann. Built in 1741–72, this is one of the most famous masterpieces of South German Baroque, with magnificent Rococo furnishings. The building is a cross-shaped basilica, with a monumental twintower facade.

The interior has an exceptionally dvnamic style. achieved by combining the longitudinal and central planes: the three ovals laid along the main axis join with the two circles of the transept. The centrepiece of the nave is the "Altar of Mercy", which stands at the spot where, according to a 1519 legend, a shepherd Marienkapelle in had visions of Christ Ebermannstadt with the fourteen Saints of Intercession The altar features statues of the fourteen saints, and are the work of F X Feuchtmayr and J G Üblher (1763). The rich stucco decorations and frescoes are the work of Giuseppe

Fränkische Schweiz 6

Road map D5.

The area popularly known as Franconian Switzerland (Fränkische Schweiz) covers the area between Nuremberg Bamberg and Bayreuth, One of Germany's most beautiful tourist regions, it offers its visitors picturesque green meadows, magnificent highlands covered with cornfields imposing castles perched on top of high rocks, fabulous dolomite rocks and deep caves with stalactites. Its towns and villages. with their charming inns and timberframe houses, look like a setting for Snow White and

> Seven Dwarfs. The main routes across the area run alongside its rivers - the Wiesent Leinleiter, Püttlach and Trubach The Wiesent, which is ideal for canoeing, cuts across the region from east to west, joining the river Regnitz near the town of Forchheim. The town features many timber-frame houses. including the old town hall dating from the 14th to the 16th century. Near Forchheim, in Ebermannstadt, is a Marian church with a fine Madonna. The federal route B470 leads to the picturesque village of Tüchersfeld, which is built into the rocks. A good base for exploring this area is the village of Pottenstein. St Elizabeth of Thuringia is said to have stayed here in 1227. To the

Schloss Greifenstein in Heiligenstadt, in Fränkische Schweiz

Würzburg 6

The bombing raid on Würzburg on 16 March 1945 lasted for about 20 minutes and destroyed over 80 percent of the town's buildings. It seemed that Würzburg, which occupies a picturesque position on the banks of the river Main, had been erased from the face of the earth. Like Dresden, however, the town rose from the ashes and once again it enchants visitors with its rich heritage of historic sights. As well as being a popular tourist destination, Würzburg is also an important commercial and cultural centre for Lower Franconia and home of the excellent Franconian wine

View over Würzburg, with Dom St Kilian in the foreground

Residenz 🖶

See pp246-7.

♠ Dom St Kilian

Domplatz. Tel (0931) 321 18 30.

☐ 10am-5pm Mon- 5at, 1-6pm Sun and holidays.

Next to the great cathedral churches of Mainz, Speyer and Worms, this is Germany's fourth largest Romanesque church. It was built in 1045—1188, its patron saint an Irish monk who came to Würzburg in AD 686.

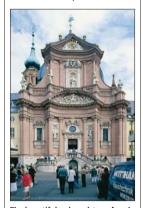

The church is a three-nave basilica with a transept and a twin-tower façade. Inside, the Romanesque main nave with its flat roof contrasts sharply with the Baroque stucco embellishments of the choir.

In the north nave is an interesting group of bishops' tombs, including two that are the work of Tilman Riemenschneider. At the end of the north transept is a chapel, which was built by Balthasar Neumann for the bishops of the House of Schönborn.

♠ Neumünster

St-Kilians-Platz.
Just north of the cathedral, the Neumünster church was built in the 11th century at the burial site of St Kilian and his fellow Irish martyrs, St Kolonat and St Totnan.

The church's imposing Baroque dome and its red sandstone façade date from the 18th century. Featured in the interior are numerous works of art, including a late 15th-century Madonna and the Man of Sorrow by the 15th-century German sculptor Tilman Riemenschneider. The north door leads to a lovely small courtyard; the remains of the cloister date from the Hohenstauf period. Under a lime tree is the resting place of a famous medieval minstrel Walther von der Vogelweide.

The beautiful red sandstone façade of Neumünster-Kirche

A procession is held each year on St Kilian's day (8 July) when theological students carry the skulls of the martyrs, contained in a transparent box, from the west crypt to the cathedral where they are put on public display.

■ Bürgerspital

Theaterstraße.

The Bürgerspital was founded in 1319 by Johann von Steren. Hospitals like this originally provided charitable care for the old as well as the infirm. and today this institution provides care for over one hundred elderly residents of Würzburg. It operates as a self-financing foundation, its main source of income being from vine-growing. Residents are given a quarter of a litre (1/2 pint) of an excellent homeproduced wine each day. with double the ration on Sundays. Visitors can also sample various vintages.

■ Juliusspital

Juliuspromenade.
Just a short distance away from Bürgerspital is another hospital. Founded in 1576 by Julius Echter, Juliusspital was remodelled in the 17th and the 18th centuries. The Rococo pharmacy (1760–65) in the hospital arcades has survived intact and is well worth a visit.

m Rathaus

Rueckermainstraße.

Würzburg's picturesque town hall was built in several stages. Begun in the 13th century, it was subsequently extended in the 15th and 16th centuries. Particularly noteworthy are the beautiful 16th-century paintings on the façade and the late-Renaissance tower, Roter Turm, which dates from around 1660.

An old crane near Alte Mainbrücke

₩ Alte Mainbrücke

Connecting the old town and Festung Marienberg, this beautiful bridge was built in 1473–1543. It is the oldest bridge over the Main.

♣ Festung Marienberg Fürstenbau-Museum

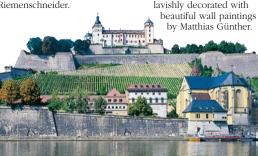

Tel (0931) 355 170. ☐ 16 Mar–Oct:
9am–6pm Tue–Sun. ☐ Nov–Mar. ☑
Mainfränkisches Museum
Tel (0931) 205 940. ☐ Apr–Oct:
10am–5pm Tue–Sun; Nov–Mar:
10am–4pm Tue–Sun. [☑]
Burgführungen [☑] 16 Mar–Oct:
11am, 2pm, 3pm, 4pm Tue–Fri;
11am, 1pm, 2pm, 3pm, 4pm
Sat–Sun.

Built on the site of an old Celtic stronghold, the Marienberg Fortress towers above the town. In AD 707 a church was built here and in 1201 work commenced on a fortress that served as the residence of the prince-bishops until 1719 Within its fortifications stands the first original donion church dating from the 13th century, and the Renaissance-Baroque palace. The museum exhibits illustrate the 1.200vear history of the town. The former arsenal now houses the Franconian Museum with its valuable collection of sculptures by Tilman Riemenschneider.

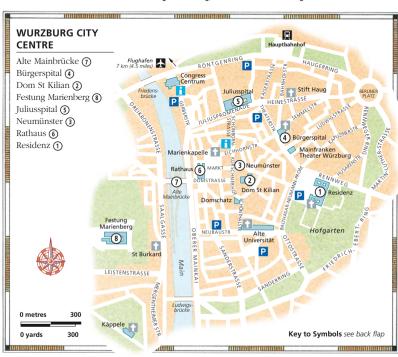

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map C5. [128,000.] 7 km (4½ miles) west.] Hauptbahnhof. 1 Falkenhaus am Markt (0931-37 23 98). Afrikafestival (May), Würzburger Weindorf (May) Jun), Mozartfest (Jun), Kilianifest (Jul), Bachtage (Nov-Dec).

Mergentheimer Strasse. Standing at the top of a hill at the southwestern end of the city, this twin-towered Baroque chapel is the work of Balthasar Neumann (1747–50). Its interior is

Festung Marienberg, built on a hill overlooking the river Main Napoleon's bedroom

Main entrance

Martin-von-Wagner-Museum entrance

Residenz in Würzburg

Sculpture from Residenz garden

This vast complex was commissioned by two prince-bishops, the brothers Johann Philipp Franz and Friedrich Karl von Schönborn. Its construction between 1720 and 1744 was supervised by several architects, including Johann Lukas von Hildebrandt and Maximilian von Welsch.

However, the Residenz (which is on UNESCO's World Cultural Heritage list) is mainly associated with the architect Balthasar Neumann, who was responsible for the overall design.

* Treppenhaus

The work of the Venetian artist Giovanni Battista Tiepolo, the largest fresco in the world adorns the vault of the staircase.

Frankonia-Brunnen

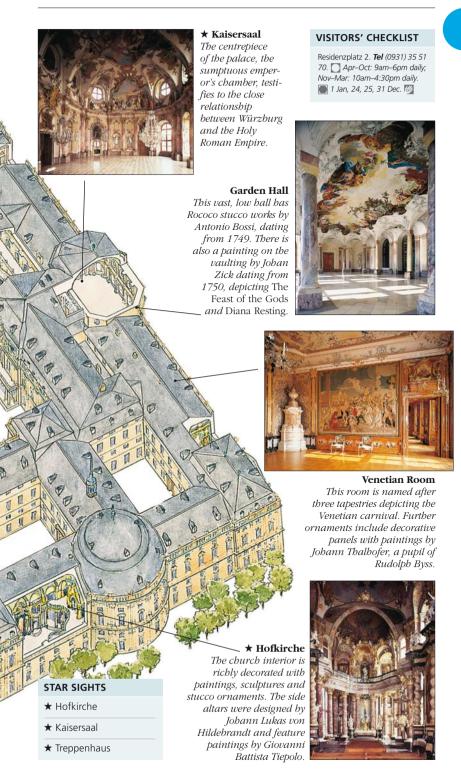

This fountain, designed by Ferdinand von Miller, was constructed in the parade square in front of the Residenz. It was funded by donations from the inhabitants of Würzburg.

The Coat of Arms of the Patron

The richly carved coat of arms are by Jobann Wolfgang von der Auwery and are the personal arms of Friedrich Karl von Schönborn, Prince-Bishop of Bamberg and Würzburg.

BAVARIA 247

Bamberg •

Situated on seven hills like ancient Rome, Bamberg features a splendidly preserved old town, encircled by the branches of the river Regnitz. The town is famous not only for its exceptional artistic heritage but also for its excellent beer, produced by one of the nine breweries that operate here. Its long history goes back to AD 902, when the Babenberg family established their residence here. The town grew and prospered in the wake of the Thirty Years' War. In 1993, Bamberg became a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Beautiful rose garden at the rear of the Neue Residenz

Exploring Bamberg

A good place to start sight seeing is the Domplatz, one of Germany's loveliest squares, with its magnificent cathedral church and the old bishop's palace. After visiting the Neue Residenz you can go down to the river, where you will find the water palace, Concordia. The old town is reached by crossing one of two bridges – Untere or Obere Brücke.

⚠ Dom See pp250–51.

Domplatz 7. Tel (0951) 519 07 46.

May–Oct: 9am–5pm Tue–Sun.

On the west side of Domplatz stands a magnificent portal, with statues of the imperial couple Heinrich II and Kunigunde. This is the gate to the former bishop's residence, built at the turn of the 15th and 16th centuries in place of an old fortress of Heinrich II. Within the building's wings is a pleasant courtyard. Inside is a museum that focuses on the history of the region.

11 Neue Residenz und Staatsgalerie

Domplatz 8. Tel (0951) 519 390.

Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm daily;
Oct-Mar: 10-4pm daily;
Oct-Mar: 10-4pm daily.

www.schloesser-bayern.de
The Neue Residenz, with its richly decorated apartments and the Emperor's Room, was built in 1695–1704 and is the work of Johann Leonhard Dientzenhofer. Its walls are adorned with magnificent frescos painted by the Tyrolean artist Melchior Steidl. The walls and pillars feature the Habsburg family tree, while 16 statues represent Emperors of the Holy Roman Empire. The Neue Residenz houses a collection of old German masters, including The Flood by Hans Baldung Grien and three canvases by Lucas Cranach the Elder.

♠ Karmelitenkloster

Kreuzgang 79–11.30 am. 2:30–5:30pm daily The hospital-abbey complex of St Theodore was founded. in the late 12th century by Bishop Eberhard, Since 1589 the church and abbev have belonged to the Carmelite order. The south tower and Romanesque portal are the remains of the massive 12thcentury basilica. The interior of the church was redesigned in the late 17th and early 18th centuries so the altar is now situated at its western end while the entrance is on the site of the previous presbytery. The layout of the cloisters on the south side of the church is typical of Cistercian designs.

♣ Wasserschloss Concordia

Concordiastrasse. To the public. This magnificent Baroque palace, which enjoys a scenic position on the water's edge, was built for Counsellor Böttinger between 1716 and 1722, to a design by Johann Dientzenhofer. The building now houses a science institute.

Altes Rathaus

The Baroque lower bridge, Untere Brücke, provides a magnificent view over the upper bridge, Obere Brücke,

The Baroque palace Concordia on the bank of the river Regnitz

Picturesque fishermen's cottages in Klein-Venedig with its fabulous town hall. This originally Gothic seat of the municipal authorities was remodelled in 1744–56 by Jakob Michael Küchel. The half-timbered structure of the Rottmeisterhaus, which seems to be gliding over the waves of the river Regnitz, was added in 1688.

₩ Klein-Venedia

"Little Venice" is a district of fishermen's cottages, their picturesque façades adorned with pots of geraniums. Visitors come here for a glass of Rauchbier – a local beer with a smoky flavour – while they enjoy the view.

Grünermarkt

With its historic houses and adjacent Maximilianplatz, Grünermarkt lies at the heart of the old town. It features the magnificent Baroque St

Martin's Church, built in 1686–91 by the Dientzenhofer brothers. Also notable is the late-Baroque St Catherine Hospital and Seminary, built by Balthasar Neumann, which now serves as the town hall.

★ Kirche St Michael

Michaelsberg.

Fränkisches Brauereimuseum

Apr-Oct: 1-5pm Wed-Sun. The Benedictine abbey that stood on this site was founded in 1015. The surviving church was built after 1121 and later remodelled in the 16th and 17th centuries. On the ceiling of the church, nicknamed the "Botanical Gardens", are paintings depicting almost 600 species of medicinal plants. The abbey's Baroque buildings date from the 17th and 18th centuries and are the work of Johann Dientzenhofer and Balthasar Neumann.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

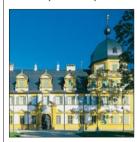

Road map D5. M 71,000. 8 km (5 miles) to the southeast.
Geyerswörthstraße 3 (0951-297 62 00). C Calderon-Festspiele (June), Sandkirchweih (August). www.bamberg.info

The domestic quarters include the abbey's brewery, which now houses a museum.

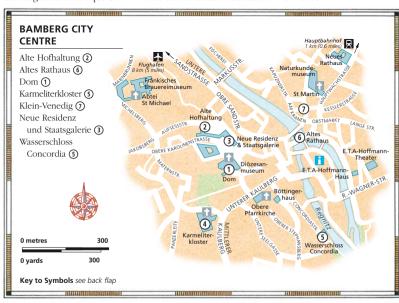

Schloss Seehof

Memmelsdorf. Tel (0951) 409 570. Apr-Oct: 9am-6pm Tue-Sun.

Nov-Mar. Built and designed by Antonio Petrini in 1686, this was originally the summer residence of the prince-bishops of Bamberg. The nine magnificent state rooms have been restored and are open to the public.

Façade of Schloss Seehof in Memmelsdorf

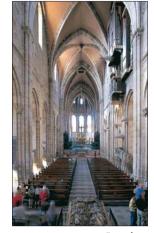

Bamberg Cathedral

Bamberg's skyline is dominated by the cathedral of St Peter and St George, which combines the late Romanesque and early

French-Gothic styles. Its construction started about 1211 and the church was consecrated in 1237. This is a triple-nave basilica with two choirs, whose apses are flanked by two pairs of towers. The cloisters were built between 1399 and 1457, while the monumental sculptures adorning the portals date from the 13th century. The western choir of the cathedral holds the only papal grave in

★ Bamberger Reiter
By the northwestern pillar of the eastern choir stands the famous equestrian statue of the
"Bamberg Rider", dating from about 1230. Many scholars have puzzled over the identity of the rider, but the riddle remains unsolved.

Interior
The illuminated main nave features a graceful, early
Gothic, crossribbed vault.

Marienpforte

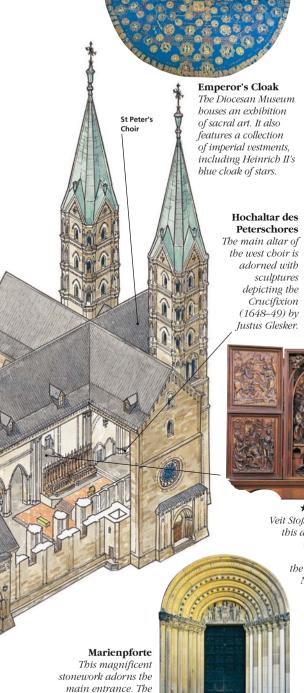

St George's

Choir

★ Tomb of Heinrich II and Kunigunde This beautiful sarcophagus of the imperial couple is imperial couple is the work of Tilman Riemenschneider, completed in 1513.

For hotels and restaurants in this region see pp499-503 and pp538-42

tympanum features

reliefs depicting scenes from the Last Judgement.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Domplatz 5. Tel (0951) 50 23 30. ☐ Apr-Oct: 9:30am-6pm daily: Nov-Mar: 9:30am-5pm daily. Diözesanmuseum Tel (0951) 50 23 16. ☐ 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. ☐ Good Friday, 25, 31 Dec. [82]

★ Marian Altar by Veit Stoß

Veit Stoß was commissioned to create this altar by his son, Andrew Stoß, who was a Carmelite prior in Nürnberg at the time. After the victory of the Reformation in Nürnberg, however, he moved to Bamberg in 1543.

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Bamberger Reiter
- ★ Marian Altar by Veit Stoß
- ★ Tomb of Heinrich II and Kunigunde

Bavreuth 6

Lovers of German music associate this town with the composer Richard Wagner (1813–83), who took up residence here in 1872. Established in 1231. Bayreuth originally belonged to the family of Count von Andechs-Meran: in 1248 it passed to the Margrayes of Nuremberg (von Zollern) and, since 1806, Franconian Bayreuth has belonged to Bayaria. The town flourished during the 17th and 18th centuries when it was the residence of the Margraves, particularly during the time of Margravine Wilhelmine, sister of the Prussian King Frederick the Great and wife of Margrave Frederick.

Extraordinary Baroque interior of the Markgräfliches Opernhaus

Markgräfliches Opernhaus

Opernstraße 14. Tel (0921) 759 69 22. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm daily: Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm daily. One of the finest theatres in Europe, the Markgräfliches Opera House was built in the 1740s by Joseph Saint-Pierre. Its ornate Baroque interior was designed by Giuseppe Galli Bibiena and his son Carlo, who came from a famous Bolognese family of theatre architects.

♠ Neues Schloss

Ludwigstraße 21. Tel (0921) 759 69. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm daily: Oct–Mar: 10am–4pm dailv. The Neues Schloss (New Castle) was commissioned by Margravine Wilhelmine and built by Joseph Saint-Pierre. The elongated, three-storey structure combines classical lines with a rustic ground floor. The Italian wing was added in 1759. To this day nearly all the rooms have retained their original

RICHARD WAGNER (1813-1883)

The German composer is inseparably linked with Bayreuth, where he enjoyed his greatest artistic triumphs. His career, which did not run smoothly in early days, began in

> Magdeburg, Königsberg and Riga. From there he had to flee, via London to Paris, from his pursuing creditors. His reputation was firmly established by successful performances of his romantic operas The Flying Dutchman (1843) and Tannhäuser (1845) in Dresden. Wagner's long-time sponsor was the eccentric Bavarian king, Ludwig II. From 1872 Wagner lived in Bayreuth, where Festspielhaus was built Bust of Wagner by specifically for the operas. Arno Breker (1939)

Baroque and Rococo decor. The park is arranged in a typically English style.

TVilla Wahnfried Richard-Wagner-Museum

Richard-Wagner-Straße 48. Tel (0921) 75 72 816. Apr–Oct: 9am–5pm daily (to 8pm Tue & Thu): Nov-Mar: 10am-5pm daily. 🚳 🦱 Easter Sunday.

On the northeast side of the castle garden is Villa Wahnfried. Built for Wagner by Carl Wölfel the villa was destroyed during World War II but was restored in the 1970s. In the garden is Wagner's tomb and that of his wife Cosima, the daughter of Franz Liszt.

— Wahnfriedstraße 9. Tel (0921) 516 64 88. Sep-Jun: 10am-noon, 2-5pm daily; Jul-Aug: 10am-5pm daily. 🚳

A short distance from Villa Wahnfried, at the junction of Wahnfriedstrasse and Lisztstrasse, stands the house in which Hungarian composer Franz Liszt died in 1886. It now houses a museum dedicated to the composer.

Fremitage

4 km (2.5 miles) northeast of town. Tel (0921) 759 69 37. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm daily, 1 Oct-15 Oct: 10am-4pm. 15 Oct-Mar. In 1715-18, following the example of the French king Louis XIV and the fashion among the nobility for playing at ascetism, Margrave Georg Wilhelm ordered the building of the Eremitage complex as a retreat. With its horseshoeshaped orangery, the hermitage (or Altes Schloss) was given to Margravine Wilhelmine as a birthday present. She then set about transforming it into a pleasure palace.

Tomb of Wagner and his wife in the garden of Villa Wahnfried

Festspielhaus, specially designed venue for the annual Wagner Festival

Festspielhaus

Sep-Oct:10am, 11am, 2pm, 3pm
Tue-Sun; Dec-Apr 10am, 2pm
Tue-Sun

Each July and August, Wagner festivals are held in this theatre, which was built in 1872–75 to a design by Gottfried Semper. The world premiere of The Ring of the Nibelung was performed here in 1876.

Environs

Approximately 20 km (12 miles) to the northwest of Bayreuth is the town of Kulmbach. Famous for its countless breweries, the town hosts a big beer festival each vear, in July and August. Its town hall has a beautiful, Rococo façade dating from 1752. From here you can walk to the castle hill to visit the Plassenburg Fortress. which has belonged to the Hohenzollern family since 1340. Until 1604. this was the seat of the von Brandenburg-Kulmbach Margraves. This vast structure was built in 1560-70. The gem in its crown is the Renaissance courtvard with arcades (Schöner Hof). The castle houses a vast collection of tin figurines, with some 30,000

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

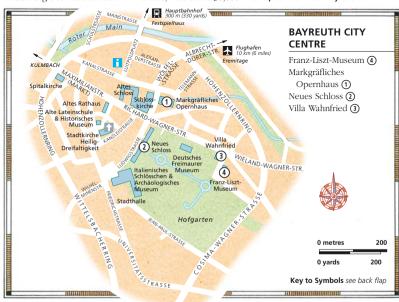

Road map D5. M 75,000. 10 km (6 miles) to northeast. Hauptbahnhof. Luitpoldplatz 9 (0921-885 88). Musica Bayreuth (May), Richard-Wagner-Festspiele (Jul-Aug), Bayreuther Barock (Sep.).

items. In Ködnitz, to the southeast of Kulmbach, is the Upper Franconian Village School Museum. Based on the original school furnishings and various old photographs, the exhibition illustrates the teaching methods that were used in this region more than a hundred years ago.

Some 25 km (16 miles) from Bayreuth, in Sanspareil Park near Hollfeld, is the Felsentheater – an unusual 80-seat theatre set in a natural grotto.

Felsentheater, in a natural grotto in Sanspareil Park near Bayreuth

Berching 9

Map D6. 7,500. Pettenkoferplatz 12 (08462-205 13).

This charming little town, situated in the valley of the river Sulz, boasts a history that stretches back to the 9th century. To this day it retains the complete enclosure of its medieval city walls, including towers and gates with old oak doors. The most beautiful of the towers is the Chinesische Turm (the Chinese Tower).

The regional museum is well worth visiting, as are some of the local churches. These include an early Gothic church, Mariae Himmelfahrt, remodelled after 1756 by M Seybold and featuring some beautiful Rococo stucco ornaments. The Baroque St Lorenz, with its 13th century tower and original late-Gothic altar, is also noteworthy.

Amberg •

Situated at the edge of the Franconian Jura, on the banks of the river Vils, Amberg owes its development to local iron ore deposits and the steel industry. The well-preserved, oval-shaped old town is still encircled by medieval walls. At the centre is an enchanting market square with the vast 15th-century late-Gothic hall-church, Pfarrkirche St Martin, and Gothic town hall (1356), both still with their original interiors.

Amberg was once the residential town of the Rhine palatines, whose Renaissance palace and chancellery have survived to the present day.

The symbol of Amberg is the Stadtbrille, the bridge spanning the river Vils, whose arches reflected in the river resemble a pair of spectacles – hence its nickname "the town's spectacles".

The late-Gothic main altar in St George's Church, Dinkelsbühl

Dinkelsbühl @

Map D6.
↑ 11,000.
↑ Marktplatz (09851-902 40).
↑ Kinderzeche (mid-Jul).

This old Franconian town is one of the best-preserved medieval urban complexes in Germany. The walls surrounding the city include four towers – Wörnitzer, Nördlinger, Seringer and Rothenburger Tor – which are all almost intact. The residential district of the town consists

The symbol of Amberg is the bridge named "the town spectacles" mainly of timber-framed houses. The finest example of these is the Deutsches Haus, which stands opposite St George's Church. Dating from the late 15th to the early 16th century, the house once belonged to the Drechsel-Deufstetten family and is now a hotel-restaurant

The late-Gothic Church of St George is a triple-paye hall-church with no transent. Together with the presbytery. it forms one large interior crowned with magnificent network vaults. The most valuable items of the interior furnishings include the pulpit, the font - which dates from around 1500 - and the Crucifizion in the main altar which is attributed to Michael Wolgemut, A fine view of the town can be obtained from the church tower

In Turmgasse stands the Baroque palace of the Teutonic Order, built in 1760–64 by Mathias Binder.

Nördlingen @

Map D6. M 20,000. M Marktplatz 2 (09081-842 16). Stabenfest (May), Nördlinger Pfingstmesse Scharlachrennen (Jun-Jul), Sommerfestspiele (Jul), Historisches Stadtmauerfest (every third year in Seo: next in 2010).

The town is situated in the Ries Basin, which is an immense and well-preserved crater that was formed millions of years ago by a meteor strike.

During the Middle Ages Nördlingen was a free town of the Holy Roman Empire and an important trade centre. The fortification walls which surround the city, including fifteen towers (dating from the 14th to the 15th centuries) have survived almost intact to this day.

The late-Gothic church of St George was built by Nikolaus Eseler, who also built the St George Church in Dinkelsbühl. The church is a triple-nave hall-church with round pillars and network vaults. Its imposing west tower, known as the Daniel Tower, offers a magnificent

Statue from the Tanzhaus façade

panoramic view of the town and its environs

The St Salvator's Church features original Gothic altars and a portal that has the scene of the Last Judgement in the tympanum

The former hospital of the Holy Spirit is now home to an interesting Stadt-museum. The 14th-century town hall features a striking external stone stairway (1618).

⚠ Stadtmuseum
Vordere Gerbergasse 1.
Tel (09081-273 62 30).

Mar–Oct: 1:30–
4:30pm Tue–Sun.

Nov-Feb: open only to guided tours (reserve a place in advance by telephone).

Ansbach ®

Map D6.

↑ Johann-Sebastian-Bach-Platz 1
(0981-512 43 or 194 33.
↑ Ansbacher Frülingsfest (May), Bach-Woche (every two years in Jul: the next one is in 2009), Ansbacher Rokokospiele (Jul). Heimatfest (Jul).

The town, situated west of Nuremberg, began its history in AD 748 with the foundation of a Benedictine Abbey by a man named Gumbert. A settlement called Onoldsbach, which sprang up nearby, is now called Ansbach, From 1460 until 1791 Ansbach was the home of the von Brandenburg-Ansbach Margraves and in 1791 it was incorporated into Prussia; after 1806 it passed into Bavaria. The Markgräfliche residence is situated in the north-eastern part of the Old Town Remodelled several times it is now a Baroque neo-Classical structure. Its 27 original state apartments include the Mirror Room, Mirror Gallery. Dining Room and Audience Room It now houses the Museum of Faience and Porcelain. The nearby Hofgarten has a 102-metre (335-ft) long Orangery.

Markgrafenmuseum Kaspar-Hauser-Platz 1.

Collection.

Tel (0981) 977 50 56. May-Sep: 10am-5pm daily; Oct-Apr: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun.

It also houses a Kaspar Hauser

Markgräfliche Residenz "Ansbacher Fayence und Porzellan"

Eichstätt @

Map D6.
↑ 15,000.
□ Domplatz 8 (08421-988 00).

Willibald, a close companion and compatriot of the Anglo-Saxon missionary Boniface, established a missionary-abbey (Eihstat) here. Soon afterwards Eichstätt became an episcopal town. In 1634 a fire ripped through the town, destroying four-fifths of its houses and four churches; after this the town was rebuilt in Baroque style.

Eichstätt is home to the country's only Catholic university, established in 1980. On the outskirts of town, on a hill overlooking the River Altmühl, stands the picturesque Willibald Castle, which until the 18th century was the residence of prince-bishops. Now it houses an interesting museum of artifacts from the Jurassic era, where visitors can see a very well preserved skeleton of archaeopterux.

Majestic Walhalla near Donaustauf

A new bishop's residence was built nearby from 1702 until 1768. Its west wing features a magnificent staircase and the Mirror Room, in which the works of Mauritio Pedetti, Johann Jakob Berg and Michael Franz are displayed.

Donaustauf 6

Walhalla. Tel (09403) 96 16 80. Apr-Sep: 9am-5:45pm; Oct: 9am-4:45pm; Nov-Mar: 10am-11:45am & 1-3:45pm.

In 1830-41 Leo von Klenzebuilt the Walhalla (see above). This monument to the national glory occupies a scenic location on the River Danube. The building stands on a raised terrace and has the form of a Neo-Classical columned temple (similar to the Parthenon in Athens). It is adorned with 121 marble busts of artists and scientists.

Orangery of the Markgräfliche residence, in Ansbach

Nürnberg (Nuremberg) 6

Situated on the river Pegnitz, Nuremberg is not only a paradise for lovers of its famous gingerbread and sausages but is also the symbol of Germany's history. The earliest records of the town, the second largest in Bayaria, date from 1050 when it was a trading settlement. From 1219 Nuremberg, a free town of the Holy Roman Empire, was an important centre of craft and commerce. Its most rapid development took place in the 15th and 16th centuries, when many prominent artists, craftsmen and intellectuals worked here, making Nuremberg one of the cultural centres of Europe.

Picturesque alley near Frauentor

Exploring Lorenzer Seite

The southern part of the old town, known as Lorenzer Seite, is separated from the northern part by the river Pegnitz and encircled to the south by the city walls. Many of the area's historic treasures were carefully reconstructed following severe bomb damage during World War II.

Frauentor

Frauentorgraben. Frauentor is one of the most attractive gates into the old town. It is installed in the massive city walls that were constructed during the 15th and 16th centuries. The vast tower. Dicker Turm, was erected nearby in the 15th century. Königstor, a magnificent gate that once stood to the right of Dicker Turm, was dismantled in the 19th century. Beyond Frauentor are a number of allevs with half-timbered houses, shops and cafés, built after the war.

Königstraße 74–78. Dating from the 14th century. the small hospital church of St Martha is tucked between the surrounding houses. Though its interior is virtually devoid of furnishing, it features some magnificent Gothic stainedglass windows, which date from around 1390.

Mauthalle

Hallplatz 2 The massive structure that dominates Königstrasse is a Gothic granary built in 1498-

1502 by Hans Beheim the Elder. It originally housed the town's municipal scales and the customs office. In the 19th century, the building was converted into a department store and continues in that role today, following postwar reconstruction fft Garmanisches Nationalmuseum See pp260-61.

♠ St Lorenz-Kirche

Lorenzer Platz. The most important building in Nuremberg is the Gothic church of St Lorenz, whose basilica-style main body was built around 1270-1350 The vast hall presbytery was added much later in 1439-77 On WAXPLATZ entering the church it is worth taking a look at the magnificent main

(15) Albrecht-

0 metres	300
0 yards	300

Key to Symbols see back flap

SIGHTS AT A GLANCE

Albrecht-Dürer-Haus 🚯 Egidienkirche (3) Frauenkirche (9) Frauentor (1) Germanisches Nationalmuseum 4

Panoramic view over the rooftops of Nuremberg

Impressive Mauthalle dominating Königstraße portal, which is adorned with sculptures. In the main nave of the church, suspended from the ceiling above the altar, is a superb group sculpture, Annunciation, the work of Veit Stoß (1519). He was also the creator of the crucifix within the main altar and the magnificent statue of the Archangel Michael standing by the second pillar

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map D6. M 490,000. on the northeast outskirts of town. Hauptmarkt 18; Königstraße 93 (0911-233 60). Internationale Nürnberger Orgelwoche (June–July); Christkindlesmarkt (Jate Nov-23 Dec).

the 1350 Gothic original. Diagonally across the square is the Nassauer Haus, a Gothic mansion whose lower storeys were built in the 14th century. The upper floors were added in the 15th century.

A short distance from the square, in Karolinenstraße, is a fine sculpture by Henry Moore.

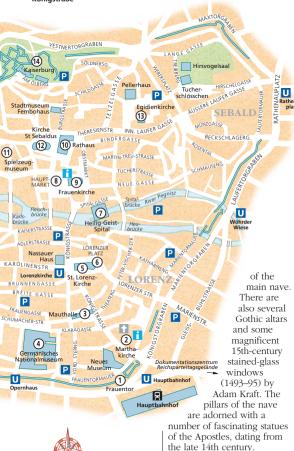

Heilig-Geist-Spital

In the centre of town, on the banks of the river Pegnitz stands the Hospital of the Holy Spirit, Founded in 1332. this is one of the largest hospitals built in the Middle Ages and features a lovely inner courtvard with wooden galleries. The wing that spans the river was built during extension works in 1488-1527. Lepers were kept at some distance from the other patients, in a separate halftimbered building that was specially erected for the purpose. From 1424 until 1796, the insignia of the Holy Roman Empire were kept here rather than in the castle.

The Heilig-Geist-Spital now houses an old-folks' home and a restaurant. The entrance to the building is on the northern side of the river.

Heilig-Geist-Spital reflected in the waters of the river Pegnitz

Kaiserburg (9)
Kirche St Sebald (10)
Lorenzer Platz (5)
Marthakirche (2)
Mauthalle (3)
Rathaus (10)
Spielzeugmuseum (11)
St Lorenz-Kirche (3)

Overlooked by the church of St Lorenz, Lorenzer Platz is a popular meeting place for the citizens of Nuremberg and visitors alike. Outside the church is the Fountain of the Virtues, Tugendbrunnen (1589), with water cascading from the breasts of its seven Virtues. Nearby is a statue of St Lorenz, which is a copy of

The Lorenzer Platz

Exploring Nürnberg (Nuremberg)

Nuremberg was once an important publishing centre. Schedel's Liber Chronicarum was published here in 1493 and, in 1543 – following the town's official adoption of the Reformation in 1525 – The Revolutions of the Celestial Spheres by Copernicus was published. The Thirty Years' War ended the town's development but, during the 19th century, it became the focus for the Pan-German movement. In 1945–49 the town was the scene of the trials for war crimes of Nazi leaders.

Detail of Schöner Brunnen, in Hauptmarkt

Hauptmarkt

Each year the Hauptmarkt provides a picturesque setting for the town's famous Christ-kindlesmarkt, which goes on throughout Advent. At this famous market you can buy gingerbread, enjoy the taste of German sausages, warm yourself with a glass of red wine spiced with cloves and buy locally made souvenirs.

Nuremberg's star attraction is the Gothic Schöner Brunnen (Beautiful Fountain), which was probably erected around 1385 but replaced in the early 20th century with a replica. It consists of a 19-metre (62-ft) standing at the centre of an octagonal pool. The pool is surrounded by a Renaissance grille that includes the famous golden ring: the local tradition is that if you turn the ring three times, your wishes will come true. The pool is adorned with the statues of philosophers. evangelists and church fathers, while the spire is decorated with the statues of Electors and of Jewish and Christian heroes. Features and details of the original fountain are kept in the Germanisches Nationalmuseum (see pp260–61).

♠ Frauenkirche

Heraldic arms adorning the tympanum of the town hall portal

Rathaus

Rathausplatz.

The present town hall consists of several sections. Facing the Hauptmarkt is the oldest, Gothic part, built in 1332–40 and remodelled in the early 15th century. Behind, facing Rathausplatz, is the Renaissance part, built in 1616–22 by Jakob Wolff. Its magnificent portals are decorated with heraldic motifs. The courtyard features a fountain dating from 1557.

Spielzeugmuseum

Winklerstraße 26. vear-round: 11am-6pm Sun; Jan-Mar: 9:30am-4pm Mon-Sat: Apr-May & Oct-Dec: 9:30am=6nm Mon=Sat: lun=Sen: 9:30am-8pm Mon-Sat. The oldest of Nuremberg's churches. Kirche St Sebaldus was built in 1230-73 as a Romanesque, two-choir basilica. During remodelling in the 14th century, it was given two side naves and a soaring western hall-choir. The Gothic towers were completed in the late 15th century. At the centre of the presbytery is the magnificent tomb of St Sebald. This cast bronze structure was made by Peter Vischer the Elder. It houses a silver coffin (1397) containing relics of the saint. The church features some splendid carvings by Veit Stoß, including a magnificent statue of St Andrew (1505), which stands in the ambulatory around the presbytery, the Volckamersche Passion (1499) and the Crucifixion scene in the main altar (1520). Also noteworthy is the magnificent Gothic font and the Tucher family epitaph by Hans von Kulmbach (1513).

The timber-frame building of the ♠ Egidienkirche

Egidienplatz.
Egidienkirche is the only surviving Baroque church in Nuremberg. Its façade, built after the fire of 1696, hides a building containing elements of the previous Romanesque-Gothic Benedictine church. The older chapels, including the Euchariuskapelle, Tetzel-kapellethe and Wolfgangkapellet, survive to this day.

★ Kaiserburg

Kaiserburg-Museum, Innerer Burghof. Tel (0911) 200 95 40. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm daily: Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm daily. The three castles that tower over Nuremberg include the central burgraves' castle, with the Free Reich's buildings to the east, and the Imperial castle (whose origins go back to the 12th century) to the west. When climbing up the Burgstrasse vou will first reach the Fünfeckturm (Pentagonal Tower), which dates from 1040. The oldest building in town, it is an architectural relic of the von Zollern burgraves' castle. At its foot

ALBRECHT DURER (1471-1528)

One of the most outstanding painters of the Renaissance era, Dürer was born in Nuremberg. He began his career as a goldsmith in his father's workshop, and learned painting at Michael Wolgemut's studio. He achieved fame not only as a painter, but also as a brilliant engraver and respected theoretician. He was a shrewd observer of the surrounding world and a sensitive artist, whose works are highly valued.

Dürer's self-portrait

continued climb will bring you, on the left, to the court-yard of the imperial palace, which features a round tower (Sinuellturm) dating from the 12th century, and a deep well – the Tiefe Brunnen. Passing through the inner gate of the castle you will finally reach its heart, the residential building.

Albrecht-Dürer-Haus

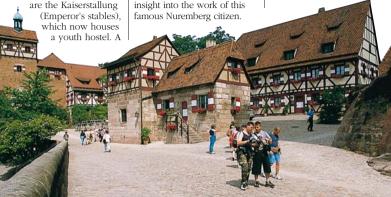

Albrecht-Dürer-Straße 39. Tel (0911) 231 25 68. Jul-Sep & during Christkindlesmarkt: 10am-5pm daily, 10am-8pm Thu: Oct-Jun: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun, 10am-8pm Thu, 🔣 🌠 Born in 1471 in a house on the corner of Burgerstrasse and Obere Schmiedgasse, the renowned artist and engraver Albrecht Dürer lived in this house from 1509 until his death in 1528. On the threehundredth anniversary of his death, the building was bought by the town and many rooms have since been reconstructed. The ground-floor room now contains a printing press dating from Dürer's time. Copies of his pictures provide a useful insight into the work of this

ft St-Johannis-Friedhof

Am Johannisfriedhof.
The St John's Cemetery is one of the best preserved and most important in Europe. Since it was established in 1518, it has provided a resting place for many famous people, including Albrecht Dürer (No. 649), the sculptor Veit Stoß (No. 268), the goldsmith Wenzel Jamnitzer (No. 664) and the painter Anselm Feuerbach (No. 715).

The cemetery also contains a rich array of tombs from the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries.

Bayernstr. 110. Tel (0911) 231 75
38. \subseteq 9am-6pm Mon-Fri,
10am-6pm Sat-Sun.
The vast, unfinished building complex in the southern part of town dates from the Nazi era. Its construction began in 1933 and it was intended to be a venue for National Party gatherings. The building now houses a historical exhibition and archive

The buildings of the Kaiserburg, towering over the town

Nuremberg: Germanisches Nationalmuseum

This museum, which was officially opened in 1852, was founded by a Franconian aristocrat named Hans von Aufsess. It houses a unique collection of antiquities from the German-speaking world. In 1945. towards the end of World War II, the buildings that had originally housed the museum were bombed. The modern architecture of the new building, which was completed in 1993, cleverly incorporates the remaining fragments of a former Carthusian abbey. Among the most valuable items in the museum's collection are works by Tilman Riemenschneider, Konrad Witz, Lucas Madonna with Child Cranach the Elder, Albrecht Altdorfer, Crowned by Angels Albrecht Dürer and Hans Baldung Grien This picture was painted by Hans Holbein the Elder (c 1465-1524) who created many ★ Archangel (1516) festive altarpieces This enchanting using warm wood-carving of the colours archangel Raphaël is one of many works produced by Veit Stoss after his return from Cracow. Cloisters Former Carthusian church ∱|∳ ∱|∲ Ground floor Brooch from Domagnano This Ostrogothic buckle from the 5th century AD, ★ Cover of the shaped like an eagle, was Codex Aureus discovered in the late 19th The richly ornamented cover of century in Domagnano. the Codex Aureus. also known as the Golden Gospel Book of Trier in the 10th century.

Echternach, was produced in in San Marino. It probably belonged to a rich

Ostrogothic aristocrat.

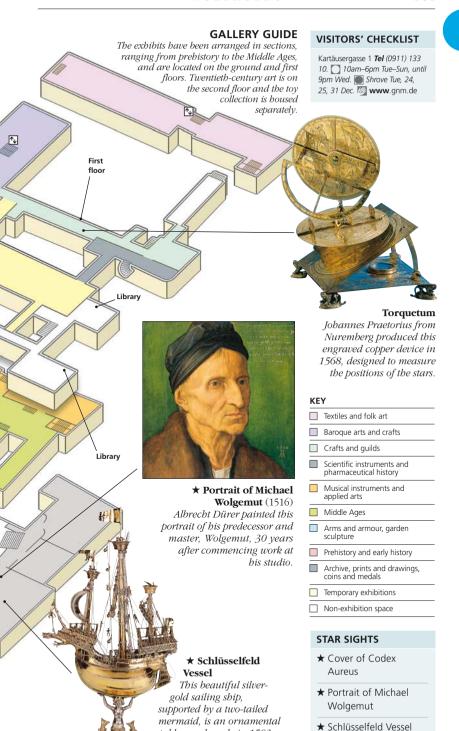

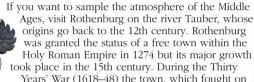

table vessel made in 1503 by an unidentified goldsmith from Nuremberg.

★ Archangel

Street-by-Street: Rothenburg ob der Tauber o

the town hall

Holy Roman Empire in 1274 but its major growth Years' War (1618–48) the town, which fought on the Protestant side, was captured by the Emperor's army. Little has changed since that time and the city walls still surround Gothic cathedrals and an array of gabled houses.

Reichsstadtmuseum

The former Dominican abbey now houses a museum devoted to the town's history. The abbey kitchen - the oldest surviving kitchen in Germany - is also open to visitors.

Franziskanerkirche

In this Gothic church is a retable depicting The Stigmatization of St Francis, believed to be an early work by Tilman Riemenschneider.

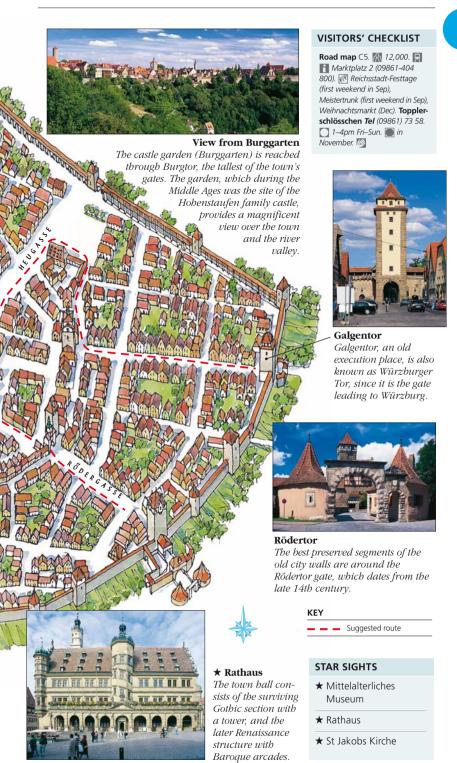

★ St Jakobs Kirche

In the Gothic church of St Jakob (built between 1373 and 1464) is the superb Zwölfbotenaltar by Friedrich Herlin.

★ Mittelalterliches Kriminalmuseum

Many blood-curdling exhibits are on display at this museum, which houses a collection of instruments of torture and punishment.

Andechs @

Road map D7. Andechserstraße 16 (08152-932 50)

The village of Andechs, at the summit of the 700-m (2,300-ft) high Holy Mountain of the same name, is not only the destination of pilgrimages to the local church, but also of many less spiritual trips to the Braüstüberl, where visitors can refresh themselves with a glass or two of the excellent beer brewed by local monks.

The present triple-nave Gothic hall-church was built in 1420–25. Its Rococo interior dates from 1755. The lower tier of the main altar contains the famous Miraculous Statue of the Mother of God (1468), while the upper tier features the Immaculata by Hans Degler (1609). On selected feast days, holy relics are displayed on the altar gallery.

Ammersee near the Holy Mountain of Andechs

Landsberg am Lech 10

Road map D7. A 24,000. H Hauptplatz 152 (08191-12 82 46).

The history of Landsberg goes back to 1160 when Henry the Lion built his castle here, on the right bank of the river Lech. During the 13th century, the surrounding settlement grew into a town, which soon became a major trading centre. Religious conflicts, culminating in the Thirty Years' War, put an end to the town's development but, in the late 17th century, the town once again became an important commercial and cultural centre. Adolf Hitler wrote Mein Kampf here, while serving a prison term for his unsuccessful coup attempt in Munich.

At the heart of Landsberg is the Hauptplatz with its Baroque town hall and the intricately carved 14th-century tower, Schmalztor.

In Ludwigstrasse is the late-Gothic parish church, Stadtpfarrkirche Mariä

Stadtpfaffkirche Maria Himmelfahrt, whose Baroquestyle interior features a statue of the Madonna and Child by Hans Multscher. Bayertor, the original town gate, is in the eastern part of the old town.

The town's Neues Stadtmu-seum is a useful source of information on local history.

Meues Stadtmuseum Von-Helfenstein-Gasse 426.

Von-Helfenstein-Gasse 426. Tel (08191) 94 23 26. 2–5pm Tue–Sun.

Dachau @

Road map D6. A 35,000. A Konrad-Adenauer-Straße 1 (08131-75286 or 75287).

For most people the name Dachau is inextricably linked with the concentration camp that was built here by the Nazis in 1933. Since 1965, the whole site has been designated as a memorial, KZ-Gedenkstätte Dachau, to the 32,000 prisoners who died there, with a permanent exhibition in the former domestic quarters of the camp.

Dachau is a beautiful town with many historic buildings. On the southwestern edge of the old town stands Schloss Dachau, summer residence of the Wittelsbachs. The palace that stands here today was created in the 18th century from the western wing of an earlier castle, the work of

In the early 19th century the castle housed a colony

Joseph Effner.

Relief from the church façade in Landsberg of artists who had tired of city life. They were known as Gruppe Neu Dacbau. Even earlier, however, the beauty of the surrounding countryside had been discovered by the impressionist painter Max Liebermann (1847–1935). The Dachauer

Gemäldegalerie contains works of art inspired by local scenery, including one by Liebermann.

M Dachauer Gemäldegalerie Konrad-Adenauer-Straße 3. Tel (08131) 56 750. ☐ 11am-

5pm Tue−Fri, 1−5pm Sat−Sun.

Schloss Dachau

Schlossstraße 2. Tel (08131) 879 23. Apr–Sep: 9am–6pm Tue–Sun; Oct–Mar: 10am–4pm Tue–Sun.

EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE: EXECUTE:

Schleissheim 4

Road map D6. Oberschleißheim.

Schleissheim is situated barely 14 km (9 miles) from Munich, making it within easy reach for an afternoon visit to its Baroque palace and park.

Surrounded by canals and now somewhat neglected, the park was established in the 17th and 18th centuries and includes three palaces. The modest Altes Schloss was built in 1623 for Prince Wilhelm V. Now it houses an exhibition of religious folk art.

Baroque façade of the Wittelsbach palace, Schloss Dachau

Schloss Lustheim is a small, Baroque, hermitage-type palace, built in 1684-87 by Enrico Zucalli for the Elector Max Emanuel. As well as its beautiful interiors and stunning frescoes, it boasts a magnificent collection of Meissen porcelain, which is displayed in the Museum Meißener Porzellan

The newest building is the Neues Schloss, designed by Enrico Zucalli. Work began in 1701 but was not completed until the second half of the 18th century. Despite wartime damage, it retains many original features. It now houses exhibits belonging to the Bayarian ♣ Altes Schloss Tel (089) 315 87 20. as Neues Schloss.

State Museum

♣ Neues Schloss
Tel (089) 315 87 20. Apr-Sep:
9am-6pm Tue-Sun; Oct-Mar:
10am-4pm Tue-Sun. Mon. 4

♣ Schloss LustheimTel (089) 315 87 20. Apr–Sep:
9am–6pm Tue–Sun; Oct–Mar:
10am–4pm Tue–Sun.

■

Museum Meißener Porzellan Tel (089) 315 87 242. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm Tue-Sun; Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm Tue-Sun.

Freising @

Road map D6. (A) 40,000. (E) Marienplatz 7 (08161-541 22).

Situated on the banks of the river Isar is the old town of Freising. Its history is closely connected with St Korbinian, who founded the bishopric here in the early 8th century. Korbinian died around AD 725 and his remains still lie in the crypt of the Dom - the Cathedral Church of the Birth of the Virgin Mary and St Korbinian (1159-1205). This is a five-nave basilica, without transept, with an elongated choir and a massive twintower western facade. Its interior was remodelled in

The imposing bulk of the Neues Schloss in Ingolstadt

Baroque style by the Asam brothers, in 1724–25. The four-nave Romanesque crypt features a famous column, which is decorated with carvings of fantastic animals (Bestiensäule) Nearby is > the Diözesanmuseum, whose vast ecclesiastical collection includes two paintings by Rubens.

At the southwestern end of the old town stands a former monastery, Weihenstephan, which is home to the world's longest-established brewery.

Ingolstadt @

Detail from Neues Schloss

in Schleissheim

Road map D6. A 115, 000. R Rathausplatz 2 (0841-305 30 30).

Lying on the river Danube, this former seat of the Wittelsbach family features many important historic buildings dating from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance and Baroque periods. Among the most outstanding is the Church of the Virgin Mary, a triple-nave hall structure with circular pillars, chapels and choir with an ambulatory. Inside is the original Gothic-Renaissance main altar dating from 1572.

Another notable building is the Neues Schloss, built between the 15th and 18th centuries, with its stately rooms and Gothic chapel. It now houses the Bayerisches

A true gem of Bavarian architecture is the Church of St Maria Victoria, the work of Cosmas Damian Asam

The Deutsches Medizinhistorisches Museum exhibits medical instruments and has a garden with medicinal plants.

Neues Schloss, Paradeplatz 4.

Tel (0841) 937 70. 8:45am-4:30pm Tue-Sun.

① Deutsches Medizinhistorisches Museum Anatomiestraße 18–20. Tel (0841) 305 18 60 □ 103

Anatomiestraße 18–20. Tel (0841) 305 18 60. 10am– noon, 2–5pm Tue–Sun.

Striking Baroque interior of the Church of St Maria Victoria, Ingolstadt

Arcaded courtyard of Neuburg Castle

Neuburg an der Donau @

Road map D6. A 25,000. Ottheinrichplatz A118 (08431-552 40).

Perched on a promontory overlooking the river Danube Neuburg is one of Bayaria's loveliest towns. During the Middle Ages, it changed hands frequently but was eventually ruled by Ottheinrich the Magnanimous. under whom the town grew and prospered on an unprecedented scale. He was the founder of the castle, built between 1534 and 1665. whose massive round towers still dominate the town. Its earliest part is the east wing. The courtyard, which Schroer. In the tower is a staircase adorned with paintings. The castle chapel, completed in 1543, is one of the oldest, purpose-built Protestant churches in Germany arcades, features beautiful is surrounded by frescos by Hans

In Amalienstrasse, leading down towards the town, stands the former Jesuits' College and the Court Church (Hofkirche). Work on the church began in the late 16th century and was completed in 1627. It was intended to be a Protestant church, but the ruling family converted back to Catholicism during its construction and it was taken over by the Jesuits who turned it into a counter-reformation

Marian church. The triplenave hall-structure has an exquisite interior decorated in gold, white and grey.

Among many old buildings that survive in the town centre are the Graf-Veri-Haus and the Baron-von-Hartman-Haus in Herrenstrasse. To the east of town stands the Grünau Castle (Jagdschloss), built for Ottheinrich in 1530–55.

Environs

18 km (11 miles) to the south, Schrobenhausen is the birthplace of the painter Franz von Lenbach, who was born in 1836. A museum in Ulrich-

> Peisser-Gasse is devoted to his life and work. While there, it is worth visiting St Jacob's Church, to see the fine 15th-century wall painting there.

Heraldic crest on Neuberg Castle Neuburg

Residenzstraße 2. Tel (08431) 88 97. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm Tue-Sun; Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm Tue-Sun.

Landshut @

Road map E6. $\frac{1}{16}$ 57,000. $\frac{1}{16}$ Altstadt 315 (0871-92 20 50). $\frac{1}{16}$ Fürstenhochzeit (every 4 years, next in 2009), Hofmusiktage (every 2 years, next in 2008), Frühjahrsdult (Apr-May), Bartlmädult (end Aug), Haferlmarkt (Sep).

The earliest records of Landshut date from 1150. One hundred years later this was already a town and the main centre of power of the Dukes of Lower Bavaria. In 1475 the town was the scene of a lavish medieval wedding, when Duke Georg of the House of Wittelsbach married the Polish Princess Jadwiga. Since 1903 the town has held regular re-enactments of the wedding feast (Landshuter Fürstenhochzeit).

Landshut has preserved its medieval urban layout, with two wide parallel streets, Altstadt and Neustadt, with clusters of historic 15th–16th century buildings. Opposite the town hall in Alstadt is the Stadtresidenz, a town house modelled on the Palazzo del Tè in Mantua. Sometimes known as the "Italian House", this was the first Renaissance palace to be built in Germany.

The vast brick church of St Martin (1385–1500) is a triplenave, narrow hall-church featuring a presbytery, network vaults (1459) and the tallest church tower in Bavaria.

Landshut is dominated by the fortified 13th–16th century Burg Trausnitz, featuring a medieval tower, a Renaissance palace (1568–78) and the Kunst- und Wunderkammer ("room of arts and wonder"), a branch of the Bayerisches Nationalmuseum (see p219).

Environs

From Landshut, it is worth taking a trip to Moosburg, situated 14 km (9 miles) to the west. Its early 13thcentury Church of St Castulus features a 14-m (46-ft) high Marian altar by Hans Leinberger (1514).

Stained-glass window in Landshut depicting Duke Georg and Jadwiga

♣ Burg Trausnitz & Kunst- und Wunderkammer Tel (0871) 92 41 10. ☐ Apr–Sep:
9am–6pm daily; Oct–Mar:
10am–4pm. 🌠

★ Stadtresidenz

Altstadt 79. Tel (0871) 92 41 10.

Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm Tue-Sun;
Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm Tue-Sun.

Obligatory.

Interior of St George's Chapel in Landshut

Dingolfing @

Road map E6. 15,400.

Dr-Josef-Hastreiter-Straße 2 (08731) 50 11 23.

The main tourist attraction in this small town on the banks of the river Isar is its Gothic castle. Built in the 15th century by the Bayarian dukes, this vast edifice now houses the Regional Museum. It is also worth taking a stroll to see Pfarrkirche St Johannes, a late-Gothic brick building dating from the late 15th century. Although what remains of its furnishings are merely the poor remnants of its former glory, nevertheless the church is still considered one of the most beautiful Gothic buildings in Bavaria.

Environs

In Landau an der Isar, situated 13 km (8 miles) to the east of Dingolfing, stands the picturesque Baroque church of Mariä Himmelfahrt, dating from the first half of the 18th century. There is also an interesting small church, the Steinfelskirche (c.1700) inside a natural rock cave. In Arnstorf, 30 km (19 miles) to the east, is one of the few remaining Bavarian castles on water. Known as the Oberes Schlofl, the castle was probably built in the 15th century and remodelled during the 17th and 18th centuries.

Straubing @

Road map E6. 24.500. Theresienplatz 20 (09421-94 43 07). 🚳 Gäubodenvolksfest (August). Aanes-Bernauer-Festspiel (July, every four vears, next in 2011). This market town enjoys a picturesque setting on the river Danube. The 60-m (200-ft) long Strassenmarkt, which consists of two squares. Theresienplatz and Ludwigplatz is a part of the former trade route that led to Prague. The area is lined with historic buildings in Baroque, Neo-Classical and Secession styles.

At the centre of Strassenmarkt stands the 14th-century municipal tower, which offers a splendid view over the towns of the Bavarian Forest. At Ludwigplatz 11 is the "Lion's Pharmacy", where the famous Biedermeier painter, Karl Spitzweg, worked as an apprentice in 1828–30.

Turning from Theresienplatz into Seminargasse or Jakobsgasse, you will reach the monumental brick structure of the parish church of St Jakob (1400–1590). This triple-nave hall-church, crowned with a network vault, retains many original features, including stained-glass windows in the chapels of Maria-Hilf-Kapelle (1420) and St Bartholomew. The socalled Moses' Window in the Chapel of St Joseph was made in 1490 in Nuremberg. based on a sketch provided by Wilhelm Playdenwurff. In the Cobbler's Chapel (Schusterkapelle) hangs a painting of Madonna and Child, by Hans Holbein

(c.1500). Overlooking the Danube is a 14th–15th century castle, part of which is now used as a museum, Museum im Herzogschloss. The Gäubodenmuseum has a magnificent collection of Roman artifacts.

Environs

In the tiny village of Aufhausen, 21 km (12 miles) to the west, is the beautiful late-Baroque pilgrimage church of Maria Schnee. Built by Johann Michael Fischer in 1736–51, it includes magnificent wall paintings by the Asam brothers and a statue of the Madonna. Commissioned by Duke Wilhelm V of Bavaria, the Gnadenmadonna is believed to pardon sins.

In Oberalteich, some 10 km (6 miles) to the east, is the beautiful church of St Peter and St Paul built in the early 17th century for the Benedictine order. Inside, an unusual hanging staircase leads to the galleries, while the vestibule is decorated with stucco ornaments, depicting bird motifs.

In Windberg, 22 km (14 miles) east of Oberalteich, is a Romanesque Marian church whose main portal (c.1220) features an image of the Madonna in the tympanum.

Gäubodenmuseum

Fraunhoferstraße. Tel (09421) 818 11. 10am-4pm Tue-Sun.

Museum im Herzogschloss Tel (09421) 211 14. ☐ Apr-Jan: 10am-4pm Thu-Sun.

Main altar in Ursulinenkirche, Straubing

Regensburg (Ratisbon) @

The area of Regensburg was once a Celtic settlement and later a campsite of the Roman legions. The outline of the Roman camp is still visible around St Peter's Cathedral. In the early 6th century, Regensburg was the seat of the Agilolfa ruling family and, in AD 739, a monk named Boniface established a bishopric here. From AD 843, Regensburg was the seat of the Eastern Frankish ruler, Ludwig the German. From 1245 it was a free town of the Holy Roman Empire and throughout the Middle Ages remained South Germany's fastest growing commercial and cultural centre.

Picturesque Steinere Brücke leading to the old town of Regensburg

T Steinerne Brücke

An outstanding example of medieval engineering, this 310-m (1,000-ft) long bridge over the Danube was built in 1135–46. It provides the best panoramic view of Regensburg. Near the bridge gate, Brückentor, stands an enormous salt warehouse topped with a vast five-storey roof.

Wurstküche (Wurstkuchel)

Thundorferstraße. 8am–7pm daily.

Immediately behind the salt warehouse is the famous Wurstküche (sausage kitchen), which has probably occupied this site since as early as the 12th century and may have served as a canteen for the builders of the bridge. Its Regensburger sausages are definitely worth trying.

Altes Rathaus

Rathausplatz. May–Sep: 3:15pm Mon–Sat. Reichstagsmuseum. Tel (0941) 507 34 40.

(every 30 or 60 mins) Apr–Oct:
9:30am–noon 2–4pm Mon–Sat,
10am–noon 2–4pm Sun; Nov–Mar:
9:30am–noon, 2pm–3pm Mon–Sat,
10am–noon Sun.

In Rathausplatz stands an old 15th-century town hall with a 13th-century tower. It contains a splendid, richly decorated hall – Reichssaal – where the Perpetual Imperial Diet (the first parliament of the Holy Roman Empire) sat between 1663 and 1806. Benches in the chamber were coloured to indicate who could sit where: for example, red benches for Electors. The adjoining new town hall dates from the late 17th–early 18th century.

Late-Gothic oriel on the side elevation of the Altes Rathaus

Dom St Peter

Domschatzmuseun Krauterermarkt 3

Tel (0941) 576 45. Apr-Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sat_noon-5pm Sun: Dec-Mar: 10am-4pm Fri-Sat. noon-4pm Sun. Nov. 1889 Towering above the city, on the site of the former Roman military camp, is the massive brick structure of St Peter's Cathedral Built between 1250 and 1525, its imposing western towers were added only in 1859-69. The master architect, Ludwig, modelled his design for the building on French examples (the Rayonnant style). The stained-glass

SIGHTS AT A GLANCE

Alte Kapelle ③
Altes Rathaus ③
Dom St Peter ④
Schloss Thurn und Taxis ⑤
Steinerne Brücke ①
St Jakob Kirche ⑦
Wurstküche ②

19th-century spires on the Gothic St Peter's Cathedral windows of the choir date from the early 14th century. The Domschatzmuseum has a collection of ecclesiastical vestments.

Alte Kapelle

Alter Kornmarkt.
The Old Chapel is really a Marian collegiate church. It stands on the foundations of an older, early Romanesque chapel dating from the Carolingian period. The building has been remodelled several times and contains stuccoes by Anton Landes. A Schloss Thurn und Taxis

some beautiful Rococo

scribss frum und taxis

Emmeramsplatz 5. Tel (0941) 504 81

33. daily. Apr-Oct: 11am, 2pm, 3pm, 4pm (also 10am
Sat-Sun); Nov-Mar: 10am, 11am,
2pm, 3pm Sat-Sun.

In the south end of the town
you will find the buildings and churches of the former St

Emmeram
Abbey, which have been

Hauptbahnhof 100 m (110 yards)

0 metres	300
0 yards	300

Key to Symbols see back flap tastefully incorporated into the palace complex of the ducal family von Thurn und Taxis. These include a Gothic cloister dating from the 12th–14th centuries, a library with magnificent frescos by Cosmas Damian Asam and

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map D6. 142,000.
Altes Rathaus (0941 507 44
10). Frühjahrsdult (Whitsun),
Bach-Woche (Jun), Bayerisches
Jazz-Weekend (Jul), Herbstdult (Aug–Sep), Christkindlmarkt &
Domspatzen concerts (Dec).

Enchanting Rococo interior of Alte Kapelle

the burial chapel. In 1998, the Bavarian State Museum opened a branch here, the Schatzkammer, which has valuable collections of decorative art.

m Baumburger Turm

Watmarkt.

Regensburg has many unique ancestral palaces dating from the 14th-15th centuries, with high towers modelled on Northern Italian architecture. Some 20 of the original 60 towers have survived. One of the most beautiful is the residential tower, Baumburger Turm. Nearby, at Watmarkt 5, stands the equally beautiful Goliathhaus, where Oskar Schindler lived for a time in 1945. A commemorative plaque has been placed at the rear of the building.

Gothic portals of St Emmeram Abbey in Schloss Thurn und Taxis

Winter view of Gnadenkapelle complex, from Altötting

Altötting @

Road map E6. 11,000. Kapellplatz 2a (08671-50 62 19). 7 pilgrimages to Altötting (Whitsun).

Altötting is renowned as the earliest destination of pilgrimages to the "Miraculous Statue" of the Virgin Mary (1330). The statue stands in the Wallfahrtskapelle St Maria. which consists of two parts. The central, octagonal chapel, Gnadenkapelle (c.AD 750) was once the baptistery. The external chapel was built in 1494 and the ambulatory in 1517 As well as the Miraculous Statue, it houses the so-called "Silver Prince", representing the miraculously cured son of the Prince-Elector, Karl Albrecht, Many Bayarian kings and princes wished to be buried here, including King Ludwig II, who requested that his heart be placed here after his death.

Nearby is the interesting Romanesque-Gothic church of St Philip and St Jacob (1228–30 and 1499–1520). Its Neo-Classical interior contains many tombstones, while a separate chapel, Tillykapelle, is the burial place of Johann Tserclaes von Tilly, a hero of the Thirty Years' War and the Emperor's general.

The Schatzkammer

(Treasury) is housed in the former sacristy. Its collection includes an exquisite example of French enamel and gold artwork, the Goldenes Rössl (Golden Steed), which dates from around 1400. Despite its name, the theme of this work, by a celebrated Parisian goldsmith, is the Adoration of the Magi. It was commissioned by Isobel of Bavaria as a New Year gift for her husband, Charles VI of France.

fi Schatzkammer Kapellplatz 21. Tel (08671) 51 66.

Kapellplatz 21. Tel (08671) 51 66 Apr–Oct:10am–noon, 2–4pm Tue–Sun.

Walkway around Gnadenkapelle, in Altötting, filled with offerings

Burghausen 30

Road map E6. (A) 17,000. Stadtplatz 112 (08677-88 71 40).

The very picturesque town of Burghausen is situated on the river Salzach. Towering over the town, the river and the lake is Burghausen Castle, a large castle complex built on a high ridge stretching for 1,100 m (1,200 yds). Work on the castle started in 1253, but most of the buildings were erected during the reign of King George the Rich and therefore have magnificent, late-Gothic forms. The king's wife, Jadwiga Jagiellon, whom he married in grand style in Landshut (see p266), was later rejected by him and she spent her final days in the fortress of Burghausen.

The Burg consists of two main parts: the main castle with fower, the residential quarters, the courtvard and domestic buildings; and the castle approach (Vorburg). The residential building has some fine 15th- and 16thcentury paintings. A special door links the Prince's quarters with the "internal" Chapel of St Elizabeth, Next to the chapel is the mid-13thcentury Dürnitz, which served originally served as a ballroom and banqueting hall.

The castle approach consists of five courtyards (Vorhof). In the fourth courtvard is the "external" Chapel of St Jadwiga (Aussere Burgkapelle St Hedwig) - the work of Wolfgang Wiesinger, a native of Salzburg (1489). This has numerous original buildings. including the town hall, which was created by combining three burgher houses dating from the 14th-15th centuries The parish church of St Jakob (1353-1513) in Burghausen is a three-nave basilica.

♣ Burg Tel (08677) 4659.

goldsmith, is the Adoration of | Panoramic view of Burghausen, with its vast castle complex on the hill

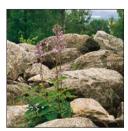

Baverischer Wald o

The Bayarian forest stretches north to the rive Danube between Regensburg and Passau It is part of Central Europe's largest woodland and provides idvllic grounds for a variety of outdoor pursuits. The local rocks contain large quantities of quartz, which contributed to the early development of the glass industry here. To this day, the region produces some fine, blown-glass artifacts. The region also hosts a number of popular festivals throughout the year.

7wiesel

In the old glassworks which survive to this dav. vou can watch workers using blow irons to produce vases, iugs and other objects made of glass.

Spiegelau 🚯

Spiegelau is one of the most popular starting points for tourists planning hiking trips into the mountains.

The main attractions of this small town are its snuff and furniture museums and the old town hall.

Along with Zwiesel, this is the oldest centre of glass production in the area. The local museum illustrates the town's history is the Schloss (Castle) Wolfstein, which now houses a museum of hunting and fishing.

DEGGENDORE

IONALPARK AYERISCHER

Suggested route

Other road

KEY

Scenic route

❖ Viewpoint

0 miles

TIPS FOR WALKERS

Starting point: Zwiesel. Distance: 82 km (51 miles) Getting there: train to Frauenau, on the Zwiesel-Granau line; or Bodenmais, terminus of another branch line from Zwiesel.

Finsterau 6

Situated close to a vast artificial lake, Finsterau has an interesting openair museum that displays examples of the local building trade.

Deggendorf

Street-by-Street: Passau @

Passau, whose long history goes back to Roman times, lies on a peninsula between the rivers Danube and Inn, near the Austrian border. During the second half of the 5th century, St Severinus established a monastery in Passau as well as several more nearby. In 739, an Irish monk called Boniface, known as "Germany's Apostle", founded a bishopric here and for many years this was the largest diocese of the Holy Roman Empire. Large parts of the town were destroyed by fires in 1662 and 1680. Reconstruction was carried out by Italian artists, who gave the town its Baroque, Rococo and Neo-Classical façades. However Passau retains a medieval feel in its narrow alleys and archways.

Passauer Glasmuseum

Opposite the old town hall is the beautiful patrician Hotel Wilder Mann, which now bouses the Glasmuseum. The museum's vast collection includes valuable examples of Bohemian, Austrian and Bavarian glasswork.

ANGER

★ Dom St Stephan

St Stepban's Catbedral is a true masterpiece of Italian Baroque, built by Italian architect Carlo Lurago to replace the original Gothic structure, which was largely destroyed by fire in the 17th century.

* Altes Rathaus

University

Dating from the 14th–15th century, the old town hall was created by combining eight patrician houses. The structure features a Neo-Gothic tower.

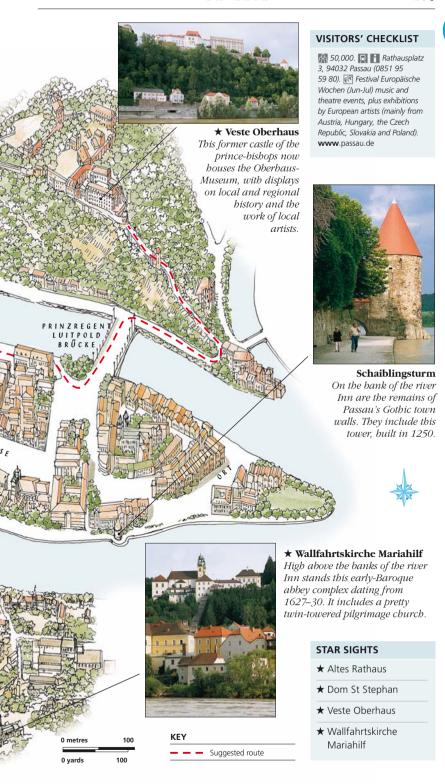

Neue Bischofsresidenz

Built by Domenico d'Angeli and Antonio Beduzzi in 1713–30, the Neue Residenz bas a pilaster façade with protruding balconies and roof balustrade.

For hotels and restaurants in this region see pp499–503 and pp538–42

Berchtesgadener Land

Berchtesgadener Land is one of the most beautiful regions, not just in Germany, but in the whole of Europe. It occupies the area of the Berchtesgadener Alps whose boundaries are defined by the river Saalach to the west, the river Salzach to the east, the "Stony Sea" (Steinernes Meer) to the south and, to the north, Untersberg, which is 1,972 m (7,500 ft) above sea level. To the south of Berchtesgaden village lies the National Park (Nationalpark Berchtesgaden).

★ Ramsau an der Ache

Set in an enchanting location in the Ramsau Valley, this village is a popular base for visitors to the area. Spectacular views of the mountains can be enjoyed from the small parish church.

REITER

ALPE

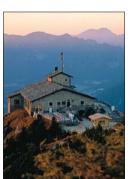

LATTEN -GEBIRGE

Hintersee

This scenic lake has given its name to a picturesque hamlet nearby. A walk around the lake takes about one hour.

KEHLSTEINHAUS

Standing on the summit of Kehlstein, this stone building resembling a mountain shelter is known as the Adlerhorst (Eagle's Nest). It was given to Hitler as a birthday present in 1939 by one of his closest allies, Martin Bormann, and it became one of the Führer's favourite residences. The approach to the building is a true engineering masterpiece: the initial section, the Kehlsteinstrasse, is a scenic mountain road, which passes through five tunnels and offers some breathtaking views. The final ascent is via a lift. The whole project took 13 months to complete. After the war, the Eagle's Nest fell into the hands of the Americans, then, in 1960, it passed into private hands. The building now houses a restaurant that is very popular with tourists, not only because of its history but also for the spectacular views that it provides over part of the Alps.

Berchtesgaden This magnificent national park, which is home to many rare species of plants and animals, can be visited by joining organized tours between May and October. BAVARIA 277

Nationalpark

0 km

0 miles

UNTERS.

BERG

Maria

Gern

Königssee

Winkl

Schönau

am Königssee

Bischofswiesen

Berchtes

gaden

Berchtesgaden

The capital of the region features many historic buildings. The Schloss, originally an Augustinian priory now houses the art treasures collected by Crown Prince Ruprecht. The local salt mine has been a source of wealth since the 16th century.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map E7. 🚯 8.500. 🖪 Berchtesgaden.

Köniasseerstr 2 83471 Berchtesaaden (08652-96 70).

Wallfahrtskirche Maria Gern One of the loveliest

Baroque buildings in the region, the pilgrimage church of Maria Gern was built in 1709 in this idvllic location.

Hallein

KEY

Maior road

Minor road

River

Viewpoint

★ Königssee

* Ramsau an der Ache

★ Königssee

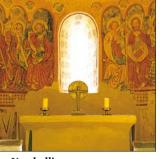

Germany's highest lake, Königssee is the focal point of Berchtesgadener Land. Lying 600 m (2,000 ft) above sea level, it covers an area of 5.5 sq km (1,360 acres) and reaches a depth of 188 m (616 ft).

Touring Chiemsee

Bavaria's largest lake. Chiemsee is a real paradise for watersports enthusiasts, with sailors water-skiers swimmers and divers all enjoying the opportunities it offers. The lake is set amidst magnificent Alpine scenery in the region known as the Chiemgau, which stretches eastwards from Rosenheim to the border with Austria along the river Salzach. Chiemsee is surrounded by numerous small towns and villages and dotted with islands. some of which feature fascinating historic buildings, Excellent land, water and rail transport facilities ensure trouble-free travel to all destinations in the area

The harbour town of Stock is connected by narrow-gauge steam railway to the Chiemsee's main resort of Prien. The railway, the Chiemseebahn, is over one hundred years old.

Urschalling

* Viewpoint

The 12th-century church of St Jakobus features magnificent wall paintings dating from the 13th and 14th centuries.

KFY Motorway Maior road Minor road River

Fraueninsel

Halfing

Like its neighbour Herreninsel this island is rich in art treasures. Its abbey (Klosterkirche) was founded in 766 and taken , over by Benedictine nuns in the mid-9th century.

Eggstätt Rad Endorf

LANGBÜRGNER SEI

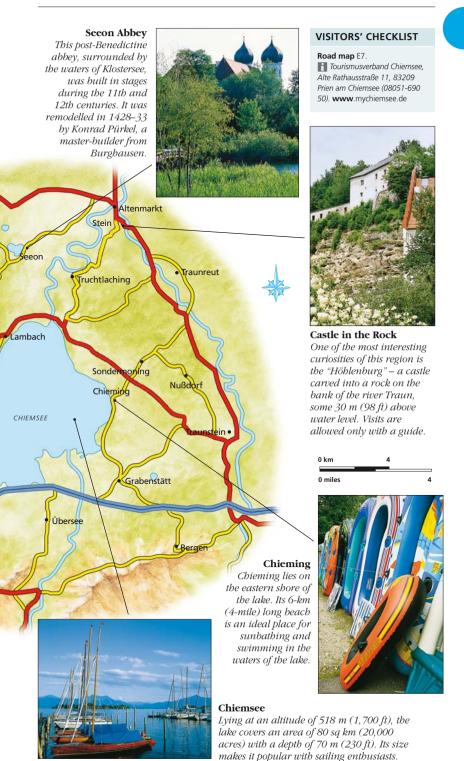

Urschalli

Bernau

Herrenchiemsee Palace

In 1873, King Ludwig II bought Herreninsel, with the intention of building a replica of the Palace of Versailles here. Funds ran out and the project was not completed, but the magnificent central section and park are well worth visiting.

Colourful Alpine inn. dating from 1612, in Oberammergau

Garmisch-Partenkirchen ®

Road map D7. 🖟 27,000. 🖃

Richard-Strauss-Platz 2 (08821-18 07 00). Neujahrs-Springen (1 Jan); Hornschlitten-Rennen (6 Jan); Ski World Cup Races: Richard Strauss Tage (Jun).

Lying in the valley of the river

Loisach Garmisch-Partenkirchen is the bestknown resort in the Bayarian Alps. To say that it offers ideal skiing conditions would be to state the obvious In 1936 it hosted the Winter Olympic Games and, in 1978, the World Skiing Championships. From Garmisch-Partenkirchen. Germany's highest peak, Zugspitze (2964 m/9.720 ft). can be reached by taking the narrowgauge railway to Zugspitzblatt and from there a cable car which reaches the summit in a few minutes. Garmisch Partenkirchen's parish church of St Martin (Alte Pfarrkirche St Martin) is worth a visit. It was built in the 13th century and extended in the 15th century and features some well-preserved Gothic wall paintings and net vaulting.

The Werdenfelser Museum shows how people in this region lived in the past, with a collection of furniture, clothing and room reconstructions.

M Werdenfelser Museum

Ludwigstraße 47. Tel (08821) 21 34. Dec-Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun.

Oberammergau 39

Situated some 20 km (12 miles) north of Garmisch-Partenkirchen, and standing on the site of a 9th-century Welfs' fort, Oberammergau is world famous for its folk art and passion plays. The Thirty Years' War

(1618–48) and the plague of 1632 came close to wiping out the entire population of the village. Its surviving inhabitants pledged that if they were saved from extinction they would stage for ever more a play about Christ's Passion. No further deaths occurred and. to this day, the villagers have kept their pledge. Every ten years (the next is in 2010), some 2,000 people take part in the six-hour-long spectacle, in which they transform themselves from Bavarians into Jews and Romans from the time of Christ. About one hundred performances are staged between mid-May and mid-October in the huge Passionsspielhaus.

Among the buildings worth seeing in Oberammergau are the Rococo church of Saint Peter and Saint Paul (1735–40) and the famous Pilatushaus, with its illusionist painting of Christ before Pilate on the façade. The Heimatmuseum has a notable collection of wooden cribs.

111 Heimatmuseum

Dorfstraße 8. Tel (08822) 941 36. 10am–5pm Tue–Sun. Feb, Mar,

Ettal @

Road map D7. 38 974.

About 4 km (2.5 miles) from Oberammergau is the tiny resort of Ettal, which is best known for its Benedictine abbey, founded by Emperor Ludwig IV of Bavaria. The abbey's foundation stone was laid in 1330, while the Church of the Virgin Mary and the convent were consecrated in 1370. The church building is a Gothic structure but, in 1710-52. Josef Enrico Zuccalli and Franz Schmuzer carried out major remodelling work in the Baroque style. The church interior is decorated with rich Rococo stuccowork by Johann Baptist and Johann Georg Ubelhör, and wall paintings by Martin Knoller.

The monastery produces some fine fruit liqueurs, flavoured brandies and beer.

The Baroque Benedictine abbey in Ettal

Oriel window in

Garmisch-

Partenkirchen

Linderhof @

In the early 1850s, Linderhof was bought by the Bavarian King Maximilian II. This remote mountain district had great appeal to the young heir to the throne, Ludwig, later to become the eccentric King Ludwig II. In 1874, work started on remodelling the existing Königshäuschen (royal cottage) in the Neo-Rococo style. The palace is surrounded by a delightful garden, which is dotted with romantic little buildings, including Schwanenweiber (Swan Lake), Venusgrotte (Venus grotto) and the Marokkanisches Haus (Moroccan house).

Tapestry Room

The walls of this room are painted in a style that is reminiscent of tapestry work, with depictions of pastoral scenes.

Reception Room

Although the palace was intended as a private residence, King Ludwig II insisted on the provision of a suitably ornate and regal reception room.

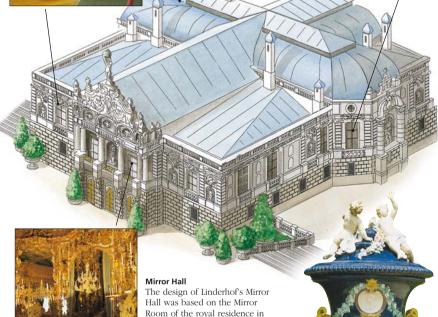

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map D7. Schloss Linderhof. Tel (08822) 920 30. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm daily; Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm daily.

Dining Room

Designed by Christian Jank, the dining room was completed in 1872. It features gilded panelling by Phillip Perron and stuccowork by Theobald Behler.

Terraces

Terraces in front of the palace are adorned with sculptures and include a pool with a fountain.

Munich (pp216-17).

Schloss Neuschwanstein

Set amidst magnificent mountain scenery on the shores of the Schwansee (Swan Lake), this fairy-tale castle was built in 1869–86 for the eccentric Bavarian King Ludwig II, to a design by the theatre designer Christian Jank. When deciding to build this imposing residence, the king was undoubtedly inspired by Wartburg Castle in Thuringia (see pp186–7), which he visited in 1867. The pale grey limestone castle, which draws on a variety of historical styles, is a steep 30-minute walk from the nearby village of Hohenschwangau and offers spectacular views of the surrounding scenery.

★ Singers' Hall The Sängersaal was modelled on the singing room of the Wartburg castle in Eisenach.

Study

Vestibule

The walls of the vestibule and of other rooms in the castle are lavishly covered with paintings depicting scenes from old German myths and legends.

★ Throne Room

The gilded interior of the throne room reminds one of Byzantine temples and the palace church of All Saints (Hofkirche) in the Residenz (see pp216–17) in Munich.

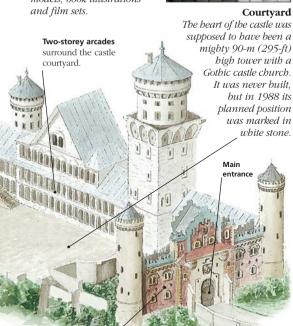

Dining Room

Like other rooms in the palace, the dining room includes fabulous pictures, intricately carved panels and beautifully decorated furniture, all bearing witness to the skill and artistry of the 19th-century craftsmen.

★ Castle Building

Schloss Neuschwanstein is the archetypal fairy-tale castle and has provided the inspiration for countless tov models, book illustrations

Gatehouse

During construction, temporary accommodation was built for the king on the second floor of the gatehouse, completed in 1872.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map D7. Neuschwansteinstrasse 20. Tel (08362) 93 98 80. Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm dailv: Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm dailv. 場 と (limited access).

#1 □ A i supposed to have been a mighty 90-m (295-ft) high tower with a Gothic castle church It was never built. but in 1988 its planned position was marked in

STAR FEATURES

★ Castle Building

★ Singers' Hall

★ Throne Room

Schloss Hohenschwangau Tel (08362) 887 242. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm daily;

Oct–Mar: 10am–4pm. 24 Dec. 166

Neo-Gothic castle of Maximilian II in Hohenschwangau

Hohenschwangau **@

Road map D7. 👪 Schwangau 3.818. Schwangau Münchenerstr 2 (08362-819 80). Ticket service. Hohenschwangau Alnseestr 12 (08362-930 830)

The skyline of Schwangau is dominated by two castles. Schloss Neuschwanstein (left) and the majestic Schloss Hohenschwangau The fortified castle that occupied this site in the Middle Ages was remodelled in 1538-47 and. in 1567, it passed into the hands of the Wittelsbach family. It was destroyed during the Tyrolean War but in 1832 the heir to the throne (later Maximilian II) ordered the ruins to be rebuilt in Neo-Gothic style. The plans were prepared by the painter Domenico Quaglio: after his death, work on the castle was continued by the architects Georg Friedrich Ziebland and Joseph Daniel Ohlmüller.

This four-storey building. standing on medieval foundations, is flanked by angular towers. The wall paintings that decorate the rooms of the castle date from 1835-36 Their iconographic content. which is based on old Germanic sagas, is the work of Moritz von Schwind, A walk around the castle provides an excellent opportunity to study the Wittelsbach family history and to see the mid-19th century furnishings. There are magnificent views of the surroundings from the castle's lovely terraced gardens.

The Rococo Throne Room in the Kempten Residenz.

Kempten 4

Road map C7. 68,000. Rathausplatz 24 (0831-252 52 37). Algäuer Festwochen (Aug).

Kempten lies at the centre of one of Germany's most attractive tourist regions, the Allgäu, which stretches from Bodensee lake to the west and the river Lech to the east The town, which boasts a history of over 2,000 years, was first mentioned by the Greek geographer and historian Strabon as a Celtic settlement. Kambodounon. Later, the Romans established Cambodunum on the right bank of the river Iller. Along with Augusta Vindelicorum (Augsburg) and Castra Regina (Regensburg), this was one of the most important towns in the Roman province of Raetia.

Medieval Kempten grew around a Benedictine Abbey, founded in 752. In the northwestern part of town, near the former abbots' residence. is the church of St Lorenz. A triple-nave, galleried basilica with an octagonal cupola and a twin-tower façade, this is the work of Michael Beer and Johann Serro. The town's parish church of St Mang dates from the 15th century. In the Rathausplatz is an attractive town hall dating from 1474 and other historic buildings, including the Londoner Hof with its Rococo façade (1764). The Allgäu-Museum details the history of Kempten and the surrounding area. On the right bank of the river Iller, is the Archäologischer Park. with excavated remains of Roman Cambodunum.

Allgäu-Museum

Kornhaus, Grober Kornhausplatz 1.

Tel (0831) 540 21 20.

10am–4pm Tue–Sun.

Archäologischer Park Cambodunum

Cambodunumweg 3. Tel (0831) 797 31. May-Oct: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun; Nov-Apr:10am-4:30pm Tue-Sun. Mid-Dec-mid-Mar.

Epitaph of the family of Andreas Bertsch, in the Stadtmuseum Lindau

Lindau @

Road map C7. 24,000. Ludwigstraße 68 (08382-26 00 30 or 19 433). Ludwigstraße Challet Lindauer Kinderfest (Jul).

In Roman times Lindau was a fishing settlement, which used to lie over three islands. The first historic records of the town date from 882. On the south side of the old-town island lies the harbour with its 13th-century lighthouse (Manoturm) The new lighthouse (Neuer Leuchtturm). built in 1856, stands on the neighbouring pier and offers a splendid view over the lake and the Alps. The marble Lion of Bavaria opposite is the symbol of Lindau.

The old town features many historic buildings, such as the Gothic-Renaissance town hall in Reichsplatz, which was built in 1422–36 and later remodelled in 1578. The picturesque Maximilianstrasse is lined with the houses of rich patricians; their shady arcades (Brodlauben) are typical of Lindau architecture.

In Schrannenplatz, in the northwest area of the town stands the church of St Peter Since 1928 this has been the war memorial chapel for World War I victims. Its eastern section dates from the mid-12th century while the bigger, western section was built between 1425 and 1480. The interior contains many wall paintings, including some by Hans Holbein the Elder dating from 1485-90. Nearby stands the Diebsturm (Thief's Tower) of 1380. The Stadtmuseum (town museum) is housed in Haus zum Cavazzen (1729) in Marktplatz, which also features a lovely Neptune fountain.

On the south side of the Market Square stands the Protestant Church of St Stephen, which dates from the 12th century and was remodelled in Baroque style in 1782. The Catholic Church of St Mary, built in 1748–52, has a lovely Rococo interior.

11 Stadtmuseum Lindau

Marktplatz 6. Tel (08382) 94 40 73. Apr-Oct: 11am-5pm Tue-Fri, Sun, 2pm-5pm Sat. Nov-Mar.

Oberstdorf @

Road map C7. 🚵 11,000. 🗒 🕆 Verkehrsamt Marktolatz 7 (08322-70.00)

Oberstdorf lies in the valley of the River Iller. The ideal skiing conditions and the mild all-vear-round climate make this one of the most popular health resorts and winter sports centres in Germany. Nearby is the skiing stadium (Schattenberg-Skistadion) with its famous ski-iump. where the annual "four ski-jump" tournament starts each vear.

Although the fire of 1865 destroyed large sections of the settlement here some of the most important historic buildings escaped. These include Seelenkapelle, whose façade is decorated with a 16th-century wall painting typical Church of St Mang of the region, and two chapels, Loretto-kapelle and Josephskapelle, which were joined together in 1707. Just to the east of Oberstdorf is the 2.224-m (7.300-ft) Mount Nebelhorn. whose summit can be reached in a few minutes by cable car. This offers a spectacular view over the majestic Allgäuer Alps as well as providing an excellent starting point for mountain hiking.

Road map D7. 🔈 16.000. 🖃 🚼 Kurverwaltung Kaiser-Maximilian-Platz 1 (08362-938 50)

Situated conveniently on an important trade route. Füssen experienced its most rapid growth in the late Middle Ages, as witnessed by many of the buildings in Reichenstrasse and the remains of the town fortifications, which > include Sebastiantor and sections of the walls with five turrets Perched on a rock, high above the town. stands the palace of the Augsburg prince-bishops. Started in 1291 by the Bayarian Prince Ludwig II the Severe construction was continued in 1490-1503 by the Augsburg bishops. The residential buildings of the palace range around a courtvard whose walls are decorated with trompe l'oeil door and window frames

At the foot of the castle stands the former Benedictine Abbey (Kloster St Mang). which was erected in the 9th century at the burial site of St Magnus, the "Apostle of the Allgäu". The only surviving part of the abbey is the late 10th-century crypt with the remains of wall paintings.

Late-Baroque interior of the Abbev Library, in Ottobeuren

Ottobeuren 6

Road map D7. 🎊 7,500. 🚹 Marktplatz 14 (08332-92 19 50).

Situated 8 km (5 miles) from Memmingen the small health resort of Ottobeuren is the site of one of Germany's most famous Benedictine abbevs. Founded in 764, the abbey is still a place of prayer and work for the monks who live here, having withstood even the radical secularization of 1803. In the 18th century the abbey was remodelled by the Abbot Rupert II. The foundation stone for the building complex was laid in 1717 and work began under the direction of Simpert Kraemer. The new buildings were completed in 1731. The richly decorated interiors, with stuccoes by Andrea Maini, still survive. A new abbey church was built between 1737 and 1766 with construction supervised initially by Simpert Kramer. In 1748, this was taken over by Johann Michael Fischer, who was responsible for its final appearance.

The interior of the church has a magnificent unity of style: Rococo stuccoes by Johann Michael Feuchtmayr are in perfect harmony with the vault frescos by Johann Jakob Zeiller as well as the splendid altars and stalls by Martin Hörmann and Johann Zeiller's brother Franz Anton Zeiller. The abbey's three organs, which are particularly beautiful, can be heard at regularly held recitals.

Madonna in the

in Füssen

Ski-jump complex in Oberstdorf

Augustusbrunnen

statue of the Emperor

Incorborating a

Augustus the

Augsburg 6

Situated at the confluence of the Lech and Wertach rivers, Augsburg is the third largest town in Bavaria and one of the oldest in Germany. As early as 15 BC this was the site of a Roman camp, which later became a town known as Augusta Vindelicorum. Until the end of the 13th century, the town was ruled by powerful bishops. From 1316, as a Free Imperial City of the Holy Roman Empire, Augsburg grew to become one of the richest and most powerful cities in Germany. The Thirty Years' War (1618–48), however, put an end to the town's prosperity.

Church of St Anna

The star attraction of this unassuming ex-Carmelite church is the Renaissance memorial chapel endowed by the brothers Ulrich and Jacob Fugger in 1509.

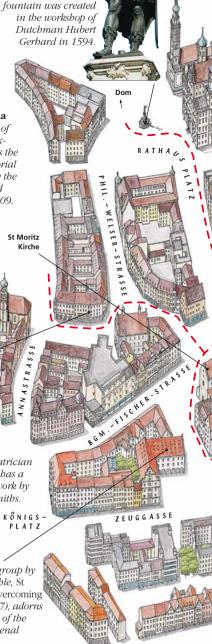

Maximilianmuseum

Set in a Renaissance patrician mansion, the museum has a splendid collection of work by local gold- and silversmiths.

Zeughaus

A bronze group by Hans Reichle, St Michael Overcoming Satan (1607), adorns the façade of the former arsenal building.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map D6. A 265,000. 5 km (3 miles) to the north. 5 km (3 miles) to the north. 5 cohiessgrabenstr. 14 (0821-50 20 70). Frühjahrsplärre (week following Easter), Herbstplärrer (Aug/Sep), Friedenfest (8 Aug), Mozartsommer (Aug/Sep). www.augsburg.de

★ Rathaus

The magnificent town hall, built by Elias Holl in 1615–20, is generally regarded as Germany's finest example of Mannerist architecture.

View of the monumental Gothic Dom of the Holy Virgin

♠ Dom of the Holy Virgin (Mariä Heimsuchung)

Frauenstraße 1. 9am-5:30pm. Originally a Romanesque twin-choir, pillared basilica with crypt, western transept and two towers, dating from 994-1065 the structure was remodelled between 1331 and 1431 along Gothic lines. The church was given two further side aisles, a choir with an ambulatory and a French-style ring of chapels. Original features include the richly carved portals and the famous Romanesque bronze door with 35 panels depicting allegorical figures. There are some unique stained-glass windows, dating from 1140.

📅 Fuggerei

Fuggerei-Museum, Mittlere Gasse 13. Tel (0821) 319 88 10. Apr-Oct: 8am-8pm daily; Nov-Mar: 9am-6pm daily. a 24 Dec-28 Feb. The Fuggerei, in Augsburg's Jakobervorstadt (Jacob's Suburb), is Europe's oldest social housing estate. It was founded in 1516 by Jacob Fugger, a member of what was then the richest family in Europe. The intention was to provide homes for the town's poorest citizens, particularly families with children. Today. however, it has evolved into a home for retired citizens.

The 52 houses in Fuggerei were built in 1516–25 and line six streets. They are surrounded by gardens. One of the buildings houses the Fuggerei-Museum, which is devoted to the history of the estate and has a fascinating shop, the Himmlisches Fuggereilädle.

* Fuggerhäuser
Commissioned by Jacob II
Fugger (1459–1525) for bimself and bis family,
this Italian-style building, with building, with two arcaded courtyards, was built in 1512–15.

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Fuggerhäuser
- ★ Maximilianstraße
- ★ Rathaus

St Ulrich-

und-Afra

KEY

Suggested route

BADEN-WURTTEMBERG

bis German state, which includes territories of the former Grand Duchy of Baden, is one of the country's most popular tourist destinations. Its charming old university towns, such as Tübingen and Heidelberg, historic castles, luxurious resorts and the magnificent recreation areas of the Schwarzwald (Black Forest) and Bodensee (Lake Constance) guarantee enjoyable and memorable holidays.

This region's turbulent history, which has been ruled over the years by Palatinate electors, counts and finally kings of Wurttemberg, as well as by margraves and Grand Dukes of Baden, has given the province its cultural and religious diversity.

This southwestern area of Germany was the cradle of two great dynasties that played a significant part in German and European history and culture. The Hohenstaufen family – which originated from Swabia – produced kings and emperors who ruled during the most magnificent period of the German Middle Ages (1138–1254). These included Frederick I Barbarossa and Frederick II. The Hohenzollern family, also from Swabia, produced Brandenburg dukes, Prussian kings including Frederick the Great and German emperors from 1871–1918.

In Heidelberg the enlightened elector Ruprecht I founded the first university in Germany in 1386 and shortly after this epoch-making event, further universities were established in Tübingen and Freiburg im Breisgau. Many towns and villages in the region can boast a history going back to Roman times. The Romans used to grow vines in the area of Baden-Wurttemberg and now wines from the region are renowned worldwide for their high quality.

Baden-Wurttemberg, however, does not only represent an illustrious past, but also an impressive present. Unemployment figures for the region are the lowest in Germany, and many companies that are known and respected throughout the world – such as Bosch, Daimler Chrysler, Porsche and the software company SAP – have their production plants here.

Magnificent French-style garden in front of the palace in Ludwigsburg

Baden-Wurttemberg

With its magnificent castles, luxurious resorts and the beautiful recreation areas of the Black Forest, Baden-Wurttemberg is one of Germany's most popular tourist destinations. In addition, the region's long and turbulent history has given it a rich cultural and religious diversity. The southwest region of Germany was the cradle of two dynasties that played important roles in German and European history and culture - the Hohenstaufen and Hohenzollern SCHWETZINGEN families. The great number of urban centres in the state is due to the influence of these two families. Baden-Wurttemberg also has more universities than any other state in Germany, the oldest being located at Heidelberg, Tübingen and Freiburg im Breisgau.

The picturesque castle in Sigmaringen. in the region of Schwäbische Alb

- Motorway
- Major road
- Minor road
- Main railway
- Minor railway International border
- County border
- Δ Summit

Basel

The Gothic town hall in Ulm

SEE ALSO

· Where to Stay pp503-6 Where to Eat pp542-5

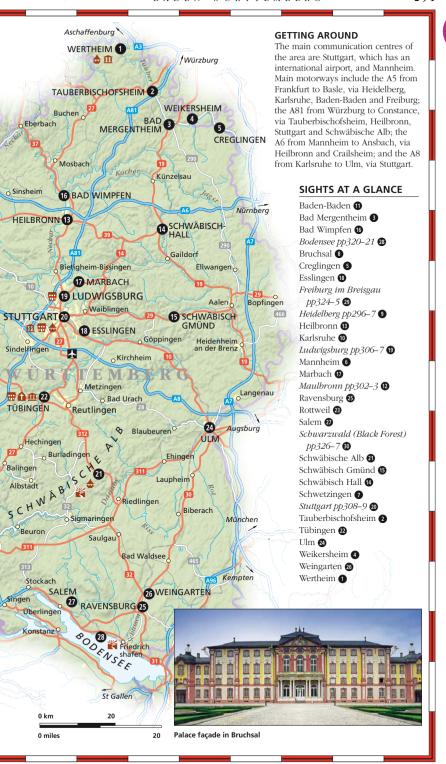

Weinheim

BRUCHSAL 8

6 MANNHEIM

MALIERONN

HEIDEL BERG

Wertheim a

Road map C5. A 24,500. Am Spitzen Turm (09342-1066). Altstadtfest (Jul), Burgweinfest (Aug).

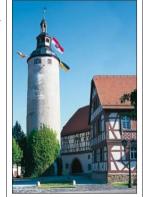

Standing at the point where the rivers Tauber and Main meet is the town of Wertheim, whose earliest historic records date from 1183. A gunpowder explosion in 1619 plus the destruction caused by the Thirty Years' War turned the Wertheimer Burg, the von Wertheim family castle, into a romantic ruin. Its tall watchtower offers panoramic views.

Wertheim's market square is lined with half-timbered houses, while the Baroque Protestant church nearby, dating from the 15th-18th centuries, has tombs of members of the von Wertheim family. The most spectacular is the tomb of Count Ludwig II von Löwenstein-Wertheim and his wife. Anna von Stolberg. This is the work of Michael Kern (1618). Also worth visiting are the Glasmuseum and the Grafschaftsmuseum Wertheim with collections of Frankish costumes, paintings and coins and displays on wine-making.

Glasmuseum

ff Grafschaftsmuseum Wertheim

Rathausgasse 6–10. Tel (09342) 30 15 11. 10am–noon, 2:30pm– 4:30pm Tue–Fri, 2:30pm–4:30pm Sat, 2pm–5pm Sun.

Half-timbered houses and tower by Schloss Tauberbischofsheim

Tauberbischofsheim 2

Road map C5. (A) 13,000. (E) Marktplatz 8 (09341-803 33).

Boniface, the Anglo-Saxon missionary to the German tribes, established Germany's first nunnery in AD 735. Its first prioress, Lioba, who was related to Boniface, gave her name to the Baroque church that stands in Tauberbischofs-

The town, which enjoys a picturesque location in the valley of the river
Tauber, still has a group of original half-timbered houses.
On the market square is the Baroque Rehhof (1702) and the old "Star Pharmacy" in a heim's market square.

house once occupied by Georg Michael Franck, grandfather of the Romantic poets Clemens and Bettina Brentano.

In the eastern section of Hauptstraße stands Haus Mackert – a Baroque mansion built in 1744 for a wealthy wine merchant. In Schlossplatz is the Kurmainzisches Schloss, an imposing edifice built in the 15th–16th centuries, that now houses the Landschaftsmuseum.

Bad Mergentheim 3

Road map C5. A 25,000. A Marktplatz 3 (07931-5 71 31). Markelsheimer Weinfest (after Whitsun).

Lying in a charming spot on the river Tauber, Bad Mergentheim was, from 1525 until 1809, the seat of the Grand Masters of the religious order of the "House of the Hospitallers of Saint Mary of the Teutons in Jerusalem", more commonly known as the Teutonic Knights. When three Hohenlone brothers entered the Order in 1220, they contributed to it their share of their father's estate. This laid the foundations for one of the most powerful Teutonic commands at the heart of the Holy Roman Empire. From 1244 until 1250 Heinrich von Hohenlohe held the office of Grand Master.

The former Hohenlohe's castle, built in the 12th–13th centuries, was remodelled in Renaissance style in 1565–74 by Michael Bronner and Blasius Berwart. They gave the castle its winding stairs and the opulent decor of the staircase. The Baroque-Rococo Schlosskirche dominates the complex. Its interior was designed by François Cuvilliés, while the ceiling

Scenic castle ruins in Wertheim fresco (The Victorious Cross) is the work of Nicolaus Stuber. The castle is now the home of a very interesting museum, the Deutschordensmuseum

Many of the town's historic buildings survive to this day, including the 13th-century Church of the Knights of St John of Jerusalem and the Dominican church containing the epitaph of the Grand Master Walther von Cronberg. The Pfarrkirche (Parish church) in the Stuppach district contains a masterpiece by Grünewald (1519), known as the Madonna of Stuppach.

↑ Pfarrkirche in Stuppach Kapellenpflege. Tel (07931) 26 05. ↑ Mar–Apr: 10am–5pm Tue–Sun;

May–Api. Toani–Spin Ide–Sun; May–Oct: 9:30am–5:30pm Tue–Sun; Nov: 11am–4pm Tue–Sun. ☐ Dec–Feb. ☑

⚠ Deutschordensmuseum Schloss. Tel (07931) 522 12. ☐ Apr-Oct: 10:30am-5pm Tue-Sun; Nov-Mar: 2-5pm Tue-Sat, 10:30am-5pm Sun.

Weikersheim 4

Road map C5. 🚮 8,000. 🚹 Am Marktplatz 7 (07934-102 45).

Eleven kilometres (7 miles) east of Bad Mergentheim is the picturesque little town of Weikersheim. A Rococo fountain from 1768 is at the centre of the market square while the late-Gothic parish church is on the north side. The latter is a triple-nave hall-church with a single-tower western façade and two towers by the choir.

Inside are many tombs of the von Hohenlohe family. Also on the market square stands the Tauberländer Dorfmuseum.

which charts the history of rural life in Franconia. In the western part of town stands the very well preserved of the Counts von Hohenlohe, which dates from the 16th–18th centuries. Its highlight is undoubtedly the vast Rittersaal, a sumptuous banqueting hall that measures 35 m (115 ft) long x 12 m (39 ft) wide x 9 m (29 ft) high. The counts and their aristocratic guests used to enter this room on horseback. Its very rare, original furnishings include paintings and reliefs depicting hunting scenes.

Figure of drummer in Weikersheim's Hofgarten Schloss Weikersheim, the palace complex

A true rarity is the original Baroque Hofgarten (palace garden), designed by Daniel Matthieu and built in 1709.

♣ Schloss Weikersheim Tel (07934) 99 29 50. Apr-Oct: 9am-6pm daily; mid-Nov-Mar: 10am-noon & 1pm-5pm daily.

Creglingen 6

Road map C5. A 5,000. Romantische Straße 14 (07933-6 31).

Upstream from Weikersheim, on the Bavarian border, is the small town of Creglingen. Here, sometime in the distant past, a ploughman found a luminous holy wafer in a clod of earth and within a few years, the Herrgottskirche was built, where the host was put on display for visiting pilgrims. Between 1502 and 1506 Tilman Riemenschneider

Altar by Tilman Riemenschneider, in Creglingen's Herrgottskirche carved an altar for the church. The main theme of the polyptych is the Assumption of the Virgin Mary, considered to be the artist's masterpiece.

The town is also home to the esoteric collection of the famous Fingerhutmuseum (Thimble Museum).

♠ Herraottskirche

Kohlersmühle. Tel (07933) 338 or 508. ☐ Nov-Dec & Feb-Mar: noon-4pm Tue-Sun; Apr: 9:15am-5:30pm daily; May-Oct: 9:15am-6:30pm daily.

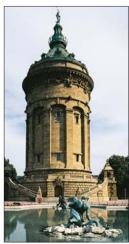

fingerhutmuseum

Kohlersmühle. Tel (07933) 370.

Apr-Oct: 10am-noon & 2-5pm
Tue-Sun; Nov-Dec & Feb-Mar:
1-4pm Tue-Sun.

TEUTONIC ORDER

The Order of the Hospital of St Mary of the German House in Jerusalem was officially founded in Acre (Akkon) in 1190. Its aim was to care for sick pilgrims or Crusaders wounded in fights with the Saracens. In 1231-83, the Teutonic Knights took over all of Prussia and, in 1308-09 all Eastern Pomerania around Danzig, and they moved their headquarters from Venice to Marienburg on the river Nogat. In 1525 the Grand Master, Albrecht von Hohenzollern-Ansbach, converted to Lutheranism and secularized Teutonic Prussia, However, the Order remained in existence in the Holy Roman Empire: its German Master, Walter von Cronberg, who had his residence in Mergentheim, became de facto Grand Master. Napoleon abolished the Order in 1809, but it still exists today, with its headquarters based in Vienna since 1809.

The Wasserturm (Water Tower) in Friedrichsplatz, Mannheim

Mannheim 6

Road map B5. 326,000. Willy-Brandt-Platz 3 (0621-10 10 12). Mannheim-Heidelberger Filmfestival (mid-October).

Mannheim existed as a small fishing hamlet as far back as 766. In 1606, Elector Frederick IV the Righteous ordered a fortress to be built on the site, at the junction of the rivers Rhine and Neckar. A trading settlement sprang up nearby, which was soon granted town status. Having been repeatedly destroyed through the years, the town was finally rebuilt in Baroque style during the Johann Wilhelm.

The town-centre layout follows the regular Baroque pattern of the early 18th century, when the town was divided into 136 regular squares. In 1720, when Elector Charles III Philip decided to move his residence from

Heidelberg to

for a Baroque

Mannheim, the foundation stone

palace was laid in the grounds of a former citadel.

reign of the Elector

Statue of Elector Karl Theodor in Mannheim's

With over 400 rooms, this became one of the largest and most opulent of all German palaces. Like the residences of many European rulers at that time, it was modelled on Versailles. The main palace has a horseshoe layout, and its symmetry is emphasized by a central projecting entrance. Building work was done by Johann Clemens Froimont, Alessandro Galli da Bibiena, Nicolas de Pigage and Guillaume d'Hauberat

The second largest town of the region, Mannheim boasts many other historic buildings, including the post-Jesuit Church of St Ignatius and St Francis Xavier, designed by Alessandro Galli da Bibiena and built in 1733–60. Original wall-paintings by Egid Quirin Asam no longer exist, but the altars have survived to this day. These include JI Saler's Silver Madonna in Radiant Glory (1747). Also worth visiting are the Baroque Altes Rathaus (1701–23) and Secessionist buildings in Friedrichsplatz such as the Kunsthalle and Wasserturm – the symbol of Mannheim.

The town has several interesting museums: the Städtische Kunsthalle has a large collection of 19th- and 20th-century art, including Francis Bacon's Study After Velasquez's Portrait of Pope Innocent X. The museum is renowned for its major temporary exhibitions. The Reiss-EngelhornMuseen has a fine collection of 18thcentury Dutch paintings and sections devoted to early history and ethnography. Another big attraction is the Landesmuseum für

Technik und Arbeit

(Museum of Technology and Labour).
Opened in 1990, this houses a collection of historic machinery. Mannheim saw the first official demonstration of many inventions that have now become part of everyday life. In 1817, Baron Karl Friedrich von Sauerbronn demonstrated his first bicycle in the town and, in 1886, Carl Friedrich Benz unveiled his first automobile, produced at the nearby factory.

⚠ Städtische Kunsthalle Moltkestraße 9. Tel (0621) 293 64 52. ☐ 11am-6pm Tue-Sun. ☐ during Carnival, 1 May, 24, 31 Dec.

11 Landesmuseum für Technik und Arbeit

Museumsstraße 1. Tel (0621) 429 89. 9am-5pm Tue, Thu & Fri, 9am-8pm Wed, 10am-6pm Sat-Sun. Good Friday, 24, 25, 31 Dec. W Wed: admission free from noon.

The Reiss-Engelhorn-Museen
Quadrat D5 and C5. www.
mannheim.de/reiss_museum.de
Tel (0621) 293 31 51.
11am-6pm Tue-Sun.

Paul Cézanne's Pipe Smoker (c.1890), in the Städtische Kunsthalle, Mannheim

Schwetzingen 0

Road map B5. 21,500. Dreikönigstr. 3 (06202-94 58 75). Schwetzinger Festspiele (May), Mozartkonzerte (Sept).

Schwetzingen's Baroque-Renaissance palace was built during the reign of the Electors Johann Wilhelm, Charles II Philip and Karl Theodor as their summer residence. Erected on the site of a medieval castle that was later converted into a hunting lodge, it is one of the best known palace complexes of

Heraldic insignia

from Bruchsal Palace

Baroque Schwetzingen Palace, set amid beautiful gardens

18th-century Europe. The conversion of the 16th-century hunting lodge was carried out by J A Breuning and the side wings were built by Alessandro Galli da Bibiena The magnificent Rococo theatre, designed by Nicolas de Pigage, was built in 1752, while the palace garden is the work of Johann Ludwig Petri, who designed it in the French style. The garden includes a mosaue with two minarets and a bathhouse. In 1776 Friedrich Ludwig von Sckell converted it into an English-style garden. Speyer to Bruchsal. He not only initiated the town's development but, most importantly, ordered a palace to be built for himself and his court. The foundation stone of

Schloss Bruchsal
was laid in 1720
and the building works were carried out by Maximilian von Welsch, who was responsible for the right wing, and Michael Rohrer, who built the left wing

between 1723 and 1728. The main body, preceded by a ceremonial courtyard, was designed by Baron Anselm von Grünstein. The central part of the palace is occupied by a magnificent staircase built by the great Balthasar Neumann, with stuccowork by Johann Michael Feuchtmayer and paintings by Johann and Januarius Zick. The palace suffered severe bomb damage in 1945, but its major part was reconstructed between 1952 and 1977.

St Peter's church was built in 1740–49 by Michael Rohrer to Balthasar Neumann's 1736 design. The church features magnificent Baroque tombs of Schönborn and his successor Cardinal Franz Christoph von Hutten. The palace garden was designed in the French style by Johann Scheer.

This former residence of prince-bishops now houses a section of the Karlsruhe Museum, which features the largest collection of Flemish and French tapestries in Germany. It is also home to the Deutsches Musik-automaten Museum, which includes 200 mechanical musical instruments. Short demonstrations are given on these throughout the day.

Schloss Bruchsal
Tel (07251) 74 26 61. 9:30am–
5pm Tue–Sun. Mourly.
 25, 31 Dec.
 Deutsches Musikautomaten
Museum 10am–5pm Tue–Sun.
 11am, 2pm, 3:30pm.
 Shrove Tuesday, 24, 25, 31 Dec.
 ■

Tue–Sun; Nov–Mar: 11am–2pm Fri, 1am–3pm Sat–Sun. ☑ obligatory, every hour. Garden ☑ Apr–Sep: 8am–8pm dailv: Oct & Mar: 9am–6pm dailv:

daily; Oct & Mar: 9am–6pm daily; Nov–Feb: 9am–5pm daily.

Bruchsal 8

Road map B6. (A) 40,000. (E) (1) Am Alten Schloss 2 (07251-505 94 60).

Bruchsal belonged to the Bishops of Speyer from 1056 until 1806, since when it has been part of Baden. The town rose to prominence in the 17th century, when the Prince-Bishop of Speyer, Damian Hugo von Schönborn moved his residence from

Central façade of the Baroque Schloss Bruchsal

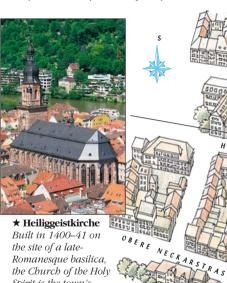

Street-by-Street: Heidelberg •

Situated on the banks of the river Neckar. Heidelberg is one of Germany's most beautiful towns. For centuries it was a centre of political power, with a lively and influential cultural life. In 1386, Germany's first university was established here by the Elector Ruprecht I. Building of the palace began during his reign, continuing until the mid-17th century. However, in the late-17th century. French incursions totally destroyed medieval Heidelberg, including the castle. The town was subsequently rebuilt in the early 18th-century in Baroque style.

Marktplatz

Now adorned with the Neptune Fountain, the market square was, in the past, the site of executions and the burning of witches and heretics.

the Church of the Holy Spirit is the town's oldest sanctuary.

0 metres 0 yards

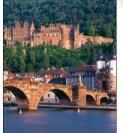

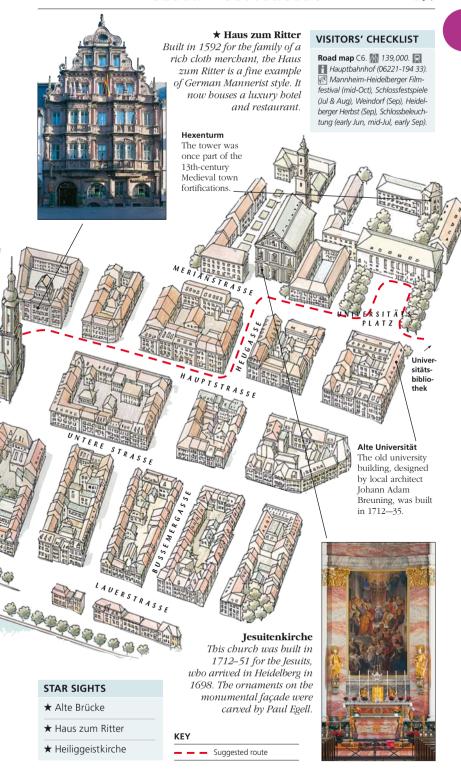

Philosophenweg

Built in 1817 on the slopes of Heiligenberg, at an altitude of 200 m (650 ft), the "Philosophers' Walk" offers magnificent views of Heidelberg and its castle.

HEILIGGEISTSTR

The bell tower, which was erected in the early 15th century, was remodelled frequently in subsequent years.

Heidelberg Castle

Detail from Ruprechtsbau

Towering over the town, the majestic castle is really a vast residential complex that was built and repeatedly extended between the 13th and 17th centuries. Originally a supremely well-fortified Gothic castle, but now mostly in ruins, this was the seat of the House of Wittelsbach palatines. After remodelling in the 16th century, the castle became one of Germany's most beautiful Renaissance residences. However, its splendour was extinguished by the Thirty Years' War and the 1689 war with France, during which most of the structure was destroyed.

★ Ottheinrichsbau

The Deutsches Apothekenmuseum is housed within the shell of this Renaissance building. It features Baroque and Rococo workshops and a travelling pharmacy.

★ Friedrichsbau

One of the latest parts of the castle is Friedrich's Palace, which dates from 1601–07. On the façade are statues of of the Wittelsbach dynasty, including Charles the Great.

Castle moat

Englischer Bau

These imposing ruins in the castle complex are the remains of a 17th-century building that Friedrich V built for his wife Elizabeth Stuart.

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Friedrichsbau
- ★ Ottheinrichsbau
- ★ Ruprechtsbau

For hotels and restaurants in this region see pp503-6 and pp542-5

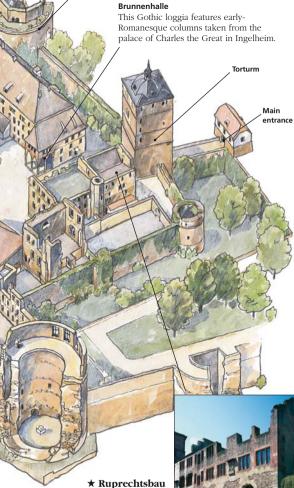

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Schlossberg. Tel (06221) 53 84 31.

8am-6pm daily. Großes Fass
8am-5:30pm daily. Www.
schloss-heidelberg.de Deutsches
Apothekenmuseum Tel (06221)
258 80. 10am-5:30pm. 31 Dec, 1 Jan. Www.
deutsches-apotheken-museum.de

Pulverturm

Built during the reign of the Elector Ruprecht, this 14thcentury tower once formed part of the castle defences.

Built around 1400 by a

Frankfurt, this is the oldest surviving part of the castle.

master builder from

Alte Universität

Grabengasse 1. Tel (06221) 54 21 52. Universitätsmuseum ☐ Apr-Sep: 10am-6pm Tue-Sur; Oct: 10am-4pm Tue-Sur; Nov-Mar: 10am-4pm Tue-Sat. ☐ Designed by Mainz architect Johann Adam Breuning, the university was built in 1712–35. On the north wall and ceiling are allegorical paintings by Ferdinand Keller. In front of the building is a fountain crowned by a sculpture in the form of the heraldic Palatinate lion

⊞ UniversitätsbibliothekPlöck 107–109 Tel (06221) 54 23

80. Ausstellungsraum

10am-7pm Mon-Sat.

The monumental building of the university library, designed by Joseph Durm of Karlsruhe, was erected in 1901–05 near the church of St Peter. The Heidelberg library, with over 2 million volumes, is one of the largest in Germany. The exhibition rooms hold many precious manuscripts and old prints, including the famous Codex Manesse, illustrated with 137 beautiful miniatures.

M Kurpfälzisches Museum Hauptstraße 97. Tel (06221) 58 34

020. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. The French Count Charles de Graimberg spent the bulk of his considerable fortune on building up an extensive collection of fine drawings. paintings, arms and various curios associated with the history of the Palatinate and the castle of Heidelberg. In 1879, his collection became the property of the town and forms the core of this very interesting museum, which also includes a fascinating archaeology section.

Heiliggeistkirche

Hauptstraße.

This collegiate church, whose Baroque dome is one of the city's landmarks, was built in 1400–41. The canons of the college were also university scholars and therefore the church aisle features special galleries for the extensive collections of library books – Bibliotheca Palatina. The choir features a tombstone of Ruprecht III and his wife, Elisabeth von Hohenzollern.

Karlsruhe @

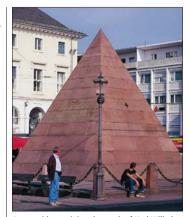

Road map B6. 269,000.

Bahnhofsplatz 6 (0721)
194 33; www.karlsruhe.de
Internationales Trachten-undFolklorefest (Jun).

Karlsruhe, which is one of the "youngest" towns in Germany, flourished during the 19th century as a centre for science and art. In 1945, it lost its status as a regional capital, but is now the seat of the Bundesverfassungsgericht – the highest courts of the Federal Republic.

The town originated in 1715 when the margrave of Baden. Karl Wilhelm von Baden-Durlach, ordered a lodge to be built in the middle of his favourite hunting grounds. Karl liked the area and the lodge so much that he decided to move his residence here and live the remainder of his days in peace - hence the town's name, meaning "Karl's rest". The original Baroque-style design was expanded during the reign of his successor, Karl Friedrich.

The palace, which forms the hub of 32 streets, was designed by Leopoldo Retti, Mauritio Pedetti. Balthasar Neumann, Philippe de la Gaupière and others, and built in 1749-81. The town is based on a fan-like plan. spreading from a base formed by the open-sided wings of the palace. The rest of the circle, whose centre is marked by the octagonal palace tower (1715), is filled with green areas, including the palace garden.

A pyramid containing the tomb of Karl Wilhelm von Baden-Durlach in Karlsruhe

In the early 19th century, the town was remodelled along Neo-Classical lines. The main architect of this large-scale project was Friedrich Weinbrenner, who created this masterpiece of urban design. The equilateral market square is positioned along the palace axis. It is filled with similar but not identical buildings and features a central pyramid containing Karl Wilhelm's tomb. South of Marktplatz is the circular Rondellplatz. Weinbrenner's other works include the monumental town hall (1811-25), the Protestant town church and the Catholic parish church of St Stephen.

Karlsruhe has some very interesting museums. The Badisches Landesmuseum in the castle features a large collection of antiquities, decorative arts, sculpture, porcelain and furniture, from the Middle Ages to the present day. In a Neo-Renaissance building (1843–46) is the Staatliche Kunsthalle, with its large collection of mainly German and Dutch paintings from the 16th–19th centuries. These include the famous Crucifixion by Grünewald (1523).

Entirely different in character are the collections of the Zentrum für Kunst und Medientechnologie (ZKM) – an establishment that has combined the role of art college and museum since 1997. It occupies a former ammunitions factory in the western part of the town. Its core is the Museum für Neue Kunst, featuring installations, computer art and videos and other work by contemporary artists. The Stadtmuseum im Prinz-Max-Palais, based in a mansion named after the last chancellor of the Kaiserreich, contains the local history museum.

Museum für Neue Kunst
Lorenzstraße 9. Tel (0721) 81 000.
 10am−6pm Wed−Fri, 11am−6pm
Sat−Sun.
 ✓

T Stadtmuseum im Prinz-Max-Palais

Karlstraße 10. Tel (0721) 1 33 42 31. 10am-6pm Tue, Fri & Sun, 10am-7pm Thu, 2-6pm Sat.

The Baroque residence of the Dukes of Baden in Karlsruhe

Baden-Baden 👊

Road map B6. 50,000.

Baden Airport (5 km/3 miles northwest of town).

Schwarzwaldstraße 52 & i-Punkt in der Trinkhalle (07221-27 52 00).

Known as the "summer capital of Europe", this elegant spa resort is one of the oldest towns in Germany and was once the favourite destination of European aristocracy from Russia to Portugal. Even before the Romans built their camp here around AD 80, the site was occupied by a Celtic settlement of the Latenian period.

In the early years of the modern era, Civitas Aurelia Aquensis – known simply as Aquae – was already known in Italy for the therapeutic properties of its waters. In the 3rd century AD, Aquae was conquered by the Germanic tribe of Alamains and in the 6th century AD by the Francs, who built a fortress in the town. The Margrave Hermann II, known as "Marchio de Baduon", was the first important ruler of Baden.

During the horrific Black Death, the qualities of the local waters were once again recognized as being beneficial to health. During the Palatinate War of Succession, Baden-Baden was almost totally destroyed but, by the end of the 18th century, it had became one of Europe's most fashionable

The old town of Baden-Baden lies at the foot of the Schlossberg (castle hill). The oldest surviving building in the town is the Gothic collegiate church, built during the 13th-15th centuries and then remodelled in the 18th century. It contains several valuable epitaphs. To the south of the church is the bathing hall - Friedrichsbad which was built in Neo-Renaissance style in 1877. Nearby stands the magnificent New Palace, which was the residence of margraves from the 15th century onwards. It was remodelled along German Renaissance lines in the 16th century by Kaspar Weinhart. The interiors are decorated with paintings by Tobias Stimmer.

Baden-Baden's casino, set in the elegant Kurhaus

Most of the spa buildings are the work of Friedrich Weinbrenner His elegant Kurhaus in Werderstraße has been used as a casino since 1838. The most famous gamester at the casino was Fyodor Dostoevsky, who was not always lucky at roulette. His novel The Gambler (1866) is supposedly set in Baden-Baden. Nearby is the Trinkhalle (pump room), with its mineral water fountains. Built in 1839-42, it is decorated with wall paintings illustrating Black Forest legends.

Rising behind the spa area is the last project completed by Leo von Klenze before his death – the Orthodox burial chapel of a Romanian aristocratic family, the Stourdza Mausoleum. In Schillerstraße is the villa built in 1867 for the Russian writer, Ivan Turgenev, who lived here until 1872.

Rrahmshaus

Maximilianstraße 85. Tel (07221) 7 11 72. ☐ 3-5pm Mon, Wed, Fri, 10am-1pm Sun. ☑ The exhibition displayed in this house is devoted to the life and works of the German composer Johannes Brahms who lived here from 1865 uppil 1874

♠ Kloster Lichtenthal

Hauntstraße 40

Tel (07221) 50 49 10. ☐ 3pm Tue-Sun. ☑ Group tours (minimum 7 persons), advance telephone booking required. ☐ every first Sun of the month. ☑ This Cistercian nuns' abbey, situated on the outskirts of town, has a church dating from the 14th–15th centuries. Its ducal chapel contains many epitaphs of the Baden margraves. The abbey also has an interesting museum.

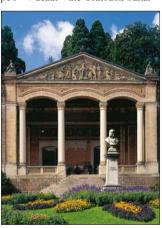

ff Staatliche Kunsthalle

Lichtentaler Allee 8a. Tel (07221) 300 763. ☐ 11am–6pm Tue–Sun, 11am–8pm Wed
The Staatliche Kunsthalle
Baden-Baden is an exhibition venue that specializes in modern and contemporary art.

Stadtmuseum

Lichtentaler Allee 10. Tel (07221) 93 22 72. ☐ 11am-6pm Tue-Sun, 11am-8pm Wed.

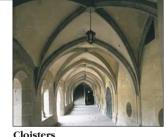

The Stadtmuseum includes sections on glass, porcelain and paintings, as well as some old gambling equipment.

The Neo-Renaissance Trinkhalle (pump room) in Baden-Baden

Maulbronn 6

Situated on the edge of the Stromberg region. Maulbronn grew up around a Cistercian monastery. which was founded in 1147 in the valley of the river Salzach by monks who came here from Alsace. The church, built in 1147-78, is an elongated, triple-nave basilica with a transept and a chancel. The early Gothic porch in front of the church was added in 1220. Outside the enclosure are domestic buildings, such as a former mill, a forge, a bakery and a guest house. Defence walls with turrets and a gate tower encircle the entire complex, which was designated a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1993.

Cloisters

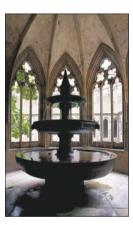

protection from bad weather.

Talking was strictly forbidden.

In the Middle Ages, monks meditated as they walked around the cloisters, which gave them ★ Brunnenkapelle Built opposite the entrance to the refectory. the Well Chapel, with its intricate Gothic forms, is where the monks used to wash their hands before meals. .

Inner Courtyard

Once a garden, the monastery's inner courtyard is surrounded by cloisters. It is a place that inspires contemplation.

STAR FEATURES

- ★ Brunnenkapelle
- ★ Chapter House
- ★ Mourning
- ★ Stalls

Cloisters

The Porch The porch, also known as "Paradise". was built onto the church façade in the early 13th century.

★ Chapter House

The monks assembled in this Gothic hall to discuss their private and public affairs. The hall has two naves, which are supported by three pillars.

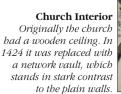

Road map C6. A 6,400.

Stadtverwaltung Maulbronn, Klosterhof 31 (07043-10 30).

www.maulbronn.de
Info-Zentrum Klosterhof.
Tel (07043) 92 66 10.

Mar-Oct: 9am-5:30pm daily; Nov-Feb: 9:30am-5pm Tue-Sun.

11:15am, 3pm.

* Stalls
Richly decorated with carved ornaments,
the late-Gothic stalls date
from around 1450.

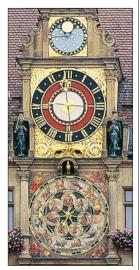

Heilbronn &

Road map C6. 🔉 119.000. 🖪 ₩ Kaiserstraße 17 (07131-56 22 70) of Pferdemarkt (Feb.) Neckarfest (Jun), Stadtfest (Jun), Heilbronner Herbst (Sep).

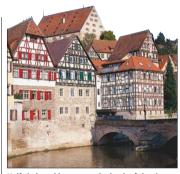

Heilbronn's earliest records date from the 8th century when the town was known as "Helibrunna" By the late 19th century, Heilbronn had become Wurttemberg's main industrial centre with a large port on the river Neckar.

Having suffered major destruction during World War II. the town's surviving buildings include the church of St Kilian a Gothic basilica from the second half of the 13th century, with a triple-nave hallchoir flanked by two towers. The western tower was built in 1508-29. The magnificent altarpiece is an original late-Gothic polyptych, the work of Hans Sevffer (1498).

Near the 15th-16th-century Rathaus (town hall) is a house reputed to have been the home of Käthchen, a character in Heinrich von Kleist's play Das Käthchen von Heilbronn Near the rebuilt church of St Peter and St Paul (originally the church of the Teutonic Order) stands the former Teutonic convent the Deutschhof.

Isaak Habrecht's astronomical clock on Heilbronn town hall

Half-timbered houses on the hank of the river Kachar in Schwähisch Hall

Schwäbisch Hall @

Road map C6. A 35,000. Am Markt 9 (0791-75 12 12) Kuchen-und Brunnenfest der Haller Salzsieder (Whitsun).

Archaeological excavations in 1939 proved the existence of a Celtic settlement on this site as early as 500 BC. The town features a great number of historic buildings from various periods. including many halftimbered 15th-16thcentury houses. Baroque town houses. and a Rococo town hall and town palace (Keckenburg). The most interesting building is the hall-Madonna with Child. church of St Michael. Schwäbisch Gmünd whose Gothic main body was built in 1427–56. The Romanesque tower on the western facade, however, dates from the 12th century. The late-Gothic hallchoir (1495-1527) is famous for its decorative network vaults. Original furnishings include the main altar, the stalls and the Holy Sepulchre.

Schwäbisch Gmünd 6

Road map C6. A 63.400. Marktplatz 37/1 (07171-60 34 250). M Internationales Schattentheater Festival (Jun), European Church Music (Jul).

This town – the birthplace of the architect Peter Parler and painters Hans Baldung Grien and Jörg Ratgeb – was once renowned throughout Europe for the magnificent goods produced by its goldsmiths It has many great historic buildings mainly churches, such as the late-Romanesque church of St John which dates from around 1220 but was subsequently remodelled. The church of St Cross is famous not only for being the first Gothic hall-church in southern Germany, but also the first major work of the famous family of architects – the Parlers This triple-nave hall with a hall-choir featuring an ambulatory and a ring of side chapels, was built in several stages, between 1320 and 1521. Its western facade has a high triangular top with blind windows

Inside the church are many valuable historic relics, such as the Holy Sepulchre (1400), the stalls. which date from around 1550, and the organ gallery

(1688), Other interesting structures in the town include the town fortifications and several halftimbered houses.

Bad Wimpfen 🚳

in Marktplatz.

Road map C6. 🤼 6,676. 🖪 📔 Carl-Ulrich-Straße 1 (07063-9 72 00). Talmarkt (Jun/Jul), Zunftmarkt (Aug), Weihnachtsmarkt (Dec).

The town of Bad Wimpfen was created out of two settlements, Bad Wimpfen am Berg and Bad Wimpfen im Tal, which remain distinct to this day. The settlement on top of the hill grew around the Hohenstauf family palace, whose chapel and wellpreserved arcade windows, resting on pairs of decorated columns, can still be seen.

Built at the order of Frederick I Barbarossa in 1165–75, this was the main and the biggest imperial palace (Kaiserpfalz) of the Holy Roman Empire. One of the surviving towers offers a spectacular view over the Neckar valley.

Set in a picturesque location, Bad Wimpfen features many half-timbered houses dating from the 16th–18th centuries.

Bad Wimpfen im Tal is built around the former collegiate church of St Peter and St Paul This is a triple-nave basilica with transept, two eastern towers and cloister, dating from the 13th-15th centuries. The south facade of the transept and the portal are richly decorated with carvings, which are probably the work of Erwin von Steinbach, one of the builders of Strasbourg Cathedral The church interior features many original carved statues and stalls.

Marbach @

Road map C6. (A) 1,450. (E) Marktstraße 23 (07144-10 23 75).

This small town would probably never merit an entry in any guidebook were it not for the fact that the great writer Friedrich Schiller was born here in 1759. The modest, half-timbered house, in which the famous poet spent his childhood, has survived to this day and is now a small museum – the Schiller-Geburtshaus. The town also possesses a vast museum of literature (Schiller-Nationalmuseum), which is housed in a Neo-Baroque palace. Its collection is not limited to the life and work of Schiller, but also includes many documents relating to German literature.

Other attractions in Marbach include some of the original half-timbered houses and the remains of the town walls and town gates in the old town The late-Gothic Alexanderkirche is also worth a visit. Built in the second half of the 12th century by Aberlin Jörg, it features interesting network vaulting covered with ornamental paintings.

Friedrich Schiller statue in Marbach

ntings

Esslingen ®

Road map C6. 1 92,000. 1 Marktplatz 2 (0711-39 69 39 69).

Set among vineyards on the banks of the river Neckar, the beautiful town of Esslingen is famous for its sparkling wines. The town's historic buildings were fortunate in surviving intact the ravages of World War II. A walk through the winding streets and narrow alleys of the old centre will yield many interesting sights, while a climb to the top of the hill affords a splendid view of the town and the Neckar valley as well as the amazing Innere Brücke. a 14th-century bridge. From there visitors can descend towards the market square, stopping on the way to visit Frauenkirche, a Gothic hall-church dating from the 14th century. Its front tower, the work of Ulrich and Matthäus von Ensingen, was added later In the > market square is the Stadtkirche St Dionysius, the oldest church in town built in the 13th century on the site of an earlier. 8th-century building. Inside are magnificent early-Gothic stained-glass windows and late-15th-century Gothic furnishings, including the choir partition, the sacrarium and the font. The nearby church of St. Paul built in the mid-13th century for the Dominicans, is the oldest surviving Dominican church in Germany. In neighbouring Rathausplatz stands the half-timbered old town hall. Altes Rathaus, with its beautiful Renaissance facade, and the Baroque new town hall. Designed as a palace for Gottlieb von Palm by Gottlieb David Kandlers, the Neues Rathaus was built between 1748 and 1751.

The picturesque houses and chapel of Esslingen's 14th-century Innere Brücke

Ludwigsburg •

Palace cre

Situated near Stuttgart and known as the "Versailles of Swabia", Ludwigsburg was founded in 1704 on the initiative of Eberhard Ludwig, Duke of Wurttemberg. At the heart of the town is the vast palace complex, which the Duke ordered to be built for his mistress, Countess Wilhelmina von Graevenitz. The construction of the palace, which was carried out between 1704 and 1733, involved many outstanding architects and interior decorators, including Philipp Jenisch, Johann Nette, Donato Frisoni and Diego Carlone.

Northern Garden
This magnificent Baroque park is the venue for a flower show "Blooming Baroque") that is held here during the summer.

★ Western Gallery The gallery features opulent stucco ornaments by Ricardo Retti and Diego
Carlone (1712–15).

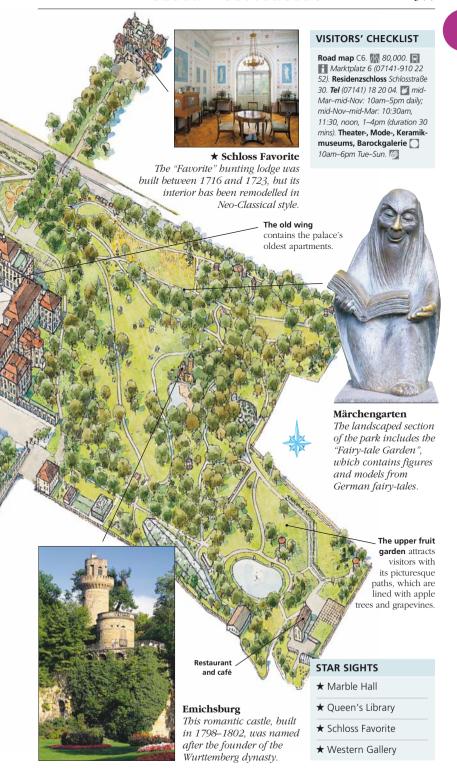

★ Marble Hall
This vast ball in the new wing of the palace was remodelled in 1816, but still retains some of its Baroque interior decor.

★ Queen's Library
The library is housed in the east wing of the palace, in the apartments arranged for Oueen Charlotte Matbilde.

wing of the palace houses a museum devoted to court art of the Neo-Classical period.

For hotels and restaurants in this region see pp503-6 and pp542-5

Stuttgart o

The capital of Baden-Wurttemberg, Stuttgart is one of the largest and most important towns of the Federal Republic. It grew from a 10th-century stud farm, known as Stutengarten, to become the ducal (1321) and later the royal (1806) capital of Wurttemberg. Beautifully situated among picturesque hills, the town is a major industrial centre with many important manufacturing plants. It is also a well-known publishing and cultural centre, with a world-famous ballet company, chamber orchestra and splendid art collections.

Exploring Stuttgart

Start your tour of Stuttgart at Schlossplatz, continuing along Königstraße towards the Palace Gardens, with their many interesting buildings. and stopping to pay a visit to the Staatsgalerie, whose extension was designed by the British architect James Stirling. From there you can return via Konrad-Adenauer-Strasse, heading towards Karlsplatz, then to Schillerplatz and Marktplatz with its magnificent town hall, finally ending the walk at Hegelhaus museum.

Schlossplatz

At the centre of the square stands the Jubiläumssäule – a column erected in 1842–46 to celebrate the 25-year reign of Wilhelm I. The square also features sculptures by many famous artists, including Alexander Calder and Alfred Hrdlicka. The east side of the square features a huge palace complex, Neues Schloss, built in 1746–1807, while on the opposite side stands Königsbau, a Neo-Classical structure erected in 1856–60.

Neo-Classical façade of Stuttgart's Staatstheater

Kunstmuseum Stuttgart

Kleiner Schlossplatz 1. Tel (0711) 216 21 88. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. 10am-9pm Wed & Fri. www. kunstmuseum-stuttgart.de # 11 The spectacular glass cube of the Kunstmuseum Stuttgart was designed by the Berlin architects Hascher & Jehle. It houses the Municipal Art Collection, which includes works by such artists as Adolf Hölzel, Joseph Kosuth, Dieter Krieg, Dieter Roth, the Swabian Impressionists and has an outstanding collection of Otto Dix's work.

Schlossgarten

The magnificent gardens stretching north of the Neues

Schloss were established in the early 19th century. They have maintained, to this day, much of their original charm, with neat avenues and interesting sculptures. The attractions include the Carl-Zeiss-Planetarium, which runs an excellent science programme, using equipment made by the famous optics company.

On the edge of the park stands a vast Neo-Classical theatre building, the Württembergisches Staatstheater, built in 1909–12 by Max Littmann. In 1982–3 it was given a new, dome-covered wing, the Theaterpavilion, designed by Gottfried Böhm.

★ Altes Schloss Württembergisches Landes-

museum Schillerplatz 6 Tel (0 711) 27 93 498. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. 🐼 When Wurttemberg castle burned down in 1311, it was decided to move the family seat to Stuttgart. In 1325, the existing small castle was extended, creating Dütnitzbau. This wing has survived and can be seen from Karlsplatz. A large-scale Renaissance remodelling project, designed by Aberlin Tresch and carried out in 1553-78, gave the castle its square layout, with three-storey arcaded cloisters encircling the inner courtyard. The southwestern wing contains the Schlosskapelle (chapel), the first sacral building in Stuttgart built especially for the Protestants. The castle now houses the Württembergisches Landesmuseum,

The façade of Stuttgart's Neues Schloss, combining Baroque and Neo-Classical elements

Cloistered courtyard of the Renaissance Altes Schloss which includes vast collections of decorative art, including those displaying the ducal and royal insignia of Wurttemberg. The prehistory section includes jewellery from the Frankish period and the preserved tomb of a Celtic nobleman from Hochdorf.

Schillerplatz

This is undoubtedly one of Stuttgart's most beautiful areas. It is here that the stud farm that gave Stuttgart its name is said to have stood. Today, a pensive statue of Friedrich Schiller, the work of the Danish sculptor Bertel Thorwaldsen (1839), occupies the centre of the square.

Schillerplatz is surrounded by historic buildings: the Old Chancellery, built in 1542–44 and extended upwards in 1566.

now houses a restaurant, the Prinzenbau (1605–78), and the Stiftsfruchtkasten, an attractive gabled granary (1578), now home to a museum of musical instruments.

♠ Stiftskirche (Hl. Kreuz)

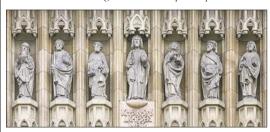

Stiftstraße 12 From the south side of Schillerplatz there is a view of the presbytery of the collegiate church of the Holy Cross. This Gothic church the work of Hänslin and Aberlin Jörg was built in the 15th century and incorporated the walls of the previous, early-Gothic church. Despite World War II damage, this newly renovated church still has the original stone gallery of the dukes of Wurttemberg, built in 1576–84 by Simon Schlör to a design by Johann Steiner, as well as Gothic furnishings

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

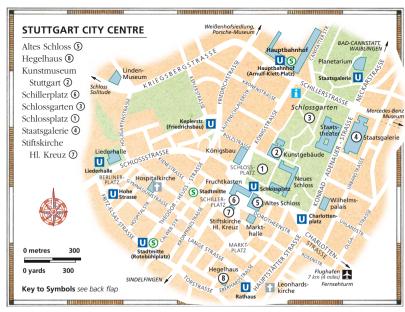

Road map C6. M 586,000. South of town. M Fishing-straße 1A (0711-22 28 240). M Frühlingsfest (Apr/May), Stuttgarter Weindorf (Aug/Sep, Oct/Nov), Fellbacher Herbst (Oct), Weihnachtsmarkt (Dec).

₩ Hegelhaus

Eberhardstraße 53. Tel (0711) 216 67 33. 10am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 10am-6:30pm Thu, 10am-4pm Sat. Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel – the creator of one of the most important modern philosophical systems – was born in this house on 27 August 1770. The house is now a museum, which houses an exhibition devoted to the life and work of the famous philosopher.

Figures of saints adorning the façade of the Stiftskirche

ft Linden-Museum/ Staatl Museum für Völkerkunde

Hegelplatz 1. Tel (0711) 2 02 23. 10am-5pm Tue. Thu-Sun 10am-8pm Wed.

The Linden Museum is one of Germany's finest ethnology museums. It was founded by Count Karl von Linden who was also its director from 1889 until 1910. The museum contains many fascinating exhibits from all over the world including figures from the Indonesian theatre of shadows a Tibetan sand mandala, a 6th-8thcentury mask from Peru in South America and a full-size reproduction of an Islamic bazaar.

5pm Sun.

Weißenhofsiedlung

Corbusier, Rathenaustr, 1-3 Tel (0711) 2 57 91 87. 11am-6pm

Weissenhofmuseum im Haus Le

Tue-Wed & Fri-Sun, 11am-8pm Thu.

Architektur-Galerie Tel (0711) 257

14 34. 2-6pm Tue-Sat. noon-

A building exhibition held in 1927 in Stuttgart had housing exists today, although it was badly bombed during World which was being promoted at the time by the Bauhaus. The estate, which was to serve as an example to others, has some interesting houses,

War II. Most of the houses represent functionalism.

as its main theme. It left behind an estate that still including works by Mies van der Rohe (Am Weißenhof 14-29). Le Corbusier (Rathenaustraße 1-3). Peter Behrens (Hölzelweg 3-5) and Hans Scharoun (Hölzelweg 1)

□ Liederhalle

Rerliner Platz 1

A must for all lovers of modern architecture Liederhalle in the centre of Stuttgart, is a successful synthesis of tradition and modernism. Built in 1955-56 by Adolf Abel and fine cultural and congress centre, with three concert halls

III Mercedes-Benz-Museum

Mercedesstraße 137. Tel (0711) 173 00 00. 9am-6pm Tue-Sun. public holidavs.

To the east of the town centre. in the Obertürkheim district is the famous Mercedes-Benz-Museum. Its splendid collection illustrates the development of motorcar production, from the earliest models to today's state-of-the-art, computerized products. Set up to celebrate the centenary of their inventions, the museum features over 70 historic vehicles, all in immaculate condition. The collection includes the world's two oldest automobiles, Gottlieb Daimler's horseless carriage and Carl Benz's three-

Some of the models on display in the Mercedes-Renz-Museum wheeled automobile from 1886. Also on display is a hand-made limousine that was built in the 1930s for the Emperor of Japan and the first "Popemobile", which was built for Pope Paul VI.

Another interesting exhibit is the famous 1950s racing car. Silbertfeil (Silver Arrow). as well as models that were built for attempts on world speed records. Also on display are scores of the latest models that have been produced by the company.

The visitor can also learn the history of Daimler-Benz AG, which was created by the merger in 1926 of Daimler-Motoren-Gesellschaft and Benz & Cie., Rhein. The company's subsequent 1999 merger with Chrysler created one of the world's largest car manufacturing concerns. DaimlerChrysler.

Fernsehturm

9am-10pm daily. Built between 1954 and 1956 this television tower was the world's first to be built entirely from ferro-concrete. It is 217 m (712 ft) high and stands on top of a wooded hill, Hoher Bopser. Its observation platform provides splendid views over Schwäbische Alb, Schwarzwald and, on a clear day, even the Alps.

n Porsche-Museum

Porschestr. 42. Tel (0711) 9 11 25 685. 9am-4pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat, Sun, public holidays. Stuttgart's other famous car manufacturer also has its own museum, which includes

House designed by Le Corbusier in Weißenhofsiedlung around 50 examples of these fast and expensive vehicles, some of which are built to order. The history of the company is documented in a film shown in the museum's cinema. Free guided tours of the factory production lines are available. These are very popular and it is advisable to book well in advance.

Markthalle

Dorotheenstraße 4. 7am-6pm Mon-Fri, 7am-4pm Sat. Stuttgart's market hall, built in 1912–14 in Art Nouveau style on the site of an earlier vegetable market, is one of the finest in Europe. Built as a food exchange, it has magnificent frescos. Today it still sells fresh fruit and vegetables to the general public, and it now also houses a small restaurant and café.

★ Schloss Solitude

Solitude 1. Tel (0711) 69 66 99.

Apr-Oct: 9am-noon, 1:30-5pm
Tue-Sun; Nov-Mar: 10am-noon,
1:30-4pm Tue-Sun obligatory.

agarden free.

This exquisite small palace, standing on the slopes of a hill, was built for Prince Karl Eugene in 1763–67. The Prince not only commissioned the residence, but also took an active part in its design, which is the work of Pierre Louis Philippe de la Guêpière, who introduced the Louis XVI-style to Germany. Many consider this palace to be his masterpiece.

Following its full restoration in 1990, and the provision of 45 residential studio apartments, the palace now serves art students on scholarships from all over the world. A 15-km (9-mile) long, straight road connects Schloss Solitude with Ludwigsburg.

JOHANNES KEPLER (1571-1630)

This outstanding astronomer and mathematician was born in Weil der Stadt. He studied theology in Tübingen, where he encountered the work of Nicolaus Copernicus, becoming a fervent advocate of his theory. Forced to flee in 1600, Kepler went to Prague where he worked with Tycho Brahe. Many years of research led him to formulate three laws of planetary motion. Kepler is also the inventor of the twin-lens telescope.

Rad Cannstatt

Once an independent health resort. Bad Cannstatt is now a district of Stuttgart. Set in a beautiful park, it has a late-Gothic parish hall-church, a Neo-Classical town hall and a Kursaal (spa-house), built in 1825–42. One of its attractions is the Neo-Classical Schloss Rosenstein, built in 1824-29 at the request of King Wilhelm I. based on amended designs by John Papworth. The King was also the initiator of the beautiful "Wilhelm's complex". This includes a Moorish-style villa located in a symmetrically laid-out park, with many Oriental-style pavilions and other decorative elements Completed in the 1840s, its main designer was Karl Ludwig Wilhelm von Zanth. The park has now been transformed into a botanicalzoological garden.

Environs

Stuttgart provides a convenient base for exploring the surroundings. In Sindelfingen, 15 km (9 miles) southwest, it is worth visiting the Romanesque Church of St Martin Canons, which was founded in 1083. While you are there, take a stroll along Lange Straße to the old town hall, which dates from 1478 and is joined with the Salt House (1592). The two buildings, both half-timbered in their upper sections, now house the town museum.

A little further to the west. Weil der Stadt is the birthplace of the astronomer Johannes Kepler and the reformer Johannes Brenz. The town's late-Gothic church of St Peter and St Paul was completed in 1492 by Aberlin lörg. Inside is a beautiful Renaissance sacrarium, dating from 1611. The Marktplatz. with a statue of Kepler at its centre, has a Renaissance town hall (1582). Nearby, at Keplergasse 2, stands the house in which the famous astronomer was born and which now houses a small museum, the Kepler-Museum.

Another place worthy of a visit is Waiblingen, 10 km (6 miles) to the northeast of Stuttgart. It features a Romanesque church, the vaults of which are decorated with some splendid wall paintings dating from 1515.

Staatsgalerie

The Staatsgalerie grew from the museum of fine arts founded in 1843 by King Wilhelm I and containing the king's private collection. Now it ranks among the finest of German galleries. As well as its own magnificent collection of old masters and modern artists, the gallery has an extensive collection of graphics. In 1984 the art gallery acquired an extension designed by James Stirling.

Bathsheba at her Toilet (c.1485) In this painting, which is a fragment of a lost triptych illustrating Justice, Hans Memling uses the Old Testament story of Bathsheba to exemplify the abuse of power, intervention by God and the reformation of a sinner.

★ The Mourning of Christ (c.1490) This subtle depiction of Christ is the work of the Venetian artist Giovanni Bellini.

★ St Paul in Prison (1627) In this, one of bis earliest works, Rembrandt depicted the Apostle Paul awaiting death in a humble cell.

Entrance to Alte Staatsgalerie

Crossing of the Rhine near Rhenen (1642)
The Dutch painter Jan van Goyen became famous for his evocative landscapes, which were often executed in uniform tones of leadgrey or brown-green.

KEY

Italian painting

ŃΑ

German painting

Dutch painting

19th-century painting

Entrance

to Neue Staatsgalerie 20th-century painting Sculpture Garden

Graphic arts

Temporary exhibitions

Non-exhibition rooms

STAR EXHIBITS

★ Iphigenie

★ St Paul in Prison

★ The Mourning of Christ

★ Iphigenie (1871)

Anselm Feuerbach's painting was inspired by a play by Goethe. Iphigenie on Tauris.

GALLERY GUIDE

Permanent exhibitions are located over the first floor of the two buildings. In the Alte Staatsgalerie are works by the old masters and from the 19th-century. The Neue Staatsgalerie holds 20th-century art. The ground floors are currently closed until 2007.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Konrad-Adenauer-Straße 30–32. Tel (0711) 47 04 00.

10am–6pm Tue, Wed,
Fri–Sun, 10am–9pm Thu. (Wed free). www.staatsgalerie.de

Spring Fields (1887)

One of the leading members of the French Impressionist movement, Claude Monet was unsurpassed in his rendition of iridescent light.

Mother and Child (1905)

This painting by Pablo Picasso represents his "pink period", which preceded the famous Cubist experiments of this great Spanish artist.

portraits and female nudes.

Ground floor

First

floor

Schwäbische Alb a

The mountain range of Schwäbische Alb (the Swabian Jura) extends like an arc. 220 km (137 miles) long and 40 km (25 miles) wide. from the Upper Rhine around Schaffhausen. in Switzerland to Nördlinger Ries at the border between the federal counties of Baden-Wurttemberg and Bavaria. The highest peak in the range is Lemberg (1.015 m/3.330 ft). Beech woods and scented juniper shrubs dominate the mellow landscape, whose whole system of interconnected stalagmitic caves was carved from the sedimentary limestone rocks.

On the outskirts of Hechingen, the remains of a 1st-3rd-century AD Roman villa are open to the public.

Herrenberg

Böblingen

Tübingen

Mössingen

Albstadt

Hechingen Burg Hohenzollern Burladingen

Haigerloch In the vaults of this castle is a vast bunker that was used as an atomic research laboratory towards the end of World War II

★ Burg Hohenzollern The ancestral seat of the Hobenzollern family was remodelled in 1850-67. Only the 15th-century St Michaelkapelle survives from the original fortress.

★ Beuron

Beuron's magnificent Benedictine Abbey was founded in the 11th century. Its subsequent remodelling resulted in a Baroque structure, which survives to this day.

STAR SIGHTS

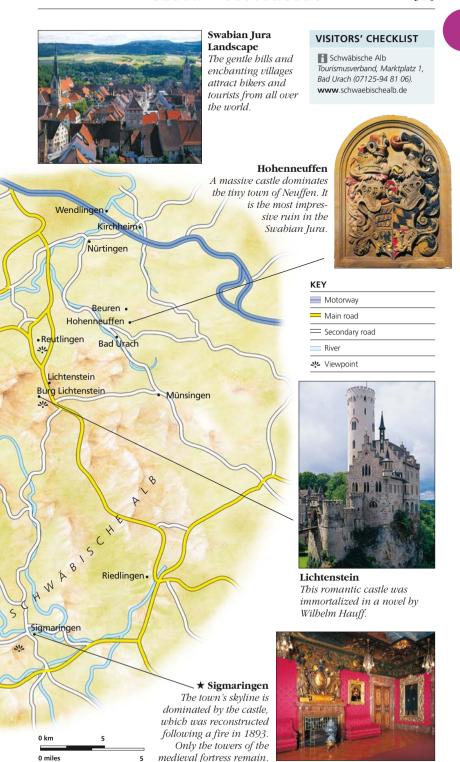

- ★ Burg Hohenzollern
- ★ Sigmaringen
- ★ Beuron

Haigerlock

Balingen

Tübingen @

Along with Heidelberg and Freiburg im Breisgau, Tübingen is the home of one of southern Germany's three most famous universities. It was founded in 1477 by

The first records of the fortress that later gave rise to a settlement on this site date from 1078. By around 1231, the settlement had become a town. In 1342, Tübingen passed into the hands of the counts of Wurttemberg, having previously belonged to the counts Palatinate.

Schloss Hohentübingen, which towers over the town, has a magnificent gateway (Unteres Tor). Built in 1606, it is richly adorned with the coat of arms of the House of Wurttemberg. The walled castle complex, with its central courtyard and long approach, was built in stages during 1507–15, 1534–42 and 1606.

A walk along the Burgsteige will bring you to the picturesque old town. Here, at the centre of Marktplatz, is the Neptune Fountain, the work of Heinrich Schickhard, dating from 1617. In the western corner of the square is a lovely Renaissance town hall,

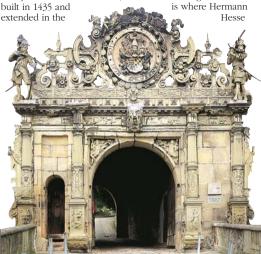

Tübingen's Gothic-Renaissance town hall

16th century. It features an astronomical clock, which dates from 1511. Sgraffiti on the western façade dates from 1876; those on the elevations facing Haaggasse date from the 16th century.

The collegiate church of St George (Stiftskirche St Georg), built in 1440–1529, is a triple-nave hall with rows of side chapels, galleries and a single tower. Of particular note are the ducal tombs, the late-Gothic reading-room and the stained-glass windows of the choir, dating from 1475. Magnificent stalls, adorned with carved figures of the Prophets, date from the late 15th century.

The bookstore in Holzmarkt (Buchhandlung Heckenhauer)

Unteres Tor leading to Schloss Hohentübingen

once served as an apprentice bookseller. On the banks of the Neckar stands the Hölderlinturm in which the German poet Hölderlin lived from 1807 until his death. Not far from here stands the large building of the Alte Burse which was built in 1478-80 and later remodelled in 1803-1805. The building was once used to accommodate students and as a lecture hall Martin Luther's close associate, Philipp Melanchthon, lectured here between 1514 and 1518.

The Protestant seminary in Neckarhalde was founded by Prince Ulrich in 1536. Its graduates include the poets Hölderlin, Mörike and Schiller and the philospohers Hegel and Schelling.

The Kunsthalle is famous throughout Germany not only for its temporary exhibitions, but also for its fine collection of modern art. Other popular attractions in Tübingen include the Stadtmuseum, which is devoted to the town's history, and the Auto-und Spielzeug-museum.

Museum Schloss Hohentübingen

Burgsteige 11. Tel (07071) 297 73 84. May-Sep: 10am-6pm Wed-Sun, Oct-Apr: 10am-5pm Wed-Sun.

Stiftskirche St Georg Tel (07071) 525 83. Apr-Sep:

9am–5pm daily, Oct–Mar:
9am–4pm daily.

Hölderlinturm

Bursagasse 6. Tel (07071) 220 40. 10am–noon, 3–5pm Tue–Fri, 2–5pm Sat, Sun, public holidays.

M Kunsthalle

Philosophenweg 76. Tel (07071) 969 10. 11am–6pm Wed–Sun, 11am–7pm Tue (during exhibitions).

11 Statdtmuseum

Kornhausstraße 10. Tel (07071) 204 17 11 or 94 54 60. 11am–5pm Tue–Sun.

Auto- und Spielzeugmuseum

Brunnenstraße 18. Tel (07071) 55 11 22. Apr-Oct: 10am-noon, 2-5pm Wed-Sun; Nov-Mar: 10am-5pm Sun and public holidays only. [27]

Rottweil @

Road map C7. M 24,000. R Hauptstraße 21–23 (0741-49 42 80). S Fasnet (last Mon of Carnival), Jazzfest (May), Klassikfestival (Jun), Ferienzauber (Aug).

Situated on the banks of the river Neckar Rottweil is one of the oldest towns in Baden-Wurttemberg. It grew from a Roman settlement that was established on a hilltop here in AD 73. In 1234 Rottweil was granted town status and. by 1401, it had become a free town of the Holy Roman Empire. Between 1463 and 1802 it belonged to the Swiss Confederation, which was founded in 1291 by the cantons of Uri. Schwyz and Unterwalden In 1802 the town passed into the rule of the dukes of Wurttemberg.

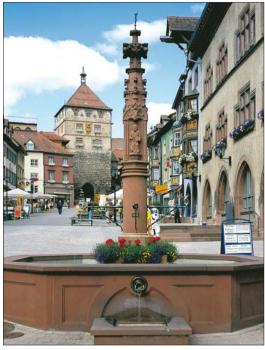

Rottweil has many historic remains, including sections of the fortified city walls, with several well-preserved turrets.

The parish church of St Cross (Heilig-Kreuz-Münster), built in 1230–1534, has a triple-nave basilica with stellar and network vaults. Late-Gothic altars, including St Bartholomew's, by Michael Wolgemut and a cruciffx attributed to Veit Stoss, are among its features.

To the south of the church stands the late-Gothic town hall (1521). On the opposite side of the street, at Haupt-straße 20, the Stadtmuseum has an outstanding collection

Crucifixion attributed to Veit Stoss in Heilig-Kreuz-Münster, Rottweil

Fountain and "Black Gate" in Rottweil's main street, Hauptstraße of prehistoric remains. The Dominikanermuseum has an interesting exhibition of Roman relics. These include the famous Orpheus mosaic, dating from the 2nd century AD, and an outstanding collection of late-Gothic sculpture, including the statue of St Barbara by Multscher (c.1450).

The Hauptstraße is lined with burghers' houses, displaying characteristic oriel windows. One of the most beautiful historic buildings in Rottweil is the Kapellenkirche, built in 1330-1478. Its 70-metre (230ft) tower and three portals are adorned with carved ornaments reminiscent of the French Gothic style. The Baroque interior features frescos by Josef Fiertmayer, who was a pupil of renowned painter and architect Cosmas Damian Asam. The Gothic Dominican church, built in 1266-82 and remodelled in the 18th century, has some frescos by Joseph Wannenmacher (1755). Roman baths dating from the 2nd century AD have been excavated at the corner of what is now the cemetery.

Rottweil is famous for its carnival processions (Fasnet), a tradition that goes back to the Middle Ages. A collection of carnival costumes can be seen in the Stadtmuseum.

The Puppen- und Spielzeugmuseum has a fine collection of historic dolls and toys which is perfect for keeping the children entertained.

Kapellenturm, Rottweil

M Stadtmuseum

Hauptstraße 20. Tel (0741) 494 330. 10am-noon, Tue-Sun.

Dominikanermuseum

Am Kriegsdamm. Tel (0741) 49 43 30. 2–5pm Tue–Sun. public holidays.

Tel (0741) 942 21 77.

☐ 10am—12:30pm, 2pm—5:30pm Wed—Fri, 2pm—5pm Sat, 11am—5pm Sun. ☑

Ulm 🚳

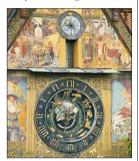

Road map B6. 115,000.

Lying on the river Danube, Ulm dates back to 854. It became a town in 1165 then, in 1274, a free town of the Holy Roman Empire. During the 15th century Ulm was one of the richest towns in Europe but the Thirty Years' War put an end to its rapid development. In 1810 Ulm came under the rule of the Wurttemberg kings. The town is renowned as the birthplace of Albert Einstein. During World War II, most of the old town was destroyed during bombing raids

The Münster is a true masterpiece of European Gothic architecture. A vast, five-nave basilica, its 161-m (530-ft) high west tower is the highest church tower in the world. The cathedral's construction, from 1377 until 1545.

was overseen by the greatest builders of the German Gothic – Heinrich and Michael Parler, Urlich von Ensingen, Hans Kun and Matthäus Böblinger. The unfinished cathedral was extended in 1844–90, based on the original medieval design. The interior contains many outstanding features,

Astronomical clock on Ulm's Gothic-Renaissance town hall including the altar by Hans Multscher (1443), the famous stalls with figures of philosophers, poets, prophets and apostles carved by Jörg Syrlin the Elder, 15th-century stainedglass windows, and the font, by Jörg Syrlin the Younger.

The town has many fine historic buildings, including the Gothic-Renaissance town hall, which is decorated with brightly coloured frescos and features an astronomical clock. Other features of Marktplatz include the Gothic fountain Fischkasten (Fish Crate), dating from 1482, and the Reichenauer Hof, which dates from 1370–1535.

The Ulmer Museum, which is housed in a number of historic 16th- and 17th-century buildings, has a collection of art spanning a period from the Middle Ages to the present day.
The collection includes the work of local artists.

such as Hans

Multscher. The Deutsches Brotmuseum specializes in artifacts related to bread and bread-making, including items depicting bread in art and graphic designs.

Gothic font in Ulm

Cathedral

11am-5pm Tue-Sun, 11am-8pm Thu (during exhibitions). 133 111 Museum der Brotkultur

III Museum der Brotkultur Salzstadelgasse 10. Tel (0731) 699 55. ☐ 10am–5pm Tue, Thu–Mon, 10am–8:30pm Wed.

Ravensburg 🛭

Road map C7. A 45,000. A 5,000. Kirchstraße 16 (0751-823 24). Fasnet (Feb), Rutenfest (Jul).

The first historic records of the "Ravespurc" fortress date from 1088, when it was one of the seats of the Welf family. It is believed to be the birthplace of Henry the Lion, the powerful Duke of Saxony and Bavaria, born in 1129. The settlement that sprang up at the foot of the castle was granted town status in 1251. From 1395, paper was produced here and, during the 15th century, the town became one of the richest in Germany from its involvement in the linen trade.

Main altar by Hans Multscher in Ravensburg's Liebfrauenkirche

Standing in Kirchstraße is the 14th-century parish church of Liebfrauenkirche, which retains original 15th-century features, including the main altar and some fine stainedglass windows.

In Marienplatz stands the late-Gothic town hall (14th-15th century), with its lovely Renaissance bay window. Also in Marienplatz is the Waaghaus (1498), which housed the weigh-house and mint on the ground floor, with a trading hall upstairs, when Ravensburg was engaged in coin production. The watchtower (Blaserturm) is crowned by a Renaissance octagon that has become the symbol of the town. Another attractive building here is the Lederhaus, which dates from 1513-14. Near the town hall is the old 14th-15th century granary (Kornhaus).

Marktstraße features many old burgher houses. No. 59, the oldest house in town, dates from 1179. The neighbouring house was built in 1446. The tall white cylindrical tower that can be seen from here is known as the "sack of flour" (Mehsack). It was erected in the 16th century. A magnificent view of the town can be obtained from Veitsburg, which occupies the site of the original Welf castle.

Former Cistercian abbey complex in Salem, now a secular building

Weingarten @

Road map C7. A 22,500. A Wünsterplatz 1 (0751-40 51 25). Blutritt (day after Ascension).

Count Henry of the House of Welf founded a Benedictine abbey in Weingarten in 1056. During the Romanesque period, around 1190, the monks of the abbey produced a chronicle of the House of Welfs, known as the Welfenchronik.

Ambitious plans, drawn up in the 18th century at the initiative of Abbot Sebastian Hyller, provided for an extension of the abbey and the construction of another vast complex of buildings. Two side courtvards and four external courtyards, encircled with curved galleries with smaller pavilions, were planned to be grouped around the church. These were designed by Casper Moosbrugger, Franz Beer, Enrico Zucalli and others. and built in 1715-24.

The church is reminiscent of the Basilica of St Peter's in Rome. Although it is half the size of the latter, it is nevertheless an immense structure Inside are some magnificent ceiling frescos by Cosmas Damian Asam, while the carved and inlaid choir stalls are the work of Joseph Anton Feuchtmayer. Also of note is the organ by Josef Gabler. In an ingenious design, the organ pipes are concealed within a series of towers to avoid obscuring the windows of the facade.

The Alamannenmuseum has a fascinating exhibition of relicts that have been found in graves dating from the Merovingian period.

⚠ Alamannenmuseum

Karlstr. 28. Tel (0751) 405 125.

☐ 3–5pm Tue–Sun, 3–6pm Thu. 🌠

Salem @

Road map C7. 🚯 8,500.

The first Cistercian monks arrived in Salmansweiler (now known as Salem) in 1134. Between 1299 and 1414 they built a church according to the rules of their order, which espoused poverty and banned any decoration of the monastic buildings.

The abbey is a triple-nave basilica with transept and straight-end choir. Its austere façade is relieved by blind windows, some of which have attractive traceries. In later years the restraints of poverty were relaxed to the extent that the abbey now has an interesting tabernacle (1500), stalls (1594) and early-Renaissance altars (dating from the 18th century).

The new abbey buildings were built between 1700 and 1710 and constitute Schloss Salem. The buildings include some richly decorated abbot's apartments and the extremely impressive Emperor's room (Kaisersaal), which was built between 1708 and 1710.

Since its secularization in 1802, the abbey has been the private property of the Baden margraves who keep some of their art collection here. The west wing houses a private boarding school founded by Kurt Hahn, who also founded Gordonstoun in Scotland.

Ceiling fresco in Weingarten's abbey

The Bodensee @

Sometimes known as Lake Constance, the Bodensee lies on the border of Germany, Switzerland and Austria. The area surrounding the lake is one of the most attractive in Germany, in terms of both natural beauty and cultural heritage. Towns and villages around the shores feature countless reminders of past times and cultures. The best time for a visit is summer, when local fishermen stage colourful fairs and water sports are possible.

The Bodensee

The lake is 15 km (9 miles) across at its widest point and 74 km (46 miles) long. It lies at an altitude of 395 m (1,295 ft) and reaches 252 m (826 ft) in depth.

Stockach

Reichenau

The greatest attraction of this island is the Benedictine abbey, which was famed during the era of Otto the Great (10th century) for its illuminated manuscripts. It has a beautiful Romanesque-Gothic church and an intoxicating herb garden.

Singer

Padoitzell Uberlinge

Ludwigshafen

Reichenau Mainau

Konstanz

Kreuzlingen

★ Mainau

Mainau is known as the "Island of Flowers". The most beautiful displays are in the park surrounding the Baroque palace, which was built in 1739–46. It is currently owned by the Lennart Bernadotte family.

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Konstanz
- ★ Mainau
- ★ Wasserburg

★ Konstanz (Constance)

The largest town in the region, its main attraction is the magnificent 1 Ithcentury Romanesque cathedral. The vaults over the central aisle were built between 1679 and 1683.

Meersburg

The exquisite Baroque town of Meersburg has two residences—the Baroque Neues Schloss and the Altes Schloss. The latter is a 16th-century structure built on top of a bill. It contains within its walls an old Carolingian palace.

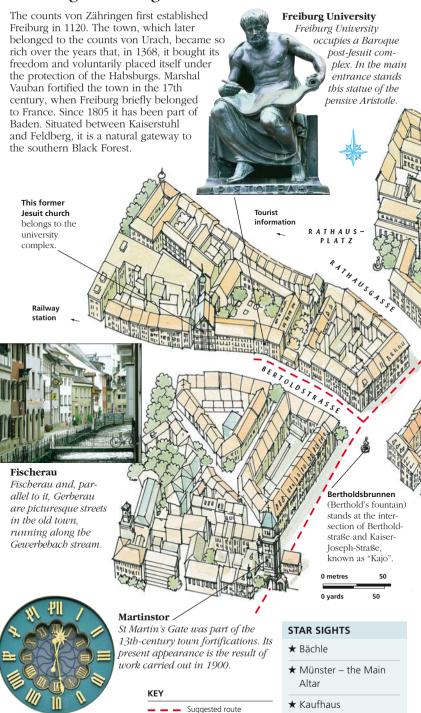

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Freiburg im Breisgau @

SCHUSTERSTRASS.

Haus zum Walfisch

The façade of the Whale House in Franziskanergasse, with its lovely bay window, is a magnificent example of late-Gothic style.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map B7. 197,000. Rathausplatz 2–4 (0761-388 18 80). Fasnet (end of carnival), Frühlingsmesse (May), Internationales Zeltmusikfest (Jun), Weintage (Jun), Weinkost (Jun), Herbstmesse (Oct), Umwelt-Film-Festival (Oct). www.freiburg.de

Münsterplatz

The picturesque square at the foot of the cathedral, lined by houses of various periods, from Gothic to Rococo, is still used for markets.

★ Bächle

From the Middle Ages, fast-flowing canals have been running along the streets, draining excess surface waters, and providing the water needed to extinguish the frequent fires.

★ Münster – the Main Altar

The cathedral, which started in c.1200 as a Romanesque basilica, was completed by 1513 in the French Gothic style. Inside is the original main altar by Hans Baldung Grien.

★ Kaufhaus

Completed in 1520, with ground-floor arcades and richly adorned gables, the Kaufhaus (literally buying house) was used by local merchants for meetings, conferences and lively festivities.

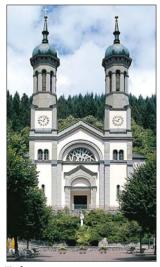

Schwarzwald (Black Forest) o

Covered with tall fir trees and spruces, the Schwarz-wald is one of Germany's most picturesque regions. The area is famous not just for its cuckoo clocks, Kirschwasser (schnaps) and Schwarzwälder Kirschtorte (Black Forest Gâteau); in the past, Celts and later the Romans came to appreciate the therapeutic qualities of the local spring waters. (The sources of the rivers Donau and Neckar are here.) The area is also a paradise for skiers, climbers, ramblers, hang-glider pilots and sailors.

★ Staufen im Breisgau

The town is also known as Faust-stadt: Dr Faustus, who had resided here, died in 1539 – he is variously reputed to have blown himself up, to have been strangled or to have had his neck broken.

odtnau

Todtnau is not only a sports centre and a base for hikers and cyclists: it also has a fanstastic annual festival devoted entirely to Schwarzwälder Kirschtorte (Black Forest Gateau).

Todtmoos

The heart of this resort is the Baroque pilgrimage church, which dates from the 17th–18th centuries. Popular dog-sleigh races are held annually in the town.

Friesenheim .

Herbolzheim

Teningen

Emmendingen

Denzlingen

Freibura

im Breisgau

Lahr

Furtwangen

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map 7 B, C. Wehratalstr. 19, Todtmoos (07674-906 00; www.todtmoos.de). Offenburger Weinmarkt, Weihnachtsmarkt. Schlosskonzerte in Rastatt (July), Dog-sleigh races in Todtmoos (Jan) and Bernau (Feb).

Gutach

In the open-air museum near the small town of Gutach visitors can see the Schwarzwald's oldest house – the Vogtsbauernhof – which dates from the 16th century.

★ Furtwangen
The main attraction of Furtwangen is its clock museum (Ubrenmuseum), which houses a collection of more than 8,000 varied
cbronometers.

Hangloch-Wasserfall

This magnificent mountain waterfall near Todtnau is one of the most beautiful in the Black Forest.

Titisee-

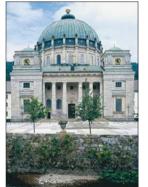

St. Blasien

Neustadt

Feldberg

★ St Blasien

In the beautiful bealth resort of St Blasien is a Benedictine Abbey, founded in the 9th century. Crowned with a vast dome, its church (1783) is an excellent example of early Neo-Classical style.

KEY

Motorway

Main road

Secondary road

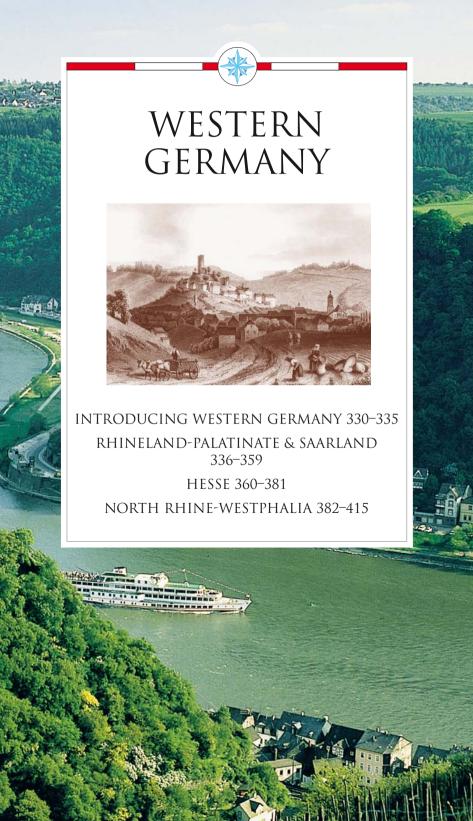

River

Viewpoint

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Furtwangen
- ★ St Blasien
- ★ Staufen im Breisgau

Western Germany at a Glance

Famed for its excellent wines and the festivities of Cologne's annual carnival, Western Germany is the country's wealthiest and most heavily industrialized region. The Ruhr district still harbours enormous industrial potential, while Frankfurt am Main is Germany's largest financial centre. The region is also rich in tourist attractions – visitors are drawn to the romantic castles which line the Rhine and Mosel valleys, to Cologne with its majestic twin-towered cathedral, the spa town of Aachen, the museums of Frankfurt and Kassel and the imposing Romanesque cathedrals of Speyer, Worms and Mainz

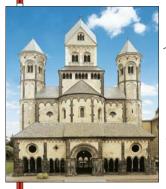

NORTH RHINE-WESTPHALIA See pp382-415

Cologne Cathedral (see pp402–3), which was not completed until the 19th century, is generally considered one of the most outstanding Gothic buildings in Germany.

0 kilometres 100 0 miles 100

Maria Laach (see pp358–9) is a charming, beautifully preserved Romanesque abbey in a tranquil, isolated setting on the shores of the Laacher See. RHINELAND-PALATINATE & SAARLAND See pp336-59

HESSE See pp360-81

999 9 9 9 9

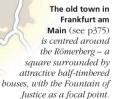

Detmold is best known for its magnificent castle (see p415) – one of the most beautiful examples of the "Weser Renaissance" style of architecture.

The Museum Fridericianum in Kassel (see pp364–5), originally built to bouse Friederich II's art collection, bas bosted the documenta, an exhibition of contemporary art that has achieved international acclaim, every four to five years since 1955.

Fulda Cathedral (see p368) is one of the finest Baroque churches in Hesse. It was built on the site of the previous Romanesque church and follows the original layout.

Wine in Western Germany

Of the great European vineyards. Germany's are the farthest north. There are 13 wine-growing regions in Germany but the most famous German vineyards are those in the western part of the country, especially the Rheingau Pfalz Rheinhessen and Mosel-Saar-Ruwer regions. The most widely drunk alcoholic beverage in Germany is beer – unlike in France, Italy or Spain – and therefore the wines produced here are mainly highquality wines of named vineyards, with a relatively low production of table wine.

Vinevards in Edenkohen, in the southern part of the Weinstraße (see p347), in the Palatinate

The Mosel-Saar-Ruwer region produces superb white wines from the Riesling grape. The highest quality wines are those marked with the letters OmP.

• Aachen

Köln

Kohlenz

• Bergisch

Gladbach

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT GERMAN WINE

Region and climate

Gentle, rocky hills stretching along the river bends - perfect for Rieslings - are typical of the Mosel-Saar-Ruwer and Rheingau regions. Clay and limestone soil, appropriate for the Müller-Thurgau variety, are found in Hesse on the Rhine. The German climate is considerably more severe than that of southern countries, which gives the wines a slightly sharp, refreshing taste.

Typical grape varieties The red grape is not cultivated in great quantities.

The most popular red variety is the Spätburgunder, known in France as Pinot Noir, which produces a heavy wine with a strong flavour. White grapes are much more popular, especially the famous Rieslings, from which the best white wines are produced, the Müller-Thurgau, which gives a light wine with a fruity bouquet, the Grauburgunder (Pinot Grigio) and the Weißburgunder (Pinot Blanc). Less well-known are: Silvaner, Gewürztraminer, Grüner Veltliner and Gutedel. Rosé wines are produced from the Portugieser variety, cultivated in the Rhineland-Palatinate (Pfalz) and Rheinhessen.

Famous wine producers

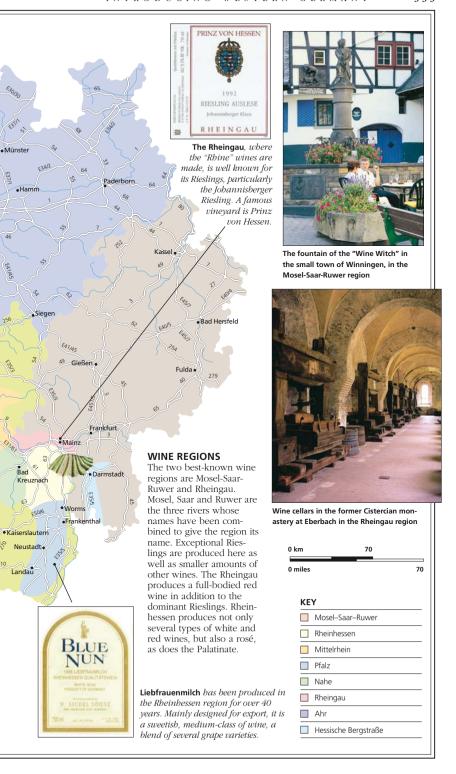

Mosel-Saar-Ruwer: Fritz Haag, Heymann-Löwenstein, Karthäuserhof, Dr. Loosen, Egon Müller, J.J. Prüm, C. von Schubert, Willi Schaefer; Rheingau: Georg Breuer, Robert Weil; Rheinhessen: Gunderloch, Keller; Pfalz: Müller-Catoir, Georg Mosbacher, Dr. Bürklin-Wolf, Reichsrat von Buhl.

The Nahe is famous for its white wines, produced from Silvaner as well as Riesling and Müller-Thurgau grapes.

Romanesque Architecture

Western Germany boasts some of the most interesting examples of Romanesque architecture in the whole of Europe. Charlemagne's famous chapel in Aachen was erected as early as the Carolingian period. The cathedral in Trier and the church of St Maria im Kapitol in Cologne are among the most outstanding creations of early-Romanesque architecture of the Frankish dynasty. In the 12th century, the most important German centres of art were Cologne and the towns of the central Rhineland, with three magnificent cathedrals in Speyer, Mainz and Worms, and the monastery in Maria Laach, preserved to this day.

The monastery in Maria Laach bas

many capitals with intricate decorations,

such as these carvings with human faces.

by pairs of columns, as are the portals of many other Romanesque cathedrals.

private prayer. It is comparable to similar private buildings in secular palaces.

ROMANESOUE CATHEDRALS

Cathedrals of the type shown here were built with a basilica-type internal arrangement, including a transept and presbytery, and a double choir usually ending in a semicircular apse. The Dom in Speyer has a massive twin-towered west front as shown here The other pair of towers rises above the presbytery. and the intersection of the nave and transept has a lower, broad fifth tower.

ROMANESOUE CAPITALS

Romanesque churches in the Rhine Valley feature exquisite stone sculptures. The capitals, with their extraordinary variety of form, ranging from simple blocks to fine figurative or animal-decorated compositions, are of particular interest.

Water-leaf capital of a bonded column

Cushion (or block or cube) capital

Simplified Corinthian capital

Zoömorphic (animaldecorated) capital

RHINELAND-PALATINATE AND SAARLAND

be Rhineland-Palatinate is one of Germany's most romantic regions, attracting visitors with its vineyards, gentle hills and fairy-tale castles along the Rhine and Mosel valleys. Several towns, such as Trier, have kept reminders of their Roman heritage.

These two states, which border France in the west, did not emerge in their present form until after World War II. The Rhineland-Palatinate was created from the previously independent Bavarian Palatinate and the southern part of the Central Rhineland, making it a true jigsaw-puzzle of territories without a coherent history. The Saarland was under French rule until 1956. Today, it forms a bridge between France and Germany, the two driving forces of European unity.

The turbulent history of the region has left many traces. The picturesque Mosel Valley is lined with grand Medieval fortresses, such as Burg Eltz, while Worms on the Rhine is the setting for most of the Nibelungen legend as well as the residence of the mythical king of Burgundy, Gunther.

The Nibelung treasure is still said to lie at the bottom of the Rhine. The impressive cathedral in Worms, along with the Romanesque cathedrals of Speyer and Mainz, is a fascinating example of Medieval sacral architecture.

The "Deutsches Eck" in Koblenz is the strategic spot where the Mosel flows into the Rhine, and Koblenz also marks the beginning of the romantic Rhine Valley. A boat trip upriver, justifiably popular with visitors, will pass some spectacular rocky scenery, including the famous Lorelei Rock and countless castles set among vineyards on either side of the gorge.

The famous ironworks complex in Völklingen is a reminder of a bygone era, when most of the Saarland's inhabitants were active in mining, steelworks and other heavy industries.

Panorama of Saarbrücken, with the Saar river in the foreground

Exploring Rhineland-Palatinate and Saarland

Liège

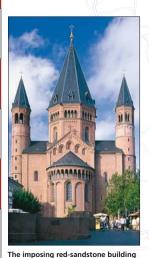

White wine enthusiasts come here, attracted by the beautiful, picturesque valleys of the Rhine and Mosel rivers, with their Medieval castles and small towns. Travelling along the Deutsche Weinstraße (German wine route), Germany's oldest tourist route, visitors can see fascinating historic buildings and taste the different types of wine made by the numerous small vineyards scattered throughout the entire region. Speyer and Mainz have monumental Romanesque cathedrals, while Trier boasts many interesting Roman relics. The huge ironworks in Völklingen is a surprising sight, transporting visitors back to a time when heavy industry ruled much of the region.

SEE ALSO

- Where to Stav pp506-8
- Where to Eat pp545-7

Cologne (Köln) Bonn

Adenau

of the Dom in Mainz

20 20 0 km

0 miles

The proud complex of Schloss Stolzenfels near Koblenz, designed by Karl Friedrich Schinkel

Trier o

One of Germany's oldest towns, Trier was founded in 16 BC as Augusta Treverorum, supposedly by the Emperor Augustus himself. In the 3rd and 4th centuries it was an imperial seat and the capital of the Belgica prima province. In the 5th century the town, which now numbered 70,000 inhabitants, was conquered and destroyed by Germanic tribes. Trier never returned to its former importance – in the 17th century it had a mere 3,600 inhabitants, and 100 years later they still numbered fewer than 4,000. The town, which is also the birthplace of Karl Marx, has a rich architectural heritage.

m Porta Nigra

Tel (0651) 754 24. 1 Apr-30 Sep: 9am-6pm daily; Oct-Mar: 9am-5pm daily: Nov-Feb: 9am-4pm daily. This town gate, named Porta Nigra (black gate) in the Middle Ages because of the colour of its weathered stone was erected in the 2nd century (a similar gate would have stood at the town's southern entrance). The oldest German defensive structure, it still impresses with its colossal size: 36 m (118 ft) long, 21.5 m (70.5 ft) wide and 30 m (27 ft) high. Two gateways lead onto a small inner courtyard, and there are two tiers of defence galleries with large open windows. It is flanked by two towers - the four-storey western tower and the threestorey unfinished eastern tower, made of huge blocks of sandstone.

In the 12th century, the building was transformed into the two-storey church of St Simeon and served as such until the early 19th century.

Petrusbrunnen (fountain of St Peter) in Hauptmarkt

Hauptmarkt

Trier's main market square,

Trier's main market square, undoubtedly one of the most attractive in Germany, dates back to the 10th century. The Marktkreuz (market cross) erected around the same time symbolized the town's right to hold markets. Today there is a copy of the original cross mounted on a granite Roman column, with a relief of the Lamb of God. On the southeastern side of the square is the Petrusbrunnen (St Peter's fountain), from 1595, with sculptures of St Peter, and the Four Virtues. On the south-western side stands the 15th-century Steipe, with a steep gabled roof. Originally it was used by the town councillors as guesthouse and banqueting hall. The Baroque Rotes Haus (red house) next door dates from 1683. Löwenapotheke, in a 17th-century building on the southeastern side of the square, is Germany's oldest pharmacy, its records dating back to the 13th century.

Bischöfliches Dom- und Diözesanmuseum

Windstraße 6-8 Tel (0651) 710 52 55. Apr-Oct: 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 1-5pm Sun: Nov-Mar: 9am-5pm Tue-Sat, 🔳 1 Jan. 24 & 25 Dec. 🐼 A 19th-century building near the cathedral, once a Prussian prison now houses the art collection of the Diocese, including early Christian works of art. Its pride of possession is a 3rd-century ceiling painting from the imperial palace which once stood on the site of the cathedral. The fresco was rediscovered in 1945, and some 70,000 pieces were painstakingly reassembled over the following decades. Another exhibit is the reconstructed crypt of the Benedictine church of St Maximin. which has 9th-century Carolingian wall paintings.

♠ Dom St Peter

Tel (0651) 979 07 90.

Apr-Oct: 6:30am-6pm daily; Nov–Mar: 6:30am–5:30pm dailv. The present cathedral incorporates the remains of an older 4th-century church. The oldest cathedral in Germany, it was constructed in stages - in the early 11th century, late 12th century, mid-13th century and 14th century. It is a triplenave, two-choir basilica with transept and six towers, and its furnishings include several outstanding objects, such as the tomb of the papl envoy Ivo (1144).

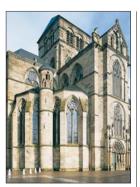

⚠ Liebfrauenkirche

An der Meerkatz 4. Tel (0651) 979 07 90. Apr-Oct: 7:30am-6pm daily; Nov-Mar: 7:30am-5:30pm daily. Adjoining the cathedral is the Liebfrauenkirche (Church of Our Dear Lady), built in 1235–60. Along with the

The magnificent Porta Nigra, gigantic Roman gateway into Trier

TRIER 341

The Liebfrauenkirche – one of the country's earliest Gothic churches cathedral in Marburg, this is one of the earliest examples of German Gothic architecture. Its ground plan is based on the Greek cross, and the tower above the dome accentuates the intersection of the naves. Its western portal is richly decorated with carved ornaments and iconographic symbols. The interior features many outstanding relics, including 15th-century wall paintings on twelve columns, which symbolize the 12 apostles. There are also some important tombs, including that of a local nobleman. Karl von Metternich (1636), which is in the northeast chapel.

∰ Aula Palatina (Konstantin-Basilika)

Konstantinolatz. Tel (0651) 42 570. Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm Mon-Sat. noon–6pm Sun: Nov–Mar: 11am–noon & 3-4pm Tue-Sat, noon-1pm Sun. The Aula Palatina (Palatinate hall) dates from AD 310. An elongated, rectangular brick building 67 m (220 ft) long, 27.5 m (90 ft) wide and 30 m (98 ft) high with a vast semicircular apse, it served as the throne hall of the Roman emperor or his representative. Following the town's sacking by Germanic tribes, the building was reduced to rubble. In the 12th century the apse was converted into a tower, to

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map A5. 99,000.

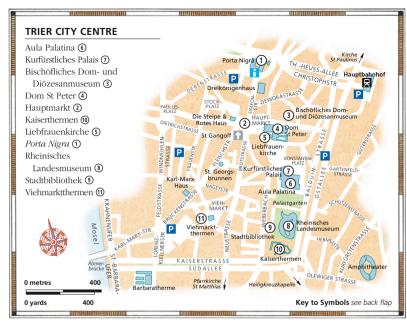

An der Porta Nigra.

Simeonstraße 60 (0651-97 80 80). www.trier.de accommodate the archbishop. In the 17th century, the Aula Palatina was integrated into the newly-built palace and its eastern wall partly demolished. During Napoleonic and Prussian times, the hall served as army barracks. The Prussian king Friedrich Wilhelm IV eventually ordered its reconstruction. From 1856 it has served as the Protestant church of St Saviour. Restored after bombing in 1944, its giant size still seems remarkable

The monumental, austere exterior of the Aula Palatina

Portal of the Kurfürstliches Palais

★ Kurfürstliches Palais

Konstantinplatz. Tel (0651) 949 42 02. the Palais is an administrative building and so visits that are not part of a public function are possible only by appointment. The Kurfürstliches Palais is considered to be one of the most beautiful Rococo palaces in the world. It has undergone several transformations over the centuries and remains of the earlier buildings can still be seen. The present building was designed by Johannes Seiz and built in 1756-62 for Archbishop Johann Philipp von Walderdorff. The sculptures were created by Ferdinand Tietz. The central tympanum shows Pomona. Venus, Apollo and a group of angels. The stairs, which lead from the garden to the inner staircase, were designed in the 18th century, but not built until 1981. They have beautiful handrails with typical Rococo motifs. The gardens are equally beautiful and include a miniature garden, a landscape garden and a mother-and-child area.

M Rheinisches Landesmuseum

Weimarer Allee 1. Tel (0651) 977 40. 10am-6pm daily, 10am-9pm two Tuesdays per month. 1 Jan, 24, 25 & 26 Dec. 6 (free 1st Mon of the

Only a few steps separate the electoral palace from the Rhine regional museum founded in 1877. Its collections are grouped into four sections: prehistoric, Roman, Franconjan-Merovingian and medieval to contemporary. The largest space is devoted to Roman relics Among the star exhibits are a magnificent mosaic depicting Bacchus, from the dining room of a Roman villa and the lovely statuette of a nymph, undoubtedly the work of a major artist. Equally impressive is a stone carving showing a ship loaded with four giant barrels, sailing on the Mosel River. Dating from AD 220, the carving decorated the tomb of a local wine-merchant

Stadtbibliothek

Weberbach 25. The municipal library contains a number of important collections that were assembled here in the early 19th century, when many monastic libraries closed down. Among its treasures the library holds 74 full-page miniatures of the famous Trier Nymph in Rheinisches Apocalypse (c.800), as well as one of the few surviving copies of the first Bible printed by Gutenberg.

Kaiserthermen

Weimarer Allee/Kaiserstr. Tel (0651) 442 62. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm; Oct & Mar: 9am-5pm; Nov-Feb: 9am-4pm daily. 🚳 Not far from the Rheinisches Landesmuseum are the remains of the vast imperial baths. Built in the early 4th century, during the reign of Constantine, they were the third largest bathing complex in the Roman world. The remaining sections of the walls and foundations indicate the former layout. Best preserved are the walls of the caldarium the room with the hot water pool. Next to it is the round tepidarium, the warm baths. The spacious frigidarium was used for cold baths. Considerable room was given to the balaestra, an outdoor exercise area.

Viehmarktthermen

Viehmarktolatz

Tel (0651) 994 10 57. 9am-5pm Tue-Sun. Following excavations completed in 1994. the remains of these Roman baths, along with those of medieval refuse pits and the cellars of a Capucin monastery, are now on display to the pubic under a large glass canopy.

Jesuitenstr. 13. 7am-

6nm daily

The Gothic Church of the Holy Trinity was built for Franciscan monks, who settled in Trier before 1238. The surviving church, from the late 13th century, went to the Jesuits in 1570. The college (1610–14) was transferred to the university following the dissolution of the Jesuit Order. It now houses a theological seminary. In the church, the tomb of Friedrich von Spee (1591–1635) is worth a visit.

I andesmuseum

Vast complex of the Kaiserthermen (imperial baths)

TRIER 343

Amphitheater

Petrisberg. Tel (0651) 730 10. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm: Oct & Mar: 9am-5nm: Nov–Feb: 9am–4pm daily. 💋 Near the imperial baths are the ruins of the Roman amphitheatre, dating from the 1st century AD. This was the scene of gladiatorial fights and animal contests. The entire structure, consisting of an elliptical arena and a stepped auditorium, was surrounded by a high wall. divided into individual storeys by colonnaded arcades. The complex was designed to seat up to 20,000 people. In the 5th century the inhabitants of Trier used the amphitheatre as a place of refuge from the increasingly frequent raids by Germanic tribes

♠ Heiligkreuzkapelle

Arnulfstraße/Rothachstraße The Chapel of the Holy Cross in a secluded spot, is one of Trier's more interesting historic buildings. Built in the Romanesque style in the second half of the 11th century, at the initiative of the parson of Arnulfa Cathedral. it is a small building with a ground plan in the shape of the Greek cross and an octagonal tower set within the cross. Although it suffered serious damage during World War II. it was meticulously restored to its original state in the years 1957-8.

♠ Pfarrkirche St Matthias

Matthiasstraße. 85. Tel (0651) 310 79. 8am-7pm daily. This church's history dates back to the 5th century, when it became the burial place of St Eucharius, the first bishop of Trier. From the 8th century, the church was run by Benedictine monks. In the 10th-11th centuries a new church was erected as burial site of the relics of the apostle. St Matthew. It was twice remodelled at the turn of the 15th to 16th centuries, when it acquired its rich Gothic vaults. The present abbey dates from the 16th century. The shrine holding the apostle's relics ensured that the church became one of the most important destinations for pilgrims in the region.

The ruins of Barbaratherme, ancient Roman baths

Barbaratherme

Südallee. Tel (0651) 994 10 57. closed until further notice (dilapidated). Not far from the Roman bridge across the Mosel River are the ruins of the Barbara baths, dating from the 2nd century AD. Although above ground not much has been preserved, the extensive system of underground heating channels, the bybocaustum, clearly demonstrates the original size of this public bath complex. In the Middle Ages. Patrician and aristocratic families transformed the baths into their residences. In the 17th century Jesuit monks dismantled the remaining structures, and used the recovered building materials to construct their own college.

↑ Kirche St Maximin

Maximinstraße. Tel (0651) 710 52 55. Sobligatory. In the Middle Ages there were as many as four abbeys in Trier. St. Maximin Abbey was founded on the burial site of its patron saint, who died in AD 325. The surviving church was built in the 13th century, on the foundations of the previous buildings. Its Romanesque-Gothic forms were partly obscured by the remodelling work carried out in 1580-1698. The church's most valuable historic remains were the Carolingian wall paintings, which originally adorned the crypt. These are now displayed in the Rheinisches Landesmuseum.

A Kirche St Paulin

____ Thebäerstraße. Tel (0651) 270 850. Mar-Sep: 9am-6pm Mon, Wed-Sat. 11am-6pm Tue. 10am-6pm Sun: Oct-Feb: 9am-5pm Mon. Wed-Sat. 11am-5pm Tue 10am-5pm Sun This church was built in the 12th century, on the foundations of an older Christian chapel. In 1674 it was blown up by the French army. St Paulin, its patron saint and bishop in Trier, was one of the few to voice his opposition to the Arvan credo of Emperor Constantine II. in which he rejected the divinity of Christ and proclaimed himself alone to be made in God's image. Paulin did not meet with a martyr's death, but was exiled to Phrygia (now Turkey), where he died in 358. The present church, a true gem of Rococo architecture, was designed by Balthasar Neumann, who also created the main altar

Baroque ceiling paintings in the Rococo Kirche St Paulinus

Saarland 2

This German state, bordered by Luxembourg and France, was long disputed between France and Germany, but has now been firmly integrated into the Federal Republic. Almost forgotten are its coal and steel industries, which declined in the 1960s and 70s. The region has seen a turbulent history – it was ruled in turn by Celts, Romans and Franks. In the 17th century, on the order of Louis XIV, Vauban built the townfortress of Saarlouis. Saarbrücken, an 18th-century town, is famous for its Baroque architecture, mostly created by Friedrich Joachim Stengel.

Von Nassau-Saarbrücken family tombs in Saarbrücken

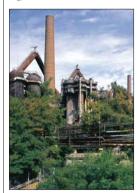

Saarbrücken

Road map B6. 11 190,000. 12 1 Saargalerie, Reichsstr. 1 (0681-194 33 or 93 80 90). 11 Max Ophüls-Preis (Jan), Perspectives du Théâtre (May), Saar Snektakel (Aun)

The capital of Saarland, Saarbrücken was first built as the Franconian fortress of Sarabrucca. The town, situated on the banks of the Saar River, flourished in the 17th and 18th century, under the rule of Duke Wilhelm Heinrich von Nassau-Saarbrücken.

The churches and other prestigious buildings are largely the work of Friedrich Joachim Stengel, court architect to the von Nassau-Saarbrücken family. He designed the Catholic Basilika St Johann (1754–8) in the market square, as well as the monumental Schloss, the palace on the opposite bank of the Saar (1739–48). Its original, modern facade, created in 1989 after damage in World War II, is the work of the architect Gottfried Böhm.

Opposite the Schloss stands the Altes Rathaus (old town hall), dating from 1748–50, which today houses an interesting museum of ethnography. The Protestant Ludwigskirche (1762–75) is one of the last works completed by Stengel, A true architectural gem, it is laid out in the shape of a Greek cross. The Stiftskirche St. Arnual in the southwestern part of the town, contains the splendid Gothic and Renaissance tombs of the von Nassau-Saarbrücken family. Since 1960 it has also featured a "German-French Garden". One of the garden's entrances leads to Gulliver-Miniwelt (miniature world of Gulliver). where small versions of the world's most famous buildings are exhibited.

Völklinger Hütte, the historic steelworks in Völklingen

Völklingen

Road map B6. A 43.500. Rathausstr. 57 (06898-132 800). About 10 km (6 miles) west of Saarbrücken lies the small industrial town of Völklingen which was granted town status in 1937. In 1881. Carl Röchling, a native of Saarbrücken, bought a small steel mill, the Völklinger Hütte. which he soon developed as the heart of his family's industrial empire. The steel mill still exists and in 1994 it became a UNESCO World Heritage Site, listed as a historical object of international importance. Another attraction is an original, early 20th-century housing estate.

Hombura

Road map B6. A 42,000. Rathaus, Am Forum 5 (06 841-10 11 66). This town grew up around the Hohenburg castle, which now is just a picturesque ruin. In the Schlossberg nearby were unearthed the remains of a fortress, which was built in 1680-92 by Sébastien Le Preste Vauban on the orders of the French King Louis XIV. The greatest attraction of Homburg, however, is its Schlossberg caves, the largest man-made caves in Europe. cut into the red sandstone.

Ottweiler

Road map B5. [6] 16,000.

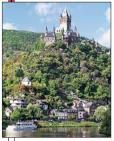

If Schlosshof 5 (06 824-35 11).

The small picturesque town of Ottweiler has a beautifully preserved old town. The Alter Turm (old tower), which in the 15th century formed part of the town's fortifications, now serves as a belfry to the parish church, whose origins go back to the 15th century. Its present Baroque form was the work of Friedrich Joachim Stengel from 1756–7.

Rathausplatz is a beautifully proportioned complex of historic houses, mostly the homes of wealthy citizens, dating from the 17th and 18th centuries. Many have half-timbered upper halves. The Altes Rathaus (old town hall, 1714) combines two different building methods – the base is stone, the top half-timbered. In Schlossplatz is the Renaissance Hesse Haus (c.1500).

Moseltal 6

The Mosel river, 545 km (338 miles) long, is one of the longest tributaries of the Rhine. The Mosel valley between Trier and Koblenz, where the Mosel flows into the Rhine, is one of the most beautiful parts of Germany. On both sides of the river, romantic castles tower over endless vineyards, where excellent white grapes are grown – both are typical features of the charming landscape.

Matthias-Kapelle ①

This late-Romanesque chapel was once used to house the remains of the Apostle Matthew. These were later transferred to the Matthiaskirche in Trier.

Burg Thurant (2)

Near the town of Alken stands Thurant castle, which was built in the 13th century. It is the only twin-towered castle along the Mosel.

Cochem 6

The castle in Cochem, originally built in the 11th century, was completely destroyed by French soldiers in 1689. The present castle was rebuilt in the 19th century.

Pyrmont's grim 13th-century medieval castle was remodelled and extended several times during the Baroque era.

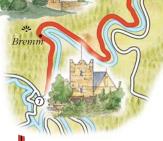

Ehrenburg ③

The first fortress, rising to 235 m (771 ft) above sea level, was built in 1120. It was frequently remodelled in later years.

Burg Arras 7

This fortress was built around 900–950 as part of the fortifications against frequent pillaging raids by Normans.

0 km	5
0 miles		5

KEY

Suggested route
Scenic route
Other road
River, lake

Bura Eltz (4)

The von Eltz family

castle, whose history

goes back to the 16th century, remains in private hands to this day, but it is open to visitors.

TIPS FOR DRIVERS

Length of the route: about 75 km (46 miles).

Stopping-off points: there are numerous restaurants and cafes in Cochem; small pubs can be found along the entire route. Additional attractions: a boat

Additional attractions: a boa trip on the Mosel River, from Koblenz to Cochem or Trier.

Altar in the Dreifaltigkeitskirche. in Speyer

Speyer 4

Road map B6. A 47,000. Maximilianstraße 13 (06232-14 23 92). Rezelfest (Jul), Kaisertafel (Aug). Altstadtfest (Sen) Rauernmarkt (Sen) In the 7th century, Speyer was the seat of a diocese. As a free city of the Holy Roman Empire from 1294 until 1779. 50 sessions of the imperial parliament took place here. The most famous session was in 1529, when the Protestant states of the Holy Roman Empire lodged a protest (hence "Protestant") against the decisions of the Catholic majority. The most important historic building in Spever is the Romanesque Kaiserdom (St. Maria und St Stephan), a World Heritage Site. For a time, before being superseded by the gigantic abbey of Cluny in Burgundy, this was the largest monumental Romanesque building in Europe. The Dom. built in 1025-61 on the initiative of Conrad II, is a triplenave, cross-vaulted basilica with transept, vestibule, choir, apse and several towers. Its magnificent triple-nave crypt, the burial place of Salian emperors, has stunning stone carvings, some worked by Lombard stonemasons. St Afra's, dating from around 1100, has some interesting sculptures, including Christ Bearing His Cross and Annunciation (c.1470). The Domnapf, a vast stone bowl seen at the forecourt of the cathedral, dates from 1490. It was used during enthroning ceremonies, when the newly anointed bishop would order it to be filled with wine right to the brim in order to win the hearts of his flock

Another 11th-century interesting building is the Mikwe in Judenbadgasse, a ritual Iewish bath for women, and the remains of a synagogue nearby. To the west of the Dom stand the remains of the medieval fortifications including the Altpörtel, a 14th- to 16th-century town gate. The late-Baroque Dreifaltigkeitskirche (church of the Holy Trinity), built in 1701-17, is an architectural masterpiece with marvellous interiors.

Worms 6

Road map B5. 🚯 83.000. 🖪 Neumarkt 14 (06241-250 45).

Worms is one of the oldest towns in Germany. In the Middle Ages it was the home of the Reich's Parliament. hosting more than 100 sessions. The Dom St Peter is one of the largest late-Romanesque cathedrals in Germany, along with the cathedrals in Mainz and Spever. It was built in 1171-1230 as a two-choir basilica. with eastern transept, four towers and two domes. Its northern nave includes five beautiful sandstone reliefs from a Gothic cloister, which no longer exists. The interior furnishings date mainly from modern times. Particularly noteworthy is the high altar designed in

Tombstones in the Heiliger Sand Jewish cemetery in Worms

A short distance from the cathedral is the Marktplatz (market square), with the interesting Dreifaltigkeitskirche church of the Holy Trinity (1709-25), Northeast of the square stands the Stiftskirche St Paul (church of St Paul) built in the 11th=12th centuries and completed in the 18th century. with original 13th century wall paintings. Nearby is the only surviving Renaissance residential building in

> Worms the Rotes Haus (red house)

> > In the western part of the old town is the Heiliger Sand (holy sands), the oldest Iewish cemetery in Europe, where the date from the 11th and 12th centuries.

earliest tombstones A relief from 1488, in the Dom in Worms Also worth a visit is the 14thcentury Liebfrauenkirche (Church of Our Dear Lady).

The vast Romanesque Dom St. Peter in Worms

Deutsche Weinstraße

The "German Wine Route" starts in Bockenheim and ends in Schweigen, near the Alsatian town of Weißenburg. The tour suggested here includes the most interesting sections of this route. This is one of the most beautiful parts of Germany, where visitors will encounter aspects of German and European historical and cultural heritage at every step, set among the picturesque scenery of the endless vineyards covering the sun-drenched slopes of the Pfälzer Wald.

St Martin (6)

Not much remains of the Romanesque church of St Martin. but the 16-18thcentury buildings surviving in the town continue to enchant visitors

Hambacher Schloss (7)

Only a romantic ruin remains of this vast hilltop fortress, whose fame is based on the Hambacher Fest when, on 27 May 1832, students protested against the fragmentation of Germany.

Trifels (4)

This grim, ruined castle once served as a prison for many important people, including the King of England, Richard the Lionheart, Hillton Hof Neukastel was once the home of the German impressionist artist Max Slevogt, and to this day, wall paintings by the artist can be seen here.

Dörrenbach ①

The star attractions in this small town are the halftimbered town hall and the Gothic church surrounded by fortifications.

Suggested route

Scenic route

Other road

River, lake

❖ Viewpoint

This famous resort is best known for its annual Wurstmarkt held in September. Despite its name, it celebrates the wine harvest, and sausages take second place.

Landau (5)

This little town has the remains of the fortress built by Vauban and an extraordinarily beautiful post-Augustinian church.

Bad Bergzabern 2

This town has some interesting Renaissance remains, including the Gasthaus zum Engel (Angel's Inn) and a royal castle.

TIPS FOR DRIVERS

Length: 83 km (51 miles). Stopping-off points: Landau has many cafés and restaurants. The spa town of Bad Dürkheim. with its cafés and wine bars, is also a good place to stop. Signs: Look for signposts showing a bunch of grapes or a wine jug.

Mainz o

The town, which grew out of the Roman military camp Moguntiacum established in 39 BC, is today the capital of the Rhineland-Palatinate. Mainz is the home of an important German television station (ZDF). It is also the main centre of trade for the popular Rhine wines. Its splendid late-Romanesque cathedral symbolizes the power of the Kurfürsten, the prince-electors, who used to crown German kings. Indisputably the town's most famous son is Johannes Gutenberg – the inventor of printing.

Peter-Altmeier-Allee.
Römisch-Germanisches
Zentralmuseum
Tel (06131) 91 240.

10am-6pm Tue-Sun.
Construction of the Baroque electoral palace, which began in 1627 during the rule of Archbishop Georg von Greifenclau, was completed more than a century
later, in 1775–6,
under Johann Fried-

under Johann Friedrich Carl Joseph von Erthal. Today the palace houses the fascinating museum of Roman and Germanic history.

Gutenberg-Museum

Liebfrauenplatz 5. Tel (06131) 12 26
40. ____ 9am-5pm Tue-5at, 11am-3pm Sun. ____ public holidays. [3]
Johannes Gensfleisch zum
Gutenberg became famous as the inventor of the printing process using movable metal type. The letters were cast in a special apparatus and set in

Statue of Gutenberg in Gutenbergplatz columns. Gutenberg himself prepared the Bible for printing and publication in 1454–5. From the original 200 copies, only 46 have survived to this day.

The museum, which opened in 1900, shows a reconstruction of the master's workshop from 1450. The collection comprises priceless early books, including the Gutenberg Bible and the Psalter published in 1457 by Fust & Schöffer, Gutenberg's erstwhile partners and latterday creditors.

The Psalter was the first work to be printed using three different colours of inks.

∰ Kaiserdom

See pp350–51.

A short distance from the Protestant parish church of St John is Gutenbergplatz, a pleasant square with a statue of the inventor. Set in its

The Baroque Kurfürstliches Schloss and museum paving stones is a line marking the 50th parallel. The Staatstheater (state theatre) in the square is an interesting late Neo-Classical building from 1829–33

Historic half-timbered houses in Kirschgarten

Kirschaarten

Near the Baroque hospital of St Roch, built in 1721 and now an old people's home, runs a street called Kirschgarten (cherry orchard). This is one of the loveliest parts of old Mainz, which suffered serious damage in World War II. The well-preserved complex of historic half-timbered houses, dating from the 16th–18th centuries, makes this district worth visiting and a pleasant place for a stroll.

A Kirche St Stephan

Kleine Weißgasse 12. Tel (06131) 23 16 40. 🚺 10am–noon 2–5pm Mon-Sat, 2-5pm Sun. A short distance from Kirschgarten stands the Gothic parish church of St Stephen. It was built in stages, on the site of an older building dating from the 10th century. Construction began in the mid-13th century and continued until the end of the 15th century. The resulting church is a triple-nave hall with eastern transept and a single-nave choir. The adjacent late-15th century cloisters are a true gem of late-Gothic design. The original stained-glass windows in the presbytery, destroyed during World War II, were replaced by six new ones in 1978-81, designed and partly made by Marc

Landing stage for boats on the Rhine

Chagall. Set against a beautiful blue background, they depict biblical scenes, including Abraham with the three travellers, the Patriarch pleading to God to spare the righteous in Sodom and Gomorrah, Jacob's dream, and Moses with the Tablets of the Ten Commandments.

The church interior contains many other interesting original features. The four large brass candelabra were cast in Mainz in 1509. The small polyptych depicting the Crucifixion dates from around 1400, while its movable wings were made some 100 years later. The niche below the tower contains the Holy Tomb (c.1450).

♠ Römersteine

Southeast of the University campus are the impressive remains of the Roman aqueduct, dating from the 1st century AD. The Zahlbach valley was a vantage point for the southwestern flank of the Roman camp, Castrum Moguntiacum, but it presented a major technical problem of supplying the camp with drinking water. The aqueduct was built by Roman engineers. Although some of its pillars were 23 m (75 ft) high, the present remains only reach up to 10 m (32 ft).

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map B5. M 190,000. Image: Image:

Environs

It is also worth making an excursion to Oppenheim, a centre of the wine trade 20 km (12 miles) to the south. The pride of this town is its Gothic Katharinenkirche, a church built of red sandstone in the 13th–14th centuries. The neighbouring hill and the ruins of Landskron castle provide the most spectacular view over the Rhine valley. The Weinbaumuseum, museum of viticulture, is also worth visiting.

Kaiserdom

Crucifix in the St Gotthard--Kapelle

The greatest attraction of Mainz is its superb cathedral, gleaming red in the sunshine. Together with those of Spever and Worms it is one of the only three Romanesque imperial cathedrals to have survived almost intact to this day. Its basic framework was laid out in 1081-1137 and 1183-1239, but its oldest parts date from the early 11th century, with the rows of Gothic side chapels added during the 13th and 14th centuries. Although neither the Gothic altars nor the magnificent choir screen have survived to this day, it. is still possible to see the large group of bishops' monuments from the 13th to the 19th century.

Two large and two

tioned on the ends

small towers are symmetrically posiof the cathedral.

Pulpit This Neo-Gothic pulpit was made in 1834 by Joseph Scholl. -

The late-Gothic portal, leading to the Romanesaue burial chapel of the cathedral canons, was made by Madern Gerthener, after 1425. _

Round

early 11th century.

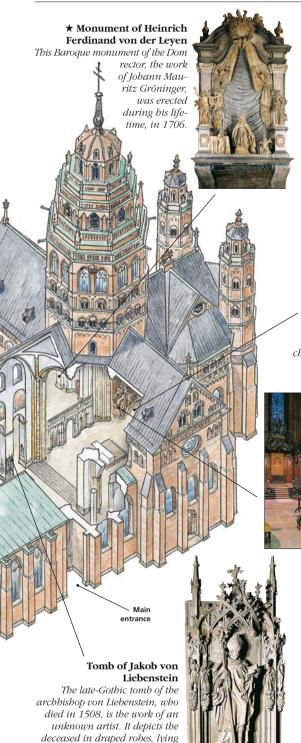

St Stephen's Choir staircase towers The Romanesque eastern choir, one are from the previous of the first parts to be built, is simpler building, built in the

in style than other parts of the cathedral.

For hotels and restaurants in this region see pp506-8 and pp545-7

M A I N Z 351

under an ornate canopy.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Bischöfliches Dom- und Diözesanmuseum Domstr. 3. Tel (06131) 25 33 44.

10am-5pm Tue—Sun.

www.dommuseum-mainz.de

St Martin's Choir The late-Romanesque western choir with its trefoil closing is an early 13th-century addition.

★ Stalls

These superb Rococo oak stalls encircle almost the entire presbytery. They were created by Franz Anton Hermann, who completed them in 1767.

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Monument of Heinrich Ferdinand von der Leyen
- ★ Stalls

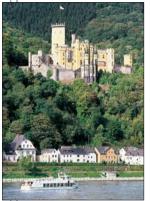

Siegen

Rhine Valley (Rheintal) 6

The Celts called it Renos the Romans Rhenus while to Germanic tribes it was the Rhein, or Vater Rhein. ("Father Rhine"), as it is known today. The source of this mighty, 1320-km (825-mile) long river is in Switzerland, from where it flows through Liechtenstein, Germany, Luxembourg and Holland, yet the Germans regard it as "their" river. The Rhine is steeped in many legends - it was into this river that Hagen von Tronie, faithful follower of King Gunther and slaver of Siegfried, threw the treasure of the Nibelungs, and Lohengrin's swan is said to appear Saarbrücken near the town of Kleve (see b388) to this day.

Stolzenfels 1

The existing castle complex has little in common with the original 13th-century fortress, which burned down in 1688. In the early 19th century, the ruins were bought by the future king Friedrich Wilhelm IV. The castle, designed by the famous Prussian architect Karl Friedrich Schinkel was built in 1833-45

> 0 kilometres 0 miles

Bonn

Kohlenz

Boppard (2)

Boppard's most famous sights are the remains of the Roman military camp of Bodobrica, the church of St Severus (12th–13th centuries), famous for its wall paintings, and the Medieval market square, built on the site of Roman hot baths. Michael Thonet, the creator of famous chairs made from bent wood, was born here in 1796.

TIPS FOR WALKERS

Length of the route: about 125 km (78 miles).

Stopping-off points: the best places to stop are Boppard or Bacharach, offering the widest choice of bars and restaurants. Further attractions: a boat trip on the Rhine river, from Koblenz to Mainz.

The town takes its name from Goar, an Aquitanian hermit who settled here in the mid-6th century. His burial place is in the magnificent 11thcentury crypt of the Stiftskirche (the parish church, which today is a Protestant church).

Rad Fms

Limburg

Marksburg ®

From 1117 this castle, which towers over the Rhine and the small town of Braubach, has been owned at different times by the you Braubachs and the powerful Epstein family. The Marksburg is the only castle along this stretch of the Rhine which has never been damaged.

Loreley (7)

The Loreley Rock, onto which many boats have been smashed by the strong currents, has been a source of inspiration for many poets. A 19th-century legend tells of a beautiful blonde combing her hair and luring unlucky sailors to their deaths with her song.

Pfalzgrafenstein (4)

In the middle of the Rhine River stands the proud and mighty fortress of Pfalzgrafenstein - one of the most beautifully situated castles in the Rhineland. Its origins date back to 1326, but its present shape is the result of Baroque refurbishments in the 17th-18th centuries.

Bacharach (5)

The town has a unique complex of historic buildings, with fortified town walls, the church of St Peter, the ruins of the Gothic chapel of St Werner, and Burg Stahleck - the castle towering over the town which today houses a youth hostel.

Burg Sooneck 6

In the 13th century, Sooneck castle was the home of various robber knights. The fortress fell into ruin in the late 17th century, due to frequent raids by the French. In the 19th century it was bought by the Hohenzollerns, who rebuilt the castle in its original form.

KEY

Motorway

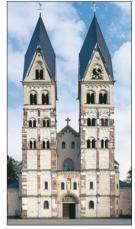

Kev text Scenic route

River

Viewpoint

Koblenz o

The name which the Romans gave to their camp in 9 BC – castrum ad confluentas, meaning the "camp at the confluence" – reflects the town's strategic importance, for it is here that the Mosel flows into the Rhine. From the Middle Ages until the 19th century, Koblenz was the seat of the powerful archbishop–electors of Trier. It was also the birthplace of Prince von Metternich, the 19th-century Austrian statesman. Today it is a modern metropolis which attracts many visitors, and is the main centre of the region's cultural life.

Romanesque twin-tower façade of the Basilika St Castor

■ Deutsches Eck Ludwig-Museum im Deutschherrenhaus. Danziger Freiheit 1. Tel (0261) 30 40 40. □ 10:30am-5pm Tue-Sat, 11am-6pm Sun & public hols. The "German corner" is the place where the Mosel flows into the Rhine. Here stands the enormous equestrian statue of Emperor Wilhelm I. Designed by Bruno Schmitz, it was erected in 1897, destroyed in World War II and replaced with a copy in 1993. The name refers to the complex of buildings known as Deutschherrenhaus belonging to the Order of Teutonic Knights. Only part of the three-wing residence of the Order's Commander, built in the early 14th century, has survived to this day. Following its refurbishment in 1992 the building now houses the Ludwig-Museum, with a collection of modern art (mainly German and French post-1945 artists) donated by Peter and Irene Ludwig.

♠ Basilika St Castor

Kastorstraße 7

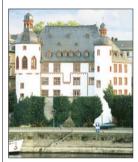

The collegial church of St Castor was built in 817-36 on the initiative of the archbishop of Trier, on a site previously occupied by an early Christian church. The treaty of Verdun, which divided the Carolingian Empire between the three sons of Ludwig I the Pious, was signed here in 843. The present appearance of the church is the result of extensions from the 11th-13th centuries. Inside are beautiful wall epitaphs of the Trier archbishops Kuno von Falkenstein (1388) and Werner von Königstein (1418), Also noteworthy is the pulpit dating from 1625.

The spur between the Mosel and the Rhine, called Deutsches Eck

Florinsmarkt

Mittelrhein-Museum Florinsmarkt 15-17 Tel (0261) 129 25 20 10:30am–5pm Tue–Sat 11am-6nm Sun This square takes its name from the Romanesque-Gothic church of St Florin, dating from the 12th and 14th centuries. The Mittelrheinisches Museum with its collection of archaeology and medieval art of the Central Rhine region occupies three historic buildings. The Kaufhaus in the centre, dates from 1419-25 and 1724. The image of a horse-rider shows the robber baron Johann von Kobem. beheaded in 1536, who now sticks his tongue out at passers-by every half hour. To its right stands the late-Gothic Schöffenhaus, and to its left is the Baroque Bürresheimer Hof from 1659-60

The Renaissance Alte Burg, now housing archives and a library

♣ Alte Burg

Burgstraße 1. In the Middle Ages, the powerful von Arken family had a fortified residence built for themselves in the northwestern section of the Roman fortifications. In 1277 it was taken over by Heinrich von Finstingen, the archbishop of Trier, who ordered its extension. The fortress was to protect him from the citizens of Koblenz who were striving for independence. Successive archbishops continued with the conversion of the building, which acquired its final shape in the 17th century. The eastern Renaissance façade of the complex is particularly attractive. Today it houses the municipal archives and parts of the library.

♠ Liebfrauenkirche

Florinspfaffengasse 14 Tel (0261) 315 50. 8am-6pm Mon-Sat 9am-12:30nm Sun At the highest point in the old town stands the Romanesque church of Our Dear Lady. Its history dates back to early Christian times. but its present form is the result of remodelling work carried out in 1182-1250. A triple-nave basilica with galleries. it has a twin-tower western facade. The beautiful, elongated Gothic choir was added

Statue of the

Madonna in Liebfrauenkirche

in 1404-30.

▲ Kurfürstliches Schloss

Neustadt.

Not far from the bridge across the Rhine stands the electoral palace, an example of the Rhineland's early Neo-Classical architecture. It was built. and for a short time occupied, by Clemens Wenzeslaus von Sachsen, the last of Trier's electors, Construction of the castle began in 1777, to a design prepared by Michael d'Ixnard, and continued until 1786, overseen by Antoine Francois Pevère the Younger.

M Festuna Ehrenhreitstein Landesmuseum Kohlenz

Tel (0261) 66 75 40 00 15 Mar-end Nov: 9:30am–5pm daily. On the opposite side of the Rhine stands the mighty fortress of Ehrenbreitstein one of the largest in the world. A smaller fortress was erected on this site in 1000, and extended in subsequent years by the archbishops and electors of Trier, who lived in this indomitable fortress from 1648 to 1786 Trier's holiest relic the Rock Christi (vestments of Christ) was kept here. The appearance of the fortress has not changed much since Prus-

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map B5. 🚯 109.300. 🖪 Bahnhofplatz 17 (0261-313 04): lesuitennlatz (0261-13 09 20) Internationale Musiktage (Mar/ Apr). Altstadtfest mit dem Fest der Stadtteile (Jun/Jul) Kohlenzer Gauklerfest (Iul) Rhein in Flammen (Aug), Schängelmarkt (Sep), Koblenzer Mendelssohn-Tage (autumn), www.koblenz.de sian days. It offers splendid views over Koblenz, the Rhine and the Mosel. Today. it is home to the Landesmuseum Koblenz (regional museum) with an interesting collection on the development of technology, and to the Rhein-Museum with hydrological collections. At Wambachstraße 204, in the same district is the house of Beethoven's mother

The Classical facade of the Kurfürstliches Schloss

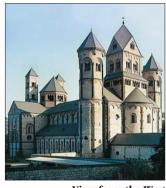

Maria Laach 🔊

Canital of a vestibule column

A true masterpiece of German and European Romanesque architecture the Maria Laach Abbey stands next to the Laacher See, a lake formed in the crater of an extinct volcano Its construction started in 1093 at the behest of Heinrich II who also lies buried here. Building continued from 1093 until 1220. Until secularization in 1802, the Abbev was the home of the Benedictines. Since 1892 the church has once again been resounding with Gregorian chants. which are sung here several times a day.

View from the West

The monumental western facade of the abbev consists of a semicircular abse. a massive. sauare 43-m (141-ft) tall central tower. and two slim 35-m (115-ft) tall flanking towers

★ Tomb of Heinrich II

The tomb of the Count Palatine Heinrich II. who died in 1095. dates from about 1280. His effigy has been reproduced in a magnificent walnut wood block, which to this day has kept its original colours.

The lion fountain, which adorns the atrium, was made in 1928. It was modelled on the famous Albambra fountain in Granada, Spain.

> Main entrance

Detail from a Column Capital

The western entrance is surrounded by columns with interesting capitals. Carved figures can be seen, including that of a devil recording the sins of each entrant and others which are pulling each other's hair out.

the courtyard, is meant to symbolize the Garden of Eden.

Church The "Paradise". entrance

For hotels and restaurants in this region see pp506-8 and pp545-7

Mosaics

The interior is decorated with paintings and mosaics created over centuries by artists of the Beuronese School. In the main eastern apse is a mosaic of Christ the Ruler dating from 1911.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

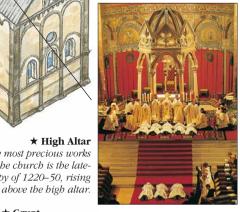

Road map B5. 5 6032 from Niedermendig or Mayen, 6031 from Andernach Tel (02652) 590 8:30-11:30am, 1-4:30pm dailv. Crvpt – information by video show. 🚻 🗖 🖺 www.maria-laach.de

Stained-glass Windows

Three vast stained-glass windows in the main eastern apse were made by a contemporary artist, W. Rupprecht, in 1956.

★ High Altar Among the most precious works preserved in the church is the late-Romanesque canopy of 1220-50, rising

★ Crypt

The vaults of the exquisite early-Romanesque crypt are supported by austere square capitals. This is also the restingplace of Gilbert, the first abbot at Maria Laach.

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Tomb of Heinrich II
- ★ High Altar
- ★ Crypt

HESSE

esse lies in the very heart of present-day Germany. Scattered over the region are reminders of its former glory: Roman camps, Carolingian buildings, Romanesque churches and Gothic cathedrals with lofty spires. Territorial partitions, so typical of the former German Reich, brought about the blossoming of art and architecture during the Renaissance and the Baroaue eras.

A post-World War II creation, the borders of this federal state roughly approximate those of its 13th-century forerunner. For most of its history, Hesse was divided between Hesse-Darmstadt and Hesse-Kassel.

Today, when admiring the distinctive panorama of Frankfurt am Main – its towering banks and skyscrapers more reminiscent of New York's Manhattan than of a European metropolis – it is hard to believe that this was the birthplace of Goethe. The importance of this city extends far beyond Hesse: it is the financial centre of the European Union, and its annual Book Fair is the largest event of its kind in the world.

Darmstadt became famous as a centre for Jugendstil (Art Nouveau) early in the 20th century. Wiesbaden is the seat of Hesse's state government, and Marburg is one of the best-known university towns. In the 16th century, at the times of fierce religious feuds, the first Protestant university was built here. The Church of St Elizabeth is one of the earliest examples of Gothic architecture in the region. Lovers of modern art will know of Kassel – every five years it hosts the documenta, an exciting exhibition of artistic developments.

He sse has much more to offer. The Waldecker Land, near Kassel, boasts the Eder lake and attractive health resorts. Eberbach in the picturesque Rheingau, the wine-growing area around Eltville, has a well-preserved former Cistercian abbey, which has been used as a film setting.

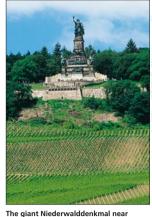

Park and Baroque Orangery of the palace complex in Fulda

Eltville, situated in the Rheingau, one of Germany's most important wine-producing regions, is famous for its Riesling wine. Frankfurt am Main, known around the world as a great financial and commercial centre, also has fantastic museums, drawing visitors with their outstanding art collections, while the International Book Fair is a true paradise for readers and bookworms. In the 19th century, wealthy socialites chose Bad Homburg as their favourite spa, while the romantic town of Marburg still has the lively atmosphere of a university town.

The Dom in Limburg, overlooking the Lahn river

Rüdesheim

SIGHTS AT A GLANCE

Alsfeld
Bad Homburg
Darmstadt
Eltville
Frankfurt am Main
pp374–5
Fritzlar
Fritzlar
Gießen
Kassel pp364–5

Kassel pp364–5
Kassel pp364–5

Limburg ①
Lorsch ②
Marburg ③
Michelstadt ③
Rüdesheim ⑤
Weilburg ④
Wetzlar ③
Wiesbaden ③

Excursions
Waldecker Land ③

RÜDESHEIM

Gross-Gerau

LORSCH 18

Viernheim

17 DARMSTADT

III 1 III

Bensheim

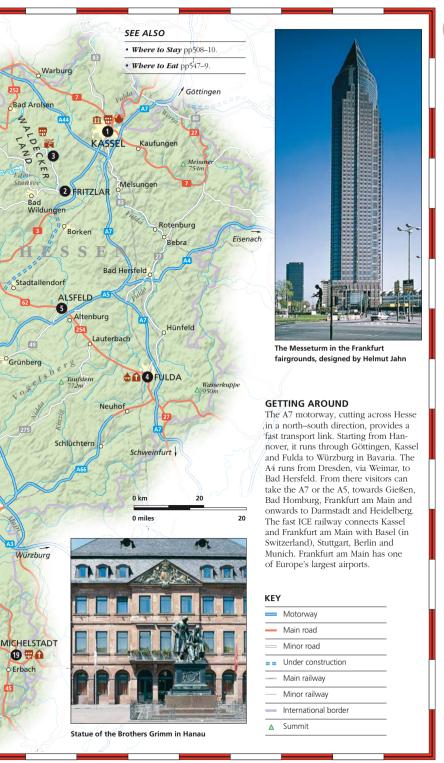

Heidelberg

Dortmund

Korbach

Kiedrich (1)

HESSE 363

Kassel o

The cultural, scientific and commercial centre of northern Hesse, Kassel suffered severe damage during World War II due to the armaments industries based here, and much of the town has been rebuilt in functional 1950s style. Today, Kassel has become synonymous with one of the most important shows of contemporary art – documenta – held here every five years (the 13th documenta is scheduled for 2012). The town is equally famous for its outstanding collection of European art, housed in the splendid Schloss Wilhelmshöhe, as well as for its parks and gardens, especially the large forest-park adjoining the castle.

17th-century cameo-decorated tureen in the Landesmuseum

ff Hessisches Landesmuseum

Brüder-Grimm-Platz 5. Tel (0561) 316 800. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. 1 May, 24, 25, 31 Dec. (free Fri.) Outstanding items in the Neo-Baroque Hesse Regional Museum, built in 1910–13, are the astronomical instruments, originally installed in 1560 in a landgrave's castle, which no longer exists. The ethnographic section has displays of Hessian folk costumes and regional craft items.

The Landesmuseum also houses one of Europe's most unusual museums: the fascinating Tapetenmuseum

Wallpaper (1670–80), in the Tapetenmuseum

(wallpaper museum). Established in 1923, the museum presents the history of wallpaper and the methods of its production around the world. The collection includes examples of leather wall coverings (cordovans) and wallpapers representing Secession and Art-Deco styles as well as the "world's literature on wallpaper". Vues de Suisse (views of Switzerland). dating from 1802, is one of the earliest examples of scenic wallpaper. It was printed using 95 different inks and 1,024 wooden blocks. Equally famous is the panoramic Rénaud et Armide, from the workshop of Joseph Dufours, printed in 1828 using 2,386 wooden blocks.

Ⅲ Neue Galerie

Schöne Aussicht 1. Tel (0561) 316 80 400. ☐ 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. ☐ 24, 25 8 26 Dec. ☑ (free Fri.) Closed for renoration until 2009. The New Gallery, founded in 1976 and devoted to 19th-and 20th-century art, occupies a Neo-Classicist building from 1871–4. The gallery's collection includes a number of canvases by artists such as Carl Schuch, Max Slevogt and Lovis Corinth.

The splendid collection of 20th-century paintings focuses on German Expressionism. An entire room is also devoted to the installations of the controversial sculptor and performance artist Joseph Beuys.

20 33. ☐ 10am-5pm daily (until 8pm Wed). ☐ 1 Jan, Good Friday, 24, 25, 31 Dec. ☐ 1 Next to the New Gallery is the small Schloss Bellevue, built in 1714 by Paul du Ry. Although brothers Jacob and Wilhelm Grimm were born in Hanau, they lived in Kassel from 1798 until 1830, and in 1960 a museum devoted to the lives and work of the famous fairy-tale tellers and philologers was opened, containing many first editions.

An illustration for Cinderella, one of the Grimm fairy-tales

T Kunsthalle Frideri-

Friedrichsplatz 18. Tel (0561) 707 27 20. 11am-6pm Wed-Sun. Mon-Tue. 166 Königsplatz and Friedrichsplatz were designed by the court architect, Simon Louis du Ry. The northwestern side of the latter is occupied by the Neo-Classical Fridericianum. built by du Ry in 1769-76. Its founder, Landgrave Friedrich II, had always intended it to be a museum, and it became the second public museum (after the British Museum in London) to be built in Europe. and the first one on the European mainland. Since 1955. the Fridricianum has been the main venue for Kassel's multimedia contemporary art show the documenta, which every five years takes over the entire city. An additional exhibition hall, the Documentahalle, was opened in 1992, in the nearby Staatstheater.

The Ottoneum, home of the first

S Ottoneum

Steinweg 2. Naturkundemuseum Tel (0561) 787 40 60. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun (until 8pm Wed). The Ottoneum (1604–5), built for Landgrave Maurice the Learned, was Germany's first permanent theatre. Designed by Wilhelm Vernukken and remodelled in the late 17th century by Paul du Ry, it was converted into a natural history museum in 1885.

Orangerie

An der Karlsaue 20c. Tel (0561) 316 80 500. Museum für Astronomie und Technikgeschichte 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. 24, 25, 31 Dec. 2eiss-Planetarium 2pm Tue, Sat, 2 & 8pm Thu, 3pm Wed, Fri, Sun. (free Fri.)

home to Karlsaue, a vast palace and garden complex named after its founder. Landgrave Karl. The site was earlier occupied by a small Renaissance Schloss (1568). surrounded by a garden. In 1702–10 Pierre-Etienne Monnot built the large Orangery. which now houses a museum of astronomy and technology. Monnot is also the creator of Marmorbad, a bath pavilion from 1722, while the kitchen pavilion was designed by Simon Louis du Ry in 1765.

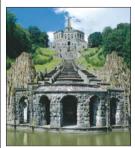

₩ Wilhelmshöhe

Gemäldegalerie Alter Meister Schloss Wilhelmshöhe. Tel (0561) 31 68 00. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. ■ 1 May, 24, 25, 31 Dec. 🚳 At the top of Wilhelmshöher Allee, designed in 1781, stands Wilhelmshöhe, a magnificent palace and park. The palace is situated along the axis of the avenue that runs up the hill, through a long forest glade. The original intention was to fill it with a series of cascades, but only a few of these were ever built. At the top of the hill is the Octogon, crowned with the statue of Hercules, the symbol of the town. The palace was designed by Simon Louis du Ry and

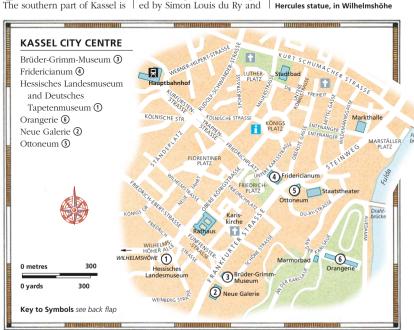

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map C4. 1195,000. Hauptbahnhof, Bahnhof Wilhelmshöhe. 110 Obere Königsstraße 8 (0561-707 71 64). 110 documenta (every 5 years, next to be held in 2012), Zissel (Aug), Museumsnacht (Sep), Kasseler Musiktage (Nov).

Heinrich Christoph Jussow and built in 1793–1801 for the Elector Wilhelm. Now it houses the Gemäldegalerie Alte Meister with its outstanding collection of European masters including paintings by Rubens, Titan, Rembrandt, Dürer and Poussin. There is a large and attractive park.

Cascades, with Octogon and Hercules statue, in Wilhelmshöhe

Fritzlar 2

Road map C4. 15,500. Kasseler Straße. Rathaus, Zwischen den Krämen 5 (05622-98 86 43). Pferdemarkt (Jul), Stadtfest (Aug).

The beautiful town of Fritzlar has preserved its original. nearly complete ring of medieval walls with watchtowers, bastions and over 450 halftimbered houses from various periods. In the early 8th century. St Boniface, the apostle of Germany, had the holy oak of the Germanic god Donar. which grew here, cut down to build a Christian chapel. In 724 he founded the Benedictine Dom (abbey of St Peter). In 1118 the original church was replaced by a cruciform, vaulted basilica with a triplenave crypt, and this was remodelled in the 13th and 14th centuries. Adjacent to the church is a lovely 14th-century ambulatory. The church interior is rich in historic treasures. The east wall of the transept is decorated with wall paintings from c.1320, and the south nave includes a Pietà (1300) The 14th-century parish church of the Franciscan Order nearby has a lovely painting of the Madonna, on the northern wall of the choir.

In Fritzlar's picturesque old town stands the Rathaus (town hall), whose lower floors date from the 12th century, while the upper ones were added in the 15th century. The exquisite Hochzeitshaus (wedding house), in the street of the same name, is a Renaissance half-timbered house, built in 1580-90. which now houses a museum. Another interesting sight is the Alte Brücke, a 13th-century stone bridge spanning the Eder River.

Relief of St Martin, on the walls of the Rathaus in Fritzlar

Waldecker Land 3

The Waldecker land, situated west of Kassel, was once an independent county and later, until 1929, a free state within the German Reich. Today this region, with its Eder-Stausee (reservoir), is one of the most attractive tourist regions in Germany. The wooded hills provide a perfect setting for long rambles, the roads and tracks are ideally suited for cycling tours and the rivers and lakes permit visitors to practise a wide variety of watersports.

Korbach ②
Korbach is a beautiful old town with many half-timbered houses. Worth seeing are the Gothic church of St Kilian with its interesting 14th-century pulpit, and the church of St Nicholas, with the Baroque tomb of Georg Friedrich von Waldeck (1692).

Paderhorn

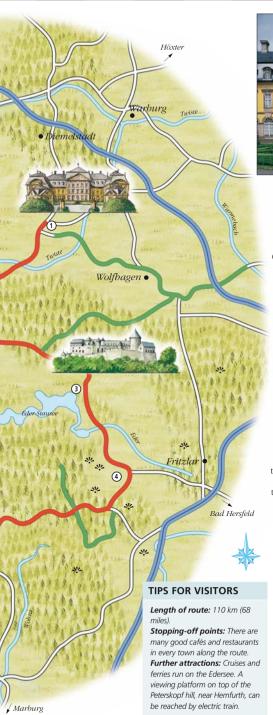

Frankenberg ③
This small town is brimming with half-timbered houses.
The town hall (1509), also half-timbered, has humorous polychrome wood-carvings.
The Gothic Marienkirche with its 15th-century wall paintings is also worth visiting.

0 km 10 0 miles 10

Motorway
Suggested route
Scenic road
Other road
River, lake

Viewpoint

H E S S E 367

Bad Arolsen (1)

Both the sculptor Christian Daniel Rauch and the painter Wilhelm von Kaulbach were born in this spa town, and they are commemorated in two museums. The star attraction, however, is the Baroque castle (1713–28) of the von Waldeck family, designed by Julius Ludwig Rothweil.

Waldeck ③

The old fortress of Waldeck is now a hotel. It offers superb views over the Eder-Stausee reservoir and the small town of Waldeck with its 18th-century half-timbered houses. The Gothic town church has a high altar (c.1500), devoted to the Virgin Mary.

Bad Wildungen 4

This popular spa town has many charming half-timbered houses. The church has a priceless altar painted with scenes of the Passion by Konrad von Soest (1403).

Projecting gate of the Baroque Stadtschloss in Fulda

Fulda 4

Road map C5. 60,000. Bonifatiusplatz 1 (0661-1 02 18 14).

Fulda's history began in March 744, when Sturmius, a pupil of St Boniface, laid the foundation stone for the Benedictine abbey. Ten years later the body of St Boniface. who had been murdered by Frisian pagans, was laid to rest here. The town, which grew around the abbey. experienced its hevday during the Baroque period, and a new Baroque building, designed by Johann Dientzenhofer, was built in 1704-12 on the foundations of the old abbey. The Dom St Salvator und Bonifatius is a triple-nave. basilica with a dome above the nave intersection, a monumental eastern facade and a shrine with the saint's relics under the high altar, in the western section.

Opposite the cathedral stands the Stadtschloss (former episcopal palace), a shoe-shaped edifice, built by Johann Dientzenhofer and Andreas Gallasini, with richly decorated Baroque and Rococo interiors. Particularly noteworthy are the Kaisersaal (imperial hall) on the ground floor, the magnificent Mondsaal (moon chamber, formerly the ballroom) and the charming Rococo-style Spiegelsaal (chamber of mirrors) on the first floor. Today, some of the palace chambers hold an impressive collection of porcelain. The palace complex includes a large landscaped garden and an orangery, which houses a café.

THE BROTHERS GRIMM

The two brothers are known around the world as collectors of German folk-tales, which were first published in 1812 and subsequently translated into most languages. Fairy-tales such as Hänsel and Gretel, Cinderella and Little Red Riding Hood have been favourites for generations of children. Above all, however, the brothers were scholars. In his German Grammar, published in 1819, Jacob Grimm proved that all German dialects sprang from a common origin, and thus laid the foundations of German philology. The Grimm Brothers also initiated the publication of the Dictionary of the German Language.

To the north of the Dom stands the round Michaels-kirche, a Carolingian chapel dating from 822, one of the oldest church buildings in Germany. Inside the church has a ring of eight columns and a crypt supported by a single column. The circular gallery, the long side nave and the western tower are 11th-century additions.

Other interesting sights in Fulda are the Baroque Heilig-Geist-Kirche (church of the Holy Spirit), built in 1729–33 by Andreas Gallasini, and the late-18th century parish church of St Blasius. In the 8th century, five abbeys were established on the four hills surrounding the town. On Petersberg stands the former Benedictine Peterskirche, from the 9th–15th centuries, with a Carolingian crypt.

Inside the church is one of Germany's oldest wall paintings, dating from 836–47.

Alsfeld 6

The first historic records of Alsfeld date from the late 9th century. Today the town attracts visitors with its pretty old town with numerous 16th–17th century half-timbered houses. On the eastern side of the town square stands a grand late-Gothic Rathaus (town hall), built in 1512–16, and one of the finest examples of half-timbered structures

Half-timbered houses in Alsfeld anywhere in Germany. Other interesting features in the market square are the stone Weinhaus, with its distinctive stepped gable (1538), and the Renaissance Hochzeitshaus (wedding house), dating from 1565. Oposite the town hall stands the Stumpfhaus (1609), its façade beautifully decorated with wood carvings and paintings. From the town hall runs the picturesque Fulder Gasse, with the Gothic parish church Walpurgiskirche (13th-15th centuries), which has 15th-century wall paintings. In Rossmarkt stands the former Augustian Dreifaltigkeitskirche (church of the Holy Trinity), from the 13th=15th centuries. It was from here that in 1522 the monk Tile-Detail on the Ratmann Schnabel began haus, in Marburg to spread the Reformation in Alsfeld. The 18th-2km (1 mile) from Alsfeld, enjoys a hilltop position.

Marburg 6

Road map C4. M 80,000. Pipigrimstein 26 (06421-991 20). Maieinsingen (30 Apr), 3-Tage Marburg (Jul), Elisabethmarkt (Oct), Weihnachtsmarkt (Dec).

century castle in Altenburg,

When in 1248 the county of Hesse broke away from Thuringia, Marburg became one of the most important seats of the landgraves. The first landgrave, Heinrich II. lived in the castle that towers over the town. The town's history is inseparably linked with the 13thcentury figure of Elisabeth of Thuringia, wife of Ludwig IV, who devoted her life to the poor and died here. In 1527, Philipp the Magnanimous founded the first Protestant university in the Reich at Marburg. He also instigated the first Marburg Colloquy in 1529, to unify the Protestant faith. The "articles" presented by Martin Luther to Melanchthon and Zwingli later formed the basis for the Augsburg

Creed. Today, Marburg is a picturesque university town. A tour of the town should start from the Elisabethkirche, at the bottom of the hill. Built in 1235–83, it is (after Trier) Germany's second purely Gothic church. There is a large set of Gothic altars from the early 16th century, including the altars of St Elisabeth (1513) and of the Holy Family (1511). Next to the porth choir entrance stands the statue of St Elisabeth with a model of the church (1480) The choir contains the tomb of the Saint. positioned under the baldachin (c.1280). The vestry houses the greatest treasure, the reliquary of St Elisaheth (1235–49). In the south choir is an interesting group of monuments to the Hessian landgraves.

from the 13th-16th centuries. The Universitätsmuseum für Rildanda Kunst holds a collection of paintings produced after 1500, with a predominance of 19th- and 20thcentury German artists, Around the market square stands a group of historic, half-timbered houses from the 14th-17th centuries, Particularly pretty are the Sonne (sun. No. 14), the Stiefel (boot, No. 17) and the house at No. 19. The Steinhaus (stone house, No. 18), built in 1318, is the oldest in Marburg, along with that at No. 13 Hirschgasse. At No. 16

The Gothic portal of the Elisabethkirche in Marburg

above the town (287 m/942 ft above the sea) towers the Landgrafenschloss, the landgraves' castle dating from the 10th–16th centuries. The two-storey Fürstenbau (dukes' building) has a large ducal chamber, dating from 1330. The Wilhelmsbau was built in 1492–8. It houses a museum of sacral art with mementoes of the debate between Luther, Zwingli and Melanchthon.

♠ Elisabethkirche

Elisabethstraße. Tel (06421) 655 73. Apr–Sep: 9am–6pm; Oct: 10am–5pm; Nov–Mar: 10am–4pm.

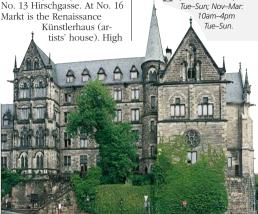

① Universitätsmuseum für Bildende Kunst

Biegenstraße 11. Tel (06421) 282 58 71. 11am–1pm & 2–5pm Tue–Sun.

♣ Landgrafenschloss und Universitätsmuseum für Kulturgeschichte im Wilhelmsbau

Schloss 1. Tel (06421) 282 54 31.

Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm

The Alte Universität (old university) in Marburg

Road map C4. A 72,000. Refliper Platz 2 (0641-194 33).

Giessen was granted town status in 1248, and in 1607 it acquired its university. In Brandplatz stands the partially reconstructed Altes Schloss (old palace), dating from the 14th–15th centuries. Now the home of the Oberhessisches Museum, it holds a large collection of art dating from the Gothic period to today.

The Botanischer Garten is one of Germany's oldest botanical gardens, established in 1609 for the purposes of scientific research. To the north of it stands the Neues Schloss (new palace), built in 1533-9 for Landgrave Philipp the Magnanimous. It miraculously escaped damage when the town was bombed in 1944. The Wallenfelssches Haus nearby houses interesting ethnological collections. The only remaining part of the Gothic Pfarrkirche St Pankratius, which was almost completely destroyed in 1944, is its tower, dating from 1500.

At No. 2 Georg-Schlosser-Straße is the Burgmannenhaus, an attractive half-timbered mansion dating from

Portal of the Altes Schloss in Gießen

Along with the old stable block in Dammstraße, it is the only half-timbered building that has survived to this day.

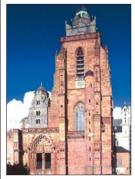

Wetzlar 8

Road map C5. A 54,000. D Domplatz 8 (06441-997 750).

Occupying a picturesque spot on the banks of the Lahn river. Wetzlar is overlooked by the ruins of the 12th-century Kalsmunt fortress. It was built for the Emperor Friedrich I Barbarossa (1122-90). Only parts of the tower remain intact. The Dom (Collegiate Church of St Mary) was begun in 897 but by the late 15th century had only been partly completed. The splendid western double portal has remained unusable for the last 500 vears although the iconography of the tympanum was finished. the stairs leading to the entrance were never built. If they had been built, they would have led not to the church's nave but to a courtvard Wetzlar's Dom is a rare perhaps even unique surviving example of the typical appearance of most European churches in the mid-15th century. Inside the church are several interesting historic artifacts, including the statue of the Madonna on the Moon Crescent (mid-15th century) and a late-Renaissance Crucifixion.

In 1772, the young Johann Wolfgang von Goethe spent three months in Wetzlar working as an apprentice at the court of appeal. During this time he fell in love with Charlotte Buff, called Lotte, who was engaged to one of Goethe's friends. The Lottehaus, her former home, has a collection of items relating to Goethe and Lotte. It was the suicide of a friend, Karl Wilhelm Jerusalem, who lived in the 18th-century Jerusalemhaus at No. 5 Schillerplatz, that inspired Goethe to write his tragic novel, The Sorrows of Young Werther (1774). Jerusalem had suffered unrequited love, just like Goethe. The novel, which was published two years later, made Goethe famous around Europe, but it also unwittingly led many young men to commit suicide.

The Gothic south tower of the Road map B5. A 13,500. A 13,500. Mauerstraße 6 (06471-76 71).

Weilburg eniovs a particularly scenic location in a bend of the Lahn River. The town is dominated by the maiestic Renaissance-Baroque Schloss of the Nassau-Weilburg family. The monumental castle complex was created in stages. Its main section dates from the Renaissance era: the east wing was built in 1533-9; the south and west wings in 1540-48 and the west tower in 1567. The northern part of the palace was completed in 1570-73. In the late-17th century, various Baroque additions were made, mainly to the interior of the castle. The 16th-century furnishings show the rich ornamentation typical of the German Renaissance. The Obere Orangerie (upper orangery), built in 1703-5 and today used for temporary exhibitions, and the Hofkirche (castle church), dating from 1707-13, are the work of Ludwig Rothweil. Terraces lead from the castle to the Lahn river, which is crossed by an 18th-century stone bridge. In Frankfurtstraße stands the Heiliggrabkapelle (Chapel of the Holy Sepulchre), dating from 1505.

Limburg 0

Road map B5. (31,000. 14) Hospitalstraße 2 (06431-61 66).

Limburg's history dates back to the 8th century. In 1821, the town became the see of a newly created diocese.

The Dom (collegiate cathedral church of St George) towers high above the Lahn river. This monumental building, whose style combines late-Romanesque and early French-Gothic, was erected in 1190-1250. Its well-proportioned interior contains a rich variety of historic artifacts including some 13th-century wall paintings in the presbytery and the transept, a font dating from the same period and the tombstone of Konrad Kurzbold, who founded the first church on this site

To the south of the Dom stands the Burg (castle), an irregular structure built in the 13th–16th centuries. It houses the interesting Diözesan-museum (Diocese museum).

Limburg has many original examples of beautiful half-timbered buildings. The houses at No. 1 Römerstraße, No. 6 Kolpingstraße, No. 4 Kleine Rütsche and No. 11

Romanesque–Gothic wall paintings in the Dom in Limburg

Kornmarkt date from the last decade of the 13th century. Near the 14th-century Alte Lahnbrücke (old Lahn bridge), with its defensive towers, stands a mansion belonging to the Cistercians of Eberbach. The post-Franciscan Sebastiankirche (church of St Sebastian) dates from the 14th and 18th centuries.

Bad Homburg 0

Road map C5. [52,000. [54]  Kurhaus, Louisenstraße 58 (06172-17 81 10). [56] Fugato (Sepevery two years – the next is in 2009), Laternenfest (Sep yearly).

Bad Homburg grew up around a fortress whose earliest records date back to 1180. Friedrich II von Hessen-Homburg initiated the conversion of the medieval castle into the Schloss, a Baroque palace built in 1678–86. It features a magnificent Festsaal (ballroom) and Spiegelkabinett (hall of mirrors). The only part of the former complex remaining today is the 14th-century Weißer Turm (white tower). Following the annexation of Hesse-Homburg by Prussia in 1866, the palace became the favourite summer residence of the royal then (from 1871) imperial family.

Along with Baden-Baden and Wiesbaden, Homburg was one of Germany's most fashionable spas, and today the town reflects its former splendour. The Kurpark, a landscaped park established in 1854–67, was designed by Peter Joseph Lenné.

The Spielbank (1838), in Brunnenallee claims to be the oldest casino in the world. Built in 1887–90, the Kaiser-Wilhelm-Bad is still used as the main bath complex for therapeutic treatments. An Orthodox chapel, designed by Leonti Nikolayevich Benois for the Russian Orthodox nobility, was finished in 1899.

Environs

Saalburg, 7 km (4 miles) to the northwest, has a Roman fortress, which was completely reconstructed in 1898–1901. The fortress formed part of the limes, the fortified border that separated the Roman Empire from its Germanic neighbours in the 1st to 3rd century AD.

The grand edifice of the Kaiser-Wilhelm-Bad in the Kurpark, Bad Homburg

Eltville @

Road map B5. A 17,000. Rheingauerstr. 28 (06123-90 98 0). Biedermeier- und Sektfest (Jul).

In the 2nd century, the area that is now the old town was a Roman latifundium, a large agricultural estate. In 1332, Eltville was granted town status. Part of the Mainz diocese, it is today known for its excellent sparkling wine.

In 1337–45 the Burg (castle) was extended at the request of Archbishop Heinrich von Virneburg. The east wing of the castle was added in 1682–3 by Giovanni Angelo Barell. The only part of it remaining today is the five-storey residential tower; the rest of the building is a picturesque ruin. In the tower are original 14th-century wall paintings and friezes

The twin-naved Pfarrkirche St Peter und St Paul (parish church) was built in 1350–1430. The vestibule has well-preserved wall paintings (1405) showing scenes from the Last Judgement. The town boasts several attractive mansions, including Hof Langenwerth von Simmern (1773), Stockheimer Hof (1550) and Gräflich-Eltzscher Hof (16th–17th century).

The Baroque Biebrich Palace, south of Wiesbaden growth of the town as a spa resort in the 19th century, laid the foundations for its lasting prosperity. Today, the town is still dominated by large-scale developments carried out in the spirit and style of Classicism and Historicism.

The Stadtschloss (municipal castle), today the seat of the state parliament, was built in 1835–41. In Schlossplatz the Neo-Renaissance Markt-kirche, built in 1853–62, soars e, built in 1853–62, soars above the town's other buildings.

Duildings.

In front of the church stands a statue of Wilhelm I the Great von Nassau-Oranien.

The oldest building in the town is the

Altes Rathaus
(old town hall),

dating from 1610. In Wilhelmstraße is the imposing Neo-Renaissance and Neo-Baroque Hessisches Staatstheater (state theatre). It was built in 1892–4 for Kaiser Wilhelm II to the designs of the theatre architects Fellner and Helmer. Adjacent to the Marktkirche is the attractive Kurhauskolonnade (spa house colonnade). It was erected in 1825 and is the longest colonnade in Europe. The early 20th-century Kurhaus (spa house) itself, with its grand façade and portico, is the work of Friedrich Thiersch. Inside is the original Spielbank (casino), where Fyodor Dostoyevsky and Richard Wagner tried their luck at the tables

To the south of the town centre stands Schloss Biebrich where the counts von Nassau-Usingen resided until the early 19th century, when they moved to the newly built palace in the town centre. The Schloss was built in stages during the 18th century. The north pavilion was built first, in 1700, followed nine years later by the south pavilion. The wings, which ioin the two pavilions, and the central rotunda were added during the first two decades of the 18th century. Finally, the two external wings were added in 1734-44, creating an overall horseshoe layout. The interior is richly furnished, predominantly in Baroque-Rococo style.

On the northern outskirts of the town is a large hill, the Neroberg, whose summit can be reached by funicular railway. At the top is the so-called Griechische Kapelle (Greek chapel). Built in 1847–55 by Philipp Hoffmann, it served as a mausoleum for Princess Elisabeth von Nassau, the niece of Alexander I Tsar of Russia, who died young.

Wiesbaden @

Road map C5. May 270,000. Markstr. 6 (0611-172 97 80). Markstr. 6 (may), Internationale Maifestspiele (May), Theatrium (Jun).

Wiesbaden is the modern capital of Hesse. Highly valued as a spa by the Romans, who exploited the healing properties of its waters, the town grew from a small settlement known as aquae mattiacorum after the Germanic tribe of the Mattiacs. In 1774 the Nassau-Usingen family chose Wiesbaden as their residence. This, as well as the subsequent rapid

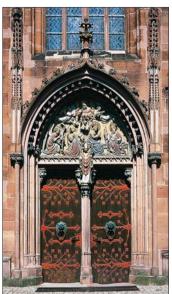

The attractive façade of Hessisches Staatstheater in Wiesbaden

Crest of the Hessische Staats-weingüter-Vinothek, in Eltville

H E S S E 373

The ornate Gothic portal of Pfarrkirche St Valentin, in Kiedrich

Kiedrich @

Road map B5. A 3,400. A Markstr. 27 (06123-90 50 11).

The earliest recorded mention of Kiedrich was in the mid-10th century, in a document produced by the Archbishop Friedrich of Mainz. One of the town's main attractions is the Pfarrkirche St Valentin, a gem of Gothic architecture. The church was built in stages, beginning with the main hall (1380-90). The west tower was added in the early 15th century and the light, lofty choir in 1451-81. Some time later the central nave was raised to the level of the choir, creating a row of galleries above the aisles, and at the same time the magnificent star vaults were created. The whole project was financed from donations made by countless pilgrims who came to pray to the relics of St Valentine, kept here since 1454. A statue of the saint adorns the western portal. The early 15th-century tympanum depicts the Annunciation (on the left) and the Coronation of the Virgin Mary (on the right); above is an image of God the Father giving His Blessing, with two archangels playing musical instruments. Inside the church harbours an incredible wealth of ancient art treasures The high altar and St Catherine's altar in the south aisle date from the late-Renaissance period. The magnificent Gothic stalls were created in 1510, while the church organ is one of the oldest in Germany, with pipes made in 1310. Next to the parish church stands a late-Gothic. two-storey funeral chapel built in 1445

Kiedrich has several interesting old mansion houses, such as the Schwalbacher Hof (1732). The Rathaus (town hall) is evocative of the late-Gothic style, although it was built much later (1585–6).

Environs

Five km (3 miles) west of Kiedrich, in Oestrich, is Kloster Eberbach, a former Cistercian abbey. This vast complex, built between the 12th and 14th centuries, was once home to nearly 300 monks and is one of the bestpreserved medieval monasteries in Germany. The church interior provided the setting for some of the scenes in the film The Name of the Rose, based on the novel by Umberto Eco. The Cistercians used to have their own vineyards here, and today the abbey buildings are used by the Hessian Wine Co-operative to press, ferment, store and sell Eberbacher Steinberg, a famous white Rheingau wine.

A short way to the west, in Winkel, stands the Baroque castle of Reichardshausen, which in the early 19th century was the home of Princess Luise von Nassau.

A Kloster Eberbach

Rüdesheim 6

Road map B5. 10,000. Geographic Geisenheimerstr. 22 (06722-194 33). Fireworks (Jul), Weinfest (Aug).

Rüdesheim, enjoying a picturesque location on the banks of the Rhine, has a long history going back to Roman times. The town is famous for its main street, the Drosselgasse, which is lined with countless wine bars and shops. There are also the remains of three castles: the Boosenburg, the Vorderburg and the 12th-century Brömserburg, which also houses a wine museum.

Rüdesheim also has several historic mansions, including the half-timbered Brömserhof (1559) with a collection of musical instruments, and the early 16th-century Klunkhardshof. Above the town towers the Niederwalddenkmal, a statue of Germania, 10.5 m (34 ft) high, built to commemorate victory in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870-71, which resulted in German unification. The monument affords excellent views of Bingen and the Rhine valley.

Gabled and half-timbered houses in Drosselgasse, in Rüdesheim

Frankfurt am Main 6

Frankfurt, nicknamed "Mainhattan" and "Chicago am Main" because of its skyscrapers, is one of the main economic and cultural centres of both Germany and Europe. The headquarters of many major banks and newspaper publishers are based here, including those of the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, one of Europe's most influential newspapers. The city's International Book Fair is the world's largest event of its kind. Goethe was born in Frankfurt, and the Johann-Wolfgang-Goethe-Universität is one of Germany's most famous universities. The city also boasts magnificent art collections.

The Neo-Renaissance facade of the Alte Oper

Alte Oper

Opernplatz 8. Tel (069) 134 04 00. The monumental old opera house stands near the Stock Exchange, Built in 1872-80, it was completely burned down during World War II. Subsequently rebuilt, it is today used as a conference centre. Its facade and decorations are a fine imitation of the Italian Renaissance style.

Eschenheimer Turm

Große Eschenheimer Straße The Eschenheimer Turm, at the corner of Hochstraße. presents a silhouette typical of old Frankfurt, A relic of the medieval town's fortifications, it was designed by Klaus Mengoz; construction began in 1400 and was completed in 1428 by Madern Gerthener. The facade of the tower features many attractive bay windows; it also has two reliefs depicting eagles, the symbol of the German empire and the city of Frankfurt.

₩ Börse

Börsenplatz.

According to historical records, local merchants founded the town's first Stock Exchange in 1558. The new building, designed by Heinrich Burnitz and Oskar Sommer, was erected in 1864-79. It has been used again by stockbrokers since 1957, and is open to the public. Like the old opera house, the stock exchange is designed in Neo-

Renaissance style.

Putti with model ship, at the front of the Börse

Hauptwache

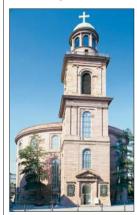

An der Hauptwache. Built in 1730, the Hauptwache was originally a guardhouse. Later it was turned into a prison. Dismantled stone by stone during the construction of the town's underground system, it was reassembled in its original form following the completion of the project Since 1904 the Hauptwache has been a chic café and a popular meeting place.

Goethehaus

Großer Hirscharaben 23. Tel (069) 13 88 00. 10am-6pm Mon-Sat. 10am-5:30pm Sun. www goethehaus-frankfurt de Southwest of the Hauptwache is Johann Wolfgang Goethe's family home. The great German poet, novelist and dramatist was born here on 28 August 1749. The house. along with many other buildings in Frankfurt, was totally destroyed in World War II. but later lovingly restored. Its interior was reconstructed to represent the style typical of the mid- to late- 18th century. Goethe lived in this house until 1775, when he moved to Weimar. The desk at which he wrote his early works, including the first versions of Götz von Berlichingen (1771) and Egmont (1774), has been preserved.

The adiacent building now houses the Goethemuseum. Opened in 1997, the museum recreates the atmosphere of the 1750-1830 period, and holds a collection of items related to the writer. There is an excellent library. which contains some of his writings.

The distinctive Neo-Classical rotunda of the Paulskirche

Portal of the Goethehaus, with the ancestral family crest

Paulskirche

Paulsplatz. Tel (069) 28 10 98. 10am-5pm daily. The distinctive Neo-Classical rotunda of the church was begun in 1786 but not completed until 1833, due to continuous hostilities with France, Today, however, this building is no longer thought of, or indeed used as, a church. After the first albeit ill-fated German National Assembly met here following the revolutionary upheavals of 1848-9, the church became a symbol of republican and liberal Germany. The Paulskirche now serves as a venue for many important events. Each year the awards ceremony for the prestigious German Publishers' Peace Prize takes place here.

Römerberg

Located in the centre of Frankfurt's old town this square contains the Gerechtigkeitsbrunnen (fountain of justice). Its highlight, however, is the Römer (literally the Roman) So-called after the remains of ancient settlements, it is a complex of 15th- to 18th-century houses. including the Altes Rathaus (old town hall), which were rebuilt after World War II Opposite is a group of halftimbered houses, commonly referred to as Ostzeile. The Steinernes Haus

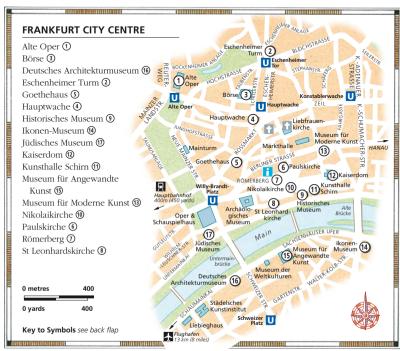

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map C5. [660,000.]
Hauptbahnhof (069-21 23 88 00);
Römerberg 27 (069-21 23 88 00).
[7] Dippernesse (spring, autumn),
Wäldchestag (Whitsun), Kunsthanfeurk Heute (MayJJun), Mainfest
(Aug), Book Fair (Oct), Christkindlmarkt (Dec), www.frankfurt.de

(stone house) was originally built in 1464 for a Cologne silk merchant. Recently reconstructed, it is now the home of the Frankfurter Kunstverein (artists' league).

The Ostzeile on the Römerberg, one of the symbols of Frankfurt

1 Jüdisches Museum

Untermainkai 14–15. Tel (069) 21 23 50 00. 10am–5pm Tue–Sun, 10am–5pm Wed. The Jewish community of Frankfurt was the second largest in Germany, after that of Berlin. This museum, in the former Rothschild Palace, documents the rich cultural heritage of Frankfurt's lews.

♠ St Leonhardskirche

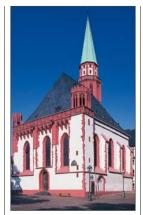

Alte Mainzer Gasse Close to the banks of the Main stands the church of St Leonhard, a fine example of Gothic and Romanesque architecture. A five-naved hall-church with an elongated choir, it was built in stages in the 13th and 15th centuries. Inside are many treasures, including at the front of the main nave a copy of Leonardo da Vinci's Last Supper by Hans Holbein the Elder from 1501 Next to it is St Mary's altar. created by master craftsmen from Antwerp in 1515-20. On the north wall of the choir visitors can see a fresco depicting the Tree of Life and the Apostles (1536) by Hans Dietz.

11 Historisches Museum

Saalgasse 19. Tel (069) 21 23 55 99.

10am-6pm Tue, Thu-Sun,
10am-9pm Wed.

The new building housing the history museum was finished in 1972. The museum has an interesting display of items relating to Frankfurt's history, including a fascinating model of the medieval town, a collection of local prehistoric finds and several decorative architectural fragments from buildings that were destroyed during World War II.

The early-Gothic Alte Nikolaikirche, in Frankfurt's Römerberg

The adjacent building is the Saalhof, which dates back to the time of the Emperor Friedrich I Barbarossa (1122–90). In 1333, the building passed into private hands and from then on it frequently changed its appearance.

Alte Nikolaikirche

Römerhera

The twin-naved church of St Nicholas, also known as Alte Nikolaikirche, was consecrated in 1290. Used as a court church until the late 15th century, it now serves a Lutheran congregation. Popular attractions are its many statues of St Nicholas (Santa Claus) and the 40-bell carillon, which twice a day plays German folk songs.

The magnificent late-Gothic high altar in the Kaiserdom

Kunsthalle Schirn

Römerberg 6. Tel (069) 299 88 20.

10am-7pm Fri-Sun & Tue,
10am-10pm Wed & Thu.
0ne of Europe's most prestigious exhibition buildings, the Kunsthalle opened in 1986. It hosts temporary art exhibitions featuring archaeological themes and the work of old masters and contemporary artists.

♠ Kaiserdom

Domplatz 14 Tel (069) 297 03 20 9am-noon Mon-Thu 2:30-6nm Mon-Fri. Dommuseum Tel (069) 13 37 61 86. 10am-5pm Tue-Fri. 11am-5pm Sat & Sun. Near the archaeological park, where the ruins of a Carolingian fortress have been unearthed, stands the imperial cathedral used for the coronation of German kings from 1356, and of Holy Roman Emperors from 1562. The cathedral dedicated to St. Bartholomew and Charlemagne, was built during the 13th, 14th and 15th centuries. on the site of a Carolingian chapel. It has several priceless masterpieces of Gothic art. including the magnificent 15th-century Maria-Schlaf-Altar and a high altar dating from the second half of the 15th century. The choir has original 14th-century stalls: above these there is a fresco painted in 1427 which depicts scenes from the life of the cathedral's patron saint, Bartholomew.

The Dom's huge tower affords some magnificent views of the town. While in the cloisters is the Dommuseum which has an interesting collection of liturgical objects, sacred art and precious artifacts.

Domstraße 10. Tel (069) 21 23 04 47. ☐ 10am–5pm Tue & Thu–5un, 10am–8pm Wed. ☑ The modern art museum occupies a building that looks like a slice of cake. It was designed by Hans Hollein in 1989–92. The museum's collection represents all the major artistic trends from the 1960s until the present day, and includes works by Roy Lichtenstein, Andy Warhol

Hollein's modern design, housing the Museum für Moderne Kunst and Claes Oldenburg. Temporary exhibitions held here focus on multi-media shows, incorporating photography and video art.

⊞ Ikonen-Museum

Brückenstraße 3–7. Tel (069) 21 23 62 62. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. 10am-8pm Wed. The museum of icons holds an extensive collection of Russian-Orthodox icons from the 16th-19th centuries. It is housed in the Deutschordenshaus, originally built in 1709-15 by Maximilian von Welsch for the Order of the Teutonic Knights. The present building is a faithful copy of the earlier Baroque threewing structure destroyed in World War II. Inside is the 14th-century Teutonic Church of St Mary, with original altars and 14th- to 17th-century wall paintings.

Schaumainkai 17. Tel (069) 21 23 40 37. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun, 10am-9pm Wed.

The Museum of Applied Arts was opened in 1983, in a building designed by Richard Meier. He used a Biedermeier house, the Villa Metzler, and added a modern wing. The museum has a collection of some 30,000 objects of applied art from Europe and Asia.

Nearby, in a villa with a large garden in Schaumainkai, is the small but fascinating Museum der Weltkulturen (ethnography museum), which is well worth a visit.

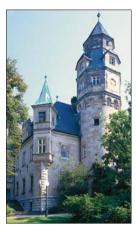

① Deutsches Architekturmuseum

Schaumainkai 43. Tel (069) 21 23 88 44. 11am-6pm Tue-Sun, 11am-8pm Wed. 10 One of the most interesting museums in the Schaumainkai complex is undoubtedly the museum of architecture, opened in 1984 in an avantgarde building designed by Oswald Mathias Ungers. The museum has a permanent collection as well as temporary exhibitions concentrating mainly on developments in 20th-century architecture.

Nearby, at No 41 Schaumainkai, is the Deutsches Filmmuseum, which holds documents and objects relating to the art of filmmaking and the development of film technology. The museum has its own cinema, which shows old and often long-forgotten films.

⊞ Liebieghaus

Schaumainkai 71. Tel (069) 650 04 90. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun, 1∩am–8pm Wed. 🐇 The Liebieghaus was built in 1896 for the Czech industrialist Baron Heinrich Liebieg. Today it houses a museum of sculpture, with works ranging from antiquity through to Mannerism. Baroque and Rococo. The museum also has superb examples of ancient Egyptian and Far Eastern art, as well as works from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. Its highlights are the works of Neo-Classical masters such as Antonio Canova, Bertel Thorwaldsen and Johann Heinrich Dannecker

The Liebieghaus, home of the museum of sculpture

Maturmuseum Senckenberg

Senckenberganlage 25. Tel (069) 754 20. ☐ 9am–5pm Mon, Tue, Thu & Fri, 9am–8pm Wed, 9am–6pm Sat & Sun. 🌠

This museum, near the university, is one of the best natural history museums in Germany. Besides a vast collection of plants and animals, including dinosaur skeletons, it contains human and animal mummies from Egypt.

Environs

Hanau, 30 km (19 miles) east of Frankfurt, is the birthplace of the brothers Wilhelm and Jakob Grimm. An exhibition devoted to their lives and work is held at the local history museum, in Philippsruhe, a Baroque palace.

The Deutsches Architekturmuseum, in Schaumainkai

Frankfurt - Städelsches Kunstinstitut

The founder of this excellent museum. the banker Johann Friedrich Städel. bequeathed his art collection to the town in 1815. Since then, the museum has grown through acquisitions and donations, and now contains many masterpieces from seven centuries of European art. It moved to a Neo-Renaissance building in 1878, on the picturesque "museum embankment" by the Main. In the 1920s it acquired the Hohenzollern collection from Sigmaringen. The building gained a new wing in 1990 (designer Gustav Peichl), and was renovated in 1995-9.

Ideal Portrait of a Woman (c.1480) Simonetta Vestrucci. mistress of Giuliano Medici, is the subject of this painting by Sandro Botticelli. Her pendant belonged at the time to the Medici collection.

> First floor

> > 11

Ecce Homo .

Members of the family who commissioned this painting from Hieronymus Bosch also originally figured in it, but they were later painted over and now only a few figures are partially visible.

★ Lucca Madonna

This small painting by Ian van Evck, which evokes an intimate and intensely private atmosphere, takes its name from its former owner, Charles Ludwig de Bourbon, Duke of Lucca

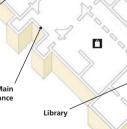

KEY

- 19th-century paintings
- 20th-century paintings
- German, Dutch and Flemish 17th- and 18th-century paintings
- Italian, French and Spanish 17th- and 18th-century paintings
- German and Dutch 14th-16th-century paintings
- Italian 14th–16th-century paintings

For hotels and restaurants in this region see pp508-10 and pp547-9

Around 100,000 prints and drawings, dating from the 14th century to the present day and making up one of Germany's most valuable collections. are exhibited in this exhibition hall.

Main entrance

★ The Geographer (1669)
Although the signature on the painting is not genuine, there is no doubt that this picture, depicting a scholar at work, is the work of Jan Vermeer van Delfi.

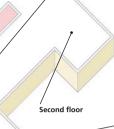

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Schaumainkai 63.

Tel (069) 605 09 80.

www.staedelmuseum.de

10am-6pm Tue-Sun,
10am-9pm Wed & Thu. (free Tue.)

★ Blinding of Samson (1636)
Rembrandt's dramatic painting depicts the violent blinding of Samson by the Philistines after Delilab cut off bis hair.

GALLERY GUIDE

The ground floor of the building is used for changing exhibitions of prints and drawings, as well as a book store and a museum shop. The first floor is devoted to 19th- and 20th-century art and the second floor to the Old Masters.

Isle of Cythera (c.1710)

Jean-Antoine Watteau

painted three pictures on this theme, inspired by

Dancourt's play The Three Sisters. The museum holds the earliest of the three, which shows a Flemish influence.

∱|∳

Orchestra Players (1870–74)

Edgar Degas, not completely satisfied with bis painting, retrieved it from its owner.In 1874, be cropped it on three sides, added a bit at the top and repainted the entire painting.

STAR EXHIBITS

- ★ Lucca Madonna
- ★ Blinding of Samson
- ★ The Geographer

Darmstadt @

Road map C5, 🚯 138,000, 🖪 I uisencenter, Luisenplatz 5 (06151-951 50 13): for tickets only (06151-27 99 995). M Frühlinafest (Mar/Apr). Schlossgrabenfest (Mav). Heinerfest (early Jul), Herbstfest (Oct).

The earliest historical records of Darmstadt, which was probably named after Darimund, a Frankonian settler. date from the 12th century Until 1479 the castle and the town belonged to the Counts von Katzenelnbogen, and later to Hessian landgraves. In 1567. the Landgraves von Hessen-Darmstadt chose Darmstadt as their residence. and they continued to live here until 1918

To the north of the old town stands the Residenzschloss, initially a ducal palace, and from 1806 residence of the Landgraves von Hessen-Darmstadt. The Renaissance-Baroque complex is centred around three courtvards. The earlier medieval castle, which stood on the same site, burned down in 1546. The present palace was created in stages, with its earliest parts, the Renaissance wings, dating from 1567-97. The Glockenbau has a 35-bell carillon which can be heard every half hour: it was completed after the Thirty Years' War, in 1663. Further modifications, planned in 1715-30, were never completed. Two

Baroque wings, the so-called Neubau or Neuschloss (new castle), surround older buildings to the south and west The Schloss was bombed in World War II and subsequently rebuilt. Today it houses the provincial and university library, while the Glockenbau is home to the fascinating Schlossmuseum (castle museum) As well as a splendid collection of coaches and furniture it contains the famous Darmstädter Madonna (1526), by Holbein.

Also worth seeing. the late-Renaissance Rathaus (town hall) built in 1588-90, survived World War II. The 15th-century choir of the Stadtkirche has an enormous monument (1587) to Magdalena zur Lippe, first wife of Landgrave Georg I the Pious. To the southwest of the Stadtkirche stands the Altes Pädagog, built in 1629 as an educational establishment

To the north of the Schloss is the Hessisches Landesmuseum (regional museum of Hesse), erected in 1892-1905. Its collection includes artifacts dating from the Roman era to the 20th century. The museum also has an excellent natural history section, whose exhibits include the impressive skeleton of a mammoth as well as birds of every species native to southern Hesse. Set in the park behind the museum is the Baroque Prinz-Georg-Palais (1710), which houses the Großherzoglich-Hessische Porzellansammlung an extensive porcelain collection.

The last Grand Duke of Hesse, Ernst Ludwig, was an important patron of the Jugendstil, the German

> Art Nouveau movement He initiated the building of an exhibition and residential complex, the Mathildenhöhe, which was established in 1901 in the grounds of the former ducal park, to serve the existing artists' colony led by Joseph Maria Olbrich. Olbrich designed the Ernst-Ludwig-Haus which now houses the Museum Künstlerkolonie, an exhibition space for the colony's artists, as (wedding tower) erected in 1907-8 to celebrate the Grand Duke's wedding. The Behrens-Haus, designed by the Hamburg architect Peter Behrens, is sober in contrast. The Orthodox church of St Mary Magdalene was built in 1897-9 by the Russian architect Leonti Nikolavevich Benois, in honour of Alice. wife of the last tsar of Russia and sister of Ernst Ludwig.

Hochzeitsturm

Hochzeitsturm and Orthodox Church in Mathildenhöhe, Darmstadt

ffi Schlossmuseum

Residenzschloss, Marktplatz 15. Tel (06151) 240 35. 10am-1pm & 2-5pm Mon-Thu, 10am-1pm Sat & Sun. M obligatory.

M Hessisches Landesmuseum

Friedensplatz 1. Tel (06151) 16 57 03. 10am-5pm Tue & Thu-Sat. 10am-8pm Wed, 11am-5pm Sun.

Museum Künstlerkolonie

Olbrichweg/Bauhausweg. Tel (06151) 13 33 85. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. 113 33 85.

ff Großherzoglich-Hessische Porzellansammlung

Schlossgartenstr. 10. Tel (06151) 71 32 33. 10am–1pm & 2–5pm Mon-Thu, 10am-1pm Sat & Sun.

H E S S E 381

The Carolingian Torhalle (gate-house) of the Kloster (abbey) in Lorsch

Lorsch @

Road map B5. [A] 10,700. [1]
Marktolatz 1 (06251-175 26 21).

This small town is mainly known for the Kloster, a Benedictine abbey first founded in 764 by Chrodegang of Metz and one of the most important cultural and intellectual centres in Europe in the Carolingian era. It reached the peak of its power in the 8th-13th centuries, before being sold to the Archbishop of Mainz in 1232. The Benedictines were forced to leave. and in their place the Cistercians arrived. The monastery was dissolved during the Reformation, and in 1621 the Spanish Army destroyed and plundered the greater part of the complex.

Fragments of the 13th-century nave, the towers and the gate-house, dating from c.790, are all that has survived. The original 8th-century church, a basilica without transept, burned down in 1090 and was rebuilt in the 12th century. The original crypt is the burial place of Ludwig II the German, the first ruler of the Eastern Franks. The Torhalle (gate-house) is one of the most important architectural remains of the Carolingian period, and it was listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1991. Its lower section is made up of three arcades, equal in height and width, modelled on Roman triumphal arches. The first-floor quarters above were probably used as a guest room or courtroom, and from the 14th century they served as a chanel Remains of the original wall paintings are still visible here The facade is decorated with red and white stone mosaics which were inspired by Franco-Merovingian art. The vertical divides, created by pilasters and entablature, are copies of ancient designs - an architectural feature typical of the Caro-lingian Renaissance. The chapel's high roof and vaults date from the 14th century.

Michelstadt @

Road map B5. A 16,000.

Marktplatz 1 (06061-194 33).

Bienenmarkt (Whitsun).

Michelstadt, set among the hills of the Odenwald, is first mentioned in historical records in 741. From the 13th century the town belonged to the von Erbach family (the future Counts von Erbach).

The town has preserved many historic half-timbered houses and presents a typical image of medieval Germany. The 16th-century Kellerei is built around the remains of an earlier castle dating from 970. It now houses a regional museum. The sight most popular with photographers is the half-timbered Rathaus (town half) dating open ground-floor gallery. Nearby stands the late-Gothic, 15th-century Pfarrkirche St Michael (parish church of St Michael). Inside are some interesting epitaphs including the double tombstone of Philipp I and Georg I, dating from the late 15th century. A true rarity is the 18th-century synagogue, which escaped being burned by the National Socialists in 1938.

In the Steinbach district of Michelstadt stands the Finhardsbasilika, a church dating from around 821. The first church built on this site at the initiative of Einhard, a courtier of Charlemagne. was a small, pillared and vaulted basilica with a short choir ending with a rounded anse. Under the eastern section is a crypt. The parts which remain to this day include the main nave the north aisle with an anse and the crypt which holds precious religious relics.

Environs

In Fürstenau, situated about 1 km (0.6 mile) northwest of Michelstadt, is a beautiful complex including the Altschloss (old palace), remodelled from a medieval castle, the Neuschloss (new palace), dating from 1810, the park and its garden pavilions.

Erbach, 5 km (3miles) south of Michelstadt, became famous as a centre for the art of ivory carving. In No. 1 Otto-Glenz-Straße is the Deutsches Elfenbeinmuseum (German ivory museum), which is devoted to this craft. Other attractions

The Carolingian Einhardsbasilika in Michelstadt-Steinbach

NORTH RHINE-WESTPHALIA

riginally consisting of two distinct provinces with somewhat diverging histories, the region of North Rhine-Westphalia today has its own strong identity. It encompasses the vast valley of the Ruhr river, rich in mineral deposits, where over the past 200 years huge conurbations have developed, comprising dozens of industrial cities that are gradually merging into one another.

As a province, the North Rhineland, situated along the lower Rhine valley, goes back to Roman times. In the Middle Ages most of this area was ruled by the Bishops of Köln. The North Rhineland cities grew and prospered thanks to their trade links, and in the 19th century they became major centres of mining and heavy industry.

Westphalia forms the eastern part of the land. Once a Saxon territory, its history was often intertwined with that of the Rhineland. Only its western end has been heavily industrialized.

North Rhine-Westphalia is not the largest of the German regions, but with a population of nearly 18 million it is the most heavily populated one. It is often thought that the region, and in particular the heavily industrialized Ruhr valley, has little to offer to its visitors, but this is a mistaken belief. Its splendid past has left many priceless historic monuments and more recently, thanks to great investment, its industrial cities have transformed themselves into attractive cultural centres. The history of towns such as Bonn, Aachen, Cologne (Köln) and Xanten goes back to Roman times, and they have preserved much of their ancient heritage to this day. Evidence of Romanesque art, which flourished in the Rhineland, is today apparent in numerous impressive abbeys dotted throughout the region and in the churches of Cologne, which also boasts the colossal Gothic Dom.

Much of North Rhine-Westphalia is rural, and the region offers thousands of kilometres of tracks for walking in the Teutoburg Forest and in the Northern Eifel mountains, as well as splendid conditions for watersports and fishing in the Sauerland. It also has surprisingly good ski slopes, such as in the Rothaar Mountains.

A typical lowland landscape near Xanten, in the Rhineland

Exploring North Rhine-Westphalia

Despite being heavily industrialized, the land of North Rhine-Westphalia has many attractions for visitors. At least two days should be set aside to admire the historic treasures in Cologne, while those who prefer museums – or shopping – might allocate more time for Düsseldorf. The towns of Bonn, Aachen and Münster should also feature on every visitor's schedule. The best areas for rest and relaxation are the mountain ranges of the Eifel and the Teutoburg Forest, ideally suited for walking and cycling holidays.

SEE ALSO

- Where to Stay p510-12
- Where to Eat pp549–52

Enschede

Gronau

Burg Altena in the Sauerland

SIGHTS AT A GLANCE

Aachen pp394–5 15

Altenberg (3)
Bielefeld (28)

Bonn pp408-9 18

Brühl 🕡

Cologne (Köln) pp398–405 🚯

Dormagen 🛈

Dortmund 6

Duisburg 7

Düsseldorf pp392-3 9

Essen 6

Hagen 🗿

Höxter 🐠

Kleve 3 Königswinter 19

Lemgo 🚳

Minden 29

Münster pp386−7 1

Neuss 🕡

Northern Eifel 16

Paderborn 29 Sauerland 22

Siegen 20

Soest @

Solingen 12

Teutoburger Wald

(Teutoburg Forest) 20

Wuppertal 8

Xanten 4

Tours

Münsterland 2

There are international airports at Düsseldorf, Köln–Bonn (Konrad-Adenauer-Flughafen) and at Münster–Osnabrück.

North Rhine-Westphalia has the highest density of motor-ways anywhere in Germany, making it easy to travel between cities, and providing links with other German regions, Belgium and the Netherlands.

Miinster 6

Münster and its surroundings were already inhabited in Roman times, but its history proper started in the 9th century, with the establishment of a bishopric, Town status was granted in 1137, and in the 13th century Münster joined the Hanseatic League In 1648 the Westphalian Peace Treaty was signed here, ending the Thirty Years' War. Münster's Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität (1773) is one of Germany's largest universities. World War II saw 90 percent of the old town laid to ruins, but most of it has now been rebuilt.

Erbdrostenhof

Salzstraße 38. Closed to the

This beautiful mansion was skilfully positioned diagonally across a corner site. Designed by Johann Conrad Schlaun, it was built in 1753-7, and despite destruction in World War II it still enchants with its "wavy", late-Baroque façade.

Rathaus

Prinzipalmarkt, Friedenssaal Tel (0251) 492 27 24

10am-5pm Tue-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat & Sun. 📄 25 Dec. 🚳

The imposing Gothic town hall, the pride of Münster, was almost completely destroyed during World War II. After its splendid reconstruction, it is again a major draw for visitors. The only parts that had escaped destruction were the furnishings of the main council chamber, which have been returned to their rightful place

The beautifully restored facade of the late-Gothic Rathaus

Houses on Prinzipalmarkt, reconstructed in the medieval style was here that on 15 May 1648 part of the Westphalian Treaty was signed, ending the Thirty Years' War

♠ Lambertikirche

Prinzipalmarkt.

St Lamberti is an excellent example of the hall-churches characteristic of Westphalia. It was built in 1375–1450. but the openwork finial of the tower dates from 1887. The cages hanging on the tower held the bodies of the leading Anabaptists, following the crushing of their commune in 1536. It is also worth taking a look at the relief depicting the Tree of Jesse, above the southwest entrance, and the figures of the apostles (c.1600) by Johann Koess.

T Dom St Paulus Domplatz. Domkammer Tel (0251) 495 333. 11am-4pm Tue-Sun. 🚳 The most precious historic relic in Münster is undeniably its massive St Paulus' cathedral. built in 1225-65 and representing a transitional style between late-Romanesque and early-Gothic. The vast basilica has two transents. two choirs and two massive towers. The northern cloister was added in the 14th century, and in the 16th-17th centuries the passage that runs around the presbytery acquired a ring of chapels. In the vestibule stands a group of 13th-century sculptures. Especially worth seeing are the two altars by Gerhard Gröninger (1st half of the 17th century), the early 16thcentury stained-glass windows brought here from Marienfeld, the Gothic candelabra and monuments of many bishops. The cathedral's best-known treasure is the astronomical clock (1540), with paintings by Ludger tom Ring the Elder and sculptures by Johann Brabender, At noon, moving figures show the Magi paying tribute to the infant Jesus to the sounds of the carillon.

III Westfälisches Landesmuseum für Kunst und Kulturgeschichte

Domplatz 10. Tel (0251) 590 701. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. The Westphalian regional museum specializes mainly in Gothic art, with a large collection of sculptures and altars rescued in World War II. Its most noteworthy exhibits include the works by Heinrich and Johann Brabender. The upstairs galleries show works by Conrad von Soest and the tom Ring family. Contemporary art is Überwasserkirchplatz. The Liebfrauenkirche (Church of Our Lady) is popularly named Überwasserkirche (church above the water), after the district on the banks others, August Macke's work.

The Baroque-Classical Schloss, residence of Münster's prince-bishops of the tiny Aa river. This Gothic edifice was built in c.1340–46, on the site of a Romanesque Benedictine church. Inside are 16th-century votive paintings by Ludger and Hermann tom Ring.

♣ Residenzschloss

Schlossplatz 2.

This beautiful Baroque residence was built in 1767-87. by Prince-Bishop Maximilian Friedrich It was designed by Iohann Conrad Schlaun, a local master of Baroque architecture. Maximilian Friedrich started the redevelopment of Münster in the northern Baroque style. On his initiative the town acquired a large park, part of which was transformed into a botanical garden in 1803. After World War II the castle was rebuilt and became the headquarters of Münster university.

Ⅲ Museum für Lackkunst

Windthorststraße 26. Tel (0251) 41 85 10. noon-8pm Tue, noon-6pm Wed-Sun & public holidays. This unique museum, devoted to lacquer ware, has a good collection with items from around the world and from different periods, making a visit to the museum a treat for those interested in this craft.

Watermill in the open-air museum

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

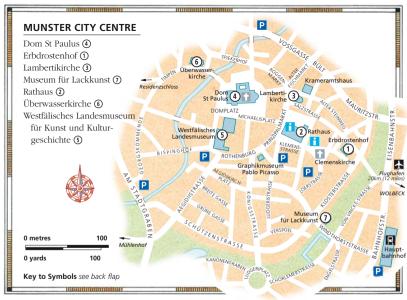

Road map B3. 280,000. Bahnhofstr. Münster-Osnabrück (02571-94 33 60). Heinrich-Brüning-Str. 9 (0251-492 27 10). Wed & Sat. 280 Rosenmontagsfestumzug (Carnival Mon), Jahrmarkt Send (Mar, Jun & Oct), Euro-City-Fest (May), Pfälzer Weinfest & Weinfest im Schlossgarten (Aug), Barockfest (Sep).

Mühlenhof

Theo-Breider-Weg 1. Tel (0251) 98 12 00. ☐ 16 Mar-Oct: 10am-6pm daily, Nov-15 Mar: 1-4:30pm Sun. ☑ This small but interesting open-air museum is situated on the banks of the picturesque Aasee, Münster's lake and main recreation area. Displayed are a number of rural dwellings with authentic furnishings and two mills (17th and 18th centuries).

♣ Drostenhof

Wolbeck, Am Steintor 5. Southeast of the town, in Wolbeck (now part of the city), is an original Renaissance mansion from the mid-16th century. Its exquisite gatehouse leads into the courtyard of the mansion, which has original fireplaces, doors and ceiling paintings.

Münsterland 2

The region stretching in a narrow strip to the north of Münster is the land of horses and Wasserburgen (moated castles). The castles were surrounded by moats or built on islands to give their owners protection in the surrounding lowlands. Almost 50 Wasserburgen have survived, some converted into residences. Not all are open to visitors as most remain to this day in the hands of the family of the original owners. The best way to tour the flat Münsterland region is by car or bicycle.

Conrad Schlaun, Nearby

is a nature reserve.

Schloss Raesfeld (5)

The beautiful 17thcentury castle has some original 14thcentury elements. Particularly worth seeing is the castle chapel with its Baroque altar.

Vischerina ②

The magnificent Burg Vischering is one of the oldest and best-preserved castles in Westphalia. Founded in 1270, it was extended in the 16th and 17th centuries.

Havixbeck ①

Two interesting castles are near this small town: the Renaissance Haus Havixbeck and the Renaissance-Baroque Burg Hülshoff, birthplace of and museum to the 19th-century writer Annette von Droste-Hülshoff.

which opens only at weekends.

Viewpoint

Kleve (Cleves) 3

Road map A3. 🔝 50,000. 💂 🚃

Werftstr. 1 (02821-89 50 90).

The town of Kleve is named after the high cliff, on which a castle was built in the 10th century. Around it a settlement developed, which became a town in 1242. It was ruled by the dukes of Kleve, whose ambitions were far greater than the size of their dominions and reached their peak in 1539, when Anne of Cleves married the English King Henry VIII.

During World War II Kleve lost most of its historic buildings. One that has survived to this day is the imposing Gothic church of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary, St Mariä Himmelfahrt (1341-1426). It has remains of the high altar dating from 1510-13 with reliefs by Henrik Douvermann and Iakob Dericks, as well as beautiful monuments and epitaphs to the von Kleve dukes. Equally worth seeing is the former Franciscan St Mariä Empfängnis, a Gothic twinnave hall-church from the first half of the 15th century. Its noteworthy features include the Gothic stalls (1474) and a magnificent Baroque pulpit (1698). The well-preserved ducal castle of Schwanenburg was remodelled twice: in Gothic style in the late 15th century, and in Baroque style in 1636-66. Testifying to former splendour are the parks established in the mid-17th century by Johann Moritz von Nassau. The most beautiful of these is the Tiergarten (animal garden). Haus Koekkoek, located nearby, once belonged to the Romantic painter, Barend Cornalis Koekkoek, after whom it was named

★ Schwanenburg

Am Schlossberg. Tel (02821) 22 884. Apr–Oct: 11am–5pm Mon–Fri, 10am–5pm Sat– Sun; Nov–Mar: 11am–5pm Sat–Sun.

Environs

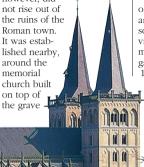

The suspension bridge across the Rhine – at 1,228 m (4,028 ft) the longest such structure in Germany – connects Kleve with Emmerich. Worth a visit here is the Martinskirche, with its exquisite, late-10th-century shrine of St Willibrod

Twelve km (7 miles) to the southeast of Kleve lies the charming town of Kalkar which, in around 1500, was home to the famous Kalkar School specializing in wood-carving. The church of St Nicolai has superb furnishings dating from the same period.

Six km (4 miles) southeast stands Moyland, a moated castle. It houses a modern art collection, which belongs to the brothers von der Grinten and includes over 4,000 works by the artist Joseph Beuvs.

Xanten 4

The history of Xanten goes back to the Romans, who founded the settlement of Colonia Ulpia Traiana near the local garrison. The present town, however, did not rise out of the ruins of the of the martyr St Viktor. It was named ad sanctos (by the saints), soon to be shortened to Xanten. A powerful town in the Middle Ages, Xanten also features in the Nibelung myth, and was said to be the birthplace of Siegfried.

The Hafentempel in the Archäologischer Park in Xanten

Undoubtedly the most important historic building in the town is the Dom St Viktor, built on the graves of St Viktor and members of the Thebian Legion. The surviving Gothic cathedral dates from 1263-1517. It is worth taking a look at the Gothic sculptures standing by the pillars of the main nave. the shrine of St Victor (1129). the early-Gothic stalls (c.1240) and, above all, the exquisite Marienaltar by Henrik Douvermann, Equally fascinating are the collegial buildings and the cloister holding the tombs and epitaphs of the canons.

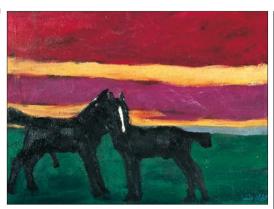

Xanten also has many pretty old houses, mainly clustered around the central market square. Another sight worth visiting is the Klever Tor, a magnificent double towngate, dating from the late 14th century, in the northwest of the town. The Archäologischer Park, established in 1974 on the site of the Roman town, displays many reconstructed Roman public buildings including the impressive Hafentempel (harbour temple).

Archäologischer Park

The Young Horses by Emil Nolde, in the Museum am Ostwall

Dortmund 6

Road map B4. 600,000. 🖳 🚃
Königswall 18A (0231-14 03 41).
Dortmund aller art (Aug), Dortmund à la carte (Jun), Hansetage (Nov).

The large city of Dortmund is famous not only for its excellent beer and highly developed industry, but also for its more than 1,000 years of history. In the Middle Ages, the town grew rich through trade and joined the Hanseatic League; after a period of decline it flourished again in the 19th century.

A walk through the small old town will take visitors to the Museum für Kunst-und Kulturgeschichte (museum for art and cultural history) with displays of Status

interiors from various periods, including Secessionist designs by Joseph Maria Olbrich. A short distance from here is the Petrikirche, a Gothic 14th-century hall-church, whose greatest attraction is its high altar (1521), the work of Gilles, a master from Antwerp. Also noteworthy is the former Dominican Propsteikirche, with its exquisite late-Gothic main altar. A shortcut across the market square and along Ostenhellweg takes the visitor to two more churches: the Reinoldikirche and the Marienkirche. The former. dedicated to St Reinold, the patron saint of Dortmund, has an early-Gothic 13th-century main body and a late-Gothic, 15th-century presbytery. It includes many Gothic sculptures and furnishings. The second one, the church of St Mary, is a 12th-century Romanesque structure. It has a magnificent main altar, by Conrad von Soest (1415–20) and a statue of the Madonna (c.1230). The Museum am Ostwall has an excellent modern art collection

Museum für Kunstund Kulturgeschichte
Hansastr. 3. Tel (0231) 502 55
22. □ 10am-5pm Tue, Wed,
Fri, Sun, 10am-8pm Thu,
noon-5pm Sat. 1[∞]

Museum am Ostwall
Ostwall 7. Tel (0231) 502 32 47.
as above.

Environs 10 km (6

Statue on Alter Markt, in Dortmund 10 km (6 miles) northwest, in Waltrop, on the Dortmund-Ems st designs | Canal, is the Schiffshebewerk

Canal, is the Schiffshebewerk Henrichenburg, a hoist built in 1899 to lift ships.

Essen 6

Road map B4. 🚮 600,000. 💂

Im Handelshof (am Hauptbahnhof 2) (0201-194 33).

Essen Original (Aug).

It is hard to believe that this vast industrial metropolis has grown from a monastery, established in 852. The town owes its growth and prominence to the Krupp family, who, over several generations from the mid-19th century, created the powerful German steel and arms industry.

The most important historic building in the town is the Münster, the former collegiate church of the canonesses. This unusual edifice consists of the 15th-century Gothic church of St John, an 11th-century atrium and the main church, which in turn has a Romanesque 11thcentury frontage and a Gothic 14th- century main body. Without doubt the most precious object held by the church is the Goldene Madonna, a statue of the Virgin Mary with the Infant, made from sheet gold, probably c.980. The treasury has an outstanding collection of gold items from the Ottonian period.

Another important sight in Essen is the Synagogue built by Edmund Kömer in 1911–13. The largest synagogue in Germany, it managed to outlast the Third Reich and is now a place of commemoration.

Visitors who are interested in 20th-century architecture should see the church of St Engelbert in Fischerstraße, designed by Dominikus Metzendorf (1934–6), the towngarden in Margarethenhöhe built from 1909 to a design by Georg Metzendorf, and the opera house designed by the Finnish architect, Alvar Aalto.

Essen has much to offer to modern art enthusiasts. The Museum Folkwang boasts an excellent collection of 20thcentury paintings, mainly German Expressionists. It also has a graphic arts section.

The Grugapark is a large green area with botanical gardens, zoo and the Grugahalle, where major concerts are held. To the south of the centre, on the banks of the Baldeneysee, stands Villa Hügel, which belonged to the Krupp family until 1945. Today interesting art exhibitions are frequently hosted here. Further south, in Werden, is the former Benedictine church of St Ludger, consisting of a 13th-century body preceded by a 10th-century imperial frontage. The treasury holds many precious objects including a bronze crucifix from around 1060.

The grand Villa Hügel, former home of the Krupp family in Essen

III Museum Folkwang

Goethestr. 41. Tel (0201) 884 53 14. 10am-6pm Tue-Thu, Sat & Sun, 10am-midnight Fri. 11 Jan, Easter, 1 May, 24 & 31 Dec.

Environs

Visitors interested in technology should visit Bochum, which is also the seat of the excellent Ruhr-Universität. There are two excellent museums: the Deutsches Bergbau-Museum devoted to mining, and the Eisenbahnmuseum (railway museum) in Dahlhausen. Both have world-class exhibits

Duisburg •

Duisburg, on the edge of the Ruhr region, underwent a period of rapid development in the 19th and 20th centuries. Once a small town, it became the world's largest inland harbour thanks to its location at the spot where the Ruhr flows into the Rhine.

The small old town was almost totally destroyed in World War II, but the 15th-century Gothic Salvatorkirche (church of St Saviour) has been rebuilt. Some of the town's greatest attractions are its museums. The Wilhelm-Lehmbruck-Museum focuses on the work of the sculptor Lehmbruck, who was born in Duisburg. The museum has an interesting collection of 20th-century sculptures, including works by famous artists such as Salvador Dali, Henry Moore, Max Ernst, Emil Nolde and Joseph Beuvs, Also worth visiting is the Museum der Deutschen Binnenschifffahrt with its collection of barges and inland waterway vessels. In the 16th century, Duisburg was the home of the famous geographer and cartographer Gerhard Mercator, whose collection of globes, maps and charts can now be seen in the Kulture- und Stadthistorisches Museum

Museum Wilhelm-Lehmbruck-

Friedrich-Wilhelm-Str. 40. Tel (0203) 283 26 30. 11am-5pm Tue-Sat, 10am-6pm Sun.

Environs

CentrO in Oberhausen, 14 km (9 miles) north of Duisburg, is the largest shopping and leisure complex in Europe.

Krefeld, 6 km (4 miles) southwest of Duisburg, has been a centre of silk fabric production from the 17th century, and the Deutsches Textilmuseum has over 20,000 exhibits, ranging from antiquity to the present day.

Wuppertal 6

Road map B4. M 380,000. E Elberfeld, Informationszentrum am Döppersberg (0202-194 33); Rathaus (0202-563 66 88).

Wuppertal, capital of the Bergisches Land area, was created in 1929 by combining six towns strung along a 20-km (12-mile) stretch of the Wupper river. The towns are joined by the Schwebe-bahn, a monorail constructed in 1900. Carriages are suspended from a single rail, which rests on tall pillars.

The most interesting of the former towns is Elberfeld, with a museum of clocks, and the Von-der-Heydt-Museum of 19th- and 20th-century German art. The museum in the Friedrich-Engels-Haus in Barmen (Engelsstr. 10) is worth seeing, and Neviges has a Baroque pilgrimage church, with a much-visited miraculous picture of the Virgin Mary.

① Von-der-Heydt-Museum Elberfeld, Turmhof 8. Tel (0202) 563 62 31. ☐ 11am–6pm Tue, Wed, Fri–Sun, 11am–8pm Thu. ☑ ↑

The unusual monorail, linking Wuppertal's six constituent towns

Düsseldorf o

Düsseldorf, the administrative capital of North Rhine-Westphalia, received its municipal rights in 1288. From the late 14th century it was the capital of the Duchy of Berg, and from 1614 that of the Palatine. The town owes much to Duke Johann Wilhelm (called Jan Wellem), who lived here in 1690–1716. One of the most important industrial and cultural centres in the Rhine Valley, this European metropolis has a renowned university, superb museums and theatres and, as the German capital of fashion, many excellent shops.

Museum Kunst Palast

Ehrenhof 4–5. Tel (0211) 892 42 42. 11am–6pm Tue–Sun. 6 1

This art museum is one of the most interesting in Germany, with a collection of paintings dating from the 16th to the 20th centuries, including works by Rubens, Cranach and Dutch masters of the 17th century. It also holds a large collection of paintings by the Düsseldorf Academy, active in the first half of the 19th century, whose best known artists were Peter von Cornelius and Friedrich Wilhelm Schadow.

₩ Altstadt

The small old town area suffered severe damage during World War II. Among the surviving monuments it is worth seeing some of the beautiful town houses and the late-Gothic Rathaus (town hall), built in the years 1570–73. In front of it stands a famous equestrian statue of the Elector Ian Wellem, built in 1703-11 by Gabriel Grupello. The Düsseldorf castle, burned down in 1872, only has the Schlossturm (castle tower) remaining, which now houses a museum of navigation. Another building worth visiting is the Baroque post-lesuit Pfarrkirche St Andreas (parish church of St Andrew), from the vears 1622-9. It has a central ducal mausoleum complex situated tery, where the remains of Jan Wellem and others are kept. The Lambertuskirche, the former collegiate church of St Lambertus, is a Gothic hall-church with a tall front tower, built in 1288–1394. Some behind the presby-

valuable furnishings have survived, including the Gothic sacramentarium and important Gothic ducal tombs, such as that of Duke Wilhelm V, from 1595–9.

Kunstsammlung Nordrhein-Westfalen

K20: Grabbeplatz 5. Tel (0211) 838 11 30.

☐ 10am-6pm Tue-Fri,
11am-6pm Sat-Sun.
10am-10pm 1st Wed of the month.

K21: Ständehausstr. 1.

Tel (0211) 838 16 00.

As for K20. 24,25
& 31 Dec. 2 1 2 1

The art collection of the state of North Rhine-Westphalia is enormous, featuring mainly the work of 20thcentury artists. Particularly valuable are 88 paintings by Paul Klee, which were acquired in 1960. There are also works by Wassily Kandinsky, Marcel Duchamp, Piet Mondrian and Pablo Picasso. The gallery at Grabbeplatz is known as K20, and a second building at Stäudehaüsstr. 1. where contemporary art is exhibited. is known as K21. Temporary exhibitions are held nearby at No. 4 Grabbenlatz.

Hetjens-Museum

Schulstraße 4. Tel (0211) 899 42 10. 11am–5pm Tue & Thu–Sun, 11am– 9pm Wed.

This museum, in the Nesselrode Palace, is the oldest German museum devoted to ceramics. Visitors can learn about techniques for producing faience and porcelain, and see global exhibits from prehistory to the present day.

Detail from the façade of the Lambertuskirche

The "kings' avenue", often just referred to as Kö, was laid out at the beginning of the 19th century. along the edge of the old city moat. The Kö is lined with expensive shops. Luxurious galleries, exclusive boutiques. department stores, fashion houses and shopping malls are interspersed with bars and restaurants. Particularly noteworthy is the Art Nouveau Warenhaus Tietz (now housing the Kaufhof-Galleria department store), which was built in 1907-9, to a design by Joseph Maria Olbrich.

Hofgarten

Schloss Jägerhof. Goethemuseum: Jacobistraße 2. Tel (0211) 899 62 62.

11am—5pm Tue—Fri & Sun,
1—5pm Sat. Tue—Fri & Sun,
1—5pm Sat. Tue—Tri & Sun,
11am—5pm Tue—Fri & Sun,
11a

Interior of the Pfarrkirche St Andreas

The late-Baroque Schloss Benrath

Johann Josef Couven and Nicolas de Pigage. The castle was rebuilt after World War II. It now houses the Goethe-Museum, holding memorabilia and documents related to the writer's life, and a collection of 18th-century art, funded by Ernst Schneider.

Heinrich-Heine-Institut

Bilker Str. 12–14. Tel (0211) 899 55 71. 11am–5pm Tue–Fri & Sun, 1–5pm Sat.

The celebrated German poet Heinrich Heine was born in Düsseldorf in 1797. This institute was established to preserve his legacy, to conduct research into his work and to organize exhibitions. Düsseldorf's university and a number of streets have also been named after Heine.

♠ Schloss Benrath

Benrather Schlossallee. Tel (0211) 899 38 32. 16 Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm Tue-Sun; Nov-15 Apr: 11am-5pm Tue-Sun. Wed until 8pm. Benrath, part of Düsseldorf since 1929, is home to this beautiful Neo-Classical hunting palace, built for the electors of the Palatine in 1755–73 by Nicolas de Pigage. Decor, beautiful furnishings and an extensive park have survived.

The former city moat which runs alongside Königsallee

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

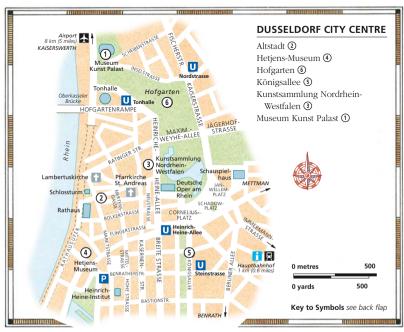

Road map B4. 600,000. Contact-Adenauer-Platz. north of the centre (0211-42 10). Immermannstr. 65B. Berliner Allee 33 (0211-17 20 20); Burgplatz 2. Employed Bootsausstellung (Jan), Rosenmontagsumzug (Carnival Mon), Größte Kirmes am Rhein (end Jul). www.duesseldorf.de

Kaiserswerth

Today a part of Düsseldorf, this area prides itself on a history dating back to the 8th century. Its Pfarrkirche St Suitbertus, a Romanesque basilica from the 12th century, has the magnificent 13th-century golden relic of its patron saint. There are also the ruins of a palace, built in the 12th century for Friedrich I Barbarossa.

Environs

The "Neanderthal" part of the Düssel valley was originally named after the poet Joachim Neander. It became famous in 1856, when the remains of apelike creatures were uncovered in a cave. A museum dedicated to these "Neanderthal Men" is located in Mettman, 17 km (11 miles) east of Düsseldorf.

Neuss 0

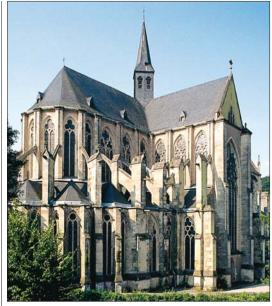

The history of Neuss goes back to Roman days. The town developed around a Bernhardine monastery, which became a girls' boarding school in the 12th century. The most famous building is the magnificent 13th-century Romanesque Münster St Ouirinus After a fire in 1741 a Baroque dome with a statue of St Ouirin, the patron saint. was added to the eastern tower of the church. Also worth seeing is the Obertor (upper gate), built in 1200, one of the mightiest gates in the Rhineland

Dormagen 0

Road map B4. 62,000. Dormagen, Schlossstraße 2–4 (02133-276 28 15). Freilichtspiele in Zons (Jun–Sep).

This medium-sized town. which principally relies on its chemical industry, would not be found in a guide book were it not for two remarkable historic monuments within the city limits. On the banks of the Rhine lies the fortified customs town of Zons, established around 1373-1400 at the instigation of archbishop Friedrich von Saarwerden. This small regular, four-sided fortress has survived in excellent condition. The buildings in the settlement are mainly from a later time, but the walls and gates, as well as the ruined castle Schloss Friedestrom are among the most fascinating examples of Medieval fortifications in the Rhine Valley.

Equally interesting is an excursion to Knechtsteden, west of Dormagen, where an amazing monastery was built for the Norbertines in the 12th century. Set amid woods and orchards, the vast twinchoired basilica has mighty towers in the eastern section. There are impressive murals, including a 12th-century mural of Christ in the western apsis, as well as attractive cloisters.

The Gothic post-Cistercian Bergischer Dom in Altenberg

Solingen @

Road map B4. A 165,000. R E 1 Clemens-Galerien Mummstr. 10 (0212-290 36 01). T Frühjahrskirmes (Mar).

Solingen is almost synonymous with its famous factory, where quality scissors and knives are produced. The main attraction in town is the Klingenmuseum, which shows cutting tools from the Stone Age to the present day.

Environs

Remscheid, 7 km (4 miles) east of Solingen has the Röntgenmuseum, dedicated to the German Nobel Prize winner Alfred Röntgen, who was born here and discovered the X-ray.

Baroque façade of the local Heimatmuseum in Remscheid

One of the most beautiful buildings is the Heimatmuseum with displays of typical regional interiors.

Schloss Burg, on the Wupper river, is the 12th-century fortress of the von Berg family. Many times rebuilt, it now houses a museum.

Altenberg ®

Road map B4. A 5,745. E E Bergisch-Gladbacher-Str. 2, 51519

Altenberg near Odenthal has preserved its Bergischer Dom. a former Cistercian cathedral and one of the most important destinations for pilgrims. Built in 1259-1379, it is also one of the most beautiful Gothic buildings in Germany. In accordance with their rules, the Cistercians built the church without a tower. The interior is furnished with Gothic works of art and has stunningly beautiful stainedglass windows, the altar of the Coronation of the Blessed Virgin Mary from the late 15th century, a beautiful 14thcentury Annunciation and a sacrarium (1490). After the dissolution of the Order in 1803, the cathedral suffered a turbulent history. It now serves as a church for both Catholics and Protestants

Children also enjoy a visit to Altenberg because of its Märchenwald (fairy-tale wood), an enchanted forest, with interactive scenes and statues representing all the most popular fairy tales.

Köln (Cologne) @

See pp398-9.

Aachen 6

Road map A4. M 254,000. E Elisenbrunnen (0241-180 29 60). Trühjahrsbend (Apr), horse-riding competitions CHIO (Jul), Europamarkt des Kunsthandwerks (Sep).

Aachen owes its fame to its hot springs, whose healing powers were already highly rated by the Romans when they established baths here in the 1st–2nd centuries AD. The name of the town, aquae grani or Aquisgrani, also relates to the source.

The settlement grew mainly in the 8th century, when Charlemagne chose it as his principal residence in 768. He built a huge palace complex with chapel, cloistered courtyard and hall for himself.

When Charlemagne was crowned emperor in 800, Aachen became the capital of the Holy Roman Empire. Although the town soon lost this title, it remained an important destination for pilgrims because of the valuable relics brought here by Charlemagne. From the 10th to the 14th centuries, all German kings were crowned in the palace chapel.

Subsequently, in the 18th and 19th centuries, Aachen gained great importance as a spa. Many magnificent buildings dating from this splendid era have long since vanished. A further wave of destruction was inflicted by World War II, yet some particularly magnificent historic monuments have survived. The most important of these, in the centre of the old town, is the Pfalz (see pp396–7), a complex of buildings belonging to Charlemagne's former palace. They include a cathedral with a palace chapel and a hall which was rebuilt as the

Rathaus.

In the old town, not far from the cathedral complex it is worth visiting the church of St. Folian, where a Gothic Madonna dating from 1411 has survived. A short distance south from here stands the Flisenbrunnen (fountain of St Elizabeth) an exceptionally beautiful building where mineral water can be taken. It was built in 1822according to designs by Johann Peter Cremer and Karl Friedrich Schinkel.

After admiring the attractive houses around the central market square visitors can enjoy the Couven-Museum. Based in an historic middle-class town house, it has an interesting collection dedicated to the life of the bourgeoisie in the 18th and 19th centuries. There is also a collection of ceramic tiles from the 17th–19th centuries. The house where Israel Berr Josaphat Reuter established the first-ever news agency in

The Neo-Classical building which houses the casino in Aachen's spa park

1850 (transferred to London a year later) now houses the Internationales Zeitungsmuseum, devoted to the history of the press, with over 100,000 newspapers from the 17th century to today.

It is also worth visiting the Suermondt-Ludwig-

Museum, a short distance beyond the compact town centre, which has a great collection of art from the Middle Ages until the present day, including some beautiful sculptures and paintings from the 17th century.

To the northeast of the old town extends the spa district of Aachen. Here, visitors can stroll through the spa park at their leisure or spend an evening at the casino.

Aachen also has much to offer lovers of modern art: the Ludwig-Forum für Internationale Kunst hosts interesting exhibitions, performances and concerts.

Internationales Zeitungsmuseum

Statue of David

Hansemann

Pontstr. 13. Tel (0241) 432 45 08.

Suermondt-Ludwig-Museum

Wilhelmstr. 18. Tel (0241) 47 98 00. noon-6pm Tue & Thu-Fri; noon-8pm Wed; 11am-6pm Sat-Sun.

💯 🖿 🎉 🗎

Environs

Kornelimünster. 6 km (4 miles) southeast of the centre, is a beautiful place with a wellpreserved old town and churches. The most important of these is the Pfarrkirche St Kornelius, a former Benedictine monastery which dates from the early 9th century. The surviving building is a 14th-century Gothic basilica, extended by the early 16th century to an imposing fivenave structure. In the 18th century the octagonal chapel of St Kornelius was added at the axis of the presbytery.

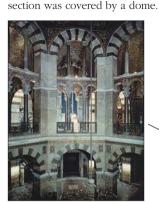

The Pfalz in Aachen

and in the 17th century the central

The original palace of Charlemagne in Aachen did not survive: of his vast construction only the Pfalzkapelle (palatine chapel) remains. Modelled on the church of San Vitale in Ravenna, Italy, it was built by Odo von Metz in 786-800. In the mid-14th century a front tower was added, and in the years 1355-1414 a new presbytery

Charlemagne, effigy on his shrine

Charlemagne's Throne

This modest throne, fashioned from marbled tiles, served as the coronation throne for successive German leaders.

Main

entrance

Candelabra

This copper candelabra, a masterpiece of Romanesque craftsmanship, was a gift from Emperor Friedrich I Barbarossa.

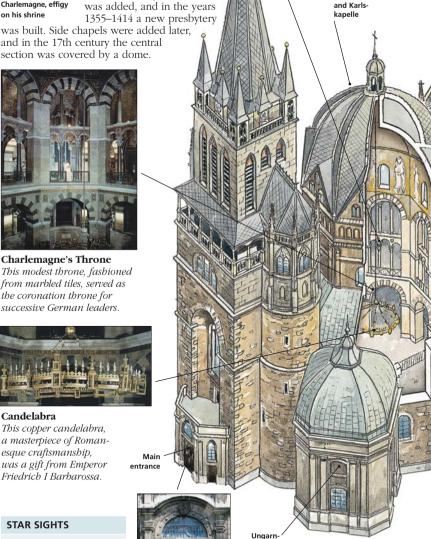

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ The Shrine of Charlemagne
- ★ Lotharkreuz
- ★ Pala d'Oro

Antique Columns

The arcaded ambulatory is divided by beautiful columns, made from red marble and porphyry which had been brought from Ravenna and Rome

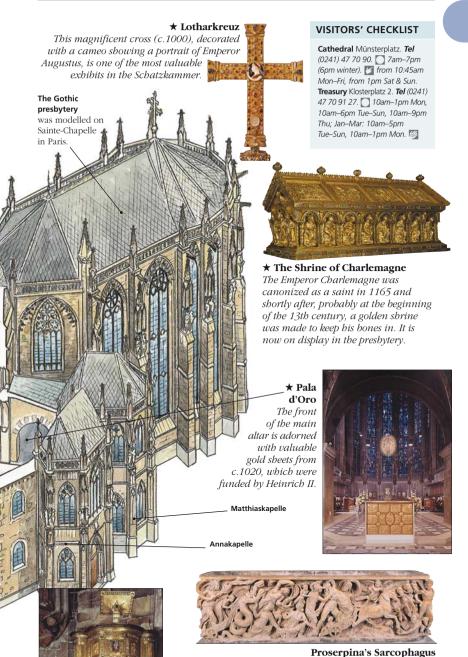

Hubortus

Bronze doors

kapelle

The doors, dating from the time of Charlemagne, are the oldest historic monument of their kind in Germany.

Ambo

The ambo, a pulpit

fashioned from gold-plated copper and inlaid

with precious stones and ivories, was donated by

Heinrich II in 1014.

This and the

This sarcophagus, in the Schatzkammer (treasury), is a beautiful example of early 3rd-century Roman sculpture. It is thought that the body of Charlemagne rested in this coffin until he was canonized.

Köln (Cologne) o

Detail on the

Originally founded by the Romans as Colonia Agrippina, Köln is one of the oldest towns in Germany. The Franks ruled the town from the end of the 5th century, and Charlemagne raised its status to that of an archbishopric. Köln has remained a powerful ecclesiastical centre – it boasts 12 Romanesque churches as well as the famous Gothic cathedral. In the Middle Ages the city also played a significant role in the Hanseatic League, and from 1388 it had a university.

♠ St Andreas

Komödienstraße 4–8. This late-Romanesque basilica was founded c.1200, with a presbytery added in 1414–20. The saint Albertus Magnus lies buried in the crypt. Particularly noteworthy are the beautiful capitals, which link the pillars between the naves, and the stalls (c.1420–30).

Pfarrkirche St Mariä Himmelfahrt

Marzellenstraße 32–40. The parish church of the Assumption of Mary is one of the few Baroque buildings in Köln. It was built for the Jesuit Order in 1618–89, under the direction of Christoph Wamser. It is easy to discover numerous Romanesque and Gothic elements, although these are not surviving parts of an earlier building, but the result of a consciously created link with earlier styles.

Picturesque houses on Fischmarkt

♠ Dom St Peter und Santa Maria

See pp402-3.

Römisch-Germanisches Museum

Roncalliplatz 4. Tel (0221) 22 12 45 90. 10am-5pm Tue-Sun. This modern, glazed building houses archaeological finds dating from the Roman and pre-Roman eras that have been uncovered in Köln and the Rhine Valley. On display are weapons, many items of everyday use, ornamental and artistic objects as well as the superb Dionysus mosaic and the monument to Poblicius.

Museum Ludwig

Bischofsgartenstraße 1 Tel (0221) 22 12 61 65. 10am-6pm Tue-Sun. 10am-10pm first Fri of month. This museum, combining the private collection of the Ludwig family with the 20th-century works originally held by the Wallraf-Richartz-Museum. has one of Europe's best collections of modern art. There are paintings by Picasso, German Expressionists, Surrealists, American Pop Artists and the Russian Avantgarde as well as many sculptures.

♠ Groß St Martin

An Groß St Martin 9 Tel (0221) 16 42 56 50. 10am-noon & 3-5pm Tue-Fri. 10am-12:30pm & 1:30-5pm Sat. 2-4pm Sun. This church, with its attractive triangular presbytery and vast tower dominating Fischmarkt. was founded for the Benedictine Order in the late 12th century. The Romans built a sports arena on this site with a swimming pool, remains of which have been uncovered under the crypt. The houses in the surrounding Martinsviertel are post-World War II, however they were built to historic designs and with a medieval street lav-out. making this an intimate and romantic area to explore.

Panorama with the Rathaus, Groß St Martin and the Dom, with the Rhine in the foreground

A detail of the Gothic section of the Rathaus facade

⚠ Wallraf-Richartz-Museum – Fondation Corboud See pp404–5.

Rathaus

Alter Markt. (0221) 22 10. 10am–5pm Mon–Fri, 10am–noon Sat. Jewish Baths 8am–4:45pm Mon–Thu, 8am–noon Fri, 10am–4pm Sat, 11am–1pm Sun. Praetorium Kleine Budengasse. 10am–5pm Tue–5un. The town hall is an irregular shape created by successive modifications. In the first phase, around 1330, a wing with a Hanseatic Hall was built. decorated with Gothic sculptures of heroes and prophets. In 1407-14 a vast Gothic tower was added and in the 16th century the arcaded Renaissance Lions Courtvard and a magnificent front lodge were built. In front of the town hall, under a glass pyramid are the remains of 12th-century ritual Iewish baths, that were destroyed after the expulsion of the Iews in 1424. From Kleine . Budengasse an entrance leads to the Praetorium, the remains of a Roman town hall.

ff Gürzenich

Gürzenichstraße
This Gothic building has a huge celebration hall (1437–44). which occupies the entire first floor. Next to it are the ruins of the Romanesque church Alt St Alban. It has a copy of the sculpture Parents by Käthe Kollwitz.

Minoritenstraße

This modest Gothic Franciscan church was established in the 13th–14th centuries. It is an elegant three-naved basilica

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

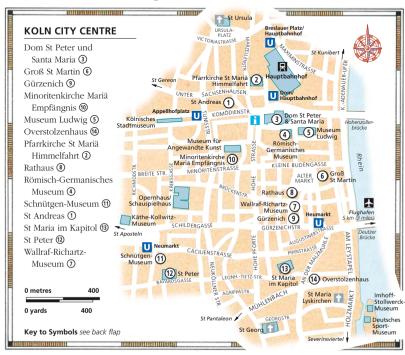

Road map B4. 11,005,000.

Hauptbahnhof: ZOB
Breslauer Platz. 1 KonradAdenauer Flughafen (02203400). 1 Unter Fettenhennen 19
(0221-22 13 04 00). 1 Markt
bei der Apostelkirche Tam-noon
Tue & Fri. 1 Rosenmontagsumzug (Carnival Rose Mon, Jan/Feb), Bierbörse (Aug/Sep).

without a tower, modelled on the Elisabethkirche in Marburg. There are historic furnishings and a 14thcentury shrine with the remains of Johannes Duns Scotus, a Scottish Minorite.

Place of remembrance, in Alt St Alban, near the Gürzenich

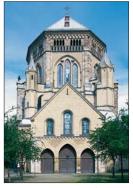

Exploring Köln (Cologne)

Present-day Köln is a metropolis, known primarily for its trade fairs. It is also an important centre of art and culture, its reputation forged by several excellent museums, numerous historic buildings and superb art galleries. Book and newspaper publishers have their head offices here, as do radio and television stations. The highest number of visitors, however, come to Köln for the five days preceding Ash Wednesday, to join in the fun and watch the grand carnival processions.

fft Schnütgen-Museum

Cäcilienstraße 29 Tel (0221) 22 12 23 10. 10am-5pm Tue-Fri. 11am–5pm Sat & Sun. 🚳 The Romanesque church of St Cecilia, built in 1130-60 as a nunnery, was taken over in 1479 by the Augustinian Sisters; today it houses the Schnütgen-Museum. Destroyed during World War II and subsequently rebuilt, this museum specializes in religious art, mainly from the Middle Ages. Its collection includes magnificient sculptures, gold and ivory items and sacral objects.

The Romanesque church of St Gereon, with its vast dome

♠ St Peter

Leonhard-Tietz-Straße 6.

The late-Gothic church of St
Peter is a galleried basilica, built in 1515–39. Following its destruction in World War II, the former vaulting was replaced by a ceiling. The church's greatest attractions include its Renaissance stained-glass windows (1528–30) and the magnificent Crucifixion of St Peter, painted after 1637 by Peter Paul Rubens, who spent his childhood here and whose father lies buried in the church.

♠ St Maria im Kapitol

Marienplatz 19 Originally built in the early part of the 11th century, as a convent, the church's extension and remodelling took until the early 13th century. Noteworthy among the furnishings are its extensive crypt and the mid-11th-century wooden door in the west closure, richly carved with reliefs depicting scenes from the life of Christ. It also has a superb Renaissance rood screen, and is the only church in Köln with cloisters.

TOVerstolzenhaus

Rheingasse 8.
World War II deprived Köln of many of its historic residential buildings, but this one has been lovingly restored. Built for a prosperous patrician family in the second quarter of the 13th century, it is regarded as one of the town's finest Gothic houses.

A St Maria Lyskirchen

An Lyskirchen 12.
This, the smallest Romanesque church in Köln, was built around 1220 and slightly remodelled in the 17th remodelled in the 17th century. Its greatest attractions are magnificent frescos depicting scenes from the Bible and the lives of the saints, which adorn the vaults

(c.1250), as well as the Schöne Madonna, a huge statue of the Virgin with the Infant Christ (c.1420).

11 Imhoff-Stollwerck-

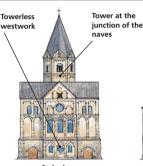

Rheinauhafen 1a. Tel (0221) 931 88 80. 10am-6pm Tue-Fri, 11am-7pm Sat & Sun. 11am-7pm Sat & Sun. 11am-7pm Sat & Sun. 11am-7pm Sat & Sun. 11am of chocolate explains the history of cocoa bean cultivation as well as the cultural significance, use and marketing of chocolate. It also shows the production process, and lets visitors sample the product.

♠ St Georg

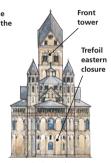

Georgsplatz 17.
This church was built around the middle of the 11th century, originally as a transept basilica with two choirs. In

ROMANESQUE CHURCHES

Köln has 12 surviving Romanesque churches, bearing testimony to the importance of the Church in the town's development. Built on the graves of martyrs and early bishops of Köln, the forms of the churches influenced the development of Romanesque architecture well beyond the Rhineland. Almost all the churches were damaged in World War II. Some, such as the church of St Kolumba, have not been restored, but most were returned to their former glory.

St Aposteln

The attractive Romanesque church of St Kunibert, seen from the Rhine the mid-12th century the west choir was replaced by a massive frontage (westwork), but the towers were never added.

♠ St Pantaleon

Am Pantaleonsberg 2.

A little way from the centre is this exquisite church, a former Benedictine monastery founded c.950 by Archbishop Bruno, brother of Emperor Otto I. The archbishop and the Empress Theophanu, who completed the building, are both buried here. The church has a superb late-Gothic choir screen with richly carved ornamentation. From the crypt, the remains of a Roman villa are accessible.

₩ Severinsviertel

The Severin Quarter, a district on the southern edge of the old town, owes its name to the 13th-century Romanesque church of St Severinus. The church, largely remodelled in the Gothic style in the 15th and 16th centuries, features rich original furnishings and has a mid-10th-century crypt.

♠ St Aposteln

Neumarkt 30.

This enormous 12th-century church of the Apostles, which towers over Neumarkt, a central square in Köln, is one of the most interesting Romanesque churches in the Rhineland. The original basilica has a trefoil eastern closure, a low tower at the junction of the naves and a tall front tower. It was given two further slim turrets flanking the apse of the presbytery.

From Neumarkt, Hahnenstrasse leads to Rudolfplatz and the Hahnentor, perhaps the most beautiful of all surviving medieval gates.

♠ St Gereon

Gereonsdriesch 2-4.

This church must be the most unusual edifice not only in the Rhineland, but in all of Germany. Its oldest part, an oval building surrounded by small conchas, was built in the late 4th century on the graves of martyrs and – according to legend – founded by St Helen. The Romanesque presbytery is an 11th-century addition and, in 1219–27, the oval was encircled with a tensided, four-storey structure in early-Gothic style. This is topped with a massive dome, 48 m (157 ft) in diameter, with ribbed yault

Stairway

♠ St Ursula

Ursulaplatz 24.

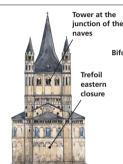

This church was built in the 12th century, on the site of an earlier church probably dating from c 400. In the late 13th century the presbytery was rebuilt in Gothic style. The Baroque golden chamber at the southern end, added in the 17th century, is lined with many shrines. According to legend, these hold the remains of St Ursula and 11.000 virgins, all of whom were reputedly killed at the hands of the Huns. The town insignia of Köln also testify to the veneration of the virgins.

♠ St Kunibert

Kunibertskloster 2.
Bishop Kunibert was buried in a church on this site in 663.
The present Romanesque church (1215–47) has precious Romanesque stained-glass windows (c.1220–30).

The medieval Hahnentor, exit from Köln towards Aachen

Semi-circular apse

Pair of front towers

Groß St Martin St Pantaleon

St Kunibert

Pinnacles

Elaborately

tinnacles tob

the supporting decorated tillars.

Cologne Cathedral (Kölner Dom)

10th-century Gero Cross

The most famous Gothic structure in Germany, the Kölner Dom is also unusually complex, whether in terms of its splendour, its size or even simply the date of its construction. The foundation stone was laid on 15th August 1248, the presbytery consecrated in 1322. The cathedral was built gradually until c.1520. It then remained unfinished until the 19th century, when Romanticists revived interest in it. The building was finally completed in 1842–80, according to the rediscovered, original Gothic designs.

Cathedral Interior

The presbytery, the ambulatory and the chapels retain a large number of Gotbic, mainly early-14th-century, stained-glass windows.

Engelbert Reliquary (c.1630)

The cathedral treasury is famous for its large collection of golden objects, vestments and the fine ornamentation of its liturgical books.

Petrusportal, or the portal of

entrance

or the portal of St Peter, the only one built in the second half of the 14th century, has five Gothic figures.

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Gothic Stalls
- ★ Shrine of the Three Kings
- ★ Altar of the Magi

Buttresses support

the entire bulk of the cathedral.

★ Gothic Stalls

The massive oak stalls built in 1308–11. were the largest that have ever heen made in Germany.

> Semicircular arches transfer the thrust of the vaults onto the huttrecee

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Cathedral 6am-7:30pm daily. Treasury Domkloster 4. Tel (0221) 17 94 05 55 10am-6pm daily, 🔏 🥝 Viewing platform / Jan/Feb & Nov/Dec: 9am-4pm: Mar/Apr & Oct: 9am-5pm: May-Sep: 9am-6pm. Organ recitals Jun-Aua: 8pm Tue. Exhibition of Rubens tapestries Whit Sunday until Corpus Christi.

High Altar

The Gothic altar slab, which dates back to the consecration of the presbytery, depicts the Coronation of the Virgin Mary, flanked by the twelve apostles.

★ Shrine of the Three Kings

This huge Romanesque reliquary was made by Nikolaus von Verdun in 1190–1220, to hold the relics of the Three Kings. These relics were brought to Köln in 1164 for Emperor Friedrich I Barbarossa.

★ Altar of the Magi

This splendid altar (c.1445), the work of Stephan Lochner, is dedicated to the Three Kings, the patrons of Köln.

Mailänder Madonna

This fine early-Gothic carving of the Milan Madonna and Child dates from around 1290. It is currently displayed in the Marienkapelle.

Wallraf-Richartz-Museum - Fondation Corboud

This museum was named after Ferdinand Franz Wallraf, who bequeathed his art collection to the city in 1824, and Johann Heinrich Richartz, who funded the first building. Medieval and early modern paintings (1250 to 1550) form the core of the collection. There are also works by Rubens and Rembrandt, as well as examples from Impressionism, Realism and Symbolism. In 2001 the Wallraf-Richartz-Museum moved to a brand-new building, incorporting many new works from the collection of Gérard Corboud.

Bleaching the Linen (1882) Max Liebermann created this painting in the early stages of his career, when his work was largely concerned with Realism

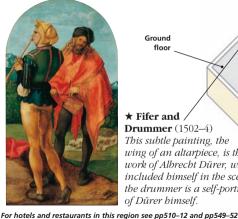

Third

floor

★ Stigmatization of St Francis (c 1616) This dark and mysterious bainting, originally created by Peter Paul Rubens for the Capuchin church in Köln, is untypical of the artist's work.

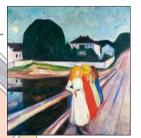

Reclining Girl (1751) This young nude. arranged on ber bed in a provocative pose, is an example of the light-hearted works of so-called "boudoir art" that François Boucher specialized in.

★ Fifer and Drummer (1502–4) This subtle painting, the wing of an altarpiece, is the work of Albrecht Dürer, who included himself in the scenethe drummer is a self-portrait of Dürer himself.

Ground floor

> Main entrance

Girls on a Bridge (1905)

Edvard Munch covered the same subject several times (see p437). The version held in Köln is one of the earliest, and features an urbanized landscape.

Fifth floor

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Wallraf-Richartz-Museum – Fondation Corboud

Obenmarspforten. Tel (0221) 22 12 11 19. 10am–8pm Tue, 10am–6pm Wed–Fri, 11am–6pm Sat & Sun.

GALLERY GUIDE

Each floor in the museum displays paintings belonging to one era. On the second floor, the exhibition begins with the collection of 13th-century art; the third floor bolds 16th–18th century art, and on the fifth floor works of art from the 19th century are displayed, organized by the schools of art they represent.

____ Jacob accuses Laban of giving him Lai instead of Rachel as a wife

This biblical scene was painted by one of the most outstanding
Dutch masters,
Hendrick ter
Bruggben.

Second floor

Madonna and Child (1325–30)

This central panel of a polyptych by Simone Martini is thought to have originated from the San Agostino church in San Giminiano.

∨ Old Woman and Boy

(c.1650–60)
This scene was painted by Bartolome Esteban Murillo. The artist excelled not only as the master of charmingly sentimental depictions of the Madonna, but was also an excellent observer of everyday life in 17thcentury Spain.

KEY

- Medieval paintings
- 17th- and 18th-century paintings
- 19th-century paintings
- Non-exhibition space

STAR EXHIBITS

- ★ Fifer and Drummer
- ★ Stigmatization of St Francis

One of the artificial reservoirs in the northern Fifel

Northern Eifel 6

Road map A4. Kalvarienbergstr. 1, 54595 Prüm (0180) 500 22 83. Bad Münstereifel: Burg in Flammen (Jul).

Barely 20 percent of the Eifel mountain range is in North Rhine-Westphalia. Low, forested mountains line the valley of the Rur river, which has been dammed in several places. The resulting artificial lakes provide a perfect opportunity for relaxation and sporting activities. There are also many attractive towns and fascinating monuments.

Blankenheim is famed for its picturesque half-timbered houses, the late-Gothic church and the frequently modified 12th-century castle of the counts von Manderscheid-Blankenheim, which today is a youth hostel. The source of the Ahr river can also be seen here – a house was built over the top of it in 1726.

In Schleiden, the castle, built in the 12th century and frequently rebuilt up until the 18th century, is worth visiting. There is also a late-Gothic church with valuable stained-glass windows and an impressive organ dating from 1770.

Probably the most beautiful town in this region is Monschau, which until 1919 was called Montjoie. It is known also for the Montjoier Düttchen (croissants) and an excellent mustard. The ruin of a 13th-century castle towers on a hill. At its foot, the Rur river runs through a narrow valley, with attractive small towns, narrow, steep streets and timber-frame houses from various eras. In Hasenfeld visitors can see a dam dating from 1904, and an amazing hydro-electric building, decorated in a way that reflects its purpose. One of the most interesting monuments of this region is the Steinfeld monastery, with a history dating from the 10th century. In 1121 the Augustinians settled here and in 1126 they accepted the rule of St Norbert of Xanten, and this became the first monastery on German territory. A beautiful Romanesque basilica was built in the second half of the 12th century. It has retained wall paintings from the 12th and 14th centuries, and vaulted ceilings from the 16th century. The

Rheinisches
Freilichtmuseum Kommern is an open-air museum with examples of the building styles
typical of the Northern Eifel. It is also worth visiting the town of Euskirchen, which has an attractive Gothic church with superb furnishings, and the moated castle of Veynau (14–15th centuries).

Merry-go-round at the

Phantasialand in Brühl

Picturesque half-timbered houses in Monschau

The spa town of Bad Münstereifel dates back to 830, when a Benedictine monastery was established here. The present church is a 12th-century Romanesque basilica with impressive 11th-century frontage. Also worth seeing are the Gothic town hall and a Romanesque house, now housing a museum.

TRheinisches Freilichtmuseum Kommern

Auf dem Kahlenbusch. Mechernich-Kommern. Tel (02443) 998 00. Apr–Oct: 9am–6pm; Nov–Mar: 10am–4pm.

Brühl @

Road map B4. A 42,000. A == White B4. A 42,000. A == White B4. A 42,000. A 4

The small town of Brühl has one of the most beautiful residential complexes, since 1984 a UNESCO World Heritage Site. As early as the 13th century, a palace was established here for the archbishops of nearby Köln, but this was destroyed in 1689. A Baroque palace, Augustusburg, was built on its foundations in 1725–8, according to a design by Johann Conrad Schlaun. It was named after the instigator of the building, Elector Klemens August.

The building was almost immediately refurbished, with a new facade and furnishings, the work of Francois Cuvilliés, and in the 1940s a new staircase was completed to a design by Balthasar Neumann. After devastation in World War II, the palace was carefully restored, and the magnificently furnished late-Baroque and Rococo interior, especially a stunning dining room designed by Cuvilliés. can now be seen again. A path leads from the orangery to a Gothic church built for the Franciscans in the 15th century. The Annunciation on the high altar is the work of Johann Wolfgang van der Auwer, while the magnificent

Phantasialand, the largest theme park in Germany, near Brühl canopy above was designed by Balthasar Neumann. The castle is surrounded by a Baroque park, designed by Dominique Girard.

About 2 km (1 mile) east of the main residence is another castle, Falkenlust, built in 1729–40, to a design by Cuvilliés. Its captivating interior includes a lacquered and a mirror cabinet. Nearby stands an octagonal chapel, its interior decoration modelled on a secluded grotto.

It is also worth visiting the small villa near Augustusburg where the great Surrealist artist Max Ernst was born. It now houses a small display commemorating his work.

Another attraction, which draws a large number of visitors is Phantasialand, Germany's largest theme park. Visitors will need several days to see all the attractions of this vast fairground with its roller-coaster, water-rides and numerous merry-go-rounds.

♣ Augustusburg

☐ Falkenlust

Tel (02232) 440 00. Feb-Nov: 9am-noon & 1:30-4pm Tue-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun

Phantasialand

Berggeiststr. 31–41. Tel (02232) 362 00. Apr–Oct: 9am–6pm dailv, later in summer.

Environs

Two moated houses await the visitor at Kerpen, 27 km (17 miles) to the north: the small 6th-century castle of Lörsfeld, and the Baroque palace of Türnich, built in 1756–66.

In Pulheim-Brauweiler, 30 km (19 miles) to the north, is an extremely beautiful Benedictine monastery, founded in 1024. Building began in 1048, funded by Rycheza, the wife of the Polish King Boleslav Chrobry.

From here it is worth travelling another 23 km (14 miles) west to Bedburg, where the moated castle is worth seeing. This is a vast brick structure with four wings, which was established in stages over 300 years, starting in around 1300.

Bonn 🔞

See p408.

Königswinter **®

Road map B4. 🚮 35,000. 📮 🚃

Drachenfelsstr. 51 (02223-91 77 11).

Königswinter lies in the centre of the Siebengebirge. an attractive range of small. wooded mountains (the "seven mountains"), excellently suited for walking. The most popular mountain is the Drachenfels (dragon's rock) The oldest mountain railway in Germany, built in 1883. takes visitors to the top (321 m/1.053 ft). During the ascent visitors can see the Neo-Gothic Drachenburg, a palace dating from 1879-84, and on the top are the ruins of the Gothic Drachenburg, dating from the 12th century. The "dragon" in the name relates to the myth of the Nibelungs the dragon slain by Siegfried was supposed to have lived here.

The little town of Königswinter, at the foot of the mountains, has picturesque 17th-century half-timbered houses, town houses and late 19th-century hotels.

Environs

Bad Honnef, 6 km (4 miles) to the south, is a charming spa town known as "Nice on the Rhine", where the former chancellor Konrad Adenauer lived until his death. A museum commemorates this great politician.

Situated 15 km (9 miles) to the north is Siegburg, where a Benedictine monastery (1064) is worth visiting. The walls of the crypt are from the 11th century, but the present church is a 17th-century building, rebuilt after World War II. The Anno-Schrein is a magnificent Romanesque reliquary box dating from 1183.

The Baroque Schloss Augustusburg in Brühl

Bonn 6

Bonn was founded by the Romans in 11 BC, and flourished thanks to the archbishops of Cologne. It gained fame because of Ludwig van Beethoven, who was born here in 1770, and Robert Schumann, who spent the final years of his life here. The world heard of Bonn when, on 10 May 1949, it was elevated to the status of capital of the Federal Republic of Germany. When parliament decided in 1991 to make Berlin the capital of the newly unified country, Bonn was deprived of its role, although seven ministries staved on.

The Baroque portal of the Reethovenhaus in Ronn

Reethovenhaus

Bonngasse 20. Tel (0228) 981 75 25. Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm Mon-Sat. 11am-4pm Sun: Nov-Mar: 10am-5pm Mon-Sat, 11am-4pm Sun, [6] The museum is housed in the Baroque 18th-century house where the composer Ludwig van Beethoven was born and lived until the age of 22. He never returned to his home town, but there is a large and impressive collection of memorabilia from his entire life.

Markt

The central market square in Bonn, shaped like a triangle, owes its present appearance to a mixture of modern and Baroque architecture. Its most outstanding feature is the late-Baroque Rathaus (town hall). built in 1737-8, to a design by Michel Leveilly. The centre of the market square is decorated with the Marktbrunnen. a fountain in the shape of an obelisk, erected in 1777 in honour of the Elector Maximilian Friedrich.

Not far from the Markt are some churches worth seeing. The first is the Gothic Remiaiuskirche, built for the Franciscans in the vears 1274-1317. and the second is the Baroque Namen-Jesu-Kirche built for the Iesuits according to a design by Iacob de Candreal in the vears 1686-1717.

Rheinufer

The Rhine embankment, which changes its name several times Landesmuseum along its course, runs along the western bank of the Rhine. Many of Bonn's attractions are grouped along this street. To the north of Kennedybrücke (Kennedy bridge) lies the Beethovenhalle, a vast concert and congress hall, and to the south of the bridge is the Bonn opera house.

Next to the opera is the Alter Zoll, the former customs house, which is based in one of the bastions that was part of the 17th-century city defences

TUniversität

Am Hofgarten. Founded in 1818, Bonn University is based in what is probably the most beautiful home for an educational institution anywhere in Germany. The stunningly attractive Baroque castle was built for the Elector Joseph Klemens in 1607-1705, to a design by Enrico Zuccalli, and extended after 1715 by Robert de Cotte.

♠ Münster St Martin

Münsternlatz

Bonn's cathedral is a magnificent example of Romanesque architecture in the Rhine

> Valley. The church was built in around 1150-1230, on the site of an earlier 11th-century cathedral, of which a three-naved crypt has survived South of it the romantic 12th-century Romanesque cloister is also worth seeing.

Gold clasps in the Rheinisches

TR Rheinisches Landesmuseum Colmantstraße 14–16. Tel (0228) 20 700.

10am-6pm Tue-Sun, 10am-9pm Wed.

www.rlmb.de

This interesting regional museum has a vast collection of excavated items dating back to Roman times, as well as medieval and modern art. The skull of a Neanderthal

Man is also exhibited here.

The Baroque Elector's palace, housing Bonn University

Regierungsviertel

Until recently this was the central authority of one of the most powerful countries in Europe. Now it creates a somewhat desolate impression. Some ministries and offices have remained in Bonn, and the transfer to Berlin is taking time, but the town is definitely changing.

Willy-Brandt-Allee 14. Tel (0228) 916 50. Sam-Tpm Tue-Sun. This excellent new museum details the history of Germany after World War II, with fascinating multi-media displays. It is one of the architecturally impressive buildings which form Bonn's "Museums Mile".

M Kunstmuseum Bonn

Friedrich-Ebert-Allee 2. Tel (0228) 77 62 60. ☐ 11am-6pm Tue-Sun, 11am-9pm Wed. ☐ 24, 25 & 31 Dec; Sat, Sun & Mon in carnival. This superb museum of 20th-century art, in an interesting building designed by Axel Schultes, has a great collection of Expressionist paintings, including many works by August Macke. Next to the

The former Bundestag building, in the Regierungsviertel museum is the Kunst- und Ausstellungshalle, which opened in 1992 as a venue for temporary exhibitions.

Bad Godesberg

The small spa town of Bad Godesberg was incorporated into Bonn as recently as 1969. An elegant neighbourhood, its villas line the spa park. On top of the hill is the Godesburg, a ruined castle dating from the 13th century.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map B4. 310,000.

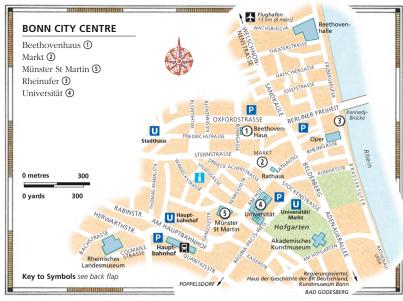

Hauptbahnhof. 20B.
Koln-Bonn Konrad-Adenauer
Flughafen (02203-400).
Windeckstraße 1 (0228-77
50 00). Rhein in Flammen
(1st Sat in May), Rheinauenfest
(Jun), Museumsmeilenfest (Jun), Beethovenfest (Sep), Jahrmarkt
"Pützchens Markt" (Sep).

Poppelsdorf

In this leafy southwestern suburb, the Baroque Schloss Clemensruhe (1715–18) is well worth visiting. Both the castle and its extensive park with an attractive botanical garden belong to the university. It is also worth making a detour to the Baroque pilgrimage church on the Kreuzberg, a low hill. The church houses the chapel of the Holy Steps, attributed to Balthasar Neumann.

The Baroque Schloss Clemensruhe, in Poppelsdorf

The medieval Oberes Schloss in Siegen

Siegen @

Road map B4. 100,000. Markt 2 (0271-404 13 16). Wiltur Pur (MaylJun), Rubensfest (Jun/Jul), Weihnachtsmarkt (Dec).

Beautifully located amidst the hills on the high banks of the Sieg river, Siegen is the largest town in the Siegerland region. For centuries the city was the residence of the dukes of Nassau. Religious divisions in the family resulted in two castles being built in Siegen. The Oberes Schloss (upper castle) is a medieval building. frequently refurbished in the 16th 17th and 18th centuries The museum, which has been opened inside the castle, has some paintings by Peter Paul Rubens, who was born in Siegen. The lower Unteres Schloss is a Baroque palace, which replaced an earlier building. In the centre of Siegen it is also worth visiting the Nicolaikirche, a 13thcentury hexagonal church with a presbytery and tower, which served as the ducal family mausoleum.

Environs

In Freudenberg, 10 km (6 miles) northwest of Siegen, is the small settlement of Alter Flecken, which is reproduced in virtually all German guidebooks. Founded in 1666 at the instigation of Duke Johann Moritz von Nassau, the village consists of identical half-timbered houses.

Hagen @

Road map B4. (1) 210,950. 💂 🚐 Rathausstr. 13 (02331-207 58 94). 🌃 Marktschreiertage (Jan).

Hagen would probably not feature in the guidebooks, were it not for Karl Ernst Osthaus, who created an artists' colony here at the beginning of the 20th century, inviting Art Nouveau designers such as Peter Behrens and Henry van der Velde. The magnificent Hohenhof, Osthaus' home was created by van der Velde It houses the Karl-Ernst-Osthaus-Museum. with a collection of modern art Behrens designed the crematorium in the suburb of Delstern and the beautiful villas Haus Como (Hafleyer Str. 35) and Haus Goedeke (Amselgasse). In the south of the town is the Westfälisches Freilichtmuseum, a popular open-air museum, which displays many historic workshops and factories with reconstructed equipment.

Sauerland 2

Road map B4. Sauerland-Touristik, Johannes-Hummel-Weg 1, 57392 Schmallenberg (02974-96 980).

The Sauerland is the region to the south and east of the Ruhr coalfields, making an obvious holiday destination for the inhabitants of this large, industrialized conurbation. Embracing the northern part of the Rhenish slate massif, its densely wooded mountains are not high - the highest peak is Hegekopf at 843 m (2,766 ft). Crossed by rivers teeming with fish and full of artificial lakes, the area is perfect for walking, cycling and fishing.

Eniovable days can be had on an excursion to one of the caves such as Attahöhle. Dechenhöhle and Heinrichshöhle near Iserlohn. There are charming towns, too, and in Breckerfeld the Gothic parish church has preserved a superb altar. from around 1520. The main attraction in Altena is the superb, gigantic Burg (castle), built in the 12th century and restored in the early 20th century. In 1910 the world's first youth hostel for tourists

One of the charming villages, nestling in the hilly landscape of the Sauerland

Timber-frame house, typical of the Sauerland landscane was created here. The 14thcentury Schloss Wocklum in Balve was rebuilt in the 18th century. One of the greatest tourist draws in the Sauerland is the Möhnesee, a lake with a huge dam, built in 1908–12 and bombed by Allied "dambusters" in 1943 with catastrophic consequences. Arnsberg has a regional museum and the lovely Neo-Gothic moated castle Herdringen with assorted furnishings from other castles.

In the south extend the Rothaargebirge (red-haired mountains). Their most beautiful town is the spa resort of Bad Berleburg, while the Kahler Asten mountain and the town of Winterberg are popular winter sports areas.

Soest @

Road map B4. A 50,000. Teichsmühlengasse 3 (02921-66 35 00 50). M Bördetag (May), Gauklertag (Sep), Jahrmarkt Allerheiligenkirmes (Nov).

The Westphalian town of Soest made its mark in history when, in about 1100, the town's civic rights were formulated and subsequently adopted by 65 other towns. Today the town captivates visitors with its well-preserved old town, its historic churches. and the almost completely intact walls which surround the town. The focus of the old town is the Romanesque Propsteikirche St Patrokli.

founded in 965 by Bruno, archbishop of Cologne, and built in stages until the 13th century. Further historic buildings are grouped around the church: the 18th-century,

Baroque Rathaus (town hall). the 12th-century Romanesque Petrikirche with its Gothic presbytery, and the 12th-century Nicolaikapelle a chapel with 13th-century wall paintings and an altar painted by Konrad von Soest

In the northern part of the old town, two churches are worth seeing the Hohnekirche with beautiful Gothic and early Baroque furnishings. and the Wiesenkirche with a magnificent group of stained-glass windows from the 14th and 15th centuries The window above the northern portal shows the socalled Westphalian Last Supper, depicting a table laden with plentiful An ornate window in the style, it is crowned Westphalian smoked ham and local pumpernickel bread.

Environ

In Lippstadt, 23 km (14 miles) east of Soest, it is worth visiting the Gothic Marienkirche In the suburb of Bökenförde is the 18thcentury Baroque moated palace Schwarzenraben, and there is an early-Baroque castle in Overhagen.

Paderborn 2

Road map C3. A. 140,000. Marienplatz 2 (05251-88 29 80). Puppenfestspiele (Feb), Schützenfest (Jul), Liborifest (Jul-Aug), Lihorikirmos (Oct)

Paderborn has featured on the historical map for over 1,000 years. In the 8th century Charlemagne built a palace here, and in about AD 800, a bishopric was established. The town's most important monument is the beautiful Dom St Maria, St Kilian und St Liborius, a Romanesque-Gothic cathedral. This enormous hallchurch with two transepts and tall front tower suffered greatly during World War II, but it continues to captivate visitors with its magnificent decor on the richly carved portal, the great Romanesque crypt, interesting plaques and richly decorated bishops' tombs and epitaphs. The diocesan museum holds the Imad-Madonna funded by Bishop Imad, an outstanding figure of the Madonna and Child dating from 1051–8. On the northern side of the cathedral a section of the foundations of the emperor's palace can be seen. together with the Bartholomäuskapelle (chapel of St Bartholomew) the oldest hall-church in Germany > the south of the cathedral complex. on Rathausplatz, is the exceptionally beautiful Rathaus (town hall) dating from 1613-20 An example of the Weser-Renaissance with richly ornamented gables. The completed in 1017. To Heinz-Nixdorf-Museumsforum provides a pleasant break from the past – this museum is dedicated to the history of computers.

Environs

Dom in Paderborn

Near Stukenbrock 15 km (9 miles) north of Paderborn. is the theme park Hollywood-Park and the fascinating Safariland, where more than 500 African animals roam freely.

Tower of the Romanesque-Gothic Dom in Paderborn

Front of the early-Romanesque Abtei Corvey in Höxter

Höxter @

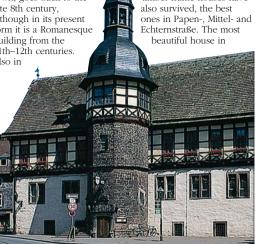

In a picturesque spot on the Weser river. Höxter can pride itself on its beautiful old town with many timber-frame houses, fragments of the city walls, a Renaissance Rathaus (town hall) from 1610. and important churches. The history of Kilianikirche. in the centre of the old town, goes back to the late 8th century. although in its present form it is a Romanesque building from the 11th-12th centuries. Also in

The city's greatest attraction, however, is the magnificent Abtei Corvey, a monastery founded in 822. It was originally built as the church of St Stephen and St Vitus, but only the grandiose two-storey frontage completed in 885 survived. It became the model for several other churches built in Westphalia, while the main body of the church was rebuilt in the 17th century.

Lemgo @

This exceptionally pretty town was founded in 1190 by Bernhard II von Lippe. It was a member of the Hanseatic League, and had its heyday during the witch hunts of the 17th century, Today, Lemgo has numerous Renaissance monuments - it was spared during World War II. and the Gothic Nicolaikirche and Marienkirche, with Gothic wall paintings and a Renaissance organ by Georg Slegel, have survived. The pearl of the city is the beautiful Rathaus (town hall), built in the 15th-17th centuries. It contains an original pharmacy that is still in use. Many timber-frame houses have also survived, the best Echternstraße. The most beautiful house in

The picturesque Renaissance Rathaus in Höxter

Façade of a Renaissance pharmacy inside the Rathaus in Lemgo

Lemgo is the Hexenbürgermeisterhaus. This "witches' mayor's house" (1571), an excellent example of Weser Renaissance, belonged to the mayor, Hermann Cothmann, who started the witch hunt. It now houses a town museum. Also worth visiting are the Junkerhaus (1891), the architect's home, and Schloss Brake (13th-16th centuries), a castle which now houses the Weserrenaissance-Museum.

Museum Schloss Brake. Tel (05261) 94

Schloss Brake. Tel (05261) 945 00. ☐ 10am–6pm Tue–Sun.

Teutoburger Wald (Teutoburg Forest)

Road map C3. Toetmold, Rathaus Am Markt 5 (05231-97 73 28). Andreas-Messe in Detmold (Nov).

A range of low mountains extending from Osnabrück through Bielefeld right up to Paderborn, the Teutoburg Forest is one of the most attractive tourist regions in Westphalia. The best base for walking and cycling holidays is Detmold, which has a very attractive old town with wellpreserved timber-frame buildings from various periods, and the elegant Residenzschloss, the castle of the zur Lippe family. Originally medieval, the palace was rebuilt in the 16th century in the WeserRenaissance style. The interior is composed of 17th and 19th century furnishings. The star feature is a set of eight gobelins crafted in a Brussels workshop around 1670, showing scenes of Alexander the Great's triumphs. Furnishings from the 19th century include designs by Charles Le Brun.

Three km (2 miles) south of Detmold is the spot where in the year AD 9 Cherusko Arminius known as Hermann leader of the Germanic tribes, triumphed against the Roman army led by Varus. At the top of the mountain, the Hermannsdenkmal, a huge monument designed by Ernst von Bandel, was erected in 1838-75. It was supposed to symbolize the German struggle for unification

Two fascinating attractions near Detmold are the Adlerwarte Berlebeck, an ornithological research station, where eagles and many other birds of prey can be observed, and the Vogelpark Heiligenkirchen, a bird park with over 2,000 varieties of birds in all shapes and sizes from around the world.

Bielefeld @

Road map C3. A 325,000. 9
Niederwall 23 (0521-51 69 99). Hermannslauf (Apr), Leinenweber-Markt (May), Bielefelder Kultur-Sommer (May–Sep),
Sparrenburgfest (Jul), Weinmarkt (Sep), Weinnachtsmarkt (Dec).

On the edge of the Teutoburg Forest, Bielefeld owes its evolution to the production of and trading in linen. The old town is dominated by the Sparrenburg castle, built in the 13th century for the von Ravensberg family. In the 16th century the castle was surrounded by new fortifications including new bastions, and in the 19th century the residential part of the city was greatly extended.

The central feature of the old town is Alter Markt (old market), on which stands the Nicolaikirche This Gothic church suffered heavily in World War II, although the marvellous Antwern altar (c.1520) was preserved. Nearby, on Obernstraße, stands the Crüwell-Haus an interesting late-Gothic town house from the early 16th century. The street leads to St Jodokus-Kirche a late-Gothic church, whose greatest treasure is the amazing figure of the Black Madonna (c 1220) Further south is the Kunsthalle, a modern building with a significant collection of 20thcentury art. It is also worth visiting the Marienkirche in the new town. Built in 1280–1330, this Gothic church holds the tomb of one of the von Ravensberg dukes (c.1320) and a high altar (c.1400) with a central Gothic section.

Environs

Picturesque Herford, 17 km (11 miles) north of Bielefeld, has a lovely old town with timberframe houses and beautiful Gothic churches.

In Enger, 21 km (13 miles) to the north, in the former church of the canons, a tomb dating from 1100 holds the remains of the Saxon Duke Widukind, buried in 807.

The spa town of Bad Salz-uflen with its pretty old town and spa park is the ideal place for those seeking relaxation.

An observation tower in the Sparrenburg complex in Bielefeld

The Wasserstraßenkreuzung (waterway junction) in Minden

Minden @

Charlemagne created a bishopric here as early as 798. The town evolved thanks to its strategic location on the Weser river. The city's most important monument is the cathedral. Dompfarrkirche St Petrus und St Gorgonius It has a Romanesque presbytery, transept and monumental frontage built in the 11th-12th centuries, although the body of the church is an example of early-Gothic style from the 13th century. It is worth visiting the church treasury with its 11th-century crucifix.

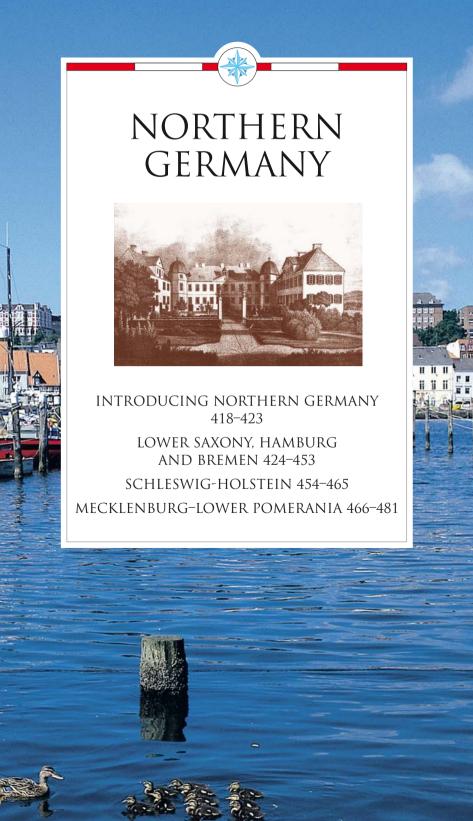

The Rathaus (town hall), with 13th-century lower sections, is worth seeing, as are Minden's many charming houses around the market square. A great attraction is the Wasserstraßenkreuz (waterway junction), where a 375-m (1,230-ft) long bridge takes the Mittellandkanal across the Weser river.

Environs

On top of a hill in Porta Westfalica, 6 km (4 miles) south of Minden, is a giant monument to Kaiser Wilhelm (1892–6) by Bruno Schmitz.

The Westfälische Mühlenstraße, (Westphalian mill route), signposted around Minden, takes visitors past 42 different mills and windmills.

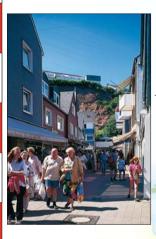

Northern Germany at a Glance

Northern Germany has very varied landscapes, ranging from the sandy beaches on the Baltic and North Sea coasts to the moraine hills of Schleswig-Holstein and the moorlands of the Lüneburger Heide. Nature-lovers are enchanted by the countless lakes in Mecklenburg and the Harz mountains, while those interested in history or architecture enjoy the Renaissance castles along the Weser River and the Gothic brick architecture in former Hanseatic towns. Historic buildings in Goslar and Hildesheim testify to the importance of these two towns.

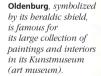

Helgoland is a popular tourist destination. Red cliffs as bigh as skyscrapers, a picturesque town and the sea aquarium are the star attractions of this island.

SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN (see pp454-65)

LOWER SAXONY, HAMBURG AND BREMEN (see pp424–53)

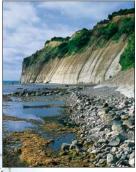

Bremen, a historic barbour town, draws visitors with its many historic buildings and monuments, including a Renaissance-Gothic town ball.

Fehmarn, one of the largest of the German islands, is linked with the German mainland by a railway bridge constructed in 1963.

Rügen enchants visitors with its chalky white cliffs, which contrast starkly with the deep blues and greens of the surrounding Baltic Sea.

MECKLENBURG LOWER POMERANIA (see pp466–81)

Lübeck suffered massive damage in World War II, but its Gothic town hall survived the attacks and the city's beautiful old town has been rebuilt.

0 km 50 0 miles 50

Hamburg not only bas attractive museums and valuable monuments, but also such lively and bustling places as the Fischmarkt, a buge market beld every Sunday morning where it is possible to purchase virtually anything.

Gothic Brick Architecture

Terracetta decoration

Brick was used as a building material in many parts of medieval Europe, but in Northern Germany it gave rise to the distinctive style of Backsteingotik (brick Gothic). Brick technology was introduced in the mid-12th century by Norbertine monks arriving from Lombardy. The style is characterized by a rich variety of vaults, the use of buttresses instead of supporting arches, and colourful designs achieved by using glazed bricks. Through trade and the activities of religious orders these forms spread throughout the Baltic region.

MARIFNKIRCHE IN LÜBECK

Considered the crowning achievement of Backsteingotik, this church. built from around 1260 became the model for countless others, including the cathedral in Schwerin. It is a triple-naved basilica. with a twin-towered facade, braced with buttresses

A pointed arched portal. decorated with ceramic borders, was a typical feature of many village churches.

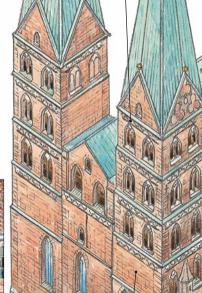

Gables with tiled decorations and intricate openwork, such as this gable of the south chapel of the Nikolaikirche in Wismar, are a feature of many Lower Pomeranian churches.

Main nortal

The vast twintowered façade symbolizes the power of its founders - wealthy Lübeck patricians.

The storevs are divided by friezec

Friezes on the arcades, such as this interlaced motif made from brick, are frequently used as a decorative element, even in village churches.

Gothic house on the market square in Greifswald weigh-houses, gateways and houses, mostly on narrow plots, with elaborate gables decorated with glazed bricks and white plasterwork.

Svlt

The German Coastline

The waters of two seas - the North Sea and the Baltic Sea – lap on northern Germany's shores. linked by the Kiel Canal, which cuts across the base of the Jutland peninsula. The cool climate on the coast makes for short summers yet, on a sunny day, the beaches are packed with holidaymakers, and a holiday here can have a lot to offer. Heiligendamm was the first seaside resort to be established in Germany, in 1783 by a duke of Mecklenburg. By the end of the 19th century, spas with elegant villas, promenades and piers were springing up everywhere. A popular attraction are the Strandkörbe huge wickerwork beach chairs.

The sand dunes form part of a nature reserve in the northern part of Sylt, the largest of the North Frisian islands.

Flensburg

Schleswig

6 • Kiel

202 a characteristic reddish hue indicating the red sandstone from which they are composed.

F2XIAT

E22/28

Oldenburg

Borkum, one of the East Frisian islands, was once inhabited by whalers. Garden fences were often constructed from whale bones, and some have survived to the present day.

Rendsburg

known in Ger many as the Nord-Ostsee-Kanal, was constructed in 1887-95, Around 40.000 vessels bass through the canal every year.

Stralsund a Hanseatic harbour town with a medieval lay-out has a large number of well-preserved historic monuments

On the small, flat island of Hiddensee all car traffic is banned. The island was much loved by the writer Gerbart Hauptmann, who lies buried here in the local cemetery.

THE COASTLINE

The hinterland of the Baltic region is generally flat and sandy. but in some areas it is steep and rocky. For visitors the greatest draw are the islands: Rügen with its steep chalky cliffs. Usedom with its wide. sandy beaches and Hiddensee. Off the lowlands and the marshy coastal region in the hinterland of the North

Sea coast extends the chain of Frisian islands

The beach at Ahlbeck and the pier with its restaurant are the greatest attractions on the island of Usedom, Bergen at the mouth of RÜGEN the Oder river.

ODERBUCHT

Greifswald

Anklam

continues to inspire artists.

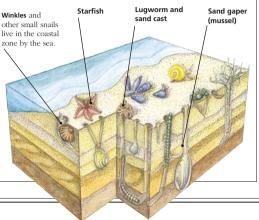

Stralsund

CROSS-SECTION OF WATT

The Watt is a flat, boggy stretch of coastline, up to several kilometres wide. which is covered by the sea as the tide comes in, and laid bare as it goes out again. The Watt landscape is fairly monotonous, but it is fascinating to observe the rich flora and fauna, which has adapted to cope with life both underwater and exposed to the air.

LOWER SAXONY, HAMBURG AND BREMEN

bree federal states – Lower Saxony and the independent city states of Hamburg and Bremen – cover an enormous terrain, embracing the whole of northwestern Germany. For the visitor they provide a series of memorable snapshots: the mighty cosmopolitan port of Hamburg, enchanting towns and villages with half-timbered houses and the blooming heather of the Lüneburger Heide.

Lower Saxony was formed in the 19th century through the merging of the kingdom of Hannover with the duchy of Brunswick, Oldenburg and Schaumburg-Lippe and other parts of northern Germany. The second-largest German state after Bavaria, it only ranks fourth in terms of the number of its inhabitants, being less densely populated than other states.

Lower Saxony is characterized by lowlands that become hillier in the south, culminating in the Harz Mountains. The only large cities are Hannover, a modern centre renowned for its trade fairs and for hosting Expo 2000, and Braunschweig, a venerable town that cherishes its link with the Saxon king Heinrich der Löwe, its first important ruler. The Romanesque splendour of Hildesheim is a magnet for visitors, as are the Renaissance centres along the Weser River including Hameln, the charming towns of Celle, Lüneburg and Einbeck, and Wolfenbüttel, Stadthagen and Bückeburg which contain some remarkable Mannerist works of art.

Nature lovers will enjoy excursions to the Lüneburger Heide or paddling in the endless expanses of mud-flats in the North Sea. Tourists are also attracted by the sandy beaches of the East Frisian islands, as well as the solitary rock of the island of Helgoland.

The "free and Hanseatic" towns of Hamburg and Bremen rejoice in a different atmosphere, urban and urbane, tolerant and multicultural, based on centuries of trade with the world.

The glorious moorlands of the Lüneburger Heide, with tall juniper bushes and flowering heathers

Exploring Lower Saxony, Hamburg and Bremen

Hamburg and Bremen, the region's largest cities, are also the most convenient bases for tourists, offering accommodation in every price category.

The most attractive area in this region is the southeastern section, extending to the foothills of the Harz Mountains with picturesque towns, such as the university town of Göttingen,

SEE ALSO

- Where to Stav pp513-16
- Where to Eat pp552-5

Cuxhaven

Fibe

Bremervörde o

Worpswede o

Rassum

Sulingen

Diepholz

Dümmerse

BREMEN

7 開 🏚 🛈

Verden

Nienburg

Bremerhaven

Romanesque Hildesheim or the stunningly beautiful merchant town of Goslar. A visit to the seaside and an excursion to the islands are also enjoyable.

OSTFRIESISCHE INSELN Wangerooge Baltrum Langeoog Striekeroog Mellum OSTERIESLAND Norden Borkum Wilhelmshaven Nordenham

The crowning feature of the bay window of the Dempterhaus in Hameln

Emden Varel Bad Zwischenahn Groningen OLDENBURG Wildeshausen CLEMENSWERTH Visbek

CLOPPENBURG 5 Haren Meppen Ouakenbrück Lingen

Nordhorn

Enschede

Fürstenau Bramsche 1 6 OSNABRÜCK

Bad Iburg

STADTHAGEN 16 17 BÜCKEBURG

Bielefeld

The massive edifice of the Neues Rathaus in Hannover

KFY

- Motorway
- Main road
- Minor road
- Road under construction
- Main railway
- Minor railway
- National border
- Regional border

GETTING AROUND

There are international airports in Hamburg, Bremen and Hannover. A network of motor-ways links Lower Saxony with Scandinavia (via Schleswig-Holstein), and with the rest of western Europe (via the Netherlands or southern Germany). There are good ferry connections between Hamburg and Harwich (England). An extensive rail network makes the entire state accessible, although bus connections are limited.

The Grosse Wallanlagen Park in Hamburg, laid out along the city's former fortifications

Dannenberg

Laatzen

Kassel

SIGHTS AT A GLANCE

Altes Land 9 Braunschweig (Brunswick) 13

Bremen pp430–33 7 Bückeburg 17

Celle (1)

Clemenswerth 3

Cloppenburg 5
Duderstadt 25

Einbeck 3Goslar pp450–51 2

Göstar pp450–51 W Göttingen W

Hamburg pp434-9 8 Hannover (Hanover)

Hildesheim pp448–9 4

Lüneburg 10

Lüneburger Heide 12 Oldenburg 4

Osnabrück 6

Ostfriesische Inseln

(East Frisian Islands) 1
Ostfriesland (Eastern Frisia) 2

Soltau B

Stade 10 Stadthagen 16

Wolfenbüttel 19

Wolfsburg 15

Tours

The Weser Renaissance

Trail 🚳

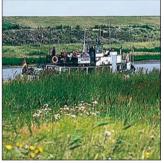

Ostfriesische Inseln (East Frisian Islands) 0

Road map B2. Emden-Borkum, Norden-Norddeich to Juist and Norderney, Nessmersiel-Baltrum, Bensersiel-Langeoog, Neuharlingersiel-Spiekeroog, Harlesiel-Wangerooge. (1080) 20 20 96.

A long the North Sea Coast extends the belt of East Frisian Islands consisting of. from west to east: Borkum. Juist, Norderney, Baltrum, Langeoog, Spiekeroog and Wangerooge. All around them is the Nationalpark Niedersächsisches Wattenmeer a large national park established to protect the unique ecosystem of the shallow seas At low tide it turns into vast mud-flats extending to the horizon. This is the time to tour the Watt, as it is known locally, either by horse-drawn carriage or barefoot - always making sure to return before the tide comes in!

The islands themselves, with their beautiful sandy beaches, sand dunes and healthy climate, are among the most popular holiday destinations in Germany.

The car-free island Juist, a 17-km (11-mile) strip of land less than 500 m (1,640 ft) wide, and Norderney with its main town of the same name are the most interesting islands. Neo-Classical villas recall the days when such figures as Heinrich Heine and Otto von Bismarck spent their holidays here. It is also worth

Nationalpark Niedersächsisches Wattenmeer in the Greefsiel area

Moormuseum in Elisabethfehn, Ostfriesland visiting Wangerooge, another island where cars are banned. Three lighthouses – Westturm, Alter Leuchtturm and Neuer Leuchtturm – indicate the island's role in the navigation of the Weser River estuary.

Ostfriesland (East Frisia) 2

Road map B2. Emden, Leer, Norden. (01805) 20 20 96 or (04931) 93 83 200. www.dienordsee.de Kiewittmarkt (end Mar): Altstadtfest (Aug).

East Frisia is a peninsula near the border with the Netherlands and the Jadebusen bay, at Wilhelmshaven. This is a land of flat meadows, grazing cows and windmills.

Emden, the region's capital, has an attractive town hall resembling that in Antwerp, and a town centre crossed by many canals. The Nannen-Kunsthalle Emden, founded in the early 1990s by Henri Nannen, publisher of the magazine Stern, holds a remarkable collection of 19th-century paintings, including the works of many German Expressionists such as Emil Nolde, Max Beckmann and Oskar Kokoschka.

Another attraction is the Moor- und Fehnmuseum (moor and fen museum) in Elisabethfehn, which is dedicated to the extraction of peat. Its exhibits include the world's largest plough, as well as the story of Jever, the local beer. Also worth visiting are the Renaissance palace whose reception hall has a ceiling with sunken panels, and next to the parish church the wood and stone tomb of the Frisian leader Edo Wiemken, made in 1561–4 by master craftsmen from Antwerp.

Mannen-Kunsthalle Emden

⚠ Moor- und Fehnmuseum Oldenburger-Str. 1. Tel (04499) 22 22. ☐ end Mar–end Oct: 10am–6pm Tue–Sun & bank holidays.

Road map B3. Sögel or Lathen.
Papenburg, Rathausstr. 2 (04961-839 60). Schloss Tel 05952-93 23
Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm
Tue-Sun. Winter.

Emsland, to the south of East Frisia, extends along the Dutch border, a poor area since time immemorial, with moors and boglands. Only the discovery of oil in the 20th century engineered its progress. Sögel, 33 km (21 miles) south of Greater Papenburg, has the region's greatest attraction, the palatial hunting lodge or schloss Clemenswerth, built from 1737-49. In search of solitude, the elector and archbishop of Cologne Clemens August commissioned the lodge from Johan Conrad Schlaun. The design was modelled on the pavilionpagoda of Nymphenburg in Munich. Altogether it comprises seven pavilions with mansard roofs and a chapel. All the brick buildings were laid out on a green lawn, creating a star shape around the palace. Inside there is a museum of the region.

Oldenburg 4

Road map B2. 155,000. R Kleine Kirchenstr. 10 (01805-938 333). Hafenfest (7 days after Whitsun); Altstadtfest (end Aug); Kramermarkt (Sep/Oct).

A thousand years old, and once part of Denmark, this town remained the seat of a duchy until 1918.

The Lambertikirche, in the central market square, is a late-Gothic hall-church with a Neo-Classical rotunda added in 1797. The Schloss, the ducal residence, displays a similar marriage of styles, particularly Baroque and Neo-Classical. The Landesmuseum für Kunst und Kulturgeschichte (state museum of art and culture) based in the castle, is known mainly for its collection of paintings assembled by Wilhelm Tischbein who lived here for 25 years. The affiliated Augusteum, a Neo-Renaissance building in a picturesque spot, holds the museum's modern collection.

M Landesmuseum für Kunst und Kulturgeschichte

Damm 1. Tel (0441) 220 73 00.

☐ 9am-5pm Tue, Wed & Fri, 9am-8pm Thu, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun.
☐ 1 Jan, Good Friday, Easter, 1
May, 24, 25 & 31 Dec. ☑

Environs

The small spa town of Bad Zwischenahn is worth a visit. Its star attraction is the Gothic St Johanniskirche with frescoes from 1512.

A windmill in the open-air museum in Cloppenburg

Cloppenburg 6

Road map B2. 29,000.

Eschstr. 29 (04471-152 56).

Mariä Geburtsmarkt (Sep).

The small market town of Cloppenburg boasts the Museumsdorf, the oldest open-air museum in Germany. established in 1934. On a vast site 50 architectural monuments from all over Lower Saxony have been assembled There are houses. including charming examples of the halftimbered style of Wehlburg, windmills and a small 17thcentury church from Klein-Escherde near Hildesheim

To the east of Cloppenburg lies Visbek. Here the visitor is taken back to the Stone Age, with megalithic graves from 3,500 to 1,800 BC, including the 80-m (262-ft) long grave known as "Visbeker Bräutigam" (bridegroom) and the even larger, 100-m (321-ft) long "Visbeker Braut" (bride).

Museumsdorf Cloppenburg

Bether Straße 6. Tel (04471) 948 40. Mar–Oct: 9am–6pm daily, Nov–Feb: 9am–4:30pm daily.

Osnabrück 6

Road map B3. 157,000. Bierstr. 22–23 (0541-32 32 202).

This Westphalian town has been a bishop's see since the time of Charlemagne. In 1648, negotiations took place here between representatives of Sweden and the Protestant duchies of the Reich. The signing of the Peace of Westphalia in 1648, which ended the Thirty Years' War, was announced from the town hall steps. It was also the birthplace of the writer Erich Maria Remarque in 1899.

Despite damage in World War II, the Dom St Peter, Osnabrück's 13thcentury cathedral, is worth visiting. It has a bronze baptismal font and enormous triumphal cross, and the late-Gothic Snetlage-Altar of the Crucifixion. From here a short walk takes the visitor to the market square, Marienkirche and the Gothic Rathaus (town hall), with a sculpture of Charlemagne.

Epitaph for Albert

von Bevessen in the

Dom in Osnahrück

Environs South of Osnabrück is the western part of the Teutoburger Wald (Teutoburg Forest). The spa town of Bad Iburg, 12 km (8 miles) to the south of Osnabrück, has a monumental Benedictine monastery and bishop's palace. The Rittersaal (knights' hall) is worth seeing, with its giant ceiling fresco depicting an architectural fantasy of foreshortened perspectives.

The Schloss in Oldenburg, featuring Baroque and Neo-Classical styles

Bremen 6

Bremen, together with its deep-water port Bremerhaven, constitutes a separate town state. Not so much a bustling modern metropolis as a peaceful country town, it is conscious of its historical origins dating back to Charlemagne. The townscape is not dominated by the port as in Hamburg, but by the old town with its magnificent cathedral and town hall. Bremen enjoyed prosperity from 1358 when it joined the Hanseatic League, its wealth based on the coffee and wool trade. Today, Bremen still benefits from its port, which ships around 700,000 cars a year.

Gabled houses and the statue of Roland in the Marktplatz

Exploring Bremen

Most of Bremen's tourist attractions are in the old town, on the east bank of the Weser River. The area is easy to pick out on a map as it is surrounded by a green belt, established when the town's fortifications were demolished. The Überseemuseum (ethnography museum) is close to the old town, and trams run to Schwachhausen, where the Focke-Museum is based.

₩ Marktplatz

On the main square of Medieval Bremen stand the town hall and the cathedral, and, on the west side, several gabled houses. This lovely view is slightly marred by the unattractive 1960s Haus der Bürgerschaft, the state parliament building.

In front of the town hall stands a 10-m (32-ft) statue of Roland, dating from 1404. It is the largest of many similar statues in German towns, and the prototype for others. A nephew of Charlemagne, Roland symbolizes a town's independence. His gaze is directed toward the cathedral, the residence of the bishop, who frequently sought to restrict Bremen's autonomy. Roland's sword of justice symbolizes the judiciary's independence, and the engraved motto confirms the emperor's edict, conferring town rights onto Bremen.

The second, more recent (1953) monument in the square is dedicated to the Bremen Town Musicians – a donkey, dog, cat and cockerel,

Statue of the Bremen Town
Musicians, by Gerhard Marcks who according to the Grimm fairy tale trekked to Bremen.

Rathaus

Marktplatz. Tel (0421) 30 80 00. 11am-noon 3pm, 4pm Mon-Sat, 11am–noon Sun. 🍪 The original Gothic building dating from the years 1405-10 was clad with a magnificent Renaissance facade, one of the finest examples of Weser Renaissance architecture in northern Germany, designed by Lüder von Bentheim. He masterfully incorporated the Gothic figures of Charlemagne and seven Electors, as well as four prophets and four wise men. In the 40-m (131-ft) Große Halle (great hall) new laws were passed. as symbolized by the fresco (1932) of Solomon's court. Among its many other treasures is the meticulously crafted Renaissance spiral staircase. On the western side of the town hall is the entrance to the "Ratskeller" where you can sample 600 different wines, and delight in the murals from 1927, by the Impressionist Max Slevogt.

The late-Renaissance façade of Bremen's Rathaus

₩ Schütting

Marktolatz

On the southwestern side of Marktplatz stands this mansion used by the Merchants' Guild for their conventions. It was built in 1537–9 by the Antwerp architect Johann der Buschener in Dutch Mannerist style. The eastern gable, more classically Renaissance in style, is the work of the local builder Carsten Husmann.

♠ Dom

Tower and "Bleikeller":

Tel (0421) 36 50 40. ☐ Easter-1

Nov: 10am-5pm Mon-Fri,

10am-2pm Sat, 2-5pm Sun.

This magnificent Romanesque cathedral, with its vast twintowered façade, dates from the 11th century and has been extensively refurbished.

The Mannerist Schütting, a meeting place for merchants

At the end of the 19th century, while the southern tower was rebuilt, the façade was also reconstructed and a tower was added. Inside, it is worth looking at the sandstone bas-reliefs which divide the western choir stalls as well as fragments of Gothic stalls that were destroyed in the 19th century, with scenes of the Passion and the battle

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map C2. $\int_{\text{0}}$ 556,000. $\frac{1}{2}$

Hauptbahnhof (0421-308

00). $\frac{1}{2}$ Port tours (0421-33 89

89). $\text{Cruises:} May-Sep: 10:15 & 11:45am, 1:30, 3:15 & 4:45pm daily. $\frac{1}{2}$ $\frac{1}{2}$ Sat & Sun. $\frac{1}{2}$ (Apr); Vegesack Harbour Festival (Jun); Bremer Freimarkt (second half Oct/ early Nov); Christmas market (Dec 1-23).

of Judas Machabeus. There is also a Baroque pulpit paid for by Christina the Oueen of Sweden in 1638, and numerous multi-coloured memorials including one to Segebad Clüver by the entrance to the north tower (1457). The larger eastern crypt has interesting Romanesque capitals, while in the second eastern crypt visitors can admire the oldest Bremen sculpture of Christ the Omnipotent (1050) as well as the baptismal font. The latter has 38 bas-reliefs, and a bowl supported by four lions with riders. In the socalled "Bleikeller" (lead cellar) underneath the former church cloisters, eight perfectly preserved mummies are on show.

Bas-reliefs on the western choir stalls in the Dom

₩ Böttcherstraße Paula-Modersohn-BeckerMuseum and Roseliushaus Böttcherstr. 6–10. Tel (0421) 336 50 77. 11am–6pm Tue–Sun

This once insignificant lane where coopers lived was transformed into Art Deco style in 1926–30 by Ludwig Roselius, a wealthy coffee merchant. The National Socialists preserved the street as an example of degenerate art. At the entrance to the street is a bas-relief by Bernhard Hoetger from 1920, of the Archangel Michael fighting a dragon.

The Paula-Modersohn-Becker-Museum, built in the Expressionist style, contains an art museum, while in the neighbouring 16th-century Roseliushaus the original period interiors can be admired. The street's other attraction is a carillon which chimes tuneful melodies every day at noon, 3pm and 6pm.

Schnoor 24. Tel (0421) 32 03 82.

☐ 11am-6:30pm Mon-Fri,
11am-7pm Sat; 1 Apr-31 Dec:
11am-6pm Sun.
The Schnoorviertel is a historic district of small houses dating from the 15th–18th centuries. One of Bremen's poorest areas before World War II, it miraculously escaped destruction. It has

Archangel Michael fighting a dragon, on a bas-relief in Böttcherstrasse been restored gradually since 1958 and now teems with restaurants, cafés, souvenir shops and tourists. In the centre of the district is the Gothic Johanniskirche which once belonged to the Franciscans. In accordance with the order's rules it has no tower although this is compensated for by a decorative gable on the western facade, and three levels of arched alcoves and herringbone brickwork. The Spielzeuamuseum (tov museum) nearby is also worth visiting.

Kunsthalle

Am Wall 207. Tel (0421) 32 90 80.

10am–9pm Tue, 10am–5pm
Wed–Sun.

On the edge of the old town is this art gallery, which actually lost most of its collection to Russia during World War II. The pieces that remained, as well as works subsequently acquired, make the collection of great importance. There are works by Dürer, Altdorfer, Rubens, Jan Breughel, van Dyck and Rembrandt. There is also an excellent French section, with works by Delacroix, Denis, Monet and Manet, as well as 19th- and 20th-century German painters such as Beckmann and Kirchner. At the heart of the collection are about 40 paintings by Paula Modersohn-Becker.

Ⅲ Übersee-Museum

III Focke-Museum

Schwachhauser-Heerstr. 240. Tel (0421) 699 60 00. 10am-9pm Tue, 10am-5pm Wed-Sun. The excellent collections of this museum compensate for its distant location. Founded in 1918, when the history museum was amalgamated with the decorative arts museum, it presents Bremen's art and culture from the Middle Ages to the present day. Exhibits from patrician houses and original sculptures from the facade of the town hall testify to the wealth of the Hanseatic town. Other sections are devoted to the archaeology of the region as well as to whaling and emigration to the US in the 19th and 20th centuries

The nearby Rhododendronpark offers a pleasant respite from the museums. It includes 1,600 varieties of rhododendron which become a sea of flowers from late April to June.

Environs

Three places in the Bremen area are particularly worth a detour. About 50 km (31 miles) to the north lies Bremen's deep-sea harbour Bremerhaven, with the

Camille Pissarro, Girl lying on a grassy slope, Kunsthalle

PAULA MODERSOHN-BECKER (1876-1907)

A pupil of Fritz Mackensen and wife of Otto Modersohn, Paula Modersohn-Becker was the most significant artistic figure in Worpswede. She learned about the Impressionist use of colour during visits to Paris, and her own unique sensibility made her a precursor of Expressionism. She became famous for her naturalistic paintings of poor, starving and even dying country folk. She died in childbirth, aged only 31, and this is how she was commemorated on her tombstone, in the peaceful village cemetery in Worpswede, by the sculptor Bernhard Hoetger.

Girl playing a flute in birch woods (1905)

Deutsches Schifffahrts-

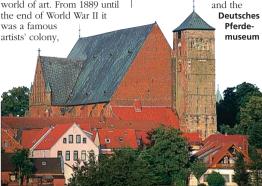

museum. This wonderful. marine museum, designed by the renowned architect Hans Scharoun, displays both originals and models of a wide range of ships, dating from the Roman Empire to the present day. A special hall displays the Hanse Kogge, a merchant ship dredged from the bottom of the Weser River in 1962. This type of ship was capable of holding 120 tons of cargo, and handled the entire merchandise of northern Europe during the late Middle Ages. Displayed outside, in the open-air part of the museum, are the last great German sailing boat Seute Deern, the polar ship Grönland and Wilhelm Bauer, a U-boat from World War II.

The small village of Worps-wede, northeast of Bremen, takes the visitor into the world of art. From 1889 until the end of World War II it situated in the middle of peat bogs. Apart from poets, such as Rainer Maria Rilke and such architects as Bernhard Hoetger, the fame of this village rested principally on the painters: Fritz Mackensen. Otto Modersohn, Hans am Ende Fritz Overbeck and Heinrich Vogeler, Unquestionably the greatest artist in Worpswede was Paula Modersohn-Becker whose sad fairytale world of rustic subjects cannot be defined within one style. Work by the founding members is on display in the Große Kunstschau and the Worpsweder Kunsthalle.

Verden an der Aller, the picturesque bishops' residence and once a free town of the Reich, is known to sports enthusiasts thanks to its horseracing tracks, training centres and stadiums.

The Dom in Verden an der Aller, with its unusually large roof

Exhibits in the Große Kunstschau in Worpswede near Bremen

(horse museum), with a large collection of equestrian artifacts. Seven horse auctions are held in the town each year, and the most important are in April and October.

Apart from horses, Verden an der Aller has a picturesque town centre with small houses, the Andreaskirche, a church with the famous brass tomb of bishop Yso, as well as the Johanniskirche with a rainbow-arched wall dating from the 18th century.

Above the town rises the Dom with a large, steep roof. The hall of this cathedral, a modification of earlier basilicas, is architecturally interesting, with a multi-sided presbytery, a passageway dating from 1268–1311 and Romanesque cloisters and a tower. North of the cathedral is the Domherrenhaus, housing the Historisches Museum, with exhibits on regional history and archaeological and ethnographic departments.

Deutsches Schifffahrtsmuseum

Bremerhaven, Hans-Scharoun-Platz 1. Tel (0471) 482 070. Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm daily; Nov-Mar: 10-6pm Tue-Sun. 24, 25 & 31 Dec.

ff Große Kunstschau

Worpswede. Lindenallee 3 & 5. Tel (04792) 13 02. 10am–5pm (to 6pm mid-Mar–mid-Nov) daily.

Bergstr. 17. Tel (04792) 12 77.

Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm daily;
Nov-Mar: 11am-6pm daily.

Hamburg 6

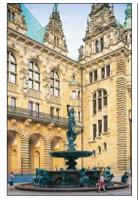

Crest on the town hall

Germany's second largest city, Hamburg has an openness to the world and a variety of architectural styles in its districts, making it a fascinating place to visit. For many years, Hamburg was a leading member of the Hanseatic League and an independent trading town, and in 1945 it.

became a city-state of the Federal Republic. Visitors are attracted by Hamburg's enormous port, situated right in the centre of the city, colourful entertainments in the red-light district St Pauli, many attractive parks and lakes as well as the warm welcome extended by the locals who, on first encounter, may seem a little cool.

A fountain in the Neo-Renaissance Rathausmarkt

Exploring Hamburg

The best way to get around Hamburg is by metro (U-Bahn and S-Bahn), using an all-day ticket (Tageskarte) since parking space is scarce. The city centre can be explored on foot, including the area between the main railway station and the lake. along with the rest of the old town, the port and Hamburg's two largest museums.

Rathausmarkt

The symbol of Hamburg is the enormous Neo-Renaissance town hall, the fifth in the city's history. Previous town halls were destroved by wars as well as a catastrophic fire in 1842. Little remains of the Door knocker on old town. The city's current appearance is characterized by 19thcentury style as well as Modernism. The town hall itself, with its ornamental halls, is worth visiting.

The town hall square is enclosed on one side by Alsterfleet. Originally a small river, it is today one of numerous canals which have given Hamburg the name "Venice of the North". A monument in memory of the victims of World War Lis the work of the artist Ernst Barlach Between Rathausmarkt and Gänsemarkt runs a network of elegantly roofed shopping arcades. These were built in the 19th century, and have since been continually extended.

Alster

Elegant arcades lead from the Rathausmarkt to Binnenalster a large lake in the middle of the city. Like the much larger Außenalster lake further north, it was created by damming the Alster River. On a sunny day, the Jungfernstieg, an elegant boulevard running the length of the Alster, is a pleasant place for a walk. Great views of the city can be had from the café in the > Alsterpavilion, There is a small quay from which boats depart for the "Alsterrundfahrt", an excursion which takes the visitor all the way to the Außenalster and to smaller canals with views of the villas in the north of Hamburg and the cityscape of the centre with its five main towers.

St Petrikirche

Mönckebergstr. Tel (040) 325 74 00. 10am-6:30pm Mon, Tues, Thu, Fri. 10am-7pm Wed. 10am-5pm Sat. 9am–9pm Sun.

The church of St Petri, originally Gothic, was extensively rebuilt in the Neo-Gothic style after the Great Fire of 1842. The Grabower Altar that once belonged to the church has been transferred to the Kunsthalle (see pp436-7). Tourists can still admire the Gothic sculpture of the Madonna, dating from 1470.

☐ Jakobikirche

Jakobikirchhof 22. Tel (040) 303 73 70. Oct-Mar: 11am-5pm Mon-Sat; Apr-Sep 10am-5pm Mon-Sat. The church of St Jacobi, from 1340, was bombed during World War II, and subsequently rebuilt in its original style. Its captivating interior includes the largest Baroque

The main altar in Jakobikirche organ in northern Germany, the work of Arp Schnitger. The triptych of St Luke in the presbytery of the southern nave, a magnificent example of late-Gothic art, was originally created in 1499 for Hamburg's cathedral, which was pulled down in 1804.

T Kontorhausviertel

Deichtorhallen Deichtorstr 1–2 Tel (040) 32 10 30. 11am-6pm Tue-Sun (during exhibitions). After World War La district of commercial offices known as Kontorhausviertel was built between Steinstraße and Messberg. The Chilehaus, built by Fritz Höger in 1922- 4, was an experiment in creating a traditional brick building with a Modernist design. This ten-storey building, with its pointed eastern facade resembling a ship's bow became internationally famous as a symbol of Expressionist architecture.

Nearby are the enormous Deichtorhallen, market halls of the port built in 1911–12. Turned into dramatic exhibition halls in 1997, they are now used for major art exhibitions.

The Expressionist Chilehaus in Kontorhausviertel

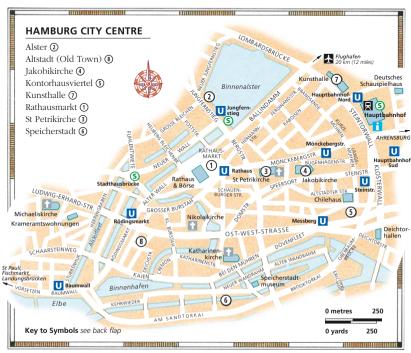

Speicherstadt Deutsches Zollmuseum

Alter Wandrahm 16a. Tel (040) 30 08 76 11. ☐ 10am-5pm Tue-5un. The atmosphere of the giant warehouse district by the port will seem depressing to some, charming to others. Located within the toll-free area of the port, this district is reached after crossing the customs post. It is the largest complex of warehouses in the world. The Neo-Gothic buildings, dating from the end of the 19th century, are separated by canals. They still serve as

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map C2. R 1.7 million. In Fuhlsbüttel. U1 or S1 to Ohlsdorf then Airport Express (40 min) Kirchenallee Hauptbahnhof, Kirchenallee (040-30 05 12 00) 9am-10pm daily: in the port. Landungsbrücken (040-30 05 12 03). www.hamburg.de Hafenrundfahrten (harbour tours). Tel (040) 311 70 70 & 31 31 40. Apr-Oct: once every 1.5 hrs. 10:30am-4:30pm: Nov-Mar: call for times M Hafengeburtstag (anniversary of the port, around 7 May).

storerooms for coffee, tea and carpets, waiting here in customs-free limbo until the owners are ready to sell them. Recently listed as one of the city's historic monuments, Speicherstadt is waiting for a new owner and a new purpose. The Deutsches Zoll-museum (German customs museum), temporarily located here by Kornhausbrücke, (corn house bridge), tells the story of customs and excise over the past hundred years.

Kunsthalle

The most interesting art gallery in northern Germany, the Kunsthalle in Hamburg has a tradition dating back to 1817, when the Kunstverein (friends of the fine arts), proud of its middle-class, nonaristocratic background, was established. The museum opened to the public in 1869. The collection has a standard chronological review of European art movements, with an emphasis on 19th-century German Romantics, with works by Caspar David Friedrich and Philipp Otto Runge, A fourstorev extension, the Galerie der Gegenwart (contemporary gallery), was built in 1996 to a design by the architect O M Ungers. The building is reached by an underground link from the basement of the main gallery.

The Polar Sea (1823–4)
Caspar David Friedrich's dramatic seascape, with a sinking ship in the background behind the rising flow, is loaded with symbolism.

Main

Ground

floor

entrance

★ Hannah and Simeon in the Temple (c.1627) Thanks to his mastery of a sense of drama, Rembrandt succeeded in depicting the psychological make-up of his elderly subjects, who have recognized the Saviour in an unspoken message conveyed to the temple by Mary and Joseph.

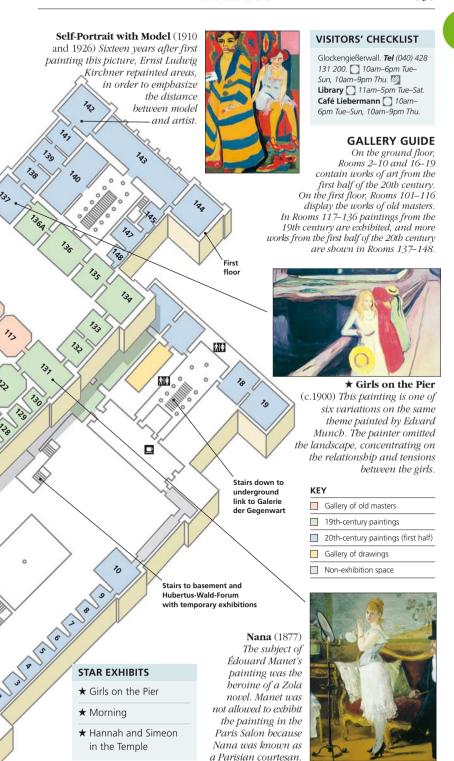

High Altar
of St Peter in Hamburg (1383)
This panelled painting, displaying a stunning wealth of detail, was produced by Master Bertram of Minden, the first artist in Germany to be identified by his name.

★ Morning (1808)
This painting by Philipp
Otto Runge centres around
Aurora, goddess of dawn, and was intended to be part of a series called "Times of the Day". The other works were never completed due to the artist's untimely death aged 33.

For hotels and restaurants in this region see pp513-16 and pp552-5

Altstadt (Old Town)

Hamburg's old town extends to the south of the Rathaus (town hall) but following the Great Fire of 1842 and bombing during World War II. only a few original buildings remain. Katharinenkirche (St Catherine's), with its characteristic tower, was begun in the 13th century and completed in the 17th century. It has been restored after damage in World War II. Of the neighbouring Neo-Gothic Nikolaikirche only a single tower remained after 1945. the Nikolaiturm, which is the third tallest in Germany. It serves as a monument to the tragic consequences of war.

Deichstrasse is one of a few surviving streets in the old town, with the original façades visible from both the road and the canal (the best view is from Hohe Brücke, a bridge). One of the many famous restaurants is at No. 25, "Zum Brandanfang", where The Great Fire of 1842 was said to have broken out, which eventually destroyed most of the city.

Ornate Baroque pulpit in Hamburg's Michaeliskirche

Tel (040) 37 67 81 00.

May-Oct: 9am-7:30pm daily, Nov-Apr 10am-5:30pm daily. The massive Baroque church of St Michaelis, visible from afar with its 132-m (433-ft) tower (the "Michel"), is the main symbol of Hamburg. The interior is preserved in a white, grey and gold colour scheme, and some of the fittings are made from tropical wood. The observation platform gives some splendid views of the city and its extensive harbour.

The neon-lit Reeperbahn in St Pauli

Krayenkamp 10. Tel (040) 37 50 19 88. ___ 10am-5pm Tue-5un.

Near the Michaeliskirche a section of the old town, the Krameramtswohnungen, has miraculously survived. These half-timbered houses, linked by a courtyard, were funded by the merchants' guild and built to house the widows of shopkeepers. Today they are occupied by tourist shops, cafés and restaurants.

The Port

Cap San Diego Tel (040) 36 42 09.

☐ 10am-6pm daily. Rickmer
Rickmers Tel (040) 319 59 59.

☐ 10am-6pm daily.
Situated 104 km (62 miles) inland along the Elbe River,

Hamburg is Europe's second largest port after Rotterdam, and the port dominates the panorama. Every year 12,000 ships dock here from 90 countries. From the U3 Baumwall metro station it is best to walk to Landungsbrücken, past the museum ships moored here: the freighter Cap San Diego and the sailing boat Rickmer

Rickmers (1896). Landungsbrücken is a 200-m (656-ft) long building from where the passenger ferries depart. A tour of the harbour is highly recommended. Near Landungsbrücken, in a copperdomed building, is the entrance to Alter Elbtunnel (the old tunnel under the Elbe) where people and cars are lowered in a giant lift.

St Pauli

Infamous around the world. this area is also known as Reeperbahn, after the main street. It is a world of nightclubs and bars, pubs and theatres, sex clubs and brothels It is here in Hamburg's red-light district, that some teenage seasonal workers from Liverpool, the Beatles, started their careers. On Herbertstrasse, scantily clad women offer their services behind a metal barrier – women and those under 18 are forbidden entrance. St Pauli

FISCHMARKT - A MARKET FOR EVERYTHING

This is an attraction for early risers or for those who never get to bed at all. From 5am (7am in winter) on Sundays the Auktionshalle (auction hall) and the nearby waterside turn into a colourful market place. Fishermen returning from the sea with their freshly caught fish compete with noisy greengrocers offering their wares and bric-à-brac merchants setting out stalls. Thousands of tourists mingle with sailors and ladies of the night relaxing with a cup of steaming mulled wine after a hard night's work in St Pauli. Here and there you can hear Platt-deutsch being spoken, the northern patois. Morning mass at 10am used to mark the end of this colourful spectacle, but today's public lingers on and then hurries off to bed instead of church.

Bric-à-brac on sale at a market stall in Fischmarkt even has an Erotic-Museum, where next to the exhibits are reproductions of works by artists from Rembrandt to Picasso, which are said to "prove" that everything revolves around the female posterior.

Environs

The magnificent palace in Ahrensburg (1595), 23 km (14 miles) to the northeast, has Baroque and Rococo interiors open to visitors.

Façade of Schloss Ahrensburg, flanked by towers

Altes Land

Road map C2.

the largest number

On the flood plains stretching for more than 30 km (19 miles) between Hamburg and Stade, along the Lower Elbe River, is the Altes Land (old land). This area is fertile and has of orchards in Germany.
Many visitors come here in May, when cherry and apple tree blossom turns everything into a sea of white and pink.
In this riot of colour stand sturdy red-brick houses with white half-timbered panels, thatched roofs and carved gates. The most beautiful villages are Neuenfelde, Jork, Borstel, Steinkirchen and Hollern, with their richly furnished Barooue churches.

Stade

Road map C2. M 47,000.

U3 to Neugraben, then by train or catamaran from Landungsbrücken. Hansestrasse 16 (04141-40 91 70

This medieval Hanseatic town has retained most of its half-timbered buildings with the most attractive in the Alter Hafen (old harbour). There is a also a quaint crane and the Schwedenspeicher (Swedish granary) dating from the Swedish occupation during the Thirty Years' War (1692-1705). It is now home to the Schwedenspeicher-Museum. Stade's regional museum with exhibits on the town's history and defence system, including wheels from 700 BC, which were part of a Bronze-Age cart. Nearby, an interesting building at Am Wasser West 7 houses the town is surrounded by preserved modern fortifications. Other attractions are the Bürgermeister-Hintze-Haus at Am Wasser West 23, a house built for the mayor, Hintze, in 1617–46, and the exquisite Baroque Rathaus (town hall) from 1667, its design revealing Dutch influence.

The Baroque portal of the Dutchinfluenced Rathaus in Stade

It is also worth visiting two Gothic churches: 5t Wilhadi from the 14th century which boasts an interesting Gothic hall and a leaning tower, and 5t Cosmas and Damiani, founded after the Great Fire of 1659, with marvellous Baroque furnishings.

Schwedenspeicher-Museum

The half-timbered houses along the waterside of Alter Hafen in Stade

Lüneburg 0

Road map D2. A 70,000.
Rathaus, Am Markt (04131-207 66 20). www.lueneburg.de

It is hard to believe that this small, former Hanseatic town was once one of the wealthiest in Germany. Its prosperity was founded on salt mines. Opened in 956, they provided work for more than 2,000 people by the late Middle Ages and were the largest industry in Europe.

Lüneburg's most important monument is the Rathaus (town hall). The interior is even more intriguing than the frequently rebuilt facade, in particular the Großer Ratssaal (the main hall) with its Gothic stained-glass windows and 16th-century frescoes of the Last Judgement, as well as the Große Ratsstube (council chamber) with Renaissance woodwork by Albert von Soest.

The Museum im Rathaus (town hall museum) holds a remarkable collection of municipal silverware

Johnniskirche, one of Lüneburg's three Gothic churches, stands on Am Sande. It has a 108-m (354-ft) west tower, which leans more than 2 m (6 ft) from the perpendicular. In one of its five naves there is a panelled painting dating from 1482–5, the masterful work of the German painter Hinrik Funhof. Also interesting is the soaring basilica of Michaeliskirche, consecrated in 1409.

Not far from here is the old port on the Ilmenau River. On Lüner Straße stands the Altes Kaufhaus, a former herring warehouse with a Baroque façade. The 14th-century wooden crane was rebuilt in the 18th century. It was used to load salt onto ships. The decorative wavy brick lines (Taustäbe) on many of the old buildings are characteristic of the town.

⚠ Museum im Rathaus
 Am Markt. Tel (04131) 30 92 30.
 10am-5pm daily (by tour only).
 1 Jan, 24-26 & 31 Dec.

A typical farmstead in Lüneburger Heide

Lüneburger Heide **@

Road map D2. Lüneburg, Barckhausenstr. 35 (04131-73 73 0).

South of Hamburg, between the rivers Elbe and Aller, is a large sprawling area of heathland, grazed by heifers and sheep and buzzing with bees in the heathers and pine forests. Until the Middle Ages, this area was covered by dense mixed forests, but these were felled in order to satisfy demand for wood in the saltworks of Lüneburg. The half-stepped terrain provides grazing land for Heidschnucken, the local breed of sheep. The heather moors are best seen at the Naturschutzpark Lüneburger Heide, a large area of nature reserve founded in 1921. From the village of Undeloh it is best to continue by foot bike or carriage to the traditional village of Wilsede From Wilsede it is not far to Wilseder Berg the highest peak of this moraine region. The view of the surrounding countryside is particularly beautiful at the end of August, when the purple heather is blooming.

Soltau @

Road map C3. A 23,000. Am Alten Stadtgraben 3 (05191-82 82 82).

The main attraction of the town of Soltau is Heidepark Soltau, a vast funfair with trains, water rides and a genuine Mississippi steamboat. For nature lovers, there is the Vogelpark Walsrode, 20 km (12 miles) southwest of Soltau. It holds about 1,000 species of birds from every continent, from penguins to birds of paradise. Aviaries, some 12-m (40-ft) tall, seek to simulate an impression of the birds' natural environment.

Environs:

In grim contrast to both parks stands Bergen-Belsen, a concentration camp built by the National Socialists in the moorland of Osterheide, about 30 km (19 miles) south of Soltau. A monument and small museum commemorate the place where 50,000 people were murdered, among them Anne Frank.

Eighteenth-century wooden crane in Lüneburg

Vogelpark Walsrode – a paradise with 1,000 different bird species

Celle @

Road map C3. ↑ 74,000. Schlossplatz. ↑ Markt 14 –16 (05141-12 12). www.region-celle.de

Between the years 1378 and 1705. Celle was the seat of distant relations of the Welf family, the reigning dynasty in the Duchy of Brunswick-Lüneburg. The Schloss (castle), rebuilt in Renaissance style after 1533, has a preserved eastern facade with octagonal towers at the corners, gables and bay windows. It is one of the most important early-Renaissance buildings in Germany. The Gothic chapel is worth visiting. It was rebuilt in a Mannerist style to a design by Martin de Vos, who painted 76 of its paintings, including the famous Crucifixion (end of the 16th century).

Celle prides itself on 500 half-timbered houses, with the most interesting ones in picturesque Kalandgasse and Zöllnerstrasse. Hoppner Haus, at Poststrasse 8, is richly decorated with reliefs of mythological

beasts. Equally interesting is the painted decoration of the Rathaus (town hall), a great example of Weser Renaissance (see p453) from 1579. From the Stadtkirche church tower great views unfold. The Baroque Synagoge, beyond the old town, is the only one surviving in northern Germany.

★ Schloss

♠ Stadtkirche

Tel (05141) 7735. 10am-6pm Tue-Sat. Tower: Apr-Oct: 10-11:45am 2-4:45pm Tue-Sat.

Synagoge

Im Kreise 24. Tel (05141) 12 12.

noon–5pm Tue–Thu, 9am–2pm
Fri, 11am–4pm Sun.

Environs:

The town of Wietze, 11 km (7 miles) west of Celle, has been a centre of petroleum since 1858. The Deutsches Erdölmuseum Wietze provides a very interesting overview on the history of oil extraction. The neighbouring village of Wienhausen has a Cistercian Kloster (monastery) with a beautiful 13th–14th century church. Worth seeing are its Gothic frescoes, the presbytery vaults and the 14th- and 15th-century tapestries.

Wolfsburg 6

Road map D3. A 123,000. 2 Willy-Brandt-Platz 3 (05361-14 333).

During the 1930s, this small village began to develop into a sizeable town, based around the Volkswagen car works. Production of the "people's car" was conceived by Hitler – every German was to be able to afford this inexpensive car, designed by Ferdinand Porsche. The model reached its peak during the post-war economic boom years. The Volkswagenwerk factory is open to visitors.

Wolfsburg also has some outstanding examples of modern architecture: a cultural centre designed by Alvara Aalto, a city theatre designed by Hans Scharoun and a planetarium.

₩ Volkswagenwerk

Stadtbrücke. Tel (0800) 28 86 78 23. 9am–6pm daily. guided tours every 30 mins.

The facade of the Schloss with octagonal towers at the corners, in Celle

Stadthagen 6

Road map C3. 🤼 23,800. 🖪 Am Markt 1 (05721-92 60 70).

The counts of Schaumburg-Lippe used the Renaissance Schloss (castle) as their private residence. Apart from this and the town hall the main attraction is the church of St Martini, with an early Baroque mausoleum, and a masterful bronze monument by Adrian de Vries, court artist to Rudolf II in Prague.

Schulstr.18. Tel (05721) 93 42 42. Apr-Sep: 10am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-2pm Sat, noon-6pm Sun; Oct-Mar: 1-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-2pm Sat, noon-5pm Sun.

Environs

A gem of Romanesque architecture can be found at Idensen near Wunsdorf, 22 km (14 miles) from Stadthagen. The church interior (1120) is entirely painted with scenes from the Old and New Testaments, and there is a vast, Byzantine-style image of Christ's Enthronement on a vaulted ceiling.

Bückeburg **©

Road map C3. A 21,000. Schlossplatz 5 (05722-20 61 81).

In the 16th century this town became the capital of the principality of Schaumburg-Lippe. The philosopher Johann Gottfried von Herder was the preacher here. The Stadtkirche (town church), one of the first Protestant churches in Germany, is a pinnacle of Mannerism with its fantasy facade. Another attraction is the Schloss with its enchanting chapel. The Goldener Saal (golden hall), from 1605, has a Götterpforte (portal of the divinities) and a beautiful panelled ceiling.

Lange Str. Tel (05722) 957 70. 15 Apr-15 Oct: 3-5pm Mon: 10:30am-noon, 3-5pm Tue-Fri. 3–5pm Sun; 16 Oct–14 Apr 2:30-4:30pm Wed & Sun.

♠ Schloss

Tel (05722) 50 39. Apr–Sep: 9:30am–6pm; Oct–Mar: 9:30am–5pm.

The opulent Goldener Saal in Schloss Bückeburg

Braunschweig (Brunswick) @

Road map E3. A 240,000. Vor der Burg 1 (0531-470 20 40). Festival of Chamber Music (May); Medieval Fair (May/Jun).

An important commercial and political centre from the early Middle Ages, Braunschweig was chosen as town of residence by Heinrich der Löwe (Henry the Lion), ruler of Saxony and Bayaria. A member of the Welf family he eventually lost in his struggle against the German emperor.

Verv different in character but equally famous was Till Eulenspiegel, an ordinary man who poked fun at dimwitted citizens, the aristocracy and the clergy. His exploits were fictionalized in the 16th century and he was immortalized with a fountain on Bäckerklint Square

Braunschweig's continued decline culminated in the almost total destruction of the town in 1944. During reconstruction, the concept of the "Traditionsinsel" was developed: small islands of reconstructed historic monuments adrift in a sea of modernism

A tour of the town is best started from Burgolatz (castle square). Here is the Burglöwe the monument of a lion. funded by Heinrich in 1166 (the original is in a museum). Symbolizing Heinrich's rule, it was the first such sculpture to be erected since Roman days. The Dom (cathedral), Romanesque in style but modified, is well worth seeing. In the north nave an extension are unusual turned pillars, and in the transept and presbytery are 13th-century frescoes. Its marvellous treasures include a gigantic seven-armed bronze candlestick, the tomb of Heinrich and his wife Mathilde. the Crucifix of Imerward and a wooden cross with the figure of Christ modelled on the sculpture of Voltosanto in Lucca. Visitors can also see the column of the Passion with the figure of Christ, the work of Hans Witten.

To the west of the cathedral lies the Altstadtmarkt (old town market). Here are the Lshaped Rathaus (town hall), with a two-storey open cloister, and the Gothic church of St Martini. The beautiful Gewandhaus (cloth hall), rebuilt in the Renaissance, is also worth seeing.

The Burglöwe, Heinrich der Löwe's monument in Braunschweig

East of the cathedral is the Herzog-Anton-Ulrich-Museum, the oldest in Germany. It was opened to the public as a gallery by Duke Anton Ulrich and holds a variety of gems such as Rembrandt's Family Portrait, a Giorgioni self-portrait and Vermeer van Delft's Girl with a Glass of Wine.

△ Dom

Burgplatz. Tel (0531) 24 33 50

Altstadtmarkt. Tel (0531) 161 21.

THE Herzog-Anton-Ulrich-

Museumsstr. 1. Tel (0531) 122 50. 10am–5pm Tue & Thu–Sun, 1pm–8pm Wed.

The richly decorated portal of the Gewandhaus in Braunschweig

Environs

In Königslutter, 35 km (22 miles) east of Braunschweig, Emperor Lothar initiated the building of the Benedictine Kaiserdom, a monastery church and later his burial place. The portal with figures of lions, a frieze with figures of fishermen, and the cloisters reflect the taste of the times and the northern Italian origin of architects and sculptors; only the frescoes are late 19th-century additions.

Helmstedt, 45 km (28 miles) to the east, is unjustifiably only associated with the former border crossing between East and West Germany. In 1576,

The Marienbrunnen fountain on Altstadtmarkt in Braunschweig

Duke Julius of Brunswick founded the Julius Academy, one of Germany's most popular Protestant universities, where the Italian philosopher Giordano Bruno taught. Juleum (1592–7), the main building, has a central tower and two decorative gables. It is now home to the Kreisheimatmuseum, a regional museum and library.

Königslutter. Tel (05353) 22 47. 9am-6pm daily, in winter until 5pm.

⚠ Kreisheimatmuseum Helmstedt. Tel (05351) 121 14 81. ☐ 9–11am, 3–5pm Mon-Fri, 3–5pm Sat, 11am–12:30pm Sun. Library ☐ 3–5pm Tue, Thu.

Wolfenbüttel @

Road map E3. A 53,000. Stadtmarkt 7 (05331-86 280). Theaterfest (Jul/Aug); Altstadtfest (Aug).

This small town has had a remarkably turbulent past. From 1432 until 1753 the Welf dukes moved their seat here. from Braunschweig. In the 16th century. innovative town design introduced wide avenues and spacious squares. Largely unscathed by World War II attacks, the town has 500 historic halftimbered houses, and a magnificent library. The Herzog-August-Bibliothek contains 130.000 volumes. including the most valuable book in the world, Heinrich der Löwe's Gospel book. Associated with the town are the philosopher Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz and writer Gotthold Ephraim Lessing. The Lessinghaus houses a literature museum.

The centre of the town is dominated by the Schloss, the largest castle in Lower Saxony, refurbished in the Baroque style in 1714–16. It houses the Schlossmuseum with regional items such as furniture and tapestries. The Venussaal (hall of Venus) has beautiful Baroque ceiling frescoes. Opposite the castle is the Zeughaus (armoury), built in 1613–19 to a design by Paul Francke.

Continuing eastwards the visitor will get to the Haupt-kirche, the 16th-century church dedicated to Beatae Mariae Virginis, the ducal pantheon and the leading example of Protestant Mannerist architecture. Begun in 1608, the church's façade has delicate reliefs, while the interior reveals an unusual combination of styles.

♣ Schloss and Schloss-museum

Schlossplatz 13. Tel (05331) 924 60.

10am-5pm Tue-Sun.
Lessinghaus, Museum &
Zeughaus Tel (05331) 80 80.

11am-5pm Tue-Sun. Herzog-August-Bibliothek
8am-8pm Mon-Fri, 9am-1pm Sat.
24 &
31 Dec.

Hauptkirche

Michael-Praetorius-Platz 9.

Tel (05331) 72 055.

9am-noon, 2-5pm Tue & Thu.

Baroque façade of Schloss Wolfenbüttel

Hannover (Hanover) a

The capital of Lower Saxony, Hannover does not at first glance seem particularly exciting, but appearances can be deceptive: the town boasts interesting architecture in the historic centre, magnificent Baroque gardens and one of Europe's most important museums of modern art. Hannover's past was marked by its dynastic links with England, sharing the same ruler during the years 1714-1837. Annual industrial trade fairs have earned the town an international reputation, and in 2000 Hannover hosted the international exhibition Expo 2000 which attracted 18 million visitors.

Exploring Hannover

After the near-total destruction of the old town in 1944. many historic monuments have been rebuilt, and large green spaces encourage the visitor to explore the town on foot. It is best to follow an extensive circuit, starting from and returning to the railway station. The Baroque gardens at Herrenhausen in the northwest of the town are reached by metro (U-Bahn 4, 5).

☑ Opernhaus

Opernplatz 1. Tel (0511) 99 99 11 11. The opera house was built in 1845–57 by George Ludwig Friedrich Laves. Hannover's most important architect, to a fine Neo-Classical design. Particularly charming is the facade with portico columns.

M Niedersächsisches

Façade of the vast Neues Rathaus, with its central dome gallery, which holds excellent German medieval and Renaissance paintings (Dürer, Spranger, Cranach), a good section with Dutch and Flemish paintings (Rubens, Rembrandt, van Dyck) as well as German paintings of the 19th and 20th centuries, with fine examples of Romanticism and Impressionism (Friedrich Corinth Liebermann).

fft Sprengel Museum

Kurt-Schwitters-Platz 1. Tel (0511) 16 84 38 75. 10am-8pm Tue, 10am–6pm Wed–Sun. One of Europe's finest museums of modern art, the Sprengel-Museum reflects the city's role as an artists' mecca. in the 1920s, before the National Socialists destroyed works of art that they designated as "degenerate". Hannover's controversial artist (school of abstraction, 1928, the museum was built in 1979 and holds works by Munch, Chagall and Picasso. as well as many more recent artists, including Christo.

The museum is located by Maschsee, a large artifical lake created in the centre of the city in 1936. During the summer it teems with motor and sailing boats, while Hanoverians stroll around its banks.

Mueller's The Lovers (1920), in the Sprengel-Museum

TR Neues Rathaus

Trammplatz 2. Tel (0511) 168 45 333. Dome Apr-Oct: 9:30am-6pm Mon-Fri. 10am-6pm Sat & Sun. The gigantic town hall symbolizes the lofty ambitions of the wealthier citizens at the beginning of the 20th century. It was built from 1901-13, on more than 6.000 beech pillars. modelled on a Baroque palace with a central dome, and decorated with Neo-Gothic and Secessionist detail. The Swiss artist Ferdinand Hodler created a vast painting entitled Einigkeit (unity) for the Debating Hall, which depicts the arrival of Protestantism in the town in 1533. A unique oblique lift takes you up to the dome from where there are wonderful views.

★ Leineschloss

Hinrich-Wilhelm-Kopf-Platz. In the historic city centre by the Leine River stands the Leineschloss, a 17th-century palace completely rebuilt by the local architect Laves between 1817 and 1842. It had to be rebuilt again after destruction in World War II, and now serves as headquarters for the Niedersächsischer

Interior of the church of St Georg und St Jacobus, in Marktplatz

Landtag (Lower Saxony state parliament). The porticos on the façade were modelled on ancient Greek temples.

Marktplatz

Although the houses on this square had to be almost completely rebuilt after World War II, this is one of the best examples of 15th-century redbrick architecture, with amazing gables with projections as well as figurative friezes of glazed terracotta. Nearby, the Marktkirche St Georg und St

Jacobus (church of St George and St Jacob) features a 14th-century nave with a characteristic four-pinnacled tower. The most valuable object among its furnishings is the Gothic altar, with scenes of the Passion and copper engravings by the renowned artist Martin Schongauer.

Herrenhäuser Gärten

Despite having been razed to the ground during World War II, the gardens in Hannover's Herrenhausen district are among the most beautiful Baroque gardens in Germany. They were established by Duchess Sophie von der Pfalz, daughter of Elizabeth Stuart and mother of England's

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map C3. A 522,000. E Ernst-August-Platz Ernst-August-Platz 8 (0511-123 45-111). A Sat. Schützenfest (Jun/Jul). www.hannover.de

George I. The Großer Garten, the most important of the four gardens, has a formal layout modelled on 17th- and 18th-century Dutch parks. It is a botanical garden with fountains, including the Große Fontäne, the tallest in Europe with a 82-m (269-ft) water spout. There are grottoes, mazes, sculptures and decorative urns, and the hedges are some 21 km (13 miles) long.

The stunningly beautiful Baroque gardens in Herrenhausen

Hildesheim a

The undisputed capital of Romanesque culture, the old town of Hildesheim was transformed into a heap of rubble by heavy bombing on 22 March 1945. The most important monuments have now been recreated, with mixed results, surrounded by modern developments Two churches, the Michaeliskirche and the Dom St. Mariä are UNESCO World Heritage sites and the Roemer-Pelizaeus-Museum of Egyptian Culture also makes a visit to Hildesheim worthwhile

Wedekindhaus, a beautiful halftimbered house on Marktplatz

Exploring Hildesheim

Contrary to received wisdom. the city is best visited on foot. Visitors can park in the centre, for example near the church of St Michael, and then explore the main sights from here. A round tour, including the museums, should not take longer than around

4-5 hours. It is also possible to follow the Rosenroute (rose trail) around town which is marked on the pavements by white roses. Marktplatz 🖶

Since gaining civic rights in the 11th century, the heart of the bishopric town has been its market square. Every detail has now been faithfully reconstructed, and it is easy to forget that the square looked totally different only a few years ago. In 1987, the Knochenhaueramtshaus (butchers' guild hall) was rebuilt the largest and most famous halftimbered house in Germany, dating from 1529. Opposite are the Gothic town hall and the Tempelhaus, an original 15th-century > and a half-timbered annexe, added in 1591. Reliefs depict the story of the Prodigal Son.

Andreaskirche

Andreasplatz. Apr–Sep: 9am–6pm Mon–Fri, 9am-4pm Sat, 11:30am-4pm Sun: Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm Mon-Sat. 11:30-4pm Sun. Tower May-Oct: Mon-Sat, noon-4pm Sun. The reconstructed Gothic church of St Andrew is notable for the brightness and the quality of the light that passes through its vast windows, as well as its soaring proportions. The 115-m (377-ft) tower was added in the 19th century.

— Michaelisplatz. Tel (05121) 34 410. Apr-Oct: 8am-6pm Mon-Sat. noon-6nm Sun: Nov-Mar: 9am-4nm Mon-Sat noon-4nm Sun Built on the instructions of Bishop Bernward, the church is a textbook example of what became known as the Ottonian style, the early Romanesque culture of the Otto dynasty. Its characteristic feature is the streamlined simplicity of interior and exterior with square pillars intersecting with the naves. The sarco phagus of the founder. St Bernward, is in the crypt in the western part of the church.

Luckily, a rare painted 12thcentury ceiling was removed during World War II and thus largely survived. It depicts the story of Redemption, from Adam and Eve through to Mary and the Saviour.

III Roemer-Pelizaeus Museum

Am Steine 1. Tel (05121) 93 690. 10am-6pm daily. The pride of this museum is the Ancient Egyptian collection, one of the best in Europe. which includes the burial figures of Hem Om and the writer Heti from the Old Kingdom (c.2600 BC). It also has fine collections of Chinese porcelain and Inca artefacts, and it is famed for its temporary exhibitions on ancient cultures.

Bas-relief on the facade of Andreaskirche

Domhof. Tel (05121) 179 17 60. 15 Mar-15 Oct: 9:30am-5pm Mon–Sat, noon–5pm Sun; 16 Oct– 14 Mar: 10am-4:30pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun.

During a hunting expedition in 815, Ludwig der Fromme (the devout), son of Charlemagne, allegedly hung relics of the Virgin Mary on a tree. When he tried to remove them they would not budge which he took to be a heavenly sign that a church should be founded on this site and a town alongside it. The Tausendjähriger Rosenstock (1,000-year-old rose) of this legend grows to this day

Presbytery of Michaeliskirche

The Bernwardsäule in the Dom St. Mariä – a huge bronze column in the cathedral's apse, and even survived bombing. The cathedral was reconstructed after World War II, using a model of the church's 11th-century appearance.

Original works of art bear witness to the cathedral's foundry which flourished under bishop Bernward. Bronze double doors depict the Old Testament version of the Creation on one side, and the life of Christ according to the New Testament on the other. The Bernward-säule, a huge bronze column from 1022, was once topped by a crucifix. The column, with scenes from the life of Christ arranged as a spiralling picture story, recalls the column of Emperor Trajan in Rome. Two further important works of art are a chandelier from 1060, with a diameter of 3 m (10 ft), and a baptismal font (c.1225) based on the personifications of the four rivers of the Garden of Eden.

Godehardsplatz. Tel (05121) 34578. Apr-Sep: 9am-6pm Mon-Fri. 9am-5pm Sat, noon-6pm Sun; Oct-Mar: 9am-4:30nm Mon-Sat noon-4:30nm Sun This church is dedicated to Bernward's successor, bishop Godehard, who like him has been included in the canon of saints Built in 1133-72, it is typical of local architecture and also recalls the earlier church of St Michaelis. It has interesting carved capitals as well as a northern doorway with the Blessed Jesus Christ accompanied by St Godehard and St Epiphany.

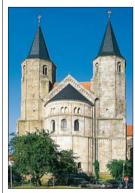

Moritzberg.

Another Romanesque church worth visiting in Hildesheim

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map C3. [106,000.] Bahnhofsplatz.] Rathausstr. 18–20 (05121-179 80). [Jazz-Time (before Whitsun); Weinfest (May); Klosterkonzert (Jul); Bauernmarkt (Sep); Drachenflugtag (Oct).

is the church of St Maurice, west of the centre. Founded by bishop Hezilo and built in the years 1058–68, the church has enchanting cloisters, dating from the 12th century, and the sarcophagus of the founder of the church.

Presbytery of the massive Godehardkirche, flanked by towers

Guildhouse

(Hotel Kaiserworth)

Jakobikirche 1

Street-by-Street: Goslar @

Goslar. at the foot of the Harz mountains, is a captivating town with 1,800 charming, half-timbered houses, the largest number in Germany. For 300 years the Holy Roman Emperors of Germany resided in Goslar, a member of the Hanseatic League also known as "the treasure chest of the North". Goslar's main source of wealth was the nearby mine in Rammelsberg, where zinc, copper and especially silver were mined. The townscape has remained largely unchanged, making it a great tourist attraction as well as a UNESCO world heritage site.

* Rathaus

On the western side of the market square stands the 15th-century town hall. Its beautiful Huldigungsaal (ball of homage) has a ceiling and walls with Gothic frescos.

* Pfarrkirche

The Gothic Church of Saints Cosmas and Damian has Romanesque stained-glass windows and a bronze Renaissance baptismal font.

Suggested route

The Kaiserpfalz

Statue of the

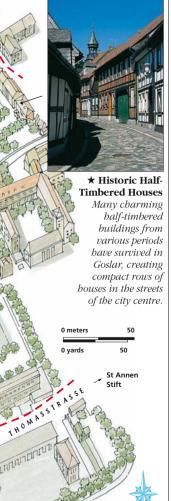

Emperor Barbarossa

The Emperors' palace is a stone building (1005–15), largely rebuilt in the 19th century. The chapel and the Emperors' hall with its superb paintings are worth seeing.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map D3. A 46,000.
Markt 7 (05321-780 60).
Goslarer Tag der Kleinkunst (Jun). www.goslar.de

STAR SIGHTS

- ★ Rathaus
- ★ Pfarrkirche
- ★ Historic Half-Timbered Houses

Siemenshaus

Schreiberstraße 12. Tel (05321) 238 37. 10am-noon Tue & Thu. This half-timbered house, one of the most attractive, was once owned by the Siemens family who have their roots in Goslar. The former brewery on this site is open to visitors.

Frankenberger Platz.
Located in the Frankenberg neighbourhood, this was one of 47 churches which once stood in the town. It was built in the 12th century, and the tympanum of the south portal dates from this period. Extensively refurbished, the church prides itself on its magnificent Baroque furnishings.

Jakobi-Kirchhof. Tel (05321) 235 33. 10am–4pm daily.

The present appearance of this church, the only Catholic one in Goslar, is the result of Gothic additions, although the structure of the walls remains Romanesque. The famous work of art in the church is the Pietà by Hans von Witten, but it is also worth looking at the wall paintings, the organ and the baptismal font.

♠ Neuwerkkirche

Rosentorstraße 27a. Tel (05321) 228 39. \square Apr-Oct: 10am-noon & 2:30–4:30pm Mon-Sat, 2:30–4:30pm Sun. This impressive late-Romanesque church was built in the 12th–13th centuries for the Cistercian Order, although the surviving monastic buildings date from the early 18th century. Inside, the wall paintings and the choir partition are of interest. The church is surrounded by a peaceful garden.

The train in the Bergbaumuseum in Rammelsberg

m Breites Tor

Breite Straße.

Some parts of the defensive system, dating mainly from c.1500, are well preserved. This "wide gate", which can be seen on the eastern approach of the town, is the most imposing part.

T St Annen-Stift

Bergtal 19. Tel (05321) 75 00.

3 9am-6pm daily
Goslar's mining museum is based in the 10th-century silver mine. One of the oldest surviving industrial structures in the world, it was entered in UNESCO's list of world heritage sites. On display are the mining tools and utensils that were used in various periods. Visitors can take a train ride through the mine and learn about the history of mining.

The above-ground buildings of the silver mine in Rammelsberg

Finbeck @

Road map C3. 🚯 29.400. 🖪 Rathaus, Markt Str. 13 (05561-313 19 10). www.einbeck.de

In the Middle Ages, this town had 600 breweries - more than houses - and today it is still known for its beers: Bockbier the famous German strong beer was invented here. Burned down in 1540 and 1549 the town was subsequently rebuilt in a uniformly Renaissance style. The historic town centre is enclosed by the city walls More than 100 half-timbered houses have survived to this day. Eickesches Haus (Marktstraße 13) is particularly eye-catching, with a sculpted facade based on biblical and Classical stories Other picturesque houses can be found in Tiedexer Straße and in Marktplatz. The latter boasts the Rathaus (town hall) and the Ratswaage (municipal Göttingen's Rathaus weigh house) and Ratsapotheke (chemist). The tower of the neighbouring Pfarrkirche St Jakobi (parish church) leans 1.5 m (5 ft) from the perpendicular. In 1741, a Baroque façade was added to hide this.

Environs

15 km (9 miles) from Einbeck is the spa town of Bad Gandersheim. It grew up around a Benedictine monastery established here in 852, which in the 10th century was the home of Roswitha von Gandersheim, the first known German poet.

Göttingen **@

Road map C4. 🔝 129,000. 📳 Altes Rathaus, Markt 9 (0551-499 800). 🜃 Händel-fest (Jun); Literaturherbst (Oct). Jazzfestival (Nov); student festivals, such as Stiftungsfest. www.goettingen.de

Along with Tübingen, Marburg and Heidelberg, Göttingen is one of the most renowned German university towns. Established in 1737 by the English King George II. who was also the ruler of Hannover, the university taught the sons of wealthy German English and Russian aristocrats Important cultural figures worked here, including the writer Heinrich Heine. the brothers Grimm and the explorer Alexander von Humboldt. Göttingen's reputation as an educational centre continues today, partly due to the establishment of the Max Planck Institute named after the scientist who was born in the city and developed the quantum theory.

Göttingen is a lively town thanks to its student population, with dozens of cafés, cosmopolitan restaurants and bars. University buildings are scattered all over town, and the Aula a Neo-Classical Assembly Hall, is worth a visit. On the Marktolatz in the town centre stands the Rathaus > (town hall) with a Gothic stone facade. The Gänselieselbrunnen, the goose girl fountain, in front dates from 1901. It is kissed by students who have passed their exams, and much loved by tourists.

Stone crest on

From the southeastern end of the market square, Göttingen's four main churches can be seen: St Michael to the south. St Iohannis to the west, St Albani to the east and St Jakobi to the north. The latter two boast late-Gothic altars worth visiting. Together, they testify to Göttingen's early importance in the Middle Ages.

The twin-towered Gothic facade of St Cyriakus in Duderstadt

Duderstadt @

Road map C4. A 24.500. Marktstr. 66 (05527-84 12 00).

To the south of the Harz mountains, not far from the former border with East Germany, lies this often overlooked gem. A walk around the medieval town is best started on Obermarkt (upper market) Here stands the halftimbered Rathaus (town hall) with an interesting facade and spiky towers. Inside it has exhibition halls and a cultural centre. East of the town hall rises the Catholic Probsteikirche St Cvriakus with its rich interior of altars and 15 Baroque statues. St Servatius, its Protestant counterpart. combines Gothic architecture with a Secessionist interior. Nearby is the Westertorturm.

the only surviving town gate. Its strangely spiralling finial is not a decorative feature, but the consequence of a weak-

The Gothic Rathaus on Marktplatz in Göttingen

The Weser Renaissance Trail 6

The Weser Renaissance is an architectural and decorative style of northern Germany, dating from the mid-16th to the mid-17th century. Its tall roofs and gables were inspired by Dutch architecture, although it has many original features: the Zwerchbäuser (bay windows, one or more storeys high), the Utlucht (protruding sections of the façade), lavish decorations and multi-wing castles, some with spiral staircases in their towers.

Hameln (1)

Rattenfängerhaus (rat catcher's house), Hochzeitshaus (wedding house) and Demptersches Haus (Dempsters' house) are good examples of the Weser Renaissance style. The Romanesque-Gothic Münster (collegiate church) is also worth seeing.

Hämelschenburg ②

The castle, built in 1588–1612, is a threewinged building, surrounded by a moat. It has an impressive exterior with towers and decorative gables; its original interiors are also preserved.

Another gem of the Weser Renaissance style, the castle in Bevern, near Holzminden, was built from Prussian stone in the years 1602–12. It has four wings as well as two towers in the corners of its courtyard.

Münden 4

The principal buildings that exemplify the Weser Renaissance style are the town hall and the castle, now a regional museum with a collection of ceramics. Fragments of a Renaissance fresco of Duke Eryk II of Calenberg can also be admired here.

0 miles 20

TIPS FOR DRIVERS

Starting point: Hameln. Length: 112 km (70 miles). Stopping-off places: good restaurants and bistros can be found in all the towns and villages along the route.

SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN

chleswig-Holstein is the northernmost German state, situated between the Baltic and the North Sea and bordered by the Elbe River and Denmark. Weather-beaten by the unstable marine climate, the Gothic brick buildings of Lübeck, queen of the Baltic coast, testify equally to the turbulent history of this region. Today, tourists visit Schleswig-Holstein for its wide sandy beaches and impressive lakes.

Originally, this state comprised two territories: Schleswig in the north, which was inhabited by Germanic tribes (Angles, Saxons, Vikings and Danes) in the Middle Ages. and Holstein in the south mainly populated by Slavs, who converted to Christianity as late as the 12th century. Its more recent history was characterized by struggles between the Hanseatic towns and the rulers of Denmark In the 18th century, the entire region, from Altona in the south (now part of Hamburg) to Kolding in the north, belonged to Denmark, but in 1866 it was annexed to Bismarck's Prussia. In 1920, the political borders that exist today were established when Denmark regained the northern part of Schleswig after a plebiscite, leaving a significant Danish minority on the German side.

pally an agricultural region, and less densely populated than any other state in Germany. Art lovers are mainly drawn to Lübeck, the most powerful Hanseatic town in the Baltic during the Middle Ages. Lübeck's old town, an architectural gem, has now been listed as a world heritage site by UNESCO. Other places offer surprises aplenty - the visitor will be captivated by the Romanesque churches around Flensburg, while the magnificent countryside more than compensates for the lack of major cultural monuments. A walk through the national park of Schleswig-Holsteinisches

Wattenmeer, the moving sand dunes of the elegant island of Sylt, or a romantic sunset on the lake shores in

Plön will leave lasting impressions.

Schleswig-Holstein is princi-

The moated Renaissance Wasserschloss in Glücksburg

0 km

0 miles

25

Exploring Schleswig-Holstein

Undoubtedly the greatest attraction in this twopart state is Lübeck, and at least one day should be set aside to visit this town. Kiel is a popular destination during the annual Kieler Woche, the world's largest sailing festival. The sun-kissed island of Sylt invites the visitor to linger for a few days, while the stunning scenery of Helgoland is best explored in a one-day trip from Cuxhaven or Büsum. Hotels in the larger towns, such as Schleswig, Kiel or Flensburg, and many provincial boarding houses, provide a good base for excursions.

Buildings in Plön, in the Holstein Switzerland Nature Reserve

GETTING AROUND

The nearest international airport is Hamburg. Two motorways bisect Schleswig-Holstein: leaving Hamburg and the long queues for the Elbe Tunnel behind, the E47 (No 7) takes the visitor to Kiel and via Flensburg on to the Danish peninsula of Jutland, while the E22 (turning off the E47) leads via Lübeck to the Danish capital, Copenhagen.

The lake at Westensee Nature Reserve, where visitors can experience the captivating nature and wildlife close up

Meldorf

Naturpark Holsteinische Schweiz (Holstein Switzerland Nature Reserve) (3)

Ratzeburg 9

Schleswig 6 Sylt 4

For additional map symbols see back flap

KEY Motorway Main road Minor road Main railway Minor railway National border Regional border Ferries departing for excursions from the harbour in Kiel o Glücksburg 5 FLENSBURG ₽ Kappeln Tarp Schlei E ma 6 SCHLESWIG Puttgarden Fehmarn Kieler Bucht Eckernförde Burg Gettorf Owschlag o Heiligenhafen Altenholz⁹ Rendsburg elenter 7 KIEL Oldenburg Preetz Nord-Ostee Plön STEINISCHE O Bordesholm Nortorf Nordhastedt SCHWEIZ Neustadt Bosau Neumünste Lübecker Burg Bucht Bad Bad Schwartau Itzehoe Segeberg 10 LÜBECK Kaltenkirchen Bad 白田山 4 ☐ ②GLÜCKSTADT Oldesloe Ratzeburger Elmshorn RATZEBURG 9 1 Norderstedt Pinneberg Abrensburg Schaalsee 6 Wedel Trittau Hamburg Berlin Reinbek Schwarzenbek Geesthacht SEE ALSO

Boizenburg

Lüneburg \

Where to Stay pp516–17

Where to Eat pp556–7

Helgoland o

For lovers of spices in Germany, it may have seemed a bad deal when in 1890 Germany received Helgoland from Britain in return for Zanzibar, but the island is nevertheless worth a visit. Farthest out in the open sea (50 km/31 miles from the mainland), the island always had great strategic importance, and after 1945, Britain used it as a bombing target before it was returned to Germany in 1952. Today its fresh air and spectacular red cliffs attract thousands of tourists.

Port 1

On the flat part of the island is Unterland, a small post-war town with 1,900 inhabitants and a port. Fishermen store their nets in the colourful little houses, referred to as Hummerbuden (lobster huts).

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map B1. A. 1,900. Bremerhaven, Cuxhaven and Wilhelmshaven. Lung Wai 28 (04725-81 37 11 & 14). www.helqoland.de

Lange Anna ③

Tall Anna, measuring about 40 m (131ft) high, is the best known red sandstone cliff. Nearby is the Lummenfelsen, which is the smallest nature reserve in Germany.

Oberland 2

In the upper part of the island stands the Nikolai-kirche, dating from 1959. Close by, and worth a visit, are 16th-century tombs.

TIPS FOR TOURISTS

Starting point: the port of Helgoland

Length: 1.7 km (1.1 miles). Stopping places: there are numerous restaurants, bars and cafés all over the island.

Suggested route

Glückstadt A

Road map C2. A 12,000. Große Nübelstraße 31 (04124-93 75 85)

The Danish king, Christian IV founded this little town in 1617 and although less impressive than Hamburg, the town is worth a visit for its layout = roads radiate out from the hexagonal market square, once surrounded by fortifications. On the square stands the reconstructed 17thcentury town hall as well as the Baroque Stadtkirche (town church). In 1648, parts of the duchy of Holstein were transferred to Glückstadt, Most of the palaces built to house the Dukes survived for example the Palais Werner with its amazing ballroom. The regional museum is now in Brockdorf-Palais another palace from 1632.

Detlefsen-Museum

Am Fleth 43. Tel (04124) 93 76 30. 2pm–5pm Wed, 2pm–6pm Thu, Fri, Sat, 2pm–5pm Sun.

Meldorf

Road map C1. A 7,500. R Nordermarkt 10 (04832-97 800).

Meldorf has preserved the Dithmarscher Dom, its cathedral, a 13th-century basilica with an exterior extensively rebuilt in the 19th century. The vaulting in the transept, resembling a cupola, is decorated with Gothic frescos, depicting the legends of saints Catherine, Christopher and Nicholas. There is a richly decorated dividing wall (1603) and a grand triptych of the Crucifixion (c.1520).

The port and waterfront of Flensburg

Sylt 4

Road map B1. 50,000. in Westerland. Westerland, Stephanstraße 6 (04651-820 20).

The island of Sylt the largest of the North Frisian islands, has long attracted wealthy German visitors. The 50-km (31-mile) long island offers a rich variety of landscapes: white sandy beaches shifting sand dunes near List towering up to 25 m (82ft) high, steep shorelines, the Rotes Kliff (red cliff) near Kampen and the Watt, the endless expanse of mudflats in the national park. Schleswig-Holsteinisches Wattenmeer Westerland is Sylt's main town and its promenade. Friedrichstraße. is "the" place to be seen. There is also an interesting casino in a former Secessionist spa building.

Flensburg 6

Road map C1. 1 84,500. 2 Rathausstraße 1 (0461-909 09 20). 1 Rum-Regatta in Flensburger Förde (May).

The most northerly town in Germany, Flensburg was an important trading centre in the 16th century with 200 ships, although at times it belonged to Denmark. The Nordertor (northern gate). dating from 1595, is an emblem of the city. The shipping museum is fascinating while the Marienkirche has a Renaissance altar, sculptures and the painting The Last Supper (1598). Nearby is the Heilia-Geist-Kirche (church of the Holy Ghost), which has belonged to the town's Danish community since 1588. Other interesting churches are Nikolaikirche which boasts a magnificent Renaissance organ, and Johanniskirche with a vaulted ceiling dating from around 1500. Its painted scenes show people disguised as animals, which was a covert way of criticizing the church and the system of indulgences.

Environs

Schloss Glücksburg, 9 km (6 miles) northeast of Flensburg, a square castle with massive corner towers on a granite base, was built from 1582–7. Visit its captivating castle chapel, the Roter Saal (red hall) with its low vaulting, and the valuable collection of 18th-century tapestries from Brussels. The artist Emil Nolde lived and worked in Seebüll, west of Flensburg, from the age of 20 until his death in 1956.

The sandy beaches of the North Frisian island of Sylt, extending far to the horizon

The inner courtyard of Schloss Gottorf in Schleswig

Schleswig 6

Road map C1. M 27,000. Plessenstr. 7 (04621-85 00 56). College Schleswig-Holstein Musik Festival throughout the region (Jull/Aug); Wikinger-Tage (Aug every other year).

The main seat of the Vikings, Schleswig became a bishop's see as early as 947, and from 1544 to 1713 it was the residence of the dukes of Schleswig-Holstein-Gottorf, once related to the rulers of Denmark and Russia. They resided in Schloss Gottorf, a castle with four wings which now houses the Schleswig-Holsteinisches Landesmuseum (regional museum) as well as northern Germany's most famous archaeological museum, the Archäologisches Landesmuseum, exhibiting the Moorleichen, prehistoric corpses preserved in peat. It is also worth seeing the two-storey chapel (1590).

The Dom (cathedral) was built in stages between the 12th and 15th centuries. Its largest treasure is the Bordesholmer Altar, a triptych altar carved by Hans Brüggemann in 1514–21. A masterpiece of Gothic carving, it is 12 m (39 ft) high and comprises 392 figures; the only one to look straight at the visitor is the sculptor himself, bearded and hat askew (in the house of Abraham and Melchisede)

Visitors can also walk around the historic fishermen's district of Holm, and visit the Wikinger-Museum Haithabu, about 4 km (2 miles) from the town centre. The fortifications have survived in the grounds of this historic Viking settlement. The museum is housed in a modern building, which looks like an upturned boat. Exhibits include the depiction of Viking life, models of boats, iewellery and everyday items.

⑪ Wikinger-Museum Haithabu

Kiel 0

Road map C1. M 245,000. ■

Andreas-Gayk-Straße 31 (01805-65 67 00). Town hall ● 9am-6pm
Mon-Fri, 9am-1pm Sat.
Kieler Woche (end Jun).

Located at the end of the Kieler Förde inlet, Kiel marks the beginning of the Nord-Ostsee-Kanal (Kiel Canal), in service since 1895, with two giant locks. Ferries depart from Kiel for Scandinavia, and in the summer the "Kieler Woche" turns the town into a mecca for yachtsmen from around the world.

A walk along the Schweden-Kai (embankment) and surroundings will take visitors to the vast Rathaus (town hall), dating from the beginning of the 20th century, and the Nikolaikirche (church of St Nicholas) which was rebuilt after the devastation of World War II, with its baptismal font and Gothic altar. Ernst Barlach created Geistkämpfer, the sculpture outside the church, which symbolizes the triumph

A house in Kiel's Schleswig-Holsteinisches Freilichtmuseum

ROMANESQUE BAPTISMAL FONTS

There are few places in the world where visitors can see as many Romanesque baptismal fonts as in Angeln. Generally fashioned from granite, they have been preserved in enchanting 12th-century churches, which can be visited by following a 63-km (39-mile) route along the roads linking Flensburg and Schleswig, Munkbrarup, Sörup, Norderbrarup, Süderbrarup and finally Ulsnis.

Font in the church in Borbry

Font in the church in Munkbrarup

Font in the church in Sörup of mind over matter. Pieces of the sculpture, which had been cut up by the National Socialists, were found and reassembled after the war

The most interesting of Kiel's many museums is the Schleswig-Holsteinisches Freilichtmuseum, an open-air museum in Molfsee, 6 km (4 miles) from the centre of Kiel, where German rural architecture from the 16th– 19th centuries is on show. Pottery, basket-making and baking are demonstrated, and the products are sold here

Schleswig-Holsteinisches Freilichtmuseum

Holsteinische Schweiz (Holstein's Switzerland) 3

Road map D1. A Bad Malente, Kurverwaltung, Strand-Allee 75A (01805-70 07 08). J Jazz-Festival in Plön (May); open-air opera during Sommerspiele in Eutin.

The morain hills, which reach a height of 164 m (538 ft), and 140 lakes are the reasons why this area is known as Holstein's Switzerland. The best means of transport here is the bicycle, allowing visitors to appreciate the beauty of nature and the wealth of the fauna – ornithologists have counted 200 species of birds. The main centre of this holiday area is

Plön on the

The 17th-century Schloss in Plön, in Holstein's Switzerland

EMIL NOLDE (1867-1956)

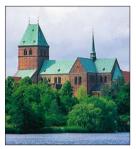

Born Emil Hansen, this great artist later adopted the name of the town in which he was born. After studying art in Copenhagen, Munich and Paris, Nolde devoted himself to painting, and was also successful in the graphic arts. From 1906–7 he belonged to the Expressionist group Die Brücke. He is known particularly for his use of vivid colours and highly expressive features, embuing his subjects with great emotion. Rejected and forbidden to paint by the National Socialists as an exponent of "degenerate art", Nolde settled and continued to paint in Seebüll, where a house was built for him to his own designs.

Großer Plöner See (large Plön lake). Nearby is Preetz, an old shoemakers' town, which has a towerless Gothic church that belonged to a former Benedictine monastery. Older still is the Romanesque church in Bosau, a small town in a picturesque location on the Großer Plöner See. It was the first bishopric in this area, and home to Vizelin – the apostle of the Slavs.

It is also worth visiting Eutin, a small town full of picturesque buildings, which is sometimes referred to as the "Weimar of the north" The original Schloss, a brick structure with four wings, was built in the Middle Ages as the residence of the Lübeck bishops, but it was substantially altered in the years 1716-27. Worth seeing inside are the palace chapel, the Blauer Salon (blue salon) with Rococo stucco work, as well as paintings by Johann Heinrich Wilhelm Tischbein. which were inspired by the Iliad and the Odyssey, epic

The Dom in Ratzeburg

Ratzeburg 9

Road map D2. 12,500. 1

Ratzeburg, situated on an island in the Großer Ratzeburger See, is linked with the mainland by three causeways. The town was named after Ratibor, the duke of the Elbe River area. Henry the Lion established a missionary bishopric here in 1154, and later it became the residence of the Lauenburg dukes.

The Dom (cathedral) is one of the earliest examples of brick architecture, a style that was imported from Lombardy. The southern vestibule of the Romanesque basilica is particularly impressive - with herringbone-pattern brickwork and lines of black tiles as interior decoration. The Romanesque stalls, a 13thcentury crucifix in a rainbow arch, the ducal gallery above the nave and the Baroque altar in the southern transept are some of its treasures.

Street-by-Street: Lübeck o

This "specific nest", as Lübeck was described by its most famous resident. Thomas Mann, is well worth a visit. The most important town in the Baltic basin by the end of the Middle Ages, it is now a magnet for fans of Backsteingotik, Gothic brick architecture which has been elevated to a national style. In Lübeck it is easy to see why: church interiors, the facades of buildings, the city gates, the unique town hall and even the Medieval hospital resemble pictures from an illustrated history of architecture brought to life. Despite a few blunders, the city has been beautifully rebuilt after World War II and enjoys a positive revival.

Ruddenbrookhaus This beautiful Gothic building was once the home of Nobelprize-winning author Thomas Mann. It now houses a museum dedicated to the Mann family

> Heiligen-Geist-Hospital

Germany's most famous brick town hall dating from 1226. bas unusual walls and turrets

★ Marienkirche

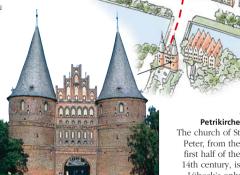

St Mary's Church, larger than the cathedral and situated behind the town hall, holds great art treasures.

Holstentor

This gate, once the only entrance into Lübeck, was built by Hinrich Helmstede in the years 1466-78, based on Flemish designs. It has become the emblem of the town.

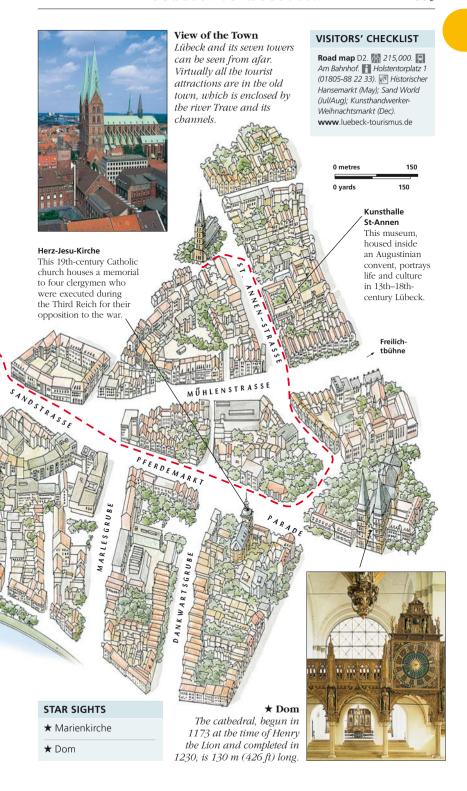

KEY

Suggested route

Petrikirche

Peter, from the first half of the 14th century, is Lübeck's only five-naved church.

MARZIPAN FROM LÜRECK

A favourite present from Lübeck is marzipan, which has been popular throughout Europe since the 19th century. The sweets are made from two-thirds sweet almonds imported from Venice and one-third sugar and aromatic oils. The Persians referred to it as marsaban, and in 1530 its name was recorded for the first time in Lübeck as Martzapaen. From 1806, the Niederegger patisserie perfected the recipe; they established a patisserie on Breite Strasse which operates to this day.

Exploring Lübeck

All the most important monuments, with the exception of the Holstentor, are situated within the old town, which is best explored on foot.

9am-5pm daily, in winter to 3pm. St Mary's church was constructed by the Lübeckers as a monument to themselves. The twin-towered basilica with transept and a passage-way around the polygon-shaped presbytery is the brick modification of a Neo-Classical French cathedral.

Its vast interior boasts the highest vaulted brick ceiling in the world (40 m/131 ft) which dominates the other interior features. These include a 10 m (32 ft) bronze Holv Sacrament (1476-9): a baptismal font in the main nave dating from 1337; the altar dedicated to the Virgin Mary in the Sängerkapelle (singers' chapel) made in Antwerp in 1518; and the main, late-Gothic Swarte-Altar with the Madonna. The Briefkapelle, the southwestern side chapel built around 1310, is one of the earliest examples of star vaulting in Europe.

In one of the towers, the shattered fragments of the church bells have been left embedded in the floor where they fell during the bombing in 1942; the present bells are from St Catherine's in Gdansk.

⊞ Buddenbrook-Haus

Heinrich-und Thomas-Mann-Zentrum, Mengstr. 4. Tel (0451) 122 41 92. ☐ Jan-Mar: 11am-5pm daily; Apr-Dec: 10am-6pm daily. ☐ 24, 25, 31 Dec. ☐ Literature lovers will wish to visit the Buddenbrook house. Behind its Rococo façade from 1758 is a museum devoted to the Mann family, the great writers who lived here in 1841–91. It is here that Thomas Mann wrote the family saga of the Buddenbrooks, after whom the house is named, and for which he was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1929. The centre exhibits

The multi-storey Burgtor, crowned by a Baroque cupola documents relating to this famous family, in particular to Thomas and Heinrich Mann, concentrating on their time in Lübeck and their emigration and exile after 1933.

∰ Schabbelhaus

Mengstraße 48 & 52 Originally the western, wealthier half of Lübeck had many patrician houses, facing the streets with their ornate brick gables. Many of these were damaged in the bombing raids of March 1942, but after World War II they were carefully restored. The most interesting buildings survived in Mengstrasse, in particular the famous Schabbelhaus at No. 48. Built in 1558, this house gained a magnificent Baroque hall in the 18th century. Today it is an attraction in its own right as well as a restaurant

Stepped gables of the Haus der Schiffergesellschaft

Haus der Schiffergesellschaft

Breite Straße 2. The house of the Marine Guild, which dates from 1535, has a splendid interior and now houses one of the city's most elegant restaurants. The façade has stepped gables and terraces/forecourts, typical of Lübeck.

Füchtingshof

Glockengießerstr. 23.
The eastern part of the town is of an entirely different character: narrow streets link charming Höfe (courtyards) and small, modest houses. The most interesting Höfe can be found at numbers 23 and 39. The Baroque portal of the Füchtingshof, at No. 23, leads to houses which, from 1639, were built for the widows of merchants and captains.

The fa ade of the Gothic Heiliger-Geist-Hospital, with its spiky towers

Burgtor

On the northern limits of the old town stands the castle gate, a second surviving gate of the historic fortifications. A Baroque finial was added to the gate in 1685. The five storeys of the tower are decorated with uniform rows of windows and windbreaks.

■ Heiliger-Geist-Hospital

Große Burgstr. Tel (0451) 79 07-841. Apr-Sep: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun: Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm Tue-Sun. The Holy Ghost hospital is the best preserved Medieval building of its type in central Europe. Built in the shape of the letter T. it has a shorter western section with a twinaisled hall-church (c. 1286). containing frescos of Christ and the Madonna on Solomon's Throne and Majestas Domini. The second section contains the actual hospice. In 1820, small cubicles were created for the elderly, who lived here until 1970.

This 15th-century church, which suffered only insignificant damage during World War II, has preserved its original, mainly Baroque features. Of particular note are the main altar as well as the side altar in the south chapel. The latter was established around 1500 by the mayor, Heinrich Brömbse, and depicts a scene of the Crucifixion carved in sandstone. Both the small and the large organ originate from the 15th century.

♠ Katharinenkirche

Königstraße Museumskirche St. Katharinen Tel (0451) 122 41 80. May-Oct: 10am-1pm, 2-5pm Tue-Sun. St Catherine's, the only surviving monastic church, was built by the Franciscans, as is apparent from the absence of a tower and its monastic gallery in the presbytery of the main nave. The western facade, with its glazed brickwork, is of a high artistic quality. In the 20th century. sculptures carved by Ernst Barlach were added (Woman in the Wind, Beggar on Crutches and The Singing Novitiate). On the western side hangs the painting of The

The bright interior of the Gothic Dom

Resurrection of Lazarus by Jacopo Tintoretto, bought by a wealthy patrician; the sculpture of St George and the dragon is a copy of the famous original by the Lübeck artist Bernt Notke, which is now in Stockholm.

ffi Kunsthalle St-Annen

St-Annen-str 15 Tel (0451) 122 41 37. Apr-Dec: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun, Jan-Apr: 11am-5pm Tue-Sun. Easter, 24, 25, 31 Dec. 88 The Augustinian convent houses unusual Lübeck art treasures. There is an impressive number of wooden Gothic altars, commissioned by wealthy families for their private chapels in one of the five churches. The altars were supposed to bring them eternal salvation after death and to symbolize the wealth and prestige of the family during their lifetime. Gems of the collection are the Hans Memling altar with Christ's Passion, and the external side wings of the Schonenfahrer Altar by Bernt Notke.

♠ Dom

__ Tel (0451) 747 04.

☐ Apr-Oct: 10am-6pm daily; Nov-Mar: 10am-4pm daily. The cathedral, completed in 1341, takes the form of a Gothic hall-church. Its most precious possession is the Triumphal Cross sculpted from a 17-m (55-ft) oak tree by Bernt Notke, a celebrated local artist. The giant figures, resplendent with emotion, include Adam and Eve, as well as the founder, bishop Albert Krummedick. Among numerous memorials, that dedicated to bishop Heinrich Bocholt made from bronze, stands out. Additionally, two valuable sculptures can be seen; Holy Mary Mother of God with a crown composed of stars, as well as the Beautiful Madonna in the southern nave (1509). Note the bronze baptismal font by Lorenz Grove from 1455, with its three kneeling angels.

MECKLENBURG-LOWER POMERANIA

be medieval towns of Schwerin, Wismar, Rostock and Stralsund, as well as several magnificent architectural monuments, provide reason enough to visit this part of Germany, yet it also offers a largely untouched landscape of forests and lakes. Along the Baltic coastline, tourists delight in the beautiful sandy beaches of Darß or Usedom, but above all they bead for the island of Rügen, with its famous white cliffs.

Mecklenburg-Vorpommern (Lower Pomerania), a mosaic of regions, can look back on an eventful history. In the 12th century, indigenous Slav tribes were colonized and converted to Christianity. The region became part of the Holy Roman Empire and German colonialism resulted in the Slavs' rapid assimilation. In the Middle Ages, several towns became rich trading centres and joined the Hanseatic League. From the 18th century, the Swedish Empire was the most powerful political force in this part of Europe. It ruled Wismar, Rügen and Stralsund until 1803 and 1815 respectively, when the territories became part of Prussia, and later the German Reich. During World War II the Baltic towns suffered terrible destruction and then from neglect under the German Democratic Republic: in 1953 all the hotels were nationalized and the unique buildings in the Hanseatic towns were left to decay or were destroyed.

After eunification, although still one of the poorest states in Germany, Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania today has become an idyllic holiday destination. Improvements in the infrastructure, new hotels and restaurants have brought positive change, and it has much to offer. Nature lovers, walkers and cyclists, for example, can enjoy the Mecklenburg lake district and the island of Rügen. Fans of architecture will find a wealth of interest in the palace in Ludwigslust and the castle of Güstrow, as well as the Gothic brick architecture in town halls, churches and smaller buildings.

The beautiful white chalk cliffs on the island of Rügen sweep down to the blue Baltic Sea

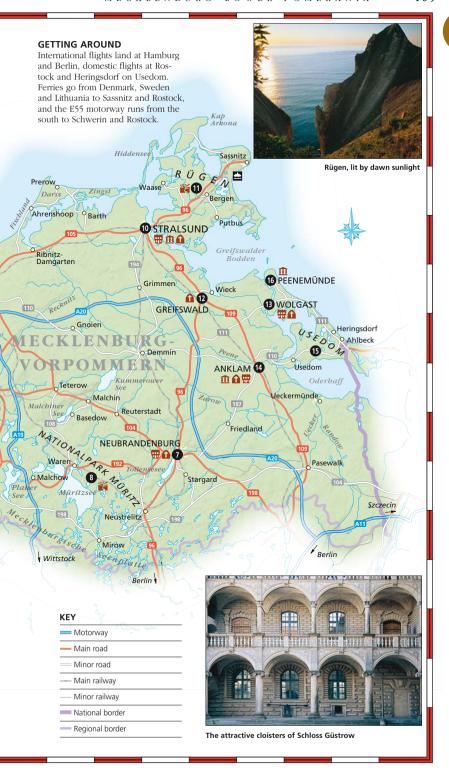

Exploring Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania

This is a large region with only minor roads so visitors are well advised to allow extra time to explore it. The area can be divided into three: the west, stopping off in pretty Wismar or charming Schwerin with its fairy-tale castle; the centre, with the major port of Rostock as a base, and the east, which can be explored from Stralsund or Greifswald. In the central Mecklenburger Seenplatte is Müritz National Park, a vast area of lakes and forests that is ideal for camping, walking and sailing. It is also a good plan to set aside a few days for relaxation on the sandy beaches of Darß, Zingst, Usedom or Rügen.

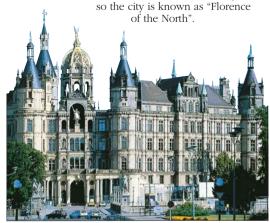

Mecklenburg's glorious beaches

Schwerin 6

Despite protests from Rostock, the smaller town of Schwerin was chosen as the capital of the newly united state of Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania. This was an inspired choice as the town is picturesquely situated amid several lakes, with a fairy-tale castle on an island, and an enchanting old town with many Neo-Classical and historic buildings that survived World War II largely unscathed. Apart from a brief spell, the Mecklenburg dukes resided in Schwerin from 1318–1918. Intellectual life flourished here in the 16th century and

The Neo-Renaissance Schloss on an island in Schweriner See

Exploring Schwerin

The old town of Schwerin is situated between Pfaffenteich railway station and Schweriner See, a vast 65-sq km (25-sq mile) lake. All the town's most important tourist attractions can easily be visited on foot. Close by to the north is Schelf, which was once a separate town.

♣ Schloss

Schlossinsel. Tel (0385) 52 52 920.

15 Apr-14 Oct: 10am-6pm daily; 15 Oct-14 Apr: 10am-5pm Tue-Sun.
Situated on Burg Island, this castle is often referred to as the "Neuschwanstein of Mecklenburg", after the castie is often referred to as the "Neuschwanstein of Mecklenburg", after the famous Bavarian castle. The Schweriner Schloss was in fact largely built in 1843–57 to an eclectic design by Georg Adolph Demmler and Friedrich August Stüler, who were inspired by the turrets of Château Chambord in France. Major refurbishment tried to recreate some of the castle's original Renaissance features, of which only the ceramic decorations have remained. Inside, the castle chapel built by Johan Batista Parra in 1560-63 has survived. The elegant rooms in the castle -Thronsaal (throne chamber), Ahnengalerie (ancestral gallery), Rote Audienz (red auditorium), Speisesaal (dining chamber) - are decorated with gilded stucco work. Despite the proliferation of their styles these rooms delight visitors, transporting them back to the 19th century.

♦ Burg-und Schlossgarten
The remaining part of the island is occupied by the Burggarten (fortress garden), which has an orangery and an artificial grotto, built from granite around 1850. A bridge leads to the larger Schlossgarten (castle garden) which is a favourite place for the town's inhabitants to relax. The Kreuzkanal, a canal built in 1748–56, one of the garden's axes, is lined with copies of Baroque statues including the Four Seasons, created by the renowned sculptor of the Dresden Zwinger, Balthasar Permoser.

Am Alten Garten 3. Tel (0385) 595 80. 10am-6pm (to 5pm mid-Octmid-Apr) daily. 24 & 31 Dec. The state museum stands in Alter Garten, one of the most attractive squares in Germany where the waters beautifully reflect the castle and the Neo-Renaissance theatre. The museum, which features lions on its facade and a portico with Ionic columns, houses an art collection based on that of Duke Christian Ludwig II. a lasting testimony to his taste and erudition. Apart from works by German artists such as Cranach Liebermann and Corinth, and the Dutch painters Hals and Fabritius it holds works by many French artists. This includes 34 paintings by Jean-Baptiste Oudry, who was court painter to Ludwig XIV, as well as a good selection of paintings by the much more recent Dadaist artist Marcel Duchamp.

m Marktplatz

The town hall square is surrounded by the homes of wealthy citizens, often with 19th-century façades concealing older walls. This is true of the Gothic town hall, which is hidden under an English mock-Tudor-style façade. Demmler was the architect who is responsible for numerous Neo-Renaissance

Venus and Amor (1527) by Lucas
Cranach in the Staatliches Museum

The Dom and houses in Schwerin and Neo-Gothic buildings, the showpieces of Schwerin. One of the outstanding buildings in the market square is Neues Gebäude on the north side. This "new building" is a covered market from 1783-5, with a showpiece façade comprising 12 Doric columns.

♠ Dom St Maria und St Johannes

Am Dom 4. Tel (0385) 56 50 14. Tower Oct-Apr: 11am-2pm Mon-Sat. noon–3pm Sun: Apr–Oct: 10am– 4pm Mon-Sat, noon-3pm Sun. This cathedral is regarded as the most important work of Gothic brick architecture in the Baltic region, in spite of its Neo-Gothic tower, which affords a marvellous view of the entire town. The basilica. dating from 1240-1416, with its around the presbytery and its wreath of chapels, is reminiscent of the design of French cathedrals A small number of outstanding original features remain in the cathedral, which compare well with the finest works from Antwerp during this time. They include the wooden late-Gothic fixion worked in sandstone. the 14th-century baptismal font. a memorial to Duchess Helen of Mecklenburg created by the Vischer workshop in Nuremberg, as well as the tombstones of Duke Christopher and multi-panelled Cruci-

his wife (1595)

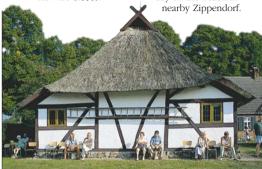

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map D2. 👪 110.000. 🖪 Am Bahnhof, Am Markt 10 (0385-59 252 12). Schlossfestspiele (lun-lul). Drachenboot (Aug) 👪 www schwerin com

Schwerin-Mueß

Alte Crivitzer Landstraße 13 Tel (0385) 208 41-0. May-Oct: 10am-6pm Tue-Sun The museum contains a collection of Mecklenburg folk architecture, including 17 houses of the 17th-19th centuries, which strive to recreate the look of an original village. Combine a visit to this openair museum with a leisurely day on the beach in wide transept and passageway | Houses of an earlier era in open-air Freilichtmuseum in Schwerin-Mueß

One of 24 waterfalls in Ludwigslust Park

Ludwigslust 2

Road map D2. 12,600.

north of centre, 15 min. walk.
Schlossstr. 36 (03874-52 62 51).

At the beginning of the 18th century, the small village of Klenow was founded here. which from 1765 grew into a town The town was laid out around the Schloss residence of the dukes of Mecklenburg-Schwerin until 1837. The "Versailles of Mecklenburg" is in fact quite different from its French namesake. The Baroque palace was built entirely in brick, concealed beneath sandstone from the Ruda hills. The ornate interior, particularly the elegant Goldener Saal (gold hall), was decorated in Ludwigsluster Carton, a type of papiermâché, in order to cut costs.

In the mid-19th century, the vast Schlosspark was redesigned by Peter Joseph Lenné as an English-style landscaped garden. On a scenic walk round the garden, the visitor can discover some 24 waterfalls, a canal, artificial ruins, a stone bridge and the mausoleum of Helena Pavlovna, daughter of Tsar Peter I, who died tragically young. In the town you will find the Protestant Stadtkirche, built in 1765–70 to look like an antique temple. In the presbytery is a giant mural, The Adoration of the Shebherds.

♣ Schloss

⚠ Stadtkirche

Road map D2. (£) 6,600. [2] [1] Heinrich-Heine Str. 2a (03886-29 76).

This small town situated right next to the former East-West border, has two interesting historic monuments. The Stadtkirche, which dates from 1220 is the oldest brick church in Mecklenburg, Its cross vaulting. chunky pillars and goblet-shaped capitals are Romanesque in style. One of its most precious pieces is the bronze baptismal font Gao (1450). Angels hold the bowl, on which 22 scenes of the Passion were sculpted by an unknown artist.

In the 16th and 17th centuries, the Schloss was the residence of distant relations of the dukes of Mecklenburg. Resembling the castle in Wismar, it is decorated with glazed reliefs and pilasters. It is not open to visitors.

Wismar 4

Road map D2. A 55,000. Am Markt 11 (03841-194 33).

Wismar is undoubtedly one of the most attractive towns in Mecklenburg. During the Middle Ages, it was an important Hanseatic centre. as evidenced by the monumental brick church. which is completely out of proportion with the provincial town of today. After the Thirty Years' War, in 1648, the Swedes were established in the town, and rebuilt it as the strongest fortress in Europe. In 1803 they leased Wisman to Mecklenburg, but never claimed it back.

The town centre has a grand market square measuring 100 x 100 m (328 x 328 ft), with Wasserspiele (water feature), a Dutch-Renaissance pavilion from 1602 in the centre. Water was piped here from a source 4 km (2 miles) away, until 1897, to supply 220 private and 16 public buildings. The most beautiful house on the square is the Alter Schwede (old Swede), built about 1380, with a protruding Gothic

Stadtkirche in Gadebusch

The Baroque residence of the dukes of Mecklenburg-Schwerin in Ludwigslust

Alter Schwede and Wasserspiele in the market square in Wismar brick gable. To the west of the market there are two churches, which act as sad examples of the GDR's neglect of its historical legacy. The reconstruction of the Georgenkirche, badly damaged in World War II, was begun in 1989, and it will soon be returned to its former glory. The Marienkirche has only one surviving tower — the ruined nave was blown up in 1960 Nearby lies the Fürstenhof residence of the dukes of Wisman The north wing is the most interesting - its Mannerist style was inspired by the Italian town of Ferrari and northern European ceramic traditions (such as Lübeck workshop). The magnificent sandstone portal is flanked by pairs of intertwined fauns. Nikolaikirche is a gem of Wismar architecture. Spared in World War II, the facade of this late-Gothic basilica from the 14th and 15th centuries is decorated with glazed friezes of mythological creatures, saints and, at the peak of the transept, a huge rose window. The proportions of the interior and the height of the vaulted main nave measuring 37 m (121 ft) are captivating. Some of the interior fixtures and fittings came from other churches in the city, which were either ruined or no longer exist, including the so-called Krämeraltar with a sculpture of the Beautiful Madonna and Cbild (c.1420). The room by the tower has the most complete cycle of frescos in the region (c.1450).

A pair of fauns from the portal of Fürstenhof in Wismar

Bad Doberan 6

Road map D1. A 11,900. A 15,900. Severingstr 6 (038203-621 54).

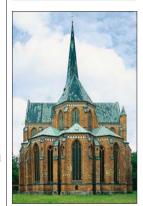

When Duke Henry Borwin was hunting deer, a passing swan reportedly shouted "Dobr Dobr" (a good location) as the deer fell. Borwin duly founded the most important Cistercian monastery of the Baltic region here. The Münster was built in 1295-1368, with a severe interior and a small bell, in accordance with the order's rules which stipulate that no tower should be built. The interior is fascinating, its walls surfaced in red, with white plasterwork and colourful ribbing. Most of the original fixtures and fittings have survived almost intact. Among the treasures are a vast, gilded panelled painting, produced in Lübeck in 1310, a 12-m (39-ft) Holy Sacrament made from oak, a small cupboard holding the chalice and relics from an earlier Romanesque building, as well as a statue of the Virgin Mary. Beautiful tombs mark the resting places of the rulers of Mecklenburg, of the Danish Queen Margaret, and Albrecht, King of Sweden, who died in 1412. Visitors can walk around the outside of the church which has a pleasant lawn. Beyond you can find a small octagonal building, beautifully decorated with glazed brickwork – this lovely piece of 13th-century architecture is the morgue.

A stroll around the health spa is also recommended. Right in its centre it has two early 19th-century pavilions with Chinese features – an ideal place for a coffee break.

Environs

Another adventure the visitor could try is a trip on the "Molli", a narrow-gauge railway that links Bad Doberan with Heiligendamm and Kühlungsborn, where there is a 4-km (2-mile) long beach. On the way, a little gem of 13th-century country architecture, the church in Stefenshagen, calls for a visit. On its south portal, see the terracotta figures of the Apostles. Across the presbytery runs a brickwork relief with mythological creatures.

The monumental Cistercian
Münster in Bad Doberan

The imposing Schloss, dominating the skyline of Güstrow

Güstrow 6

Road map D2. 🤼 32,500. 🖪 Domstr 9 (01805-68 10 68)

Güstrow is one of the most harmonious towns of the former German Democratic Republic, with an attractive old town, unmarred by prefabricated tower blocks. All the most important monuments are within easy reach. The town is dominated by the Schloss, built from 1558 by Franz Parr, a member of a renowned family of sculptors and architects from northern Italy, German, Italian and Dutch elements come together here, including fantastical chimnevs and two-storey arcades in the courtvards. The architect's brother decorated the Festsaal (ballroom) with a hunting frieze - the stucco heads of the deer have real antlers.

In the nearby Dom, a brick cathedral of the 13th and 14th centuries, there is a fascinating Gothic altar (c.1500). Look for the vast figures of the Apostles on the pillars of the nave and the 16th century tomb of Duke Ulrich and his two wives, with a large genealogical family tree of all three of them. In the north nave hangs the burly Schwebende (Hovering Angel), a remarkable work by Ernst Barlach, who lived here from 1910 until his death in 1938. He described his works to Bertolt Brecht as: "beautiful without beautifying, sizeable without enlarging, harmonious without smoothness, and full of vitality without brutality" Barlach's work bore the brunt of National Socialist condemnation - the original Schwehende was melted down and made into cannons but the copy that replaced it was made from the original plaster cast. Other works by Barlach can be seen in the museum dedicated to him It is worth concluding a visit to this town in the market. near which rises the Pfarrkirche St Marien This church has a magnificent high altar, a panelled work of art with painted wings by Belgian artists (c.1522).

Environs

The open-air museum in Groß-Raden, near Sternberg, is popular with tourists as well as archaeology students. A village has been re-created with houses, workshops and a system of fortifications.

M Archäologisches Freilichtmuseum

A typical half-timbered Wiekhaus in the town wall in Neubrandenburg

Neubrandenburg •

Road map F2. 🙈 75 000. 🖪 🔒 Stargader Str. 17 (01805-17 03 30)

Founded in 1248 as a sister town to Brandenburg on the Havel, the town was laid out in the form of a regular oval. It prospered as a trading centre until the Thirty Years' War, after which it fell into disrepair. As a result it now has what is probably the only example of post-World War II concrete tower blocks surrounded by medieval town walls which have survived virtually intact. The walls extend for 2.3 km (2515 vds). originally with a keep open to the interior, and subsequently interspersed with halftimbered houses, known as Wiekhäuser (there were once 58 of which 24 survive) Of the four city gates the most interesting are Friedländer Tor (begun in 1300), with inner and outer gateways and a tower, as well as Neues and Stargarder Tor, decorated on the town side with mysterious terracotta figures of women with raised hands (c 1350) In the town centre stands the Medieval Marienkirche. which was damaged during World War II and is now restored as a concert hall.

Environs

The castle in Stargard, some 10 km (6 miles) to the south. is the oldest secular building in Mecklenburg. Its 4 m (13 ft) walls were begun in 1200; the residence in 1236. Today it houses a vouth hostel.

Nationalpark Müritz 3

There are about a thousand lakes between Schwerin and Neubrandenburg; the largest of these is Müritzsee, to the east of which a national park was established in 1990. A particularly attractive part of the lake district is the so-called Mecklenburgische Schweiz (Swiss Mecklenburg), with its hilly moraines, such as Ostberg, 115 m (377 ft) above sea level. Tourists are attracted by the breathtaking scenery, perfect conditions for water sports and fascinating castles and palaces.

Malchiner

VISITORS' CHECKLIST Road map F2. Waren.

Road map E2. Waren, Neuer Markt 21. (03991-66 61 83); Neustrelitz, Strelitzerstr. 1 (03981-25 31 19).

Schlitz (2)

This palace is the most important Neo-Classical monument in Mecklenburg (1800–1823). In its beautiful landscaped park stands the Nymphenbrunnen, the famous fountain of nymphs. Cast in 1903 in Secessionist style for the Berlin department store Wertheim, it was transferred to this site in 1930.

192

(4)

Zierker 5

Müritzsee 4

Müritzsee (meaning "small sea") is, at 115 sq km (44 sq miles), the second largest lake in Germany after Lake Constance.

KEI
Tour route
Scenic route
— Minor road
River, lake
. ✓ Viewpoint

Neustrelitz (5)

The palace (1712) was the seat of distant relations of the Mecklenburg-Strelitz dukes who established the town and its church, and after 1733 resided here.

Woterfitzse

läthensee

Grosse

0 km	15
0 miles		15

Waren ③

Waren, an ideal base for tourists, is close to Binnenmüritz with its beaches and shops with watersports equipment for sale or hire.

Rostock o

The history of the most important German port in the Baltic has been turbulent. This prosperous Hanseatic town had established trade links with distant ports such as Bergen (Norway), Riga (Latvia) and Bruges (Belgium) as early as the 15th century. In 1419 the first university in northern Europe was founded here, and it flourished again in the 19th century. After it suffered heavy damage in the Allied air raids of 1942, Rostock was rebuilt on a grand scale as the GDR's showpiece.

Kröpelinerstraße – a promenade with 17th century houses

Exploring Rostock

A visit to the town is best started from the Neuer Markt (new market), from where the most important monuments can easily be reached on foot.

Rathaus

The town hall, on Neuer Markt, has a Baroque façade (added in 1727–9), from which seven Gothic towers of the original building emerge. At the rear of the building, in Große Wasserstraße, it is worth seeking out Kerkoffhaus, the best preserved Gothic house in Rostock with a splendidly ornate façade featuring glazed brickwork, dating from 1470.

∰ Steintor

Markt is the Steintor, the best known of the gates in the old city wall. One of only three surviving gates of the original fortifications (at one time with 22 gates), it received its characteristic crowning feature during the Renaissance.

Marienkirche

Am Ziegenmarkt 4. Tel (0381) 492 33 96. ☐ phone to check times. ☑ This church, meant to exceed the height of its Lübeck counterpart, was completed in the mid-15th century.

mid-15th century, after almost 250 years of construction. The nave, built after the original roof had collapsed, has an untypical, short body, while the massive western tower is as wide as three naves. Interconnected swathes of glazing decorate the exterior of the of the whitewashed interior features star vaulting. The main attraction is the astronomical clock, constructed in 1472 by maestro Düringer of

The richly decorated pulpit in the Marienkirche

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map D1. 200,000.

Neuer Markt 3.
(0381-381 22 22).

www.rostock.de

Hansesail (Aug.)

Nuremberg. Its mechanism will show the correct time and date until 2017. Every afternoon its clockwork apostles parade before the tourists.

T Kröpelinerstraße

The most popular street in the city is lined by houses from the 17th to the 19th centuries.

In summer students congregate around the "Brunnen der Lebensfreude" (fountain of happiness) on the Universitätsplatz (university square). The main university building was built in the years 1867–70 in Neo-Renaissance style. The southern part of the square is occupied by a palace with a beautiful Baroque hall where concerts are performed. A Neo-Classical annexe with a Doric colonnade (1823) stands nearby. A statue on the square commemorates the town's most famous resident, Field Marshal Blücher, who helped defeat Napoleon at Waterloo.

Environs

Rantismal font in the Marienkirche

Between Rostock and Stralsund lies a delightful coastal area. The peninsula, with the three former islands of Fischland, Darß and Zingst. attracts visitors to its quiet, beautiful beaches and splendid natural scenery. Particularly attractive are the villages of Ahrenshoop, which was originally an artists' colony, Prerow, which has traditional fishermen's houses and churches, and Wieck, with its charming thatched houses. A national park has been established here, and includes Darß and its magnificent forest, Zingst, the west coast of Rügen and the island of Hiddensee.

Stralsund o

After Lübeck, Stralsund is the most interesting Hanseatic town in northern Germany. During its history, it has had to defend its independence against Lübeck, Denmark, Holland and Sweden. In the Thirty Years' War, General Wallenstein vowed that he would take the town even if it was chained to heaven – but he failed. Subsequently, Lower Pomerania stayed under Swedish rule for 200 years until 1815, when it became Prussian. Despite its turbulent history, 811 protected buildings survived in the old town, among them some truly remarkable examples of architecture.

The Rathaus with its small turrets

Exploring Stralsund

The town centre of Stralsund is surrounded by water on all sides – in the north by the Strelasund bay, and on the other sides by lakes formed in the moats of the former bastions, Knieperteich and Frankenteich. All the most interesting historic monuments are easily accessible on foot from here.

Alter Markt

The old market square affords the best view of the filigree façade of the town hall, beyond which stands the vast edifice of St Michael's church. It is surrounded by houses from various eras, of which the two most important are the Gothic Wulflamhaus, and the Commandantenhaus, Baroque headquarters of the town's former Swedish commandant. The Rathaus dates from the 13th century with a 14th-century façade and ground-floor arcades, and resembles the one in Lübeck. In 1370 the Hanseatic League and the defeated Danish king signed a peace treaty here.

The Nikolaikirche, built from 1270–1360, was inspired by French Gothic cathedrals as well as the Marienkirche in Lübeck. It has rare free-standing flying buttresses in brick, which are much more unusual than in stone. Inside there are several intriguing furnishings, for example, the statue of St Anna (c.1290), an astronomical clock (1394), as well as fragments of the Novgorod stall with various fascinating scenes including one of hunting for sables. The Baroque main altar was designed in 1798 by renowned

Berlin architect and sculptor Andreas

Portal of the

Nikolaikirche

Mönchstr. 25/27

Tel (03831) 287 90.
Feb-Nov: 10am-5pm daily.
The Katharinenkloster, a former 15th-century Dominican abbey, now houses two museums. Its abbey rooms provide an appropriate setting for historic exhibitions – the refectory has vaults supported by stylish columns – including copies of the famous Viking treasure from Hiddensee and a collection of 18th- and 19th-century toys and dolls' houses. A branch of the Museum, in Böttcherstraße, has a collection devoted to village life, folklore and costumes of the Baltic region.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map E1. 62,000. 9
Alter Markt 9 (03831-246
90) www.stralsund.de
Sundschwimmen (ul);
Wallenstein-Tage (lul);
Stralsunder Segelwoche (lun).

⚠ Deutsches Museum für Meereskunde und Fischerei Tel (03831) 265 00. ☐ Oct-May: 10am-5pm daily; Jun-Sep: 10am-6pm daily; Meeres 10am-6pm

Tower May-Oct: 10am-5pm Mon-Sat 11:30am-5nm Sun Nov-Mar: 10am-noon, 2-4pm Mon-Fri. 10am-noon Sat. 2:30-4pm Sun: Apr: 10am-4pm Mon-Sat. 2:30-4pm Sun. Organ concerts: summer: 11am Mon-Wed, Fri-Sun, Dominating the Neuer Mark is the town's largest church, St Mary's, built in 1383-1473, with an octagonal tower (with good views of Stralsund). Star vaulting lightens the impact of the monumental 99-m (325-ft) high interior. Main attractions are Gothic frescos, carved wooden figures of saints and a late-Gothic baptismal font. The huge Baroque organ is used for concerts in summer.

Marienkirche with its dominant, octagonal tower

Rügen o

The largest of Germany's islands at 926 sa km (357 sa miles). Rügen is also the most beautiful and diverse, boasting steep cliffs next to sandy beaches and a hilly hinterland with forests and peat bogs. The island is only 50 km (31 miles) across, vet its rugged coastline extends for hundreds of miles. The Huns once ruled here, and their tombs can still be seen. It was fortified by the Slavs, then ruled by Danes and Swedes. In 1815 Rügen came under Prussian rule, and in 1936 it was linked to the mainland by the 1 km- (0.6 mile-) long Rügendamm.

Kan Arkona

Wiek

An attractive walk around the rugged cape. 46 m (150 ft) high, basses the ruins of the Iaromar ancestral home and a temple to the Slav god Svantevit.

Arkona

Nobbin .

Breege

Altenkirchen

Hiddensee

This small island is accessible from Stralsund or Schaprode on Rügen. Horse-drawn carts and bikes replace cars in this oasis of tranauillity.

KFY

- Motorway
 - Main road
- Ferry crossing
- Viewpoint

★ Waase

At this typical fishing village on the island of Ummanz, an unusual work of art has survived: an altarpiece from Antwerp, from around 1520.

STAR SIGHTS

★ Nationalpark Jasmund

For hotels and restaurants in this region see pp517-19 and pp556-7

- ★ Putbus
- ★ Waase

Dranske

Poseritz

Brandshagen

Kuhitzer Bodden

Stralsund

Reinberg

Samtens

Tromper Wiek

Glowe

Kleiner

Puthus

0 km

0 miles

Großer

lasmunder Bodden

Bergen

Jasmund Peninsula

The northeast of the peninsula is occupied by the Stubnitz forest of beech trees, which continues down to the sea, interrupted by dazzling white chalk cliffs. The symbol of Rügen, they inspired artists like Caspar David Friedrich.

VISITORS' CHECKLIST

Road map E1. 🖪 📔 Bergen. Markt 23 (03838-811 206) Rinz Heinrich-Heine-Str 7 (038393-148 148): Hiddensee Norderende 162, Vitte (038300-642 26): Puthus Alleestr 35 (038301-4 31), MI In Ralswiek (near Bergen) performances take place under the title of "Festival of Klaus Störtebeker" (Jun-Sep). www.ruegen.de

★ Nationalpark Jasmund

An attractive walk starts at the viewpoint of Königsstuhl (king's seat: 119 m/390 ft), continues along the Hochuferweg (cliff-top walk), past Victoriasicht and Wissower Klinken viewpoints, to end at Sassnitz.

Ostseebad Binz

Rügen's largest and most popular seaside resort, Binz has a beautiful white beach, grand early 20thcentury villas and a pier.

town was planned after 1807 on the model of Bad Doberan. Its centrepiece is the theatre, which was built in 1819 to a design by Wilhelm Steinbach.

Ostseebad Göhren

Greifswald @

Road map E1. $\vec{M}$ 54,000. $\vec{M}$ fathaus Am Markt (03834-52 13 80). $\vec{M}$ Musical concerts "Greifswalder Bachwochen" (Jun); Jazz Evenings in Eldena (Jul); Fischerfest (Jul).

This former Hanseatic town is situated 5 km (3 miles) from the Bay of Greifswald From afar the picturesque silhouette of the town with its three church towers nicknamed Fat Mary, Little Jakob and Long Michael, appears like a painting by Caspar David Friedrich – the town's most famous resident - come to life Charm pervades the old town. its architectural mix resulting from 40 years of East German rule. Greifswald, an important academic centre and market town, has geared up more for tourism since 1989 It is certainly worth a visit - a short walk from east to west will enable the visitor to see all the most important monuments in town.

The 14th-century Marienkir- che has a vast square tower, giving it a rather squat appearance and its nickname, Fat Mary. Inside, the church contains the remains of frescos and an amazing Renaissance pulpit depicting the Reformation figures of Luther, Bugenhagen and Melanchthon. The city museum has a collection of paintings by Caspar David Friedrich, including his famous landscapes of the ruined monastery of Eldena, Ruined Eldena in the Riesengebirge, which he transposed to the mountains of present-day Poland and Czech Republic.

The market square with its Baroque town hall is surrounded by patrician houses, with exemplary rich brickwork façades (particularly numbers 11 and 13). Nearby rises the vast Dom St Nikolai. The cathedral's octagonal tower, topped with a Baroque helm, affords extensive views of the town. The Rubenow-Bild (1460), one of the paintings inside, depicts the founding professor of Greifswald's university in front of Mary, Mother of God.

Environs

Wieck an attractive working fishing village, is now incorporated into Greifswald. It has a drawbridge dating from 1887, reminiscent of typical Dutch bridges. The Cistercian monastery of Eldena, just 1 km (0.6 mile) south of Wieck district, was made famous by the Romantic paintings of Caspar David Friedrich, The monastery was founded in 1199 and plundered by the Swedes in 1637. Its ruined red walls amid the green grass and trees look wildly romantic.

Alter Speicher – the half-timbered granary in Wolgast

Wolgast @

Road map E1. 15,000. Rathausplatz 10 (03836-60 01 18).

From 1295 the seat of the Pomeranian-Wolgast dukes, Wolgast castle was destroyed in 1713, when Peter the Great ordered the town to be burned down. An interesting building still remaining is the 12-sided cemetery chapel with star vaulting, which is supported by a single column. The most valuable work of art can now be seen in Pfarrkirche St Petri, a 14th-century parish church. Dating from the turn of the

Renovated houses around the Fischmarkt in Greifswald

17th to the 18th century, the Totentanz frieze is an imitation of the famous Dance of Death by Hans Holbein in Basle Another notable artifact is the enitanh of Duke Philip I crafted in 1560 by the Saxon artist Wolf Hilinger

Other attractions in the town are the Alter Speicher, an 80 m- (262 ft-) long half-timbered granary (Burgstraße, 1836). and the family home of Philipp Otto Runge, famous romantic painter and adopted son of Hamburg.

Philipp-Otto-Runge-Gedenkstätte

Kronwieckstraße 45. Tel (03836) 20 30 41. Jun-Aug: 10am-6pm Mon-Fri. 10am-4pm Sat. Sun: Sep-May: 10am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-2nm Sat

One of the models in the Otto Lilienthal-Museum in Anklam

Anklam @

Road map E2. A 16,400. Markt 3, Rathaus (03971-835 154)

A former Hanseatic town, Anklam's erstwhile importance is revealed by its vast defensive walls, in which is set the mid=15th century city gate, Steintor. It is worth visiting the Gothic Marien-kirche. Inside, the church's octagonal pillars and the arches of its arcades are painted with graceful figures, which reveal a Lübeck influence. A museum recalls the life and inventions of Otto Lilienthal, born here in 1848. After observing storks, he built a flying machine and completed his first flight in 1891. In total he created 2000. machines, none of which flew further than 350 m (1148 ft).

Fishing boat on the beach at Usedom

 Otto-Lilienthal-Museum Ellbogenstraße 1. Tel (03971) 24 55 00. Jun-Sep: 10am-5pm daily: Oct & Mav: 10am-5pm Tue-Fri. 1pm- 5pm Sat & Sun: Nov-Apr. 11am-3:30pm Wed-Fri, 1pm-3:30pm Sun.

Usedom @

Road map E1. 🖪 🚹 Heringsdorf, Kurverwaltung, Kulmstr. 33 (038378-24 51); Ahlbeck, Kurverwaltung. Dünenstr 45 (038378-49 93 50)

The island named after the village of Usedom and separated from the mainland by the Peenestrom, is the second largest in Germany at 445 sq km (172 sq miles). A small corner in the east was incorporated into Poland after 1945. Usedom is almost as attractive as Rügen, possessing white beaches, forests, peat bogs and bays overgrown with rushes in the south. It is linked with the mainland by two drawbridges (near Anklam and Wolgast). The resorts follow one another like pearls on a string: Bansin, Heringsdorf and Bad Ahlbeck, known as the "three sisters", are connected by a wide beach. At the beginning of the 20th century they evolved into elegant holiday resorts, with white villas, hotels and boarding houses, as typical of seaside resorts. Worth a visit is the industrialist Oechler's house in Heringsdorf (Delbrückstr. 5), which has an antique appearance with mosaics on its facade. During the past few years, the early 20th-century piers in all three spas have been rebuilt and restored. The longest, in Heringsdorf, is also the second largest in Europe after one in Poland. The Marienkirche, one of the island's main attractions, was erected in the 19th century.

Road map E1. A 650.

Historically the most interesting spot on the island of Usedom is the museum at Peenemünde, based on military territory. It demonstrates the evolution of space travel, pioneered at this research station since 1936. During World War II.

long-distance rockets, powered by liquid fuel and known as V-2 (Vergeltungswaffe; retaliatory weapon), were produced here, which inflicted heavy damage on London and Antwerp in 1944. After the war, the chief engineer, Wernher von Braun, worked for NASA and helped develop the Apollo rockets.

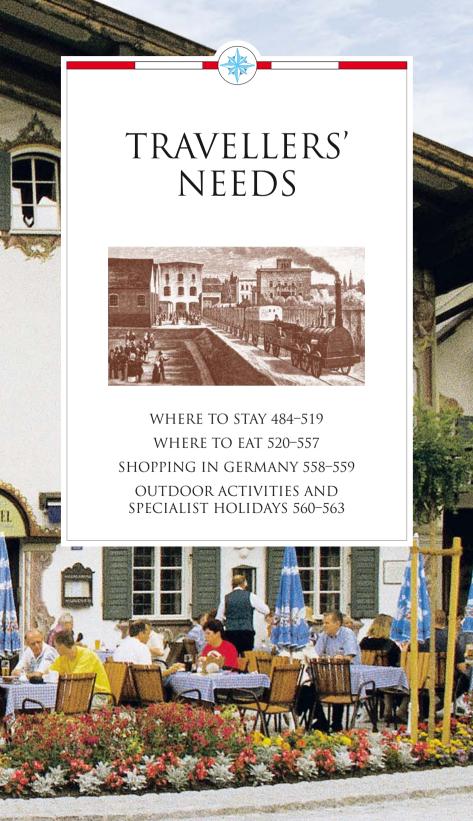

III Historisch-technisches Informationszentrum Am Kraftwerk.

Tel (038371) 205 73. Apr-Oct: 9am-6pm daily (Jun-Sep: also Mon); Oct-Mar: 10am-4pm Tue-Sun.

V-2 rocket in Peenemünde

WHERE TO STAY

It is relatively easy to find a room in a hotel or pension in Germany, even in small towns or large villages. The range of prices for a night's accommodation is wide, depending on the standard of services offered and the location of the establishment. In smaller towns located in attractive tourist areas, you can also find rooms to rent at a reasonable rate in private homes. In large towns and cities it is harder to find inexpensive accommodation.

Hotel porter

If cost is a consideration, it may be necessary to take a room in a hotel that is some distance from the city centre. Within the list of hotels provided on pages 488–519 there is a choice of around 250 hotels and pensions, which represent various price categories and a high standard of services. Tourist offices supply lists of accommodation and may be able to find a room for you. Information on other accommodation options can be found on pages 486–7.

The spacious lobby of the Hotel Palace, Berlin

THE RANGE OF HOTELS

German hotels are awarded stars following the same system that is used in other countries, with the number of stars awarded depending on the facilities offered by the hotel rather than the standard of service. This means that it may be possible to enjoy a more pleasant stay in a small hotel that has only a single star than in a three-star hotel that offers lifts, a swimming pool, restaurant and business centre, but where refurbishment is long overdue.

If the name of the hotel includes the appellation "Garni", this indicates that there is not a restaurant on the premises, but only a dining room where breakfast is served. "Apartmenthotel" means that the establishment is comprised of suites that include equipped kitchens or a kitchen annexe. The price of suites is such that it is not worth booking them for just one night, although a booking of several days for a family or group of friends can turn out to be very economical.

Standards vary enormously between hotels. In large cities there will be no difficulty in finding a deluxe (and, of course, expensive) hotel, which typically will be part of an international chain. The choice of less expensive accommodation usually, though not necessarily always, entails accepting a lower standard of service or a less convenient location.

Away from cities, high prices generally apply to rooms in comfortable hotels in particularly peaceful and beautiful locations, or to those provided within historic palaces or villas. Smaller hotels in such areas usually offer good accommodation at very affordable prices, where visitors can enjoy their stay in small, but cosy and comfortable proms.

ноw то воок

As in other countries, hotel accommodation can be booked directly by telephone. letter or fax, as well as by email or through the Internet. Reservations can be made directly with the hotel or through a local tourist office. They may request written confirmation of the booking, and will almost certainly ask for a credit card number. Tell. the owners what time you will be turning up, and let them know if you are delayed, in order not to lose the room.

For those who have not prebooked, the local tourist office can usually find a hotel room or provide information about rooms in private homes. They are also a good source of advice about the availability of other accommodation options in the area.

Entrance of Opera Hotel, Munich

The deluxe Hotel Vier Jahreszeiten in Hamburg (see p514)

INTERNATIONAL AND GERMAN CHAIN HOTELS

Throughout Germany there are hotels belonging to virtually all the well-known international chains, as well as to German national chains. Many places in Germany have an IBIS, which can be relied on to provide inexpensive, usually two-star accommodation. In season, they offer a double room for little more than 75.

Somewhat more expensive, and of a higher standard, are hotels belonging to the Best Western chain. Their excellent standard of service, combined with an affordable price ensures their popularity with tourists. Hotels belonging to the Sorat group are also recommended. Their standard is similar to that of Best Western establishments and can be two-, three- or even four-star, but their premises always have interesting interiors, designed by renowned architects. Many hotels belonging to chains are, in fact, four- or deluxe five-star. Among the finest are the Kempinski and Vier Jahreszeiten hotels. In addition to these, there is no shortage of hotels belonging to chains such as Hilton, Holiday Inn, Inter-Continental, Mercure, Ramada and Hyatt Regency.

HOTELS IN HISTORIC BUILDINGS

Germany, like many other countries, has numerous palaces, castles and other historic buildings that have been converted into hotels. Often the name Schlosshotel is used to indicate that an establishment is a hotel within a palace. Many of these hotels are members of international organizations, such as European Castle Hotels and Restaurants or Romantik Hotels und Restaurants, who can provide further information.

HOTEL PRICES

In Germany, a complicated hotel categorization system operates, with a diverse range of prices depending on the season, as well as on various events that are taking place. In summer resort areas, it is obviously most expensive during the summer, while in large cities visited frequently for business the most expensive seasons are spring and autumn. In cities where commercial fairs are held. prices may double during the most popular fairs - for example, in Berlin during the tourist fair ITB, in Hanover during the informationcomputer fair CEBIT and in Frankfurt during the car and publishing fairs. It is the same, of course, in Munich during the October beer festival

Many hotels offer significant reductions at weekends, and often there is the opportunity of a discount for those who turn up without a reservation. Prices can also sometimes be negotiated for longer bookings, especially during periods when business is slack

ADDITIONAL COSTS

Tax is included in the basic price of a hotel room, but tips should be given for additional services such as having your baggage taken to your room or having theatre tickets reserved for you. Additional costs can come as a surprise when you settle your bill. In the most expensive hotels, for example, breakfast is not included in the cost of the room. Most hotels have their own parking facilities, but the cost may be unacceptably high. Check in advance the cost of making direct-dialled telephone calls from the hotel room as well as the commission charged by the hotel for cashing traveller's cheques and the rate offered when exchanging currency. Using the mini-bar and pay-to-view TV channels in your room can also prove to be expensive.

The elegant spa in the Hotel de Rome, Berlin (see p488)

The picturesque Alte Wirt Hotel in Bernau

PENSIONEN AND GASTHOFE

A Gasthof is a traditional inn with a restaurant on the ground floor and rooms to rent on the upper floor. A wide range of establishments is covered by this simple description, however, from small, inexpensive, family-run hotels, with modestly equipped rooms, to the most luxurious and elegant accommodation in an exquisitely restored country inn.

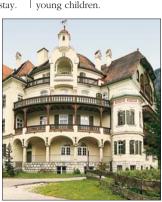

Pensionen are less formal establishments than hotels and are typically run by a family. They usually provide modest accommodation, breakfast and a pleasant family atmosphere. They are always comfortable and very clean, at affordable prices.

INEXPENSIVE ACCOMMODATION

Germany has a very widely developed chain of youth hostels (Iugendberberge) and these provide the cheapest option for an overnight stay.

A youth hostel can be found in every large town, as well as in small holiday centres. The most attractive are those that are located in old castles, beautiful villas or other historic buildings. Most hostels are of a high standard. Accommodation may be provided in double and triple rooms, as well as in dormitories. In order to be eligible to use youth hostels, you must carry a valid membership card of the Youth Hostels

Association, Membership is available from the YHA of your own country. The fee for overnight accommodation with breakfast is around €13.50-25. Unless you are carrying a sheet sleeping bag with you, you must hire one at the hostel, for which an additional charge will be made. The hostels are usually closed during the day, so you must ensure that all arrangements connected with your stay are arranged before 9am or after 4-4:30pm. In large cities during the high season, when demand for beds is particularly heavy, your stav may be limited to 2-3 days. Apart from in Bayaria, overnight accommodation is open to everyone who is in possession of a valid membership card. In Bavaria, however, young people are given priority, but older people can stay too (although for an additional charge), as can families with

Guesthouse near Neuschwanstein

Private accommodation offers another inexpensive option. In attractive tourist areas, it is common for owners of larger villas and private houses to rent rooms to tourists, often offering breakfast as well. Houses with rooms available to rent are indicated by the sign Frendenzimmer or Zimmer frei. Details of such accommodation can be obtained and booked in tourist information offices.

During the summer months, students may also benefit from acommodation in student hotels that otherwise house university students during term times in German university towns. Again, information about such accommodation may be obtained from tourist offices.

Mountain hut at Feldberg, Black Forest

AGROTOURISM

Agrotourism is very popular in Germany, and has become an attractive and low-cost alternative holiday, particularly for families with children. The rooms that are available are of a perfectly acceptable standard and meals can often also be provided by the farmers.

For younger children, and especially those from towns and cities, it is a great thrill to observe the daily work on a farm and to have contact with farm animals. Often, farmers who take holidaymakers keep a number of different animals on the farm. They may also offer the possibility of horseriding, or hiring bicycles, a boat or fishing tackle, so that a full programme of outdoor activities can be enjoyed. Agrotourist holidays can be booked through Zentrale für den Landurlaub Landschriften and by Agrartour GmbH.

MOUNTAIN HOSTELS

Mountainous regions of Germany are generally well prepared to accommodate walkers. Shelters, hostels and mountain hotels can be found not only along Alpine trails, but also in the Thuringian Forest, the Black Forest and the Harz Mountains. Details about such accommodation can be obtained from local tourist information bureaux

CAMPING

Travelling with a camping trailer, camper van or just a tent continues to be very popular in Germany, with a highly developed network of more than 2,000 camping sites throughout the country. Of a generally high standard, sites are equipped with washrooms and kitchens. There is usually a shop and café and some have swimming pools.

DISABLED TRAVELLERS

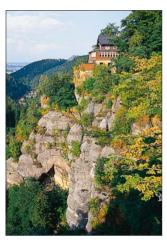

Virtually all hotels of a higher standard are equipped to accommodate disabled guests. At least one entrance will have ramp access. and a few rooms will have bathrooms adapted to the needs of those who are confined to a wheelchair Facilities for the disabled are worse in lower-category hotels, where specially adapted fixtures and fittings are rarer. In such hotels, you may have to negotiate steep stairs as many rooms are located on the upper floors of buildings.

In order to receive additional help during a journey, a disabled person can contact the Bundesarbeits- gemeinschaft Hilfe für Behinderte e.V., or the Bundesverband Selbsthilfe Körperbehinderter e.V.

TRAVELLING WITH CHILDREN

Travelling with children through Germany should not present any problems. In most hotels, facilities such as cots and high chairs can be obtained and there is often no additional accommodation charge for a young child. In better hotels, a few hours of babysitting for the children can usually be booked. Few hotels, however, provide children's playrooms. The standard equipment in every restaurant includes a high chair for toddlers, while menus always include the option of children's portions.

A mountain shelter in Oybin, Saxony

DIRECTORY

INFORMATION ON ACCOMMODATION & RESERVATIONS

Deutsche Zentrale für Tourismus (DZT)

Beethovenstr. 69, 60325 Frankfurt. Tel (069) 974640. www.deutschlandtouriemus do

Hotel Reservation Service (HRS)

Drususgasses 7–11, 50667 Cologne. Tel (0221) 207 76 00. www.hrs.com

YOUTH HOSTELS

Deutsches Jugendherbergswerk DJH Service GmbH

Bismarckstr. 8, 32756 Detmold. Tel (05231) 740 10. www.jugendherberge. de

AGROTOURISM

Agrartour GmbH (DLG) Eschborner Landstr. 122.

Eschborner Landstr. 122, 60489 Frankfurt am Main. Tel (069) 24 78 84 90. www.agrartour.de

Zentrale für den Landurlaub Landschriften--Verlag GmbH

Heerstraße 73, 53111 Bonn. Tel (0228) 96 30 20. www.bauernhofurlaub.

MOUNTAIN SHELTERS

Dav Summit Club

Am Perlacher Forst 186, 81545 Munich. Tel (089) 64 24 00. www.dav-summit-club. de

Verband Deutscher Gebirgs- und Wandervereine

e.V.

Wilhelmshöher Allee 157–159, 34121 Kassel

Tel (0561) 93 87 30. www.wanderverband.

CAMPING & CARAVANNING

Deutscher Camping-Club e.V.

Mandlstr. 28, 80802 Munich. Tel (089) 380 14 20. www.camping-club.de

DISABLED TRAVELLERS

Bundesarbeitsgemeinschaft Hilfe für Behinderte

Kirchfeldstr. 149, 40215 Düsseldorf. Tel (0211) 31 00 60. www.bag-selbsthilfe.de

Bundesverband 'Selbshilfe' Körperbehinderter e.V. (BSK)

Altkrautheimerstr. 20, 74238 Krautheim. Tel (06 294) 428 10. www.bsk-ev.org

Club Behinderter und ihrer Freunde (CBF)

Eupenerstr. 5, Mainz. Tel (06131) 22 55 14.

Choosing a Hotel

Hotels have been selected across a wide price range for facilities, good value and location. All rooms have private bath, TV, air conditioning and are wheelchair accessible unless otherwise indicated. Most have internet access, and, in some cases, fitness facilities may be offsite. The hotels are listed by area. For map references, See pp.114-15.

PRICE CATEGORIES

Price categories are for a standard double room for one night in peak season, including tax, service charges and broakfast

€ under 75 euros €€ 75–125 euros (€)(€)(€) 175–225 euros ©©©©© over 225 euros

RFRIIN

EASTERN CENTRE Hotel am Anhalter Bahnhof

€)€

Stresemannstraße 36, 10963 Tel (030) 251 03 42 Fax (030) 251 48 97 Rooms 45

Map 4 B4

This small and friendly hotel is situated in an old apartment block. Its low prices only apply to rooms without bathrooms; expect to pay more for en suite bathrooms. The more expensive rooms face onto an attractive courtyard. www.hotel-anhalter-bahnhof.de

FASTERN CENTRE Alexander Plaza Berlin

↑ 11 🔻 🗏

 $\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}$

Rosenstraße 1, 10178 Tel (030) 240 010 Fax (030) 240 017 77 Rooms 92

Map 5 D1

This top-quality hotel, opened in 1997, is located near the S-Bahn station Hackescher Markt, Rooms in the late 19thcentury building, an intriguing mixture of stucco ceilings, glass and steel, are large, comfortable and full of light, with soundproof windows. There is a nice lobby bar and café. www.alexander-plaza.de

EASTERN CENTRE Art'otel Berlin Mitte

□ 11 ★

(€)(€)

Wallstraße 70-73, 10179 Tel (030) 240 620 Fax (030) 240 622 22 Rooms 109

Map 5 E3

Overlooking the Spree river, this upmarket hotel is well priced and one of the most popular establishments in Mitte. Inside, it is modern with simple and elegant furniture. In summer there is a café on a riverboat tied to the riverbank. The hotel is popular with young, culture-oriented guests, www.artotel.de

EASTERN CENTRE Derag Residenz Hotel Henriette

↑ 11 '∀'

€€€€

Neue Rossstraße 13. 10179 Tel (030) 246 009 00 Fax (030) 246 009 40 Rooms 54

Map 5 F3

The small and intimate Henriette is the nicest – and the most unknown – of the many Derag hotels in town. Although built recently, it exudes an incredibly elegant, historic flair, with oak furniture, precious carpets and beds. The hotel provides excellent service. www.deraghotels.de

EASTERN CENTRE Hotel Gendarm

₹

€€€€

Charlottenstraße 61, 10117 Tel (030) 206 06 60 Fax (030) 206 066 66 Rooms 27

The Gendarm's reputation as one of the best and most popular smaller hotels in Berlin is more than justified. An excellent service, a great location off Gendarmenmarkt and traditional, elegantly furnished rooms make this a serious competitor of the big five-star hotels nearby. www.hotel-gendarm-berlin.de

EASTERN CENTRE Mövenpick Hotel Berlin

囫 計 ★ ♥ ■

€€€€

Schöneberger Straße 3, 10963 Tel (030) 230 060 Fax (030) 230 061 99 Rooms 243

The brand-new Mövenpick is a surprisingly nice hotel in the rough, but fascinating, neighbourhood of Kreuzberg. The spacious designer rooms all have modern office and entertainment amenities. The deluxe rooms under the roof are particularly cosy. www.moevenpick-berlin.com

EASTERN CENTRE Hotel de Rome

№ 計 総 大 🗑 🗏

 \mathbb{E}

Behrenstraße 37, 10117 Tel (030) 460 60 90 Fax (030) 460 60 92 000 Rooms 146 Map 5 C2

Hidden behind the classicist facade of a former 19th-century bank, this is a new shining star among the city's firstclass hotels. The interior design is very modern, with subdued colours complementing the historic setting. The service is impeccable and the fairly large rooms offer wonderful views of Opernplatz. www.hotelderome.com

EASTERN CENTRE Sofitel am Gendarmenmarkt

M H ★ W ■ ••••••

Charlottenstraße 50-52, 10117 Tel (030) 203 750 Fax (030) 203 751 00 Rooms 92

Map 4 C3

This luxury hotel offers well-furnished rooms and excellent service. It is conveniently located near the Gendarmenmarkt, not far from Unter den Linden and sights such as the Brandenburg Gate and the Reichstag. The Aigner restaurant downstairs specializes in good Austrian food. www.sofitel.com

EASTERN CENTRE Westin Grand

Friedrichstraße 158-164, 10117 Tel (030) 202 70 Fax (030) 202 733 62 Rooms 358

A lavish hotel built at the end of the 19th century in Empire and Secessionist styles. The main hall is particularly impressive, with a huge atrium and a stunning staircase. It is close to most historic sites as well as a variety of good restaurants and cafés. www.westin-grand.de

WESTERN CENTRE A & O Hostel am 700

€)

loachimstabler Straße 1-3 10623 Tel (030) 889 135-0 Fax (030) 889 135-40 Rooms 113

Man 2 R4

Located in a former Aldi budget grocery store, this hostel is a favourite among budget travellers looking for a cheap night's sleep. Conveniently located opposite the Zoo railway station, it offers packages such as combined hostel and dancing club weekends, which appeal to the younger guests, www.aohostels.com

WESTERN CENTRE Ellington Hotel

ふりませる

€(€)

Nürnberger Straße 50–55, 10789 Tel (030) 683 150 Fax (030) 683 55 555 Rooms 285

Man 2 C5

An oasis of modern design behind the stunning facade of a 1920s Bauhaus-style office building, the Ellington is an affordable stylish alternative to other central hotels. The bright colours, perfect service and great location more than make up for the small rooms, with many thoughtful touches ensuring a comfortable stay, www.ellingtonhotel.de

WESTERN CENTRE Hotel Astoria

Fasanenstraße 2 10623 Tel (030) 312 40 67 Fax (030) 312 50 27 Rooms 32

Man 2 A4

Managed by the same family for three generations, this intimate hotel occupies a 19th-century building and is considered to be one of the best of its kind in town. The rooms are comfortable and the lack of a restaurant is made up for by the hotel's proximity to Savignyplatz www.hotelastoria.de

WESTERN CENTRE Arte Luise Kunsthotel

↑■

€€€

Luisenstraße 19, 10117 Tel (030) 284 480 Fax (030) 284 484 48 Rooms 50

Map 1 E3

An authentic Berlin artist's hotel, the Künstlerheim (literally "home for artists") welcomes the artsv crowd into individually designed rooms, created by various German artists, in an early 19th-century house. It is steps away from the Scheunenviertel and offers great service. www.arte-luise.com

WESTERN CENTRE Berlin Marriott Hotel

阿里 Inge-Beisheim-Platz 1, 10785 Tel (030) 220 000 Fax (030) 220 001 000 Rooms 379

PPP Map 4 A3

The Marriott at the Beisheim-Center near Potsdamer Platz is an elegant four-star hotel with a towering entrance atrium. Its spacious rooms offer lovely views of the green Tiergarten and the government district. You get the same facilities for less than half the rate of the adjacent Ritz-Carlton. www.marriott.de

WESTERN CENTRE Hotel Albrechtshof

↑ H

(€)(€) Map 1 F3

Albrechtstraße 8, 10117 Tel (030) 308 860 Fax (030) 308 861 00 Rooms 101

This charming hotel is situated near the Spree river, in a modernized, early 19th-century building. It offers not only a bar, restaurant and banqueting hall, but a chapel as well. Internet access is available in all of the spacious rooms, and the service is personal and warm. Weekend discounts are available, www.hotel-albrechtshof.de

WESTERN CENTRE Hotel Brandenburger Hof

□ 計 ★

€€€€

Eislehener Straße 14 10789 Tel (030) 214 050 Fax (030) 214 051 00 Rooms 72

Man 2 R5

An intimate family atmosphere, impeccable service and quiet luxurious rooms make this one of the most desirable top-notch hotels in Berlin. The enchanting building has been restored and rooms feature Bauhaus furniture. The Michelin-awarded restaurant, Die Quadriga is a must (see p527). www.brandenburger-hof.com

WESTERN CENTRE Hotel Concorde Berlin

Augsburger Straße 41, 10789 Tel (030) 800 999 0 Fax (030) 800 999 99 Rooms 311

Offering sophisticated charm, this modern hotel is decorated in minimalist style, with a lot of glass, warm lights and wooden panelling. The large comfortable rooms, impeccable service and French restaurant, Faubourg, all contribute to its appeal, as do the views of bustling street life on Kurfürstendamm. www.hotelconcordeberlin.com

WESTERN CENTRE Kempinski Hotel Bristol Berlin

҈ 計級 ★ ♥ ■

Kurfürstendamm 27, 10719 Tel (030) 884 340 Fax (030) 883 60 75 Rooms 302

€€€€€ Map 2 B4

One of Berlin's most famous hotels, the Kempinski was redecorated in the 1990s and has a classic interior. Its luxurious rooms are very comfortable and 18 rooms have wheelchair access. Its famous restaurant, Kempinski-Grill, serves international cuisine. www.kempinskiberlin.de

FURTHER AFIELD Hotel-Pension Kastanienhof

 \uparrow_{\downarrow}

€)

Kastanienallee 65, 10119 Tel (030) 44 30 50 Fax (030) 443 051 11 Rooms 35

The Kastanienhof is a budget Pension hidden in a fully restored, typical Berlin tenement house. Its location is perfect for exploring the clubbing scene in Prenzlauer Berg. The rooms are surprisingly nice and come equipped with a hairdryer, mini bar and safe. www.hotel-kastanienhof-berlin.de

FURTHER AFIELD Art Hotel Charlottenburger Hof

(€)(€)

Stuttgarter Platz 14, 10627 Tel (030) 329 070 Fax (030) 323 37 23 Rooms 46

A must for any traveller looking for a real Berlin experience, the Charlottenburger Hof is a successful version of a traditional Hotelpension for young tourists. The individually designed rooms are decorated with art by Mondrian and the staff are very helpful. www.charlottenburger-hof.de

FURTHER AFIELD Dolce Berlin Müggelsee

҈ऻ ∀ ≣

€(€)

Müggelheimer Damm 145, 12559 Tel (030) 658 820 Fax (030) 658 822 63 Rooms 176

This is an excellent hotel, far from the hustle and bustle of the city. Tucked away in the greenery of the Müggelsee in Köpenick, it is perfect for a relaxed stay. Rooms are fairly spacious, and all of the three guest floors are decorated differently in Italian, Asian and German styles. www.dolceberlin.de

FURTHER AFIELD Fastern Comfort

€€

Mühlenstraße 77 10243 Tel (030) 667 638 06 Fax (030) 667 638 05 Rooms 24

Set on a historic and meticulously restored wooden houseboat on the Spree river, in the up-and-coming district of Friedrichschain, the Eastern Comfort may well be Berlin's most unusual hotel. There are three different types of room - all small - but most offer a good view of the Warschauer Brücke, www.eastern-comfort.de ↑... 1...

FURTHER AFIELD Honigmond

Tieckstraße 11. 10115 Tel (030) 284 45 50 Fax (030) 284 455 11 Rooms 60

Man 1 F2

€(€)

€€

The Honigmond is great for exploring the Mitte and Prenzlauer Berg arts scenes. Originally a traditional 19th-century tenement house with a courtyard, it has individually designed rooms, some of which feature four-poster beds and parguet floors, while other rooms entice you with their summerhouse feel, www.honiamond.de

FURTHER AFIELD Hotel Luisenhof

Köpernicker Straße 92 10179 Tel (030) 241 59 06 Fax (030) 279 29 83 Rooms 27

Map 5 F3

Situated at the Märkisches Museum, this hotel occupies the oldest building (built in 1882) in this part of Berlin. Extensive restoration has created a charming hotel with attractive rooms and a delightful restaurant in the cellar. Given its size and decor, the Luisensuite makes for a great deal, www.luisenhof.de

FURTHER AFIELD Schlossparkhotel

№ 計 総 ★

(€)(€)

Heubnerweg 2a, 14059 Tel (030) 326 90 30 Fax (030) 326 903 600 Rooms 39

The modern Schlossparkhotel is part of a private clinic and is known as a very pleasant and small, but top-class, hotel near the beautiful gardens of Schlosspark Charlottenburg, making this the only downtown hotel in a green setting. Request a room with a balcony overlooking the gardens. The S-Bahn Westend is nearby, www.schlossparkhotel.de

FURTHER AFIELD Schlosshotel in Grunewald

Brahmsstraße 10, 14193 Tel (030) 895 840 Fax (030) 895 848 00 Rooms 54

This exclusive hotel was formerly a palace, built in 1912 for Walter von Pannwitz, the Kaiser's personal lawyer. The contemporary interiors were created by Karl Lagerfeld. and the lobby's magnificent coffered ceiling is breathtaking. The hotel's restaurant, the Vivaldi (see p528), is very popular. www.schlosshotelberlin.com

BRANDENBURG

BRANDENBURG Kurth's Landgasthaus und Hotel

11 '∀'

€

Dorfstraße 3-4, 14778 Tel (033836) 40 24 5 Fax (033836) 49 71 2 Rooms 14

The vines spilling out of the upstairs windows are somehow very inviting, especially in this lovely lakeside location. Inside, light bright decoration and furniture counteracts cramped rooms, and the dark exposed beams in the attic are charming. www.kurths-landgasthaus.de

BRANDENBURG Villa Lindenhof

Chausseestraße 21, 14774 Tel (03381) 40 43 0 Fax (03 381) 40 43 33 Rooms 16

This is a very traditional establishment with old-fashioned wooden furniture and chiffon curtains. It is a more homely experience than the larger, chain hotels would offer. They also have a restaurant that has tables in the garden in the summer months. www.lindenhof-plaue.de

BRANDENBURG Axxon Hotel

预 計 ★ 🗑

€

Magdeburger Landstraße 228, 14770 Tel (03381) 32 10 Fax (03381) 32 11 11 Rooms 119

Not too far from the lake, though the hotel's location is not so picturesque. The rooms are comfortable, if a little small, but the fitness area is vast and well equipped. They have four apartments, which have a cosy quality and are well suited to families. www.axxon-hotel.de

CHORIN Neue Klosterschänke

€)

Neue Klosterallee 12, 16230 Tel (033366) 53 10 Fax (033366) 53 14 1 Rooms 14

A hilltop rural setting offers wonderful views over the tops of trees and across a lake, and as you would expect in such a setting, the outside is more important and impressive than the inside. The slightly unimpressive facade disguises a comfortable but not overly fashionable interior. www.neue-klosterschaenke.de/

COTTBUS Ahorn Hotel & Restaurant

Bautzener Str. 134 / 135, 3050 Tel (0355) 47 80 00 Fax (0355) 47 80 04 0 Rooms 21

This is a well-run hotel and restaurant. The guest rooms are decorated in an uncluttered and smart manner, and have the usual amenities you would expect. There is also an added attraction of a pleasant beer garden in which to relax after a day's sightseeing. www.ahorn-hotel.com

COTTBUS Radisson SAS Hotel Cottbus

№ ★ ▼ ■

(€)(€)

Vetschauerstr. 12, 3048 Tel (0355) 47 61 0 Fax (0355) 47 61 90 0 Rooms 241

This hotel is as comfortable as it is possible to be with its stylish and well-appointed wood-panelled rooms, and as you would expect from this global hotel chain, there is a full range of facilities, amenities and services. All expectations will be met willingly by the courteous and helpful staff. www.radissonsas.com

€€

COTTRUS Sorat Hotel

Schlosskirchplatz 2 D-03046 Tel (0355) 78 44 0 Fax (0355) 78 44 24 4 Rooms 101

Whoever designed the interior of this place managed to achieve a style that is very modern, but not overly trendy or at all aloof. As such it is all very welcoming, tidy and pleasant, and replete with comforts and all the usual amenities found in these larger chain botels. www.sorat-hotels.com/hotel/cottbus.html

JUTERBORG Zum Goldenen Stern

€

Markt 14, 14913 Tel (03372) 40 14 76 Fax (03372) 40 16 14 Rooms 29

The rooms here are fresh, breezy and fun, and the garden-style furniture scattered about makes you feel as though you are outside. They will even serve your breakfast in a glass-encased winter garden. A pleasant change from more formal hotels. They also, rent in-line skates. www.hotel-aoddener-stern.de

LEHNIN Hotel Restaurant Markgraf Lehnin

↑3 11

(

Friedenstr. 13, 14797 Tel (03382) 76 50 Fax (03382) 76 54 30 Rooms 40

A comfortable, rambling and family-friendly hotel that should appeal to pretty much everyone. Rooms are simple and comfortable. Sauna, solarium, spa and other well-being and beauty services are offered, as is a large conference hall. Overall, it is a pleasant and welcoming place. www.hotel-markgraf.de

NEURUPPIN Am Alten Rhin

11 ★ ∀

Friedrich-Engels-Straße 12, 16827 Tel (03391) 76 50 Fax (03391) 76 51 5 Rooms 33

Here you will find sturdy, wooden, cottage-like furniture in clean bright rooms. It all adds up to simple, honest comfort. The hotel is located only a short distance from a river and lake, which encourages the guests to get out and enjoy the surroundings. www.hotel-am-alten-rhin.de

NEURUPPIN Altes Casino

11

€€

Dudweilerstraße 20, 66287 Tel (06897) 96 57 0 Fax (06897) 96 57 57 Rooms 12

Seeufer 20, 16816 Tel (03391) 40 35 0 Fax (03391) 40 35 24 59 Rooms 140

a resort-style hotel, and most overlook the lake, www.hotel-fontane.com

Rooms are a little spartan and basic, but they have made an effort to brighten the place up with contemporary and colourful decor and furnishings. They have a good restaurant and there is a pleasant outdoor eating area. Simple, but pleasant and good value. www.altescasino.de

NEURUPPIN Hotel Fontane

№ 11 🙈 🖈 🔻

€€€

Nestled on the edge of Ruppiner See, this hotel could almost be classed as a resort, especially with the addition of a sauna facility that appears to have over the lake. Rooms are classy and have the standard conveniences expected in

POTSDAM art'otel Potsdam

↑ 11 ∀

€€

Zeppelinstraße 136, D-14471 Tel (0331) 98 15 0 Fax (0331) 98 15 55 5 Rooms 123

This hotel is just a stone's throw from Sanssouci, and is a palace packed with art in its own right. Although the hotel is very bright and modern, it still has a natural feel with exposed wooden beams here and there. Abstract art features quite extensively in the decoration. www.artotel.de/potsdam/potsdam.html

POTSDAM NH Voltaire Hotel

₩ 11 🕏

€€

Friedrich-Ebert Straße 88, 14467 Tel (0331) 23 17 0 Fax (0331) 23 17 10 0 Rooms 156

A grand and gracious façade hides rooms that have a modern style and all the usual modern amenities such as cable television, mini bar, wireless internet and an in-room safe. Other facilities include a sauna, solarium and spa, as well as on-site parking. www.nh-hotels.com

POTSDAM Relexa Schlosshotel Cecilienhof

€€

Neuer Garten, 14469 Tel (0331) 37 05 0 Fax (0331) 29 24 98 Rooms 41

This is an extraordinary place that retains the atmosphere of a lordly manor rather than a hotel. Thankfully, if the luxury is all too much, you can head to the courtyard (in summer, at least) where there are normal chairs, without padding, rather than the luxurious thrones scattered throughout the rest of the hotel. www.relexa-hotels.de

POTSDAM Mercure Potsdam

□ 11 ■

€€€

Lange Bruecke, 14467 Tel (0331) 27 22 Fax (0331) 27 20 23 3 Rooms 210

This chain hotel is conveniently located near the train station. Inside, it sticks to the international Accor hotels recipe of maximum comfort from pleasingly minimalist design. Everything is neat, tidy and smartly tucked away, and all the amenities you would expect are provided. www.mercure.com

WITTSTOCK Scharfenberger Krug

11

€

Scharfenberg 28, 16909 Tel (03394) 71 24 17 Fax (03394) 44 37 15 Rooms 10

Located on the Scharfenberg hill, which was the site of the bloodiest battle of the Thirty Years' War (1618–48), this hotel's accommodation is a little cramped, especially in the attic rooms, but it is also home to all manner of medieval memorabilia. www.scharfenberger-krug.de

WITTSTOCK Seehotel Ichlim

11

€

Am Nebelsee 1, 17248 Tel (039827) 30 26 4 Fax (033966) 60 25 3 Rooms 29

This is an enormous barn-shaped building on the side of a lake with large, pleasantly decorated, comfortable rooms, plenty of health and beauty services, and all manner of water sports on offer. There is even a jetty and a small private beach. www.seehotel-ichlim.de

SAXONY-ANHALT

BERNBURG Parkhotel Bernburg

Aderstedter Str. 1, 6406 Tel (03471) 362-0 Fax (03471) 362-111 Rooms 111

This hotel represents a clever and competent compromise between a business-class and a tourist-style hotel. Everything is very smart and comfortable, but there is still a very welcoming sense of homely warmth that makes it a nice place to stay. www.parkhotel-bernburg.de

DESSAU Steigenberger Hotel Fürst Leopold

Friedensplatz, 6844 Tel (0340) 25 15 0 Fax (0340) 25 15 17 7 Rooms 204

This hotel's design is heavily influenced by Bauhaus, with rooms that are similarly unfussy and functional. Anything that will not enhance your productivity or comfort has been left out, but earthy-toned walls and plants add a restful and natural touch. There is also a vast sauna and soa area. www.desau.steigenberger.de

DESSAU NH Hotel

Zerbster Straße 29, 6844 Tel (034) 02 51 40 Fax (034) 02 51 41 00 Rooms 152

Like all the hotels in this trendy global chain, the NH here is clean, smart and very stylish. Space tends to be used very well, and even though some rooms are not large, they do not feel cramped. The hotel also features a classy restaurant. casual-style bar and sauna. www.nh-hotels.com

FREYBURG Berghotel Zum Edelacker

Schloss, 25, 06632 Tel (0344) 64 35 0 Fax (0344) 64 35 33 3 Rooms 83

The Edelacker is an inviting country hotel overlooking vineyards and the surrounding hills. A short walk from the medieval Schloss Neuenburg and downtown Freyburg, the hotel offers standard rooms with good views. In summer, the restaurant, serving local dishes and wines, invites diners onto a shady terrace. www.edelacker.de

HALBERSTADT Parkhotel Unter den Linden

Klamrothstr. 2, 38820 Tel (03941) 62 54 0 Fax (03941) 62 54 44 4 Rooms 43

Every room in this hotel is unique, some with bay windows, some with balconies and others with interior arches. It gives a sense of history and character to the building that adds a nice touch to your stay. They even have a sauna in the attic. It also has an excellent restaurant of the same name (see p531). www.pudl.de

HALLE Kempinski Hotel & Congress Centre Rotes Ross

Ω, ₹₹ '₩'

₩ ★ '∀'

↑ H ■

包 田 夫

€(€)

(€)(€)

(€)(€)

€(€)

Leipziger Straße 76, 6108 Tel (0345) 23 34 30 Fax (0345) 23 34 36 99 Rooms 88

Style and elegance are the hallmarks of this historic hotel located in the heart of Halle. The guest rooms are replete with luxury and also have a lovely and unique charm. Other highlights include an excellent restaurant and superb fitness and wellbeing area. www.kempinski-halle.de

ILSENBURG Zu Den Rothen Forellen

№ 11 🕮 🕏

€€€€

Marktplatz 2, 38871 Tel (039452) 93 93 Fax (039452) 93 99 Rooms 52

A stunning hotel located in a lovely setting right beside a lake. The guest rooms have a rich, warm and elegant cottage charm, the pool and spa area is sparkling, and the restaurant is an attraction it its own right (see p531). Overall, this hotel is a delightful discovery, www.rotheforelle.de

MAGDEBURG Classik Hotel Magdeburg

↑ 11

₹ 11 £ 7

€

(€)(€)

Leipziger Chaussee 141, 39120 Tel (0391) 62 90 0 Fax (0391) 62 90 51 9 Rooms 109

There is a fresh and friendly appeal about this big yellow building. Rooms are by no means large, but are brightly furnished and have a spacious and airy feel thanks to lots of colourful touches. The restaurant is smart without being stifling, and there is a pleasant lobby area with an open fire. www.classik-hotel.de

MAGDEBURG Hotel Ratswaage

Ratswaageplatz 1-4, 39104 Tel (0391) 59 26 0 Fax (0391) 56 19 61 5 Rooms 174

Although the outside of this hotel is somewhat austerely functional, there is plenty of comfort and luxury inside. Rooms have a bright, warm feeling and a simple homely charm. There is also a good swimming pool and sauna where you can pass the time. www.ratswaage.de

MAGDEBURG Herrenkrug Parkhotel

₹ ₩ ₩ ₩ ₩

€€€

Herrenkrug 3, 39114 Tel (0391) 85 080 Fax (0391) 85 08 50 1 Rooms 147

This attractive hotel provides a very tidy arrangement of cosy rooms in a lovely big house situated in the middle of a big park. All the expected comforts and a full range of amenities are offered in a happy marriage of old and new styles. www.herrenkrug.de

MAGDEBURG Maritim Hotel

№ 11 🕾 🖈 🗑

€€€

87 Otto-Von-Guericke Straße, 39104 Tel (0391) 59 49 0 Fax (0391) 59 49 99 0 Rooms 514

This hotel has a striking, ultra-modern exterior with a distinctive glass cylinder entrance. Inside it is a stylish delight. The central hall is breathtaking and the suites are amazing. It has a choice of restaurants and also a pool. A very professional establishment. www.maritim.de

MERSERURG Radisson SAS

অ ল ৮ ≡

€€

Oberaltenburg 4, 6217, Tel (03461) 45, 20, 0, Fax (03461) 45, 21, 00, Rooms, 132

As you would expect from a top hotel chain, this establishment has all the amenities (including a solarium) and is superbly run. It is well worth asking for a room with a view, because the hotel is on a hill and has splendid views of the palace and gardens. The Belle Epoque restaurant is highly recommended (see p531), www.radissonsas.com

NAUMBURG Gasthaus Zur Henne

m 9

Henne 1 6618 Tel (03445) 23 26 0 Fax (3445) 23 26 26 Rooms 28

A very welcoming and friendly place situated in a building that is very much like a country manor. The restrained decor is in keeping with the traditional country feel, but it has a modern twist. It also has an excellent restaurant. www.gasthaus-zur-henne.de

NATIMBURG Stadt Aachen

↑」 ਜ

Markt 11 6618 Tel (03445) 24 70 Fax (03445) 24 71 30 Rooms 39

This hotel is in an excellent location close to the market square. The building itself looks rather historic but has been renovated to meet modern hospitality standards. The rooms are large and bright and scattered with pleasant furniture www.hotel-stadt-aachen.de

NAUMBURG Zur alten Schmiede

€)

Lindenring 36/37, 6618 Tel (03445) 24 36 0 Fax (03445) 24 36 66 Rooms 35

What was an 18th-century blacksmith's workshop has been knocked down and replaced with a hotel and restaurant, both of which have been designed to retain the historic feel combined with modern convenience and quality. Accommodation is pleasantly simple with touches of rustic charm, www.hotel-zur-alten-schmiede.de

OUEDLINBURG Hotel Domschatz

€)

Mühlenstraße 20, 6484 Tel (03946) 70 52 70 Fax (03946) 70 52 71 Rooms 15

This is a distinctive lime-green Fachwerk building – a rescued dilapidated historic house – which is now home to 15 modern and warmly decorated quest rooms. The staff also arrange some interesting special offers, packages and tours. www.quedlinburg-hoteldomschatz.de

STENDAL Altstadt-Hotel

Breite Straße 60, 39576 Tel (03931) 69 89 0 Fax (03931) 69 89 39 Rooms 28

This mid-range family-run hotel is centrally located. It has themed decor – plenty of wood panelling and pastelpatterned furniture – which makes you feel that you could be on a boat at sea. The guest rooms come with safes and cable television. Parking is also available. www.altstadthotelstendal.de

TANGERMUNDE Ringhotel Schwarzer Adler

TI 🔐 🕏

€€

Lange Straße 52, 39590 Tel (039322) 96 0 Fax (039322) 36 42 Rooms 56

The guest rooms here are filled with comforts encased in floral wallpaper and furnishings. Other facilities at the hotel are a bit more practical but no less pleasing, with the attractive glass-roofed dining room being of particular note. www.schwarzer-adler-tangermuende.de

WERNIGERODE Ringhotel Weisser Hirsch

↑ H

(€)

Marktplatz 5, 38855 Tel (03943) 60 20 20 Fax (03943) 63 31 39 Rooms 54

While the smart reception suggests that this is a business-class hotel, the rooms are more homely than you might expect, although not at all short on luxury. Merely staying in such a grand Fachwerk building in this great location would be pleasant enough, but the hotel's comforts are also very appealing. www.hotel-weisser-hirsch.de

WITTENBERG Stadthotel Wittenberg

Schloßstraße 2, 6886 Tel (03491) 42 04 34 4 Fax (03491) 42 04 34 5 Rooms 20

The location is a big plus here, as you can walk to most of the interesting sights and attractions from the hotel. The rooms themselves have a very warm appearance and are fitted with the standard conveniences such as Internet access and satellite television. The staff are very helpful. www.stadthotel-wittenberg.de

WÖRLITZ Wörlitzer Hof

刊大

€€

Markt 96, 6786 Tel (034905) 41 10 Fax (034905) 41 122 Rooms 50

Located adjacent to a pleasant square with trees and a little fountain, this hotel has a calm and welcoming feel. This cosy feel continues in the rooms, which, though a little plain, are not short on the standard comforts. The beer garden under the lime trees is its most attractive feature. www.woerlitzer-hof.de

SAXONY

BAUTZEN Goldener Adler

□ 計 ★

(€)(€)

Hauptmarkt 4, 2625 Tel (03591) 48 66 0 Fax (03591) 48 66 20 Rooms 30

Ideal for those who like light and space as the rooms have high ceilings and simple, smart furnishings. It is a nice contrast to the cosy feeling of its adjoining wine cellar and curved-roofed beer hall and restaurant. The historic charm of the original 1540s building has been retained. www.goldeneradler.de

BAUTZEN Villa Antonia

Lessingstraße 1, 2625 Tel (03591) 50 10 20 Fax (03591) 50 10 44 Rooms 13

This late 1890s villa, located in a quiet and up-market part of town, is a historic monument that was once owned by a concert pianist. It has since been refreshed and renovated and is now this small hotel which is straightforward but pleasant and comfortable, www.hotel.villa-antonia.de

CHEMNITZ Günnewig Hotel Chemnitzer Hof

Theaterplatz 4, 9111 Tel (0371) 68 40 Fax (0371) 67 62 58 7 Rooms 98

This late-1920s building has been renovated to its former glory. The foyer is gleaming and grand, although the period charm is lost in the rooms themselves which are merely tidy and stylish. All rooms have wireless Internet, safes and satellite television. www.quennewig.de

CHEMNITZ Ringhotel Schlosshotel Klaffenbach

∿ 11 🛳 🖈 🕏

€€

€€

€€

Wasserschloßweg 6, 9123 Tel (0371) 26 11 0 Fax (0371) 26 11 10 0 Rooms 49

A turreted fairy-tale hotel flanked by two wings of more modest buildings. The rooms vary from simple standards to some very interesting options. Easily the most attractive aspect of the hotel is the location right in the historic centre of Chemnitz. www.schlosshotel-klaffenbach.de

CHEMNITZ Mercure Hotel Kongress Chemnitz

② 11 ★ ∀

€€€

Brueckenstraße 19, 9111 Tel (0371) 68 30 Fax (0371) 68 35 05 Rooms 386

This hotel is located in a striking glass tower and has rooms which are simple and have all the amenities you would expect from a hotel that is owned by an international chain. Hotel facilities include meeting rooms, conference rooms, a fitness room and a sauna. An airport shuttle is also available. www.mercure.com

DRESDEN Landhotel Dresden

Fritz-Meinhardt-Straße 105, 1239 Tel (0351) 28 03 0 Fax (0351) 28 03 13 0 Rooms 43

An uncomplicated and simple establishment which is not short on comforts. There is an easygoing and relaxed atmosphere to this hotel, which can be a refreshing change from some of the more stiff, classy places. Every morning, guests may help themselves to a "coffee to go" to perk them up for the day ahead. www.landhotel-dresden.de

DRESDEN art'otel Dresden Design Hotel

₹ ₹ ₹

€€€

Ostra-Allee 33, 1067 Tel (0351) 49 22 0 Fax (0351) 49 22 77 7 Rooms 174

A very distinctive hotel with modern art, daring design and bright colours. All the guest rooms have modern conveniences and comforts, including air conditioning, satellite and pay television, and wireless Internet – as well as plenty of art on the walls, www.artotels.de

DRESDEN Romantik Hotel Pattis

∿ 11 🕏

€€€

Merbitzer Straße 53, 1157 Tel (0351) 42 55 0 Fax (0351) 42 55 25 5 Rooms 46

This is very much a family-run hotel (pictures, birth dates and other family information are given on the website) and offies a rather effective mix of business-class standards and personal touches that will make you feel both important and relaxed at the same time. www.pattis.de

DRESDEN Steigenberger Hotel de Saxe

₩ 11 🖈 🗑 🗏

₽₽₽

Neumarkt 9, 1067 Tel (0351) 43 86 0 Fax (0351) 43 86 88 8 Rooms 185

Even the simple rooms are vast and elegant and offer Internet, satellite television, safes and the usual list of comforts and conveniences. There is a definite sense of sparkle and fresh opulence in the dining areas. This is a very refined establishment. www.desaxe-dresden.steigenberger.de

FREIBERG Silberhof

҈ 計 ★

€)

Silberhofstraße 1, 9599 Tel (03731) 26 88 0 Fax (03731) 26 88 78 Rooms 30

The rooms in this interesting-looking building are decorated in a distinctive style somewhat influenced by rococo themes with lots of gleaming satin and white-painted wood. All the usual modern amenities are on offer as well, such as satellite television, Internet access and mini bars in all rooms. www.silberhof.de

GÖRLITZ Sorat Hotel Görlitz

↑ H

€€

Struvestraße 1, 2826 Tel (03581) 40 65 77 Fax (03581) 40 65 79 Rooms 46

The rooms are decorated in an Art Nouveau style with colourful modern furniture and a touch of flair. There are smoking and non-smoking rooms available with basic services. Best of all though, it is in an ideal location next to the Marienplatz and Görlitz's department store. www.sorat-hotels.com

KAMENZ Goldner Hirsch

ĭI 🕏

€€

Markt 10, 1917 Tel (03578) 78 35 0 Fax (03578) 78 35 59 9 Rooms 30

Established in 1550 and one of the few buildings in the city that was not destroyed in the 1842 fires, there is a successful mixture of old and new in this hotel. The rooms are simple but classy and comfortable, and there are two restaurants and a beer garden. www.hotel-goldner-hirsch.de

LEIPZIG Alt-Connewitz Hotel - Restaurant

∿ 11 🕏

€€

Meusdorfer Straße 47a, 4277 Tel (0341) 30 13 77 0 Fax (0341) 30 13 80 0 Rooms 33

A simple and straightforward hotel with very reasonable prices. The comfortable guest rooms have a fresh, clean decor and include Internet access and TV. They also have a good restaurant with a serviceable selection of wines. www.alt-connewitz.de

€€

LEIPZIG Leipzig Marriott Hotel

Am Hallischen Tor 1 4109 Tel (0341) 96 53 0 Fax (0341) 96 53 99 9 Rooms 231

Dark wood and richly patterned carpets and furnishings create an environment in which you can nestle in warmth and comfort. It can feel a bit old fashioned, but services such as Internet access and air conditioning ensure that it is not. The hotel is well located in the historic part of town and just across from the train station. www.marriott.com

LEIPZIG Westin Leipzia

€€

15 Gerber Straße, 4105 Tel (0341) 98 80 Fax (0341) 98 81 22 9 Rooms 436

The beds are the big attraction here. They have what is called a Heavenly Bed which features a special mattress and four layers of covers. The guest rooms are richly and tastefully decorated. An equally stylish "fitness" bar and pool are also available. http://aktuelles.westin.de/leizj@

LEIPZIG Hotel Fürstenhof

Tröndlinring 8, 4105 Tel (0341) 14 00 Fax (0341) 14 03 70 0 Rooms 92

A hotel with a bright and confident classiness. Its rooms are colourfully decorated and furnished, and tall slim windows offer plenty of light and a feeling of space. All rooms have a mini be are and satellite television, but the ones that overlook the courtward are worth requestion. A bold and luxurious hotel, www.luxurcollection.com/fuerstenhof

MEISSEN Hotel Andree

Ferdinandstraße 2, 1662 Tel (03521) 75 50 Fax (03521) 75 51 30 Rooms 85

This hotel is in the centre of town but in a quiet location. The guest rooms are decorated and furnished in a simple and uncomplicated style. The excellent restaurant is certainly worth a visit because it serves a good variety of local cuisine, www.hotel-andree.de

MORITZBURG Landhaus Moritzburg

Schlossallee 37, 1468 Tel (0035207) 89 69 0 Fax (0035207) 89 69 19 Rooms 17

A good away-from-it-all option, where you can stay in an attic-style room and look out over meadows. The rooms range from cosy to spacious, and have an almost Scandinavian feel to them. There is a deent restaurant, including terrace dining in the pleasant garden in warmer months. www.landhaus-moritzburg.de

PIRNA Romantik Hotel Deutsches Haus

Niedere Burgstraße 1, 1796 Tel (03501) 46 88 0 Fax (03501) 46 88 20 Rooms 40

A charming, historic place occupying three Renaissance houses. There is also a lovely, atmospheric brick vault cellar and highly recommended restaurant, Deutsches Haus (see p534). There are beautiful riverside walks nearby along the banks of the Elbe, www.romantikhotel-pirna.de

ZITTALI Schwarzer Bär

Ottokarplatz 12, 2763 Tel (03583) 55 10 Fax (03583) 55 11 11 Rooms 19

The Black Bear is so named because the landlord in 1694 was expelled for keeping a black bear. This is a homely and very pleasant place with attractive, simply decorated guest rooms and a reputable restaurant. www.hotel-schwarzer-baer.de

ZWICKAU Achat Hotel

Leipziger Straße 180, 8058 Tel (0375) 87 20 Fax (0375) 87 29 99 Rooms 204

A full range of all the services and facilities you would expect in a smart, modern hotel. The rooms are simple, clean and comfortable, with just a subtle sprinkling of charm. An ideal place to stay if you are not interested in splashing out on luxuries. www.achat-hotel.de

THURINGIA

ALTENBURG Altenburger Hof

Schmöllnsche Landstraße 8, 4600 Tel (03447) 58 40 Fax (03447) 58 44 99 Rooms 140

The guest rooms are decorated in a straightforward, clean, modern style, with long vertical striped curtains, neutral tones and simple furniture. All rooms have desks and Internet connections. The hotel has a good restaurant and cocktail bar, as well as a sauna and wellbeing area. www.altenburger-hof.de

ALTENBURG Parkhotel am Grossen Teich

↑ 11

€€

August-Bebel-Str. 16/17, 4600 Tel (03447) 58 30 Fax (03447) 58 34 44 Rooms 65

This hotel used to be a hat factory, and there is a definite air of gentle refinement here. The guest rooms are well equipped, including satellite television, mini bar and marble decorated bathrooms. The staff are friendly and there is an excellent restaurant. www.parkhotel-altenburg.de

EISENACH Steigenberger Hotel Thuringer Hof

₹ 11 ★ ∀ ■

Karlsplatz 11, 99817 Tel (03691) 28 0 Fax (03691) 28 19 0 Rooms 127

If you want to combine art and hospitality the Steigenberger hotel is the right place. There are paintings and wooden sculptures in the lobby, and the modern rooms are just as elegant. Some have a beautiful view over the castle and surrounding area. The restaurant serves delicate Asian cuisine. www.eisenach.steigenberger.de

FISENACH Hotel auf der Wartburg

Warthurg Castle, 99817, Tel (03691) 79.70, Fax (03691) 79.71.00, Rooms 35

A little castle perched high on a cliff. Expect nothing but the best, and then have your expectations exceeded. The individually decorated rooms are well equipped, including wireless Internet access. Cosiness, palatial luxury and a great view are all combined here www.wartburghotel.de

ERFURT Grand Hotel am Dom

@ 計 ★ ♥ ■

₽₽₽

Theaternlatz 2, 99084 Tel (0361) 64 45 0 Fax (0361) 64 45 10 0 Rooms 160

The towering glass box entrance hints at the business-class quality of the hotel. Rooms have that smart and tidy muted-brown and burgundy decoration style that offers at once warmth and respectability. All rooms have safes. mini bars, satellite and pay television and internet access, www.accorhotels.com

FRELIRT Zumnorde

eee

Anger 50/51 99084 Tel (0361) 56 80 0 Fax (0361) 56 80 40 0 Rooms 54

Stately rooms with muted style and quality polished wood furniture. The hotel is located in the historic centre of town near the Mariendom and St Severi. It also offers special discounts through its website, particularly for weekend visits www.hotel-zumnorde.de

ERFURT-APFELSTADT Park Inn

↑ 11 '∀'

(€)(€)

Riedweg 1, 99192 Tel (0362) 02 85 0 Fax (0362) 02 85 41 0 Rooms 96

This colourful hotel has a bright, fresh and friendly atmosphere, and is a nice compromise between the needs of business travellers and tourists. It has a health centre with sauna, gym and solarium, and conference facilities. Rooms also have satellite and pay television and Internet access, www.parkinn.com

GERA Courtyard by Marriott

徳 11 ★ ♥ ■

€(€)

Gutenbergstraße 2a, 7548 Tel (0365) 29 09 0 Fax (0365) 29 09 10 0 Rooms 165

The rooms here are all pretty generous in terms of space, and are decorated in a mildly lively and colourful way. Wireless internet access operates throughout the hotel. The location is quiet and almost has a residential feeling about it www marriott com

GOTHA Hotel am Schlosspark

↑ H

€€

With parts of the hotel being set in a greenhouse-style glass box, there is a summery feeling to this place at any time of year. Guest rooms have all the facilities that one would expect of a four-star hotel. The hotel's restaurant of the same name is pleasant (see p535), and a spa and sauna are also available. www.hotel-am-schlosspark.de

GREIZ Schlossberg Hotel

₩ 計 ★

€€

Marienstr. 1-5, 7973 Tel (03661) 62 21 23 Fax (03661) 62 21 66 Rooms 33

Lindenauallee 20, 99867 Tel (03621) 44 20 Fax (03621) 44 24 52 Rooms 95

Guest rooms are light and uncomplicated, and all have mini bar and television and many have wireless Internet access. There is a Greek restaurant in the hotel, while there is another restaurant offering traditional regional fare just a few minutes' stroll away. www.schlossberghotel-greiz.de

JENA Jembo Park

71 'U'

Rudolstädter Str. 93, 7745 Tel (03641) 68 50 Fax (03641) 68 52 99 Rooms 48

For accommodation that is attached to a bowling alley and pub, it looks surprisingly good. This is an easygoing kind of place that is often used for wedding receptions and parties, and offers a no-nonsense straightforward kind of comfort. www.jembo.de

MÜHLHAUSEN Mirage Hotel

〒 | 大 | ▽ |

€)

Karl-Marx-Str. 9, 99974 Tel (03601) 43 90 Fax (03601) 43 91 50 Rooms 77

Things are very clean and simple here in a business-like way. The quest rooms are very stylish with muted colours and minimal furniture. All rooms have satellite television and wireless internet access. It is situated in the perfect location for the old town and all the best sights of Mühlhausen. www.mirage-hotel.de

OBERHOF Treff Hotel Panorama

№ 計 総 大 🖤

(€)(€)

Theodor-Neubauer-Straße 29, 98559 Tel (036842) 50 0 Fax (036842) 22 55 1 Rooms 409

This huge hotel offers stunning architecture and a huge range of activities, especially for children. Set in parkland, it rises out of the woods like a pyramid. There are tennis, squash and badminton courts as well as an indoor climbing gym. www.treff-hotel-panorama.de

WEIMAR Hotel Anna Amalia

(€)(€)

Geleitstraße 8-12, 99423 Tel (03643) 49 56 0 Fax (03643) 49 56 99 Rooms 51

Conveniently located within strolling distance of all the things you may wish to see while in town. The interior is supposed to follow the theme of Goethe's Italian travels, but really this does not extend beyond naming the rooms after Italian cities. The rooms and apartments are comfortably furnished. www.hotel-anna-amalia.de

WEIMAR Ringhotel Kaiserin Augusta

↑ 11

€ €

Carl-August-Allee 17, 99423 Tel (03643) 23 40 Fax (03643) 23 44 44 Rooms 134

An elegant-looking old building that has guest rooms that either look out across the old part of town or onto a courtyard. All rooms are decorated in light colours and feel spacious and airy, and are tidy and comfortable without feeling too stiff or formal. www.hotel-kaiserin-augusta.de

WEIMAR Dorint am Goethepark

€€€

Reethovennlatz 1-2 99423 Tel (03643) 87 20 Fax (03643) 87 21 00 Rooms 143

A three-minute walk to the historic town centre, this rather interesting building offers a good mix of comfort and convenience, and also combines the old and the new in a surprising but effective way. The building itself consists of a new modern style construction that sits between two classical mansions, www.accorbotels.com

WEIMAR Hotel Elephant

Markt 19, 99423 Tel (03643) 80 20 Fax (03643) 80 26 10 Rooms 99

Despite the hotel's name, the style here is very refined and stately. Everything is squared-off, neat, respectable and comfortable. All rooms also have original artworks, and the hotel has a tradition of being a meeting place for artists, poets and intellectuals. www.luxurycollection.com/elephant

WEIMAR Grand Hotel Russischer Hof zu Weimar

™ # ¥ ¥ ■

Goetheplatz 2, 99423 Tel (03643) 77 40 Fax (03643) 77 48 40 Rooms 126

A place of tradition and time-honoured luxury, this hotel has gleaming floors, an astrological grandfather clock, polished wood, heavy curtains tied back with tasselled golden ropes, textured walls and ceilings, and a range of fine diping options. It is really rather grand, www.russischerhof.com

MUNICH

Am Siegestor

Akademienstraße 5, 80799 Tel (089) 399550 Rooms 20

The building where the hotel stands became a hotel in 1950 and still houses the original lift, one of Munich's oldest hotel lifts, dating back to the late 1800s. It is situated close to the lively Schwabing scene with good shops, bars and restaurants. Guest rooms are simple but adequate. www.hotel-sieqestor.de

Gästehaus Englischer Garten

Liebergesellstraße 8, 80802 Tel (089) 3839410 Fax (089) 38394-133 Rooms 25

A cosy little guesthouse with pleasant, if small rooms. The hotel is quiet and family run. Longer-stay apartments are also available, offering more space and a balcony. Once a watermill, the now listed building has a lovely garden where you can sit out and enjoy breakfast. www.hotelenglischergarten.de

Hotel am Nockherberg

Nockherstraße 38a 81541 Tel (089) 6230010 Fax (089) 623 00129 Rooms 38

Modern, small, neat and clean sums up this hotel. What it lacks in stylish design it makes up for in convenient location, being close to the river Isar, Deutsches Museum and Gasteig cultural centre. The decor is simple but comfortable in neutral tones. A welcoming and friendly place, www.nockherberg.de

Hotel am Viktualienmarkt

Utzschneiderstraße 14, 80469 Tel (089) 23110 90 Fax (089) 23110 955 Rooms 27

Map 2 B5

A very central location near the famous fruit and vegetable market, Viktualienmarkt. It is simple and basic, but comfortable. The rooms are modern with floral or striped fabric furnishings and plenty of green. The hotel also owns the café a few doors down. www.hotel-am-viktualienmarkt.de

Advokat

1

Baaderstraße 1, 80469 Tel (089) 216310 Fax (089) 2163190 Rooms 50

Advokat is the designer sister hotel of the Admiral. It is situated right in the trendy artistic quarter where you can find nice boutiques and great cafés. The decor throughout is in an elegant, classic style, with lots of paintings, flowers, sculptures and contemporary design. Minimal but stylish. There is a small roof terrace. www.hotel-advokat.de

Cosmopolitan Hotel

₹ 🕏

©©€

Hohenzollernstraße 5, 80801 Tel (089) 383810 Fax (089) 38381-111 Rooms 71

Map 2 C1

A contemporary hotel in a quieter side street in the fashionable Schwabing district. There is a modern design feel throughout and rooms have Ligne Roset furniture. Enjoy breakfast on the outdoor terrace in warmer weather. It is located just a short walk from the English Garden. www.geisel-privathotels.de

Insel Mühle

Ш

€€€

Von-Kahr-Straße 87, 80999 Tel (089) 81010 Fax (089) 812 0571 Rooms 38

This hotel has a dreamy romantic setting in an old mill in beautiful gardens by a small river. The style is simple, country and comfortable. There is also an excellent restaurant, beer garden, wine cellar and bar. Choose tables in shady spots, under trees, or simply relax and wander around the grounds. www.insel-muehle.com

Novotel Muenchen City

Hochstraße 11, 81669 Tel (089) 661070 Fax (089) 66107 999 Rooms 307

A very contemporary four-star hotel with simple, sleek, bright decor. The welcoming breakfast room has large floral photographs. There is also a spacious pool and relaxation room plus fitness area. Its central location means that you can walk to Marienplatz, the Gasteig cultural centre or museums. www.novotel.com

Olympic

Hans-Sachs-Straße 4, 80469, Tel (089) 231890, Fax (089) 23189199, Rooms 38

€€€

A small hotel with neo-Baroque appeal and stylish, arty charm in the heart of the creative area. It is favoured by artists, photographers and fashion designers. The decor is Italian modern classic with an art gallery lobby. Most rooms look out onto an inner courtyard, offering a peaceful atmosphere, www.hotel-olympic.de

Hotel Ritzi

П

€€

Maria-Theresia-Straße 2a, 81675 Tel (089) 4195030 Fax (089) 41950350 Rooms 25

Man 3 F5

A stylish ambience greets you at Ritzi. The guest rooms are all individually decorated, with a global traveller feel, such as sea blue with beach mementoes, African inspired, zen oriental, white regency or warm Moroccan. A wonderful Mediterranean restaurant and a cosy lounge and bar with Art Deco styling, www.hotel-ritzi.de

Admiral

eee

Kohlstraße 9 80469 Tel (089) 216350 Fax (089) 293674 Rooms 33

Situated just around the corner from the Deutsches Museum this small four-star hotel offers traditional style, efficient staff, a wonderful breakfast buffet, some rooms with balconies overlooking the garden and a bar for evening drinks. Caters for families too. Tranquil location not far from the river lsar www.hotel-admiral.de

Anna

预付款∀■

€€€€ Map 1 F4

Schützenstraße 1, 80335 Tel (089) 599940 Fax (089) 599 94333 Rooms 73

A very design-conscious hotel in the heart of Munich with a gold-coloured reception desk, designer seating in the café, bar and restaurant, and pillars, a wonderful chandelier and purple sofas in the lounge. Try the innovative cuisine with Euro-Asjan inspiration. It is located just ten minutes by foot from Marienplatz, www.geisel-privathotels.de

Asam Hotel

EEEE

Josephspitalstraße 3, 80331 Tel (089) 2309700 Fax (089) 23097097 Rooms 24

Map 1 F5

A popular hotel among celebrities, it offers good service and a certain level of style. Guest rooms have marble bathrooms and you can choose from international cuisine in the hotel's own Speisekammer restaurant and enjoy cocktails in the bar. The surrounding streets are guiet at night. www.hotel-asam.de

Cortiina

€€€€ Map 2 C4

You might be forgiven for thinking the hotel lobby is an art gallery. A favourite among the fashionable and design set, there is a stylish bar and oak panelling in the rooms, and it is located right in the heart of the city. They can provide a babysitter and daily newspapers are complimentary, www.cortiina.com

Maritim

Goethestraße 7, 80336 Tel (089) 552350 Fax (089) 55235-900 Rooms 347

Ledererstraße 8, 80331 Tel (089) 2422490 Fax (089) 2422 49100 Rooms 39

€€€€ Map 1 F4

A good central location near the shops, theatre and not far from the main station, this hotel is also handy for the famous Oktoberfest fairground. The hotel has two restaurants, a piano bar, sauna and steam bath. The large indoor pool has panoramic views from the top floor. A classic large hotel. www.maritim.de

Opera

€€€€

St-Anna-Straße 10, 80538 Tel (089) 2104940 Fax (089) 21049477 Rooms 25

Map 3 D4

Tucked in a side street close to the designer shops is Hotel Opera in a smart town house. It has a beautiful facade and Italian Renaissance courtyard. Enjoy the peace and quiet in the lovely garden or try some of the French, German or Italian specialities in the fine restaurant Gandl (see p536). The guest rooms are all different. www.hotel-opera.de

Splendid-Dollmann

(€)€)€

Thierschstraße 49, 80538 Tel (089) 238080 Fax (089) 23808 365 Rooms 36

Map 3 D4

The Splendid has an English town house feel to it. Expect a traditional and charming hotel in quiet Lehel, an old quarter of the town rich in tradition. It offers a restaurant, babysitting service and a lovely small garden, library and bar. The guest rooms are elegant and have antique furniture. www.hotel-splendid-dollmann.de

€€€€€ 極性総大▼■ Bayerischer Hof

Promenadeplatz 2-6, 80333 Tel (089) 21200 Fax (089) 2120906 Rooms 395

Map 2 A3

A large luxurious hotel in a prominent central location near the best shops, museums, opera house, theatres and restaurants. Elegant rooms with swathes of fabrics mixing plaids and florals in a country-house style. It also has a spa. three restaurants, including the Garden Restaurant (see p537), and a great bar. www.bayerischerhof.de

Das Palace

Trogerstraße 21, 81675 Tel (089) 419710 Fax (089) 41971-819 Rooms 74

This rather noble hotel has become a haven for culture lovers and artists. It has a lovely garden, an adorable roof garden and a smart restaurant. Children are more than welcome, and guests are treated to mineral water and fruit on arrival. A great hotel bar, plus sauna, massage and fitness area. www.muenchenpalace.de

Hotel Excelsion

전 11 ★ ♥ ■

€€€€€ Map 1 F4

Schützenstraße 11, 80335 Tel (089) 551370 Fax (089) 55137121 Rooms 114

A four-star, first-class hotel in a central location. There is an Italian influence not only in the hotel's design but also in the cuisine. It prides itself on an excellent choice of top Italian wines in the Geisel's Vinothek wine restaurant. Guests can also use the facilities in its partner hotel Königshof. www.geisel-privathotels.de

Hotel Königshof

Karlsplatz 25, 80335, Tel (089) 551360, Fax (089) 55136133, Rooms 87

A renowned hotel with classical elegance, first-class service, comfort and an internationally acclaimed cuisine in its Michelin-starred restaurant of the same name (see p537). This is top class luxury in a central location, close to the shops and museums. Make use of the fitness, sauna and wellbeing area, www.geisel-privathotels.de

Kempinski Hotel Vier Jahreszeiten

Maximilianstraße 17, 80539 Tel (089) 21250 Fax (089) 2125 2000 Rooms 308

Map 2 C4

The top address in Munich (built for King Maximilian II in 1858) nestled among the designer stores on Maximilianstraße. Excellent service, gastronomy and bars. A stunning entrance hall in rich gold and reds sets the tone. The pool and wellness floor was completely revamped in 2006, www.kempinski-vieriahreszeiten.de

Mandarin Oriental

Neuturmstraße 1, 80331, Tel (089) 290980, Fax (089) 222539, Rooms 73

Man 2 C4

This centrally located, luxury Munich property offers spacious rooms, marble bathrooms with separate bath and shower and panoramic views of the city from the rooftop terrace's heated swimming pool. Dine in the fine Mark's restaurant with its Michelin star or alfresco on the terrace www.mandarinoriental.com/munich

RAV/ARIA

ALTÖTTING Zur Post

₹ 11 € 1

(€)(€)

Kapellplatz 2, 84503 Tel (08671) 5040 Fax (08671) 6214 Rooms 93

Located in the heart of a charming small town on one of Germany's oldest squares, the rooms here are classically elegant with fine wooden furniture, some with views over church spires. Guests can also enjoy several restaurants, as well as a pool with sauna and steam bath. www.zurpostaltoetting.de

ANSBACH Bürger-Palais

€€

Neustadt 48, 91522 Tel (0981) 95132 Fax (08671) 95600 Rooms 12

Ornate and Baroque in style with a lovely garden and terrace. The restaurant is Bayarian rustic with stained-glass windows and waitresses in traditional costume. Period furniture, chandeliers and original fireplaces enhance the ambience. Prices go up during Bach week from the end of July to early August, www.hotel-buergerpalais.com

ASCHAFFENBURG Wilder Mann

11 ₩

€€

Löherstraße 51, 63739 Tel (06021) 3020 Fax (06021) 302234 Rooms 74

The Wilder Mann dates back to a 16th-century inn at the old bridge over the river Main. It has no-fuss, comfortable modern rooms and its restaurant of the same name (see p538) serves good quality regional food and you can even eat up on the roof terrace. There is also a spa area. www.hotel-wilder-mann.de

ASCHAU IM CHIEMGAU Residenz Heinz Winkler

₹ 11 € 7

€€€

Kirchplatz 1, 83229 Tel (08052) 17990 Fax (08052) 1799-66 Rooms 32

A culinary destination for real gourmands. Masterchef Heinz Winkler took over the original Post Hotel here in 1989. The former medieval building now has luxurious rooms plus invigorating and rejuvenating spa treatments. Enjoy the great terrace and garden. www.residenz-heinz-winkler.de

AUGSBURG Dom Hotel

₩ ★ ♥

€ €

Frauentorstraße 8, 86152 Tel (0821) 343930 Fax (0821) 34393200 Rooms 52

A recently restored historic hotel near the cathedral and within walking distance of all the sights and local restaurants. An extra plus is the pool, sauna and fitness area. The Dom has been family owned for four generations and lies in a quiet side street by the Bischofsmauer, which is the old town wall. www.domhotel-augsburg.de

AUGSBURG Romantikhotel Augsburger Hof

□ 11 ★

(€)(€)

Auf dem Kreuz 2, 86152 Tel (0821) 343050 Fax (0821) 3430555 Rooms 36

Located opposite Mozart's house in the centre of Augsburg. The old building has been recently renovated and is a five-minute walk from the pedestrian zone. The clean, fresh, contemporary rooms are decorated in a smart rustic, country-house style. Regional Swabian food is served in the fine restaurant. www.augsburger-hof.de

AUGSBURG Steigenberger Drei Mohren

(€)(€)

Maximilianstraße 40, 86150 Tel (0821) 50360 Fax (0821) 157864 Rooms 105

In the heart of the historic old town, it is an excellent base for visiting all the sights. Well-appointed rooms contain antiques and old paintings. It also has an excellent restaurant. A short walk from the museum, theatre and palaces. Comfort and high quality service. www.augsburg.steigenberger.de

BAMBERG Alt Ringlein

□ 計 ★

Dominikanerstraße 9, 96049 Tel (0951) 95320 Fax (0951) 9532500 Rooms 33

A pleasant and comfortable hotel in Bamberg's centre, Enjoy the choice of Franconian meals in its restaurant of the same name (see p538) and try one of several local beers, including their own home-brewed one. In the wing dating back to 1296 they have Franconian styled rooms. Make sure you spend time in the nice beer garden. www.alt-ringlein.com

RAMBERG Welcome Hotel Residenzschloss

€€€

Untere Sandstraße 32, 96049, Tel (0951) 60910, Fax (0951) 6091701, Rooms 184

This hotel has classic rooms in a listed building on the banks of the river Regnitz. Now a spa and conference hotel, it began life as a hospital back in 1789. Guests can choose between two restaurants, and there is also a piano bar and small change, which sometimes holds classical concerts, www.residenzschloss.com

BAYREUTH Bayerischer Hof

0. H & +

€(€)

Rahnhofstraße 14, 95444 Tel (0921) 78600 Fax (0951) 7860560 Rooms 50

A Juxury hotel within walking distance of the Oberfrankenhalle and Festival Hall for the famous Wagner Festspiele music festival. It offers spacious elegant rooms, a French bistro, a restaurant, a pool and sauna, garden area, sun terrace and also a roof terrace, www.baverischer-hof.de

RAYRELITH Lohmühle

利用 未

Radstraße 37, 95444, Tel (0921) 53060, Fax (0951) 5306469, Rooms 42

Located on the banks of the pretty Mülbach river, this privately owned three-star hotel offers a peaceful setting and classic contemporary decor in a half-timbered house close to the pedestrianized area. Expect traditional Franconian hospitality and fresh, locally-caught fish on the restaurant menu, www.hotel-lohmuehle.de

BAYREUTH Ramada Hotel Residenzschloss

〒 ★ ♥

€€

Erlanger Straße 37, 95444 Tel (0921) 75850 Fax (0951) 7585601 Rooms 102

This tastefully appointed four-star hotel, located on the edge of town, has a light airy restaurant looking out onto the garden. You can sample regional and international food from the menu. Wireless Internet is available and you can make use of the hotel's own fitness club with sauna and whirlpool, www.ramada.de

BERG, LAKE STARNBERG Seehotel Leoni

₹ 11 € 7

€€

Assenbucher Straße 44, 82335 Tel (08151) 5060 Fax (08151) 506140 Rooms 67

A stylish modern building with an Italian flair. The design conscious decor mixes cool cream rooms with a hint of colour. It has a superb garden and sits directly on Lake Starnberg in Berg. There is a good restaurant, spa and pool, and a wonderful panorama from the veranda and sun terraces. www.starnbergersee-hotel.com

BURGHAUSEN Landhotel Reisingers Bayerische Alm

€€

Robert-Koch-Str. 211, 84489 Tel (08677) 9820 Fax (08677) 982200 Rooms 23

A superior family-run hotel in Burghausen, overlooking Europe's longest castle and old town. Enjoy excellent food in the hotel's beautiful beer garden of the same name (see p539). Amenities include Wireless Internet, free parking and anti-allergy beds, a garden of the five senses and healthy or macrobiotic menus, www.bayerischealm.de

COBURG Festungshof

€)

Festungshof 1, 96450 Tel (09561) 80290 Fax (09561) 802933 Rooms 14

The Festungshof offers simple but adequate rooms in a comfortable rustic style. Located at the foot of the Coburg fortress, it dates back to 1337 and boasts great views across the surrounding countryside. Eat traditional Franconian fare in the wood-panelled Wallensteinstube or the large beer garden. www.hotel-festungshof.de

COBURG Hotel Weinstube Gerberhof

Gerbergaße 1, 96450 Tel (09561) 871187 Fax (09561) 871189 Rooms 8

The small Gerberhof is an old corner house steeped in tradition and history, from exposed beams to a typical regional wine tayern with rustic decor. You can enjoy regional cuisine but also some Thai specials. Situated at the edge of the pedestrianized area, it is a good spot from which to explore Coburg. www.hotel-gerberhof.de

COBURG Goldene Traube

河 門 大 世

€€€

Am Viktoriabrunnen 2, 96450 Tel (09561) 8760 Fax (09561) 876222 Rooms 72

Centrally located, this friendly hotel was established in 1756. The smart, classic restaurant prides itself on its good regional and creative cuisine, as well as its selection of wines. Rooms are cosy and comfortable, and there is also a steam room, sauna, whirlpool and a lovely summer terrace. www.goldenetraube.com

DACHAU Zieglerbräu

÷

€)

Konrad-Adenauer-Straße 8, 85221 Tel (08131) 454396 Fax (08131) 4543 9898 Rooms 12

In the middle of Dachau's old town, the Zieglerbräu has undergone a pleasant transformation. Major and much needed renovation has brought it into the 21st century. Rooms are bright, colourful, comfortable and fresh. As well as beer from its own brewery, it offers guests typical Bavarian and international food. www.zieglerbraeu.com

DINKELSBÜHL Deutsches Haus

(€)(€)

Weinmarkt 3, 91550 Tel (09851) 6058 Fax (09851) 7911 Rooms 18

The building dates back to 1440. Its famous half-timbered German High Renaissance façade is one of the best in the region. With classic old-style rooms, modern facilities and an excellent restaurant of the same name (see p539), the town of Dinkelsbuhl is a highlight on the Romantic Road from Würzburg to the Alps. www.deutsches-haus-dkb.de

EICHSTÄTT Adler Hotel

↑ 11

€ €

Marktplatz 22-24, 85072 Tel (08421) 6767 Fax (08421) 8283 Rooms 28

Double studios overlook the Baroque market square at the front and the town wall to the rear. Centrally located but quiet nonetheless. The rooms are furnished in a rather simple style but are clean and comfortable. The listed building retains a certain traditional atmosphere. www.adler-eichstaett.de

FREISING Isar Hotel

↑₃ FI

€€

Isarstraße 4 85356 Tel (08161) 8650 Fax (08161) 8655 55 Rooms 56

A family-owned hotel which is welcoming and centrally situated by the river Isar close to the old town. It has German country-style wooden decor and offers wireless Internet access in the lobby, as well as a bar and a restaurant specializing in Asian food. Bike hire is available plus a sauna and massage and beauty treatments, www.isarhotel.de

FÜSSEN Alpenblick

∆. 14 h

€(€)

Uferstraße 10, 87629 Tel (08362) 50570 Fax (08362) 505773 Rooms 61

Come to this hotel for the stunning view across the lake and Alps more than the style, which is quite cosy and chintzy. Füssen lies close to King Ludwig II's beautiful and famous castles. Opportunities for hiking, fishing, cycling or sauna, steam bath and solarium are all nearby, www.alpenblick.de

FÜSSEN Treff Hotel Luitpoldpark

কু দুৰু দুল

Luitpoldstraße 1–3 87629 Tel (08362) 9040 Fax (08362) 904678 Rooms 131

A majestic pale pink building with modern classic decor. It is in the heart of Füssen, surrounded by Allgäu's Alps. lakes and the pretty park, the King's Nook. Choose from four top restaurants serving Bayarian cuisine (see p540). The hotel also hoasts a large Fit and Fun athletic centre. www.luitnoldnark-hotel.de

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN Garmischer Hof

H 2

€€

Chamonixstraße 10, 82467 Tel (08821) 9110 Fax (08821) 51440 Rooms 54

Located close to the centre of town, Garmischer Hof is a traditional chalet-style hotel which is elegant, if a little dated. From the balconies of south-facing rooms you get a good view of the surrounding mountains and it is quiet at night. The hotel also boasts a garden and a restaurant with a summer terrace, www.garmischer-hof.de

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN Hotel Bayaria

ii ż

(€)(€)

Partnachstraße 51, 82467 Tel (08821) 3466 Fax (08821) 76466 Rooms 32

Bayaria is a small family-run hotel near the centre of Garmisch, offering quests old-fashioned charm and hospitality, It has a wonderful garden and you can even fish in the hotel's peaceful stretch of river. The guest rooms are tastefully decorated. www.hotel-bavaria-garmisch.com

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN Post-Hotel Partenkirchen

↑ H

€€€

Ludwigstraße 49, 82467 Tel (08821) 93630 Fax (08821) 9363 2222 Rooms 58

The oldest and most traditional building in town is located in the pedestrianized area. King Ludwig II housed his generals here. It has antique wooden furniture, traditional Bavarian style, rich colours, compact and cosy rooms, a lovely garden terrace with mountain views and an elegant restaurant, www.post-hotel.de

INGOLSTADT Ara Hotel

↑ H

€€

Schollstraße 10a 85055 Tel (0841) 95430 Fax (0841) 9543444 Rooms 95

The family-run Ara Hotel is near the centre of Ingolstadt. It is a large crimson-coloured hotel in a contemporary building with outdoor sun terrace and compact comfortable rooms. Also, non-smoking and disabled rooms are available. The Italian restaurant, La Tosca, is light and spacious. www.hotel-ara.de

KEMPTEN Baverischer Hof

7₃ F1 'च'

Füssener Straße 96, 87437 Tel (0831) 57180 Fax (0831) 5718100 Rooms 51

A four-star hotel in a traditional house in the centre of Kempten. It offers rooms with views over the park or river, a complimentary bottle of mineral water, Internet access, a Bayarian restaurant and beer garden, plus a small fitness area. The hotel also has a pretty garden and terrace for use in summer. www.bayerischerhof-kempten.de

LANDSHUT Romantik Hotel Fürstenhof

御門 大 🗑

(€)(€)

Stethaimer Straße 3, 84034 Tel (0871) 92550 Fax (0871) 925544 Rooms 24

An elegant and classic hotel with a romantic and regal aura, set in a beautiful Art Nouveau villa in the centre of Landshut. This hotel offers a sauna and a peaceful garden. The very good restaurant has one Michelin star and provides healthy cuisine using fresh local produce such as duck and venison. www.romantikhotels.com/landshut

LINDAU Reutemann Seegarten

Ø 11 € V

(€)(€)

Ludwigstraße 21, 88131 Tel (08382) 9150 Tel (08382) 915591 Rooms 64

A great setting right on the promenade of this pretty town on Lake Constance. There is a lovely view of the Austrian Alps across the lake from the balconies and terrace or bar. Fitness and wellbeing facilities plus an open-air pool can be used in the sister hotel next door. Make the most of the hotel's bikes, www.reutemann-lindau.de

LINDAU Bayerischer Hof

(€)(€)

Seepromenade, 88131 Tel (08382) 9150 Fax (08382) 915591 Rooms 97

A luxurious Neo-Classical building dating back to 1854, located on the harbour front which has spacious rooms and suites, good service and excellent fitness, pool, sauna and wellbeing facilities. Enjoy the international cuisine in the restaurant of the same name (see p540) and unforgettable lake views from the bar. www.bayerischerhof-lindau.de

LINDAU Villino

Hoyerberg 34, 88131 Tel (08382) 93450 Fax (08382) 934512 Rooms 18

Located behind Lindau in the bordering village of Hovern, on the Hoverberg hill, Culture and haute cuisine are paramount in this idyllic country residence set in a beautiful garden. Its restaurant of the same name (see p540) offers cuisine inspired by Asian-Italian fusion. There is a peaceful terrace, spa and wireless Internet access. www.villino.de

MURNAU AM STAFFELSEE Alpenhof Murnau

Ramsachstraße 8, 82418, Tel (08841) 4910, Fax (08841) 491100, Rooms 60

A top class spa and chalet-style retreat between Garmisch and Munich, close to Oberammergau which borders the Murnauer Moos nature reserve, overlooking the majestic Alps and Lake Staffel. It is an idyllic setting. Enjoy the renowned cuisine in the Reiterzimmer restaurant www.alpenhof-murnau.com

NEUBURG AN DER DONAU Neuwirt

ш

(F)

Färherstraße 88 86633 Tel (08431) 2078 Fax (08431) 38643 Rooms 24

A traditional and typical small Bayarian hotel with a cosy feel. It has a Stube tayern and a spacious beer garden in a sunny courtvard, partly undercover. The quest rooms are simply decorated with a rustic charm and are adequate and clean. www.neuwirt-neuburg.de

NELL-III M Römer Villa

↑」 ਜ

Parkstraße 1 89231 Tel (0731) 800040 Fax (0731) 80004-50 Rooms 23

A beautiful, elegant building like a French turreted manor house, set back from the road on the edge of a park. It has a lofty, vaulted reception, lounge with open fire, wine bar, high quality restaurant and a winter garden. The classic, traditionally furnished quest rooms come with a balcony or terrace. www.roemer-villa.de

NÜRNBERG Burghotel

↑

€€

Lammaaße 3, 90403 Tel (0911) 238890 Fax (0911) 2388 9100 Rooms 58

Charming simple rooms filled with light offer some great views over the roofs of the old town. Burghotel has traces of ancient castle life, such as armour and coats-of-arms. There is also a lounge with an open fire, rustic bar, sun terrace and sauna, www.altstadthotels-nuernberg.de

NÜRNBERG Romantik Hotel am Josephplatz

₩ ★ ♥ ■

€(€)

Josephsplatz 30–32, 90403 Tel (0911) 214470 Fax (0911) 21447-200 Rooms 36

A romantic hotel dating back to 1675 located within walking distance of Nürnberg's old centre. There are small apartments which would suit a family. Enjoy the good breakfast buffet, roof terrace, sauna, solarium, fitness room and winter garden. There are also several restaurants close by. www.romantikhotels.com/Nuernberg

NÜRNBERG Maritim Hotel Nürnberg

预 11 歳 ★ ▼ ■

€€€€

Frauentorgraben 11, 90443 Tel (0911) 23630 Fax (0911) 2363 823 Rooms 316

The Maritim has a slightly corporate feel (it is run by a large German chain), but has an excellent central location opposite the ancient city wall. There are good swimming and wellbeing facilities plus a choice of restaurants – Stube for international cuisine, the Blauer Salon café or the piano bar, www.maritim.de

ORFRAMMERGALI Turmwirt

↑ H

€)

Ettalerstraße 2, 82487 Tel (08822) 92600 Fax (08822) 1437 Rooms 22

Built in the Bavarian country-house style and owned by the same family for three generations, this small hotel has a welcoming wooden reception area with antique chests and rugs. It has a sun terrace and outdoor tables under chestnut trees, an à la carte restaurant and a café. www.turmwirt.de

OBERSTDORF Kappeler Haus

↑ □

Am Seeler 2, 87561 Tel (08322) 96860 Fax (08322) 968613 Rooms 45

This chalet-style hotel in the Allgäu Alps is located in the heart of Obertsdorf, the southern-most village in Germany. An in-house beautician is on hand to pamper quests. Music recitals take place in the hotel, too. There is also a garden and pool and it is set in a guiet location. www.kappeler-haus.de

PASSAU Residenz

↑_J H

(€)(€)

Fritz-Schäffer-Promenade, 94032 Tel (0851) 989020 Fax (0851) 98902200 Rooms 45

A fabulous river setting with great views of castle, boats and the Danube plays host to this historic building offering comfort and a lovely little terrace. Built in the 15th century, it has a history of river trade and travellers. The town square is very close as are the boats for taking trips down the Danube. www.residenz-passau.de

PASSALI Passauer Wolf

 \uparrow_{\downarrow}

€€€

Rindermarkt 6-8, 94032 Tel (0851) 931510 Fax (0851) 9315150 Rooms 41

This hotel is located in the old town of Passau, next to the pedestrian precinct and on the banks of the Danube. The St Stephan cathedral and several museums and unique sights are within walking distance. Choose between rooms with a view over the river, the old town or the courtyard. www.hotel-passauer-wolf.de

REGENSBURG Bischofshof am Dom

↑ 11

(€)

Krauterermarkt 3, 93047 Tel (0941) 5 84 60 Fax (0941) 5846 146 Rooms 55

Situated opposite the cathedral, this rustic-style hotel boasts an elegant, renowned restaurant, David (see p541). The rooms have a romantic style with pretty country-house fabrics in florals and stripes. It has a quiet location looking out onto the side street or courtyard. All rooms are individually decorated. www.hotel-bischofshof.de

REGENSBURG Sorat Inselhotel

₹1 '∀'

 \mathbb{E}

Müllerstraße 7, 93059 Tel (0941) 81040 Fax (0941) 810 4444 Rooms 75

This is a contemporary, comfortable and well-established hotel in a central location with lovely town views over the river. Enjoy the restaurant Brandner, lobby bar with full-length window and views downstream, plus spa, fitness centre and wireless Internet. www.sorat-hotels.com/de/hotel/regensburg

ROTHENBURG OR DER TAUBER Gasthaus am Siebersturm

11 *****

Spitalgaße 6, 91541, Tel (09861) 3355, Fax (09861) 933823, Rooms 9

A friendly and family-run hotel with romantic medieval charm near the old tower that serves good quality hearty Franconian meals in its own little restaurant. Some rooms look out over the famous Tauber vallers, Splash out on a group with a four-poster or stick to the more affordable standard doubles, www.sie-bersturm.de

ROTHENBURG OB DER TAUBER Prinzhotel

↑ 11

€€

An der Hofstett 3, 91541 Tel (09861) 9750 Fax (09861) 97575 Rooms 52

Within the old town walls, this historic hotel is in a very quiet location surrounded by the town's medieval history. All the sights are within walking distance. The hotel's restaurant serves Franconian–Italian cuisine. Parking is available in front of the hotel. www.prinzhotel.rothenburg.de

WERNBERG Hotel Burg Wernberg

禄 刊 ★ ∀

€€€€

Schlossberg 10, 92533 Tel (09604) 9390 Fax (09604) 939139 Rooms 25

Housed in a 12th-century turreted castle, now fully restored with all the modern comforts, this hotel has an unusual romantic, fairy-tale setting on a hill. The rooms are decorated in a Gothic style and amenities include a sauna, cigar lounge. Internet access. Some rooms have four poster beds, www.bura-wernbera.

WÜRZBURG/ HOCHBERG Minotel Zum Lamm

□ 計 ★

Hauptstraße 76, 97204 Tel (0931) 3045630 Fax (0931) 408973 Rooms 37

The hotel lies in Höchberg, outside the baroque centre of Würzburg and offers guests a typical Franconian hospitality and great gourmet food. It also boasts a lovely courtyard and garden. Guests are spoiled with great food and wine, and it is popular with cyclists, motorcyclists and hikers touring the area. www.lamm-hoechbera.de

BADEN-WURTTEMBERG

BAD MERGENTHEIM Hotel Gästehaus Alte Münze

Münzgasse 12, 97980 Tel (07931) 5660 Rooms 30

In a quiet location near the Knight's Castle in the centre of town, this hotel has light, airy and modern, if simply decorated, guest rooms. There is also a cosy familiar breakfast room for guests with lots of plants. Discover the rich history of the area, the powers of the mineral water and enjoy walks in the surrounding countryside. www.hotelaltemuenze.de

BAD MERGENTHEIM Hotel Victoria

↑ 11 '∀'

Poststraße 2–4 97980 Tel (07931) 5930 Rooms 78

An intimate and highly-regarded spa hotel located in the centre close to the Kurpark thermal baths. It has wellequipped rooms and wine buffs will appreciate the Vinothek restaurant and enjoy sampling some of the 400 top wines from France and Italy, which you can buy in the shop along with olive oils. www.wictoria-hotel.de

BADEN-BADEN Tannenhof

11 ₹1

Hans-Bredow-Straße 20, 76530 Tel (07221) 300990 Rooms 27

The Tannenhof has a wonderful, peaceful and idyllic setting with panoramic views. It is a great place to relax, whether in the garden, on the sun terrace, lawn or in the sauna and solarium. The house restaurant, Piemonte (see p542), specializes in Northern Italian food and wines. www.hotel-tannenhof-baden-baden.de

BADEN-BADEN Hotel Belle Epoque

п 🗏

Maria-Viktoria-Straße 2c, 76530 Tel (07221) 300660 Rooms 16

Housed in a beautiful Neo-Renaissance villa surrounded by its own verdant park, all the rooms and suites in this hotel are decorated with original furniture from the Belle Epoque period. An elegant hotel with excellent service. www.hotel-belle-epoque.de

BADEN-BADEN Steigenberger Badischer Hof

₹ 11 ₩

Lange Straße 47, 76530 Tel (07221) 9340 Rooms 139

Baden-Baden's oldest hotel offering palatial grandeur with palms, pillars and plants. Some of the guest rooms have balconies, while others have thermal water pumped into the bathrooms. There are also indoor and outdoor thermal pools, plus a medical spa. www.badischer-hof.steigenberger.de

BRUCHSAL Ritter

↑ 11

€€

Au in den Buchen 73, 83 & 92, 76646 Tel (07257) 880 Rooms 55

The Hotel Ritter is comprised of several houses with pleasant and comfortable guest rooms. Try a cool beer and barbecue in the beer garden or dine in the Brasserie. The hotel also offers a sauna and fitness area. Close to a beautiful Baroque castle and within a day-trip distance of Heidelberg, www.ritterbruchsal.de

ESSLINGEN Am Schelztor

₩ 🛧 🗹

€€

Schelztorstraße 5, 73728 Tel (0711) 39 69 640 Rooms 33

A small, personal, family-run hotel with a historic touch, this hotel boasts a panoramic view of the vineyards of Esslingen and the castle. Close to the station and large cinema complex. Relax in the Finnish sauna or use the fitness room. There is a good restaurant nearby in a converted stable. Families are welcome. www.hotel-am-schelztor.de

FREIRURG IM RREISGALL Zum Roten Bären

Oberlinden 12 79098 Tel (0761) 387 870 Rooms 25

Situated in a building that dates back to the 12th century, just minutes form the centre of Freiburg, this hotel also has a lovely traditional Stube, a tayern-style restaurant serving regional seasonal food. The guest rooms are comfortable and there is also a peaceful courtyard, www.roter-baeren.de

FREIBURG IM BREISGAU Colombi Hotel

Rotteckring 16. Am Colombi Park. 79098 Tel (0761) 21060 Rooms 117

This is a hotel offering elegant luxury and style, excellent service and a quiet, central location. It faces a park with a small castle and is not far from the Freiburg monuments. In addition to an award-winning gourmet restaurant, café, bar and tayern, the hotel has a pool, sauna and beauty spa, and other sports facilities nearby. www.colombi.de

HEIDELBERG Hotel Heidelberg

预刊 ★ ■

↑ H

€€€

Heuauerweg 35-37 69124 Tel (06221) 71040 Rooms 40

This hotel is located 6 km (4 miles) from Heidelberg's centre and castle in a relaxed setting with a beer garden and sun terrace. The guest rooms are comfortable with traditional wooden furniture, wireless Internet access and some have balconies. There is also a sauna and steam room. Families welcome. www.hotel-erna.de

HEIDELBERG Holländer Hof

彻 未

€€€

Neckarstaden 66, 69117 Tel (06221) 60500 Rooms 39

An old house in the centre of town with a pretty facade and classic, elegant rooms, this hotel is within easy reach of the famous castle and not far from the shops, restaurants, churches and pedestrianized area of Heidelberg. It is also close to where boat rides are run up and down the Neckar, www.hollaender-hof.de

HEIDELBERG Die Hirschgasse

↑ H

€€€€

Hirschaasse 3, 69120 Tel (06221) 4540 Rooms 20

First mentioned in 1472. Hirschaasse has a sense of history. The hotel boasts innovative chefs in its non-smoking restaurants, the very smart Le Gourmet and the Mensurstube, and a tayern, which has been the meeting place for Heidelberg's student fraternities for centuries. www.hirschgasse.de

HEIDELBERG Europäischer Hof Hotel Europa

Friedrich-Ebert-Anlage 1, 69117 Tel (06221) 5150 Rooms 118

The best in the area this hotel has luxurious suites, high quality rooms, courteous and helpful staff, à la carte dinners in the Kurfürstenstube, a terrace overlooking a garden, a shopping arcade and the Panorama spa and fitness club. There is everything you could possibly want to make it a memorable stay, www.europaeischerhof.com

HEILBRONN Ringhotel Burkhardt

TO HI ■

€€€

Lohtorstraße 7 74072 Tel (07131) 62240 Rooms 80

A modern concrete, steel and glass building, convenient for the romantic old centre of town. The rooms are comfortable and clean and the design is contemporary throughout. Very close to the public swimming baths with saunas. The hotel's restaurant, Vinopolitan, serves typical Swabian fare. www.ringhotel-heilbronn.de

KARLSRUHE Alfa Garni

Bürgerstraße 4, 76133 Tel (0721) 29926 Rooms 36

This small city hotel is right on Ludwigsplatz in the heart of Karlsruhe. The modern, light-filled building has comfortable rooms and art prints in the hallways. Enjoy the local cafés and restaurants with Mediterranean flair in the town centre, a few minutes by foot from the hotel. www.alfa-karlsruhe.com

KARLSRUHE Renaissance

↑_J H

€€€

Mendelssohnplatz, 76131 Tel (0721) 37170 Rooms 215

This is a recently renovated building with good location and facilities. It is not ideal for families as it has quite a business-like atmosphere. The Baroque castle, botanic gardens and zoo are close. Baden-Baden's casino and health spa are also not far away. Rooms are modern and functional. www.renaissancehotels.com

KONSTANZ Barbarrossa

↑ H

(€)(€)

Obermarkt 8-12, 78462 Tel (07531) 128990 Rooms 50

Centrally located in the heart of the old town, this is where in 1183, Emperor Friedrich I, known as Barbarossa (Red Beard) signed a peace treaty with Lombardy. It has a very old painted facade, terrace seating at the front, stylish modern rooms and bright décor with red accents. www.barbarossa-hotel.com

KONSTANZ Steigenberger Inselhotel

73 ₹1 '∀'

(€)(€)(€)

Auf der Insel 1, 78462 Tel (07531) 1250 Rooms 102

Situated on its own private island at the edge of the old town, right on Lake Constance, the Inselhotel is housed in a former Dominican monastery. The cloisters and murals have been preserved. Rooms, service and cuisine are all to the highest standard. www.konstanz.steigenberger.de

KONSTANZ Villa Barleben am See

 \mathbb{C}

Seestraße 15, 78464 Tel (07531) 942330 Rooms 8

Set in a wonderful spot right by the lake, this hotel is housed in a beautiful villa with antique furniture and ornaments, a cultivated atmosphere and a lovely terrace restaurant on summer evenings for hotel and outside guests. The guest rooms with a lake view are more expensive but worth the cost. www.hotel-barleben.de

LUDWIGSBURG Nestor

™ ■

€€€

Stuttgarter Straße 35/2 71638 Tel (07141) 9670 Rooms 179

This listed building in central Ludwigsburg, not far from the Barogue castle, the Friedenskirche church and market square, used to be a bakery. The quest rooms are modern; suites and executive doubles are also available. The hotel also has a sauna solarium and fitness area www.nestor-hotels.de

LUDWIGSBURG Schlosshotel Monrepos

€€

Domäne Monrenos 22 71634 Tel (07141) 3020 Rooms 80

Whether you want to laze on the pretty garden terrace under the chestnut trees, take a stroll around the Monrepos castle grounds, swim in the hotel's pool, have a massage or enjoy the culinary delights in one of the three restaurants. Monrepos is a peaceful and beautiful place to relax. www.schlosshotel-monrepos.de

MANNHEIM Maritim Parkhotel

预用急罗■

Friedrichsplatz 2 68165 Tel (0621) 15880 Rooms 173

A traditional hotel with an impressive facade situated on Friedrichsplatz with its historical buildings dating back to the Art Nouveau era. This elegant hotel has a palatial fover, a fine vaulted restaurant, spacious rooms, an indoor swimming pool and marbled bathrooms, all set in wonderful parkland, www.maritim.de

MARBACH Parkhotel

€€

Schillerhöhe 14 71672 Tel (07144) 9050 Rooms 56

Set in lush parkland with great views overlooking the Neckar valley and close to the Schiller Museum and the German literature archive, this hotel is ideally located and its lovely restaurant Schillerhöhe (see p544) allows you to dine out on the terrace in warmer weather to watch the beautiful sunset, www.parkhotel-schillerhoehe.de

RAVENSBURG Romantik Hotel Waldhorn

企品

Mariennlatz 15, 88212, Tel (0751) 36120, Rooms 30

A family-run hotel (five generations) in Rayensburg's pedestrianized area. The hotel has a fine gourmet restaurant serving delicious game and fish dishes. Its stylish, modern rooms are comfortable and classic with contemporary touches. Romantic, old and full of tradition but with all the comforts you would expect. www.waldhorn.de

ROTTWEIL Hotel Haus zum Sternen

€€

Hauptstraße 60, 78628 Tel (0741) 53300 Rooms 11

One of Rottweil's oldest stone houses, dating from 1278, this hotel is located in the heart of the historic town, It has many historic features, including an old wine cellar, which can be seen from the basement Platinum Bar. The rooms a mix of old charm and modern comfort. It has an excellent restaurant of the same name (see p.544), www.haus-zum-sternen.de

SALEM Reck's Hotel Restaurant

↑ H

€€

Bahnhofstraße 111 88682 Tel (07553) 201 Rooms 20

A high class hotel with the famous Reck's restaurant (see p544), close to Lake Constance in beautiful countryside, this hotel has pleasant, comfortable rooms with period furniture and views out over the orchard. The fine restaurant offers a renowned cuisine of fresh, regional and seasonal food, including fish from the lake. www.recks-hotel.de

SCHWÄBISCH GMUND Hotel Einhorn

↑_J H

(€)(€)

Rinderbachergasse 10, 73525 Tel (07171) 1046990 Rooms 18

This Baroque hotel is bright, elegant and modern, it is housed in an old building with a Roman entrance and modern facilities, such as wireless Internet access. It also boasts the Barbarossa jazz bar and the brick-vaulted Barbarossakeller restaurant, plus a separate summer café, Einhorn, in the old town. www.hotel-einhorn-centre.com

STUTTGART Hansa Hotel

11 元

(€)(€)

Silberburgstraße 114–116, 70176 Tel (0711) 6567800 Fax (0711) 617349 Rooms 80

This is located near the pedestrianized area, so it is a good central base for exploring the Swabian capital of Stuttgart. It is also close to shops, restaurants, the station and museums. There is Internet access, bike hire, a restaurant, Petrarca, offering Mediterranean specials, and a beer garden. www.hansa-stuttgart.de

STUTTGART Kronen Hotel

€€€

Kronenstraße 48, 70174 Tel (0711) 22510 Rooms 80

Located in a guiet spot, but still with easy access to the railway station, this hotel has a nice garden with terrace. Enjoy the great breakfast buffet in the modern breakfast room, looking out onto a palmed terrace. Guests can also take drinks at the little lobby bar or use the hotel sauna. www.kronenhotel-stuttgart.de

STUTTGART Hotel am Schlossgarten

Schillerstraße 23, 70173 Tel (0711) 20260 Rooms 116

A modern hotel in the extensive Schlossgarten parklands. It has luxurious rooms and suites with elegant floral furnishings. There are several dining options, such as the gourmet French restaurant, the Zirbelstube, or classic, light modern and regional food in the hotel restaurant. www.hotelschlossgarten.com

TÜBINGEN Krone

 $\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}$

Uhlandstraße 1, 72072 Tel (07071) 13310 Fax (07071) 133132 Rooms 48

A good place to stay to capture the romance and medieval feel of Tübingen's past. Krone has elegant, comfortable rooms and a refined restaurant, and has been in the same family for over a century. Sample typical regional dishes in the fine Uhlandstube restaurant or try the less formal Ludwig's for coffees and light meals. www.krone-tuebingen.de

ULM-LEHR Engel

Loherstraße 35, 89081, Tel (0731) 140400, Fax (0731) 14040-300, Rooms 46

A modern hotel located outside the centre of Ulm in the quieter suburb of Lehr, the rooms are clean and comfortable with simple decor. There is also a sauna and solarium, a bar and a restaurant. The owners also took over a local fish farm, so the fish dishes on the menu come highly recommended, www.hotel-engel-ulm.de

↑』 H

阿川絵大 | | ||

阿里

€€

€€

€€

 $\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}$

€)

€

€€

(€)(€)

WEINGARTEN Walk'sches Haus

Marktplatz 7, 76356 Tel (07244) 70370 Fax (07244) 703740 Rooms 26

This hotel is in a 16th-century half-timbered house. The original walls dated back to 1509, but it was rebuilt after damage in the Thirty Years' War (1618–48). It also has a wonderful little French restaurant with tables in the garden. The cuisine is light, contemporary and original, Internet access is available in the rooms, www.walksches-haus.de

RHINELAND-PALATINATE AND SAARLAND

BAD HONNEF Avendi Hotel

Hauptstraße 22, 53604 Tel (02224) 1890 Fax (02224) 189189 Rooms 101

This hotel sits regally overlooking the Rhine. There is a large fitness and wellbeing area, including an indoor pool. Creatively decorated and comfortable rooms have all the modern trappings. There is a restaurant as well as a bistro, which specializes more in drinks and small snacks than main meals. www.avendi.de

BAD NEUENAHR Steigenberger Hotel

Kurgartenstraße 1, 53474 Tel (02641) 9410 Fax (02641) 941410 Rooms 224

Architecturally impressive and very comfortable, the genteel rooms here are spacious and furnished with antiques. There is a restaurant, café, cocktail lounge and beer garden. There is also a golf course 2.5 km away, and the hotel has lockers for stowing golf bags and has the facility to book tee-times, www.bad-neuenahr.steigenberger.de

DUDENHOFEN Hotel Zum Goldenen Lamm

Landauer Straße 2, 67373 Tel (06232) 95001 Fax (06232) 98502 Rooms 29

A colourful and classy hotel in a quiet part of Dudenhofen, the bright and airy rooms are decorated in warm, Mediterranean colours. This theme continues into their garden restaurant which serves Greek-style food. Their restaurant inside focuses on seafood dishes. www.info-lamm.de

KOBLENZ Top Hotel Krämer Garni

Kardinal-Krementz-Straße 12, 56073 Tel (0261) 406200 Fax (0261) 41340 Rooms 25

A comfortable and new hotel, with a touch of the traditional German style. The rooms have a 1990s feel about the manned that a colourful touch which contrast well with the somewhat minimalist decor. The service is friendly and enhances the personal atmosphere of the hotel. www.tophotel-k.de

KOBLENZ Diehl's Hotel

Rheinsteigufer 1, 56077 Tel (0261) 97070 Fax (0261) 9707213 Rooms 57

Located on the banks of the Rhine and opposite where the Rhine and the Mosel rivers meet, this hotel has a terrace overlooking this beautiful area, and all guest rooms have a similar view. There is restaurant serving creative international cuisine, as well as banquet facilities for large functions such as weddings. www.diehls-hotel.de

KOBLENZ Hotel Scholz

Moselweißer Straße 121, 56073 Tel (0261) 94260 Fax (0261) 942626 Rooms 67

The oldest family-run hotel in Koblenz, it has been in the family for three generations. The present generation conducted extensive renovations and modernization. The small rooms are comfortable and well equipped. There is a rustic restaurant serving traditional German cuisine in an unmistakably German setting. www.hotelscholz.de

KOBLENZ Mercure

Julius-Wegeler-Straße 6, 56068 Tel (0261) 1360 Fax (0261) 1361199 Rooms 169

There is a home-like feeling to the colourful and comfortable rooms, which also offer nice views. The hotel has an elegant restaurant and a stylish lounge bar. There is also a good view from the higher floors of the hotel looking over Koblenz and the surrounding district. www.mercure.com

LAHNSTEIN Mercure Hotel Lahnstein

₹ ₩ ₩ ₩

7त । । । । । चा वि

11 €

↑ 1

€€€

Rhein-Höhen Weg/Zu den Thermen 1, 56112 Tel (02621) 9120 Fax (02621) 912100 Rooms 227

Located in a park which has beautiful footpaths. There are tennis courts nearby, and tennis lessons can be arranged for guests. The hotel has two restaurants with stunning views over the city, as well as a café and comfortable lounge bar. Their pool and wellness area has recently been renovated. www.mercure.de

MAINZ Favorite Parkhotel

11 ≈ ★ ♥ ■

€€€

Karl-Weiser-Straße 1, 55131 Tel (06131) 80150 Fax (06131) 8015420 Rooms 122

There is a pleasant surprise around every door here. Apart from the ultra-comfortable rooms and suites, there is a greenhouse with different varieties of palms, a gourmet restaurant and a beer garden that is a favourite meeting place for locals as well as quests. www.favorite-mainz.de

Key to Price Guide see p488 Key to Symbols see back cover flap

MAINZ Novotel Mainz

爾爾森美罗■ €€€

Augustusstraße 6 55131 Tel (06131) 9540 Fax (06131) 954100 Rooms 217

The bright and well-equipped rooms are very comfortable, and there is a spacious and relaxing pool area. Their restaurant offers elegant dining and a must-see wine bar. Kasematten, which is situated in a 17th-century vaulted cellar providing a distinctive atmosphere for wine tastings www.novotel.com

MARIA LAACH SeeHotel Maria Laach

ふりかりませる ₽₽₽

Ortsteil Maria Laach, 56653 Tel (02652) 5840 Fax (02652) 584522 Rooms 69

Situated near a 900-year old monastery, this hotel scores highly for relaxation and comfort. Beautiful lake views, a pleasant café with terrace seating in their winter garden as well as a high-class restaurant of the same name (see p546), serving delicate regional and seasonal dishes, make this a delightfully comfortable place to stay. www.seehotel-maria-laach.de

NIEDERZISSEN Hotel am Bowenberg

Auf Brohl 7 56651 Tel (02636) 6217 Fax (02636) 8317 Rooms 9

A quaint hotel set amidst peaceful countryside, some of the rooms here have balconies overlooking the tree tops surrounding the hotel, and there is a library with a big fireplace, which is the perfect place for contemplating the next day's activities. It is close to the city centre and nearby tennis courts. www.hotel-am-bowenberg.de

RÖMERBERG Gasthof Zum Engel

€)

Berghäuser Straße 36, 67354 Tel (06232) 60120 Fax (06232) 601230 Rooms 10

A cute little questhouse with a long history, this is the oldest inhabited house in the town, and was used as the bishop's residence in the 16th century. There are ten warm, bright and friendly rooms to choose from. The restaurant serves traditional German food, and offers a large wine list of local and international wines, www.zumengel.de

RÜSSELSHEIM Columbia Hotel

阿可念;罗国

Stahlstraße 2-4, 65428 Tel (06142) 8760 Fax (06142) 876805 Rooms 150

A hotel with a high level of service and excellent facilities. A favourite with both business quests and tourists. Each room is styled with warm colours and wooden furniture. There is a well-stocked gym and a landscaped pool. The main restaurant is French in style. They also have a bistro and lounge bar. www.columbia-hotels.de

SAARBRÜCKEN Hotel am Triller

11 総 ★ 🐨

€€€

Trillerweg 57, 66117 Tel (0681) 580000 Fax (0681) 58000303 Rooms 110

An artistically inclined hotel with a lot to offer, the top floor suites here are astronomically themed, and have been named after constellations. The design merely begins here. Other themes include Moulin Rouge and The Four Seasons. There is a pool and an extensive wellness area. It is a ten-minute walk to the town centre. www.hotel-am-triller.de

SAARBRÜCKEN Victor's Residenz-hotel

€€€

Deutschmühlental, 66117 Tel (0681) 588210 Fax (0681) 58821199 Rooms 145

This hotel is close to the French border and reflects the French influence well. It is surrounded by a forest and next to a lake. The atrium lobby is impressive and leads into their own casino and cocktail lounge. There is a luxurious wellness area and a restaurant that serves gourmet French cuisine. www.victors.de

SPEYER Bistumshaus St. Ludwig

Johannsstraße 8, 67346 Tel (06232) 6098 Fax (06232) 609600 Rooms 61

Constructed on the site of a 14th-century monastery and adjacent to St Ludwig's church, which dates back to the 13th century, this hotel is centrally located for exploring the city. Rooms are cosy and compact. It also has extensive facilities for business quests. The restaurant can cater for large functions. www.bistumshaus.de

SPEYER Hotel am Wartturm

€)

Landwehrstraße 28, 67346 Tel (06232) 64330 Fax (06232) 643321 Rooms 17

Named after an old defence tower that dates back to 1451, this hotel is not, however, housed in the tower, It does offer comfortable rooms, though, some of which have balconies overlooking a garden. There is also a very cheerful wine bar that oozes character, where you may also enjoy light meals. www.hotel-amwartturm.de

SPEYER Domhof

↑ 1.

(€)(€)

Bauhof 3, 67346 Tel (06232) 13290 Fax (06232) 132990 Rooms 49

Here you will find very spacious rooms that have been decorated with a refined taste. The hotel is set in a guiet area that has a calm and serene atmosphere. The elegant restaurant offers creative cuisine and the beer garden is a sanctuary of traditional German beer drinking. www.domhof.de

SPEYER Lindner Hotel & Spa Binshof

Binshof 1, 67346 Tel (06232) 6470 Fax (06232) 647199 Rooms 135

The focus of this hotel is on the wellness and spa facilities, which should not be missed. All tastes are catered for in this huge spa complex. The guest rooms are just as luxuriously furnished, and there is a restaurant that serves fantastic Mediterranean food. www.lindner.de

TRIER Hotel Blesius Garten

11 金 🛪

€(€)

Olewigerstraße 135, 54295 Tel (0651) 36060 Fax (0651) 360633 Rooms 62

This is a unique hotel with beautiful rooms. It dates back to the 18th century, although it has kept itself modern through renovations. The winter garden restaurant has an open fireplace and they operate a terrace in the summer months. They also have their own brewery. www.blesius-garten.de

TRIFR Hotel Furener Hof

Furener-Straße 171 54294 Tel (0651) 82400 Fax (0651) 800900 Rooms 86

11 € 7

An ostentatious building, standing on the corner of the street. Many of the rooms have small balconies and the corner rooms have wonderful views. There is a delightful garden terrace where you can enjoy breakfast. Elegant and comfortable rooms and a majestic dinjing area, where you can sample their fine cuisine. www.eurener-hof.de

TRIER Römischer Kaiser

↑ 11

€€

Porta-Nigra-Platz 6, 54292 Tel (0651) 9770100 Fax (0651) 97701999 Rooms 43

This hotel is housed in part of a historic building in the illustrious Porta Nigra Square. First mentioned in 1885, the hotel was refurbished in 1994, and now offers a decadent retreat in the heart of Trier. The rooms are tastefully furnished and spacious. It has a highly recommended restaurant of the same name (see p546). www.hotels-trier.de

TRIER Mercure Hotel Trier Porta Nigra

↑ H ■

€€€

Porta-Nigra-Platz 1, 54292 Tel (0651) 27010 Fax (0651) 2701170 Rooms 106

One of the largest hotels in Trier, it is well situated and furnished with all the comforts that you could expect, including a fitness centre, wellness area and spa facilities. The surrounding area is littered with historical sights and buildings. Their restaurant is well known and there is an imaginatively decorated bar. www.dorint.de

ZWEIBRUCKEN Romantik Hotel Landschloss Fasanerie

11 @ *

Fasanerie 1, 66482 Tel (06332) 9730 Fax (06332) 973111 Rooms 50

Only 45 minutes by car to either Luxembourg or France, this hotel has a relaxing rose garden filled with many different varieties of the flower. The rooms all have wonderful views; the suites and loft apartments look out onto the garden and forest. There is an indoor pool and a Michelin-starred restaurant. www.landschloss-fasanerie.de

HESSE

ALSEELD Zum Schwalbennest

↑↓ 11

€

Pfarrwiesenweg 12–14, 36304 Tel (06631) 911440 Fax (06631) 71081 Rooms 65

First constructed in 1968, the "Swallow's Nest" is a serene and cheerful place to stay. It has comfortable rooms, a rustic restaurant, relaxed beer garden and is within an easy walking distance of the centre of Alsfeld. There is even a dance floor for those fond of a waltz or two. www.hotel-schwalbennest.de

BAD HOMBURG ParkHotel

№ 11 🖈 🗑 🗏

Kaiser-Friedrich-Promenade 53-55, 61348 Tel (06172) 8010 Fax (06172) 801400 Rooms 123

A very pleasant, privately-owned hotel, where the beds are very inviting and the rooms are decorated with a sense of colour and with an eye for comfort. The hotel offers baby beds and babysitters can be arranged at reception. There are two restaurants, one Italian and one Chinese. www.parkhotel-bad-homburg.de

BAD HOMBURG Maritim Kurhaushotel

№ 11 & 12 17 1

Ludwigstraße 3, 61348 Tel (06172) 6600 Fax (06172) 660100 Rooms 158

Right next door to a peaceful park, some of the rooms here have balconies overlooking the trees, and all are impeccably decorated. There is a nice pool for laps, and golfing facilities for the enthusiasts. They have a bistro, bar and a good restaurant which caters to the vegetarian palate. www.maritim.de

DARMSTADT Hotel an der Mathildenhöhe

҈ *

Spessartring 53, 64287 Tel (06151) 49840 Fax (06151) 498450 Rooms 23

A small hotel that combines a central location with a peaceful ambience, each of the rooms here have balconies and are quite large with all the modern necessities available. There is a definite family environment here, and they offer a babysitting service through reception. www.hotel-mathildenhoehe.de

DARMSTADT Jagdschloss Kranichstein

↑ 11

Kranichsteiner Straße 261, 64289 Tel (06151) 97790 Fax (06151) 977920 Rooms 15

Housed in one of the most beautiful Renaissance castles in the region, this hotel offers a unique experience. A perfect setting for a wedding reception, the hotel often finds all 15 of their rooms booked by wedding parties. The grounds are stunning and well kept, and there is a beautiful forest nearby. www.hotel-jagdschloss-kranichstein.de

DIEZ City Hotel Diez

₹

€

Bergstraße 8, 65582 Tel (06432) 921569 Fax (06432) 921570 Rooms 20

A small hotel with a vibrant feel, the rooms here are relatively small but comfortable all the same. They have a barbecue grill in the garden area, as well as a rustic restaurant inside. Although a small hotel, there is also a well-equipped pool and a fitness and wellness area. www.city-hotel-diez.de

ELTVILLE AM RHEIN Kronenschlösschen

11

Rheinallee, 65347 Tel (06723) 640 Fax (06723) 7663 Rooms 18

The hotel fits beautifully in the little village of Eltville. The rooms are stylish and charming, each having its own individual shape and furnishings. The bathrooms are works of art. The restaurant serves very elegant cuisine, as does the bistro, which may tempt those less inclined to empty their wallet. www.kronenschloesschen.de

FRANKFURT Arabella Sheraton Grand Hotel

Konrad-Adenauer-Straße 7 60313 Tel (069) 29810 Fax (069) 2981810 Rooms 378

There is everything here that you could want from a hotel, and possibly more. Ultra-comfortable rooms, fantastic location and elegant and classy cuisine at the Peninsula Atrium restaurant (see p547) all wrapped up in an extremely stylish package. The amenities are reflected in the price, so bear that in mind, www.arabella-sheraton.de

FRANKFURT AM MAIN Hotel Borger

€€

Triebstraße 51 60388 Tel (06109) 30900 Fax (06109) 309030 Rooms 36

A family-styled hotel with a comfortable atmosphere and a convenient location, the rooms here offer the basic amenities, and the hotel is the perfect base for exploring the city and surrounding areas. The villa has been in the family for over a hundred years and was renovated late in the 20th century, www.hotel-borger.de

FRANKFURT AM MAIN Frankfurt Hotel Savov

阿甘桑夫罗

Wiesenhüttenstraße 42 60329 Tel (069) 273960 Fax (069) 27396795 Rooms 144

This hotel has a classy attitude. Situated in a convenient location for trade fairs and with good access to the airport. guests will find the hotel itself a charming place to explore. There is a swimming pool on the top floor, which offers a rare and heautiful skyline view of Frankfurt am Main. www.savovhotel.de

FRANKFURT AM MAIN Hessischer Hof

Friedrich Ebert Anlage 40, 60325 Tel (069) 75400 Fax (069) 75402924 Rooms 117

An exquisitely styled hotel with a sense of class. The rooms are styled either in a modern manner or with more of an antique feel about them, with some of the suites furnished with pieces from the Prince of Hesse. The restaurant and bar compliment each other well, www.hessischer-hof.de

FRANKFURT AM MAIN Steigenberger Frankfurter Hof

Am Kaiserplatz, 60311 Tel (069) 21502 Fax (069) 2150900 Rooms 321

A very large and comprehensive hotel where everything you desire is catered for and is done in style. The rooms are impeccable and the restaurants are among the best in the city. It is situated less than a kilometre away from the main station and has very helpful and friendly staff. www.frankfurter-hof.steigenberger.de

FULDA Maritim Hotel am Schlossgarten

预 11 総 ★ ▼ ■

€€€

Pauluspromenade 2, 36037 Tel (0661) 2820 Fax (0661) 282499 Rooms 112

An ostentatious hotel with a refined atmosphere, some of the upper floors here have balconies with great views, and all the guest rooms are spacious and luxurious. There are two restaurants in unique settings; one in an intimate wine cellar; the other in a historic hall with Baroque styling. They also have a good pool area, www.maritim.de

KASSEL Adesso Hotel Astoria

€€€

Friedrich-Fhert-Straße 135 34119 Tel (0561) 72830 Fax (0561) 7283199 Rooms 40

Friendly and comfortable service with bright and airy rooms, this is guite a well-located hotel that satisfies guests of all types, be it for business, visiting the many museums in the area or exploring the region. There are very good conference facilities here, with six dedicated rooms and extensive inclusive packages. www.adesso-hotels.de

KASSEL Hotel Residenz Domus

€€€

Erzbergerstraße 1–5, 34117 Tel (0561) 703330 Fax (0561) 70333498 Rooms 55

An intimate hotel that gives each guest a feeling of being personally looked after, the Art Nouveau design of the Domus's rooms betrays the modern comforts that are offered. In addition though, there is also an old-fashioned gambling room with a pool table. www.hotel-domus-kassel.de

KASSEL Schlosshotel Bad Wilhelmshöhe

徳田大田

€€€

Schlosspark 8, 34131 Tel (0561) 30880 Fax (0561) 3088428 Rooms 101

Dating back to 1767, this hotel is situated in one of the most exclusive areas of Kassel. There are beautiful grounds to wander through and a plethora of wellness programmes to enjoy. The guest rooms are refined and relaxing, and the suites are spacious and opulent without being garish and over-exuberant. www.schlosshotel-kassel.de

LIMBURG Romantik Hotel Zimmermann

(€)(€)

Blumenröder Straße 1, 65549 Tel (06431) 4611 Fax (06431) 41314 Rooms 20

Different styles in each of the rooms, ornate furnishings and a restful environment all make this hotel an ideal base for all types of guest. Each bathroom is fitted with Italian marble, and for the convenience of business guests there is wireless Internet access throughout the hotel. www.romantikhotel-zimmermann.de

MARBURG Waldecker Hof

₩ ★ ♥

(€)(€)

Bahnhofstraße 23, 35037 Tel (06421) 60090 Fax (06421) 600959 Rooms 40

A comfortable and pleasant hotel with a nice pool and fitness area, the hotel itself is still family run, and the service reflects a high level of care that has been put into creating a welcoming atmosphere for guests. The delicious buffet breakfast is great. Situated close to the main train station. www.waldecker-hof-marburg.de

MARBURG Vila Vita Hotel & Residenz Rosenpark

図 11 歳 ★ ▼ ■

©©©

Rosenstraße 18-28, 35037 Tel (06421) 60050 Fax (06421) 6005100 Rooms 138

Ostentatious and elegant at the same time, the glass dome in the lobby lends a palatial quality to the hotel, as does the impeccable service. There are 30 apartments also available, which is why it is also called "Residenz". There are three restaurants to choose from, as well as a wine cellar and lounge bar. www.vilavitahotels.com

RÜDESHEIM AM RHEIN Jagdschloss Niederwald

€€

Am Niederwald 1, 65385 Tel (06722) 71060 Fax (06722) 7106666 Rooms 52

Set in a historic hunting castle, this hotel offers all that you could wish for, including a tennis court and swimming pool. Its restaurant has a terrace with a panoramic view, and the wine cellar has the best wines from the region. The cocktail bar serves a very nice I ong Island Ice Tea. www.niederwald.de

WEILBURG Schlosshotel Weilburg

利用杂罗

€€

Am Schloss 35781 Tel (06471) 50900 Fax (06471) 5090111 Rooms 50

This castle from the Renaissance period provides a luxurious place to rest one's weary head. Apart from the beautiful architecture and design of the hotel itself, the surrounding area exudes a sense of history. The rooms are tastefully decorated and spacious. It has an excellent restaurant, Alte Reitschule (see p548). www.schlosshotel-weilburg.de

WETZLAR Landhotel Naunheimer Mühle

↑ H

Mühle 2 35584 Tel (06441) 93530 Fax (06441) 935393 Rooms 33

Set in a quiet area adjacent to the Lahn, the hotel itself was once mill-powered by the flowing waters. With an intimate design mixed with a traditional slanting towards comfort, the rustic restaurant serves cuisine from the region. The terrace and outside seating area is a great place to relax www.naunheimer-muehle.de

WIESBADEN Klee am Park

↑↓ 11

€€

Parkstraße 4, 65189 Tel (0611) 90010 Fax (0611) 9001310 Rooms 60

Recently renovated and enlarged, most rooms here have their own balcony, offering a wonderful view over Wiesbaden. The restaurant serves delicious international dishes, and the surrounding park is the perfect place to burn off some calories from over-indulging. www.klee-am-park.de

WIESBADEN Nassauer Hof

N H € * V ■ ••••••

Kaiser-Friedrich-Platz 3, 65183 Tel (0611) 1330 Fax (0611) 133632 Rooms 139

This exclusive hotel offers eight different grades of superb rooms, all the way up to the presidential suite. The architecture and design brings a historic sense of aristocratic opulence, and yet this marries well with the modern amenities. The wellness area and restaurant attracts many non-residential guests. www.nassauer-hof.de

NORTH RHINE-WESTPHALIA

AACHEN Holiday Inn

(€)(€)

Krefelder Straße 221, 52070 Tel (0241) 18030 Fax (0241) 1803444 Rooms 99

With good service and a friendly atmosphere, this hotel has a similar layout to most Holiday Inns. You can expect comfortable rooms with good amenities, which in this hotel includes wireless Internet access throughout. There is a restaurant, bistro and a beer garden is used in the warmer months. www.aachen-holidav-inn.de

AACHEN Best Western Hotel Royal garni

□★■

(€)(€)

Jülicher Straße 1, 52070 Tel (0241) 182280 Fax (0241) 18228699 Rooms 35

Centrally located, this hotel makes a good base for business meetings, trade fairs and sightseeing tours into the city and surrounding areas. The rooms have a minimalist style and the suites come with private terraces and kitchenettes. The Aachener Cathedral lies within half a kilometre of the front door. www.royal.bestwestern.de

AACHEN Sofitel Aachen Quellenhof

□ 11 総 ★ ▼ ■

€€€€

Monheimsallee 52, 52062 Tel (0241) 91320 Fax (0241) 9132100 Rooms 185

A grand hotel in every sense of the word, the elegant rooms and suites here are just the tip of the iceberg. The sauna, swimming pool and fitness area are stunning, as is the restaurant which offers Mediterranean-style food and sprawls out onto a terrace with a wonderful view of the park. www.sofitel.com

BIELEFELD Ambiente Hotel Rütli

② 11 ★ ♥

€)

Osningstraße 245, 33605 Tel (0521) 92120 Fax (0521) 9212445 Rooms 73

This restful hotel set in parklands dates back to 1908 and was restored in 1993. The interior has been modernized, along with the luxurious rooms. There is a fantastic beer garden and terrace area, which is perfect for relaxing in after returning from a hike in the surrounding woods. Another highlight is the restaurant. www.ruetli.de

BIELEFELD Brenner Hotel Diekmann

御門

€ €

Otto-Brenner-Straße 133, 33607 Tel (0521) 29990 Fax (0521) 299 9220 Rooms 65

A quaint little hotel with a homespun charm, there is a small bowling alley here which adds to the unique character of the hotel. There is also a restaurant that caters to large groups and functions, as well as a bar with lots of traditional paraphernalia on the walls and a beer garden outside. www.brenner-hotel.de

BONN Schlosshotel Kommende Ramersdorf

↑ H

€€

Oberkasslerstraße 10, 53227 Tel (0228) 440734 Fax (0228) 444400 Rooms 18

Situated in a fairytale castle, the rooms and hallways here are filled with antiques and works of art that help set it apart from other hotels. There is a medieval feel to the hotel, and each room is individual. The restaurant is also worth a visit. www.schlosshotel-kommende-ramersdorf.de

€€€

RONN Kaiser Karl

↑... 11.

Voraebirasstraße 56. 53119 Tel (0228) 985570 Fax (0228) 9855777 Rooms 42

Exquisitely decorated rooms and a keen eye for details make this hotel a welcome oasis of leisure and pleasure. All rooms cater to those with allergies. Many famous quests have passed through the doors, and more than a few have tinkled the keys of the piano in the old-fashioned and dignified bar, www.kaiser-karl-hotel-bonn.de

RONN Hilton Ronn

阿甘桑美罗

PPP

Rerliner Freiheit 2 53111 Tel (0228) 72690 Fax (0228) 7269700 Rooms 252

With spacious and classy rooms equipped with all the modern conveniences you would expect, the hotel caters well for families, as does their wellness and fitness area. They have a nice pool and gym, which is the perfect place to burn off the calories consumed in the fantastic. Mediterranean-style restaurant. www.hilton.de/bonn

RONN Dorint Sofitel Venushera

An der Casselsruhe 1, 53127 Tel (0228) 2880 Fax (0228) 288288 Rooms 85

This hotel sits on the banks of the Rhine and has colourful and decadent rooms that overlook the surrounding forest. There are a number of sporting facilities in the area, such as golf and tennis, and there is a jogging track inside the hotel for fitness fans, www.accorhotels.com

DETMOLD Lippischer Hof

↑_J H

€€

Willy-Brandt-Platz 1, 32756 Tel (05231) 9360 Fax (05231) 24470 Rooms 25

There is an attractive view from the windows of this hotel, set in the heart of Detmold. It has a deceptive simplicity with a high level of comfort and service. The restaurant is quite romantic, and on occasion there are functions held in the larger rooms used for conferences with set menus. www.hotellippischerhof.de

DÜSSELDORF Hotel Weidenhof

* 🔃

Oststraße 87, 40210 Tel (0211) 1306460 Fax (0211) 13064619 Rooms 36

A ten-minute walk from all the central sights, there is a genteel charm to the rooms here, which are tastefully decorated with subtlety. It is a relatively small hotel but one that attracts many returning guests. There are six apartments which are well suited to families and small groups, www.hotelweidenhof.de

DÜSSELDORF Ibis Hauptbahnhof

€€

A hotel with all the basic comforts and necessities, this hotel has a nice little bar near the modern lobby and wireless Internet throughtout. The location is one of the best in Düsseldorf for access to the train station and general sightseeing. Guaranteed to deliver exceptional value, www.ibishotel.com

DÜSSELDORF Madison I

阿里

(€)(€)

Graf-Adolf-Straße 94, 40210 Tel (0211) 16850 Fax (0211) 1685328 Rooms 100

Konrad-Adenauer-Platz 14, 40210 Tel (0211) 16720 Fax (0211) 1672101 Rooms 166

There is a sporting and fitness centre connected to the hotel, which is very extensive and well equipped. Each room is tastefully decorated with warm colours and cosy furniture. There is a bistro with a terrace for the warmer months and another bistro in the hotel. www.madison-hotels.de

DÜSSELDORF Steigenberger ParkHotel

徴刊★■

 $\mathbb{E} \mathbb{E} \mathbb{E}$

Königsallee 1a, 40212 Tel (0211) 13810 Fax (0211) 1381592 Rooms 130

This is an elegant hotel with delicately styled rooms, some of which are furnished with antiques while retaining a high level of comfort at the same time. Well situated, close to the Altstadt and the Rhine, a highlight here is the restaurant, which has a diverse menu and an extensive wine list. www.duesseldorf.steigenberger.de

FSSFN Astoria Hotel

€ €

Wilhelm-Nieswandt-Allee 175, 45326 Tel (0201) 83584 Fax (0201) 8358040 Rooms 102

With new, intimate and colourful rooms in a modern building that has recently been renovated and expanded, this hotel is ideally placed for sightseeing and visiting the business districts. For functions there is the facility to arrange catering for the outside areas of the hotel, which are leafy and peaceful. www.astoria-hotels.de

ESSEN Welcome Hotel

冠門 ★ ■

(€)(€)

Schützenbahn 58, 45127 Tel (0201) 17790 Fax (0201) 1779199 Rooms 176

A very modern and colourful hotel, the rooms here are filled with everything you could desire, and the beds are soft and comfortable. They can cater for people suffering sensitive allergies, for whom it would be better to avoid their beautiful but pollinated garden restaurant which operates in summer. www.welcome-to-essen.de

ESSEN Hotel Bredeney

₩ ★ ♥ ■

€€€

Theodor Althoff Straße 5, 45133 Tel (0201) 7690 Fax (0201) 7691143 Rooms 293

Close to the fairgrounds and other central locations, this hotel has become popular among business guests. There is a colourful lounge and lobby area, and very large facilities for conferences, including a hall. They also have a pool, fitness area and indoor skittles. www.hotel-bredeney.de

ESSEN Schlosshotel Hugenpoet

August-Thyssen-Straße 51, 45219 Tel (02054) 12040 Fax (02054) 120450 Rooms 25

Built on ruins that date back to 778, this castle-hotel is amongst the finest in the region. Each room is guaranteed to captivate the attention, and the wedding suite is furnished with antiques from the 16th century. There are two fantastic restaurants, each serving delicious cuisine from around the world. www.hugenpoet.de

HOXTER Ringhotel Niedersachsen

€€

Grubestraße 3-7 37671 Tel (05271) 6880 Fax (05271) 688444 Rooms 80

Set in a beautiful area this hotel has an expansive wellness and spa area, with a sizeable swimming pool. Some of the guest rooms have an unorthodox style to them, with big wooden beams. The hotel also boasts four restaurants to keep your taste buds occupied. www.hotelniedersachsen.de

KÖLN Hotel Kosmos

₹ 11 総 ★ ▼ ■

€€

Waldecker Straße 11–15, 51065 Tel (0221) 67090 Fax (0221) 6709321 Rooms 161

Set in an otherwise dull area this hotel is an oasis of comfort and hospitality. The air-conditioned rooms are spacious and well equipped. The hotel is still family run and great care has gone into retaining its charm. They have a large pool and good fitness facilities. It attracts mostly business quests for trade fairs. www.kosmos-hotel-koeln.de

KÖLN Hyatt Regency

™ ™ ∰ ★ ♥ ■

€€€

Kennedy-Ufer 2a, 50679 Tel (0221) 8281234 Fax (0221) 8281370 Rooms 306

One of the best hotels in Germany, this Hyatt has a prime location perfect both for crossing the bridge into the Old Town and visiting the trade fairs. All tastes are catered for and the view over the Rhine and the Old Town is unparalleled. www.cologne.regency.hyatt.de

KÖLN Hotel im Wasserturm

₹ 11 ■

€€€€

Kaygasse 2, 50676 Tel (0221) 20080 Fax (0221) 2008888 Rooms 88

Integrated into a historic water tower in the heart of Cologne, this top class hotel is one of the most distinctive in the city. The building's shape has spawned oddly shaped rooms, some with two levels. On the 11th floor is an opulent restaurant, La Vision (see p.551), that has been awarded a Michelin star: www.hotel-in-wasserturm.de

KÖLN Intercontinental

□ 11 総 ★ ▼ ■

€€€€

Pipinstraße 1, 50667 Tel (0221) 28060 Fax (0221) 28061111 Rooms 262

Opened in 2003, this new Intercontinental is one of the most refined hotels in the city. It is very close to the Old Town, and an easy walking distance from the trade fairs. The bars, restaurants and cocktail lounges have become famous by themselves, and the fitness/pool area is state of the art. www.koeln.intercontinental.com

KÖLN Jolly Hotel MediaPark

₹ 11 ★ 🗑 🗏

€€€€

Im MediaPark 8b, 50670 Tel (0221) 27150 Fax (0221) 2715999 Rooms 217

Part of an Italian chain of hotels, this one displays the subtle and refined styling that serves them well. There are luxurious and comfortable rooms and facilities, situated in the MediaPark, next to the tall tower. There are excellent fitness and wellness facilities, and guests receive discounts at the nearby Holmes gym. www.jollyhotels.de

LEMGO Im Borke

EI .

€

Salzufler Straße 132, 32657 Tel (05266) 1691 Fax (05266) 1231 Rooms 37

Here you will find a peaceful atmosphere that is well-suited to families. A lot of care has been put into making this hotel a welcome and friendly place to stay, and it has paid off. There is a restaurant of the same name (see p551) serving international cuisine in a traditional environment, and there is also a bowling alley downstairs, www.hotel-im-borke.de

MÜNSTER Schloss Wilkinghege

ш

€€

Steinfurter Straße 374, 48159 Tel (0251) 144270 Fax (0251) 212898 Rooms 35

A successful blend of modern comfort and historic charm, the top suite here has been furnished with antiques, and the bathroom adorned with Philip Starck fixtures. The restaurant serves refined cuisine with a subtle French flair. Next door there is a golf course and tennis courts. www.schloss-wilkinghege.de

MÜNSTER Romantik Hotel Hof zur Linde

↑ T1 '∀'

€€€

Handorfer Werseufer 1, 48157 Tel (0251) 32750 Fax (0251) 328209 Rooms 48

Built on the banks of the Werse river, with magnificent views and plenty of room to stroll around, this is about as authentic as a farm cottage hotel gets. There are suites and cottages with their own fireplaces and the restaurant serves high quality dishes, seasoned with herbs fresh from the hotel's own garden. www.hof-zur-linde.de

SIEGEN Best Western Parkhotel Siegen

□ ★ ■

€€

Koblenzer Straße 135, 57072 Tel (0271) 33810 Fax ((0271) 3381450 Rooms 88

A hotspot for business guests, the area around this hotel is quiet and serene, which makes for a relaxing atmosphere. The rooms and suites are quite modern and stylishly furnished. The ideal evening involves their sauna and steam room, the cocktail lounge and a leisurely stroll to a nearby restaurant. www.parkhotel-siegen.bestwestern.de

WINTERBERG Steymann

₩ 👬 🕏

€)

Schneilstraße 4, 59955 Tel (02981) 929540 Fax (02981) 9295450 Rooms 35

This hotel is suited to families and a mature clientèle. It has pleasant rooms, all with balconies. Those wishing to make this a base for exploring the beautiful scenery can return to the relaxing pool and sauna before sampling the local cuisine in the restaurant and, of course, using the bowling alley. www.hotel-steymann.de

WUPPERTAL Intercity Wuppertal

₩ 11 🖈 😈 🗏

€€€

Döppersberg 50, 42103 Tel (0202) 43060 Fax (0202) 456959 Rooms 160

Close to the main train station and the attractions of the town centre, as well as the business district, this hotel is well set-up for business guests, with wireless Internet access in each corner of the hotel and extensive conference facilities. The cocktail bar and restaurant lack atmosphere, although the cuisine is rewarding, www.intercityhotel.de

LOWER SAXONY HAMBURG AND BREMEN

BREMEN Landhaus Radler Garni

Kastanienweg 17 27404 Tel (04281) 98820 Fax (04281) 988210 Rooms 16

A family-owned and managed hotel, this place is a little distant from the centre of Bremen, but offers a peaceful atmosphere that is appreciated by families. There is a playground for children and the surrounding area is perfect for cycling and exploring on foot. Nextled in the rear is a well-maintained little garden, www.landhaus-radler.de

BREMEN Landhaus Höpkens Ruh

Oberneulander Landstraße 69, 28355 Tel (0421) 205853 Fax (0421) 2058545 Rooms 8

A small, stylish hotel with decor emulating the French country style, each of the eight rooms here is individually A sinally stylish note with describing the Henci country size, each of the eight forms here is inclinately furnished, which will be obvious when you see the level of detail that has been applied. Set in parkland with a good restaurant serving seasonal and regional cuising www.heenkens-ruh.de

BREMEN Lichtsinn

₽₽

Rembertistraße 11, 28203 Tel (0421) 368070 Fax (0421) 327287 Rooms 35

Very spacious and genteel, with a splash of home-style comfort, this hotel is family owned and has a sedate elegance that symbolizes German hospitality. Each room is individually furnished and quite tastefully so, with some having a more modern decor than others. The river is a few minutes walk away, www.hotel-lichtsinn.de

BREMEN Best Western Zur Post

Bahnhofsplatz 11, 28195 Tel (0421) 30590 Fax (0421) 3059591 Rooms 170

Böttcherstraße 2, 28195 Tel (0421) 36960 Fax (0421) 3696960 Rooms 235

There is an undercurrent of understated unorthodoxy here, although it all works very well. Some of the rooms have imaginative murals and decoration, and the bar is worthy of admiration for its colour and style. The hotel is in the heart of the city, and sits right outside the central train station. www.zurpost.bestwestern.de

BREMEN Hilton Bremen

⑩ 計 総 ★ ♥ ■

€€€

Generous and exuberant rooms and services, with a great location next to the river and the marketplace square in the centre. It is also a stone's throw away from the Casino Bremen, which lures many quests to its ritzy opulence. There are impressive fitness facilities and a relaxing pool area, www.hilton.de/bremen

RREMEN Park Hotel

预刊総大▼■

eee

Im Bürgernark, 28209 Tel (0421) 34080 Fax (0421) 3408602 Rooms 177

Opulent and expansive, the Park Hotel brings to life all your dreams of luxury and comfort. The grounds are well sculpted and spectacular, as are the rooms which are guaranteed to make you feel relaxed. There are several restaurants, bars and bistros, so take your pick. www.park-hotel-bremen.de

BÜCKEBURG Große Klus

Am Klusbrink 19, 31675 Tel (05722) 95120 Fax (05722) 951250 Rooms 31

Situated in a serene forested area you are assured of a peaceful sojourn here. The building itself dates back to the 1700s, though the rooms are guite modern. There is a restaurant serving seasonal and local cuisine and their beer garden serves the house's own beer, which is brewed in the hotel microbrewery. www.kluesker.de

CELLE Hotel am Braunen Hirsch

↑_J H

(€)(€)

Münzstraße 9c, 29223 Tel (05141) 93930 Fax (05141) 939350 Rooms 24

Primarily famous for the historic restaurant next door, this hotel has a lot to offer the weary traveller. With comfortable and spacious rooms that are sunny and cheerful, and architecture that is angular and sharp, affecting the layout of the rooms, every corner of this hotel has its own character and charm. www.hotelambraunhirsch.de

CFLLE Fürstenhof Celle

№ 11 絵 ★ ♥ 🗏

Hannoversche Straße 55–56, 29221 Tel (05141) 2010 Fax (05141) 201120 Rooms 73

Seated amidst history in beautiful Celle, this top class hotel is a comprehensive palace of comfort. Their Michelinstarred gourmet restaurant, Endtenfang (see p.552), attracts guests from all over the region. Enjoy authentic Italian fare at the rustic Palio restaurant. There is also an impressive fitness area. www.fuerstenhof-celle.de

CLOPPENBURG Park Hotel

₹

(€)(€)

Burgstraße 8, 49661 Tel (04471) 6614 Fax (04471) 6617 Rooms 51

Restful, cheerful and quiet, lying close to the Soeste river and near to the centre of Cloppenberg, this makes a good nest for fledgling explorers new to the town. There is a golf course, tennis courts and a skittle alley nearby for sportier guests, and a sauna bath for the more contemplative ones. www.parkhotel-cloppenburg.de

DUDERSTADT Zum Löwen

₩ 計 総 ★ ♥

€€

Marktstraße 30, 37115 Tel (05527) 3072 Fax (05527) 72630 Rooms 42

Renowned also for its restaurant, this hotel provides a comfortable respite from the larger chain hotels. Some of the rooms have balconies, from which guests can view the beautiful city of Duderstadt. The restaurant serves regional German cuisine, and there is an intimate cellar bar. www.hotelzumloewen.de

FINRECK Der Schwan

Tiedexerstraße 1 37574 Tel (05561) 4609 Fax (05561) 72366 Rooms 12

Set amongst the romantic buildings of Einbeck, and providing a central location from which to discover the town. the rooms here are quite comfortable and all tinged with pink. The restaurant offers creative and experimental cuisine which is both delicious and artistic www.schwan-einbeck.de

GOSI AR Treff Hotel Das Brusttuch

Hoher Weg 1 38640 Tel (05321) 34600 Fax (05321) 346099 Rooms 13

The building is part of the UNESCO-protected Altstadt in Goslar. Although the building itself is over 480 years old, it has been successfully renovated to provide all the modern comforts. There is a large restaurant in the hotel and a swimming pool for guests. The rooms are spacious and quaint, www.treff-hotels.de

GOSLAR Der Achtermann

阿田总文 罗国

↑, **...

71 'U'

Rosentorstraße 20, 38640, Tel (05321) 70000, Fax (05321) 7000999, Rooms 152

A touch of the modern in a historic city, this hotel is decorated in an Art Deco style with an efficiency that sets a high a standard. The pool and sauna area is quite large and well equipped, of fering yoga and massages. There is a restaurant and a pice little café outside with seating in the shade of trees, www.decachtermann.de

GÖTTINGEN Intercity Göttingen

□ 計 ★

(€)(€)

€€

€€

Bahnhofsallee 1a, 37081 Tel (0551) 52110 Fax (0551) 5211500 Rooms 145

Not far from the main train station and in easy walking distance of the centre and attractions, this hotel has neat and tidy rooms that lack a little individuality. Theré are good facilities in the rooms, however, and for business quests there are a number of conference rooms and halls, www.intercityhotel.de

GÖTTINGEN Romantik-Hotel Gebhard

Goetheallee 22-23, 37073 Tel (0551) 49680 Fax (0551) 4968110 Rooms 50

Popular amongst business guests. Gebhard Hotel is also fantastically located close to both the centre of town and the main train station. Warm and luxurious rooms make for a comfortable stay, and the little restaurant provides a romantic atmosphere. There is also a sauna and whirlpool. www.gebhardshotel.de

HAMBURG Central Hotel

€€

Präsident-Krahn-Straße 15, 22765 Tel (040) 306150 Fax (040) 383049 Rooms 35

Opposite the Hamburg-Altona train station and close to the city centre, this hotel is in a trendy part of Hamburg, and is surrounded by a vibrant nightlife. The rooms are compact and modern. There are two well-known theatres nearby, and the hotel often has information about what is showing, www.hamburg-erleben.de

HAMBURG Crown Plaza Hamburg

预刊総大▼■

€€€

Graumannsweg 10, 22087 Tel (040) 228060 Fax (040) 2208704 Rooms 285

Close to the main train station and the trade fair areas and renovated in 2002, this Crown Plaza is packed full of facilities such as an indoor pool, full fitness area, restaurant, cocktail lounge and more. There are good amenities for families and children accompanied by their parents eat for free in the restaurant. www.ichotelsgroup.com

HAMBURG Le Royal Meridien

70 H £ ∀

€€€

An Der Auster 52-56, 20099 Tel (040) 21000 Fax (040) 21001111 Rooms 284

Situated on the banks of Alster lake this modern, luxury hotel offers some of the best views Hamburg has to offer. Rooms are sparsely furnished but offer all the amenities of a first-class hotel. The Meridien spa and fitness club is considered to be one of the best designed in Germany, www.leroyalmeridien-hamburg.com

HAMBURG Side Hotel Hamburg

(9)

Drehbahn 49, 20354 Tel (040) 309990 Fax (040) 30999399 Rooms 178

This five-star dream of a hotel is a comfortable and centrally located alternative to the more classic top hotels in the downtown area. The architecture and interior design is cutting edge; rooms are decorated in soft, shiny beige and white colours. For a little extra you can book an Executive room with a kitchenette. www.side-hamburg.de

HAMBURG Kempinski Hotel Atlantic Hamburg

An Der Alster 72, 20099 Tel (040) 28880 Fax (040) 247129 Rooms 252

Luxurious and refined, offering the best in service and comfort, some rooms and suites here overlook the nearby lake. They have an ultra-modern fitness and wellbeing area, as well as two restaurants serving international and Chinese cuisine. There is also a small private cinema, which is a little pricey. www.kempinski.com

HAMBURG Park Hyatt

Bugenhagenstrasse 8, 20095 Tel (040) 3321234 Fax (040) 33321235 Rooms 252

The Park Hyatt is located in the heart of historic Hamburg and off Mönckebergstrasse – the city's main shopping pedestrian zone. Rooms are modern and feature large-screen TVs and moveable bathroom doors. The breakfast buffet offers a huge range of international and German dishes. www.hamburg.park.hyatt.com

HAMBURG Vier Jahreszeiten

Neuer Jungfernstieg 9-14, 20354 Tel (040) 34940 Fax (040) 34942600 Rooms 157

Elegance and style reign in this hotel. Many rooms overlook the Alstersee and some have a private balcony. Each room is individually furnished with both antiques and modern pieces. There are a number of bars and restaurants in the hotel, one of which has been awarded a Michelin star. www.raffles-hvj.de

HANNOVER Rest Western Parkhotel Kronsherg

€€€

Gut Kronshera 1 30539 Tel (0511) 87400 Fax (0511) 867112 Rooms 200

Conveniently located opposite the fairground, the hotel has become a favourite with business guests. With lots of light and space, the lobby is crowned with a glass dome. There is a mixture of room styles which are all comfortable and spacious. The restaurants and bistros offer character and good food, www.kronsberg.bestwestern.de

HANNOVER Hotel Kaiserhof

₩ 計 🕏

€€€

Ernst-August-Platz 4, 30159 Tel (0511) 36830 Fax (0511) 3683114 Rooms 78

Housed in a historic building constructed in 1915, this hotel has been well preserved. There is a subtle French style to the tastefully detailed rooms. It is located opposite the main train station and close to the city centre. The restaurant is highly acclaimed, and serves trout that they raise themselves in a courtyard fountain, www.centralhotel.de

HANNOVER Novotel Hannover

湿 H ま

€€€€

Podbielskistraße 21–23, 30163 Tel (0511) 39040 Fax (0511) 3904100 Rooms 206

Housed in an old biscuit factory, this hotel has luxurious amenities and guest rooms, with a playground for children, as well as a babysiting service if required. It also has extensive conference facilities, indeed one conference room still retains some old machinery from the factory days, www.novotel.de

HILDESHEIM Parkhotel Berghölzchen

₹1 '∀'

€€

Am Berghölzchen 1, 31139 Tel (05121) 9790 Fax (05121) 979400 Rooms 80

This hotel dates back to 1770 when it began as a restaurant, which is still the jewel in their crown, serving regional delicacies. It has spacious and well-equipped rooms. A cosy beer garden operates in the warmer months. There is also the facility for long-term renting rooms. www.berghoelzchen.de

HOHEGING Hotel-Restaurant Waldesruh

ĭ1 ★ ∀'

€

Am Baumweg 2, 49685 Tel (04471) 94850 Fax (04471) 948516 Rooms 22

This peaceful little hotel is nestled amongst trees and pastures. Tennis courts are available for guest use and there is a golf course nearby. The recently refurbished rooms are cosy and offer the basic comforts. The restaurant serves regional cuisine, with a reasonable selection for vegetarians, www.waldesruhhotel.de

KÖNIGSLUTTER Avalon Hotelpark Königshof

₩ # ₩ # ₩

€€

Braunschweigerstraße 21a, 38154 Tel (05353) 5030 Fax (05353) 503244 Rooms 174

This is a spread-out hotel with a lot of amenities, including tennis courts, swimming pool and bowling alley. They have 15 conference rooms, with many conference packages that include spa treatments and sporting facilities. The restaurant, Merlin (see p554), serves regional cuisine, and there is also a disco. www.hotelpark-koenigshof.de

LAUENAU Hotel Montana Lauenau

11

€

Hanomagstraße 1, 31867 Tel (05043) 91190 Fax (05043) 9119100 Rooms 53

A handy hotel that scores well with visitors arriving by car. The hotel and the rooms have a calm quality about them and the beds are very soft and inviting. This is a modest hotel, although it is truly comfortable and offers a pleasant stay. The restaurant is really no more than a convenience. www.montana-hotels.de

LÜNEBURG Bremer Hof

↑ 11

€€

Lüner Straße 12, 21335 Tel (04131) 2240 Fax (04131) 224224 Rooms 53

A family affair since 1889, the Bremer Hof has been serving up comfort and hospitality unceasingly. Individually styled, some rooms incorporate the dark wooden structural beams into their design. It stands in the shadow of St Nicolai church, and is within easy walking distance of the town centre. www.bremer-hof.de

OLDENBURG Heide

预 11 総 ★ 🐨

€€

Melkbrink 49-51, 26121 Tel (0441) 8040 Fax (0441) 884060 Rooms 92

Chic yet comfortable, the style of the lobby here is an insight into the design of the rooms, with a contrast of dark and light colours accentuating space. The hotel is quite modern and is popular with business guests. Their elegant restaurant serves international and seasonal dishes, and has a large wine cellar. www.dormotel-heide.de

OSNABRÜCK Steigenberger Hotel Remarque

□ 11 ★ ■

€€

Natruper-Tor-Wall 1, 49076 Tel (0541) 60960 Fax (0541) 6096600 Rooms 156

Named after German author Erich Remarque (1898–1970), whose works can be found in their elegant library, you can request a room here with a water bed. The restaurant, Vila Real, is highly acclaimed and has a very comprehensive wine list. The hotel also has a wine shop where they sometimes hold wine tastings. www.hotelremarque.de

OSNABRÜCK Walhalla

↑↓ Ī

€€

Bierstraße 24, 49074 Tel (0541) 34910 Fax (0541) 3491144 Rooms 66

Built in 1690 and recently renovated, the Walhalla is almost a museum of architecture. The loft has been converted into spacious and beautiful suites, while their standard rooms are also dapper and spacious. There is a peaceful beer garden and two restaurants. www.hotel-walhalla.de

WOLFENBÜTTEL Hotel Tulip

 \uparrow_{\downarrow}

€€

Bahnhofsstraße 9, 38300 Tel (05331) 98860 Fax (05331) 988661 Rooms 48

Close to the centre of Wolfenbüttel. An airy lobby awaits you, as does the prompt and friendly service. There is a cinema and bowling alley on the premises, as well as an American-style bar. They also have a nice terrace where you may dine in the summer months. www.tulipinnwolfenbuettel.de

WOLFENBÜTTEL Parkhotel Altes Kaffeehaus

€€

Harztorwall 18, 38300, Tel (05331), 8880, Fax (05331), 888100, Rooms 75

This hotel hosts a mixture of the modern and traditional. While the rooms are a little generic, the atmosphere around the hotel is friendly. The beer garden is popular in the summer months, and the wine offers an opportunity to sample local wines. The French restaurant of the same name is also worth a visit (see 6554) www.parkhotel-wolfenbuertel.de

WOLFSBURG Brackstedter Mühle

₹ 11 ★ ∀

€€

Zum Kühlen Grunde 2, 38448 Tel (05366) 900 Fax (05366) 9050 Rooms 50

Set in the peaceful German countryside, each room here is unique due to the development and refurbishment of the hotel. There are banquet facilities offering delicacies such as suckling pig and other traditional dishes. It also has a beautiful winter garden with a glass roof. www.brackstedter-muehle.de

WOLFSBURG Tryp Hotel

限刊★■

Willy-Brandt-Platz 2, 38440 Tel (05361) 899000 Fax (05361) 899444 Rooms 121

With well-designed and spacious rooms and suites that have an early 1990s colour scheme, this hotel is close to the Volkswagen plant and theme park. There is a classy restaurant with an extensive wine list. In the summer months they operate an outdoor terrace. www.solmelia.com

SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN

BAD MALENTE Gartenhotel Weisser Hof

刊念法世

Vossstraße 45, 23714 Tel (04523) 99250 Fax (04523) 6899 Rooms 18

A small hotel with a big heart. Family owned and family run, there is also a high level of professionalism here. The rooms are bright and spacious, and there is an excellent restaurant of the same name (see p555). They have a nice pool and wellness area and there is a nearby golf course. The garden has ample space for children to play. www.weisserhof.de

FLENSBURG Am Wasserturm

π̈

Blasberg 13, 24943 Tel (0461) 3150600 Fax (0461) 312287 Rooms 34

Located in a quiet area – you are guaranteed to get a peaceful night sleep here – and furnished in a reserved and tasteful manner, this hotel caters to large groups and offers special rates for 15 people and up. The breakfast is diverse and satisfying, and you can enjoy it out on the terrace. www.hotel-am-wasserturm.com

HELGOLAND Atoll Ocean Resort

₩ 🕅 🗮 🕇 🗑

Lung Wai, 27498 Tel (04725) 8000 Fax (04725) 800444 Rooms 49

This is the hotel of tomorrow, designed in a futuristic and creative manner. Each room is a work of art, with colour blending well with a minimalistic style. Situated overlooking the water, many rooms have a wonderful view. The restaurant serves fantastic fresh seafood dishes as well as international cuisine. www.atoll.de

KIEL Kieler Yacht-Club

↑ 11

Hindenburgufer 70, 24105 Tel (0431) 88130 Fax (0431) 8813444 Rooms 57

The rooms here have picturesque sea views and some have balconies or are connected to terraces. Close to all the water-related activities and attractions. They also have quite large conference facilities and offer extensive packages. The restaurant serves some of the freshest seafood in town. www.hotelkieleryachtclub.de

KIEL Maritim Hotel Bellevue

₩ *

Bismarckallee 2, 24105 Tel (0431) 38940 Fax (0431) 3894790 Rooms 89

With a uniquely styled lobby and foyer that reflects a desire to break away from convention, there is a spectacular panoramic view from the hotel. The terrace also provides a great view and dining is available. The cocktail bar is quite swanky, with an extensive cocktail menu. www.maritim.de

LÜBECK Kaiserhof

11 €

Kronsforder Allee 11–13, 23560 Tel (0451) 703301 Fax (0451) 795083 Rooms 58

Sitting in the middle of the "island", you could not ask for a better location. Close to historic attractions and museums, some guest rooms here have a balcony. Their restaurant focuses on fish and there is an elegant banquet hall which is often used for weddings and other functions. www.kajserhof-luebeck.de

LÜBECK Radisson SAS Senator Hotel

11 🙈 🕇 🗏

Willy-Brandt-Allee 6, 23554 Tel (0451) 1420 Fax (0451) 1422222 Rooms 224

Overlooking the river and close to the centre, the rooms here are very comfortable and bright. There are many facilities to keep children occupied and when accompanied by parents they eat in the restaurant free. Along with the restaurant, there is a cocktail bar, a café and a tavern with adjoining beer garden. www.senatorhotel.de

OEVERSEE Romantik Hotel Historischer Krug

№ 11 🗯 🛪 🔻

€€

Grazer Platz 1, 24988 Tel (04630) 9400 Fax (04630) 780 Rooms 60

This hotel has been in the same family since 1815, and has a history that goes back to the 16th century. It is a sanctuary of relaxation and luxury, providing massages, beauty treatments, spas and saunas. They also have a nice restaurant and terrace. www.historischer-krug.de

€€

RATZERURG Der Seehof

砂門無大▽

Lüneburger Damm 1–3 23909 Tel (04541) 860100 Fax (04541) 860102 Rooms 50

This hotel is situated so close to the water it is practically floating. There are magnificent water views from the rooms, some of which have large terraces and balconies. The restaurant specializes in fish and other seafood, although their regional dishes are specialized uplar as well. The wellness are a jeculier comprehensive, www.derseehof.de

SCHLESWIG Waldschlösschen

↑ 11 🙈

EE

Kolonnenweg 152, 24837 Tel (04621) 3830 Fax (04621) 383105 Rooms 117

Lying a little out of town, there are many opportunities for walking, cycling and exploring. The rooms are large and tastefully furnished. Access to the wellness area and swimming pool is included in the rates. There are two restaurants and a chic lounge har, www.hotel-waldschloesschen.de

SYLT Lindner Hotel Windrose

预刊杂光罗

€€€

Strandstraße 21–23, 25996 Tel (0211) 5997310 Fax (0211) 5997348 Rooms 91

Only a few short steps away from the beach, the wellness and pool area here is impressive and offers treatments of curative Sylt mud. The bar and restaurant is decorated in an old-fashioned style. The food is less ornate but still delicious and has earned the restaurant several acrollades www.lindper.de

SYLT Miramar

№ * ▼■

Friedrichstraße 43, 25980 Tel (04651) 8550 Fax (04651) 855222 Rooms 67

Perched overlooking the sandy beach and with scintillating views, some rooms here have balconies and each is individually designed and furnished. Their wellness and pool area provides massages and manicures. There is also a seafood-oriented restaurant. www.hotel-miramar.de

SYLT Romantik-Hotel Benen-Diken-Hof

11 €

€€€€

PPP

Süderstraße 3, 25980 Tel (04651) 93830 Fax (04651) 9383183 Rooms 45

A delightful country hotel with all the amenities of an inner-city hotel. The hotel also specializes in the rental of apartments for longer stays, while it is still possible to rent their studio apartments for short stays. There is a golf course in the area and the pool is very elegant, with terrace seating outside. www.benen-diken-hof.de

TIMMENDORFER STRAND Maritim Seehotel

€€€€

Strandallee 73, 23669 Tel (04503) 6050 Fax (04503) 6052450 Rooms 248

The shores of the Baltic Sea lap at the door of this magnificent hotel. All the floors have great views, with the rearfacing rooms overlooking the parklands. Some of the rooms also have amazing corner balconies. There is a huge wellness area, as well as an indoor and an outdoor pool if the sea is not enough for you. www.maritim.de

TRAVEMÜNDE Hotel Columbia Casino

70 11 歳 ★ ▼ ■

 $\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}$

Kaiserallee 1 23570 Tel (04502) 3080 Fax (04502) 308333 Rooms 73

This hotel has variously styled rooms that are all superbly furnished and detailed. Some rooms have a sea view and terrace. The conference and function facilities are stunning and there is an elegant ballroom. There is a choice of three restaurants with an emphasis on seafood, and there is a golf course nearby, www.columbia-hotels.de

TRAVEMÜNDE/LÜBECK Maritim Strandhotel

№ 11 🙈 🛪 🗑 🗏

€€€

Trelleborgallee 2, 23570 Tel (04502) 890 Fax (04502) 892020 Rooms 240

The hotel sits at the mouth of the estuary and enjoys superb panoramic views. Some of the guest rooms have balconies. The café on the 35th floor has an amazing view over the surrounding district and Baltic Sea and attracts quests from outside the hotel. www.maritim.de

MECKLENBURG-LOWER POMERANIA

BAD DOBERAN Hotel Friedrich Franz Palais

↑ H

€€

August-Bebel-Straße 2, 18209 Tel (038203) 63 03 6 Fax (038203) 62 12 6 Rooms 50

The Laura Ashley-inspired rooms here, with lots of floral and frilly bits, are certainly very comfortable. All rooms have generously sized beds, overflowing with fluffy pillows and quilts, as well as mini bars and satellite television. Some overlook a monastery garden, while others peer over a town park. www.friedrich-franz-palais.de

DARGUN Hotel am Klostersee

īi 🛧

€

Am Klosterdamm 3, 17159 Tel (039959) 25 20 Fax (039959) 25 22 8 Rooms 26

Located near a monastery lake and ideal for an active family holiday, there is plenty for kids to do here and there are a couple of different restaurant options nearby. The rooms are comfortably decorated, but are by no means the main attraction. www.klostersee-hotel.de

GREIFSWALD VCH Hotel Greifswald

₹ 🕏

€

Wilhelm-Holtz-Straße 5-8, 17489 Tel (03834) 51 60 Fax (03834) 51 65 16 Rooms 122

This is an extensive hotel with not only rooms but also 48 apartments for longer stays, or for family groups. The rooms are basic yet adequate. There are a number of buildings housing the amenities and rooms. You can guarantee privacy here and the staff are friendly. www.vchhotel-greifswald.de

GREIFSWALD Kronprinz Hotel Greifswald

€€

22 Lange Straße, 17489 Tel (03834) 79 00 Fax (03834) 79 01 11 Rooms 31

Set in a good location in the town centre and close to the cathedral, the rooms here are uncluttered and clean, with simple wooden furniture and patterned bedspreads. They also have a mini bar and television, but are otherwise a bit short on features – you just get the basics. www.hotelkronprinz.de

GREIFSWALD Parkhotel Greifswald

№計輸業大

€€

Pappelallee 1, 17489 Tel (03834) 87 40 Fax (03834) 87 45 55 Rooms 62

This is a business-cum-tourist hotel that offers a competent compromise between the needs of those who are working and those who are relaxing. All rooms have a desk, but otherwise it is all pretty laid-back. The attic rooms have a lovely charm to them, with exposed beams adding a nice sense of character. www.parkhotel-greifswald.de

GÜSTROW Kurhaus am Inselsee

11

€€€

Heidburg 1, 18273 Tel (03843) 85 00 Fax (03843) 85 01 00 Rooms 39

A very relaxing hotel in a peaceful, sleepy setting. One of the more lavish hotels in the area, the wellness treatments and packages are very attractive. The rooms are comfortable and some offer a nice view of the surrounding countryside. The garden terrace has a great atmosphere, especially in the afternoons. www.kurhaus-guestrow.de

HEILIGENDAMM Kempinski Grand Hotel Heiligendamm

例 11 絵 ★ ▼ ■

Prof.-Dr.-Vogel-Straße 16–18, 18209 Tel (038203) 74 00 Fax (038203) 74 07 47 4 Rooms 225

This is an opulent hotel with such stately buildings and a lovely seaside location that it is easy to simply relax and embrace it all. There are five big buildings, one of which is a castle, and all of which offer rooms that effortlessly combine class and comfort. This hotel is entirely unique, www.kempinski-heliliaendamm.com

INSEL RÜGEN Hotel am Meer & Spa

€€€

Strandpromenade 34, 18609 Tel (038393) 44 0 Fax (038393) 44 44 4 Rooms 60

A beautiful hotel in a fantastic position, just off the beach, the rooms here are stunning, offering a maritime theme. Each floor has its own theme colour, and different wood types to match. The wellness and fitness area is quite new, and expansive. You will definitely find yourself relaxing the moment you arrive. www.hotel-am-meer.de

MECKLENBURG Hotel Vier Jahreszeiten Binz

₩ # # ₩ # ₩

€€€

Zeppelinstraße 8, 18609 Tel (038393) 500 Fax (038393) 50430 Rooms 76

Not far from the centre of Binz, and a short distance from the beach, the rooms here have a very bright and fresh style, while still retaining some classic, smart (almost naval) formality. This is a very polished and classy hotel in a lovely beachside town. www.jahreszeiten-hotels.de

MECKLENBURG Robinson Club Fleesensee

ĭ1 ﷺ ▼ **■

€€€

Penkower Strasse 2, 17213 Tel (039932) 80200 Fax (039932) 8020100 Rooms 201

This resort in the heart of the Mecklenburg lake region is one of Germany's top wellness and sports resorts. A country-club style setting and friendly staff makes this a great base for exploring the unspoil to surroundings or for relaxing in the spa. A good restaurant serves light regional fish dishes. www.robinson.com

NEUBRANDENBURG Landhotel Broda

↑
↑
↑

Oelmühlenstraße 29, 17033 Tel (0395) 569170 Fax (0395) 5691729 Rooms 13

There is a summery holiday atmosphere here but the standard of service and inclusion of conference facilities place it in the business-class category. All rooms have a terrace or balcony, satellite television and are wheelchair-friendly (spacious and uncluttered). www.landhotel-broda.de

PREROW TOP CountryLine Hotel Waldschloesschen

团 11 歳 ★ ∀ ≣

Bernsteinweg 4, 18375 Tel (038233) 61 70 Fax (038233) 61 74 03 Rooms 33

You will have to walk 300 m (980 ft) if you want to stroll on sandy Baltic Sea beaches, but while in the hotel you will enjoy the luxury of what was once a lavish private residence. Rooms are scattered among three buildings and all are tastefully decorated and offer good basic facilities; www.topinternational.com

ROSTOCK Courtyard by Marriott

₹ 11 ★ 🗑 🗏

€€

Kropeliner/Schwaansche Str. 6, 18055 Tel (0381) 49 70 0 Fax (0381) 49 70 700 Rooms 150

This is really something extraordinary, combining an old-town square historic frontage with a direct link to a gleaming, modern shopping centre. It is a business-class hotel and so offers all the usual facilities for business guests, but it would also be quite a treat for tourists. www.marriott.com

ROSTOCK Godewind

№ 11 🕸 🕇

€€

Warnemünder Straße 5, 18146 Tel (0381) 60 95 70 Fax (0381) 60 95 71 11 Rooms 58

In a location that takes advantage of the landscape around the southern coast of the Baltic Sea, this family-run complex consists of a hotel, restaurant and apartments. The guest rooms have a relaxed feel about them and some have a balcony. www.hotel-godewind.de

ROSTOCK Sonne Hotel Rostock

₩ 11 ★ ∀

€€

Neuer Markt 2, 18055 Tel (0381) 49 73 0 Fax (0381) 49 73 35 1 Rooms 111

This is a 200-year-old building on the market square that was renovated and reopened as a hotel in 1998. All the modern conveniences are here, such as wireless Internet access, while the historic feel has been maintained with some specially designed furniture. There are a range of beauty and wellness services. www.rostock.steigenberger.de

ROSTOCK Tribotel

创日总关罗

€€

Am Schweizer Wald Tessiner Straße 103 18055 Tel (0381) 65 97 0 Fax (0381) 65 97 60 0 Rooms 101

All the rooms here are laid out and furnished a little differently, but they are all cosy, comfortable and furnished with a bit more adventure than you would expect to find in a business-class or chain hotel. There is also a full range of health and sna treatments and facilities available www.trihotel-rostock.de

ROSTOCK Neptun Hotel Rostock

€€

Seestraße 19, 18119 Tel (0381) 77 78 71 Fax (0381) 77 74 00 Rooms 337

As you would expect from a luxury resort located right on the beach, every room has a balconv with a sea view. The rooms have been completely refurbished and all offer excellent facilities. The resort has a full range of health, fitness and fun services, www.hotel-neptun.de

ROSTOCK-WARNEMLINDE Vachthafenresidenz Hohe Dune

Am Yachthafen 1-8 18119 Tel (0381) 50 40 0 Fax (0381) 50 40 63 64 Rooms 368

This newly built hotel is right at the harbour of Rostock-Warnemunde and is a maritime luxury – some rooms are designed as ship quarters with wooden panels and floors, and all rooms include modern amenities. As well as a seafood restaurant there are superh spa and wellness facilities on offer www.yhd.de

RÜGEN Landhotel Herrenhaus

ĭ1 ★ '∀'

€€

Bohlendorf bei Wiek. 18556 Tel (038391) 77 0 Fax (038391) 70 28 0 Rooms 22

This is not a hotel, it is a home. It looks like it has been handed down through generations. The rooms are bright and clean and have simple period-style furniture. There is a terrace, café (with home-made cakes and toffees) and a fireplace room for warming toes and reading a good book in winter, www.bohlen-dorf.de

RÜGEN Villa Sano

₩ 計 ★ ♥

Strandstraße 12-14, 18586 Tel (038303) 12 66 0 Fax (038303) 12 66 99 9 Rooms 46

Aimed at families and only a five-minute walk from the beach, this is a good option for those wanting to combine more than one room to form a family suite (there are interconnecting doors) without paying the high beachside prices. They also offer services such as playrooms and child-minding. www.villasano.de

RÜGEN DorintResorts Binz

预 11 総 ★ ▼ ■

€€€

Strandpromenade 58, 18609 Tel (038393) 43 0 Fax (038393) 43 10 0 Rooms 63

With crisp linen, sparkling water, a sandy beach and high standards of service, this is a luxury treat with a nautical theme and big windows that overlook the sea. Rooms also have air conditioning and wireless Internet access. Dining options include balconies and terraces, also with sea views, www.accorhotels.com

SCHWERIN Fritz Hotel

ш

€€

Dorfstraße 3b, 19061, Tel (0385) 64 63 70, Fax (0385) 64 63 79 9, Rooms 22

This is a big and welcoming building in a huge garden. There is a lot of greenery about, and the garden has a pond. The rooms are simply decorated, with pastel-pink bedding. The large park-like setting is extremely relaxing and appealing. www.fritz-hotel.de

SCHWERIN Ramada Hotel Schwerin

ी है। 'च'

(€)(€)

Am Grünen Tal 39, 19063 Tel (0385) 39 92 0 Fax (0385) 39 92 18 8 Rooms 78

What seems to be a straightforward breeze-block building houses a good, efficient hotel that ticks all the boxes and meets all expectations. Rooms are sparingly comfortable and there is a gym, sauna and spa. The hotel is a 15-minute tram ride form the historic centre of Schwerin. www.ramada.de

SCHWERIN Speicher am Ziegelsee

(€)(€)

Speicherstraße 11, 19055 Tel (0385) 50 03 0 Fax (0385) 503111 Rooms 78

You could use this place to define "cosy". Lots of natural materials and warm colours create a soothing atmosphere. Stone fireplaces, terracotta tiles, wood and wicker furniture suggest a place that you could almost nest in. Of course, there are also plenty of facilities and services, and a lovely waterside location. www.speicher-hotel.de

STRALSUND Zum Seeblick

€)

Barhöft, Am Hafen, 18445 Tel (038323) 45 00 Fax (038323) 45 05 4 Rooms 38

The name of this hotel means "sea view", and indeed some (but not all) of the rooms do have rather nice sea views. There are actually two separate buildings that can accommodate guests, both of which seem to be of pretty much egual standard with basic but comfortable rooms, www.hotel-zum-seeblick.m-vp.de

USEDOM Residenz Waldoase

፼ 11 ★

Waldoase 1, 17419 Tel (038378) 50 22 0 Fax (038378) 50 29 9 Rooms 45

Fresh and light on the outside, cosy and warm on the inside, this hotel combines the best of a seaside and forest location, and is ideal for families. Bicycle rental is available and picnic hampers can be organized. Families, including those with young children, are welcome and well catered for. www.usedom-touristik.de

WARNEMUENDE KurPark Hotel

□ 計 ★

€€

Kurhausstraße 4, 18119 Tel (0381) 44 02 99 0 Fax (0381) 44 02 99 9 Rooms 18

This is a hotel situated in a rather lovely old house. There is a choice of "English, Mediterranean (and) Louis-Philippestyle" guest rooms, but the only real difference is the pattern on the duvet cover. The best way to choose a room is to ask for one with a balcony. www.kur-park-hotel.de

WHERE TO EAT

The crest of the

Forethaus Baulchorn

restaurant in Berlin

erman cuisine does not enjoy the same reputation as that of, say, France, but nevertheless you can eat very well here. There are many establishments that specialize in regional cuisine, which, although somewhat heavy, is always very appetizing. It is also easy to find good restaurants serving ethnic cuisine, such as Italian, Greek, Indian, Chinese, Thai or Turkish. In the past few years, some fine restaurants have opened. Run by renowned master chefs, they serve excellent cuisine of the very highest European standards.

From the many thousands of restaurants throughout Germany, we have chosen the finest for inclusion in this guidebook, with a view to catering for a variety of budgets. Detailed information on the selected restaurants can be found on pp526–57.

TYPES OF RESTAURANTS

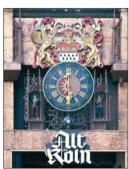

The term Restaurant is used to define both restaurants offering exquisite cuisine and excellent service, at steep prices, and popular local establishments with affordable prices. The word Gasthaus usually indicates a traditional style of inn that specializes in straightforward regional cuisine. In many towns, there is a Ratskeller established in the cellar of the town hall These are usually good, not overly expensive restaurants serving dishes that represent the regional cuisine. They usually have atmospheric. stylized interiors that are well adapted to the vaulted, dark spaces of the historic cellars. A Weinstube is a wine bar, where good, usually local, wine is served. Often decent food is also available here A Bierstube is similar in style. except that the beverage is beer. The term Café has a variety of connotations in Germany. This is a place that serves an excellent breakfast with various options in the mornings, while from noon they offer lunch dishes. The choice is usually somewhat heavy, though varied. In addition, at any time of the day and evening, customers can have a coffee here, eat some ice cream or a cake drink beer or some other alcoholic beverage. In the evenings there is often music.

A typical venue in which you can spend an evening is a Kneipe. In terms of its atmosphere, this is somewhat reminiscent of an English pub. Patrons generally come here to have a drink, but there are usually a few hot dishes on offer to appease their hunger. Self-service venues offering snacks are known as Imbiss. These can have a very varied character, from a stall serving baked sausages and cans of drink, to elegant kiosks offering a large choice of salads and fast food. These kiosks are often run by immigrants. In fact in most large German towns there are numerous kiosks serving Arabic, Turkish, Chinese and American food. If shoppers feel the need for a snack, they might like to take advantage of the restaurant or cafeteria facilities in department stores. These are usually self-service establishments known as Stebcafé, which means "Stand Up Café".

Entrance to a Gasthaus near the cathedral in Cologne

WHAT AND WHEN TO EAT

Breakfast is usually a hearty affair with various types of bread accompanied by cheese, sausages and marmalade. On Sundays brunch is served in most places until 2pm: this is a combination of breakfast and lunch, in the form of a Swedish buffet. During the lunch period (between noon and 2pm) most establishments serve an excellent salad or a bowl of filling soup, while many restaurants offer a special fixed-price menu that is significantly cheaper than in the evenings. Restaurants start to fill up in the evenings between 6 and 7pm, although dinner is most usually eaten after 8pm.

Altdeutsche Weinstube in Dörrenbach

Wine festival in Alter Hof

OPENING HOURS

Cafés generally open from 9am, while restaurants are open from noon, sometimes with a break from 3 to 6pm. The most expensive places do not open until dinner time and are frequently closed for one day during the week.

A street stall serving snacks of freshly cooked sausages

MENU

In most good restaurants the menu is written in German and English, and sometimes also in French. In cafés and less expensive restaurants, the menu may be handwritten, in which case the staff may be able to help with a translation. In many of the less expensive places there is, in addition to the regular menu, a daily menu with attractive seasonal dishes. Sometimes the chef's special offers are written on a blackboard. In all restaurants and cafés, a menu showing prices will be displayed outside the establishment.

RESERVATIONS

Making a prior reservation is essential in all the best restaurants while in most good and medium standard restaurants it is advisable to do so, particularly on a Friday or Saturday night. If you have not made a reservation, try one of the popular restaurant complexes where you can usually get a table.

PRICES AND TIPS

The cost of restaurant meals in Germany is unusually diverse depending on location. A three-course meal without alcohol can be found for around £10–13, but in the centre of larger cities a minimum of £18–22 would be more usual. In a luxury restaurant, the bill for a six-course meal, without drinks, can cost in excess of £76. The price of alcoholic drinks also varies, but beer is the cheapest drink.

Prices include service and tax, but it is usual to leave a tip – generally around 10 per cent of the total bill. When paying for a meal by credit card, the tip can be added to the total. Restaurants and cafés that accept credit cards usually display the logos of acceptable cards near the entrance. Before ordering, it is best to find out whether a minimum charge is applied to customers who wish to pay their bill by credit card.

DRESS CODE

Germans usually prefer to dress comfortably, casually and practically, preferring a sporty style to more formal attire. When going out in the evenings, many women – regardless of their age – wear trousers and comfortable lowheeled shoes, though some prefer elegant dresses. Men generally wear jackets and ties only during office hours.

Going to a restaurant does not require any particular preparation unless you wish to go to a luxurious, gourmet restaurant, for which you will probably have to book up to two months in advance

Formal interior of a restaurant

CHILDREN

Restaurants usually provide high chairs for toddlers and, particularly during the lunch period, there will be light dishes for children – or you can order small portions.

VEGETARIANS

Increasingly, Germans are turning to vegetarianism, although the number of vegetarian restaurants is still limited. However, a few vegetarian dishes can usually be found on most menus. If necessary, choose a restaurant that serves a national cuisine in which there is no shortage of vegetarian dishes – for example Indian or Thai.

DISABLED VISITORS

If a table with wheelchair access is required, it is best to specify this when making the reservation. At the same time, check whether toilets are easily accessible.

Picnicking - a popular form of relaxation in Germany

The Flavours of Germany

Germany is famous for its hearty sausages, meats, breads, beer and wine. But German cuisine is much more regionally varied than many visitors might imagine. In addition to standard high-calorie plates, young chefs are coming up with creative new versions of German classics and old regional recipes. The key to this new trend is the fresh German produce found at colourful farmers' markets and old-world stores in quaint little towns around the country. Locally grown vegetables, pork, poultry and game, as well as freshwater and ocean fish, freshly made breads, cakes and dumplings are usually of a very high standard.

Harzer Roller and Emmentaler cheeses

Coffee and cakes at a typical city Konditorei (café)

NORTHERN AND EASTERN GERMANY

The frugality and hardships of life in the northern and East German lowlands and coast are reflected in the hearty fish- and game-based dishes found in this region. Ocean fish like halibut, sea bass, cod, herring or plaice feature in local dishes like Hamburg's Finkenwerder Scholle (plaice fried with North Sea shrimps and bacon), as do freshwater fish such as pike-perch (a Berlin-Brandenburg favourite) or trout, served as Grüne Forelle or Forelle Müllerin Art, two herb-oriented recipes for roasted trout. Warming winter soups and stews such as lentil or potato soup or Pichelsteiner Eintopf (a one-pot dish with meat, potatoes and vegetables cooked in broth) are omnipresent – as is the famous potato salad, which is served in numerous ways. In East Germany, Thuringian and Saxonian cuisines have made a stunning comeback with Thüringer Bratwurst (spicy, roasted sausage served with hot mustard), Sauerbraten (roast beef marinated in vinegar) and some of Germany's best cakes, such as Dresdner Christstollen

Mehrkornbrötchen (mixed grain roll)
Laugenbrötchen (salty sourdough rolls)

Berliner Landbrot (mild rye bread)

Grau-oder Mischbrot (wholewheat)

Semmel (milk-dough roll)

Selection of typical German loaves and bread rolls

CLASSIC GERMAN FOOD

Pork salamis

Many of the classic German dishes revolve around meat, particularly pork and poultry. Berliners and North Germans love Kasseler Nacken, a salted and dried slice of pork, served with mashed potatoes and Sauerkraut, while Bavarians prefer roast pork knuckle. There are delicious fish recipes, too, with Hamburg and Northern Germany leading the way. Ocean fish dishes like Matjes (salted herring with onions and cream served with baked potatoes) are now enjoyed throughout the country, as are freshwater fish and even sweet river crabs. German pasta and dumplings, along with soups, and a great selection of desserts and cakes round up any classic German menu.

Maultaschen, large pasta parcels, are stuffed with a meat or vegetable filling and served in soup or with butter.

Display of traditional German sausages in a Berlin butcher's shop

(Christmas cake with raisins, nuts and marzipan) or Baumkuchen (a very sweet, multi-layered pyramid cake covered in chocolate glaze).

WESTERN AND SOUTHERN GERMANY

This part of Germany, and in particular the German wine regions around the rivers Rhine, Mosel and Neckar, has always had a love of superb. often French-influenced. gourmet feasts. Alsace-Lorraine is a fascinating hotch-potch of French and German cooking, Regions such as the Pfalz, Schwaben, Franken, the Black Forest and many others, have also developed their own, very distinctive, delicious and often very hearty cuisines. The Pfalz, for example, is famous for its Pfälzer Saumagen, a sow's stomach filled with sausage, herbs and potatoes; the Schwaben are known for their Maultaschen and an endless varieties of Spätzle (curly pasta); and the Franken for their Nürnberger Rostbratwürstchen (little spicy roast sausages), various fish dishes, using rare types such as sheatfish, and perhaps the best gingerbread found anywhere in the country. In the far southeast Austrian and Eastern European influences are evident in great goulash and dumpling dishes. But pride of place possibly goes to the Bayarians, whose hearty no-nonsense dishes are what the world considers to be German cuisine. Here Weißwürstchen (white sausages with a beer pretzel) are enjoyed in the morning. often with a beer, while dinner might be soup with liver dumplings, roast pork, Sauerkraut and a pile of potato dumplings.

Fresh vegetables from the Brandenberg region

NEW GERMAN CUISINE

In the early 1970s, chefs like Eckart Witzigmann broke free of the high-carb diet of postwar times, and cooked light, delicate "nouvelle" German dishes with superb ingredients in innovative combinations. Witzigmann, still Germany's most popular chef, won the first three German Michelin stars in 1979. A new generation of chefs calling themselves "Junge Wilde" (young wild) are still enjoying the shock waves today: healthy, international cooking is the norm in restaurants and homes, and almost no traditional recipe is sacrosanct Zanderfilet, or Havel-Zander, is delicious pan-fried pike-perch served with a vegetable sauce, onions and potatoes.

Schweinshaxe is roast pork knuckle, best accompanied by Sauerkraut, potato dumplings and a good, strong beer.

Rote Grütze mixes summer berries with spices and red wine, which is set into a jelly and topped with cream.

What to Drink

Throughout Germany, beer is undoubtedly the most popular drink, and each region has its own beer-brewing traditions. However, the country is also renowned for excellent wines, which are produced in the south. The most well known are Mosel and Rhine wines, although these are not necessarily better than Franconian wines. Stronger spirits and liqueurs are also available, as are some very pleasant non-alcoholic cold drinks.

Shop in Fherbach stocked with wine from the adjoining monastery

Herbal infusions include mint and camomile tea

HOT DRINKS

In German establishments there is no difficulty in getting a cup of tea (Tee), but don't be surprised if the waiter asks whether you mean mint tea (Pfefferminztee) or camomile (Kamillentee), since herbal infusions are popular in Germany. To be sure of being served Indian tea, it is advisable to specify Schwarztee when placing the order.

Coffee is another popular drink. In general, filter coffee, which is fairly mild, is served. For customers who prefer a stronger coffee, it is best to order an espresso.

NON-ALCOHOLIC COLD DRINKS

Various types of carbonated drinks and fruit juices - ubiquitous throughout Europe and the US – are popular, and an extensive choice is available in every café and restaurant in Germany. A refreshing non-alcoholic drink is Apfel-Schorle, which is apple juice mixed with equal proportions of sparkling mineral water. (The alcoholic version is Wein-Schorle, which is wine mixed with mineral water.) Another popular non-alcoholic drink is Spezi, which is a mixture of cola and Fanta.

Although tap water is generally safe to drink, it is not usually served with restaurant meals. To order a bottle of mineral water, ask for Mineralwasser, adding the phrase "stilles Wasser" if still water is preferred.

Ritter-sweet spirit, Jägermeister flavour spirit, Kümmerling

SPIRITS AND LIQUEURS

Strong spirits are often drunk after heavy meals, particularly pork dishes. It is best to order one of the popular drinks distilled from rye or wheat, such as Doppel Korn. Brandy (known as Weinbrand) is also produced in Germany. Liqueurs are also popular, as is a spirit flavoured with herbs and roots (known as bitters). Among the most popular are Kümmerling and lägermeister while. in Berlin, Kaulsdorfer Kräuter Likör is served. In many restaurants various kinds of whisky can be ordered, including well-known Scottish and Irish brands and popular American bourbons, but connoisseurs may miss their personal favourites. Italian restaurants often serve grappa, a grape spirit, after a meal, while in Greek restaurants ouzo - an aniseed spirit - may be offered.

MINERALWAS

Mineralwasser

(Mineral water)

Korn (rve spirit)

Germany is renowned for its excellent white wines. particularly those made from the Riesling grape. Among the most highly prized wines are those from the Rheingau region. Lovers of red > wine might like to try Assmannshausen Spätburgunder wine, which is produced from the Pinot Noir grape.

Germany has a system of classifying wines into three groups according to their quality: the lowest quality is Tafelwein, then Qualitätswein and the highest quality Qualitätswein mit Prädikat. The latter includes wines produced from appropriately selected grapes, which is always confirmed on the bottle label. The term Trocken indicates a dry style, Halbtrocken, semidry and Süss means sweet. Very good sparkling wines, known as Sekt, are also produced in Germany

Riesling Schloss Vollrade

Reermat with brewery logo

BEERS

Each region of Germany has its own beer-brewing tradition: the most popular breweries in the north are lever in Freesia and Beck's in Bremen, along with Bitburger, Warsteiner and Karlsberg. In the Rhine region, the biggest producers are DAB from Dortmund and König in Duisburg. In Berlin, Schultheiss, Berliner Kindl and Engelhardt compete for the primary position, while in Dresden the principal beers are produced by a brewery in Radeberg. However, Bavaria is by far the major brewing centre - the names of the breweries Löwenbräu. Hofbräu and Paulaner are known to every beer lover around the world. The most commonly drunk beer is Pils, a bottomfermented lager of the pilsner type. Brown ales are also popular, particularly in the south. Schwarzbier, a top-fermented brown ale of over 4 per cent alcohol, is increasingly popular. Weizenbier, a bitter top-fermented

Löwenbräu heer

Könia Ludwia Dunkel beer

Schultheiss

Wheat beer mixed with fruit juice, Berliner Weisse mit Schuss speciality of Berlin

beer, also has many fans,

Franziskaner Hefe Weissbier beer

A tankard of beer with the essential head of foam

Choosing a Restaurant

The restaurants in this guide have been selected across a wide range of price categories for their good value. exceptional food and interesting location. This chart lists the restaurants by region, in chapter order, Map references for Berlin restaurants correspond with the Berlin Street Finder. See pp.114-19.

PRICE CATEGORIES

The following price ranges are for a three-course meal for one including a half-bottle of house wine, tay and service.

nunder 30 euros €€ 45–60 euros €€€ 60–90 euros €€€€€ over 90 euros

RERLIN

FASTERN CENTRE Brauhaus Mitte

分面 えも

Karl-Liebknecht-Strasse 13, 10178 Tel (030) 308 789 89

Map 5 F1

This Brauhaus is set opposite the busy Alexanderplatz and is the perfect spot to relax after a day of sightseeing in the eastern downtown area. The menu features delicious Berlin dishes such as the pork knuckle with sauerkraut and mashed potato or "Bouletten", Berlin-style cold meatballs.

FASTERN CENTRE Historische Weinstuben

Poststraße 23, 10178 Tel (030) 242 41 07

Map 5 F2

This popular wine bar is housed in one of the most decorative buildings of the Nicolaiviertel. Traditional dishes from Berlin, such as Kohl or Rinderrouladen (rolled and roasted stuffed beef), can be accompanied by a drink from a small but exquisite wine list of 50 mostly German vintages.

EASTERN CENTRE Oxymoron

重デ

Rosenthaler Straße 40-41, 10178 Tel (030) 283 918 86

Map 5 D1

(€)(€)

This fashionable restaurant, with its distinctive red-and-gold interior reminiscent of a 19th-century salon, has mainly Mediterranean and light German dishes on the menu. For lunch, dine at a table in the courtvard, which is the most beautiful inside historic Hackesche Höfe, and enjoy excellent fare at a reasonable price.

EASTERN CENTRE XII Apostel

Ł (€)(€)

Georgenstraße 2, 10117 Tel (030) 201 02 22

Map 4 C1

Picturesquely situated in the old arcade of an S-Bahn railway bridge near Museum Island, this restaurant offers popular Italian cuisine. The thin, crispy pizza creations from a stone oven are a speciality here, and are named after the 12 apostles. Ironically, Judas is the most sumptuous.

EASTERN CENTRE Brauhaus Georgbräu

Ł. (€)(€)

Spreeufer 4, 10178 Tel (030) 242 42 44

At first sight, this restaurant looks like a typical tourist trap with large tables, big dining halls and masses of people, but you should not be fooled. If you are not a fan of sausages, try Brauhausknüller, a Berlin dish with pork knuckle, mashed split peas, Sauerkraut and potatoes with cold beer.

FASTERN CENTRE 7 um Nusshaum

重デ

(€)(€)

Am Nussbaum 3, 10178 Tel (030) 242 30 95

Situated in an alley in the Nicolaiviertel, this is a reconstruction of a 16th-century country inn, serving traditional Berlin cuisine, with tender pork knuckle, rollmops or Berliner Boulette, a spicy hamburger pattie without a bun. In summer, dine in its garden and enjoy the various brands of local beer.

EASTERN CENTRE Lutter & Wegner

19 €€€€

Charlottenstraße 56, 10117 Tel (030) 202 954 17

Map 4 C3

The first restaurant to start the revitalization of the gourmet scene in the historic centre of Eastern Berlin. A fine German champagne brand until today, it now serves delicious German–Austrian food. The huge Wiener Schnitzel with potato salad, best served lukewarm, is a delight as are the duck and goose specialities in winter.

EASTERN CENTRE Sale E Tabacchi

€€€€

Kochstraße 18, 10969 Tel (030) 252 11 55

Map 4 C4

The Sale E Tabacchi offers reliable Italian food (but almost never pizza) in a dark, cosy Kreuzberg interior. In summer, the courtyard is the preferred dining area, mostly frequented by politicians and journalists from the neighbouring newspaper companies. For lunch, try one of the inexpensive three-course meals.

EASTERN CENTRE Vau

Map 4 B2

Jägerstraße 54-55, 10117 Tel (030) 202 97 30

This restaurant stands out with its elegant and unpretentious interior. The excellent and imaginative Austrian- and French-based dishes are created by Berlin's star chef, Kolja Kleeberg. The service is welcoming and there is a selection of good wines. The small courtyard is used during lunch. Closed Sun.

WESTERN CENTRE Nolle

€€

Georgenstraße 203 10117 Tel (030) 208 26 55

Map 4 C1

The Nolle is a pleasantly decorated, 1920s-style Berlin restaurant tucked way under the S-Bahn tracks. The lush greenery around the place, the elegantly appointed tables and candlelight make a perfect setting for its international and German dishes. The Schnitzel selection is impressive

WESTERN CENTRE NU

長電

€(€)

Schlüterstraße 55 10625 Tel (030) 887 098 11

Among the locals. Nu is a very popular Asian-inspired restaurant serving fusion cuisine. Its Thai, Chinese and Vietnamese dishes are served on huge tables shared with other customers. On weekend nights, DJs play smooth lounge music that appeals to the young and very hip clientele. At lunchtime, there is an inexpensive special menu.

WESTERN CENTRE Café Finstein

eee

Kurfürstenstraße 58 10785 Tel (030) 261 50 96

Map 3 D4

This Berlin landmark is located in an elegant villa once owned by a German movie star. The old-fashioned waiters are dressed in black suits and bow ties, while the fine Viennese food has fin-de-siècle Austrian charm. All the traditional dishes are good, but the Wiener Schnitzel and Gulasch are exceptional

WESTERN CENTRE Francucci's

表示意见学

eee

Kurfürstendamm 90 10711 Tel (030) 327 647 95

Map 4 B1

One of Berlin's best-kept secrets and a favourite among locals is this upscale neighbourhood restaurant offering hearty but supreme Tuscan country cooking. Specialities include the homemade pasta dishes and meat recipes as well as Berlin classics such as their signature pizza, served by the slice.

WESTERN CENTRE Ganymed

3 7 4

€€

Schiffbauerdamm 5, 10117 Tel (030) 285 852 42

Map 4 B1

A good-quality brasserie restaurant in charming surroundings with a small garden and views of the Spree river. The chef favours fish dishes, including Berlin fish specialities, but also offers traditional French fare such as steak tartare, fresh scallops sauteéd in white wine, and a good cheese selection.

WESTERN CENTRE Zing

人工学

€€€

Grolmanstraße 21, 10623 Tel (030) 375 913 39

Map 2 A3

A relaxed and elegant Asian restaurant, Zing serves fusion cuisine with an emphasis on Chinese and Thai dishes and fresh ingredients. Favourites include the appetizer dish for two and the General Tsao chicken. In summer, the tables outside provide an ideal spot for people-watching in a neighbourhood with plenty of nightlife.

WFSTERN CENTRE Desbrosses

must here is the seafood platter.

£ ₹ %

€€€€

Potsdamer Platz 3 10785 Tel (030) 337 776 400

Man 4 A3

Desbrosses has the most authentic French brasserie interior in all of Berlin. Dark wood-panelled walls, comfortable. plush leather bistro chairs, an open show kitchen and recordings of Piaf, all make for a real French experience. A

WESTERN CENTRE Käfer im Bundestag

P * #

 $\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}$

Reichstag, Platz der Republik, 10557 Tel (030) 226 299 33

A favourite dining place of the Mitte district, thanks to its unique location on the rooftop of the Reichstag, right next to Sir Norman Foster's cupola. The German cooking is creative and true to the owner. German catering star Käfer. Service is impeccable. Book ahead for lunch.

WESTERN CENTRE Kuchi

€€€€

Kantstraße 30, 10623 Tel (030) 315 078 15

Map 2 A4

Kuchi, one of the best value Japanese restaurants in Berlin, offers excellent sushi and regional dishes. A simple, unpretentious Asian interior and a welcoming service make it the ideal venue for a dinner for two. The dim sum rotation and the sampler are particularly tasty. Reservations advised.

WESTERN CENTRE Die Quadriga

7 9

Eislebener Straße 14, 10789 Tel (030) 214 050

 \mathbb{E} Map 2 B5

Hotel Brandenburger Hof's (see p489) most obvious attraction is this gourmet restaurant, one of Berlin's best. This cosy establishment serves unusual French dishes accompanied by perfect service. Chef Bobby Bräuer loves fresh produce from France and carefully reinvents traditional and international dishes. Book ahead.

WESTERN CENTRE Hugo's

7 9

€€€€

Budapester Straße 2, 10787 Tel (030) 260 212 63

Map 2 C4

This newly opened restaurant, in the Inter-Continental Hotel, is one of the best in Berlin. Unusual French and international dishes are prepared with a German influence. The fish and seafood dishes are proof of the chef's real mastery. An attraction is the restaurant's rooftop location with great views. Reservations necessary. Closed Sun.

WESTERN CENTRE Midtown Grill

Map 4 A3

Ebert Straße 3, 10785 Tel (030) 220 006 410

Steak and fresh seafood are the order of the day at this restaurant. While waiting for your dinner, you can watch the chefs in the open show kitchen, enjoy vintages from one of Berlin's best wine menus and listen to jazz. The service is very friendly, though somewhat slow when the restaurant is full.

FURTHER AFIELD Blaues Band

Alte Schonhauser Strasse 7/8 10119 Tel (030) 283 850 99

Despite it's location in the trendy Mitte district, the Blaues Band is a secret to many Berliners. The ambience is friendly and relaxed, and the food delicious. It offers specialities from a specific country or region. German cuisine is particularly recommended. The menu has fresh asparaous in early summer and duck and goose in winter.

Æ

54

T F

7 %

T F

7 9

と雨りが

 \mathbb{C}

€)

(€)(€)

(€)(€)

 $\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}$

€€€

€€€€

FURTHER AFIELD Mao Thai

Wörtherstrasse 30, 10405 Tel 441 92 61

This is one of Berlin's best Thai restaurants, with an interior filled with beautiful antiques. The menu offers a full range of aromatic dishes, toned down to suit European tastes. Fresh and top-quality vegetables, carved into creative forms, are a speciality here. Reservations for dimper strongly advised.

FURTHER AFIELD Merhaba

Wissmannstraße 32 12049 Tel (030) 692 17 13

People from all over Berlin come to this charming restaurant to join the local Turks and Germans who enjoy the food served here. Even if you are not particularly hungry, you will not be able to resist the various appetizers. There is outdoor dining in summer and belly dancing on Fridays and Saturdays. Closed at lunchtime.

FURTHER AFIELD Grunewaldturm

Havelchaussee 61 14193 Tel (030) 300 07 30

Combining a meal in this restaurant with a trip to Grunewald Forest is a fine way to spend an afternoon. The menu mostly offers game or hearty meat dishes but also serves some local fish such as perch. Lunch or supper with wonderful views is an ideal end for this kind of outing.

FURTHER AFIELD Restauration 1900

Husemannstraße 1, 10435 Tel (030) 442 24 94

One of the oldest and most traditional in this part of Berlin, this restaurant welcomes its guests into a simple dining room with an outstanding historic bar counter and other antiques. It offers light cuisine with some dishes of German origin and a large selection for vegetarians. The terrace looks over to Husemannstraße.

FURTHER AFIELD Wirtshaus Moorlake

Moorlakeweg 1, 14109 Tel (030) 805 58 09

Situated on the secluded bank of the Havel river this historic restaurant serves German dishes. Although it is worth trying all the game dishes on its menu, the most highly recommended are game ragout with cranberries and buttered Spätzle, and the barbeque sampler, Moorlake with pork fillets and sauce bearnaise.

FURTHER AFIELD Maxwell

Bergstraße 22, 10115 Tel (030) 280 71 21

This highly regarded, up-market and very well-known restaurant offers exquisite Berlin and German food with Mediterranean influences. The Maxwell always guarantees a laid-back and unpretentious atmosphere with a friendly, helpful service. There is a cheaper menu for lunch but only a few affordable wines.

FURTHER AFIELD Mutter

Hohenstaufenstraße 4, 10781 Tel (030) 216 49 90

True to its name, Mutter (German for "mother") serves generous portions to its patrons, mostly students. A fixture of the bustling Winterfeldplatz nightlife scene, it offers cool Caribbean drinks and an eclectic mix of some traditional German, Italian and Asian dishes, with an emphasis on sushi and Thai food.

FURTHER AFIELD Remise im Schloss Klein-Glienicke

Königstraße 36, 14109 Tel (030) 805 40 00

This is the ideal place for an elegant meal on the outskirts of Berlin. Now run by Franz Raneberger, one of Berlin's most prominent chefs, the restaurant offers excellent German cuisine, with perch, crayfish and game, all prepared with a dose of imagination. The restaurant is also a good choice for lunch. Closed Mon–Tue.

FURTHER AFIELD Vivaldi

Brahmsstraße 10, 14193 Tel (030) 895 845 20

A luxurious restaurant in the expensive Schlosshotel (see p490). The interior, designed by Karl Lagerfeld, features panelled walls, gold leaf and chandeliers. Due to many changes in the management, the restaurant has lost its gourmet standard, but still makes for a pleasant evening with exquisite French food. Book ahead.

BRANDENBURG

BRANDENBURG Bismarck Terrassen

Bergstraße 20, 14770 Tel (03381) 300 9 39

Typical and modern Brandenburg dishes in a historic but fun setting. This restaurant is located in the oldest quarter of Brandenburg and is managed by an intriguing and passionate group. Various flambé dishes as well as roasted pork are favourites. Extensive wine and beer list. Enjoy traditional music during holidays and some weekends.

Key to Price Guide see p526 Key to Symbols see back cover flap

RRANDENBURG Kartoffelkäfer

Steinstraße 56 14776 Tel (03381) 22 41 18

Excellent address for lovers of potato-based dishes. Located in the heart of the central district of the city, most dishes at this restaurant include potato as one of the main ingredients. There is a rustic but cosy atmosphere and many childfriendly services are available. Reservations not required, but call in advance if your party is larger then six people.

BRANDENBURG Sorat Hotel Brandenburg

(F)

Altstädtischer Markt 1 14770 Tel (03381) 59 70

The intimate, yet refined setting at this efficient restaurant reminds one of an old English-style mansion. White table cloths, wooden floors and black leather seating welcome you along with the delicious smells wafting from the kitchen. Try the Brandenburg Teller dishes – roulade of venson, wild stuffed mushrooms and potato chard gratin

CHORIN Alte Klosterschänke

Amt Chorin 9 16230 Tel (033366) 530 100

Famed throughout the region for its highly polished service, this charming restaurant is located inside a 270-year-old dishes from their extensive menu. Call ahead if there are more than six in your party.

CHORIN Haus Chorin

F

₽₽

Neue Klosterallee 10, 16230 Tel (033366) 500

This hotel-restaurant is based in a stylish Art Nouveau villa situated on the shores of a lake. Several regional and national specialities are on the menu, including pork fillet with honey on paprika and Häckerle (fish salad). Most of the vegetables on the menu come from local organic farmers and are delivered daily.

COTTBUS Mosquito

Altmarkt 22, 3046 Tel (0355) 2 88 90 444

A South American twist on the café, bar and restaurant experience in Cottbus. Join the staff at Mosquito every day for happy hour or on Tuesdays for drink specials (a different one each month). Live music during the week and on special occasions. There is a lovely brunch on Sundays from 10am to 3pm. Try the chilli olive bread.

COTTBUS Cavalierhaus Branitz

Zum Kavalierhaus 8, 3042 Tel (0355) 71 50 00

Located in the centre of Branitzer Park, this beautiful and refined restaurant is a great place for dessert as well as dinner. Sample the delectable Pückler torte or wonderful Pückler Fis dessert for a taste of what keeps local patrons returning for more. They have wonderful wines from all over the world and the service is excellent.

COTTBUS Best Western Parkhotel Branitz

 $\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}$

Heinrich-Zille Str. 3042 Tel (0355) 751 00

Located in the Best Western Parkhotel Branitz. This restaurant is renowned for its excellent service and high quality dishes, with German specialities the focus of the menu. Lighter choices are on the menu as well. End your day with a glass of wine or a draught beer: several varieties of both are on offer.

LEHNIN Rittergut Krahne

重好

(€)

Hauptstraße 6a, 14797 Tel (033 835) 602 87 A uniquely different eatery with a fetish for knights and swords. The extensive menu features wild boar and other local specialities, as well as dishes from assorted regions of the world. Try the baked apple with walnut ice cream for dessert. Reservations for larger groups are recommended. Parking is available for your car or horse.

LEHNIN Markgraf

Friedenstr. 13, 14797 Tel (03382) 76 50

This restaurant belongs to the Hotel Markgraf (see p491). Austrian cuisine is the house standard and to a high standard by the head chef. Enjoy a glass of Austrian wine or German beer with your meal or alone after a long day. Outside tables are available during the summer when the weather is pleasant.

LÜBBENAU Hotel Schloss Lübbenau

盘!另

€€€

Schloßbezirk 6. 0-3332 Tel (03542) 87 30

An award-winning restaurant connected to a four-star hotel of the same name. The menu emphasizes fresh produce as well as delightful meat and fish dishes. Most items combine the flair of international cuisine with local ingredients. Furnishings are more old English than German. Sit on the terrace during breakfast and enjoy the view.

NEUHARDENBURG Parkhotel Schloss Wulkow

7 54

€€€€

Hauptstr. 24, 15320 Tel (033476) 580

This restaurant is based in the Parkhotel Schloss Wulkow, which was an imperial palace and is close to a nature preserve and natural lake. They use fresh produce and meats from local producers. The extensive wine list includes bottles from all over the world. The decor is quite elaborate, including crystal chandeliers.

NEURUPPIN Altes Kasino am See

と雨ゲ

Seeufer 11 / 12, 16816 Tel (0339) 130 59

Enjoy breakfast or drinks in the atrium of this cosy 100-year-old eatery. This hotel-restaurant sits directly by the water and is home to some of the most relaxing views of the area. A good selection of game and fish dishes is available. Try the fish plate for a sample of different varieties and preparation methods of the local catch.

NEURUPPIN Rootshaus

Hans Thörner Str. 17, 16816, Tel (0339) 1856979

This restaurant is right by the river and next to quest rooms owned by the same proprietors. A great place for families. Delicious, no-nonsense German food reminiscent of home cooking, though there are few yeagtarian items on the menu. A charming breakfast huffet is provided on weekends or for special occasions

ORANIENBURG Gasthaus Charlottenhof

Neulöwenberger Straße 26, 16775 Tel (0330) 94 50 417

A quiet, intimate restaurant attached to the Gasthaus Charlottenhof hotel. The outdoor seating area is great in summer. Regional cuisine dominates the menu and features several pork and fish dishes. Try one of the delicious soups for something light but filling. There is bar seating for single guests or a guick drink.

ORANIENRI IRG Galerie

André-Pican-Straße 23 16515 Tel (0330) 169 00

This restaurant is in the excellent Stadthotel Oranienburg. Fresh flowers and interesting art help add to the welcoming ambience. It is well lit and appropriately decorated and the staff are friendly and well dressed. It is also child and family friendly. The har is popular with business travellers, but does not stay open late.

POTSDAM Froschkasten

KiazetraRa 3_1 1/1/67 Tal (0331) 201315

Connected to a hotel of the same name, this restaurant is decorated with Old Berlin-style furnishings. The friendly. attentive service is usually speedy but uncompromising. Try one of the celebrated fish or traditional Brandenburg dishes for dinner. A separate room is available for large parties or groups.

POTSDAM Krongut Bornstedt

Ribbeckstr. 6-7, 14469 Tel (0331) 550 65 0

Enjoy dining in this 400-year-old wine cellar, brewery and café on this former Prussian royal estate. Guests can enjoy regal dishes such as "Freidrich's Leibspeise", potato soup with bacon. The "Chocolate Balmoral", a chocolate beverage made from pure milk chocolate and derived from an English recipe is a must for all visitors to the café.

POTSDAM Speckers Gaststätte zur Ratswaage

Am Neuen Markt 10, 14467 Tel (0331) 280 43 11

French-influenced cuisine reigns supreme at this restaurant located in the centre of the city. Modern decor with fresh and elegant touches produces a charming, comfortable but unpretentious dining experience. Family run and famous for its excellent service as well as exquisite menu. Produce arrives to the restaurant fresh daily from local producers.

POTSDAM Bayrisches Haus

Im Wildpark 1, Potsdam (West), 14471 Tel (0331) 550 50

This restaurant is in a top class hotel of the same name. It is famed for its luxury, service and French-inspired cuisine. Extensive menu offers meals in predetermined courses, a great option for those looking for a mix of house specialities. Fresh flowers abound year round. Enjoy the terrace in summer with its great views.

POTSDAM Restaurant Juliette

Jägerstraße 39, 14467 Tel (0331) 270 17 91

A French restaurant with all the romantic trimmings you would expect – candles, white tablecloths and a lit fireplace. French food traditionalists beware, the decorated and imaginative chef serves up both traditional and experimental cuisine. Try the ever-popular crème brûlée for dessert. There are vegetarian options on the menu.

WANDLITZ SeePark Wandlitz

Kirchstr. 10 (Hinter der alten Dorfkirche am See), 16348 Tel (0333) 977 50

This Mediterranean-style restaurant also offers German fare. All the dishes are prepared with locally grown produce. Steak fillet with a sage, ham and almond stuffed Spanish onion is a culinary highlight. They have an extensive wine list, including superb wines that are only available by the glass. Open for lunch and dinner

WITTSTOCK Stadt Hamburg

Röbeler Str. 25, 16909 Tel (03394) 404 60

This restaurant is regarded in the region as a good eatery for travellers or those with children in tow. It is tastefully furnished and the service is good. The menu has limited options for vegetarians. Open for both lunch and dinner, it can get busy during national holidays and local events.

SAXONY-ANHALT

BERNBURG Zille Stube

Siedlung 37a, 0-6406 Tel (03471) 33 31 90

A very traditional, quaint and unfussy German restaurant, although more like a pub. Dark, hardwood furniture and friendly staff are standard. They specialize mostly in traditional German cuisine and beers. Look out for regional artisan crafts throughout as well as paintings by various local artists.

Key to Price Guide see p526 Key to Symbols see back cover flap

4

盘!另

a k E

€)

(F)

a 7 9

€€€

(F)

(€)(€)

PPP

€€

P 54

國人童学

國「吳

7 %

£ 54

長 章 舜

BLANKENBURG Hotelrestaurant Viktoria Luise

Hasselfelder Str. 8, 38889, Tel (03944) 91170

Less than 20 minutes from the Harz National Park, this restaurant is a great location for health-conscious diners. All dishes are home-made regional creations centred on fresh ingredients. There are several vegetarian offerings, including many organic options. Delightful fish and duck courses. There is also a wine cellar with a lovely terrace.

DESSAU Teehäuschen

Im Grünen der Stadt-Im Stadt Park. 0-6844. Tel (0340) 21.49.96

A lovely garden surrounds this teahouse in the Stadtpark area. For over 30 years, patrons have enjoyed the wide variety of teas, cakes and light meals made fresh daily, though more substantial meals are also on offer. Everything is delicious. Larger parties are welcome, but call ahead for more information. Closed Mon.

DESSAU Kornhaus

Kornhausstr 146 0-6846 Tel (0340) 640 41 41

The proprietors of Kornhaus are in love with food and hope to share their passion with all their guests. Try one of the three-course meals or order à la carte. There are organic items on the menu and several options for vegetarians or others with dietary concerns. For dessert, try the Rote Grütze with vanilla sauce

DESSAU Weinstuben Paechterhaus

Kirchstr 1 0-6846 Tel (0340) 650 1447

Set in a half-timbered house over 300 years old, this wine Stube has much on offer for patrons. The food menu focuses on interesting flavour combinations and textures, while the wine menu offers a little something for everyone. A popular place throughout the region for its relaxed atmosphere and expert staff.

HALBERSTADT Parkhotel Unter den Linden

Klamrothstr. 2, 38820 Tel (03941) 625 40

The restaurant of the Parkhotel Unter den Linden (see p492). The service here is great and the staff are very friendly. They have an international menu with German influences. The wine list is extensive and there is a wine cellar on the property. Try the French apple tart with home-made champagne rice for dessert.

HALLE Dorint Hotel Charlottenhof

Dorotheenstraße 12, 0-6108 Tel (0345) 292 30

This restaurant belongs to the Dorint Hotel Charlottenhof, which is located in the city centre. Guests can watch their food being elegantly prepared while in the restaurant dining area. The food is above average and served by friendly and knowledgeable staff. There is also a pleasant hotel bar.

HALLE Enchilada

Universitätsring 6 0-6108 Tel (0345) 686 77 55

A Mexican themed bar-restaurant near the university. It is geared towards the younger crowd or those looking for a taste of something different. The focus is more on drinks than food. However, the food is good and temperature adjustable for those not so keen on spicy food. Happy hour daily from 6pm to 9pm.

ILSENBURG Landhaus "Zu den Rothen Forellen"

重好

も雨が

7 %

€€€€€

€)

(€)(€)

(€)(€)

 $\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}$

Marktplatz 2, 38871 Tel (39452) 93 93

In a delightful setting by a lake close to the Hochharz nature preserve – come here for a relaxing dining experience. Restored in 1995, the 400-year-old structure is home to a restaurant and hotel (see p492). Sit directly by the lake for dinner if you dine outside. The staff are very friendly and knowledgeable.

MAGDEBURG Le Frog

Heinrich-Heine-Platz 1, 39114 Tel (0391) 53 13 55 6

This brassiere and lounge is a cool place to eat or sip one of the local brews. It is located in the middle of Stadtpark, which is a local hotspot catering to a fun and vibrant crowd. They have a buffet brunch on Sundays with several tasty treats and magnificent creations. The beer garden seats over 400 people and there is a large terrace as well.

MAGDEBURG Tokio Haus

Johannes-Göderitz-Straße 27, 39130 Tel (0391) 506 94 93

A bit harder to find, but well worth the effort to locate for the delicious Japanese food at this locally-owned restaurant. There are many varieties of sushi on the menu, including maki and sashimi. The lunch menu is a good choice for those watching their budget or looking for a variety to sample. Closed Tue.

MAGDEBURG Amsterdam

Olvenstedter Str. 9, 39108 Tel (0391) 662 86 80

There is a bistro-type atmosphere at this very hip address near the centre. Several beers are on offer and a smaller wine selection. Try the "Do-It-Yourself" breakfast menu where guests can mix and match items for a set price. The French cheese plate or one of the other international dishes are great for something lighter in the evening.

MERSEBURG Shoalin

Am Airpark 3, 6217 Tel (03461) 34 28 78

Chinese and Thai foods are served at this spacious restaurant located near a city garden. Typical Chinese decor predominates, but the service is affable. Try one of the duck dishes for something different or ask for something spicy if you prefer a meal with bite. There are several vegetarian options. Closed Mon.

MERSEBURG Belle Epoque

Oberaltenburg 4 6217 Tel (03461) 452 00

An exquisite restaurant in the Radisson SAS Hotel Halle-Merseburg (see p492), which is located on the cathedral hill. They specialize in Scandinavian and German cuisine, as well as a few international dishes. Interesting decor and very good service. The café includes a terrace. The Raben bar is a highlight for business travellers.

NAUMBURG Zur alten Schmiede

Lindenring 36/37 6618 Tel (03445) 243 60

A delightful, traditional restaurant in the wine-producing region of the Saale-Unstrut. It is located in the town centre and the current structure dates back to 1700 when it was used as a blacksmith's shop. Excellent location for sampling some of the local wines and regional food specialities. There is a romantic fire on colder evenings.

OUFDLINBURG Romantik Hotel am Brühl

eee

長 章 经

€€€€

(F)

Billunastr, 11, 0-6484 Tel (03946) 961 80

Famed for its service, menu and extensive wine list, this restaurant is a great option for those in town or staying near by. Wines available include varieties from France, Italy, California and, of course, regional favourites. A glorious inner courtyard is wonderfully relaxing on clear days, so eat outside if possible

OUEDLINBURG Weinkeller Theophano

T F €€€€

Markt 13-14, 0-6484 Tel (3946) 96300

A family-owned establishment. This 400-year-old wine cellar is a restored structure with sandstone vaulted ceilings. The staff are welcoming and friendly and the lighting is soft. The menu combines German as well as international dishes and is refreshingly seasonal, with many items only offered during peak season. Very popular with the locals.

STENDAL Altstadt-Hotel

#

€€

Breite Str. 60, 39576 Tel (03931) 698 90

A quaint but pleasant place to enjoy a meal or light snack. Open for both lunch and dinner, this hotel (see p493) and restaurant is located in the centre of town. Tastefully furnished and relaxing, you can sit outside in good weather. The menu offers international and German dishes, although there are few options for those with special dietary needs.

TANGERMÜENDE Kutscherstübchen

Lange Str. 52, 39590 Tel (039322) 23 91

Part of the historic Schwarzer Adler Hotel (see p.493), this is a nice family-friendly restaurant. Pleasantly furnished and tranguil, most meals are served in generous portions with the focus on regional fare, although some international ingredients and cooking methods influence the menu.

WERNIGERODE Gothisches Haus

P

€€€

Marktplatz 2, 38855 Tel (03943) 67 50

This restaurant is connected to a mid-sized four-star hotel of the same name. The main train station is approximately one kilometre away. Enjoy dining among the half-timbered houses in the centre of this wonderfully romantic town. The restaurant includes a bar, outdoor seating area and wine tavern (they have an extensive wine list).

WITTENBURG Grüne Tanne

€

Am Teich 1, 0-6896 Tel (03491) 62 90

Located on the outskirts of town, this former knight's manor is over 400 years old. This pleasant restaurant, based in a hotel of the same name, serves above average traditional and regional German dishes. They have a small but good wine list. Open for dinner from 5:30pm on weekdays and for lunch from 11am.

WITTENBURG Glücksburger Schlosskeller

Am Schlossplatz 1, 0-6886 Tel (03491) 40 65 92

Located in the rustic, vaulted basement of a 16th-century house, this place is sure to please anyone looking for something traditional and cosy with its fascinating decor. The menu includes time-honoured German and Saxonian fare. Various regional and national beers are on offer, as well as wines. The staff dress in medieval costumes.

SAXONY

AUGUSTUSBURG Café Friedrich

Hans-Planer-Str. 1, 0-9573 Tel (037291) 66 66

Over 100 years of family tradition await you at this lovely café, which is situated in a hilly, picturesque part of the town with amazing views of Castle Augustusburg. They offer both lighter and heavier dishes, and their desserts, especially cakes, are to die for. There is a play area for children in the garden.

BAD MUSKAU Am Schlossbrunnen

国とデ

€€

Köbelner Str. 68, 0-2953 Tel (035771) 5230

Operated by the Wieczorek family, this hotel and restaurant sits on the edge of town. It has a delightful interior, Both regional and international dishes are served, with a focus on fish, most of it caught locally in the heathland lakes. Also, try one of the steak dishes or the excellent Fürst-Puckler ice cream, which is a local speciality.

RAUTZEN Bautzener Brauhaus

€)

Thomas-Mann-Str 7 0-2625 Tel (03591) 49 14 56

As the name of this eatery suggests, this is one of the local brew houses. Choose from several varieties of beer, including Schwarzbier, or black beer, and the original Pilsner. Enjoy your beer either on site, or take some home. The menu offers mostly standard German fare but at good prices. Tours of the brewery are also available

BAUTZEN Residence

Wilthener Str. 32, 0-2625 Tel (03591) 35 57 00

Situated close to the historic centre of town, this newer, sensibly decorated hotel and restaurant has a menu mainly offering no-nonsense meals at affordable prices. Regional cuisine and international dishes available. The main dining area has lot of sun in summer, although not uncomfortably so. There is also a large sun terrace.

CHEMNITZ Sächsischer Hof

Brühl 26, 0-9111 Tel (0371) 461 480

This restaurant is in a hotel of the same name. They offer international and regional dishes made with a creative flair. Crème sauces, salads and fish entrées dominate the menu. The service is first rate and the staff extremely friendly. Dark wood furniture and greenery greet you inside as does a bar. Some credit cards are accepted

CHEMNITZ Glashaus

T 7

Salzstr 56 0-9113 Tel (0371) 334 10

Based in the Renaissance Hotel and surrounded by lush greenery, this restaurant offers great views of the old town and the restaurant pond. International dishes are served in this lovely, modern venue, which rivals any botanical garden. There is also an attractive terrace and various seasonal events available to guests.

DRESDEN Cuchi

國東 1 9

Wallgäßchen 5, 0-1097 Tel (0351) 862 75 80

Chinese. Vietnamese and Japanese fusion cuisine all under one roof. The sushi menu is extensive, as are the wine and beer lists. Try one of the meals served in a wok. The Chillout Garden lives up to its name and is very relaxing and calm. Open daily at noon Monday to Thursday. Evening reservations are recommended.

DRESDEN Sophienkeller

愛も雨 デ

Taschenberg 3, 0-1067 Tel (0351) 49 72 60

One of the most popular and lively restaurants in Dresden. It is one of three eateries located in the Taschenbergpalais. Come here for the re-created rustic atmosphere of an 18th-century beer cellar. They have authentic regional cuisine on the menu. The staff wear period costumes. Ask to sit at the indoor carousel table.

DRESDEN Intermezzo

も雨りが

Taschenberg 3, 0-1067 Tel (0351) 49 12 0

This restaurant is in the Kempinski Taschenbergpalais and serves unconventional dishes with a touch of the Mediterranean. Try one of the delicious salads or soups for lunch. Desserts are also worth noting as is the extensive wine list. The dining area of the hotel also includes an American-style bar, café and other dining options.

DRESDEN Das Caroussel

Rähnitzgasse 19, 0-1097 Tel (0351) 800 30

The hotel and restaurant are based within a recently restored Baroque palace in the historic city centre, dating from the 18th century. Famed in the region as one of the best restaurants in Saxony, dine on Mediterranean cuisine while sipping one of the first-class wines. Truly spectacular.

KAMENZ Goldener Hirsch Ratskeller

重好

Markt 10, 1917 Tel (03578) 78350

The restaurant of the Goldener Hirsch hotel (see p494), which is in the market square. This elegant establishment serves exquisite Italian dishes. The rustic Ratskeller, which serves traditional German fare, is also recommended. Reservations are not usually required, but call ahead if your party is large.

LEIPZIG Zest

盘!另

€)

Bornnaische Str. 54, 4277 Tel (0341) 2319126

A fresh and creative take on meatless international fusion food. Try one of the wildly imaginative and intriguing vegetarian dishes, such as spinach risotto balls with a cashew nut crust and coconut crème. The rosemary lemon cake is also tempting and worth sampling. An extensive wine list. Open daily at 11am.

LEIPZIG Kaiser Maximilian

爾里吳

Neumarkt 9, 4109 Tel (0341) 355 33 333

A bright restaurant, pleasantly decorated and with small recesses for the tables, the menu here is largely influenced by Italian dishes, but several regions of the world are also represented, and changes every other week, ensuring that the best in-season produce is used for the head chef's fabulous new creations.

LEIPZIG La Mirabelle

a 7 9

Gohlisertrasse 11, 4105 Tel (0341) 590 29 81

A typical French restaurant with lots of goat's cheese and wine on the menu. Ask for the seasonal or special dishes during dinner. A refined and stylish place. Reservations are not required but recommended. Open for lunch Monday to Friday from 11:30am and for dinner every evening from 6pm.

I FIP7IG Michaelis

Paul-Gruner-Str 44 4107 Tel (0341) 26780

This is a restaurant based in a hotel situated in a building that dates back over 100 years. Look for the usual, mostly European cuisine as well as local specialities. The well-lit dining area is intimate and nice in good weather. There is a child-friendly seating area and menu, although there are few options for those with special dietary needs.

LEIPZIG Medici

Nikolaikirchhof 5, 4109 Tel (0341) 211 38 78

A hip, up-market restaurant located in the centre of the city. The menu focuses on the Mediterranean with fresh. high quality ingredients, especially vegetables and fish. Take your pick of lighter or heavier meals. The wine list is

MEISSEN Rauernhäusel

國金舜

Oberspaarer Str. 20, 1662. Tel (03521) / 73 33 17

Join the traditional, uniform-wearing and friendly staff at this historic pub in Meissen. Wine is the top drink on offer and is very good. The menu is traditional German, with some French, Austrian, Italian, English and American influences. Onen Tuesday to Sunday (brunch on some Sundays)

MEISSEN Mercure Grandhotel Meissen

4

€€

Hafenstr 27_31 1662 Tel (03521) 722 50

This classy hotel-restaurant, based in a large Art Nouveau villa on the bank of the Elbe, serves regional and international food. Look for a wide selection of fish dishes on the menu. Their wine list is superb. Guests can also dine in the café, which has a terrace, or in the intimate hotel bar.

MORITZBURG BEI DRESDEN Churfürstliche Waldschaenke

certainly better than average. Open daily at noon and closed between 3pm and 6pm.

Große Fasanenstr., 1468 Tel (035207) 860-0

This restaurant, in the Waldschänke Hotel and near a former pheasantry, serves regional German and European food. There is a good choice of game dishes on the menu. There is a large wine selection to choose from, including brands from the immediate vicinity and other parts of the region. Large parties can be accommodated, but call ahead.

PIRNA Deutsches Haus

色笋

Niedere Burgstr. 1, 1796 Tel (03501) 46 880

This modern restaurant, part of a hotel belonging to the Romantik Hotels chain (see p495), is highly rated and very popular with locals. The food is mostly German with some international influences. Reservations are rarely needed. but call ahead on extended holiday weekends or if your party has special needs.

PIRNA Escobar

國軍「學

€)

Obere Burastr. 1, 1796 Tel (03501) 582773

Nestled in a building over 80 years old, which was recently renovated. Visit this café, bar and restaurant for a decor reminiscent of 1950s South America. The South American influence continues on the menu with dishes such as fish curry with plantain fillets. Brunch buffet every Sunday beginning at 10am.

TORGAU Central-Hotel

Friedrichokatz 8, 4860 Tel (03421) 732 80

This attractively furnished but modest restaurant is based in a hotel of the same name. It specializes in cuisine from Baden, so come here for food that is uncomplicated but delightful – the desserts are especially good. However, there are few vegetarian options. The service is courteous and attentive. Open for both lunch and dinner.

ZITTAU Riedel

重好

€)

Frieenstr. 23, 2763 Tel (03583) 68 60

Serving German foods from several regions, this hotel-restaurant is a good place to sample all things German. There are several grilled and roasted pork dishes on the menu. Relax in the beautiful and comfortable beer garden in good weather or enjoy a pint of one of the many beers on offer in the Bavarian-style pub.

ZWICKAU Drei Schwaene

電 1 9

€€€

Heinrich-Heine-Str. 69, 8058 Tel (0375) 204 76 50

A lovely French restaurant. Lots of fresh flowers on the tables make your dining experience intimate as well as first class. As expected, the wine list is phenomenal and focuses mostly on French producers. Reservations are recommended for dinner. There are very few vegetarian options on the menu, but ask your waiter for house selections.

THURINGIA

ALTENBURG Altenburger Hof

国とホーデ

€)

Schmöllnsche Landstr. 8, 4600 Tel (03447) 58 40

The Altenburger Hof Hotel (see p495) restaurant is typical of many in the region. Expect good service and decent quality food at affordable prices. The café is also fairly standard, but charming all the same. The hotel also has a bar. As in most regions of Germany, hotel bars often close earlier than you might expect.

FISENACH Café Lackner & Julian's Restaurant

Johannisstr 22 99817 Tel (03691) 78 45 50

A family-owned (since 1929) café plus adjoining restaurant. It has a very tranquil outdoor seating area, so sit outside if the weather is nice. Service is exceptional and the staff are very knowledgeable about the menu and surrounding area. It can get busy during dinner, so call ahead if you want to guarantee a table.

EISENACH Eisenacherhof

Katharinenstr. 11-13, 99817 Tel (03691) 293 90

A Mediterranean restaurant and pizzeria in the Eisenacherhof Hotel. The pasta is made fresh and to order. A second restaurant, the Lutter, specializes in German cuisine from various regions. Try one of the many pork or fish dishes. The wine list is decent. There is also a pleasant hotel bar, a café with a terrace and an in-house disco some nights.

ERFURT Anger Maier

Schlösserstr 8 99084 Tel (0361) 566 10 58

Do not let the low prices at this restaurant fool you, this is the perfect place to enjoy a meal during your trip. The walls of the restaurant are decorated with photos of former patrons and family members. The outdoor seating area has lots of colourful shrubbery. They also have a charming dark wood bar.

ERFURT Naumburgischer Keller

Michaelisstr, 49, 99084 Tel (0361) 540 24 50

A restaurant located in a half-timbered building over 300 years old. The culinary focus is on Thuringian food and local beers. Try the Rostbrätel, or roasted meat with braised onions, as an entrée, The special Christmas menu features typical regional Christmas fare. The wine list has an excellent selection.

ERFURT Zum alten Schwan

Gotthardstr. 27, 99084 Tel (0361) 674 00

Situated in the historic city centre of Erfurt, this restaurant is housed in the Sorant Hotel. The cooking is of a yery high standard and there is a wide selection of dishes on offer. Choose one of the lighter dishes if you are not hungry enough for a full meal, such as fresh salads or light but filling soups.

ERFURT Alboth's Restaurant im Kaisersaal

Futterstr. 15/16, 99084 Tel (0361) 568 82 07

Very fancy and highly rated. This restaurant, located in the hotel Kaisersaal, has earned its reputation as one of the city's classiest places to dine. Top-notch wine list. The innovative head chef creates memorable meals using ultra-fresh ingredients and international food preparation techniques. Superb desserts.

ERFURT Köstritzer "Zum güldenen Rade"

Marktstr 50 99084 Tel (0361) 5 61 35 06

There is a little something here for everyone, especially those with discriminating tastes, with the very international menu – try something Asian or French. There are several vegetarian dishes on the menu as well as typical German and local fare. Dark woods and plush colours abound. Wheelchair accessible and family friendly.

GERA li be

Humboldtstr. 22, 7545 Tel (0365) 5519395

This is a very chic and hip bistro. The chef focuses on the art of food and the staff on the art of service and both do a terrific job. An international menu centred on European cuisine, but also branching into some other areas of the globe. Sip a cocktail at the bar to relax after a long day. There is live music on the weekends.

GOTHA Hotel am Schlosspark

Lindenauallee 20, 99867 Tel (03621) 44 20

A relaxing hotel (see p496) restaurant enhanced by the indoor foliage and sunny outdoor surroundings in good weather. Enjoy coffee or your favourite beer while sitting in the outdoor seating area. They offer both classic regional fare and international dishes. The restaurant is situated at the end of the castle park.

JENA Schwarzer Bär

Lutherplatz 2, 7743 Tel (03641) 40 60

A hotel and restaurant in a historic building near the University of Jena. Eat in the same place Martin Luther once stayed. Choose this restaurant if you are looking for simple, modern and regional food. Try the Goethe menu, which has leg of lamb, puréed potato soup with sausages and two delicious desserts.

JENA Scala

Leutragraben 1, 7743 Tel (036 41) 35 66 660

A wonderful restaurant located on the 28th floor of the former GDR tower and affording a panoramic view of the city. Try the fillet of bass on a saffron risotto with a white wine sauce. The restaurant also includes conference rooms, all named after famous cities around the world. Highly recommended.

MÜHLHAUSEN Brauhaus zum Löwen

Kornmarkt 3, 99974 Tel (03601) 4710

This local brewery serves its own beer in the restaurant and pub. Most of the food is traditional German and so there are few vegetarian options. Try one of the bretzels or sausages as a snack, or any of the main courses for something more substantial. The hotel is also adjacent to the dining areas.

€(€)

#

Ł Œ

と乗りが

K T F

國東「吳

医康笋

重デ

£ ₹ %

#

€)

(€)(€)

€€€€€

(F)

SAALFELD Obstaut Gehlen

Hohe Str 1 7318 Tel (03671) 20 27

This restaurant and hotel are based in a beautiful Art Nouveau building located some distance outside the town. A range of dishes are prepared in the intimate restaurant, including food from France and several of Germany's regions. The wine list is respectable, with several wines from France, Italy and Germany on offer.

SCHMOLLN Hotel Restaurant Bellevue

Am Pfefferhera 7, 4626, Tel (034491) 70,00

An award-winning restaurant, based in a hotel of the same name. The atmosphere is refined with crisp tablecloths. silver cutlery and nice indoor greenery. Views from the terrace are astounding. The menu focuses almost exclusively on continental cuisine, with some non-European influences. A very good wine list.

WEIMAR Brasserie Central

T P F

P k 乗 ₹ ₽

€€

€€

Rollnlatz 8a 99423 Tel (03643) 85 27 74

Typical French provincial cuisine with some international influences, mostly German and Italian. Sweet or sayoury crêpes are made to order. The menu changes constantly, so check with the staff for current offerings. They have a vast wine list, so it is a great place to try a new wine or enjoy an old favourite

WEIMAR Wolff's Art Hotel and Restaurant

L T F €)

Freiherr-vom-Stein-Allee 3a/b. 99425 Tel (03643) 540 60

As you would expect with a name like Art Hotel and Restaurant, there is lots of art on display here for quests to enjoy. Both the Art Hotel and its restaurant are furnished in the style created by the Bauhaus School. The menu includes foods from all regions of the world, with an emphasis on European cuisine.

WFIMAR Anna Amalia

Markt 19 99423 Tel (03643) 80 20

This restaurant has a venerable tradition, with famous customers such as Richard Wagner and Thomas Mann, and remains popular to this day. You will enjoy some of the finest Italian cooking in all of Thuringia, with an ever-evolving menu. The interior is decorated in Art Deco style. Service is first class.

MUNICH

Königsguelle

Ł D **€)

Raadernlatz 2 80469 Tel (089) 220071

A must for whisky lovers who flock here for the whisky bar. The food here ranges from homely and simple to refined high-class cooking. The veal Wiener Schnitzel comes highly recommended. A warm friendly atmosphere with good reliable service. The range of beers and wines is also good. It is popular so it is best to book ahead.

Ruffini

対しまが

Orffstraße 22-24, 80637 Tel (089) 161160

With 25 years of experience behind it. Ruffini is a well-established address for good regional Italian cuisine. Try the organic roast pork with rosemary potatoes or penne with Italian smoked sausage, tomatoes and paprika. It is also popular as a bright, sleek café and patisserie. By evening the guests come for the good Italian wine and food.

Vanilla Lounge

€

Leopoldstraße 65, 80335 Tel (089) 38666836

In the heart of Schwabing, Munich's laid-back hip and arty district, you will find this modern café-bar-restaurant. The relaxed feel reigns all day. It is trendy and comfortable, with a club-like decor with changeable lights and colours. Try this coffee bar cum lounge for relaxed and tasty dinners.

Yum

€€ Map 2 B5

Utzschneiderstraße 6, 80469 Tel (089) 23230660

A very fashionable and trendy Thai kitchen and bar. The interior is dark – black walls, orchids and spotlit gilt buddhas – chilled and full of glamorous media types. The food is wonderfully presented. Sample authentic Thai curry with coconut sauce, stir fries and spicy fish soups. A great atmosphere, even if the food takes a while to arrive.

Zum Franziskaner

(€)(€)

Residenzstraße 9, Perusastraße 5, 80331 Tel (089) 2318120

Map 2 B4

Rich in tradition and one of the best places to head for typical Bavarian specials. Their home-made white sausage, Weißwurst is famous in Munich. Also, try the Bavarian meatloaf with mustard, fillet of ox, plus a variety of salads and vegetarian dishes. Being the brewery's restaurant, you must try the Franziskaner beer, originally brewed by monks.

Al Pino

長 電 デ

Franz-Hals-Straße 3, 81479 Tel (089) 799885

Excellent Italian dishes mastered by chef Valerio Scopel, open for Junch (except Sunday) or dinner. It has an understated decor, where portraits reminiscent of the Medici line the walls. Try the red mullet on fennel purée, zucchini flower ravioli in saffron butter and green apple mousse on cassis cream.

Key to Price Guide see p526 Key to Symbols see back cover flap

Dallmayr

Dienerstraße 14-15, 80331, Tel (089) 2135100

Man 2 R4

Dallmavr is a Munich institution, famous for its coffee house and café. The elegant restaurant offers delicious treats such as zucchini flowers with lobster on a bed of ratatouille in curry sauce, plus a selection of superb wines. Very popular with locals and tourists for its high level of service, patisserie and cuisine.

Gandl

上 重

€€

St-Anna-Platz 1, 80538 Tel (089) 162525

Man 3 D4 Gandl is the hotel restaurant of the attractive Opera Hotel (see p498), serving light Italian cuisine at midday and a fine French cuisine in the evenings. Depending on the time of year, you can eat by the open fire or on the lovely

Nektar

Stubenvollstraße 1 81667 Tel (089) 45911311

A contemporary, decadent experience awaits at Nektar, A supper club atmosphere where you eat several courses while reclining, with performances in-between. Everything is white, emphasizing the futuristic lighting, design. chilled music and video projections. Daily changing menus and good Old World wines. Book ahead.

terrace. Excellent starters, steak, lamb, fish and duck dishes followed by French cheeses are available.

Spatenhaus

€€€

An der Oper, Residenzstraße 12, 80333 Tel (089) 2907060

Map 2 B4

A classic place to sample traditional high quality Bavarian cuisine, part of the renowned Kuffler company. The First Floor is more informal, while the Second Floor is more sophisticated and has great views of the Opera House. Specials include the stuffed breast of yeal or meatballs with home-made potato salad or a slow baked cabbage roll.

Acetaia

Ł 🏗

EEEE

Nymphenburgerstraße 215, 80639 Tel (089) 13929077

This small and narrow, friendly and stylish restaurant has a small menu based entirely around balsamic yinggar. Try the cauliflower soup and home-made ravioli filled with riccotta cheese and mushrooms or pecorino, topped with a drop of the real 25-year-old balsamic vinegar from Modena. There are seats out front in the summer.

Austernkeller

€€€€

Stollbergstraße 11, 80539 Tel (089) 298787

Map 2 C4

Munich's famous seafood restaurant specializes in oysters. The cuisine is typically French and uses the freshest catch of the day. Be sure to ask for the daily specials. Well established with a great reputation for over 25 years, the scallops and French onion soup are highly recommended. There is a romantic and intimate feel.

Broeding

長笋

€€€€

Schulstraße 9 80634 Tel (089) 164238

Broeding is a fine restaurant and also an Austrian wine importer. There is a daily changing five-course set menu (fish every first Wednesday in the month) and a list of top quality wines. Set up by a sommelier and a chef who share a passion for excellent food and wine. Small but simply the best. Book well ahead.

Dukatz

と乗りが

€€€€

Salvatorplatz 1, 80331 Tel (089) 2919600

A cultural spot in Munich's Literaturhaus ("house of literature"), this restaurant has won accolades for its food and reasonable pricing. The bistro serves an excellent choice of light Mediterranean dishes with seasonal menus, which change on a daily basis. Meat or fish with vegetables or salads are available in a mouthwatering variety of dishes.

Garden Restaurant

と乗りが

€€€€

Promenadenplatz 2-6, 80333 Tel (089) 2120993

Map 2 A3

The elegant option within Munich's gorgeous luxury hotel Bayerischer Hof (see p498), this lovely roof garden restaurant offers fabulous views across the city. The menu and decor are inspired by the southern Mediterranean. Try the grilled wild salmon, pan-fried foie gras, orange and braised fennel ravioli, veal, lamb or fish dishes.

Lenbach

占庸产

€€€€

Ottostraße 6, 80333 Tel (089) 5491300

Map 1 F3

One of the city's best restaurants in a Renaissance building with interiors by Sir Terence Conran in the theme of the seven deadly sins. Specialities of the house include osso bucco of yeal with chipolino and artichokes, asparagus ravioli au gratin with raspberry and chervil. Choose from the three halls, the bar, gallery or terrace

Acquarello

Mühlbaurstraße 36, 81677 Tel (089) 4704848

This restaurant serves fabulous Michelin-starred Italian cuisine using fresh ingredients and special seasonings. Ask chef and owner Mario for his wine recommendations. Try the tortelli of figs and foie gras, squab with red wine, walnut and parsley sauce followed by lemon ricotta tart. There is typically Italian kitsch decor and excellent food.

Bistro Terrine

Map 2 B1

Amalienstraße 89, 80799 Tel (089) 281780

Bistro Terrine is Tantris' younger sister and a high quality restaurant. They specialize in delicious low-calorie dishes and especially good are the lamb and fish. There is also a lovely garden terrace and children are welcome. It is light, bright and very stylish with antique beaded lamps. Located in the lively studenty area of Schwabing.

Ederer

Kardinal-Faulhaher-Straße 10, 80333, Tel (089) 24231310

Man 2 B3

A first-floor restaurant within the Fünf Höfe building opposite a large bank. Excellent fish and seafood is available, such as terrine of sardines and sweet peopers or pea soup and gambas, all fresh from the market. Also, over 500 great wines from their cellar. Diners can enjoy the courtvard terrace in summer.

Käfer Schänke

Prinzregentenstraße 73, 81675 Tel (089) 4168247

Michael Käfer's renowned gourmet restaurant attracts a mix of politicians and artsy and business types. Open all day from 11am for lunch and dinner whenever you want. There are cosy, intimate dining rooms in contemporary chic mixed with traditional Bavaria – hunting room, opera room and a lounge with an open fire.

Köniashof

€€€€€

Karlsplatz 25, 80336, Tel (089) 55136142

Map 1 F4

A Michelin-starred gourmet restaurant in the hotel of the same name (see p499). Chef Martin Fauster creates wonderful food such as medallion of venison with chanterelles and cabbage, fillet of sea bass with artichoke fond and rayioli or crème brûlée and liquorice ice cream with poached pear. There is a refined atmosphere

Mark's Restaurant Mandarin Oriental

NouturmetraRe 1 80331 Tel (080) 200080

Man 2 C4

Fine dining in sumptuous surroundings is offered here. There is a special monthly menu and over 400 wines to choose from. Located on the mezzanine overlooking the lobby, sample resident chef Mario Corti's lavish dishes, such as white halibut in wild garlic fumet and artichoke or medaillon of beef fillet with green asparagus are second to none.

Tantris

Johann-Fichte Straße 7, 80805 Tel (089) 3619590

A classic establishment and a Munich institution for over 30 years. Designed in a 1970s style it offers gourmet menus, a high standard of luxury and also has two Michelin stars, a garden and a terrace. Booking is essential. Try the specials, aubergine and sardine terrine with pesto or lukewarm salmon in leek purée and brown butter.

RAVARIA

ANSRACH Drechsels-Stuhen

Æ

€€

Am Drechselsgarten 1, 91522 Tel (0981) 89020

Within the Best Western Hotel, the Drechsels-Stuben offers quests great views over the town and area. The cuisine is based on fresh seasonal produce, with a German leaning but also serves some international dishes. The menu changes weekly and offers meat, fish and vegetable combinations. There is also a café and outdoor terrace seating.

ASCHAFFENBURG Post

Ł ∄ T

Goldbacher Straße 19-21, 63739 Tel (06021) 33 40

Right in the heart of Aschaffenburg is the Post Hotel. Its fancy restaurant with gilt decor, pillars and guiet and slightly private niches serves Mediterranean, regional and often traditional cuisine. It has won several accolades for its gourmet menu. Bayarian specialities come highly recommended, especially the Wiener Schnitzel.

ASCHAFFENBURG Restaurant Hotel Wilder Mann

と乗りが

€(€)

Löherstraße 51, 63739 Tel (06021) 3020

Good quality regional and seasonal cuisine, especially fresh fish from the basin and the Wilder Man Steak platter. It also offers an extensive wine list, specializing in German and international wines. As part of a hotel (see p499), it dates back to a 16th-century inn at the bridge over the river Main. They have a roof terrace.

ASCHAU IM CHIEMGAU Heinz Winkler

と無りが

€€€€

Kirchplatz 1, 83229 Tel (08052) 17990

Masterchef Heinz Winkler took over the original Post Hotel here in 1989 (see p499). He has created a culinary destination for real gourmands with a wonderful Apline backdrop by the Chiemsee. Dine in palatial surroundings in the Venetian lounge, garden salon, winter garden or loggia terrace. Exceptional food and wine.

AUGSBURG Kaiman

Ł P

(€)(€)

Ludwigstraße 19, 86251 Tel (0821) 7808140

Kaiman is a young, lively and fashionable spot in the centre of Augsburg. Its contemporary concept is a chilled lounge with extravagant food. The cuisine is healthy Pan-Asian with European touches for modern global nomads who like to dine with music in a relaxed dark candlelit atmosphere. How about Caipirinha chicken or ostrich steaks?

AUGSBURG Die Ecke

長 乗 デ

Elias-Holl-Platz 2, 86150 Tel (0821) 510600

A fine Swabian-Bayarian restaurant famous for its innovative dishes with waller, the European or wels catfish, such as baked with horseradish on vegetables and rice with a Riesling sauce. Another house special is the roast lamb in Pommery and mustard crust on shallot sauce, beans and potato gratin. They also have excellent wines.

AUGSBURG Magnolia Restaurant im Glaspalast

€€€

Reim Glaspalast 1, 86153, Tel (0821) 3199999

Magnolia offers a refined, modern international menu. It is housed in a listed industrial glass building, alongside original works of art. The menu changes weekly. Try the tuna tartar with caviar crème fraiche and rocket, or Provencale fillet of beef with foie gras. Fish dishes are equally impressive, as are much simpler creations,

AUGSBURG August

Frauentorstraße 27, 86152 Tel (0821) 35279

Expect great cuisine at August, but what makes it special is the complexity and artistry in preparation and combinations. The food is painstakingly prepared using fresh seasonal vegetables, fish, seafood and game. Everything is incredibly light and has strong aromas as well as colours. Untypically delicate for Bavaria.

BAMBERG Alt Ringlein

Dominikanerstraße 9 96049 Tel (0951) 95320

In the heart of Bamberg's Old Town, this hotel (see p499) and restaurant serves up Franconian specialities accompanied by the famous Bamberg beers. Tables outdoors in summer in the beer garden with a view of the cathedral. The wing housing the restaurant dates back over 700 years.

BAMBERG St Nepomuk

Ł

Obere Mühlbrücke 9, 96049 Tel (0951) 98420

Dine in a traditional restaurant which has been a staple in the community for centuries. Good selection of game and fish dishes as well as accompanying local wines and beers. The cuisine is generally international. Part of a former mill, it has a charming atmosphere and great views across the river and the town.

BAYREUTH Oskar

Ł 🚓

€(€)

Maximilianstraße 33, 95444 Tel (0921) 5160553

A traditional institution in Bayreuth, this popular spot draws the crowds for its lively bar which often hosts comedy shows. Fine old dining rooms serve a good selection of regional Franconian food at reasonable prices. A great atmosphere and friendly young staff. Housed in the former town hall right on the marketplace in the heart of town.

BAYREUTH Restaurant Lohmühle

長 康 丁

€€

Badstraße 37, 95444 Tel (0921) 53060

Freshwater fish is the speciality here, all fattened up and caught in the restaurant's own pond. Look out for trout. carp and blue wels catfish on the menu. There is also a good choice of regional Franconian wines to complement the food. Just a stroll from the town centre, it is housed in a quaint old tannery at the edge of a babbling brook.

BAYREUTH Schlossgaststätte Eremitage

もまりデ

€€€

Eremitage 6, 95448 Tel (0921) 799970

An incredibly beautiful setting in the castle where there is also a terrace for alfresco summer dining, an orangerie for the afternoon or aperitifs and a café. Excellent cuisine, service and international wines. Highly recommended is the fine perch, or steak in balsamic and shallott sauce with rocket roast potatoes. The desserts are also exquisite.

BAYREUTH Jagdschloss Thiergarten

と乗りが

Oberthiergärtner Straße 36, 95448 Tel (09209) 9840

This romantic setting is popular for special occasions as well as romantic dinners. The castle provides a cosy tavern, with a hunting lodge feel, serving traditional game dishes, or the more formal, elegant Schloss restaurant serving nouvelle cuisine. Try the tuna carpaccio, fish, duck, lobster or lamb.

BAYRISCHZELL Der Alpenhof

長爾里

Osterhofen 1, 83735 Tel (08023) 90650 High quality, Michelin-starred Bavarian and international specials. Fish, game, meat, vegetables and superb desserts.

Situated south of Munich near the Austrian border, in an Alpine village close to the Tegernsee and with splendid Alpine views. There is a very welcoming comfortable atmosphere.

BURGHAUSEN Bayerische Alm

と乗りが

€€€

Robert-Koch-Str. 211, 84489 Tel (08677) 9820

Guests come here not only for the excellent Austrian and Mediterranean specialties, but also for the unrivalled view of Europe's longest castle with the Alps as a backdrop. Dine outdoors in the beer garden or on the terraces in warm weather. Local produce is favoured. Part of the Landhotel Reisingers Bayerische Alm (see p500).

COBURG Der Kräutergarten & Die Petersilie

Ł 🏗

(€)(€)

Rosenauer Straße 30c, 96450 Tel (09561) 426080

A fine roast lamb in herbs and garlic served with French beans and potato gratin is one of the house specials, as is the rainbow trout in Riesling sauce. A fine establishment on the edge of Coburg with an authentic, cosy and rustic interior. Herbs play the lead role in the cuisine here, hence the name Kräutergarten, "herb garden"

DINKELSBÜHL Zum kleinen Obristen

銀光

(F)

Dr.Martin-Luther-Straße 1, 91550 Tel (09851) 57700

A superb restaurant located in the centre of the old town in Hotel Eisenkrug's ancient vaulted rooms. Gastronomic delights range from exotically spiced dishes to regional homely cuisine. The chef's seasonal specialities include game from September to March and asparagus in spring. There is a good selection of regional wines.

DINKFI SRÜHL Deutsches Haus

Weinmarkt 3, 91550 Tel (09851) 6058

An impressive patrician's house dating back to 1440 is the setting for this hotel (see p500) and restaurant. Traditional German food with home-made specialities and light creative dishes are served in three different rooms, as well as outside in summer. Choose from hind quality meat, fish and vegetables. The whole place is steeped in history.

€€

€

€€€€

€€€

(€)(€)(€)

€€€

(€)(€)

(€)(€)

€€

E # 7 4

L T F

Ł D

Ł ⊕ T

Ł ⊕ T

Æ

Ł 🏗

EICHSTÄTT Klosterstuben

Pedettistraße 26, 85072 Tel (08421) 98000

Klosterstuben is well known throughout the region for its fine cuisine. Chef Walter Seitz prepares a mix of excellent Bavarian specials, international as well as vegetarian dishes. Old beams and a tiled stove remind you of the building's history. A snall, modern botel-restaurant with good service and a homely, rustic feel right in the heart of Fichstätt.

FREISING Zur Alten Schießstätte

Dr.-v.-Daller-Straße 1-3 85356 Tel (08161) 5320

Within the Dorint hotel in Freising, this restaurant has a good and well-deserved reputation for high quality Bavarian cuisine. Just a stroll from the historic centre of the town, which is close to Munich's airport and 30 minutes from Munich city centre. It has a 470-vear-old vaulted beer cellar and a beer garden under chestnut trees.

FÜSSEN Alpenblick

Uferstraße 10. 87629 Tel (08362) 50570

The hotel Alpenblick's (see p501) regional restaurant specializes in fish from Lake Hopfen and offers some stunning views across the lake and Alps. In a cosy Bavarian traditional atmosphere you can choose between the indoor restaurant, winter oarden or large terrace. In addition to fish there are several Schnitzel and Bratwurst options.

FÜSSEN Treff Hotel Luitpoldpark

Luitpoldstraße 1, 87629 Tel (08362) 9040

This magnificent hotel (see p501) offers various gastronomic treats, from the elegant restaurant Kurfürst von Bayern with its Bavarian specialities and international gourmet cuisine, to the cosy and traditional tavern Lautenmacher Stube, the Viennese café or even a Mexican restaurant.

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN Reindl's

Bahnhofstraße 15, 82467 Tel (08821) 943870

This top restaurant is found in the Partenkirchner Hof Hotel. With a long-standing tradition of fine cuisine, excellent service and refined atmosphere, the current chef presents a Bavarian menu with a classic French leaning. From the marinated wild salmon to veal kidneys, rack of lamb or venison, expect great quality and some wonderful wines.

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN Best Western Hotel Obermühle

Mühlstraße 22. 82467 Tel (08821) 7040

The Mühlenstube restaurant in the Best Western Hotel Obermühle is a mere five-minute stroll from the centre of Garmisch, and boasts magnificent views of Mt Zugspitz and other Alpine peaks. Open for both lunch and dinner, it offers an international menu, as well as the Mill Wheel bar (Mühlradl) where you can feast on Bavarian specialities.

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN Grand Hotel Sonnenbichl

Burgstraße 97, 82467 Tel (08821) 7020

Set in fabulous Alpine scenery, Grand Hotel Sonnenbichl's fine gourmet restaurant is called the Blue Salon. The impressive Art Nouveau building offers magnificent views of the mountains. In sunny weather guests can dine out on the terrace. The Blue Salon serves a fine variety of international dishes in classic elegant decor.

HAINDLFING NEAR FREISING Gasthaus Landbrecht

Freisinger Straße 1, 85354 Tel (08167) 8926

The à la carte menu offers a choice of regional gourmet specials. The meat, fish and vegetable dishes change with the season. This small, familiar restaurant is located in a quiet spot just north of Freising town. Country touches include features such as wood panelling and traditional tiled stoves. Parking available, Open Wednesday to Sunday.

INGOI STADT Hummel

Feldkirchener Straße 69, 85055 Tel (0841) 954530

A charming and friendly family-run hotel and restaurant close to the old town. The contemporary decor adds to the relaxed feel. Open to non-hotel guests, the restaurant, which takes the owners' family name, serves both Italian and international cuisine, either à la carte or from fixed menus. Try the wonderful potato soup or smoked trout.

KEMPTEN Peterhof

Salzstraße 1, 87435 Tel (0831) 52440

The Peterhof hotel is conveniently located in the heart of Kempten, next to the historical city centre and the pedestrianized area. It has a smart, modern restaurant which serves a variety of Italian dishes. It is familiar, informal and contemporary. Enjoy several light courses with Italian wine, rounded off by a great espresso.

LANDSHUT Schloss Schönbrunn

Schönbrunn 1, 84036 Tel (0871) 95220

Situated just outside Landshut in a magnificent pale pink 17th-century Bavarian castle, this classic, vaulted hotel and restaurant is the place to try some good old-fashioned Bavarian cooking. The hearty meals in traditional style form the basis of the menu, but the chef also serves international dishes. Wonderful beer garden too.

Key to Price Guide see p526 Key to Symbols see back cover flap

LINDALI Alte Post

K T T X

Fischergasse 3, 88131, Tel (08382), 93460

This attractive family-run restaurant was built in 1700 and offers diners a roof terrace, tables alfresco in the secluded square or indoor dining in a cosy room. Located in a quiet corner of the old town on the island. Local produce is used to create a variety of simple to gourmet meals with a hint of tradition. Families with children are welcome.

LINDALL Villing

PPP

Hoverberg 34, 88131 Tel (08382) 93450

Run by the young family Fischer, the Villino hotel and its restaurant (see p501) have a wonderfully warm atmosphere. Close to the lake in an idyllic garden setting, you can dine on the peaceful terrace under the shade of the trees. Enjoy the high quality dishes that combine the cuisines of Asia and Italy.

LINDAU Baverischer Hof

Seepromenade 88131 Tel (08382) 9150

For a classic grande dame-style hotel dining room, decked out in the finest swathes of rich fabrics, head to Bayerischer Hof Hotel's (see p501) restaurant. It serves excellent formal cuisine with a service to match, and superb views across Lake Constance, which are especially stunning from the terrace in summer

NEUBURG AN DER DONAU Zum Klosterbräu

A B T

Kirchplatz 1, 86633 Tel (08431) 67750

A well-established restaurant dating back to 1744, it is run by a young family and a creative chef. You can either dine in the slightly more private Jakobsstube for a romantic meal, or the cosy Gaststube specializing in typical high quality Bayarian cuisine and a Sunday roast. There is also a romantic garden for alfresco dining in fine weather.

NEU-ULM Landhof Meinl

Ł 🚓

Marbacher Straße 4, 89233 Tel (0731) 70520

This hotel-restaurant has a welcoming rustic feel with a touch of modern elegance. Set in guiet country surroundings (part of the so-called Silence hotel chain), the food served here is influenced by Swabian Alb cuisine. Try the lovely fresh salads with fish or chicken breast, or turkey in creamed pepper sauce with pan-fried potato rösti.

NÜRNBERG Sebald

Weinmarkt 14, 90403 Tel (0911) 381303

A smart contemporary restaurant in the centre of the old town. The chef combines his global experience to serve appetizing dishes with a German and Italian predominance, from vitello tonnato to clear oxtail soup, scallops, Wiener Schnitzel, fish and meat dishes. The cuisine does not disappoint. It is very popular, so be sure to book.

NIÏRNBERG Wonka

€€€€

Iohannisstraße 38, 90419, Tel (0911) 396215

A true gem, housed in a former bakery. It offers an excellent range of tasty dishes with a slightly exotic flair, from soups to fish, seafood and desserts. Good, friendly service and a wine list with each wine offered by the glass. Moderate prices for the city and highly recommended for the atmosphere and food.

NÜRNBERG Essigbrätlein

Weinmarkt 3, 90403 Tel (0911) 225131

Just a stroll away from the main market square, this small intimate restaurant only has 20 tables so booking ahead is essential. Tightly packed, cosy and familiar, there is excellent food, staff and wines. You can choose from the daily changing menu or let the head waiter and sommelier advise you. Delicious fish dishes plus exquisite desserts.

OBERAMMERGAU BÖID

Ł 🏗

König-Ludwig-Straße 10, 82487 Tel (08822) 9120

The restaurant in this classic chalet-style hotel offers traditional Bavarian hospitality. Expect a warm welcome, rustic but smart decor and good quality fare based on regional recipes and fresh local produce. You can decide between the restaurant, bar or sun terrace. It has a spectacular view of the surrounding mountains.

OBERSTDORF Exquisit

Ł ∰ Ţ

Prinzenstraße 17, 87561 Tel (08322) 96330

Set in an Alpine paradise with terraces overlooking sweeping lawns where quests can relax and dine in summer. A cosy country-style Bayarian restaurant, decked out in blue plaid, with very attentive, friendly but unobtrusive waiting staff. The cuisine is varied, from gourmet to low calorie, just let them know what you prefer.

PASSAU Christophorus Stüberl

€)

Pfaffengasse 7, 94032 Tel (0851) 7568090

For hearty home cooking head to the old-fashioned Christophorus Stüberl in a narrow old street in the heart of Passau. In addition to traditional regional cuisine they offer international dishes such as steaks and fish. It is nestled in a cobbled street between the cathedral and the Danube and the owners also sell fine Italian gourmet products.

PASSAU Heilig-Geist-Stift Stiftskeller

Heilig-Geist-Gasse 4, 94032 Tel (0851) 2607

Dark wood panelling throughout with a historical feel and old tiled stoves. Dinner is served in the hunting room or bishop's room, where coats of arms, hunting trophies and old prints adorn the walls. This rustic restaurant and wine bar specialize in Bavarian food. Try the freshwater fish caught in the local rivers. Closed Wednesday.

REGENSRURG Rosennalais

Minoritenweg 20, 93047 Tel (0941) 5997579

The ground floor of this beautiful palace is taken over by the restaurant. The delightful Baroque rooms on the first floor are only used for special occasions. There are high ceilings, cool simple rooms, elegant style, large windows and a rose garden. The high standard of cuisine has its roots in the local Obernfalz cooking with game and meat dishes dominating

REGENSBURG Restaurant Gänsbauer

Kenlerstraße10, 93047 Tel (0941) 57858

A light Mediterranean cuisine is served in this historic spot with a long-standing reputation as one of the town's best restaurants. Whether you try the duck, fish, meat or seafood, it will not disappoint. There is a lovely little romantic courtyard garden too. They offer wine tastings in their wine store. Stehladl, plus cookery courses, Closed Sunday.

REGENSBURG David

Krauterermarkt 3 93047 Tel (0941) 561858

A lovely first-rate restaurant in the Bischofshof am Dom hotel (see p502) in the centre of town, it takes its name from the story of David and Goliath – murals of which, dating back to 1573, can be admired on the building's facade. They provide classic gourmet food and there are great views from the roof terrace

ROTHENBURG OB DER TAUBER Gerberhaus Cafe

Spitalgasse 25, 91541 Tel (09861) 94900

Try a local Franconian specialty such as Nürnberger Bratwürstl mit Sauerkraut (Nürnberg sausages with Sauerkraut) in the lovely beer garden of the Hotel Gerberhaus, below the city wall. The popular café offers great pastries and cappuccing. Other light meals are served accompanied by local wine from the Tauber valley.

ROTHENBURG OB DER TAUBER Eisenhut

Herrngasse 3-7, 91541 Tel (09861) 7050

A delicately pretty restaurant in the very old Eisenhut hotel. The dining room is reminiscent of an aristocratic country manor with antique furniture, rugs, paintings and elegant table decorations. It overlooks the tranquil garden at the back. Enjoy regional and international specials, local wines and music from the hotel's piano bar in the next room.

WERNBERG-KOBLITZ Kastell

Hotel Burg Wernberg, Schlossberg 10, 92533 Tel (09604) 9390

Kastell has the well-deserved accolade of two Michelin stars. Choose from a superb gourmet menu under the fine vaulted ceilings of the moated Wernberg castle. Expect the whole works surrounding the great food, from excellent service to silver, porcelain and refined wines. Situated in a quiet setting, there is a garden restaurant too,

WÜRZBURG Nikolaushof

Spittelberawea, 97082 Tel (0931) 797500

Welcoming and stylish, this modern restaurant in warm Mediterranean tones sits atop a hill near a chapel overlooking the town. Enjoy the view of the lights at night through the large front windows or look out across the roofs of Würzburg from the shady terrace in summer. Dine on international and regional Franconian specialities.

WÜRZBURG Zum Lamm

Hauptstraße 76, 97204 Tel (0931) 3045630

The Lamb is a well-known restaurant in the region. Established back in 1732 it used to serve crusaders. Today, the quests are both locals and tourists who come for the Franconian and international cuisine, the cosy feel and the romantic courtyard garden in summer. The emphasis is on locally farmed produce and seasonal recipes.

WÜRZBURG Schloss Steinburg

Auf dem Steinberg, 97080 Tel (0931) 97020

The romantic Steinburg castle provides the attractive setting for this hotel and restaurant. It boasts fabulous views over the town from the garden terrace in fine weather. Steeped in history the castle was first mentioned in 1236. Enjoy German gourmet specialities with excellent service. Perhaps book a romantic candlelit dinner for two.

BADEN-WURTTEMBERG

BADEN-BADEN Laterne

Gernsbacher Straße 10-12, 76530 Tel (07221) 29999

Housed in a typical 300-year-old building of the region, this hotel-restaurant is right in the pedestrianized area. The interior is rustic in style and cosy. Expect Baden cuisine and wine, including specials such as Sauerbraten, smoked trout or Spätzle noodles in cheese sauce. Outdoor tables are set up in summer.

BADEN-BADEN Stahlbad

Augustaplatz 2, 76530 Tel (07221) 24569

A well-established elegant and romantic restaurant just a few steps from the Kurhaus in the centre of Baden-Baden. The chef combines the fresh local produce with a French flair. Try the warm goose liver with apple purée, crayfish with an asparagus ragout or venison medallions with cranberries, chestnuts and Spätzle. It has a lovely terrace.

Key to Price Guide see p526 Key to Symbols see back cover flap

k s T

€€€

k = 4

eeee

€)

長康፻ダ

Ł 🕏

$2

a T

€€€€

€€€

RADEN-RADEN Piemonte

Hans-Rredow-Straße 20, 76530, Tel (07221) 300990

An attractive restaurant within the Tannenhof hotel (see p503) overlooking Baden-Baden in the foothills of the Black Forest. It is set in peaceful surroundings away from the tourist bustle and has a small stylish dining room. It was refurbished in early 2006. The chef re-creates Northern Italian cuisine with some Piedmontese specials

BADEN-BADEN-NEUWEIER Restaurant im Schloss Neuweier

7

A O

€€

Mauerbergstraße 21, 76534 Tel (07223) 9570555

In 2004 German chef, Armin Röttele, took over the Neuweier castle with his wife, where they offer rooms as well as a fantastic restaurant. Try the castle's own fine wine and gourmet delights such as roast saddle of suckling-pig in an orange cumin crust with asparagus risotto, or smoked sole on a basil purée, and some amazing cheeses.

RADEN-RADEN-NELIWEIER Zum Alde Gott

Weinstraße 10, 76534 Tel (07223) 5513

The vineyards of Neuweier are the lovely setting for this family-run, traditional German restaurant. Dishes include regional specials cooked with a light touch, such as home-made goose-liver pâté, pheasant with kale purée and chestnuts and firs in heer batter. To accompany the food ask for their great selection of Raden wines

BRAUNSBACH Schloss Döttingen

も乗

€€

Buchsteige 2, 74542 Tel (07906) 1010

A romantic, relaxing atmosphere reigns in this hotel-restaurant, which is part of Schloss Döttingen, a 12th-century hunting lodge. Choose between the elegant restaurant, the wine bar, café, terrace on balmy evenings or drawing rooms with open fire on cold nights. Enjoy regional Hohenlohe specialities, especially the locally farmed meat.

FREIBURG Enoteca

€€€€

Gerberau 21, 79098 Tel (0761) 3899130

With 20 years of experience. Enoteca is one of Freiburg's leading restaurants. It offers a high level of light but classic Italian cuisine, where the emphasis is on simplicity and wonderful fresh produce. There are several menus to choose from, a simple choice, the fish menu, daily menu or à la carte. The dining room is stylish and understated.

HEIDELBERG Schlossweinstube Schönmehls

盘!デ

 $\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}\mathbb{E}$

Im Schlosshof, 69117 Tel (06221) 97970

In the magnificent old Heidelberg castle, this stylish and spacious restaurant offers modern cuisine of international and regional dishes. Good choices are fish, duck or game. For a special treat book a candlelit dinner for two. There is also a lovely terrace to dine outdoors on warm evenings. There are fish and vegetarian menus.

HEIDELBERG Simplicissimus

F

€€€€

Ingrimstraße 16, 69117 Tel (06221) 183336

Owing to the busy central location in Heidelberg's old town, booking is recommended. Tourists and locals flock here for the simple but outstanding cuisine, combining regional fresh produce, French flavours and good wines. Sit in the intimate dining room or in the flower-filled courtyard. Wine-tasting events take place every first Friday of the month.

HEILBRONN Grüner Kranz

E *

(€)(€)

Lohtorstraße 9, 74072 Tel (07131) 96170

This friendly little town hotel has a lovely restaurant where you can sample some simple local Swabian specialities as well as more international gourmet dishes. Run by a young couple who welcome families and young children, there are good local beef dishes on the menu, plus salads and local Spatzle noodles. Be sure to try one of the region's wines.

KARLSRUHE Ketterer

Ł 🏗

€€€

Bahnhofplatz 14-16, 76137 Tel (0721) 3715112

The impressive Residenz hotel with its solid pillared arcade is home to the smart Ketterer restaurant. Locally grown Wurttemberg asparagus is a house speciality, worked into a variety of dishes when in season. Other typical favourites are the pork in gravy and the doughy Spätzle noodles which crop up all over the region. Also has a bistro and terrace.

KARLSRUHE Oberländer Weinstube

Akademiestraße 7, 76133 Tel (0721) 25066

Tradition and service rank high in this well-established family-run restaurant. The wood-panelled interior with tiled corner stoves provides a cosy atmosphere. The creative modern chef offers star-rated combinations using traditional recipes with modern flair. For example, salmon and perch roulade on pearl barley risotto with wild garlic butter.

KARLSRUHE-DURLACH Zum Ochsen

& ₹ € € € €

Pfinzstraße 64, 76227 Tel (0721) 943860

The menu at the renowned Zum Ochsen is dominated by French dishes. The fish is delicate and the cuisine creative. Try the Breton red mullet fillets on fennel salad, glazed dove breast on chanterelle mushrooms or marinated lamb fillets on Provençale vegetable salad. The lobster salad in warm orange butter is a house special.

KONSTANZ Die Bleiche

き

€(€)

Bleichstraße 8, 78467 Tel (07531) 9422860

Housed in a former bleaching factory owned by the local tent company Stromeyer, this restaurant features lofty rooms, friendly service and a great beer garden in summer. You look right onto the Rhine flowing past. A variety of regional dishes are served and they also offer an affordable lunchtime buffet. Sundays is a brunch buffet and Thursdays a fish buffet.

KONSTANZ Rheinterasse

Spanierstraße 5 78467 Tel (07531) 56093

A wonderful setting next to the Rhine public bathing spot. Very popular in the summer especially with families as the children can play on the lawns next door. Also favoured by the fashionable who come for coffees, dinner or music in the early hours. It has the best terrace from which to watch the sunset. International cuisine and good wines.

LUDWIGSBURG Goldener Pflug

Dorfstraße 4-6, 71636 Tel (07141) 44110

A friendly, informal little restaurant, part of the hotel of the same name. The Golden Plough serves a wide choice of familiar regional dishes with both a daily and standard menu. Try the local variety of soup with Maultaschen (filled noodle parcels) or the beef roasted in onions and red wine. The cheese Spätzle noodles are particularly good.

MANNHEIM Gasthof zum Ochsen

& 🛱 T

*

上重

Hauptstraße 70, 68259 Tel (0621) 799550

Housed in a listed building dating back to 1632, this restaurant can be found in the Freudenheim area of Mannheim. Despite its age, it offers a contemporary atmosphere, simple styling and a warm welcome. The menu changes seasonally. Excellent fish dishes, locally farmed ox and a fine mixed grill.

MANNHEIM Hahnhof

€€€€

€€

€€

Keplerstraße 32, 68165 Tel (0621) 447455

Conveniently located just a stroll from the Arts Centre in central Mannheim, the Hahnhof is a rustic and convivial place to eat. Expect old stained-glass windows, chequered tablecloths and geraniums in the windows. It offers friendly service, good wines and regional seasonal specials, such as Viennese cutlets. Turffles, game and fresh fish.

MARBACH Schillerhöhe

Ł 🏗

€€

Schillerhöhe 12, 71672 Tel (07144) 85590

A timeless elegance fills the Schillerhöhe. The international gourmet cuisine makes it the best in the area. Enjoy a meal either by candlelight or on the terrace with a view across the Neckar valley. Delicious salads with barbary duck breast or scallops on a bed of fresh crisp leaves. We also recommend the various fish, from snapper to bass.

RAVENSBURG Gasthof Engel

à

€

Marienplatz 71, 88212 Tel (0751) 23484

A traditional establishment, a favourite with visitors since 1878. In the heart of the pedestrianized area, it is a good place to stop for a meal while touring the town. Typical Swabian specials are on offer, plus regional beers and wines. Sit outdoors in front of the little guesthouse in summer. Good for either lunch or dinner.

RAVENSBURG Bärengarten

હ 🟗

€€

Schützenstraße 21, 88212 Tel (0751) 353092

Conveniently located right in the town centre. It has the oldest and nicest beer garden in town plus a playground. Choose between menus with several courses or simple regional cooking, accompanied by local wines and beers. Good for the regional onion roast, Maultaschen, Spätzle noodles with cheese and sausage salad.

ROTTWEIL Haus zum Sternen

F

€€

Hauptstraße 60, 78628 Tel (0741) 53300

High quality cuisine taking inspiration from traditional recipes and local home cooking is offered in this restaurant in the hotel of the same name (see p505). House specials include beef consommé with herb pancake strips, Swabian onion roast beef with Spätzle dough noodles followed by apple pie and vanilla ice cream.

SALEM Gasthof Schwanen

きまが

€€€

Am Salemer Schloss, 88682 Tel (07553) 283

Located within the famous local wine estate of the Margrave of Baden. In addition to the fine home-grown wines, the food, too, has a true local essence. The seasonal menu offers wonderful venison and fish caught in the Margrave's hunting park and fish hatcheries. An elegant contemporary take on traditional rustic style.

SALEM Salmannsweiler Hof

ė.

€€€

Salmannsweilerweg 5, 88682 Tel (07553) 92120

This half-timbered house provides a relaxed rustic atmosphere, whether you dine indoors or on the terrace. Fish and the home-grown vegetables are recommended. They also have a good house schnapps. Try the large bowl of organic salad, freshly picked on the premises. They serve some good locally produced wines.

SALEM Reck's

€€€€

Bahnhofstraße 111, 88682 Tel (07553) 201

This restaurant is in a hotel (see p505) just outside Salem in the beautiful landscape behind Lake Constance. All food is reared and grown locally, then lovingly prepared and presented. The owner-chef learned his trade in France and is now supported by his daughter, who has also trained at top places. Sophisticated dining with fresh, regional cooking.

SCHWÄBISCH GMÜND Gmünder Geigerle

Ė.

€€€

Türlensteg 9, 73525 Tel (07171) 359701

The restaurant is part of the Pelikan hotel which is in the old town. A modern unassuming building with friendly staff and a choice of international dishes on the menu. The bright open dining room wins no prizes for its design or style, but the menu offers good Swabian specialities as well as cooking inspired from around the world.

SCHWÄRISCH GMÜND Stadtgarten

€€€€

Rektor-Klaus-Straße 9 73525 Tel (07171) 69024

This excellent restaurant is located in a modern building in the town's official gardens. For lunch or dinner you can choose dishes such as beef carpaccio, scallops, bouillabaisse and wonderful fish or meat. Fine local wines accompany the food. There is also a pretty Rococco lodge in the gardens with a wine tavern and lovely summer terrace.

STUTTGART Hotel Traube

F

€€€

Brabandtgasse 2, 70599 Tel (0711) 458920

Steeped in history, the Traube is a half-timbered, small hotel in Plieningen, a village just outside Stuttgart. From its antique furniture to old doors, cobblestones and gabled roof, it exudes a romantic charm. The wood-panelled dining room is cost indoors and the summer terrace is a pretty alternative. Good Swabian game and fish.

STUTTGART Schlossgastronomie Solitude

7

€€€

Solitude 2, 70197 Tel (0711) 692025

An impressive sprawling rococo castle from 1775 is the setting for this restaurant. The elegant restaurant offers dinners only. The chef concentrates on French cuisine with light dishes using fresh local produce, but also serves regional specials and international cooking. It has a lovely garden terrace. Closed Sun–Mon.

STUTTGART Trattoria da Loretta

ė ∰

€€€

Büchsenstraße 24, 70173 Tel (0711) 2804507

Loretta Petti opened her homely Tuscan Trattoria in 2005, after years running speciality food stores in Stuttgart. She cooks her way into the hearts of local Italophiles who love the regional cooking from her homeland. It is open, modern, laid-back and simple, in both desion and cuisine.

STUTTGART Cube

£ 54

€€€

Kleiner Schlossplatz 1, 70173 Tel (0711) 2804441

A gastronomic delight within Stuttgart's modern art museum. The vast glass cube houses this excellent restaurant for cultured dining on the fourth floor. Minimal, stylish and cosmopolitan, the Pacific Rim cuisine in the evenings offers fusion dishes such as honey-and-soya-qlazed duck breast on chilli-vanilla cabbage.

TÜBINGEN Carat

Ł 🟗

€€€

Wöhrdstraße 7, 72072 Tel (07071) 139100

Burachstraße 12 88250 Tel (0751) 50090

Fine dining at the edge of the river in the heart of Tübingen. The modern hotel has floor-to-ceiling windows on the river side. It is just minutes across the bridge from the old town centre. Choose between a fine light regional cuisine or a coastal Mediterranean-style cuisine. There is a garden terrace in summer. Closed Sunday.

WFINGARTEN Altdorfer Hof

& Æ T

€€€

This opulent hotel and restaurant offers an exquisite menu of Swabian dishes. The decor is rather over the top with flounces, ruches, swirls, swans and rococo touches, but the quality of the food is excellent. From the fish to lamb and yeal, all dishes are classically cooked and presented with a touch of exotic flair. Close to Ravensburg.

RHINELAND-PALATINATE AND SAARLAND

BESCHEID Zur Malerklause

重 早 デ

€€€€

Im Hofecken 2, 54413 Tel (06509) 558

There is a low-key serenity about the restaurant. The menu is changes often to make the most of seasonal ingredients. The cuisine varies from German to French and Mediterranean. The goose-liver terrine is particularly rich and exuberant. There are over 300 wines in the cellar and an enthusiastic sommelier to help in your choice.

BOLLENDORF Restaurant Bellevue

e □ ▼

€€€

Sonnenbergalle 1, 54669 Tel (06526) 92800

The view from the dining area is spectacular and there is also a terrace. There are a number of different menus and special menus, such as Asian and game. The cuisine is mainly German and it is a good place to sample the local and regional dishes. Located in the Waldhotel Sonnenbero.

DIEBLICH Halferschenke

長田早年

€€€

€ € €

Hauptstraße 63, 56332 Tel (02607) 1008

Located not far from the river, in a quiet area, the cuisine is international with some really fantastic Mediterranean dishes. The chef is happy to explore new tastes and has "surprise" menus for patrons, even going so far as to select accompanying wines. There is a nice terrace and beer garden.

HEIDESHEIM Crevette

重产

€€€

Budenheimer Weg 61, 55262 Tel (06132) 5270

This is a spectacular palace of seafood. The restaurant is quite extensive, with a number of beautiful and atmospheric dining areas both inside and out. The staff are very friendly and helpful when deciding which white wine best accompanies their fantastic paella.

KORI FN7 Da Vinci

Firmungstraße 32h 56068 Tel (0261) 9215444

An Italian restaurant with a sophisticated atmosphere and superb cuisine. There are often functions held here, such as wine tastings and fashion shows. The walls are covered with paintings and there is often soft music playing. The fresh ingredients and traditional Italian dishes have made this new restaurant popular amongst the locals.

KOBLENZ Loup de mer

k 乗 ₹ € e e Neustadt 12, 88250 Tel (0261) 16138

This could possibly be the best seafood restaurant in Koblenz. The dishes are imaginative and comprehensive and not restricted to fish. The menu also contains tasty dishes for vegetarians and non-fish eaters. Their loup de mer dish, after which the restaurant is named, is divine. There is a great dining area outside on their terrace.

MAINZ FisGrub-Brau

Weißliliengasse 1a 55116 Tel (06131) 221104

Just a short distance from the Dom, this restaurant/beer hall is teeming with charm. They brew several kinds of beer, serving them to enthusiastic patrons who love the bustling ambience. Famous for their huge steaks, there is also a buffet in the cellar that is a great way to sample the various regional dishes they prepare

MAINZ Der Halbe Mond

In der Witz 12, 55252 Tel (06134) 23913

A tiny restaurant offering some very special creations. Because there are only five tables it is a good idea to make reservations first. The dishes have a refined flavour and a French influence. The night is not complete without sampling their white and dark chocolate mousse with caramelized hazelnuts.

MARIA LAACH Seespiegel-Seehotel Maria Laach

Orsteil Maria Laach, 56653 Tel (02652) 584512

This unique and well-respected restaurant is located in a hotel (see p507) close to a 900-year-old monastery, which provides the kitchen with fresh produce. Seafood has a starring role on the menu, although their lamb fillet salad is tempting and seductive. The chef is sympathetic to vegetarians and provides them with fantastic fare.

NEUNKIRCHEN Hostellerie Bacher

Limbacher Straße 2, 66539 Tel (06821) 31314

Set in a stylish hotel, this is an elegant and impressive restaurant. Apart from the traditional elegance of the dining area there is also a wonderful winter garden, which has a glass roof and looks out onto the garden. The chef creates innovative cuisine that defies categorization and which is imaginatively presented.

SAARBRÜCKEN Schloss Halberg

Funkhaus Halberg, 66700 Tel (0681) 63181

Fantastically positioned in Halberg castle, the inside blends a modern design with the historic atmosphere of the castle and creates a wonderful environment. The cuisine is decidedly French in style, and the desserts are just gorgeous. Try the flambé. There is a terrace for outside dining in the warmer months.

SAARBRÜCKEN Villa Weismüller Restaurant Ouack

占重学 (€)(€)

P 54

7

長爾₹

と乗りが

P

P 54

£ ₹ %

t 7 54

重了デ

€€

€€€€

€€€

€€€

€€€

€)

€€€

(€)(€)

€€

Gersweilerstraße 43a, 66117 Tel (0681) 52153

An extensive restaurant with a number of different rooms, some of which are available for private functions. Apart from the restaurant there is a lounge, a beer garden and a brasserie. The restaurant is popular with the locals as well as travellers. The menu is guite large and comprehensive. Their salads are diverse and very filling.

SPEYER Feuerbachhaus

Allerheiligenstraße 9, 67346 Tel (06232) 70448

The birthplace of the German painter Anselm Feuerbach (1829–80). This wine bar/restaurant is part of a museum about him. Some rooms are dedicated to art. The menu is rather limited, although quite tasty and the wine list has many good German wines, particularly whites. There is a garden area with tables.

SPEVER Rackmulde

Karmelitersstraße 11-13, 67346 Tel (06232) 71577

The creative cuisine mixed with a traditional French approach produces interesting dishes. The menu is constantly changing and the chef makes good use of seasonal produce. Their set menu always delights guests and sometimes helps them investigate cuisine they might otherwise not choose. They have a huge and superb wine list.

SPEYER Zweierlei

Johannesstraße 1, 67346 Tel (06232) 61110

There is a calm ambience in this restaurant. The cuisine is mostly German and regional, with a few surprises thrown in. The service is great and they are very happy to help when it comes to the selection of both the dishes and the wine. The restaurant has a modern design that complements the eating experience.

ST INGBERT Die Alte Brauerei

Kaiserstraße 101, 66386 Tel (06894) 92860

Positioned in a historic building dating back to the 18th century, this restaurant has a very intimate ambience. The outside appears rustic, yet the inside reveals a modern design, which is reflected in the New German cuisine that has earned the chef a Michelin Bib Gourmand. Quite a good selection of German wines.

Key to Price Guide see p526 Key to Symbols see back cover flap

THOLEY Hotellerie Hubertus

€€€€

Metzer Straße 1, 66636, Tel (06853) 91030

Part of the Hotellerie Hubertus, there is also a café and wine bar. This gourmet restaurant serves light, French-style dishes, using the freshest ingredients from the region. The chef gives much sought-after cooking lessons for the true fans. There is an open fireplace in the main dining area, which creates an intimate and romantic atmosphere.

TRIER Römischer Kaiser-Taverne

PP

Porta-Nigra-Platz 6, 54292 Tel (0651) 97700

This restaurant is inside the Römischer Kaiser hotel (see p508), which is located at the edge of a scenic square in Trier. The specials are often interesting and tasty, especially the game dishes. There is an extensive wine list that has a number of international wines as well as a good selection of German wines. It is best to book on the weekends

TRIER Pfeffermühle

Zurlaubener Ufer 76, 54292, Tel (0651) 26133

This restaurant overlooks the Mosel river and has a great view that can be enjoyed from their terrace in the warmer months. The building dates back to the 19th century and provides an intimate location to enjoy their international cuisine. The terrace is a little more sociable, as there are more tables outside

HFSSF

ALSEELD Krone

6 A 7 F

Schellengasse 2, 36304 Tel (06631) 4041

Consistently great service and delicious food. The speciality would have to be the game dishes, which are always being refined and perfected. The dining area is relatively small and yet spacious at the same time, and the size ensures that the waiters and waitresses deliver a more personalized service.

BAD HOMBURG Charly's Bistro

€€€

Kaiser-Friedrich-Promenade 69-75, 61348 Tel (06172) 181 648

Decorated and designed to evoke an atmosphere of a Parisian boulevard, the menu explores many types of cuisine and is not limited to France. The wine list is vast, with over 130 different varieties to choose from. The restaurant is located in the Steigenberger hotel and is guite large, seating over 140 diners.

BAD WILDUNGEN Wickenhof

€)

Bilsteinstraße 67 34537 Tel (05621) 5190

You know it as soon as you step in the door; you are in waffle country. Wall-to-wall waffles here, with over 100 varieties. The cuisine is not restricted to the mighty waffle, though, with many regional dishes in very generous proportions for hungry people. Along with the main restaurant there is a nice terrace and beer garden.

DARMSTADT Bockshaut

Kirchstraße 7-9, 64283 Tel (06151) 99670

This rustic restaurant, whose name means "Goat's skin", is housed in an old tannery dating back to the 16th century, The menu is filled with traditional dishes from the region, so lovers of Sauerkraut and Blutwurst will be happy, as will vegetarians who are thoughtfully provided with a number of great dishes. It has distinctive old wooden furnishings.

EGELSBACH Schuhbeck's Check Inn

Ausserhalb 20, 63329 Tel (06103) 4859380

Located next to a domestic airfield, with spectacular views of the runway. The restaurant itself is housed in an old hangar. The food is mostly regional, with a few hints of Asian and Mediterranean influences. There are a number of good vegetarian dishes. There is also a microbrewery and beer garden.

ELTVILLE AM RHEIN Wintergarten

Hauptstraße 43, 65346 Tel (06123) 6760

There are three restaurants in this historic castle, all possessing their own style and flair. The winter garden is in a beautiful glasshouse that has a great view of the garden and castle. The menu is small, though guite diverse, with interesting and creative dishes that have a slight leaning towards an Italian theme.

FISCHBACHTAL Landhaus Baur

Lippmannweg 15, 64405 Tel (06166) 8313

This elegant and refined restaurant is in the Landhaus Baur hotel. The menu is a little restricted and not suited to vegetarians, but still excellent. The dining areas are very comfortable and relaxed, with an outstanding level of service. The lunch menus are often less expensive

FRANKFURT AM MAIN Peninsula Atrium

7 54

Konrad-Adenauer-Straße 7, 60313 Tel (069) 2981-174

Located in the Arabella Sheraton Hotel (see p509) this is an atmospheric, international restaurant. There are several restaurants in the hotel offering different cuisines – this one focuses on the Mediterranean. It has a high-ceiling glass cupola which adds to the elegant ambience. The chefs prepare the food in view of the diners.

FRANKFURT AM MAIN 7um Schwarzen Stern

€€€

Römerhera 6, 60311 Tel (069) 291279

A restaurant serving traditional fare as well as international dishes. There is a specific menu section called

"Grandmother's recipes" which caters to the taste for regional cuisine. It is located next to the cathedral in a very old building and there are references to it dating back to 1453

FRANKFURT AM MAIN Alte-Kanzlei

Niedenau 50, 60325 Tel (069) 721424

An Italian restaurant doing justice to its heritage. There is an intimate and refined atmosphere inside that emphasizes and complements the rich cuisine. The whole menu is appetizing, but their duck breast with sweet and sour sauce is worthy of high praise. The service is very good and one can expect high standards here.

FRANKFURT AM MAIN Tigerpalast

Heiliakreuzgasse 16-20, 60313, Tel (069) 92002225

It is a rare restaurant indeed that is coupled with a variety show and awarded a Michelin star. They serve light Mediterranean dishes with flair and passion. The walls are adorned with show posters from all over the world. It is common for quests to combine dining in the restaurant with watching the show

FULDA Dachsbau

と画「デ

€€€

Pfandhausstraße 8, 36037 Tel (0661) 74112

Creative and elegant cuisine with inspired presentation is served here. Guests can feel the chef's personality in each of the dishes, which have French and regional influences. There is a large selection of wines to choose from, both German and international. The atmosphere in the restaurant is intimate and friendly, with an eclectic decor.

GIESSEN Köhler "Klemens"

1 7 4

Westenlage 33-35, 35390 Tel (0641) 979990

The hotel and adjoining restaurant are family owned and they take pride in the service they provide. The Klemens restaurant does not fail to deliver. Fantastic international cuisine with a French leaning is complemented by the extensive wine selection. There is also a wine bar with a huge selection of wines.

KASSEL Zum Steinernen Schweinchen

Konrad-Adenauer-Straße 117, 34132 Tel (0561) 940480

The gourmet restaurant inside the Zum Steineren Schweinchen will delight and seduce you. There is a beautiful glass-enclosed dining area that offers diners views out into the garden. Their cuisine has become very highly acclaimed, and they now offer classes on how to perfect such dishes as their grilled lamb fillets on a bed of polenta.

LIMBURG Wirsthaus Obermühle

と重

€€€

Am Steiger 1, 65549 Tel (06431) 27927

This cosy traditional restaurant is located next to an old mill dating back to the 12th century with the waters of the Lahn river flowing past. The wheel of the mill still moves on occasion, which can make the beer garden a little noisy, although the inside is peaceful. The food is excellent and reflects an ongoing evolution of German cuisine.

MARBURG Das Kleine Restaurant

電 早 デ

Barfüssertor 25, 35037 Tel (06421) 22293

True to its name, this is a small restaurant although there is much in the way of flavour and style. There is a blend of French and German approaches to the food, with eclectic ingredients and creative presentation. The wine list extends to a very impressive, if not intimidating, 450 wines.

MICHELSTADT Drei Hasen

とまデ

(€)(€)

Braunstraße 5, 64720 Tel (06061) 71017

Its name means "three hares" and this hotel-restaurant is renowned in the area for its traditional ambience as well as its delectable regional cuisine, specifically the fish dishes. The interior has a strong rustic charm that fits the cuisine perfectly. They also have an extensive beer garden which is served by the same kitchen.

OFFENBACH Frezzini's

盘!デ

€€€

Bieberer Straße 47, 63065 Tel (06982) 360606

Specializing in Mediterranean and Italian cuisine, the Frezzini family has created a beautiful and elegant restaurant. Their fish dishes are very popular, and it is near impossible not to try the tiramisu. The area is a little drab, which makes the serenity and elegance of the restaurant a welcome contrast. The wine list has many Italian wines.

RÜDESHEIM AM RHEIN Krone

Rheinuferstraße 10, 65385 Tel (06722) 4030

You will find a high standard of elegance and good service in this historic restaurant. The walls are covered with old paintings and the dining area is furnished with antiques. The international-style dishes creatively combine ingredients. However, a very hungry person might find that full satisfaction comes at a high cost.

WEILBURG Alte Reitschule

占爾里吳

€€

Langgasse 25, 35781 Tel (06471) 5090 717

This restaurant is located in the Schlosshotel Weilburg (see p510) and serves international and regional dishes in a picturesque setting. There is a terrace with outside seating that offers patrons a wonderful view of the castle and surrounding area. The restaurant often has offers on Sundays with reasonably priced set menus.

WFT7I AR Der Postreiter

Parisergasse 20–22 35578 Tel (06441) 903444

€€

One of three restaurants in the Bürgerhof Hotel. This one serves international cuisine which makes the most of seasonally available produce. Their fish dishes are fresh and highly acclaimed, and there are some great vegetarian courses as well. The staff are happy to help you choose from their comprehensive wine list.

WIESBADEN Domäne Mechtildshausen

爾里戶

€€

Domäne, 65205 Tel (0611) 7374660

A comfortable and relaxing restaurant with a Mediterranean style to the design and menu. The tables are decorated with fresh flowers, and there is seating in the beautiful garden. The restaurant is set in a complex comprising a bakery, questhouse and farmlands, which provide the restaurant with most of its fresh produce.

WIESBADEN Kaefers Bistro

上車早*半*

€€€

Kurhausplatz 1, 65189 Tel (0611) 536200

There is a busy atmosphere in this French-style bistro. The restaurant seats over 200 guests and it has no difficulty filling those seats. The food marries German portions and produce with a French subtlety, balancing the two with a good variety of wines from the penion. There is often live music and they have a large terrace for outside dining

NORTH RHINE-WESTPHALIA

AACHEN Schloss Schönau

€€€

Schönauer Allee 20, 52072 Tel (0241) 173577

Set in a castle dating from the 11th century, this restaurant has become well known for its set menus. The decor is stunning and opulent, rather apt for the inside of a castle. The chef likes seafood and the menu has a wide variety of different dishes. The Schloss itself is set in parkland and the restaurant has scenic views of the surrounding area.

AACHEN St. Benedikt

€€€€€

Benediktusplatz 12, 52076 Tel (02408) 2888

This gourmet restaurant has a cottage feel about it, and provides an elegant atmosphere in which to enjoy the great cuisine. In spring the façade of the restaurant is covered with flowers and the inside is no less attractive, with antique chairs and oil paintings on the walls.

BAD HONNEF Alexander's Restaurant

€€€

Alexander-von-Humboldt-Straße 20, 53604 Tel (02224) 771700

Named after Alexander von Humboldt (1769–1859), the famous scientist and explorer, this restaurant is located in the Seminaris Hotel and offers international cuisine with a few regional dishes thrown in. If you are new to German traditional cuisine you should try their Rievkoche, fried potato cakes served with apple sauce.

BIELEFELD Westfälische Hofstube

重

€€

Niedernholz 2, 33699 Tel (0521) 20900

Located in the Oldentruper Hof Hotel, along with two other restaurants, the name suggests the cuisine, with the focus squarely on regional and traditional dishes from the Westphalia area, though there are international dishes on the menu as well. The service is warm and friendly and the atmosphere is comfortable.

BONN Zur Lindenwirtin Aennchen

TF

€€€

Aennchenplatz 2, 53173 Tel (0228) 312051

The interior is very ornate and the stylish setting creates an intimate and romantic atmosphere. The kitchen produces international dishes with a leaning towards France. Their carefully chosen wine list encompasses great wines from nine different countries. The service is impeccable and polite.

BONN-BAD GODESBERG Halbedel's Gasthaus

重 了 デ

 \mathbb{C}

Rheinallee 47, 53173 Tel (0228) 354253

A stone's throw from the Rhine in an exclusive part of town in a nondescript villa. The chef concocts fantastic and interesting international cuisine and is constantly inventing new dishes. They cater to the serious wine lover, too, with more than 700 different wines. The service is first rate.

BRÜHL Seerose

盘

€€

Römerstraße 1-7, 50321 Tel (02232) 2040

This restaurant is in the Ramada Treff hotel, which is situated between Bonn and Cologne in a forested area. They prepare international food in a modern and colourfully designed dining area. Nearby is the Schloss Brühl which often hosts outdoor concerts of classical music.

DETMOLD Speisekeller im Rosental

重星产

€€€

Am Schlossplatz 7, 32756 Tel (05231) 22267

The decor of this modern gourmet restaurant has a warm Tuscan feeling about it. Vegetarians, so often overlooked, will be very satisfied with the large variety of delicious meals available. Much effort has gone into creating a good environment for dining and the service is excellent. In summer the terrace is open and has a view over the park.

DORTMUND Boomerang Australian Pub & Grill

Kuckelke 20, 44135, Tel (0231) 5862911

Lots of steak, lots of fried things and lots of beer. Such is the perception of Australian cuisine, and this restaurant is not bursting the bubble. The food is rigorous and heavy, and comes in impressive proportions. The atmosphere is unique and cheerful in a typically Australian manner.

DÜSSELDORF Libanon Restaurant

Berger Straße 19-21, 40213 Tel (0211) 134917

Guests are greeted by beautiful Middle-Eastern flair and style at this popular Lebanese restaurant. There is a large selection of authentic dishes with generous portions. The kitchen also caters for large functions of 20 or more people. There are belly-dancing shows in the evenings, adding to the already authentic atmosphere.

DÜSSELDORE Savini

Stromstraße 47 40221 Tel (0211) 393931

This Italian restaurant is located in the harbour area of Düsseldorf and is very popular, so it is advised to book well in advance. The popularity is well deserved and their pasta dishes are just great – a particular favourite is the gnocchi with mascarpone spinach sauce. There is a good wine list as well

DÜSSELDORF Canonicus

Neusser Tor 16 40625 Tel (0211) 289644

Located in a house, each room is tasteful and intimate. They have a Western-oriented menu and an Eastern (Asian) menu, both of which offer the best of each world. The wine list is excellent, especially the French reds, including a 1986 Château Lafite Rothschild.

DÜSSELDORE Im Schiffchen

Kaiserswerther Markt 9, 40489 Tel (0211) 401050

Reservations should be made months in advance to this fabulous restaurant. It is one of only five restaurants in Germany to have been awarded three Michelin stars. The thoroughly informed staff will guide you through their extensive and creative menu, as well as their 900-strong wine list.

ESSEN Bonne Auberge

Witteringstraße 92, 45130 Tel (0201) 783999

French cuisine with various influences is offered here. Carpaccio is one of their strengths, with eight different varieties. Situated in the heart of Essen, just a few blocks from the Stadtgarten. The decor is stylish and modern, incorporating the architecture into the design and ambience. Friendly staff and a well-stocked wine cellar

ESSEN Casino Zollverein

Gelsenkirchener Straße 181, 45309 Tel (0201) 830240

Located in an old mine, this casino and restaurant have a unique character. The styling and design is trendy, as is the food. They claim to "keep in touch" with the traditional miner's food, although the fillet of ostrich would probably not have appeared in the lunchbox of the average miner.

ESSEN Big Easy

Viehofer Platz 2, 45127 Tel (0201) 202828

This restaurant is a New Orleans-style venue, with live music and some great Cajun cooking, strong flavours and many interesting herbs and spices. The chef strays into many cuisines, from Indian to Thai, which creates an interesting menu that is always changing. You can also listen to some good jazz bands during your meal.

ESSEN Résidence

Auf der Forst 1, 45219 Tel (02054) 8911

Located in the beautiful Résidence Hotel, this restaurant attracts patrons from all over Germany. The holder of two Michelin stars, the chef produces irresistible cuisine that never fails to impress, particularly the fish dishes. The chef also gives private cooking lessons and is happy to chat with diners.

HAGEN Felsengarten

Wasserloses Tal 4, 58093 Tel (02331) 3911 200

This restaurant serves a wide variety of international dishes and caters to different tastes. The kitchen puts a lot of effort into the presentation of the food. The restaurant is located in the Mercure Hotel and there is an accompanying beer garden and terrace, which is pleasant in the summer months. It has modern, bright decor.

HÖXTER Entenfang

Godelheimer Straße 16, 37671 Tel (05271) 97080

An elegant restaurant with friendly staff, the cuisine is mainly French, with a few fantastic international dishes thrown in. Located in the Weserberghof Hotel, there is also live music on some evenings which creates a romantic mood. The dining area is characteristically German. The chef gives private cooking courses.

KÖLN Restaurant Pöttgen

Landmannstraße 19, 50825 Tel (0221) 555246

This traditional and cheerful restaurant has been in the Pöttgen family for four generations and is still going strong. The history of the restaurant and family can be seen in the charming decor. The food is always very tasty and is fantastic value. The chef has kept some dishes from the menus of his ancestors'.

Key to Price Guide see p526 Key to Symbols see back cover flap

PP

€€

eee

! %

と面「デ

P 54

(€)(€)

(€)(€)

a 4

重星纤

占属デ

KÖI N Fischers

€€€

Hohenstaufenring 53 50674 Tel (0221) 3108470

This restaurant revolves around wine. The cellar is vastly stocked and they operate a wine club as well. The dining area is spacious and simple, which suits the cuisine which is earthy and focuses on fresh produce. They also have a wine bar and terrace, which is very pleasant in the evenings.

KÖLN II Carpaccio

Lindenstraße 5, 50674 Tel (0221) 236487

This is one of the best-known Italian restaurants in Cologne. One of their secrets is the top-quality ingredients they use – always fresh and authentic. Their home-made pasta is quite simply fantastic. Every Friday and Saturday there is live music. Great food, stylish design and a good wine selection.

KÖLN Landhaus Kuckuck

Olympiaweg 2 50933 Tel (0221) 485360

This restaurant is located in a quiet part of Cologne and has a reputation for its fine cuisine as well as its very extensive wine cellar. The menu is changed frequently and the chef makes good use of seasonal produce. The outside seating area has a very pleasant ambience. They are happy to cater for large functions and groups.

KÖLN L'escalier

Brüsseler Straße 11, 50674 Tel (0221) 2053998

A French restaurant with a passion for cuisine. The elegant entrance reflects the style of the establishment, which is confirmed by the stylish dining area. Delicious food is on offer, especially the game dishes, and the service is fantastic. A special treat is their soufflé which takes 45 minutes to prepare, so be prepared for a wait.

KÖLN Börsen-Restaurant Maître

Unter Sachsenhausen 10-26, 50667 Tel (0221) 133021

A very elegant and romantic restaurant in the shadow of the Cologne Dom cathedral. The kitchen produces high quality French cuisine in a stunning location. The stylish yet comfortable dining area is an ideal place for a romantic evening, and it is a good idea to book ahead because it can suddenly become busy.

KÖLN La Vision

と無りゲ

Kaygasse 2, 50676 Tel (0221) 20080

Seated like a crown on the Hotel Im Wasserturm (see p512), La Vision is on the top floor with a beautiful view over Cologne. The fine French cuisine is complemented by the outstanding wine list. The quality of the entire dining experience has earned the restaurant a Michelin star. There is also a terrace with panoramic views.

LEMGO Im Borke

表

Salzufler-Straße 132 32657 Tel (05266) 1691

Housed in the Im Borke hotel (see p512), this rustic little restaurant has a cosy charm. On the weekends it has a bustling and friendly atmosphere and attracts many people from the surrounding region. The menu is mainly regional cuisine with a number of international dishes as well, including some great Indian dishes.

MONSCHAU Wiesenthal

と雨ダ

Laufenstraße 82, 52156 Tel (02472) 860

The dining area of this restaurant is pleasant, mixing modernity with a refined style. Along with a bistro, the restaurant is located in the Carat Hotel. The cuisine is New German and the menu is changed often, with creative specials incorporating seasonal produce from the region.

MÜNSTER Alter Pulverturm

Breul 9, 8143 Tel (0251) 45830

This restaurant is where the old powder tower was sited, hence the name. The spot is quiet and peaceful and the adjoining beer garden is a great place to relax or meet friends before dining at the restaurant. They have an extensive menu with a variety of cuisines, including some very nice vegetarian dishes.

MÜNSTER Landhaus Eggert

£ ₹ %

Zur Haskenau 81, 48157 Tel (0251) 328040

The hotel and restaurant are family owned and run, and there is a personal approach to the service. The chef produces fantastic and varied menus, exploring international cuisine while also showcasing the region's best dishes. The setting is a peaceful country area and the hotel was once a farm.

MÜNSTER Villa Medici

Ostmarkstraße 15, 48145 Tel (0251) 34218

Boasting a simple design and imaginative food, this place is one of the best Italian restaurants in Germany. The dishes are wonderfully balanced and the presentation is genuinely exciting. There is a sophisticated simplicity to the cuisine, and the same can be said for the decor of the dining area, with colourful art contrasting the white walls.

PADERBORN Balthasar

Warburger Straße 28, 33098 Tel (05251) 24448

The kitchen in this attractive and modern restaurant enthusiastically mixes art with food. The chef uses a variety of interesting ingredients to create new and imaginative dishes, and also suggests wines that would complement the food. The extensive wine list includes a 1928 Sauternes.

TROISDORF Restaurant Forsthaus Telegraph

€€€€

Mausnfad 3 53842 Tel (02241) 76649

This restaurant serves international dishes in a very refined setting. The sauces are rich and diverse, with the chef combining the best of all styles and cuisines. The restaurant operates a catering service as well as a food outlet. It has become extremely popular because of its ever-changing and innovative menus, so book ahead.

WUPPERTAL Scarpati

#

P 54

PPPP

Scheffelstraße 41, 42327 Tel (0202) 784074

As the name suggests, this restaurant and hotel has Italian heritage and does it proud with their cuisine and service. Their pasta dishes are fresh and rich; definitely worth the calories. The ambience is relaxed and intimate, and the dining area has a pleasant view over the garden. There are rooms for private dinners and functions.

XANTEN Hotel van Rebber

K T F

eee

Klever Straße 21 46509 Tel (02801) 6623

Located in the hotel of the same name, this restaurant produces excellent traditional regional cuisine. Particular favourites among the locals are the chef's fish dishes. Apart from their traditionally styled dining area they also have a unique wine cellar with occasional live piano performances

LOWER SAXONY, HAMBURG AND BREMEN

BAHRENEELD Graceland

Stresemannstraße 374, 22761 Tel (040) 89963100

Caiun and Creole cooking, with more than a dash of an American influence, is on offer here. The food is really tasty and incorporates some spicy Central American cuisine as well. There is often live music and sometimes dancing at the restaurant, which has guite a large capacity. They do takeaway as well, if you need that fried catfish to go.

BRAUNSCHWEIG (BRUNSWICK) Herrendorf

Am Magnitor 1, 38100 Tel (0531) 47130

Proclaiming itself to cater to "everybody's gums", this restaurant does a fine job living up to this proclamation. Housed in a building that dates back to 1476, it is part of the Stadthotel Magnitor, and is quite modern in design. The kitchen produces great regional fare, sometimes straying into French territory with their sauces.

BREMEN Westfalia-Bierlachs

占用产

€€

Langemarckstraße 38–42, 28199 Tel (0421) 59020

This charming restaurant has a number of different menus for different events and evenings. Their goose dishes are just fabulous and extensive, but their true speciality is fish. The decor is traditional and the atmosphere friendly. The restaurant itself is located in the Hotel Westfalia, which is a ten-minute walk from the town centre.

BREMEN L'Orchidée

6 P F

€€€

Am Markt, 28195 Tel (0421) 3059888

L'Orchidée is housed in the oldest operating wine cellar in Germany, established over 600 years ago. There is a wine bar which offers over 600 different wines. The restaurant serves great international food in a truly magnificent dining area, complete with wood-panelled walls, chandeliers and wall paintings.

BREMEN Das Kleine Lokal

と乗りが

€€€€

Besselstraße 40. 28203 Tel (0421) 7949084

Each dish is a surprise at this modern restaurant. The creative presentation is reinforced by the unorthodox plate designs and perfectly suited to the stylish design of the dining area. The portions are petite and delicious. The sommelier is thoroughly knowledgeable and helpfully chatty.

BREMEN Meierei

Im Bürgerpark, 28209 Tel (0421) 3408619

This restaurant was first opened in 1881. There is a Mediterranean flavour running through the menu, however, one should not overlook their fabulous rabbit ragout. The inside is inviting with a warm fireplace in the dining area which is dominated by earth tones. There is a large wine selection, especially Italian wines.

BÜCKEBURG Ambiente

占爾尹

(€)

Herminstraße 11, 31675 Tel (05722) 9670

True to its name, the Ambiente restaurant (in the hotel of the same name) has a very serene and enjoyable dining area, with high glass ceilings and lots of indoor plants. The cuisine is mainly German and Italian, with large portions. As well as the great dining area there is a little garden where guests may dine in the warmer months.

CELLE Camelot

(€)(€)

Am Heiligen Kreuz 6, 29221 Tel (05141) 6400

Step back into the Middle Ages at Camelot, into what at first seems to be a redecorated dungeon. This restaurant creates an atmosphere emulating the days of knights and knaves, with cuisine to match. If you crave game dishes this is definitely the place for you. There are a number of shows in the evenings, fire-eating being just one example.

CELLE Endtenfang

Hannoversche Straße 55-56, 29221, Tel (05141) 2010.

Located in the Fürstenhof Celle (see p513), this is one of the most highly acclaimed restaurants in town. The chef produces fantastic French cuisine, with a number of Mediterranean influences as well. It has been awarded a Michelin star, not only for the great food but also for the outstanding service and unique location

CLOPPENBURG Restaurant Margaux

€€

Lange Straße 66, 49661 Tel (04471) 2484

This restaurant is located in the Hotel Schäfer. The young chef at this restaurant has a passion for cooking and it shows in the cuisine. There is a variety of different styles and ingredients to enjoy, with a special highlight being the bouillabaisse. There is a warm and friendly atmosphere.

FPPFNDORF ius

Lehmweg 30, 20251 Tel (040) 42949654

Seasonally influenced dishes with its finger on the pulse of modern cuisine. The chef marries traditional ingredients with subtlety and confidence. It is a small restaurant, still new but it is fast building a healthy reputation. Because of its size and nonularity, it is becoming necessary to make reservations

GOTTINGEN Restaurant Gaudi

€€€

Rote Straße 16, 37073, Tel (0551) 5313001

Dedicated to the life and works of the Spanish architect Antoni Gaudí (1852–1926), this restaurant provides some fine Spanish and Mediterranean cuisine. Apart from the exquisite fish dishes they also have a great tapas selection. which is popular at lunchtime. The design is unorthodox, just like Gaudi himself.

HAMBURG Au Quai

€€

Grosse Elbstraße 145, 22767 Tel (040) 38037730

Housed in a refurbished cold storage depot, the conversion has resulted in a fantastic place to try the best of Hamburg's seafood. Operated by a brother and sister, the kitchen reflects their heritage with great Mediterranean dishes and a subtle French influence that works well with the delicate fish-dominated menu.

HAMBURG Rive

6 A T F

Van-Der-Smissen-Straße 1, 22767 Tel (040) 3805919

A great restaurant situated by the water, the dining area and terrace boast fantastic views of the harbour, which creates a romantic ambience. The kitchen prepares a lot of fish dishes, including a number of sushi and sashimi courses. There is a comprehensive wine list, incorporating many regional German wines.

HAMBURG Calla

Ł T F

€€€

restaurant. The menu has a very Asian flair to it, mixing a little European influence in as well Heiligengeistbrücke 4 20459 Tel (040) 368060 The Calla is in the Steigenberger hotel along with a bistro and piano bar, which has live music. The high windows and open plan design create a bright atmosphere. The walls have been adorned with the designs of a Chinese

HAMBURG Fischmarkt

€€€

Ditmar-Koel-Straße 1, 20459 Tel (040) 363809

A bustling, friendly restaurant where they create some very exciting fish dishes. Housed inside the fish market after which it is named, the restaurant is popular among tourists who visit the area. The ambience inside is relaxed vet professional, with great staff who are very helpful when it comes to selecting dishes.

HAMBURG Indochine

爾里吳

€€€

Neumühlen 11, 22763 Tel (040) 39807880

Opened in 2002, this restaurant is devoted to the cuisine of Southeast Asia. Many people come in groups and share the entrées and main courses as is the custom in the region. The set menus, while a bit pricier, are very well chosen. A good restaurant for vegetarians.

HAMBURG Fischereihafen-Restaurant

と画「デ

€€€€

Grosse Elbstraße 143, 22767 Tel (040) 381816

This is the place to go for fresh, delicious seafood (though other dishes are offered). The large menu is changed often to suit the seasons. The terrace overlooks the water and has one of the best views in the harbour. The list of famous guests is longer than the extensive wine list and reflects the great food and outstanding service.

HAMBURG Fischküche

重好

€€€€

Kajen 12, 20459 Tel (040) 365631

Fresh fish and seafood are the fare in this restaurant. The decor leaves no doubt of the influence of the sea in this place, and the staff seem to know more about seafood than most fishermen. The crab dishes have earned the chef renown amongst the locals and visitors to the harbour. The wine list has been chosen with care.

HAMBURG Jacobs Restaurant

Elbchaussee 401-403, 22609 Tel (040) 822550

This restaurant, situated in the beautiful Hotel Louis C. Jacob, is among the best in the city. The cuisine is international with a definite French infusion. There is also a wine cellar that keeps connoisseurs happily occupied for hours, with the help of the master sommelier. There is an adjacent wine bar and a terrace.

HAMRURG Tafelhaus

Neumühlen 17 22763 Tel (040) 892760

The chef in this elegant restaurant produces fantastic and innovative cuisine from all over the world. Of special renown are his Asiatic dishes. The terrace overlooks the harbour, although the dining area offers the more romantic atmosphere. The chef also gives cooking lessons to enthusiastic students.

HANNOVER Restaurant Pier 51

÷ 6 = 4

e e

Rudolf-von-Benniasen-Ufer 51, 30173 Tel (0511) 8071800

This award-winning restaurant on the banks of Lake Masch is a stylish maritime hot spot for the city's party crowd who enjoy the elegant interior, the outside pier-style terrace, the exquisite cocktails and the light German and international fish, meat and pasta dishes (all of which can be ordered as half portions).

HANNOVER Die Insel

Rudolf-von-Renniasen-Ufer 81 30519 Tel (0511) 831214

There is a picturesque view of nearby Lake Masch from the dining area. This restaurant attracts customers from the music industry to politics. The cuisine is hard to pin down, with some great regional dishes as well as some great oriental creations. The food is matched by the equally impressive wine selection.

HANNOVER Hindenburg Klassik

禹乡

€€€

Gneisenaustraße 55, 30175 Tel (0511) 858588

This restaurant has been set-up in a way to reflect a traditional Italian eating area with long tables to accommodate the largest of families. There is a comprehensive specials menu that changes daily, and there is always their fantastic home-made pasta, which makes this place a favourite among the locals.

HANNOVER Clichy

と乗りが

Weißekreuzstraße 31, 30161 Tel (0511) 312447

The chef here conjures up some fantastic traditional German and French dishes. With rich sauces and strong flavours. the menu is forceful and entertaining. The staff are courteous and very helpful when it comes to choosing from the menu and wine list. Quite a busy restaurant, so make reservations.

HANNOVER Restaurant Titus

3 7 4

€€€€

Wiehbergstraße 98, 30519 Tel (0511) 835524

This restaurant has one of the more unorthodox restaurant interiors. The fabulous creations that come out of the kitchen keep pace with the decor. The grilled venison in bitter chocolate is but one example of the innovative and experimental cuisine. They have a terrace which is open in the warmer months.

HANNOVER Gallo Nero

Gross-Buchholzer Kirchweg 72b, 30655 Tel (0511) 5463434

The "Black Rooster" offers top-quality Northern Italian cuisine, ranging from basic flavours and produce to more refined sauces and spices. The interior of the restaurant resembles a Tuscan art gallery, which gives a very intimate and unique atmosphere to enjoy their unpretentious food. They have a large selection of Italian wines.

HANNOVER Le Chalet

Isernhagener Straße 21, 30161 Tel (0511) 319588

An intimate dining experience in an elegant part of town. The French cuisine has won popularity amongst patrons with their rich sauces and exquisite salads. The staff blend into the background until they are needed, at which time they seem to materialize out of thin air. This is particularly helpful when selecting wines, as they are experts.

KÖNIGSLUTTER Merlin

禹乡

€(€)

Braunschweigerstraße 21a, 38154 Tel (05353) 5030

Part of the beautiful Königshof Hotel (see p515), the Merlin is internationally recognized for its fantastic cuisine and character. During the day the high windows create a bright, open atmosphere and at night time the dark surrounds give a feeling of intimacy. The staff are generous with their time and the service is very good.

OLDENBURG Kiebitz-Stube

禹乡

Europaplatz 4-6, 26123 Tel (0441) 8080

There are a few bistros and restaurants in the City Club Hotel, with the Kiebitz-Stube being the most elegant. There is a formal atmosphere in the evenings, with well-constructed set menus, but lunchtime is less formal. A terrace opens out over a peaceful garden, where it is possible to dine in the warmer months.

OSNABRÜCK Vila Real

Natruper-Tor-Wall 1, 49076 Tel (0541) 60960

An innovative restaurant that combines fresh ingredients with imagination. The chef alternates between Italian and Mediterranean cuisine and succeeds in every domain. The crayfish ravioli is just sublime. There is a large selection of wines, which is partly due to the adjoining Énoteca wine shop, which also has tapas evenings and wine tastings.

STADTHAGEN Fischhaus Blanke

禹乡

Rathauspassage 5, 31655 Tel (05721) 81786

This restaurant has been serving the freshest seafood in town for over 80 years. They serve a vast variety of different fish, shellfish and everything else that lives in water. It is unpretentious and cosy, and the food speaks for itself. The owners have a seafood outlet which supplies superbly fresh produce for the restaurant.

WOI FENRÜTTEL Parkhotel Altes Kaffeehaus

3 54

€€

Harztorwall 18 38300 Tel (05331) 8880

Part of the Parkhotel (see p516), the Altes Kaffeehaus is quite an elegant restaurant, offering good value cuisine with a number of vegetarian dishes. There is a wine grotto in the cellar which is guite attractive and has a vaulted brick roof that adds to the ambience. The overall cuisine is basic, regional fare with large portions

WOI FSRURG La Fontaine

Gifhorner Straße 25, 38442, Tel (05362), 9400

La Fontaine serves cuisine that refuses to be categorized, combining the best of all styles and ingredients. A speciality is combining regional and international produce and ingredients to create innovative new tastes, and their venison with Shiitake mushrooms is a good example. There is a dining terrace open in the summer months.

SCHLESWIG-HOLSTEIN

AHRENSBURG Berlin Milliöh

Große Straße 15, 22926 Tel (04102) 52919

This happy little restaurant is a fantastic place to enjoy local dishes at very affordable prices. More a tavern than a restaurant, the food is still satisfying and authentic. The atmosphere is a little dark because of the worn wooden furnishings, though it does have a comfortable and friendly ambience.

AHRENSBURG Le Marron

長爾₹

€€€

Lübecker Straße 10a, 22926 Tel (04102) 2300

Le Marron is in the Park Hotel Ahrensburg. The restaurant scores highly among international critics, especially for its fantastic and friendly service. The food is diverse with influences from all over the culinary spectrum. There is also a comfortable winter garden. They welcome families and there is a playroom for children.

BAD MALENTE Gartenhotel Weisser Hof

54

€€

Vossstraße 45, 23714 Tel (04523) 99250

Set in a peaceful rural environment, this restaurant is a cosy place to sample the regional food. There is a warm and friendly atmosphere and the portions are generous. It is part of the Weisser Hof hotel (see p516), which is situated in parkland. Many customers combine a trip to the relaxing wellness area in the hotel with a visit to the restaurant.

FLENSBURG Im Alten Speicher

eee

Speicherlinie 44, 24937 Tel (0461) 12018

Generous portions and delicious seafood dishes. This is quite a large restaurant with a number of dining rooms and areas. They are well set-up for functions and large groups, and have a catering service as well. There is a somewhat understated outside terrace, which is best enjoyed in the afternoons.

HUSUM Eucken

6 A 7 F

 $\mathbb{E} \mathbb{E} \mathbb{E}$

Hotel Altes Gymnasium Söderstrasse 2-10, 25813 Tel (04841) 8330

Staged as a cosy hideaway in the romantic, red-brick Hotel Altes-Gymnasium. Eucken serves imaginative, Mediterranean dishes. Chef Marco Knepper prefers exotic fish and combines them with light vegetables. A comprehensive wine list. superb service and the understated, North-German flair of Eucken adds to the overall style of this establishment.

KIEL Im Park Parkrestaurant

54

(€)(€)

Niemannsweg 102, 24105 Tel (0431) 88110

Set in a peaceful wooded area, with a beautiful landscaped garden, Parkrestaurant is in the Parkhotel Kieler Kaufmann. The terrace has wonderful sea views. The cuisine is New German, although there is a dedicated regional set menu that showcases the best of the local fare. There is also a good wine selection.

LÜBECK Historischer Weinkeller

重デ

€€€

Koberg 6-8, 23552 Tel (0451) 76234

This unique restaurant is located in an 800-year-old wine cellar under a historic hospital. There is a medieval tone to the restaurant, which has retained the ambience of its heritage while at the same time creating a light and friendly atmosphere. Their game dishes have won the hearts of locals and tourists.

LÜBECK Wullenwever

重学

 \mathbb{C}

Beckergrube 71, 23552 Tel (0451) 704333

A very elegant restaurant that offers a number of unique rooms and dining areas, the chef is liberal with his creations, happily giving out recipes to interested patrons. The set menus have been artfully chosen to give a perfect balance of tastes, and there are wine suggestions for each dish. It has become rather well-known, so book ahead.

RATZEBURG Hansa Hotel

Schrangenstraße 25, 23909 Tel (04541) 2094

The Hansa hotel and restaurant is in a quiet area on an island in Ratzeburg. The menu changes every fortnight and makes good use of seasonal vegetables and fish. The dining area is relatively small, which creates a mellow atmosphere and emphasizes the polite and unobtrusive service of the friendly staff.

SCHI FSWIG Strandhalle

Strandweg 2 24837 Tel (04621) 9090

This is a cheerful restaurant in a pleasant hotel. There is a definite family atmosphere and the restaurant is often booked for celebrations and functions. The restaurant and hotel are family owned and the staff are very welcoming. An open fireplace creates a cosy feeling in the wintertime and a beautiful terrace is used in the summer.

3 54

7 2

€€

eeee

€€€

€€€

€€€€

未 康 デ

盘!另

と雨りが

國軍吳

SIEK Alte Schule

Hauptstraße 44, 22962 Tel (04107) 9114

Located in an old schoolhouse, this restaurant has been going strong for close to 30 years now and has been run by two successive generations. It serves mostly regional and German dishes, with some French affiliations. There are a few good vegetarian meals and a very good wine list with many German and French producers.

Strandstraße 2 25980 Tel (04651) 8580

SYLT Stadt Hamburg # 4 eee

There is a bistro and gourmet restaurant in the Stadt Hamburg hotel, both offering interesting and varied cuisine. The gourmet area focuses on French and Mediterranean dishes, while the bistro explores the regional side. There is also a relaxing fireplace lounge which can be enjoyed before and after meals.

SYLT Fährhaus

Heefwai 1, 25980 Tel (04651) 93970

This highly regarded restaurant has become one of the best on Sylt and is justifiably popular. The young chef, who has been awarded a Michelin star, creates miracles with contrasting flavours and ingredients. The sommelier is happy to guide you through the 780 wines they have in the cellar.

SYLT Restaurant Jörg Müller

Süderstraße 8, 25980 Tel (04651) 27788

This leading restaurant is one of the most famous on the island, and attracts customers from all over Europe. The dining area is comfortable and unpretentious. The hotel is secondary in status to the restaurant and there are many packages incorporating dining. There is also cheerful and enthusiastic service.

UETERSEN La Cave

Marktstraße 2, 25436 Tel (04122) 3640

This restaurant delivers gourmet cuisine from Southern France and the Mediterranean. Of particular renown are their fish dishes, which are constantly changing in keeping with seasonal availability. The staff are helpful and friendly. As you would expect, they have a good selection of French wines.

MECKLENBURG-LOWER POMERANIA

AHLBECK Villa Auguste Viktoria

Bismarkstr. 1-2, 17419 Tel (038378) 24 10

This adorable restaurant is located in the hotel of the same name. Friendly and knowledgeable staff cater to guests with first-rate attention. Ask for one of the daily house specials or something from the menu. The emphasis is on fish dishes, but many other items can also be recommended. Children are welcome.

BAD DOBERAN Residenz

Prof.-Dr.-Vogel-Str. 16-18, Heiligendamm, 18209 Tel (038203) 740 6210

A comfortable restaurant in the Residenz Hotel, which is part of the Romantik hotel chain. The extensive menu includes regional and national dishes, as well as cuisine from the four corners of the globe, with an emphasis on European. The wine and beer lists are respectable.

DASSOW Schloss-Restaurant Schloß Lütgenhof

Ulmenweg 10, 23942 Tel (38826) 8250

Dine like royalty at this castle by the Baltic Sea. A magnificent dining area is completed by fine cutlery, crisp tablecloths and chandeliers. The menu highlights modern versions of more traditional regional and international dishes. Try the Tournedos à la Rossini, or Austrian pancakes with raisins and baked plums.

GREIFSWALD Wallensteinkeller

Markt 3, 17489 Tel (03831) 309274

This is one of two rustic restaurants in the region owned by the same proprietor. Finger foods and soups feature on the menu as well as potatoes and roasted pork entrées. Enjoy one of the many draught beers. The staff are friendly and there is an engaging atmosphere (look for the authentic suit of armour near the entrance).

GUSTROW Marktkrug

Markt 14, 18273 Tel (03843) 68 12 82

This restaurant is situated in the centre of town and has two floors and a relaxing beer garden. The delicious food reminds you of typical Mecklenburgian home-cooked meals. Plums are very popular in regional gastronomy and you will find them here in abundance. Try the Meckelbörger Rippenbraten.

Key to Price Guide see p526 Key to Symbols see back cover flap

NEURRANDENBURG Sankt Georg

長田学

St-Georg-Str 6 17033 Tel (0395) 544 37 88

The restaurant of the St Georg Hotel is conveniently situated on the edge of town, towards Rostock, next to the Treptow Gate, Guests can sample regional dishes or enjoy the classic German tradition of sipping beer in the beer garden in good weather. The staff are incredibly friendly and good-humoured.

NEUBRANDENBURG Zur Alten Münze

€€

Burg 5, Burg Stargard, 17094 Tel (039603) 27 00

A beautiful provincial estate with a wine Stube and restaurant on site. Step back in time and enjoy centuries-old traditions in this very uncomplicated eatery. The selection of wines is very good. The dishes on offer are typical of the region and high quality, made with the freshest of ingredients.

RAI SWIFK/RÜGEN Schlossrestaurant Ralswick

L T P F

Parkstr 35 18528 Tel (03838) 20 32 0

This restaurant is in the Hotel Ralswiek, which is a former castle. Service is very attentive and the staff are warm and welcoming. The menu offers dishes based on international cuisine. Desserts include lemon panna cotta with wild berries and a wonderful tiramisu – both are very highly recommended

ROSTOCK Silo 4

P

€€

Am Strande 3d 18055 Tel (0381) 458 58 00

This restaurant is right by the water and overlooks the docks. It has plenty of windows and great views. The service is courteous and they have a great wine list, including wines from Spain, Italy, Germany and South Africa. Check out the very cool bar, which radiates different colours of light during the evening.

ROSTOCK Zur Kogge

3 7 4

€€

Wokrenter Str. 27, 18055 Tel (0381) 4934493

This restaurant is part of the oldest questhouse in Rostock. The establishment's long history and resulting memorabilia decorate the walls. As you would expect, fish and seafood dominate the menu and are prepared well. Some vegetarian options can be found on the menu. There are several wines to choose from.

ROSTOCK Chezann

e ∰ ₹

€€€€

Mühlenstr. 28, 18119 Tel (0381) 5107177

A wonderfully modern bistro near the Seepromenade. Its atmosphere is tranquil and chic. Warm lighting and fresh flowers help create a fine dining experience. Try one of the game or fish dishes, and the desserts are incredibly good. A full vegetarian menu is available. They have an extensive wine list. Highly recommended.

RÜGEN Poseidon

T 7

€€

Lottumstr 1 18609 Tel (038393) 26 69

A large and spacious restaurant where you can enjoy your meal in the restaurant or on the terrace in good weather. The focus is on Italian and German cooking with good quality ingredients. Advance booking is usually not required in the evenings, but it is preferred that larger parties should call in advance.

RÜGEN Orangerie

図とまり デ

€€€

Zeppelinstr. 8, 18609 Tel (038393) 50444

A small, elegant restaurant in the Hotel Vier Jahreszeiten, specializing in traditional fish dishes, served in varying styles. The menu focuses on both healthy as well as more indulgent dishes, so something is available for all tastes. Renowned locally for both its menu and clientèle, reservations are advisable, especially at the weekends.

SCHWERIN Alt Schweriner Schankstuben

大と「重

(

Am Schlachtermarkt 9-13, 19055 Tel (0385) 592530

A traditional, rustic North German pub. The Alt-Schweriner Schankstuben is one of the cosiest restaurants in town. located in the heart of Schwerin and specialising in hearty regional fish and meat dishes. In summer you can eat your meal on the shady terrace or enjoy a chilled local beer or wine.

SCHWERIN Zum Stadtkrug

國電子

€)

Wismarsche Straße 126, 19053 Tel (0385) 5936693

A microbrewery built in 1936 where tradition is central – the beer is still brewed in accordance to 1516 brewery laws. The decor is rustic and antique but comfortable. Try one of the regional dishes or unique internationally influenced entrées. The restaurant also has a beer garden. Take a look at the copper brewing tanks.

STRALSUND Tafelfreuden

大と麻丁

(€)(€)(€)

Jungfernstieg 5a, 18437 Tel (03831) 29 92 60

This modern restaurant is situated in a converted house. The unpretentious decor creates a tranquil and comfortable atmosphere. The menu focuses on German and Mediterranean dishes. Try the Zarzuela, a Spanish fish soup, as a starter or one of the pork dishes. A children's menu is also available.

WISMAR Stadt Hamburg

占重学

Am Markt 24, 23966 Tel (03841) 23 90

This hotel-restaurant is conveniently situated near the market square. They serve filling German dishes, as well as lighter Mediterranean cuisine. There are several vegetarian options on the menu. Join other quests on the terrace for amazing views of the city. They welcome children and the restaurant has wheelchair access.

SHOPPING IN GERMANY

ermany is known for its -regional handicrafts, high quality manufacturing. good wines and beers, as well as wonderful bread, cakes and fresh produce. Make sure vou sample some of the various cakes from the Konditorei. Organic food and produce is also big in Germany, more so than elsewhere in Europe. All towns have the usual international brands of clothing and accessories cuckoo clock

OPENING HOURS

In 2003 the law was relaxed and shops were allowed to remain open until 8pm on weekdays and Saturdays. As a general rule, shops open between 9 and 10am and close at 8pm. Department stores are also open until 8pm. However, in smaller towns, shops will often close at lunchtime from 12:30 to 2:30pm and in the evening at 6:30pm. On the last four Saturdays leading up to Christmas, shops stay open until 6pm (known as a "long Saturday"). The only shops opening at all on Sundays are some of the bakeries and cake shops, and only then for a few hours in the morning. Everything shuts on public holidays. Outside these hours the only places open are petrol stations or railway kiosks. Dispensing chemists work on a rota so that there is always one open 24 hours in each town. Each chemist displays a sign in the window saying which one is on duty.

METHODS OF PAYMENT AND VAT REFLINDS

Cash is widely used for small items and at markets. Large department stores take credit cards, as do international chains of boutiques. Smaller shops will only accept the local E-Card or debit card and no cheques, so visitors are advised to use cash where credit cards are not taken. Cash machines are widely available, though some are inside the bank and only accessible during opening hours

Visitors from countries outside the EU can claim a VAT refund (Mehrwertsteuer) in shops displaying the Tax-Free sign. Ask for a special form to be completed and. on leaving the country, all forms have to be stamped for a refund at the border, which may be given on the spot or sent to your address. Goods bought tax-free must remain unopened in the original packaging for a valid refund at the border.

SALFS

End of season goods are sold off at a discounted price during the twice-yearly sales (Schlussverkauf) – in summer at the end of July and in winter at the end of January Depending on trading. discounts of 30 to 70 per cent may be given.

Food market in Munich selling fresh local farmers' produce

GREEN SHOPPING

Germans are very ecologically aware when it comes to shopping and recycling. They buy locally when it comes to basics and fresh fruit and vegetables, supporting local farmers and small businesses. Shoppers can be seen all over the country with their wicker shopping baskets at markets and local stores, and any additional bags are reusable cotton totes, rather than plastic bags. Cotton bags are also available to buy at cash desks in every supermarket or department store, and you are always asked if you need a plastic bag or whether you can do without. Organic shopping has boomed. Several organic supermarkets

One of Germany's very popular organic supermarkets have opened up in the cities. selling fresh and packaged food, cosmetics, clothing and household goods.

FASHION

What Germany does best in the way of clothing and accessories is casualwear. ieanswear, sportswear and outerwear. Typical brands originating in Germany are Esprit, S. Oliver, Hugo Boss. Booner Adidas and Puma German fashion design is classic, purist and discreet.

Although it is not on a par with Italy or France, wellknown names on the international scene include Iil Sander, Strenesse. Wolfgang Joop, Escada and the famous couturier Karl Lagerfeld, Classic department store chains are Karstadt and Galeria Kaufhof and independent ones are Ludwig Beck in Munich and KaDeWe in Berlin. Speciality stores (Fachbandel) are still common in German towns especially for leather goods and homeware. International chains have a high presence, though mixed brand boutiques are still thriving.

Factory outlets are another way of getting hold of German design, albeit for seconds or reduced goods. Metzingen has a high concentration - Hugo Boss was the first outlet, followed by Bogner, Jil Sander and Escada. Other stores worth trying here are Villerov & Boch in Mettlach and Puma in Herzogenaurach.

High Fashion in KaDeWe department store, Berlin

REGIONAL PRODUCTS

There are many high quality regional products on sale throughout Germany which make ideal souvenirs. The most common are glass from Saxony and Bavaria, porcelain and ceramics from Meissen in Saxony and gourmet products and intricate carved wooden objects, such as cuckoo clocks, from the Black Forest. Traditional toys, dolls and dolls houses are common around the Nürnberg area with its long standing reputation of tov manufacturing and traditional Christmas markets In terms of food marzipan is a speciality of Lübeck. gingerbread comes from Nürnberg, jams

MARKETS

SIZE CHART

Men's shoes European

Rritish

American

39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46

6 7 71/2 8 9 10 11 12

7 71/2 8 81/2 91/2 101/2 11 111/2

Once or twice a week, local farmers set up their stalls in town centres in the market square or a car park. They sell farm produce from the

Women's dresses, coats and skirts

Gingerbread (Lebkuchen) on sale at a market stall region, as well as imported goods, such as exotic fruits. It is a colourful, lively sight full of local flavour. Flea markets are also popular all over Germany.

FOOD AND DRINK

Wine and beer are readily available at supermarkets

> Specialist wine stores are also common in most towns. Germans drink a lot of sparkling water at home, often mixed with the widely produced sparkling apple juice (Apfelsaftschorle) as well as beer wine and other soft drinks All these are bought at the wholesaler (Getränkemarkt) with a deposit on bottles and crates. Local food is best sought in the markets, though supermarkets and specialist delicatessen offer a good choice as well.

				tronicit s aresses, touts and skirts
European	36	38	40	42	44	46	48
British	10	12	14	16	18	20	22
American	8	10	12	14	16	18	20
Women's shoes
European	36	37	38	39	40	41
British	3	4	5	6	7	8
American	5	6	7	8	9	10
Men's suits
European	44	46	48	50	52	54	56	58 (size)
British	34	36	38	40	42	44	46	48 (inches)
American	34	36	38	40	42	44	46	48 (inches)
Men's shirts (collar size)
European	36	38	39	41	42	43	44	45 (cm)
British	14	15	151/2	16	161/2	17	171/2	18 (inches)
American	14	15	151/2	16	161/2	17	171/2	18 (inches)

Traditonal

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES AND SPECIALIST HOLIDAYS

ermany is home to some of the most active holiday-makers in the world, so it is certainly fitting that there is an abundance of leisure activities available throughout the country. Outdoor pursuits of every kind are readily accessible, from mountain sports, such as climbing, skiing and hiking, to water sports.

such as sailing, water-skiing and diving. Numerous other, slightly less adventurous activities such as golf, tennis, biking and spas are available and all are thoroughly organized and regulated. Any regional tourist office can provide you with detailed information and advice about planning your outdoor activities.

Walking in the Trettachtal valley in the Bavarian Alps

GENERAL SPORTING

The Deutscher Sportbund can provide a great deal of general information about sport in Germany.

WAI KING AND HIKING

Walking trails are everywhere in Germany, from the most demanding of Alpine trails to gentler excursions in the Erzgebirge of Saxony (see p166) and over the hills and mountains of the picturesque Thuringian Forest (see pp190–91) and Black Forest (see pb326–7).

Before setting off on an expedition you should get maps showing the walking trails in your chosen region. Detailed information can be obtained from the Deutscher Volkssportverband e.V.

(German Sports Federation) or the Deutscher Wanderverband (German Hiking Club). Guided walking excursions can also be organized through the local tourist offices or by contacting the Deutscher Wander verband. The DAV Summit Club is also a very useful source of information.

CYCLING

Cycling is a great way of enjoying the German countryside. In most towns and tourist areas, bicycles can be hired for just a few days or for a week or more. A bike can easily be transported on trains and on the urban U-Bahn or S-Bahn trains for a minimal fee. You will find that most towns and cities are bikefriendly with cycle lanes and plenty of bike stands. For those interested in mountain biking and more adventurous cycling there are many great places to visit, and the ADFC (Allgemeiner Deutscher Fahrrad-Club) (German Cycling Federation) can supply maps, guidebooks and advice.

WATER SPORTS

Germans enjoy all kinds of water sports. Water-skiing and wake-boarding are extremely popular, especially at lakes equipped with static towing lines, where you pay an hourly fee and can take as many trips skiing around the lake as you want. The Deutscher Wasserski- und Wakeboard Verband e.V. can provide detailed advice on locations and prices.

There is excellent sailing in the lakeland areas of Mecklenburg (see pp468-9). the coastal regions and on Lake Constance (see bb320-21). As is the case in most countries, you must demonstrate sailing knowledge before being allowed to hire a full-sized boat or small catamaran by showing a valid sailing licence. To find out more about sailing locations. boat hires and regulations, contact the Deutscher Segler-Verband e.V. There are also plenty of opportunities for

Cyclists outside a tavern in Rhineland-Palatinate scuba diving, mostly centred on the lakes or the protected coastal regions. The Verband Deutscher Sporttaucher (VDST) e.V. (German Divers' e.V. (German Divers' Association) can provide up-to-date advice.

Canoe trips can be taken on many of the country's rivers – from calm and picturesque stretches of water and the canals of the Spreewald (see p141), to exhilarating adventures in rapidly flowing Alpine streams that demand professional skill.

GOLF AND TENNIS

Over the last decade or so golf has become hugely popular in Germany and the number of courses has increased. Golf is usually played at a club, however.

Golfing on the Castle Hotel course in Kronberg, Hesse

You usually need to prove a certain level of golfing proficiency before you are allowed onto the course. This can be achieved by showing a membership card from a course or club back home. Alternatively, look for one of the "Pay & Play" courses, which can be found throughout the country and usually have only six holes. For further information contact the Deutscher Golf Verband e.V.

Most large German towns have tennis courts that can be hired for a few hours and there is almost always a private tennis club in all the sizeable towns and cities. For more information on how to make a booking, contact the Deutscher Tennis Bund e.V.

Canoeing on a stretch of the River Main in Miltenberg

SKIING AND MOUNTAIN SPORTS

The most renowned centre for skiing is still Garmish-Partenkirchen (see p280). Other regions such as the Black Forest (see pp326-7) and the Erzgebirge (see p166) also offer skiing. Some of the larger cities have indoor skiing halls, though they are a poor substitute for the Alps (see bb204–5). Cross-country skiing is also popular, and there are many well-prepared routes Information can be obtained from local tourist information offices or contact the Haus des Ski. Deutscher Skiverband DSV (German Ski Association)

The Alps are the centre of German climbing. Here you can find sport climbers mixing with Alpinists. The Allgäu region is probably the most well-known place for climbers but challenges can also be found in the Ries basin. The Verband Deutscher Berg- und Skiführer (VDBS) (Association of German Mountain and Ski Guides) can help you with hiring a guide. Interesting rock formations that provide memorable challenges are not only to be found in the Alps, but throughout Germany, Places such as the Harz Forest (see p147), Fichtelgebirge and the Schwäbische Alb (see pp300-1) are all outstanding places for sport climbing. Also, you can find indoor climbing gyms in most cities. The Deutscher Alpenverein (DAV) Bundesgeschäftsstelle (German Alpine Association) can help with all your climbing requirements.

NATIONAL PARKS

Germany has a richly varied landscape, from mountains to coasts, and has many nature reserves, biosphere reserves and national parks. From the swamp-like Spreewald (see p141) to the lush forests and mountain peaks of the Bavarian Forest (see p257), each park has its own spectacular natural characteristics and offers a range of different visitor services and facilities.

All parks have sign-posted trails and most have special maps for walking, biking or jogging tours. These are also excellent locations for observing and enjoying the flora and fauna of Germany's various regions. Many parks have notices posted to inform visitors about the animals and plants indigenous to the area. To find out more about the various locations and holidays available in Germany's national parks and nature reserves contact the Verband Deutscher Naturparke or Europarc Deutschland e.V.

Mountain sports in the Schildenstein Mangfall mountains

CAMPING AND

During the months of July. August and September there are a great many foreign holiday-makers on Germany's Autobahns heading for the camping parks. The word "camping" in Germany means primarily caravanning, not pitching a tent. Most sites are privately owned and offer a lot of extras. The majority have wash facilities snack stands or restaurants as well as small shops and playgrounds. The more upscale parks will offer electricity as well as group activities. caravans and bungalows for hire. To find out more contact. the Deutscher Camping-Club e.V. Tent-pitching holidays are also possible and this is strongly regulated in order to avoid misuse of national parks. Tents are often allowed in the camping parks mentioned above and many national parks have places set aside for tents and campfires. Backpacker Network Germany e.V. is a good resource for information about camping.

Spielgau, the well-known hiking spot in the Bavarian Forest

HISTORIC AND SCENIC ROUTES

Germany has over 50 official driving routes. These routes highlight the best features of an individual region. The following are just a few of many excellent drives. The Burgenstraße e.V. (Castle Road) is over 1,000 km (620 miles) long, from Mannheim (see p294) through Bavaria to Prague. It offers plenty of romantic castles and historical sites. The Deutsche Märchenstraße (Fairvtale Route) covers more than 600 km (370 miles) from Bremen (see bb430-33) to Hanau (see p377), linking more than 70 towns and villages associated with the Brothers Grimm and the realm of fairvtales sagas myths and legends. The Deutsche Weinstraße e.V. (Wine Route) (see p347) is 85 km (52 miles) and runs from Bad Dürkheim to Bad Berzabern. The Touristik Arbeitsgemeinschaft Romantische Straße (Romantic Road) is Germany's most famous and popular tourist route. It runs for 350 km (217 miles) through a rich and varied landscape along the River Main to the Alps. The Tourismusverband Ruppiner Land e.V. "Deutsche Tonstraße" (Ceramics Route) is a circular route running 215 km (134 miles) through the Ruppiner Land area of northern Brandenburg (see pp130-31).

Burgenstraße (Castle Road) scenic route following the Rhine

SPECIALIST HOLIDAYS

Language tours offer you the chance to immerse yourself in German culture. Living arrangements range from homes to hotels and hostels, depending upon budget. The Goethe Institute is the best place for information on this type of holiday.

Wine holidays are becoming more commonplace because German wines are coming back into popularity. Most winemakers offer tastings and small meals, but some also offer packaged holidays. To find out more about wine holidays contact Deutsches Weininstitut GmbH or Viniversität – Die Weinschule GmbH.

There are equestrian centres in many parts of Germany where visitors can ride under supervision or head off on their own. Specialized weekends or week-long riding vacations are available throughout Germany. More information can be obtained from the Deutsche Reiterliche Vereinigung e. V.

SPA VACATIONS

Germany has more than 350 health and spa resorts, as well as numerous hotels and holiday centres, where your wellbeing is the top priority. Cultural delights, culinary experiences, sights of historical importance and physical activites all form part of the German philosophy of looking after yourself, known as "Das Wellness". Health and fitness breaks are available all year round and facilities vary from the minimalist ultra-modern to marble and gold imperial luxury, with everything in between. Each region has something special to offer, though some of the most well-known spas are in the Black Forest (see pp326–7), on the East Frisian Islands (see p428) and in Schleswig-Holstein (see pp455–65). The Deutscher Heilbäder-

Wine from the Mosel

Deutscher Heilbäderverband e. V. can help you find the right spa and holiday package.

DIRECTORY

GENERAL SPORTING INFORMATION

Deutscher Sportbund

Otto-Fleck-Schneise 12, Frankfurt am Main. Tel (069) 67 000.

WALKING AND

DAV Summit Club

81545 München. Tel (089) 64 24 00.

Deutscher Volkssportverband e.V.

Fabrikstraße 8, D-84503 Altötting. Tel (086) 96310. www.dvv-wandern.de

Deutscher Wanderverband

Wilhelmshöher Allee 157–159, D-34121 Kassel. Tel (0561) 938 730. www.wanderverband.de

CYCLING

ADFC (Allgemeiner Deutscher Fahrrad-Club)

Bundesgeschäftsstelle, Postfach 10 77 47, 28077 Bremen. Tel (0421) 34 62 90.

WATER SPORTS

Deutscher Segler-Verband e.V.

Gründgensstr. 18, 22309 Hamburg. Tel (040) 632 00 90. www.dsv.org

Deutscher Wasserski- und Wakeboard Verband e.V.

Gründgensstr. 18, D-22309 Hamburg. Tel (040) 63 99 87 32. www.wasserski-online.de Verband Deutsche Sporttaucher (VDST) e.V.

Bundesgeschäftsstelle, Berliner Str. 312, 63067 Offenbach. Tel (069) 9819025. www.vdst.de

GOLF AND TENNIS

Deutscher Golf Verband e.V.

Postfach 21 06, 65011 Wiesbaden. Tel (0611) 990 200. www.golf.de/dqv

Deutscher Tennis Bund e.V.

Hallerstraße 89, 20149 Hamburg. Tel (040) 411780. www.dtb-tennis.de

SKIING AND MOUNTAIN SPORTS

Deutscher Alpenverein (DAV) Bundesgeschäftsstelle

Von-Kahr-Str. 2–4, 80997 München. Tel (089) 140030. www.alpenyerein.de

Haus des Ski, Deutscher Skiverband DSV

Am Erwin-Himmelseher-Platz Hubertusstraße 1, D-82152 Planegg. Tel (089) 857900. www.ski-online.de

Verband Deutscher Berg- und Skiführer (VDBS)

Untersbergstr. 34, 83451 Piding. Tel (08651) 71221. www.bergfuehrerverband de

NATIONAL PARKS

Europarc Deutschland e.V.

Friedrichstraße 60, D-10117 Berlin. Tel (030) 28878820. www.europarc-deutschland.de

Verband Deutscher Naturparke

Görresstraße 15, D-53113 Bonn. Tel (0228) 9212860. www.naturparke.de

CAMPING AND CARAVANNING

Backpacker Network Germany e.V.

Max-Brauer-Allee 277, 22769 Hamburg. Tel (040) 43 18 23 10. www.backpacker

Deutscher Camping-Club e.V.

Mandlstraße 28, 80802 München. Tel (089) 3801420. www.camping-club.de

HISTORIC AND SCENIC ROUTES

Burgenstraße e.V

(Castle Road)
Allee 28,
D-74072 Heilbronn. Tel (07131) 5640 28.
www.burgenstrasse.de

Deutsche Märchenstraße

(Fainytale Route) Kurfürstenstr. 9, 34117 Kassel. Tel (0561) 92 04 79 10. www.deutschemaerchenstrasse de Deutsche Weinstraße e.V.

(Wine Route) Martin-Luther-Str. 69, 67433 Neustadt an der Weinstraße. Tel (06321) 912333.

Tourismusverband Ruppiner Land e.V.

"Deutsche Tonstraße"

www.deutscheweinstrasse.de

Tonstraße" (Ceramics Route) Fischbänkenstr. 8, 16816 Neuruppin. Tel (03391) 659630. www.deutschetonstrasse. de

Touristik Arbeitsgemeinschaft Romantische Straße

(Romantic Road) Segringer Str. 19, 91550 Dinkelsbühl. Tel (09851) 551387. www.romantischestrasse.

SPECIALIST HOLIDAYS

Deutsche Reiterliche Vereinigung e.V.

Freiherr von Langen-Straße 13, 48231 Warendorf. Tel (025 81) 63 620. www.pferd-aktuell.de www.fn-dokr.de

Deutsches Weininstitut GmbH

Gutenbergplatz 3–5, 55116 Mainz. Tel (06131) 28290. www.deutscheweine.de

Goethe Institute

80637 München. (Postal address: P.O. Box 19 04 19, 80604 München). Tel (089) 159210. www. goethe.de 50 Princes Gate, Dachauer Straße 122.

www. goethe.de 50 Princes Gate, Exhibition Road, London SW7 2PH. Tel (020) 7596 4000 or (020) 7594 0240.

Viniversität – Die Weinschule GmbH

Haus Meer 2, D-40667 Meerbusch. Tel (02132) 75680. www.viniversitaet.de

SPA VACATIONS

Deutscher Heilbäderverband e V

Schumannstraße 111, 53113 Bonn. Tel (0228) 201 200. www.deutscherheilbaederverband.de

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

ermany is a country that is particularly well prepared to receive visitors. Every town large and small has a helpful tourist information centre that can offer help with finding accommodation and providing information about local restaurants, attractions and activities. Virtually all the larger cities also have Internet web sites where up-to-date information on hotels, restaurants, museums and historic monuments can be readily

Posters advertising future events accessed. The country is served by an excellent public transport system and a first-rate network of roads and motorways, which makes getting around quick and easy. There is a plentiful supply of comfortable affordable tourist accommodation in Germany, but it is worth bearing in mind that hotels can become booked up quickly during the festivals and fairs that occur throughout the year in different parts of the country

WHEN TO VISIT

In Germany, a pleasant and relaxing vacation can be enioved at any time of the year. When planning to visit cities and historic monuments however it is best to come in the spring or early autumn. particularly in the south of the country where it can be very warm. July and August are the ideal months for spending a restful PALAIS PREYSING holiday by the sea, in the lake districts or in the mountains Arriving in Bayaria during the second half of Sept-while, in the winter, skiing is a popular pursuit in the Black Forest, the Alps and the Harz Mountains.

ember provides the opportunity to take part in the Oktober-

occupied with frantic

Christmas shopping, fest. In December

everybody is pre-

Increased traffic on the roads depends on the dates of school holidays, which are set independently in each state. It can also be quite busy at the start of the "long weekends" that occur at Easter, Whitsun and around other national public holidays.

VISA REGULATIONS

Citizens of countries that are members of the European Union, the US, Canada.

Australia, and New Zealand do not require a visa to visit Germany, so long as their stay does not exceed three months duration. Visitors from South Africa will need a visa. In addition. citizens of many EU countries do not require a passport to enter Germany, though a national ID card is necessary.

Typical information plaques on historic buildings

CUSTOMS REGULATIONS

German regulations totally prohibit the importation of drugs, animals and exotic plants that are under special protection. There are also regulations that restrict the importation of cigarettes. An adult may bring in 200 cigarettes or 100 cigars, and 250g (9oz) of tobacco, as well as one litre of spirits and two litres of wine You can also import up to 5kg (11lb) of foodstuffs, but not animal products which are forbidden. Beyond these limits, goods must be cleared by Customs when entering the country.

Tourist information office in Rottweil, Baden-Wurttemberg

TOURIST INFORMATION

A very well-developed network of tourist information centres exists in Germany. These are generally run by the city or regional tourist authorities. Verkehrsamt. They provide information on accommodation, addresses and opening hours of historic monuments and museums, cruises, organized excursions and city tours, as well as brochures covering the most important tourist information.

Tourists on an excursion with a guide

Publications

information on cultural events

providina

ADMISSION TICKET

The price of admission to monuments can be high. For museums and historic

PRICES

They sell useful guide books, maps and postcards and may be able to find and book you a hotel room

OPENING HOURS

Opening hours of shops, offices and other businesses depend to a great extent on the size of the town. In larger cities the usual office opening hours are from around 9am until 6pm. Banks operate much shorter hours (see p572). In smaller towns, however, nothing tends to open until 10am, and many businesses close from 1–2pm for lunch. Visitors must also bear in mind that there is a compulsory and virtually total ban on trading on Saturday afternoons Sundays and on public holidays. Restrictions also limit the opening hours of shops (see p558-9).

MUSEUMS AND HISTORIC

Museums in Germany are generally open from 9am until 6pm, and in smaller places from 10am until 5pm or even 4pm. Some museums, however, do close at lunchtime. Once a week, usually on Wednesdays or Thursdays, some museums may be open somewhat longer, while on Mondays they may be closed. Larger churches in major cities are accessible to tourists throughout the whole day. In smaller places, visiting may only be possible after making prior arrangements. There may be a notice on the door of the church advising visitors whom to contact in order to obtain the key.

Illustrated admission tickets for tourist attractions

DIRECTORY

EMBASSIES

Δustralia

Wallstraße 76–79, 10179 Berlin. Tel (030) 880 08 80. Fax (030) 880 08 8-210.

www.germany.embassy.gov.au

Canada

Leipziger Platz 17, 10117 Berlin. Tel (030) 20 31 20. Fax (030) 20 31 25 90.

Republic of Ireland

Friedrichstraße 200, 10117 Berlin. Tel (030) 22 07 20. Fax (030) 22 07 22 99. www.botschaft-irland de

New Zealand

Friedrichstraße 60, 10117 Berlin. Tel (030) 20 62 10. Fax (030) 20 62 11 14. www.nzembassy.com

South Africa

Tiergartenstraße 18, 10785 Berlin. Tel (030) 22 07 30. Fax (030) 22 07 31 90. www.suedafrika.org

United Kingdom Embassy

Wilhelmstraße 70, 10117 Berlin. Tel (030) 20 45 70. Fax (030) 20 45 75 49. www.britischebotschaft.de

Consulate

Harvestehuder Weg 8a, 20148 Hamburg. Tel (040) 448 03 20. Fax (040) 410 72 59.

United States of America Embassy

Neustädtische Kirchstraße 4-5, 10117 Berlin. Tel (030) 238 51 74. Fax (030) 238 62 90. www.usembassy.de

Consulate

Königinstraße 5, 80539 Munich. Tel (089) 288 80. Fax (089) 280 99 98.

TOURIST OFFICE

BTM – Berl in Tourist Information

Tel (030) 25 00 25. www.berlin-tourist-information.de

German National Tourist Office

PO Box 2695, London, W1A 3TN. Tel (020) 731 70908. www.qermany-tourism.de

Practical Information

A kiosk selling newspapers and cigarettes

DISABLED VISITORS

Germany is a country that is relatively well prepared to receive disabled travellers. Large museums and important historic monuments have special ramps or lifts for people who are confined to wheelchairs Offices and banks are also accessible to wheelchair users and there are usually lifts at railway stations and larger underground stations. A large proportion of public transport vehicles have been adapted to take wheelchair passengers. Most hotels, especially the higher grades, offer suitably equipped bedrooms. For visitors who use wheelchairs, there are usually specially designed toilet facilities within public toilets in car parks, railway stations and airports. A handicapped person may, however, still have problems in gaining access to some places, such as small museums, certain historic monuments and to toilets in restaurants, which are often located in the cellar. Contact NatKo for further useful information.

RELIGION

In a country with profound historical influences, the dominant religion varies from area to area and from state to state, depending on which faith was chosen by local rulers in the past. Today, the southern states are predominantly Catholic while, in the north, Protestantism is more common. However, with a migrating population, this historical division has begun to change. The 20th century brought a huge influx of people of other faiths: the Muslim population now numbers several millions. Where large communities of ethnic minorities exist, services are held in their languages, while in most large cities there are some churches where extra services are held in English and in French.

Sign for public toilets, including facilities

EVERYDAY CUSTOMS

Germans, and particularly the older generation, attach great importance to courteous behaviour. You constantly hear "Guten Tag" when entering a shop, and "Auf Wiedersehen" – or the more youthful "Tschüss" when leaving. Germans are also very punctual and consider even a small delay to be very impolite. Arriving somewhat earlier than arranged for an engagement is regarded as courteous.

It is also important to adapt to German regulations. It is a violation, for example, to cross the road when there is a red light showing, even if the road is clear, and can result in an official reprimand.

Among younger Germans, however, shifts in traditional ideas of politeness can be observed. Older people and women are no longer treated with such respect and are no longer automatically offered seats on public transport by younger passengers. Another notable change is the huge tolerance now shown towards even the most unruly children by parents and other adults.

LANGUAGE

Although all Germans do speak German, many of them use dialects that are virtually incomprehensible, even to those from neighbouring regions. The most difficult dialects to understand are often considered to be those of southern Germany, particularly Bavarian and Schwabian, but Frisian and Saxon dialects are also likely to cause severe communication problems for visitors.

Travellers can usually be understood in Germany by speaking English, particularly in larger cities and in places that are frequented by foreign tourists and holidaymakers.

NEWSPAPERS

Publications can be bought not only in kiosks, but also in automatic vending machines. In the evenings, papers are distributed in bars

A national and a regional German newspaper and restaurants by newsvendors. Current newspapers are usually available in cafés.

Every state has its own titles.
In Berlin the most popular newspapers are Berliner
Zeitung, Der Tagesspiegel and Die Tageszeitung. In southern Germany it is Süddeutsche Zeitung, Highly respected throughout Germany is the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, while the most widely read is Bild

Foreign language publications, such as International Herald Tribune, The Guardian, Le Monde, El País, Neue Zürcher Zeitung and Corriere della Sera, are available at kiosks, railway stations and airports, as well as in more expensive hotels.

TIME

Germany uses Central European Time (GMT plus one hour). Clocks move forward one hour on the last Sunday in March and back on the last Sunday in October.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

The metric system of measurement is used in Germany. Note that half a kilogram is expressed by the word Pfund. In contrast to UK usage, decimals are indicated by a comma and thousands by a point: thus 10,000,50 (UK) = 10,000,50.

ELECTRICITY

The electrical system in Germany provides 220V, 50 Hz AC, except in some hotel bathrooms where a lower current is provided as a standard safety measure. UK 220V appliances can be plugged into German sockets with an adaptor. However US 110V appliances will have to be used with a transformer

WOMEN TRAVELLING

A woman travelling on her own will not surprise anyone in Germany and only the usual safety precautions need be taken, particularly in large cities at night. However, it is best to avoid certain areas in towns where there is a lively nightlife – for example the Reeperbahn in Hamburg. Hitchliking is quite popular in Germany, but a better option for single women may be to use the services of Mitfahr-zentrale (see p581).

TRAVELLING WITH CHILDREN

Travelling with children is common in Germany and consequently their needs are well catered for. Restaurants can usually provide a high chair for a toddler and offer a special Kindermenu with small portions. Public toilets at railway stations, airports and in motorway service stations, as well as in many museums and stores, usually offer a separate facility for mothers and babies. The majority of hotels and guest houses offer discounts for children (see p487). Discounts or even free travel for the youngest children are available on various forms of transport and there are similar concessions in most museums. In many German cities it is possible to purchase family tickets that provide substantial discounts on fares and admission fees.

Phantasialand, Brühl, a popular children's entertainment park

An international student identity card, the ISIC card

INFORMATION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

During a stay in Germany it is worth carrying an International Student Identity Card (ISIC), which entitles holders to a 50 per cent discount in certain museums and reductions when buying some theatre tickets. It also allows students to get useful discounts on air tickets and certain urban public transport.

In the larger towns and cities there are special information bureaux for young people, where legal advice and support on such issues as education and employment is available.

DIRECTORY

INFORMATION FOR DISABLED VISITORS

Directions Unlimited

123 Green Lane, Bedford Hills, NY 10507, USA. Tel (800) 533 53 43.

Holiday Care

Tourism For All, The Hawkins Suite, Enham Place, Enham Alamein, Andover SP11 6JS, UK. Tel 0845 1249971. www.holidaycare.org

NatKo e.V. (Nationale Koordinationsstelle Tourismus für Alle)

Kirchfeldstr. 140, 40215 Düsseldorf. Tel (0211) 336 80 01.

www.natko.de

Security and Health

Pharmacv sign

As in other countries, visitors are far safer in small towns and villages in Germany than in big cities, where extra vigilance must be taken against pickpockets – particularly when travelling on public transport during rush hour. It is worth using a money belt or other means of concealing your money and documents. Taking out medical insurance cover is always advisable when travelling abroad, but for minor health problems that do not require the services of a doctor, pharmacists are a good and easily accessible source of assistance.

Characteristically coloured white and green police van

POLICE

Green is the predominant colour of German police uniforms and signs. Motorized police units, Verkehrspolizei, which look after safety on the streets, roads and motorways, are distinguished by their white caps, while uniformed policemen patrolling city streets have a cap that is the same colour as their uniform. However, the police who are

Policeman and policewoman responsible for criminal offences, Kriminalpolizei, are generally dressed in plain clothes. They will produce their identification and insignia as necessary.

In towns, urban police in navy-blue uniforms are in evidence. Their role is, above all, to catch motorists who have parked illegally or have failed to pay the appropriate parking fee. Such traffic offences may incur on-the-spot fines and rigorous checking of documents.

PERSONAL PROPERTY

The most serious threat for a tourist is always the pickpocket. This type of thief tends to prowl in crowded places, such as railway platforms, in the carriages of trains and on buses. They also frequent popular tourist sights and any events where large groups of people are likely to gather. When setting off on an excursion it is best to leave valuable items and documents in the hotel safe.

Conceal valuable items, such as cameras and audio equipment, under clothing and carry cash in a money belt. Park your car in the hotel car park whenever possible and never leave valuable items in the vehicle, especially if it has to be left in the street overnight.

ACCIDENTS AND EMERGENCIES

If an accident or a serious breakdown occurs on the motorway, it is best to use one of the special telephones that are set out at regular intervals along the hard shoulder (see p580). Throughout the whole of Germany there is a special emergency number, 112, which will be answered by an operator who is an experienced member of a rescue team. Among their responsibilities are informing the appropriate emergency services. Every telephone. including mobile phones, will allow callers to connect free of charge to this number.

Thefts and burglaries must be reported immediately to the criminal police. If a crime is committed on the platform of the S-Bahn or the U-Bahn, the appropriate emergency alarm button can be used to summon assistance. Special alarm buttons, within small red boxes, also provide a direct connection with the fire brigade (Feuerwehr). These alarm buttons are usually located in prominent positions on the streets and in large department stores.

Police sign

Ambulance of the paramedic rescue services

LOST AND STOLEN PROPERTY

Before leaving home it is advisable to take out an insurance policy to cover property against loss or theft. Theft must be reported to the police immediately and a certificate obtained to confirm that the loss has been reported; this is needed if an insurance claim is submitted.

If property has been lost, it is worth asking at a lost property office (Fundbüro). These exist in every German city. The railway network has its own lost property offices – Fundbüro der Deutschen Bahn AG – as do the urban transport systems in individual towns.

of these reciprocal arrangements, however, visitors must obtain a European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) – the insurance Card (EHIC) – the form is available from post offices. However, it is still advisable to take out some form of health insurance.

If plans include taking part in any sporting activities, particularly dangerous sports, make sure that the policy has a clause guaranteeing the refund of costs if rescue services are involved – for example mountain rescue services. This type of insurance is usually much more expensive.

In case of serious illness, it is necessary to call an ambulance who will take the patient to the nearest hospital out-patient clinic. In large hotels medical care is often provided on the premises. For minor accidents it is best to turn to a pharmacy (Apotheke).

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

Citizens of countries within the European Union do not have to take out medical insurance in order to obtain free medical care in Germany. In order to avail themselves

Entrance to a pharmacy in Heidelberg

HEALTH

Germany poses no serious health hazards for travellers. The country is well served with hospitals and there are no prevalent diseases. No vaccinations are required when entering the country.

Visitors who require prescribed medication should ensure that they take enough to cover their stay, as it may not be available locally.

Ticks are prevalent in rural areas, especially during the summer months, and it is suggested that visitors seek medical advice if bitten.

Tap water is safe to drink throughout Germany.

PHARMACIES

Pharmacies in Germany are indicated by a stylized letter "A" (Apotheke) and are usually open from 8am-6pm; in small towns they may close from 1-3pm. In larger towns there is always a rota and this is displayed in the window of each pharmacy with a note of addresses. Information on rota pharmacies may also be obtained from tourist offices.

PUBLIC CONVENIENCES

In large cities, public toilets (often automatic cubicles) can usually be found without much difficulty. Instructions on how to use these facilities are given in several languages on the doors of the cubicles. Public toilets can also usually be found in museums, cafés, restaurants and department stores. Men's toilets are marked Herren and ladies' Damen or Frauen.

DIRECTORY

EMERGENCY SERVICES

Fire Brigade and Police

Tel 110.

Ambulance

Tel 19222 (plus the area code if using a mobile).

Airborne Rescue Club (Deutsche Rettungsflugwacht)

Tel (0711) 701 070.

Emergency Poison Help Line

Tel (0761) 192 40.

LOST PROPERTY

Fundbüro der Deutschen Bahn AG

Tel (01805) 99 05 99.

Zentrales Fundbüro Berlin

Platz der Luftbrücke 6, Berlin.

Tel (030) 7560 31 01.

Banks and Local Currency

Logo of the ReiseBank

Until recently some credit cards, including Visa, were not quite as popular in Germany as in other countries. This has now changed, however, and tourists should have no problems. In cities and towns cash can be obtained from automatic cash points (ATMs) and foreign currency exchanged at a bank and currency exchange point.

CHANGING CURRENCY

There are no limits on the amount of foreign currency that can be brought into the country. Travellers generally use travellers' cheques or credit cards, both of which minimize problems in case of loss or theft.

Foreign currency can be exchanged in a bank or exchange bureau Wechselstube Both offer a similar rate of exchange, but they usually charge a commission. It is best to check this before undertaking a transaction in order to confirm how much vou will have to pay. Most banks have quite inconvenient opening hours: they are open Monday-Friday, from 9am–3:30pm, with a break for lunch between noon and 1pm. Once a week (usually on a Thursday) they are open until 6pm. Opening hours may be a little longer in larger cities. It is advisable to take advantage of the services offered by a branch of the ReiseBank as soon as you arrive – these are located in airports and railway stations. Currency exchange counters are usually located near railway stations or in places frequented by tourists. These have longer opening hours than banks, but may have less favourable exchange and commission rates.

Foreign currency can be exchanged at special automatic cash points, which can generally be found at larger airports, railway stations and in city centres that are visited by tourists. Cash can also always be exchanged at hotel reception desks, but check the exchange rate before going ahead as the rate may be guite low.

Automatic cash machine

TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES

Travellers' cheques can be used to pay for goods and services, or to settle hotel bills, but it is often better to pay by cash. Cheques can be cashed in banks and currency exchange bureaux, but it should be remembered that

The Baverische Vereinsbank in Munich

One of Germany's many bureaux de change it is most advantageous to exchange them for local currency. Therefore it is a good idea to purchase travellers' cheques in Euro denominations.

Deutsche Bank

Logo of Deutsche Bank, one of the biggest banks in Germany

CREDIT CARDS

Credit cards can be used to pay bills in most hotels and restaurants, in all department stores and in most shops - a fact that is always confirmed by a sticker with the credit card logo on the door or by the cash till. Sometimes, especially in restaurants and cafés, there is a compulsory minimum limit that can be paid by credit card. It is advisable, therefore, to check the situation before ordering just a drink or snack, since it may not be possible to pay for small amounts by credit card.

In busy parts of town and in commercial centres, it is easy to find a cash point that accepts credit cards, but note that some of these accept only Master-

DIRECTORY

LOST CREDIT CARDS/ TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES

American Express Tel (069) 97 97 10 00.

Diner's Club
Tel (069) 66 16 60.

EC and Bank Cards Tel (069) 74 09 87.

MasterCard Tel (069) 79 33 19 10.

VISA

Tel (0800) 81 49 100.

Card Lost credit cards or travellers' cheques should be reported immediately to a bank or the issuing organization.

CURRENCY

The deutschmark was the sole German currency until 2002. On 1 January 2002, the Euro, common currency of the European Union, was introduced into general circulation Thirteen countries have replaced their traditional currencies with the Euro: Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Portugal, Spain and Slovenia have chosen to ioin the new currency: the UK Denmark and Sweden have staved out, with an option to review their decision. The deutschmark was phased out by mid-2002.

Euro Bank Notes

Furo hank notes have seven denominations. The 5-euro note (grey in colour) is the smallest, followed by the 10-euro note (pink), 20-euro note (blue). 50-euro note (orange). 100-euro note (green), 200-euro note (yellow) and 500-euro note (purple). All notes show the 12 stars of the European Union.

Coins

The euro has eight coin denominations: 2 euros and 1 euro; 50 cents, 20 cents, 10 cents, 5 cents, 2 cents and 1 cent. The 2- and 1-euro coins are both silver and gold in colour. The 50-, 20- and 10-cent coins are gold. The 5-, 2- and 1-cent coins are bronze.

2 cents

Communications

A rare antique mail-hox

The postal and telecommunications services in Germany work very efficiently. Though it may be necessary to queue for a few minutes in the post office, letters and postcards are usually delivered within the country in 24 hours. There are no problems using the telephone. Telephones can be found on every street corner, in U- and S-Bahn stations, and in virtually every restaurant and café. The distinctive vellow mail-boxes are also a common sight.

USING THE TELEPHONE

Germany's public telephones are serviced by Deutsche Telekom. The oldest types are coin-operated and require a minimum deposit. which is the cost of a single local call. Smaller denomination coins are not accepted

Unused coins are returned, but no Deutsche change is given. It is Telekom sian far more convenient to use a telephone card. which can be purchased at post offices, priced €5, 10 and 20. Alternatively, travellers may purchase an international phone card before leaving home. While using a phone card in a public phone, an illuminated display will show the amount of credit still remaining on the card. Card-operated public phones can be found in many busy areas of towns and cities. In order to use them it is necessary to dial in a personal pin number.

Many phone boxes have their own telephone number. This means that they can receive incoming calls, so that a caller can be called back if his money or card runs out.

Every public phone should be equipped with a set of telephone directories, but these often go missing.

Telephone boxes marked with the word "National" can only be used to ring numbers with German dialling codes. but overseas calls can be made from other phones.

Telephone calls can be made from hotel rooms, but the cost of these will be much greater than those made from public telephone boxes. It is worth checking with your hotel first.

Telephone calls can also be made at post offices: there. calls are booked at a window marked "Ferngespräche".

TARIFFS

Depending on the time and day, different tariffs apply to local telephone calls, as well as to intercity and international calls. The most expensive period to make a call is between 7am and 6pm. Calls cost less between 6pm and 9pm, and, later in the evening, they are even cheaper. Likewise, telephone calls are cheaper at weekends than on weekdays your call, replace the handset. For the return of unused coins, press the button above the slot where you inserted the coins.

USING A COIN-OPERATED TELEPHONE

> Colourful chip telephone card (back and front)

USING A CARD-OPERATED TELEPHONE

Lift the handset and wait for the dial tone

Choose the appropriate language.

Insert the card as instructed The illuminated display will show the amount of credit remaining

Dial the number 4 and wait to be connected.

5 After finishing the can replace the handset. Withdraw the card by pressing the green button.

MOBILE TELEPHONES

A mobile (cellular) telephone can prove invaluable on holiday especially for phoning ahead to book hotel rooms or when taking part in mountain sports or travelling in remote areas Before leaving home travellers should discuss their requirements with their network provider, including which countries are to be visited. The different options can be explained and the most suitable tariff selected. Charges vary according to the facilities and coverage offered. from automatic stamp machines. Before posting a letter in a mail-box, check what is written on the box. Some mail-boxes have two slots – one marked for local post only, the other for all other destinations.

POST OFFICES

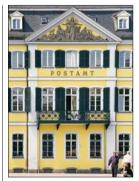

Post offices in Germany are indicated by the word "Post", while mail-boxes and the official Deutsche Post logo are a distinctive yellow colour. In large towns, post offices are usually open from 8am until 6pm, and from 8am until noon on Saturdays. Branches with longer opening hours, and which are often also open on Sundays, can be found at most airports and large railway stations. In smaller towns, post offices are often located in local shops.

POSTAL ADDRESSES

In Germany, the postal code of five digits is an important part of the address, allowing a more precise location than simply the street name and house number. In cities, for example, different sections of long streets will have different

Entrance to one of the post offices

postal codes. In multipleoccupancy buildings, the number of individual apartments is not given in the address. Instead, mail is delivered according to the name cards at the entrance to the building. Consequently, in order to send mail to a person who is staying in someone else's house, it is necessary to write at the top of the envelope the name of the main occupant, preceded by the letters "c/o" (care of).

THE INTERNET AND E-MAIL

The internet and e-mail have become increasingly popular and essential as a means of communication, and they can be especially useful for people who are abroad on holidav or business. As a result. many hotels now offer guests access to the Internet and e-mail facilities. Internet cafés. where online access can be obtained for a small fee, can be found in most towns and cities, while computers can often be hired by the hour in commercial centres.

The logo of the German postal service

POSTAL SERVICES

Just as in other countries registered mail, telegrams and parcels can be sent from post offices. As well as stamps, post offices also sell phone cards, postcards, envelopes and cartons in which to send items by post. Letters sent Poste Restante are usually issued from post offices near railway stations. Such correspondance should be marked with the words "Postlagernde Briefe/Sendungen". In order to collect mail, a passport or other form of identification will have to be produced.

SENDING A LETTER

Stamps for letters and postcards can be bought at a post office, and sometimes they are sold along with postcards. Stamps can also be bought

The most typical style of mail-box seen in Germany

Street vending machine selling postage stamps and telephone cards

USEFUL TELEPHONE NUMBERS

- · Directory enquiries, national numbers: 11 833.
- Directory enquiries, international numbers: 11 834.
- International calls: Dial 00, wait for dialling tone, then dial country code, area code + number, omitting first 0.
- Country codes: UK 44; Eire 353; Canada and US 1; Australia 61; South Africa 27; New Zealand 64.

TRAVEL INFORMATION

Lufthansa plane

ravelling in Germany is very quick and easy. In every large city there is an airport, most of which offer international connections. The whole of Germany is linked by a dense network of motorways, while main roads are of a high standard and are well signposted. Rail travel throughout the country is comfortable and reliable; for longer journeys it is worth taking advantage of the fast connections offered by InterCity Express (ICE). Buses are also comfortable and efficient and are particularly useful in rural areas not served by rail. In German cities, trams, buses and sometimes underground rail systems provide useful services.

ARRIVING BY AIR

Germany's most important airports are Frankfurt am Main, Munich and Düsseldorf. from where connecting flights can be made to other German cities. The country's national carrier is Lufthansa which operates regular, scheduled flights to most of the world's major destinations. British Airways also offers regular. scheduled flights to Germany from London (Heathrow and Gatwick) as well as from several regional airports in the United Kingdom.

The US is well served with flights to German cities, particularly to Berlin and to Frankfurt, which is Germany's largest airport and one of the busiest in Europe. Direct flights are usually available from major US cities, including New York (JFK), Washington DC, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Although Canada does not have many direct flights to Germany, AirCanada operates a regular flight from Toronto to Frankfurt while Canadian offers a direct flight from Vancouver to

DOMESTIC FLIGHTS

In addition to Lufthansa, there are a number of other smaller carriers in Germany. These include Deutsche BA, which is a subsidiary of British Airways. These carriers often offer cheaper fares than Lufthansa on internal routes, as well as providing air links with small airports, such as Augsburg, Dortmund and Erfurt, that would not be economically viable for Lufthansa to operate.

AIR FARES

The cost of scheduled airfares can vary considerably, so it is always worth checking whether any carriers are offering special promotional fares. When buying a ticket it is worth finding out about any price reductions for children, young people and elderly passengers. Students and passengers under the age of 26 are often eligible for discounts. If the journey is going to be undertaken by a larger group, then it would be too the property of th

Control tower at Munich's international airport

this qualifies for a group discount on the fare or a free ticket for the group leader.

It should also be borne in mind that fares vary depending on whether travellers are able to confirm their return date when buying the ticket. The cheapest scheduled ticket is an APEX, which requires booking well in advance, staying over a Saturday night,

Car park and airport building at Tegel airport, Berlin

View of runway and airport buildings at Frankfurt airport and a fixed return date. Once booked, these tickets cannot be altered or cancelled, so it is wise to take out insurance to cover the loss if travel plans have to be changed.

The cheapest fares are often those offered by the new low-cost, no-frills airlines, or by discount agents. The latter are usually for seats on charter or scheduled flights.

INTERNATIONAL AIRPORTS

The largest German airports are Frankfurt am Main and Munich. The gigantic airport in Frankfurt comprises two huge terminals, which are connected by a fast overground railway. Both terminals are comprehensively equipped with everything that a traveller could possibly require. If you do have some free time it is worth watching the planes as they take off and land, and which form long queues at peak times.

The airport in Munich is somewhat smaller but still very popular. The terminal extends along one axis, with the result that if you have to change planes, you have to take a long walk along a corridor to make the transfer.

Among the busiest airports are Düsseldorf, Cologne-Bonn and Berlin, which actually has three airports, Tempelhof, Tegel and Schönefeld.

DIRECTORY

AIRLINES

Air Canada

Tel (069) 27 11 51 11.

British Airways

Tel (01805) 26 65 22. www.britishairways.com

Delta Air Lines

Tel (01803) 33 78 80. www.delta.com

Deutsche BA

Tel (01805) 35 93 22. www.deutsche-ba.de/

Lufthansa

Tel (01805) 83 84 26. www.lufthansa.com

Qantas

Tel (01805) 25 06 20. www.gantas.com

United Airlines
Tel (069) 50 07 03 87.
www.unitedairlines.com

_
[INFORMATION	DISTANCE FROM CENTRE	JOURNEY TIME TO CENTRE BY TAXI	JOURNEY TIME TO CENTRE BY PUBLIC TRANSPORT
(0180) 500 01 86	8 km (5 miles)	25 min	Bus: 25 min
(0180) 500 01 86	5 km (3 miles)	20 min	U-Bahn: 15 min
(0180) 500 01 86	20 km (12 miles)	45 min	S-Bahn: 35 min
(0421) 559 50	3.5 km (2 miles)	15 min	Tram: 17 min
(0351) 881 33 60	9 km (5.5miles)	25 min	Bus: 30 min
(0211) 42 10	8 km (5 miles)	25 min	S-Bahn: 13 min
(01805) 372 46 36	10 km (6 miles)	20 min	Train: 11 min S-Bahn: 10 min
(040) 50 75 25 57	13 km (8 miles)	30 min	Bus: 30 min
(0511) 97 70	12 km (7.5 miles)	20 min	S-Bahn: 13 min
(02203) 40 400 1	Bonn: 28 km (17.5 miles) Cologne: 17 km (10.5 miles)	Bonn: 15 min Cologne: 20 min	Bus to Bonn: 35 min Bus to Cologne: 45 min
(0341) 224 11 55	18 km (11 miles)	30 min	Bus: 30 min
(089) 97 52 13 13	40 km (25 miles)	45 min	S-Bahn: 40 min Bus: 45 min
(0911) 937 00	6 km (4 miles)	20 min	Bus: 45 min U-Bahn: 12 min
(0711) 94 80	18 km (11 miles)	25 min	S-Bahn: 30 min
	(0180) 500 01 86 (0180) 500 01 86 (0180) 500 01 86 (0421) 559 50 (0351) 881 33 60 (0211) 42 10 (01805) 372 46 36 (040) 50 75 25 57 (0511) 97 70 (02203) 40 400 1 (0341) 224 11 55 (089) 97 52 13 13 (0911) 937 00	(0180) 500 01 86 8 km (5 miles) (0180) 500 01 86 5 km (3 miles) (0180) 500 01 86 20 km (12 miles) (0421) 559 50 3.5 km (2 miles) (0351) 881 33 60 9 km (5.5miles) (0211) 42 10 8 km (5 miles) (040) 50 75 25 57 13 km (8 miles) (0511) 97 70 12 km (7.5 miles) (02203) 40 400 1 7.5 miles) (0341) 224 11 55 18 km (11 miles) (089) 97 52 13 13 40 km (25 miles) (0911) 937 00 6 km (4 miles)	INFORMATION FROM CENTRE CENTRE BY TAXI (0180) 500 01 86 8 km (5 miles) 25 min (0180) 500 01 86 5 km (3 miles) 20 min (0180) 500 01 86 20 km (12 miles) 45 min (0421) 559 50 3.5 km (2 miles) 15 min (0351) 881 33 60 9 km (5.5miles) 25 min (0211) 42 10 8 km (5 miles) 25 min (01805) 372 46 36 10 km (6 miles) 20 min (040) 50 75 25 57 13 km (8 miles) 30 min (0511) 97 70 72 km (7.5 miles) 20 min (02203) 40 400 1 80 min: 28 km (17.5 miles) 20 min (0341) 224 11 55 18 km (11 miles) 30 min (089) 97 52 13 13 40 km (25 miles) 45 min (0911) 937 00 6 km (4 miles) 20 min

Travelling by Train, Ferry and Ship

Logo of German railways (Deutsche Bahn)

Travelling around Germany by train is not the cheapest form of transport, but it is undoubtedly one of the most comfortable. German trains are renowned for their punctuality, safety and cleanliness, though in high season visitors may feel that these are a little overrated. The fastest are InterCity Express (ICE) trains. Germany is also well served by ports to which ferries and passenger ships operate.

GETTING TO GERMANY BY TRAIN

Travelling by train from the UK generally costs more than flying, as well as taking longer Main routes are via Dover to Ostend or Harwich to Hook of Holland From either of these ports. connections to Berlin, Frankfurt and other German cities are made. An alternative is to travel to Brussels by Eurostar and make a connection there.

certain stations, and offer an express service. When travelling over shorter distances it is best to take the Regional Express (RE) trains.

Deutsche Bahn railway workers

TICKETS

Train fares are quite expensive in Germany and in express trains there is a compulsory surcharge, Zuschlag. It is not essential to reserve seats, but in the high season it is a good idea to do so and charges are not exorbitant. One way to travel more cheaply is to buy a BahnCard, which gives a 25 per cent discount.

Deutsche Bahn have many seasonal special offers, so it is advisable to book in advance.

When planning a lengthy stay in Germany and travelling around the country, it is worth acquiring an InterRail card, which is available to every European citizen, regardless of age. Every year the variety of discounted fares to which this card entitles the bearer is extended, so that it is worth checking out the full range. The price of the card depends on the age of the Narrow-gauge tourist railway service in the Harz mountains traveller. Schoolchildren and students are entitled to a reduced rate. The cost also depends on which countries are to be visited. An InterRail card that is valid for travel in Germany is also valid for Austria, Switzerland and Denmark. InterRail cards can be obtained from Rail Europe or from some travel agents.

During the summer season in Germany, various discounts and special offers are introduced – for example, weekend tickets, family, group and so on, so it is worth making enquiries about these before setting off on a train journey.

RESERVATIONS

Train tickets can be bought and reservations made in travel agents or at the railway station at the Reisezentrum, which at the same time acts as an information centre. Tickets can also be reserved by telephone or through the Internet, where a detailed timetable can be viewed. Using this facility, it is simple to plan the appropriate routes for your journey yourself.

RAILWAY STATIONS

In Germany, many railway stations are magnificent, historic buildings with vast halls covering the platforms. Among the most beautiful is

DIRECTORY

RAILWAY INFORMATION

National Rail Enquiries Tel (01805) 33 10 50.

Deutsche Bahn

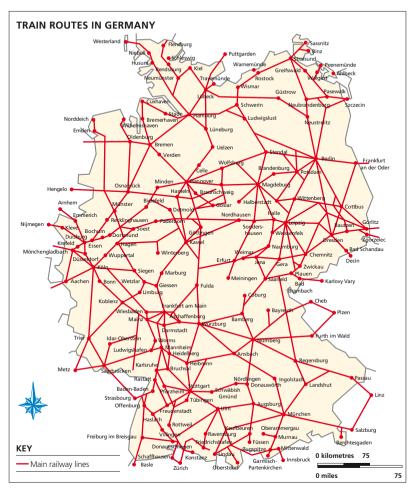

Tel (in UK) (08702) 43 53 63. www.bahn.de www.bahn.co.uk

GERMAN TRAINS

The fastest trains, InterCity Express (ICE), are aerodynamically designed, painted white, with air-conditioning in coaches and airline-style seats. Unfortunately, there is not much room for luggage. They can travel at more than 200 kph (125 mph), which means that a journey from Hamburg to Munich takes only a few hours. ICE trains operate on just a few routes linking the country's largest cities. Somewhat slower and less expensive are the InterCity (IĈ) trains.

The fastest and most comfortable German train – InterCity Express the main station in Leipzig. In large towns, railway stations are generally located in the centre. They include dozens of shops (often open on Sundays), car rental firms, hotel reservation bureaux, and other services, such as cash points, left luggage provision and public toilets with shower facilities.

TRAVELLING BY FERRY AND SHIP

Visitors travelling to Germany by car from the UK will have to decide which crossing to use (unless using the Channel Tunnel). This will depend to some extent on which part of Germany is to be visited. The crossings from Dover to Ostend, in Belgium, or to Calais, in France, are the shortest, while the Harwich to Hook of Holland route is useful for those travelling from further north. There are also two ferry services to Hamburg, operated by Scandinavian Seaways – one from Harwich and one from North Shields, near Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

There are many links between German ports and other countries. Color Line from Oslo (Norway) to Kiel; Scandlines from Trelleborg, (Sweden) to Rostock and Trelleborg to Sassnitz, and also from Denmark: Gedser to Rostock, Rødby to Puttgarden and Rønne (Bornholm) to Sassnitz; DFDs Seaways operates from Harwich to Cuxhaven.

Ship taking passengers to Helgoland

Travelling by Car and Bus

Sign for parking ticket machine

The fastest and most comfortable way of travelling around Germany is to use the motorways. The excellent network of toll-free routes guarantees fast progress over longer distances, while a well-maintained system of main roads enables you to reach interesting places throughout the country. Motorways have the advantage of regularly sited service stations, where travellers can stop for fuel and something to eat. On lesser roads and in remote areas, petrol stations may be few and far between.

ARRIVING BY CAR

There are many border crossings into Germany and providing that you carry the necessary documents and your car does not look disreputable, you should experience a minimum of delay and formalities. EU citizens do not have to make a Customs declaration on arrival, but there are limits on the amount of duty-free goods that can be brought in (see p566).

WHAT TO TAKE

Visitors travelling by car in Germany must carry a valid driving licence as well as their vehicle's registration document and insurance policy. Before leaving home check with your insurance Motorway company whether telephone your policy will cover vou while you are in Germany. If may be necessary to obtain a Green Card to extend the cover for the duration of your stay.

The car must carry a plate indicating country of origin, and it must also be equipped with a red warning triangle for use in case of breakdown.

Seatbelts are compulsory and children under 12 must sit in the back, with babies and toddlers in child-seats.

ROADS AND MOTORWAYS

The German motorway network is extensive They are all toll-free and have regularly spaced petrol stations, as well as parking facilities with toilets, restaurants and motels. Ranging along the hard shoulder are vellow poles with emergency buttons which can be used to call for help in the event of a breakdown or accident. An Autobabn (motorway) is indicated by the letter "A" followed by a number some also have a letter "E" and a number, denoting > that the road crosses the German border. A Bundesstraße (main road) is indicated by the letter "B" and a number.

ADDITIONAL ROAD SIGNS

In addition to internationally understood road signs on German roads, there are also written signs that clarify the meaning of the sign above.

Petrol station at a motorway service area

A selection of traffic signs on German roads

On motorways, for example, a yellow triangular warning sign with a row of cars is a warning about the possibility of traffic jams, which may be accompanied by the word "Stau". On mountain roads, a warning sign showing a car tyre wrapped in a chain will be accompanied by the word "Schnee", which warns against driving without chains when there is snow.

A diversion is indicated by the colour yellow and the word "Unleitung", while the diversion route is indicated by the letter "U" followed by the number of the road. A sign with the slogan "Baustelle" (meaning "refurbishment") always precedes the stretch that is being renovated.

A sign showing a horizontal blue arrow with the word "Einbahnstrasse" indicates a one-way street.

RULES OF THE ROAD

Germans on the whole drive in accordance with the regulations. They are generally courteous, but they can be a little aggressive, particularly on motorways. German drivers hurtle along the outside lane at very great speed and get very annoyed if they have to slow down because of other drivers. Visitors should be particularly careful when first starting to drive in Germany, especially if they are unused to driving on the right. Bear in mind that being caught exceeding the speed limit incurs a large fine.

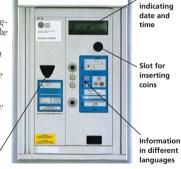

In the event of an accident on the motorway, or if a traffic jam necessitates an abrupt reduction in speed, drivers should turn on their flashing emergency lights to warn drivers behind of the impending danger.

Clock

Parking-ticket Machine

Automatic parkingticket machines like this issue receipts that are placed on the inside of the windscreen. There are also parking meters with a timer, which allow parking for up to 2 hours

Ticket is dispensed from here

DRIVING IN TOWNS

Finding a place in which to park is not easy: it is often best to use a multi-storey car park, which is indicated by "Parkbaus"; the word "Fre" indicates that parking spaces are available. It is never worth leaving your car in a prohibited area – a traffic warden will arrive immediately, impose a fine and arrange for the car to be towed away. Retrieving an impounded car is expensive and difficult.

Cars left in a controlled parking zone must either display a parking ticket or be parked validly at a meter.

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

In Germany, the same road traffic regulations apply as in most European countries. For example, all passengers must wear a seat-belt and children under the age of 12 must travel in the back seats. Driving after drinking a small amount of alcohol is allowed, but if you cause an accident. the consequences will be more severe if a breathalyzer shows the presence of alcohol in your blood. In built-up areas the speed limit is 50 km/h (31 mph); beyond this it is 100 km/h (62 mph), and on motorways there is no overall limit. Many drivers drive at speeds exceeding 200 km/h (125 mph). When travelling with a caravan or camping trailer outside built-up areas, drivers should not exceed 70 km/h (44 mph), and on motorways 100 km/h (62 mph). Road traffic police are strict about imposing fines for breaches of speed restrictions.

Drivers can incur fines for driving too close to the vehicle in front and for parking in prohibited areas as well as for breaking the speed limits.

HIRING A CAR

Representatives of car-hire firms can be found at airports, railway stations and in more expensive hotels. In order to hire a car, drivers need to produce their passport and driving licence and to be over 18. In some cases, they may be required to have an international driving licence.

HITCH-HIKING

Hitch-hiking is a popular way of travelling, particularly among young people. A safer method of finding a lift or a travelling companion is to

Comfortable, long-distance, double-decker coach make use of the services of Mitfahrzentralen, a contact agency for drivers who offer spare seats on a journey for an agreed fee. Check addresses and telephone directories.

ARRIVING BY COACH

Travelling to Germany by coach from the UK is not a very attractive option as the journey is long and fares are not particularly cheap. Routes are operated by Eurolines.

TRAVELLING BY COACH

There is a good network of inter-city coach services in Germany, though journeys are generally no cheaper than travelling by train. Most towns have a Zentraler Omnibus Bahnhof (ZOB) close to the train station. It is here that most bus services originate and where service timetables can be obtained and tickets. purchased. Many local coach services also operate from the central bus station, although suburban areas have their own services to the centre of town. It is best to ask at the tourist information centre for information about getting to vour destination.

DIRECTORY

CAR HIRE

Avis

Tel (06171) 68 18 00 or (01805) 21 77 02.

Hertz

Tel (01805) 93 88 14.

Sixt Rent-a-Car

Tel (01805) 25 25 25.

ROADSIDE ASSISTANCE

Central Information ADAC

Tel (01805) 10 11 12.

Road Assistance ADAC

Tel (01802) 22 22 22.

ΔCE

Tel (01802) 34 35 36.

Transport in Cities

Getting around Germany's huge cities is not easy and the historic centres are best visited on foot. Large towns often suffer from traffic congestion and it can be difficult to find vacant parking places. It is advisable to leave your car in a car park on the outskirts and travel The S-Bahn logo around using the fast railway (S-Bahn).

underground (U-Bahn), trams or city buses. The latter operate frequent, timetabled services and can usually avoid traffic jams as they have the advantage of travelling along specially designated traffic lanes.

25

00 rank

TAXIS

Taxis offer a comfortable though expensive way of getting around towns and cities. If several people share a cab, however, this can work out cheaper than using the bus or train Every taxi vehicle TAXI regardless of make, is a cream colour and has a "TAXI" sign on the roof: this will be illuminated if the taxi is free Cabs can be hailed on the street or booked by telephone. They can also be picked up at a taxi rank, though these are rare. If the rank is empty, a cab can be called for from the telephone there.

The fare for the journey is calculated by an illuminated meter on the dashboard. The same rates apply during the week, at weekends and at night, for journeys within the city limits.

TRAVELLING ON THE U-BAHN AND S-BAHN

All the big German cities have a network of fast connections by underground railway (U-Bahn) and by rail (S-Bahn). The U-Bahn offers frequent services – in peak hours every 3-5 minutes - and individual stations are situated guite close to each other. The S-Bahn offers less frequent services, every 10 or 20 minutes, while the stations are quite markedly apart. Generally the S- and U-Bahn use the same tickets, as do buses and trams. Various types of ticket can be bought from ticket machines located by the entrance to stations: the tickets must be punched in the red punching machine situated nearby. On German railway stations there are no regulatory measures. such as ticket-operated barriers so it is easy for unscrupulous passengers to get onto a train without a ticket.

However it is not worth trying to do this as trains are patrolled by ticket inspectors, often dressed in civilian clothes who start checking tickets once a train has left the station. Fines for travelling without a ticket are very high. U-Bahn stations are indicated by square signs with a white "U" on a dark blue background, while Telephone S Rahn etatione have at a tavi round signs with a > white "S" on a green background. On maps of the network, each line of the Uand S-Bahn is marked in a different colour and has its own number. The direction of the route is indicated by the name of the station at which the route terminates. On every station platform a display shows the destination of the next incoming train. A white circle or oval on the map indicates an interchange station. On every station you will find town maps and maps of the transport network displayed in prominent positions. Maps are also displayed in carriages.

The city rail line, Schwebebahn, in Wuppertal

Carriage doors on U- and S-Bahn trains are operated manually, but they close automatically. At major stations a member of staff gives the signal for trains to leave the station. Passengers are not allowed to board the train after his cry of "Zurückbleiben!" - which means that the doors are about to close. Throughout the journey, the names of the next stations are announced, while in modern trains these are usually also indicated on illuminated displays in the carriages.

Automatic Ticket Machine

To use this machine. select the appropriate ticket by pressing a button. Insert the amount of money indicated by the display. Your ticket and change will then be delivered.

Opening, from which tickets and change are delivered

Tram and Bus Stop Sign

At every stop, a board displays the numbers and destinations of trams and buses that stop there. Timetables and maps of the public transport system are also displayed.

BUSES

Bus routes have individual timetables, which are displayed on boards at bus stops. Maps showing each stage of the route are also displayed there. As well as a route number, buses also have a sign indicating where their particular journey ends. This is useful as some buses operate on shorter routes outside peak hours.

During the journey, the bus driver generally announces the name of the bus stop that the bus is approaching. In the centre of town, this is not so important, as in heavy traffic the bus stops at every bus stop as a matter of course. However, further away from the city centre or in periods where the traffic is not so heavy, you have to listen out for these announcements.

At many bus stops, the driver will pull in only on request, so passengers must press the "Halt" button in plenty of time to warn the driver that they wish to alight.

TRAMS

Trams are a comfortable means of urban transport, with the advantage that they do not get stuck in traffic jams. The same tickets as for buses and S-Bahn can be used.

TICKETS

For the purpose of public transport charges, large cities are generally divided into zones, with the cost of a ticket depending on which zones are travelled through during a journey.

In many cities a single-use ticket is valid for two hours. and during this time you can use all the modes of transport available, including the S- and U-Bahn, even changing routes several times. However, using this type of ticket is the most expensive way to travel. In addition to these standard tickets (Normaltarif), there are also cheaper tickets available (Kurzstrecke), which limit you to short distances. In many German cities you can also buy tickets in the form of a strip, which has to be punched according to the length of the journey.

Children who have not reached the age of 14 are eligible for a reduced rate (Ermäßigungstarif), while toddlers up to the age of six travel free. Children's pushchairs and dogs will often be carried on public transport without any extra charge.

A modern type of tram that operates in German cities

There are many other types of tickets and travelcards – for example a one-day ticket (Tageskarte), a one-day group ticket (Gruppentageskarte), and a weekly ticket (7-Tage-Karte). Some towns issue a WelcomeCard that allows for three days' travel around town as well as giving many discounts in museums.

Bicycles parked near the entrance to the Hofgarten in Munich

BICYCLES

Bicycles are a popular form of transport in Germany. There are numerous cycle lanes and many junctions have special lights for cyclists. In front of virtually every office, bank and school there is a bicycle stand, although these should be used only for a short period and, of course, the bicycle still needs to be secured against theft. Bicvcles can be transported on the S-Bahn, although owners will need to get on the train at the appropriate door and stand their vehicle in the designated place. Bicycles can be hired at the station or other hire places (Fabrradverleib).

A city bus in Munich

General Index

Page numbers in bold refer to main entries

A-trane (Berlin) 111 Aachen 395-7 Pfalz 396-7 Aalto, Alvar 390, 441

Abbeys

Karmelitenkloster (Bamberg) 248 Maria Laach 330, 334, 358–9 Maulbronn Abbey 200, 302–3

Salem 319 Weingarten 319

Abel. Adolf 310 Abendzeitung Schalterhalle

(Munich) 233 Accidents 570

ACE 581

Achtermann, Theodore Wilhelm 69 Ackerkeller (Berlin) 111

Activity holidays 560-63 ADAC 581

Addresses, postal 575 Adenauer, Konrad 60, 61, 407 ADFC (Allgemeiner Deutscher Fahrrad-Club) 563 Adlerhorst (Eagle's Nest) 276 Admission charges 567

Agrartour GmbH 487 Agrotourism 486, 487 Ahlbeck 423

Ahrensburg 439 Ahrenshoop 476 Air Antik (Munich) 231

Air Canada 577 Air travel 576-7

Airborne Rescue Club 571 Airports 576, 577

Albert, Prince Consort 189, 190 Albertinum (Dresden) 172 Albertus Magnus, St 398 Albrecht, King of Sweden 473

Albrecht II, Emperor 52 Albrecht der Bär 129 Albrecht-Dürer-Haus (Nürnberg)

259

Albrechtsburg (Meissen) 167 Alcohol

shopping 559 What to Drink 524-5

see also Beer: Wines Alexander I, Tsar 79

Alexanderplatz (Berlin) 79 Alexandrowka (Potsdam) 134 Allgäu 284

Allianz Arena (Munich) 233

Alps 204-5

Alpspitze 205 Alsfeld 368-9

Alster (Hamburg) 434 Altdorfer, Albrecht 260, 432 Alte Brücke (Heidelberg) 296

Alte Burg (Koblenz) 356 Alte Hofhaltung (Bamberg) 248

Alte Kapelle (Regensburg) 269 Alte Mainbrücke (Würzburg) 245 Alte Nationalgalerie (Berlin) 74, 75

Alte Nikolaikirche (Frankfurt am Main) 376

Alte Oper (Frankfurt am Main) 374 Alte Pinakothek (Munich) 222-3 Alte Universität (Heidelberg) 297,

299 Altena 410

Altenberg (North Rhine-Westphalia)

Altenburg (Thuringia) 197

Alter Markt (Stralsund) 477 Altee Land 430

Altes Museum (Berlin) 75

Altes Rathaus (Bamberg) 248–9 Altes Rathaus (Leinzig) 163

Altes Rathaus (Munich) 211

214-15

Altes Rathaus (Passau) 274 Altes Rathaus (Regensburg) 268 Altes Schloss (Stuttgart) 308-9

Altötting 270

Altstadt (Düsseldorf) 392 Altstadt (Hamburg) 438

Amalienburg (Munich) 225 Amberg 254

Ambulances 571 American Express 572 Amphitheater (Trier) 343

Andechs 264

Andechs-Meran, Count von 252 Andreaskirche (Hildesheim) 448

Angelico, Fra 197 Anger (Erfurt) 193

Angermuseum (Erfurt) 193 Anklam 481

Anna Amalia, Duchess of Weimar 194 Anna Wilhelmina, Princess 154

Annabelles (Berlin) 111 Annaberg-Buchholz 166

Anne of Cleves 389 Ansbach 255

Antik & Trödelmarkt am Ostbahnhof (Berlin) 107

Antique shops Berlin 107

Anton Ulrich, Duke of Brunswick 443

Appiani, Giuseppe 243 Archäologische Staatssammlung (Munich) 219

Archenhold Sternwarte (Berlin) 103 Architecture

The Baroque in Southern Germany 202-3

Castles 32-3

Gothic brick architecture 420-21 Romanesque architecture 334-5 Romanesque churches in Köln 400-401

Weser Renaissance trail 453 Arminius 47

Arnsberg 411 Arnstadt 190 Arnstorf 267

Arsenal (Berlin) 113 ART 1900 (Berlin) 107

German Painting 30-31 see also Museums and galleries Arts House (Munich) 218-19

Asam, Cosmas Damian 202, 317 Asamkirche (Munich) 207, 213

Aufhausen 267 Church of St Maria Victoria

(Ingolstadt) 265 Dreifaltigkeitskirche (Munich) 213

Freising 265

Schloss Thurn und Taxis (Regensburg) 269 Weingarten Abbey 319

Asam, Egid Quirin 202 Asamkirche (Munich) 207, 213 Aufhausen 267

Freising 265 Mannheim 294

Rohr 202

Asamkirche (Munich) 207 213

Aschaffenburg 242

Athletics 38–9 Attahöhle 410

festivals 42

Attlee. Clement 139 Aufhausen 267

Aufsess, Hans von 260 Augsburg 207. 286-7

Augustinerbräu (Munich) 210 Augustinerkloster-Augustinerkirche (Erfurt) 192

Augustus, Emperor 286, 340, 397 Augustus I. Elector 165

Augustus II the Strong, Elector 159. 168

Gemäldegalerie Alte Meister (Dresden) 176

Japanisches Palais (Dresden) 173 Schloss Moritzburg (Moritzburg) 167

Schloss Pillnitz (Dresden) 173 statue of 172 Zwinger (Dresden) 174, 175

Augustus III, Elector 176 Augustusbrunnen (Augsburg) 286

Augustusburg 165 Aula Palatina (Trier) 341

Australian Embassy 567 Automobile Welt Eisenach 187 Autumn in Germany 42

Auwer, Johann Wolfgang van der 246, 406

Avis 581

b-flat (Berlin) 111

Babelsberg Film Studio (Potsdam) Babelsberg Palace (Potsdam) 129

Bach, Carl Philipp Emanuel 28, 140 Bach, Johann Christian 28 Bach, Johann Christoph Friedrich 28

Bach, Johann Sebastian 28, 40, 41 Altenburg 197 Arnstadt 190

Bacharchive und Bachmuseum (Leipzig) 163

Bachhaus (Eisenach) 187 Leipzig 162

Naumburg 149 tomb of 162

Weimar 122 Bach, Wilhelm Friedemann 28

Bacharach 355 Bächle (Freiburg im Breisgau) 325

Backpacker Network Germany 563 Bacon, Francis 294

Bad Arolsen 367 Bad Bergzabern 347

Bad Cannstatt (Stuttgart) 311 Bad Doberan 473 Bad Dürkheim 347

Bad Frankenhausen 189 Bad Gandersheim 452

Bad Godesberg 409 Bad Homburg 371

Bad Honnef 407 Bad Iburg 429

Bad Mergentheim 292-3

Bad Münstereifel 406 Bad Muskau 180 Bad Salzuflen 415

Bad Schandau 179

Bad Wildungen 367 Bad Wilsnack 132 Bad Wimpfen 304-5

Bad Zwischenahn 429

Baden-Baden 12, 301	Beaches	Berliner Dom (Berlin) 73
Baden-Durlach, Karl Wilhelm von	The German Coastline 422–3	Berliner Ensemble (Berlin) 113
300 Baden-Wurttemberg 12, 289–327	Strandbad Wannsee (Berlin) 104 Bebelplatz (Berlin) 70	Berliner Festwochen 111 Berliner Gruselkabinett (Berlin) 111
Bodensee 320–21	Street-by-Street map 68–9	Berliner Verkehrs-Betriebe (Berlin)
climate 44	Beckmann, Max 221, 428, 432	107
hotels 503–6	Bedburg 407	Berlins Volkstheater Hansa (Berlin)
map 290–91 restaurants 542–5	Bednortz, Georg 35 Beduzzi, Antonio 274	113 Bernburg 148
Schwäbische Alb 314–15	Beer 36–7, 525	Bernini, Gianlorenzo 78
Badenscher Hof Jazzclub (Berlin)	Hofbräuhaus (Munich) 215	Bernward, St, Bishop of Hildesheim
111	Oktoberfest (Munich) 11, 42, 207,	448, 449
Bähr, Georg 168 Baldern Castle 15	223, 227 , 233 Theresienwiese (Munich) 227	Bertoldsbrunnen (Freiburg im Breisgau) 324
Baldung Grien, Hans 260	Beer, Franz 319	Bertram of Minden
Freiburg im Breisgau Cathedral	Beer, Michael 284	High Altar of St Peter 436
325	Beethoven, Ludwig van 28, 29, 357	Bertsch, Andreas 284
Neue Residenz und Staatsgalerie (Bamberg) 248	Beethovenhaus (Bonn) 408 festivals 42	Bertuch, Justin 194 Berwart, Blasius 292
Schloss Johannisberg	Begas, Karl 73	Beuron 314
(Aschaffenburg) 242	Begas, Reinhold 72	Beuys, Joseph 364, 389, 391
Schwäbisch Gmünd 304	Beheim, Hans the Elder 256	Bevern 453
Ballenstedt 147 Baltic Sea 422–3	Behler, Theobald 281 Behrens, Peter	Bevessen, Albert von 429 Bible 126
Baltrum 428	Alexanderplatz (Berlin) 79	Bicycling see Cycling
Balve 411	Darmstadt 380	Bielefeld 415
Bamberg 248–51	Hagen 410	festivals 40
Cathedral 250–51	Weißenhofsiedlung (Stuttgart)	Bildergalerie (Potsdam) 135, 137
map 249 Bandel, Ernst von 415	310 Bellini, Giovanni	Binder, Mathias 254 Bischöfliches Dom- und
Banknotes 573	The Mourning of Christ 312	Diözesanmuseum (Trier) 340
Banks 572	Bendlerblock (Berlin) 88	Bismarck, Otto von 55, 56-7, 428
Baptismal fonts, Romanesque 460	Benisch and Partners 226	Black Forest see Schwarzwald
Bar jeder Vernunft (Berlin) 113 Barbaratherme (Trier) 343	Benois, Leonti Nikolayevich 371, 380	Blankenburg 147 Blankenheim 406
Barell, Giovanni Angelo 372	Bentheim, Lüder von 430	Der Blaue Reiter 221
Barelli, Agostino 218, 224	Benz, Karl 34, 35	Blaues Wunder (Dresden) 173
Barlach, Ernst	Mannheim 294	Blechen, Karl 141
Abandoned 55 Güstrow 474	Mercedes-Benz-Museum	Blobel, Günter 35 Blücher, Field Marshal 476
Katharinenkirche (Lübeck) 465	(Stuttgart) 310 Berching 254	Boats
Kiel 460-61	Berchtesgaden 277	Deutsches Schifffahrtsmuseum
Lindenau-Museum (Altenburg)	Berchtesgadener Land 12, 276-7	(Bremerhaven) 433
197 Mandahum 152	Berg, Claus 132	ferries and ships 579 regattas 41
Magdeburg 152 Rathausmarkt (Hamburg) 434	Berg, Johann Jakob 255 Bergbaumuseum Rammelsberg	water sports 39, 560–61 , 563
Baroque in Southern Germany	(Goslar) 451	Böblinger, Matthäus 318
202–3	Bergen-Belsen 440	Bocholt, Heinrich 465
Basedow 475 Basic Bio (Munich) 231	Berggruen, Heinz 96	Bochum 391 Böcklin, Arnold 219
Basilika St Castor (Koblenz) 356	Berlin 10, 63–119 airports 577	Bode, Wilhelm von 78
Bastei 159, 178	climate 45	Bodemuseum (Berlin) 74, 78
Bat-Studiotheater (Berlin) 113	Eastern Centre 67–73	Bodensee 12, 23, 289, 320–21
Bauer, William 35	entertainment 108–13	Bodt, Jean de 71
Bauhaus 154, 194 Bauhaus-Archiv (Berlin) 88	Fernsehturm (Berlin) 79 festivals 41–3	Böhm, Gottfried 308, 344 Böhme, Martin Heinrich 73
Bauhaus-Museum (Weimar) 194	further afield 95–105	Böll, Heinrich 26
Baumburger Turm (Regensburg) 269	Gemäldegalerie 90–91	Boniface, St 47, 292
Bautzen 160, 180	hotels 488–90	Fritzlar 366
Bavaria 12, 239–87 Bayerischer Wald 271	Kaiser-Wilhelm-Gedächtniskirche 86	Fulda 368 Passau 274
Berchtesgadener Land 276–7	map 64–5	Regensburg 268
Chiemsee 278–9	Pergamonmuseum (Berlin) 76–7	Bonn 408–9
climate 45	Potsdamer Platz 92	airport 577
festivals 40, 42 hotels 499–503	restaurants 526–8 Schloss Charlottenburg 98–9	festivals 42 map 409
map 240–41	shopping 106–7	Boppard 354
restaurants 538–42	Street Finder 114–19	Bora, Katharina von 127, 155, 164
Bavaria-Filmstadt (Munich) 227,	Street-by-Street maps	Borkum 422, 428
233 Bayerische Staatsbibliothek	Bebelplatz 68–9	Borman, Martin 276
(Munich) 220	Kulturforum 84–5 Museum Island 74–5	Börse (Frankfurt am Main) 374 Borstel 439
Bayerischer Wald 271	Western Centre 83–93	Bosau 461
Bayerisches Nationalmuseum	Berlin Airlift (1948-49) 60, 103	Bosch, Hieronymus
(Munich) 219	Berlin Tourismus Marketing GmbH	Ecce Homo 378
Bayreuth 252–3 festivals 41	111 Berlin Wall 60, 61	Bosehaus (Leipzig) 162 Bossi, Antonio 247
map 253	Berliner Bäderbetriebe (Berlin) 111	Botanical Garden (Munich) 225

Böttcherstraße (Bremen) 432	Brühlsche Terrasse (Dresden) 172	Cash machines 572
Böttger, Johann Friedrich 34, 124	Bruno, Archbishop of Köln 401, 411	Castles 32–3
Botticelli, Sandro	Bruno, Giordano 443	Burg Eltz 33
Ideal Portrait of a Woman 378	Brunsberg, Heinrich 133, 153	Burg Hohenzollern 32–3
Madonna with Child 90	Brunswick see Braunschweig	Burg Sooneck 355
Böttinger, Counsellor 248	BTM - Berlin Tourist Information	Castle in the Rock 279
Boucher, François Reclining Girl 404	567 Buchenwald 195	Festung Ehrenbreitstein (Koblenz) 357
Boumann, Johann the Elder 74, 135	Buchner, Paul 169	Festung Marienberg (Würzburg)
Boyen, Leopold Hermann von 54	Buchwald (Berlin) 107	245
Brabender, Heinrich 386	Bückeburg 442	Heidelberg 32, 200, 298-9
Brabender, Johann 386	Buddenbrook-Haus (Lübeck) 462,	Hohenschwangau 283
Brahe, Tycho 311	464	Kaiserburg (Nürnberg) 259
Brahms, Johannes 29	Buff, Charlotte 370	Lichtenstein 33
Brahmshaus (Baden-Baden) 301	Bugenhagen, Johannes 127, 480	Marburg 32
Brancas, Alexander von 220	Bundesarbeitsgemeinschaft Hilfe für	Marksburg 355
Brand, Hennig 34	Behinderte 487	Pfalzgrafenstein 355
Brandenburg 10, 129–41	Bundesverband 'Selbsthilfe'	Raesfeld 33
climate 45	Körperbehinderter 487	Schloss Glücksburg 459
hotels 490–91 map 130–31	Burckhardt, Johann Ludwig 75 Burg Altena 384	Schloss Neuschwanstein 12, 201 282–3
restaurants 528–30	Burg Arras 345	Schloss Weimar 194
Brandenburg Gate (Berlin) see	Burg Eltz 33, 337, 345	Schloss Wittenberg 154
Brandenburger Tor	Burg Falkenstein 147	Schloss Wolfenbüttel 443
Brandenburg/Havel 133	Burg Hohenzollern 32–3, 314	Schwerin 33
Brandenburger Tor (Berlin) 65, 69	Burg Hohnstein 179	Schweriner Schloss 470
Brandt, Willy 61	Burg Kriebstein 159, 164	Stolzenfels 354
Braque, Georges 96, 221	Burg Pyrmont 345	Wartburg (Eisenach) 32, 183,
Brasch, Bernhard Matthias 132	Burg Sooneck 355	186–7
Braun, Wernher von 481	Burg Thurant 345	Wernigerode 33
Braunfels, Stephan 221	Burg- und Schlossgarten (Schwerin)	see also Palaces
Braunschweig (Brunswick) 51, 425,	470	Cathedrals
442–3 Breakfast 520	Burgenstraße 563	Bamberg 250–51 Berliner Dom (Berlin) 73
Brecht, Bertolt 27, 474	Bürgersaal (Munich) 210, 212 Bürgerspital (Würzburg) 244	Bremen 431
Brecht-Weigel-Gedenkstätte	Burggarten (Rothenburg ob der	Deutscher Dom (Berlin) 72
(Berlin) 101	Tauber) 263	Dom of the Holy Virgin
Breckerfeld 410	Burghausen 270	(Augsburg) 287
Breites Tor (Goslar) 451	Burgtor (Lübeck) 465	Dom St Kilian (Würzburg) 244
Bremen 13, 418, 430-33	Büring, Johann Gottfried 138, 139	Dom St Mariä (Hildesheim)
airport 577	Burnitz, Heinrich 374	448-9
festivals 42	Buses 583	Dom St Marien (Erfurt) 192
map 431	Bustelli, Franz Anton 224	Dom St Mauritius und St
Bremerhaven 422, 432–3	Byss, Johann Rudolf 242	Katharina (Magdeburg) 152
Brendel, Johann 105	Byss, Rudolph 247	Dom St Pater (Regenchurg)
Brentano, Bettina 292 Brentano, Clemens 292	C	Dom St Peter (Regensburg) 268–9
Brenz, Johannes 311	Café Global (Berlin) 111	Dresden 168
Breu, Jörg the Elder 53	Café Moskau (Berlin) 111	Französischer Dom (Berlin) 72
Breuning, Johann Adam 295, 297,	Café Swing (Berlin) 111	Fulda 331
299	Calandrelli, Alexander 74	Gothic brick architecture 420-2
Brick architecture, Gothic 420-21	Calder, Alexander 84, 308	Güstrow 474
Bridges	Camerarius, Rudolph Jacob 34	Kaiserdom (Frankfurt am Main)
Alte Brücke (Heidelberg) 296	Camping 487, 562 , 563	376
Alte Mainbrücke (Würzburg) 245	Canadian Embassy 567	Kaiserdom (Mainz) 334, 338,
Berlin 73 Blaues Wunder (Dresden) 173	Candreal, Jacob de 408 Canova, Antonio 78, 163, 377	350–51 Köln (Cologne) 330, 383, 402–3
Schlossbrücke (Berlin) 72 , 73	Canzler, Carl Adolf 172	Lübeck 463, 465
Steinerne Brücke (Regensburg)	Caputh 133	Münster St Martin (Bonn) 408
268	Caravaggio, Michelangelo Merisi da	Naumburg Dom 150–51
British Airways 577	Cupid Victorious 90	Passau 274
British Embassy 567	Doubting Thomas 135	Romanesque architecture 334-5
Bröhan, Karl H 96	Caravanning 487, 562 , 563	St-Hedwigs-Kathedrale (Berlin)
Bröhan-Museum (Berlin) 96	Carl Augustus, Duke of Weimar	69, 70
Brömbse, Heinrich 465	194, 195	Schwerin 471
Bronner, Michael 292 Bruchsal 291, 295	Carlone, Diego 306	Trier 340
Die Brücke 461	Carnival 43 Cars 580–81	Verden an der Aller (Bremen) 433
Brücke-Museum (Berlin) 104	accidents 570	Caves
Brüder-Grimm-Museum (Kassel)	Automobile Welt Eisenach 187	Feengrotten (Saalfeld) 197
364	hiring 581	Pottenstein 243
Brueghel, Jan 432	historic and scenic routes 562 ,	Rübeland Caves 147
Brueghel, Pieter	563	Sauerland 410
Dutch Proverbs 91	Mercedes-Benz-Museum	Cayart, Louis 72
Land of Cockaigne 223	(Stuttgart) 310	Cecilienhof (Potsdam) 130, 134
Brüggemann, Hans 460	motor racing 39	Celle 441
Brühl Hainrich von 172 174	Porsche-Museum (Stuttgart)	Central (cinema, Berlin) 113
Brühl, Heinrich von 172, 174	310–11	Ceramics, shopping 559

Cézanne, Paul 96	Cochem 42, 345
Pipe Smoker 294	Coins 573
Chagall, Marc 348-9, 444	Colditz 164
Chamäleon Variété (Berlin) 113	Cologne see Köln
Charlemagne, Emperor 47	Columbia Club (Berlin)
Aachen 334, 395, 396–7 Bremen 430	Communications 574–5 Concentration camps
Köln 398	Bergen-Belsen 440
Minden 415	Buchenwald 195
Paderborn 411	Dachau 264
statue of 429	Ravensbrück 132
Charles II Philip, Elector 294	Sachsenhausen 133
Charles III Philip, Elector 294 Charles IV, Emperor 153, 258	Conrad II, Emperor 346 Constance see Konstanz
Charles V, Emperor 222	Constance, Lake see Bod
Charles VI, King of France 270	Constantine I, Emperor 3
Charlotte Mathilde, Queen 306	Constantine II, Emperor
Checkpoint Charlie 80	Consulates 567, 570
Chemnitz 164–5	Copernicus, Nicolaus 258
Chiaveri, Gaetano 168 Chieming 279	Corboud, Gérard 404
Chiemsee 278–9	Corinth, Lovis 172, 364, Lenbachhaus (Munich)
Children 569	Neue Pinakothek (Mur
in Berlin 110, 111	Cornelius, Peter von 220 entertainment in Munich 233	The Wise and Foolish I
in hotels 487	30
in restaurants 521	Cosel, Countess 178
shopping in Munich 230–31 Chinesisches Teehaus (Potsdam)	Cothmann, Hermann 414 Cottbus 130, 140–41
138	Cotte, Robert de 408
Chirico, Giorgio de 221	Couven, Johann Josef 39
Chorin 140	Crafts 559
Christian IV, King of Denmark 459	Cranach, Lucas the Elder
Christian Ludwig II, Duke of	260, 392
Mecklenburg 470 Christina, Queen of Sweden 431	Angermuseum (Erfurt) Cranachhaus (Lutherst
Christmas 43	Wittenberg) 155
Christmas markets, Munich 231	Kunstsammlung (Gera
Christo 444	Lutherhalle (Lutherstac
Christoph, Duke of Bavaria 217	Wittenberg) 155
Christopher, Duke of Mecklenburg	Martin Luther 126
471 Chrodogong of Motz 381	Meissen 167
Chrodegang of Metz 381 Churches	Museum der Bildende (Leipzig) 163
The Baroque in Southern	Naumburg 149
Germany 202–3	Neue Residenz und Sta
opening hours 567	(Bamberg) 248
Romanesque churches in Köln	Niedersächsisches
400–401	Landesmuseum (Hano
see also Cathedrals and individual towns and cities	St Peter und St Paul (V 194
Churchill, Winston 139	Schloss Georgium (De
Cinema see Film	Schloss Johannisbürg
Cinéma Paris (Berlin) 113	(Aschaffenburg) 242
CinemaxX (Berlin) 113	Schloss Weimar (Weim
Cinestar Sony Center (Berlin) 113	Schneeberg 166
Circus Cabuwazi (Berlin) 111 Circus Krone Bau (Munich) 233	Torgau 164 Venus and Amor 470
Clausius, Rudolf J E 35	Cranach, Lucas the Youn
Clemens August, Elector 428	Augustusburg 165
Clemenswerth 428	Cranachhaus (Lutherst
Clement II, Pope 250	Wittenberg) 155
Cleves see Kleve	Cup Bearer Serving at
Climate 44–5	127
Climbing 561 Cloppenburg 429	St Peter und St Paul (V 194
Clothes	Schloss Weimar (Weim
in restaurants 521	Veste Coburg (Coburg)
shopping 559	Crane, Walter 220
shopping in Berlin 106–7	Credit cards 572–3
shopping in Munich 230, 231	in restaurants 521
size chart 559	in shops 558
Club Behinderter und ihrer Freunde (CBF) 487	Creglingen 293 Cremer, Johann Peter 39
Clüver, Segebad 431	Crime 570–71
Coach travel 581	Cronberg, Walther von 2
Coastline 422–3	Currency 572–3
Coburg 242–3	Customs regulations 566

Cochem 42, 345 Coins 573 Colditz 164 Cologne see Köln Columbia Club (Berlin) 111 Communications 574_5 Concentration camps Bergen-Belsen 440 Buchenwald 105 Dachau 264 Ravensbrück 132 Sachsenhausen 133 Conrad II. Emperor 346 Constance see Konstanz Constance. Lake see Bodensee Constantine I. Emperor 342 Constantine II, Emperor 343 Consulates 567, 570 Copernicus, Nicolaus 258, 311 Corboud, Gérard 404 Corinth, Lovis 172, 364, 444, 470 Lenbachhaus (Munich) 211 Neue Pinakothek (Munich) 220 Cornelius, Peter von 220. 392 The Wise and Foolish Maidens 30 Cosel. Countess 178 Cothmann, Hermann 414 Cottbus 130. 140-41 Cotte. Robert de 408 Couven, Johann Josef 393 Crafts 559 Cranach, Lucas the Elder 127, 154, 260, 392 Angermuseum (Erfurt) 193 Cranachhaus (Lutherstadt Wittenberg) 155 Kunstsammlung (Gera) 197 Lutherhalle (Lutherstadt Wittenberg) 155 Martin Luther 126 Meissen 167 Museum der Bildenden Künste (Leipzig) 163 Naumburg 149 Neue Residenz und Staatsgalerie (Bamberg) 248 Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum (Hanover) 444 St Peter und St Paul (Weimar) 194 Schloss Georgium (Dessau) 154 Schloss Johannisbürg (Aschaffenburg) 242 Schloss Weimar (Weimar) 194 Schneeberg 166 Torgau 164 Venus and Amor 470 Cranach, Lucas the Younger Augustusburg 165 Cranachhaus (Lutherstadt Wittenberg) 155 Cup Bearer Serving at the Table 127 St Peter und St Paul (Weimar) Schloss Weimar (Weimar) 194 Veste Coburg (Coburg) 243 Crane, Walter 220 Credit cards 572-3 in restaurants 521 in shops 558 Creglingen 293 Cremer, Johann Peter 395 Crime 570-71 Cronberg, Walther von 293

Cuvilliés François 202 Amalienburg (Munich) 225 Augustusburg (Brühl) 406 Bad Mergentheim 292 Cuvilliés-Theater (Munich) 217 Falkenlust (Brühl) 407 Theatinerkirche (Munich) 218 Cuvilliés-Theater (Munich) 217 Cvijanovic, Alexander 88 Cvcling 39, 583 cycling tours 560. 563

Dachau 264 Dahlem (Berlin) 104 Daimler, Gottlieb 34, 35, 310 Dali, Salvador 391 Dallmayr (Munich) 231 Damm, Christian Friedrich 154 Dance in Berlin 109, 111 in Munich 232, 233 d'Angeli, Domenico 274 Dannecker, Johann Heinrich 377 Darmstadt 380 Darß 476 Daumier Honoré 220 DAV Summit Club 487, 563 Dechenhöhle 410 Degas, Edgar 172, 220 Orchestra Players 379 Degler, Hans 264 Dehmelt, Hans 35 Dehne, Christopher 153 Delacroix, Eugène 432 Delicious Doughnuts (Berlin) 111 Delta Air Lines 57 Demmler, Georg Adolph 470-71 Denis, Maurice 432 Department stores Berlin 106. 107 Munich 230, 231 Dericks, Jakob 389 Dessau 144. 154 Detmold 331, 414-15 Deutsche BA 577 Deutsche Bahn 578 Deutsche Märchenstraße 563 Deutsche Oper (Berlin) 111 Deutsche Reiterliche Vereinigung 563 Deutsche Wanderverband 563

Deutsche Zentrale für Tourismus (DZT) 487 Deutscher Alpenverein (DAV) 563 Deutscher Camping-Club 487, 563 Deutscher Dom (Berlin) 72 Deutscher Golf Verband 563 Deutscher Heilbäderverband 563 Deutscher Segler-Verband 563 Deutscher Skiverband 563 Deutscher Sportbund 563 Deutscher Tennis Bund 563 Deutscher Volkssportverband 563 Deutscher Wasserski- und Wakeboard Verband 563 Deutscher Weinstraße 12, 347, 563

(Frankfurt am Main) 377 Deutsches Buch- und Schriftmuseum (Leipzig) 163 Deutsches Eck (Koblenz) 356 Deutsches Jagd- und Fischereimuseum (Munich) 211,

Deutsches Architekturmuseum

Deutsches Jugendherbergswerk DJH Service GmbH 487

Deutsches Museum für	Dürer, Albrecht 259, 260, 365	Eltville 372
Meereskunde und Fischerei	Albrecht-Dürer-Haus (Nürnberg)	Embassies 567
(Stralsund) 477	259	Emden 428
Deutsches Museum (Munich) 228–9	Fifer and Drummer 404 Four Apostles 222	Emergencies 570, 571 Emmerich 389
Deutsches Nationaltheater (Weimar)	Kunsthalle (Bremen) 432	Encke, Wilhelmine 105
194	Kupferstichkabinett (Berlin) 84	Ende, Hans am 433
Deutsches Pferdemuseum (Verden	Niedersächsisches	Engels, Friedrich 34, 71
an der Aller) 433	Landesmuseum (Hanover) 444	Enger 415
Deutsches Schifffahrtsmuseum (Bremerhaven) 433	Paumgärtners' Altar 31 Portrait of Hieronymus	Englischer Garten (Munich) 226 Ensingen, Matthäus von 305
Deutsches Technikmuseum Berlin	Holzschuher 90	Ensingen, Ulrich von 305, 318
81 , 111	Portrait of Michael Wolgemut 261	Entertainment
Deutsches Theater (Berlin) 113	Self-portrait 259	Berlin 108–13
Deutsches Theater (Munich) 233 Deutsches Weininstitut 563	tomb of 259 Düringer of Nuremberg 476	Munich 232–3 Ephraim, Nathan Veitel Heinrich 80
Dialects 568	Durm, Joseph 299	Erasmus 52
Dientzenhofer, Johann	Düsseldorf 13, 312–13, 392–3	Erbach 381
Banz Abbey 243	airport 577	Erbdrostenhof (Münster) 386
Fulda 368	map 393	Erdmannsdorff, Friedrich Wilhelm
Kirche St Michael (Bamberg) 249 Neue Residenz (Bamberg) 248	Düsseldorf Academy 392 Duty-free allowances 566	von 154, 156 Eremitage (Bayreuth) 240, 252
St Martin's Church (Bamberg) 249		Erfurt 122, 184, 192–3
Schloss Weissenstein	E	map 193
(Pommersfelden) 242	E-mail 575	Ermisch, Richard 97
Wasserschloss Concordia	Eagle's Nest 276	Ernst, Max 391, 407
(Bamberg) 248 Dientzenhofer, Leonhard 243, 249	East Frisia see Ostfriesland East Frisian Islands see Ostfriesische	Ernst Ludwig, Grand Duke of Hesse 380
Dieter, Fritz 79	Inseln	Erthal, J F C J von 348
Dietrich, Marlene 58, 139	Easter 40	Eryk II, Duke of Calenberg 453
Dietrich, Wendel 212	Eastern Germany 121–97	Erzgebirge 166
Dietz, Hans 376 Diez, Wilhelm von 53	Brandenburg 129–41	Escada (Berlin) 107 Eschenheimer Turm (Frankfurt am
Diner's Club 572	map 122–3 Saxony 159–81	Main) 374
Dingolfing 267	Saxony-Anhalt 143–57	Eseler, Nikolaus 254
Dinkelsbühl 254	Thuringia 183–97	Essen 13, 385, 390–91
festivals 41 Directions Unlimited 569	Eberbach 333	Esslingen 305
Disabled visitors 568, 569	Eberhard, Bishop of Bamberg 248 Eberhard the Bearded, Count 316	Ethnologisches Museum (Berlin) 104, 111
in hotels 487	Eberhard Ludwig, Prince of	Etiquette 568
in restaurants 521	Württemberg 306	Ettal 280
Distel (Berlin) 113	Ebermannstadt 243	Ettenhofer, Georg 213
Dix, Otto 89, 308 Otto-Dix-Haus (Gera) 197	Echter, Julius 244 Eco, Umberto 373	Ettenhofer, Johann Georg 212 Eucharius, St 343
Döblin, Alfred 79	Edenkoben 332	Eulenspiegel, Till 442
Dr Seltsam Kabarett (Berlin) 113	Effner, Joseph 224, 264	Europa-Center (Berlin) 107
Dokumentationszentrum	EGA and Gartenbaumuseum	Europarc Deutschland 563
Reichsparteitagsgelände (Nürnberg) 259	(Erfurt) 193 Egell, Paul 297	Euskirchen 406 Eutin 461
Dom see Cathedrals	Eggert, Moritz 29	Expressionism 433
Donatello 78	Egidienkirche (Nürnberg) 259	Eyck, Jan van 163
Donaustauf 255	Ehrenburg 345	Lucca Madonna 378
Dormagen 394	Eichstätt 255	Madonna and Infant Triptych
Dornburg 196 Dorndorff, Jobst 178	Eiermann, Egon 64, 86 Eifel mountains 406	176 Madonna in Church 84
Dörrenbach 347	Einbeck 452	Eyserbeck, Johann August 105
Dortmund 13, 390	Einhard 381	Eyserbeck, Johann Friedrich 156
Dostoevsky, Fyodor 301, 372	Einstein, Albert 34, 35, 71	F
Douvermann, Henrik 389 Drachenfels 407	Archenhold Sternwarte (Berlin) 103	Fabritius, Carel 470
Drais, Karl Freiherr von 35	birthplace 318	Falkenstein, Kuno von 356
Drake, Friedrich 155	Einsteinturm (Potsdam) 139	Far Out (Berlin) 111
Drei Gleichen 190	Eisenach 11, 32, 186–7	Fashion
Dreifaltigkeitskirche (Munich)	festivals 40	shopping in Berlin 106–7
212–13 Dresden 11, 159, 168–77	Wartburg 186–7 Eisstadion Berlin Wilmersdorf 111	shopping in Munich 230 , 231 Faustus, Dr 326
airport 577	Ekkehard, Margrave 150	FC Bayern Shop (Munich) 233
festivals 40	Elbe, River 153, 154	Federal Republic of Germany 60-6:
map 169	Altes Land 439	Feengrotten (Saalfeld) 197
World War II 59 Zwinger 123, 174–5	Blaues Wunder (Dresden) 173 Elbtalaue 132	Fehmarn 419 Feininger, Lyonel 154
Droste-Hülshoff, Annette von 388	Sächsische Schweiz tour 178–9	Gelmeroda IX 31
Drostenhof (Münster) 387	Eldena 480	Feldherrnhalle (Munich) 218
Duchamp, Marcel 392, 470	Electricity 569	Felix (Berlin) 111
Duderstadt 452 Dufours, Joseph 364	Elisabeth of Thuringia, St 186, 187,	Fellner 372 Felsentheater (Hollfeld) 253
Duisburg 391	243, 369 Elsheimer, Adam	Ferdinand, Elector 218
Duns Scotus 399	The Flight to Egypt 30	Ferdinand II, Emperor 53
		-

Fernsehturm (Berlin) 79	Frankfurt am Main 12, 22, 331, 361,	Friedrich, Wilhelm IV (cont.)
Fernsehturm (Stuttgart) 310	363, 374–9	Schloss Charlottenhof (Potsdam)
Ferries 579	airport 577	139
Festivals 40–43	festivals 41, 42	statue of 74
Munich 232, 233	map 375	Friedrichroda 190
music 28	Städelsches Kunstinstitut 378–9	Friedrichshafen 321
Oktoberfest (Munich) 11, 42, 207,	Frankfurt an der Oder 140	Friedrichstadtpalast (Berlin) 113
223, 227 , 233	Fränkische Schweiz 243	Friedrichswerdersche Kirche
Theresienwiese (Munich) 227	Franz, Michael 255	(Berlin) 69, 71
Festspielhaus (Bayreuth) 253	Franz-Liszt Museum (Bayreuth) 252	Frisian Islands see Ostfriesische
Festung Ehrenbreitstein (Koblenz)	Franziskanerkirche (Rothenburg ob	Inseln
357	der Tauber) 262	Frisoni, Donato 306
Festung Königstein 179	Französischer Dom (Berlin) 72 Frauenau 271	Fritzlar 366 Frohnau 166
Festung Marienberg (Würzburg)	Fraueninsel 278
245 Foughtmayor Joseph Anton 210	Frauenkirche (Dresden) 168	Froimont, Johann Clemens 294 Füchtingshof (Lübeck) 464–5
Feuchtmayer, Joseph Anton 319 Feuchtmayr, F X 243	Frauenkirche (Munich) 201, 211,	Fugger, Jacob 286
Feuchtmayr, Johann Michael 285,	213	Fugger, Jacob II 287
295	Frauenkirche (Nürnberg) 258	Fugger, Ulrich 286
Feuchtwanger, Lion 27	Frauentor (Nürnberg) 256	Fuggerei (Augsburg) 287
Feuerbach, Anselm 219, 259	Freiberg 165	Fuggerhäuser (Augsburg) 287
Iphigenie 313	Freiburg im Breisgau	Fulda 331, 361, 368
FEZ Wuhlheide (Berlin) 111	Street-by-Street map 324-5	Fundbüro der Deutschen Bahn AG
Fichte, Johann Gottlieb 196	Freilichtmuseum Schwerin-Mueß	571
Fiertmayer, Josef 317	(Schwerin) 471	Fünf Höfe (Munich) 231
Film	Freising 265	Funhof, Hinrik 440
Bavaria-Filmstadt (Munich) 227,	Freudenberg 19, 410	Fürstenau 381
233	Freyung 271	Fürstenbau-Museum (Würzburg)
Berlin 112–13	Fridericianum (Kassel) 364	245
festivals 40, 42, 43	Friederike, Princess 71	Fürstenzug (Dresden) 169
Munich 232, 233	Friedrich, Archbishop of Mainz 373	Furtwangen 327
Filmpark Babelsberg (Potsdam) 139	Friedrich Augustus II, Elector 159	Füssen 285
Finsterau 271	Friedrich Barbarossa, Emperor	G
Finstingen, Heinrich von 356	48–9, 289, 376, 396, 403
Fire Brigade 571	Bad Wimpfen 305	Gabler, Josef 319
Fischer, Johann Michael 267, 285 Fischer, Theodor 196	Kaiserswerth 393	Gadebusch 472 Gaillard, Eugène 96
Fischerau (Freiburg im Breisgau)	Kyffhäuser Mountains 189 Wetzlar 370	Galleria Kaufhof (Munich) 231
324	Friedrich, Caspar David 75, 163, 444	Galeries Lafayette (Berlin) 107
Fischland 476	Albertinum (Dresden) 172	Galeries Splinter (Berlin) 107
Fischmarkt (Erfurt) 192, 193	Brühlsche Terrasse (Dresden)	Galgentor (Rothenburg ob der
Fischmarkt (Hamburg) 438	172	Tauber) 263
Flavin, Dan 93	Eldena 480	Galileo 228
Flea markets, Munich 231	Greifswald 480	Gallasini, Andreas 368
Fleischerei Bachhuber (Berlin) 107	Oybrin 181	Gallé, Emile 96
Flensburg 13, 459	The Polar Sea 436	Galleria (Berlin) 107
Flohmarkt Riem (Munich) 231	Rügen 423, 479	Galleries see Museums and galleries
Flora and Fauna 24–5	Traveller above the Sea of Clouds	Galli Bibiena, Carlo 252
Florinsmarkt (Koblenz) 356	31	Galli Bibiena, Giuseppe 252
Flöz (Berlin) 111	Friedrich I, King of Prussia 54, 73,	Galli da Bibiena, Alessandro 294,
Flughafen Tempelhof (Berlin) 103	103, 129	295
Focke-Museum (Bremen) 432	Friedrich II, Emperor 49, 331	Galopprennbahn Hoppegarten
Folk art 559	Friedrich II, Landgrave of Hesse	(Berlin) 111
Fontane, Theodor 27, 132	364	Gandersheim, Roswitha von 452
Food and drink The Flavours of Germany 522–3	Friedrich II the Great, King of	Gandino, Francesco Chiaramella da 100
German beer 36–7	Prussia 54, 129, 289 Bildergalerie (Potsdam) 135	Garbo, Greta 139
Marzipan from Lübeck 464	Neues Palais (Potsdam) 139	Gardens see Parks and gardens
shopping 559	Rheinsberg 132	Garmisch-Partenkirchen 205, 280
shopping in Berlin 107	Schloss Charlottenburg (Berlin)	Gärtner, Friedrich von 218, 220
shopping in Munich 231	98, 99	Gasteig Culture Center (Munich)
What to Drink 524-5	Schloss Neue Kammern	233
see also Restaurants	(Potsdam) 138	Gasthöfe 486
Football 38	Schloss Sanssouci (Potsdam) 123,	Gauguin, Paul 220
Formula One motor racing 39	136, 138	Two Women on Tabiti 172
Forschungs- und Gedenkstätte	Friedrich II von Hessen-Homburg	Gaupière, Philippe de la 300
Normannenstrasse (Berlin) 102	371	Gaupière, Pierre Louis Philippe de
40 Seconds (Berlin) 111	Friedrich IV the Righteous, Elector	la 311
Foster, Sir Norman 65, 93	294	Gedenkstätte Berlin-
Franck, Georg Michael 292	Friedrich V, Elector 298	Hohenschönhausen (Berlin) 102
Francke, Master	Friedrich the Wise, Great Elector	Gedenkstätte Deutscher Widerstand
St Thomas's Altar 30	154	(Berlin) 88
Francke, Paul 443	Friedrich Wilhelm I, Great Elector	Gedenkstätte Plötzensee (Berlin)
Franco-Prussian War (1870–71) 55,	53, 78, 100, 135	100 Gemäldegalerie (Berlin) 64, 84
373 Frank, Anne 440	Friedrich Wilhelm II, King of	Gemäldegalerie (Berlin) 64, 84, 90–91
Franke, Günter 79	Prussia 97, 105, 134 Friedrich Wilhelm IV, King of	Gemäldegalerie Alte Meister
Frankenberg 366	Prussia 341, 354	(Dresden) 175, 176–7

Gentzkow, Charlotte von 136	El Greco	Hannover (cont.)
Georg, Duke of Landshut 266, 270	Disrobing of Christ 223	festivals 40
Georg Wilhelm, Margrave of	Green shopping 558–9	map 445
Bayreuth 252	Gregory I, Pope 28	Hanseatic League 50–51
George I, King of England 445 George II, King of England 452	Gregory VII, Pope 48 Greifenclau, Georg von 348	Hansemann, David 395 Harlem (Berlin) 111
Gera 197	Greifensteine 166	Hartenfels Castle (Torgau) 126
Gerda Bassenge (Berlin) 107	Greifswald 421, 480	Harz Mountains 143, 146, 425
Gerhard, Hubert 286	Grimm Brothers 26, 368	Harz Mountain trail 147
German Democratic Republic 60–61	birthplace 377	Harzgerode 147
German History Museum (Berlin) 71	Brüder-Grimm-Museum (Kassel) 364	Hascher & Jehle 308 Hauberat, Guillaume d' 294
German National Tourist Office 567	Göttingen 452	Hauberrisser, Georg 215
Germanisches Nationalmuseum	statue of 363	Hauff, Wilhelm 33, 315
(Nürnberg) 260–61	Gröninger, Gerhard 386	Hauptmann, Gerhart 27, 423
Gernrode 147 Gerthener, Madern 350, 374	Gröninger, Johann Mauritz 351 Gropius, Walter 88, 154	Hauptmarkt (Nürnberg) 258 Hauptmarkt (Trier) 340
Gestapo 81	Groß-Raden 474	Hauptwache (Frankfurt am Main)
Gesundbrunnencenter (Berlin) 107	Groß St Martin (Köln) 398	374
Giacometti, Alberto 96	Große Wallanlagen Park (Hamburg)	Haus der Geschichte der BR
Gießen 370	427	Deutschland (Bonn) 409
Giorgione 443 Sleeping Venus 177	Großer Garten (Dresden) 173 Großsedlitz 161, 178	Haus der Kunst (Munich) 218–14 Haus der Schiffergesellschaft
Girard, Dominique 407	Grove, Lorenz 465	(Lübeck) 464
Glass shops 559	Grünberg, Martin 71, 72	Haus zum Ritter (Heidelberg) 297
Glesker, Justus 251	Grünermarkt (Bamberg) 249	Haus zum Walfisch (Freiburg im
Glücksberg 455	Grünewald, Mathias 293, 300	Breisgau) 325
Glückstadt 459 Glyptothek (Munich) 221	Grünstein, Baron Anselm von 295 Grupello, Gabriel 392	Hauser, Kaspar 255 Havana (Berlin) 111
Goar, St 354	Guericke, Otto von 34	Havelberg 144, 153
Godehard, Bishop of Hildesheim	Guimard, Hector 96	Havixbeck 388
449	Günther, Ignaz 212	Health 571
Godehardkirche (Hildesheim) 449	Günther, Matthias 245	Hebbel, Christian Friedrich 21 Hebbel Theater (Berlin) 111
Goethe, Johann Wolfgang von 26, 27, 54, 313	Gürzenich (Köln) 399 Güstrow 474	Hechingen 314
birthplace 361	Gutach 327	Heckel, Erich 193
Goethe-Gedenkstätte (Jena) 196	Gutbrod, Rolf 310	Hegel, Georg Wilhelm Friedrich 34,
Goethe-Museum (Weimar) 195	Gutenberg, Johannes 34, 342, 348	196, 316
Goethe-Wanderweg 191 Goethehaus (Frankfurt am Main)	Gutenberg-Museum (Mainz) 348 Gutenbergplatz (Mainz) 348	Hegelhaus (Stuttgart) 309 Heidegger, Martin 34
374		Heidelberg 296–9
Goethes Gartenhaus (Weimar)	H	Castle 32, 200, 298-9
195	Habrecht, Isaak 304	festivals 42
Leipzig 162	Habsburg dynasty 49, 52 , 54	Street-by-Street map 296–7
statue of 87 Weimar 11, 122, 183, 194	Hackesche Höfe Kino (Berlin) 113 Haeften, Werner von 88	Heilbronn 304 festivals 42
Wetzlar 370	Hagen 410	Heilig-Geist-Spital (Nürnberg) 257
Goethe Institute 563	Hahn, Kurt 319	Heiligengrabe 132
Goldener Reiter (Dresden) 172	Hahn, Otto 35	Heiligenstadt 188
Golf 561 , 563 Golgotha (Berlin) 111	Haigerloch 314 Hainleite hills 188	Heiliger-Geist-Hospital (Lübeck) 465
Gontard, Carl von 102	Halberstadt 146	Heiliggeistkirche (Heidelberg) 296,
Alexanderplatz (Berlin) 79	Haldeburg 154	299
Französischer Dom (Berlin) 72	Halle 148–9	Heiligkreuzkapelle (Trier) 343
Marmorpalais (Potsdam) 134	Halle an der Buttergasse	Heilmann & Littmann 194 Heine, Heinrich 11, 70, 71
Neues Palais (Potsdam) 139 Gorbachev, Mikhail 61	(Magdeburg) 152 Hals, Frans 470	Göttingen 452
Görlitz 181	Museum der Bildenden Künste	Heiligenstadt 188
Goslar	(Leipzig) 163	Heinrich-Heine-Institut
Street-by-Street map 450–51	Schloss Friedenstein (Gotha) 189	(Düsseldorf) 393
Gotha 185, 189 Göthe, Johann Eosander von 98	Schloss Georgium (Dessau) 154 Halspach, Jörg von 213, 214	Ostfriesische Inseln 428 Heinrich, Prince of Prussia 71
Gothic brick architecture 420–21	Hambacher Schloss 347	Heinrich I, Emperor 47, 86, 167
Göttingen 425, 452	Hamburg 13, 419, 427, 434-9	Heinrich II, Count Palatine 358
Gottwalt, Hans 196	airport 577	Heinrich II, Emperor 48, 397
Goya, Francisco	festivals 40	Bamberg Cathedral 250, 251
Die Marquesa de Caballero 220 Goyen, Jan van 189	Hanseatic League 50–51 Kunsthalle 436–7	statue of 248 Heinrich II, Landgrave of Marburg
Crossing of the Rhine near	map 435	369
Rhenen 312	Hamburger Bahnhof (Berlin) 93	Heinrich IV, Emperor 48
Graevenitz, Countess Wilhelmina	Hameln 425, 426, 453	Heinrich VII, Emperor 49
von 306 Grafenau 271	Hämelschenburg 453	Heinrich der Löwe (Henry the Lion) 425, 443
Grafenau 271 Graimberg, Count Charles de 299	Hanau 363, 377 Händel, Georg Friedrich 28	425, 445 birthplace 318
Grass, Günter 21, 26	Händel-Haus (Halle) 149	Braunschweig 442
Grasser, Erasmus 214, 215	Hangloch-Wasserfall 327	Landsberg am Lech 264
Grassimuseum (Leipzig) 162 Great Interregnum 49	Hannover 13, 425, 426, 444-5	Munich 210
	airport 577	Ratzeburg 461

Heinrich-Heine-Institut (Düsseldorf)	History 47–61	Hotels (cont.)
393	Hitch-hiking 581	Saxony 493–5
Heinrichshöhle 410 Hekticket Theaterkassen (Berlin)	Hitchcock, Alfred 227 Hitler, Adolf 58–9	Saxony-Anhalt 492–3 Schleswig-Holstein 516–17
111, 113	Adlerhorst (Eagle's Nest) 276	Thuringia 495–7
Helen, Duchess of Mecklenburg	assassination attempt 88, 100	Höxter 414
471	Hitler-Putsch 218, 264	Hrdlicka, Alfred 308
Helen, St 401 Helena Pavlovna, Grand Duchess	Volkswagenwerk (Wolfsburg) 441 World War II 59	Huguenots 72, 102 Humboldt, Alexander von 34, 70 ,
472	Hodler, Ferdinand 444	71, 452
Helgoland 418, 422, 425, 458	Hoetger, Bernhard 432, 433	Humboldt, Wilhelm von 70, 71
Heliger, Bernhard 104	Hofbräuhaus (Munich) 11, 215	Humboldt family 100–101
Helmer 372 Helmstede, Hinrich 462	Hoffmann, E T A 29 Hoffmann, Joseph 96	Humboldt Universität (Berlin) 68, 71
Helmstedt 443	Hoffmann, Ludwig 76	Hus, Jan 52
Hemmeter, Karl 86	Hoffmann, Philipp 372	Husmann, Carsten 431
Henrietta Adelaida of Savoy 218 Henrietta-Adelaide, Electress of	Hofgarten (Düsseldorf) 392–3 Hofkirche (Dresden) 168	Hussite Wars (1419–36) 52 Hutten, Cardinal Franz Christoph
Bavaria 224	Höger, Fritz 435	von 295
Henrietta Katharine, Princess of	Hohenlohe, Heinrich von 292	Huysburg 146
Orange 154	Hohenlohe family 293	Hyller, Abbot Sebastian 319
Henry, Count of Welf 319 Henry the Lion see Heinrich der	Hohenneuffen 315 Hohenschwangau 283	1
Löwe	Hohenstaufen family 48–9, 289, 304	Idensen 442
Henry Borwin, Duke of	Hohenzollern, Elisabeth von 299	Ihne, Ernst von 68, 78
Mecklenburg 473	Hohenzollern family 54, 289, 355	Ikonen-Museum (Frankfurt am
Henselmann, Hermann 79, 102 Henze, Hans Werner 29	Berliner Dom (Berlin) 73 Burg Hohenzollern 28–9, 314	Main) 377 Ilmenau 191
Herder, Johann Gottfried 183	Cecilienhof (Potsdam) 134	IMAX (Berlin) 113
Bückeburg 442	Schlossplatz (Berlin) 73	Imhoff-Stollwerck-Museum (Köln)
Kirms-Krackow-Haus (Weimar) 194	Hohenzollern-Ansbach, Albrecht von 293	400 Ingolstadt 207, 265
St Peter und St Paul (Weimar)	Holbein, Hans the Elder 267, 284,	Die Insel (Berlin) 111
194	376	Insurance 571
Herford 415	Adoration of the Magi 222	cars 580
Herlin, Friedrich 262 Hermann (Cherusko Arminius) 415	Madonna with Child Crowned by Angels 260	Internet 575 Irish Embassy 567
Hermann II, Margrave of Baden 301	Holbein, Hans the Younger 481	Isobel of Bavaria 270
Hermann, Franz Anton 351	Darmstädter Madonna 380	Isozaki, Arata 92
Herrenchiemsee Palace 278	Portrait of George Gisze 64	Ixnard, Michael d' 357
Herrenhäuser Gärten (Hanover) 445	Hölderlin, J C F 316 Holiday Care 569	J
Hertz 581	Holidays, public 43	Jadwiga, Princess 266, 270
Hertz, Heinrich 35	Holl, Elias 287	Jagdschloss Grunewald (Berlin)
Herz-Jesu-Kirche (Lübeck) 463 Herzogin-Anna-Amalia Bibliothek	Holländisches Viertel (Potsdam) 134–5	104
(Weimar) 195	Hollein, Hans 376	Jahn, Helmut 92, 363 Jakobikirche (Hamburg) 434–5
Hess, Rudolf 100	Hollern 439	Jakobikirche (Lübeck) 465
Hesse 12, 361–81	Holsteinische Schweiz (Holstein's	Jamnitzer, Wenzel 259 climate 44 hotels 508–10	Switzerland) 461 Holstentor (Lübeck) 462	Jan Wellem, Duke 392 Jank, Christian 281, 282
map 362–3	Holy Roman Empire 47–9, 54	Japanisches Palais (Dresden) 173
restaurants 547–8	Holy Trinity Church (Munich)	Jasmund Peninsula 479
Waldecker Land 366–7 Hesse, Hermann 316	212–13 Hölzel, Adolf 308	Jaspers, Karl 34
Hessisches Landesmuseum (Kassel)	Homburg 344	Jazz 42 in Berlin 109 , 111
364	Hörmann, Martin 285	Jazzfest Berlin 111
Hetjens-Museum (Düsseldorf) 392	Höroldt, Johann Gregor 124	Jena 196
Heuffner, Michael 164 Hexenturm (Heidelberg) 297	Horses Deutsches Pferdemuseum	Jenisch, Philipp 306 Jerichow 153
Heydrich, Richard 81	(Verden an der Aller) 433	Jerusalem, Karl Wilhelm 370
Hezilo, Bishop of Hildesheim 449	horse riding 38, 562	Jesuitenkirche (Heidelberg) 297
Hiddensee 423, 478 Hiking 560 , 563	Hospitals 571 Hotel Reservation Service (HRS) 487	Jesuitenkolleg (Trier) 342 Jews
Hildebrandt, Johann Lukas von 246,	Hotels 484–519	Jüdisches Museum (Berlin) 65,
247	Baden-Württemberg 503-6	80–81
Hildesheim 425, 448–9	Bavaria 499–503	Jüdisches Museum (Frankfurt am map 449 Hilinger, Wolf 481	Berlin 488–90 Brandenburg 490–91	Main) 376 Jüdisches Zentrum (Munich) 214
Hilmer and Sattler 96	Hesse 508–10	Neue Synagoge (Berlin) 101
Hindemith, Paul 29	Lower Saxony, Hamburg and	Joachim II, Elector 104
Hindenburg, Paul von 58	Bremen 513–16	Johann, King of Saxony 168
Hintersee 276 Hiring cars 581	Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania 517–19	Johann der Buschener 431 Johann Casimir, Prince 243
Historisches Museum (Bamberg)	Munich 497–9	Johann Wilhelm, Elector 294
248	North Rhine-Westfalen 510–12	Jörg, Aberlin 305, 309, 311
Historisches Museum (Frankfurt am Main) 376	Rhineland-Palatinate and Saarland 506–8	Jörg, Hänslin 309 Jork 439
		JULE 101

Kirche St Michael (Bamberg) 249

Kirche St Paulin (Trier) 343

Joseph Klemens, Elector 408 Kirche St Sebald (Nürnberg) 258 Königssee 204 277 Kirche St Stephan (Mainz) 348–9 Iüdisches Museum (Berlin) 65. Königstein. Werner von 356 80_81 Kircher, Athanasius 34 Königswinter 407 Iüdisches Museum (Frankfurt am Kirchner, Ernst Ludwig 432 Konrad II. Emperor 48 Main) 376 Self-Portrait with Model 437 Konrad III, Emperor 48 Iüdisches Zentrum (Munich) 214 Kirschgarten (Mainz) 348 Konstanz 320 Juist 428 Klaproth, Martin H 34 Kontorhausviertel (Hamburg) 435 Konzerthaus (Berlin) 72, 111 Julius, Duke of Brunswick 443 Klee, Paul 88, 96, 154, 392 Juliusspital (Würzburg) 244 Kleihues, Josef Paul 93 Köpenick (Berlin) 102–3 Junction Bar (Berlin) 111 Klein Glienicke (Berlin) 105 Korbach 366 Jura see Schwäbische Alb Klein-Venedig (Bamberg) 249 Korbinian, St 265 Jussow, Heinrich Christoph 365 Kleines Theater (Berlin) 113 Korn, Arthur 35 Jüterbog 141 Kleist, Ewald G 34 Kornelimüneter 305 Kleist, Heinrich von 140, 304 Kosuth, Joseph 308 Klemens August, Elector 406 Krafft, Johann Peter KaDeWe (Berlin) 10, 107 Klenze Leo von 218 Victory Report at the Battle of Alte Pinakothek (Munich) 222 Käfer (Munich) 231 Leipzig 55 Kaiser-Wilhelm-Gedächtnis-Kirche Baden-Baden 301 Kraft, Adam 257 Bayerische Staatsbibliothek (Berlin) 64. 86 Kramer, Simpert 285 Kaiserburg (Nürnberg) 241, 259 Krameramtswohnungen (Hamburg) (Munich) 220 Kaiserdom (Frankfurt am Main) 376 Glyptothek (Munich) 221 420 Kaiserpfalz (Goslar) 450 Monopteros (Munich) 226 Krämerbrücke (Erfurt) 192 Kaiserswerth (Düsseldorf) 393 Propyläen (Munich) 221 Kraszewski-Museum (Dresden) 173 Residenz (Munich) 216 Krefeld 301 Kaiserthermen (Trier) 342 Kalkar 389 Ruhmeshalle (Munich) 227 Kremer, Fritz 79 Kamenz 161, 180 Schack-Galerie (Munich) 219 Kreuzkirche (Dresden) 172 Kammerspiele (Berlin) 113 Walhalla (Donaustauf) 255 Krieg, Dieter 308 Kandinsky, Wassily 392 Kleve (Cleves) 389 Krims-Krackow-Haus (Weimar) 194 Bauhaus 88 Klimt, Gustav 220 Krone, Gottfried Heinrich 196 Dessau 154 Klinger, Max 163 Kronprinzenpalais (Berlin) 69 Kloster Eberbach 373 Lenbachhaus (Munich) 221 Kröpelinerstraße (Rostock) 476 Kloster Lichtenthal (Baden-Baden) Kändler, Johann Joachim 124, 125, Krüger, Andreas 78 Krummedick, Albert 465 3∩1 Kandlers, Gottlieb David 305 Kloster Unser Lieben Frauen Krumpper, Hans 213 Kant, Immanuel 34 (Magdeburg) 152 Krupp family 390 Kap Arkona 478 Kloster Zinna 141 Küchel. Johann Michael von 249 Knights' War (1522) 52, 53 Ku'damm (Berlin) 87 Käppele (Würzburg) 245 Knobelsdorff, Georg Wenzeslaus Karl, Landgrave of Hesse 365 Kühne. Max 162 Karl, Prince of Prussia 105 von 70, 138, 139 Kulmbach 253 Karl IV. Emperor 49 Knoblauch, Eduard 101 Kulmbach, Hans von 258 Knöffel, Johann Christoph 178, 196 Karl V. Emperor 52 Kulturforum (Berlin) Karl Albrecht, Prince-Elector 270 Knoll, Max 35 Street-by-Street map 84-5 Karl Eugene, Prince 311 Knoller, Martin 280 Kulturhistorisches Museum Karl-Marx-Allee (Berlin) 102 Kobem, Johann von 356 (Magdeburg) 152 Karl-May-Museum (Radebeul) 173 Koblenz 337, 356-7 Kulturhistorisches Museum (Stralsund) 477 Karl Theodor, Duke 392 fectivals 41 Karl Theodor, Elector 210, 226, 294 map 357 Kun, Hans 318 Karlsaue (Kassel) 365 Koch, Robert 35, 71 Kunckel, Johannes 105 Karlsruhe 300 Kochelsee, Lake 205 Kunibert, Bishop of Köln 401 Karlstor (Munich) 210 Ködnitz 253 Kunigunde, Empress 248, 250 Karmelitenkloster (Bamberg) 248 Koekkoek, Barend Cornalis 389 Kunstbibliothek (Berlin) 84 Koess, Johann 386 Kunstgewerbemuseum (Berlin) 84, Kassel 364-5 Kohl, Helmut 61 festivals 41 42 89 map 365 Köhler, Christian Kunsthalle (Bremen) 432 Katharinenkirche (Lübeck) 465 Germany's Awakening 47 Kunsthalle (Hamburg) 436-7 Käthe-Kollwitz-Museum (Berlin) 87 Kokoschka, Oskar 428 Kunsthalle Fridericianum (Kassel) Kollhoff & Timmermann Kaufhaus (Freiburg im Breisgau) 325 364 Kaufmann Collection (Stade) 439 Partnership 92 Kunsthalle St-Annen (Lübeck) 463, Kaulbach, Wilhelm von 75, 214, 367 Kollwitz, Käthe 71, 399 Kehlsteinhaus 276 Käthe-Kollwitz-Gedenkstätte Kunsthalle Schirn (Frankfurt am Keller, Ferdinand 299 (Moritzburg) 167 Main) 376 Kempten 284 Käthe-Kollwitz-Museum (Berlin) Kunstmuseum Bonn 409 Kennedy, John F 103 Kunstmuseum Stuttgart 308 Kepler, Johannes 34, 311 Mother and Child 87 Kunstsammlung Nordrhein-Kerbel, Lew 165 Köln (Cologne) 13, 398-405 Westfalen (Düsseldorf) 392 Kern, Michael 292 airport 57 Kupferstichkabinett und Kerpen 407 Dom 330, 383, 402-3 Kunstbibliothek (Berlin) 84. Kiedrich 373 88 map 399 Kiel 457, 460-61 Romanesque churches 400-401 Kurfürstliches Palais (Trier) 342 festivals 41 Wallraf-Richartz-Museum (Köln) Kurfürstliches Schloss (Koblenz) Kiel Canal 422, 460 404-5 357 Kurfürstliches Schloss (Mainz) Kilian, St 244 Kömer, Edmund 390 Kinderbauernhof Görlitzer Komische Oper (Berlin) 111 348 Bauernhof (Berlin) 111 Komödie am Kurfürstendamm Kurpfälzisches Museum (Heidelberg) 299 Kinderreich (Munich) 233 (Berlin) 113 Kirche St Maximin (Trier) 343 Königsallee (Düsseldorf) 392 Kurzbold, Konrad 371

Königshütte 56

Königslutter 443

Kyffhäuser Mountains 189

KZ-Gedenkstätte Dachau 264

L
Läbben 141
Lachenmann, Helmut 29
Lakes 24 Lambertikirche (Münster) 386
Landau 347
Landau an der Isar 267
Landes, Anton 269 Landsberg am Lech 264
Landshut 266–7
festivals 41
Lang, Fritz 21, 139 Lange Anna 458
Langenargen 321
Langeoog 428
Langfield, Rutger van 103 Langhans, Carl Gotthard 78, 97, 98, 134
Languages 568
language courses 562 Laurens, Henri 96
Laves, George Ludwig Friedrich
444 Le Brun, Charles 415
Le Corbusier 310
Le Geay, Jean Laurent 139
Lehde 42, 141 Lehmbruck, Wilhelm 391
Lehnin 133
Leibl, Wilhelm
Three Women in a Church 31 Leibniz, Gottfried Wilhelm 34, 443
Leinberger, Hans 267
Leineschloss (Hanover) 444–5
Leinsweiler 347 Leipzig 123, 162–3 airport 577
festivals 40, 41
map 163 Lemgo 414
Lenbach, Franz von 219, 266
Lenbachhaus (Munich) 221
Lenné, Peter Joseph Chorin 140
Klein Glienicke (Berlin) 105
Kurpark (Bad Homburg) 371 Pfaueninsel (Berlin) 105
Schloss Charlottenhof (Potsdam)
139
Schlosspark (Berlin) 97
Schlosspark (Ludwigslust) 472 Tiergarten (Berlin) 64, 87
Leonardo da Vinci 376
Leopold III, Prince 156 Lepsius, Richard 75
Lessing, Gotthold Ephraim 26, 54
Lessinghaus (Wolfenbüttel) 443
Lessingmuseum (Kamenz) 180 Leupold, Jacob 34
Leveilly, Michel 408
Leyen, Heinrich Ferdinand von der 337 Libaerts, Eliseus 175
Libeskind, Daniel 65, 80-81
Lichtenstein 33, 315 Lichtenstein, Roy 376
Liebenstein, Jakob von 351
Liebermann, Max 172, 197, 444, 470
Bleaching the Linen 404 Dachau 264 grave of 101
Man with Parrots 31
Liebfrauenkirche (Koblenz) 357 Liebfrauenkirche (Trier) 340–41
Liebfrauenkirche (Trier) 340–41 Liebieg, Baron Heinrich 377
Liebieghaus (Frankfurt am Main)
377

Liebia Justus von 35 Liebknecht, Karl 73, 87, 103 Liederhalle (Stuttgart) 310 Lilienstein 179 Lilienthal, Otto 35, 481 Limburg 362, 371 Lindau 272-3. 284, 321 Linden. Count Karl von 310 Linden-Museum (Stuttgart) 310 Lindengu-Museum (Altenburg) 197 Linderhof 281 Linenau, Bernhard von 172 Lippe, Bernhard II von 414 Lippe, Magdalena zur 380 Lippstadt 411 Liqueurs 524 Lissitzky, El 444 Liszt, Franz 29, 42, 194 Franz-Liszt Museum (Bayreuth) Liszt-Haus (Weimar) 195 Literature 26-7 Littmann, Max 219, 308 Lochner Stefan Altar of the Magi 403 Madonna of the Rose Arbour 50 Loden-Frey (Munich) 231 Lollobrigida, Gina 227 Lomersheim, Walter von 200 Longuelune, Zacharias 173 Loreley 355 Lorenzer Platz (Nürnberg) 257 Lorsch 381 Lossow, William 162 Lost property 571, 572 Lothar, Emperor 48, 443 Lotter, Hieronymus 162, 163, 165 Louis XIV. King of France 344 Löwenstein-Wertheim, Count Ludwig I von 292 Lower Pomerania see Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania Lower Saxony, Hamburg and Bremen 13, 425-53 climate 44 hotels 513-16 map 426-7 restaurants 552-4 Lübbenau 141 Lübeck 13, 51, 419, 420-21, 455, 462-5 marzipan 464 Street-by-Street map 462-3 Luckau 141 Ludwig I, King of Bavaria Bayerische Staatsbibliothek (Munich) 220 Feldherrnhalle (Munich) 218 Glyptothek (Munich) 221 Oktoberfest (Munich) 227 Pompejanum (Aschaffenburg) 242 Propyläen (Munich) 221 Ludwig I the Pious, Emperor 356 Ludwig II, King of Bavaria 57 Archäologische Staatssammlung (Munich) 219 Herrenchiemsee Palace 278 Linderhof 281 Marstallmuseum (Munich) 224 Schloss Neuschwanstein 12, 201, 282 tomb of 212, 270 and Wagner 252 Ludwig II the German, Emperor 47, 268, 381 Ludwig II the Severe, Prince 285 Ludwig IV, Emperor 213, 280

Ludwig der Fromme 448 Ludwig the Jumper 186 Ludwig, Edward 103 Ludwig, Peter and Irene 356, 398 Ludwig Beck (Munich) 231 Ludwigsburg 203, 289, 306-7 Ludwigskirche (Munich) 220 Ludwigslust 472 Lufthansa 577 Luise, Queen of Prussia 71, 97 Lumumba Tanzcafe (Berlin) 111 Lüneburg 440 Lüneburger Heide 425. 440 Lurago, Carlo 274 Lusatian mountains 178 Lustgarten (Berlin) 75 Luther, Martin 11, 52, 154, 369, 480 Erfurt 102 Luther and the Reformation 126 -Lutherhalle (Lutherstadt Wittenberg) 155 Magdeburg 152 monument to 155 Schlosskirche (Lutherstadt Wittenberg) 154 tomb of 154 Torgan 164 Veste Coburg (Coburg) 242-3 Wartburg (Eisenach) 186, 187 Lutherstadt Wittenberg 11. 154–5 Luther and the Reformation 126-7 map 155 Luxemburg, Rosa 87. 103 Lynar, Rochus Graf von 100 M Mächtig, Hermann 103 Macke, August 386, 409 Mackensen, Fritz 433 Maenz, Paul 194 Magdalenenklause (Munich) 225 Magdeburg 11, 122, 152 Magnus, St 285 Maier, Mathias 296 Mainau 320 Mainfränkisches Museum 245 Maini, Andrea 285 Mainz 334, 335, 348-51 Kaiserdom 334, 338, 350-51 map 349 Manet, Édouard 172, 220, 432 Nana 437 Mann, Heinrich 464 Mann, Thomas 26, 27, 462, 464 Mannheim 294 festivals 42 Augsburg 286–7 Baden-Wurttemberg 290-91 Bamberg 249 Bavaria 240-41 Bayerischer Wald 271 Bayreuth 253 Berchtesgadener Land 276-7 Berlin 64-5 Berlin: Bebelplatz 68-9 Berlin: Eastern Centre 67 Berlin: Further afield 95 Berlin: Kulturforum 84-5 Berlin: Museum Island 74-5 Berlin: Potsdamer Platz 92 Berlin: Street Finder 114-19 Berlin: West of the Centre 83 Bodensee 320-21 Bonn 409 Brandenburg 130-31

Mana (cont.)	Monels Women 07	Modeloukous Louvon Domonousia (cont.)
Maps (cont.) Bremen 431	March, Werner 97 March Revolution (1848–49) 55	Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania (cont.) restaurants 556–7
Chiemsee 278–9	Marcks, Gerhard 430	Rügen 478–9
Deutsche Weinstraße 347	Margaret, Queen of Denmark 473	Medical assistance 571
Dresden 169	Marggraf, Andreas 34	Meer, Erhard van der 165
Düsseldorf 393	Maria Laach 330, 334, 358-9	Meersburg 321
Eastern Germany 122–3	Marienberg 166	Meier, Richard 377
Erfurt 193	Marienkirche (Berlin) 78	Meissen 11, 161, 167
Europe 14	Marienkirche (Lübeck) 420–21,	porcelain 124–5
Frankfurt am Main 375	462, 464	Meit, Conrad
Freiburg im Breisgau 324–5 German climate 44–5	Marienkirche (Lutherstadt Wittenberg) 155	Judith 219 Meitner, Lise 35
German coastline 422–3	Marienkirche (Rostock) 476	Melanchthon, Philipp 126, 127, 154,
German literature 26–7	Marienkirche (Stralsund) 477	369, 480
German painting 30-31	Marienplatz (Munich) 11	Melanchthonhaus (Lutherstadt
Germany 14–17	Markets 559	Wittenberg) 155
Germany in 1871 56	Fischmarkt (Hamburg) 438	monument to 155
Germany 1949-90 60	Munich 231	tomb of 154
Goslar 450–51	Markgräfliches Opernhaus	Tübingen 316
Hamburg 435 Hannover 445	(Bayreuth) 252 Märkisches Museum (Berlin) 80	Meldorf 459 Memhardt, Johann Gregor 133
Harz Mountain trail 147	Marksburg 355	Memling, Hans 465
Heidelberg 296–7	Markt (Bonn) 408	Bathsheba at her Toilet 312
Helgoland 458	Markthalle (Stuttgart) 311	Mendelssohn, Erich 139
Hesse 362-3	Marktplatz (Bremen) 430	Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, Felix 29,
Hildesheim 449	Marktplatz (Hannover) 445	163
Kassel 365	Marktplatz (Heidelberg) 296	Mengoz, Klaus 374
Koblenz 357	Marktplatz (Hildesheim) 448	Mengs, Anton Raphael 168
Köln 399	Marktplatz (Schwerin) 470–71 Marmorpalais (Potsdam) 134	Mente, Heinrich 153
Leipzig 163 Lower Saxony, Hamburg and	Marstall (Potsdam) 135	Menus, in restaurants 521 Menzel, Adolf von 56, 75
Bremen 426–7	Marstallmuseum (Munich) 224	Mercator, Gerhard 391
Lübeck 462–3	Marthakirche (Nürnberg) 256	Mercedes-Benz-Museum (Stuttgart)
Lutherstadt Wittenberg 155	Martinstor (Freiburg im Breisgau)	310
Mainz 349	324	Merkel, Angela 61
Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania	Marx, Erich 93	Merseburg 149
468-9	Marx, Karl 34, 55, 71	Messegelände (Berlin) 97
Moseltal 345	birthplace 340	Messel, Alfred 76 Metten 239
Munich 208–9 Munich: Marienplatz 210–11	monument to 165 Marzipan from Lübeck 464	Metternich. Prince Clemens von
Munich: Marienplatz 210–11 Munich: Street Finder 234–7	Mathilde, St 148	356
Münster 387	Matisse, Henri 221	Metternich, Karl von 341
Münsterland 388	Matthew, St 343, 345	Metzendorf, Dominikus 390
Nationalpark Müritz 475	Matthias-Kapelle 345	Metzendorf, Georg 390
North Rhine-Westphalia 384-5	Matthieu, Daniel 293	Meyer, Johann Gustav 103
Northern Germany 418–19	Maulbronn 200, 302–3	Michaeliskirche (Hamburg) 438
Nürnberg 256–7	Maurice the Learned, Landgrave of	Michaeliskirche (Hildesheim) 448
Passau 274–5 Potsdam 135	Hesse 365 Mauritiuskirche (Hildesheim) 449	Michaelskirche (Munich) 210, 212 Michelangelo 220
Regensburg 268–9	Mauthalle (Nürnberg) 256	Michelstadt 381
Rhine Valley 354–5	Max-Schmelling-Halle (Berlin) 111	Mielke, Erich 102
Rhineland-Palatinate and	Maxim-Gorki Theater (Berlin) 113	Mies van der Rohe, Ludwig 84, 88,
Saarland 338–9	Maximilian I, Elector 239	310
Rothenburg ob der Tauber 262–3	Maximilian I, Emperor 52, 216, 222	Miller, Ferdinand von 218, 246
Rügen 478–9	Maximilian I Joseph, King of	Miller, Oskar von 228
Sächsische Schweiz 178–9	Bavaria 218	Minden 415
Sächsische Silberstraße 166 Saxony 160–61	Maximilian II Emanuel, Elector of Bavaria 225, 265	Minoritenkirche Mariä Empfängnis (Köln) 399
Saxony-Anhalt 144–5	Maximilian II Joseph, King of	Mittelalterliches Museum
Schleswig-Holstein 456–7	Bavaria 219, 281, 283	(Rothenburg ob der Tauber) 262
Schwäbische Alb 314–15	Maximilian Friedrich, Elector 408	Mobile phones 575
Schwarzwald (Black Forest) 326-7	Maximilian-Friedrich, Prince-Bishop	Modersohn, Otto 433
Schwerin 471	387	Modersohn-Becker, Paula 432, 433
Southern Germany 200–201	Maximilianmuseum (Augsburg)	Girl playing a flute in birch
Stuttgart 309	286	woods 433
Thüringer Wald 190–91 Thuringia 184–5	Maximin, St 343 MaxMara (Berlin) 107	Paula-Modersohn-Becker Museum (Bremen) 432
train routes 579	May, Karl 27	Modigliani, Amedeo
Trier 341	Karl-May-Museum (Radebeul)	Female Nude Reclining on a
Waldecker Land 366–7	173	White Pillow 313
Weimar 195	Mayer, Julius 35	Möhnesee 411
Weser Renaissance trail 453	Mayer, Rupert 210, 212	Molsdorf 193
Western Germany 330–31	Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania 13,	Moltke, Count Helmut James von
Wine in Western Germany 332–3	467–81	100 Mandrian Diet 202
Würzburg 245 Marbach 305	climate 45 hotels 517–19	Mondrian, Piet 392 Monet, Claude 172, 432
Marburg 369	map 468–9	Spring Fields 313
Castle 32	Nationalpark Müritz 475	Money 572–3

Murillo Bartolomé Esteban

Monnot Pierre-Etienne 365 Monechau 406 Monumente Feldherrnhalle (Munich) 218 Gedenkstätte Deutscher Widorstand (Parlin) 88 Gedenkstätte Plötzensee (Berlin) Kaiser-Wilhelm-Gedächtniskirche (Rerlin) 86 Neue Wache (Berlin) 68. 71 Niederwalddenkmal (Rüdesheim) 362, 373 Siegessäule (Berlin) 87 Viktoriapark (Berlin) 103 Völkerschlachtdenkmal (Leipzig) Moore, Henry 84, 220, 257, 391 Moosbrugger, Casper 319 Moosburg 266-7 Mörike, Eduard 316 Moritz of Saxony 167 Moritzburg 167, 170–71 Mosel River 12, 332, 337, 352–3 Moseltal tour 345 Mosel-Saar-Ruwer wines 332 Moseltal 345 Mosigkau 154 Motor racing 39 Motorways 580 Mountains 25 German Alps 204-5 hostels 487 mountain sports 561, 563 Schwäbische Alb 314-15 Movland 389 Mozart, Wolfgang Amadeus 217 Mueller The Lovers 444 Mühlenhof (Münster) 387 Mühlhausen 188 Muldetal 164 Müller, Heinrich 81 Müller, Karl A 35 Müller, Wolfgang 212 Multscher, Hans 264, 317, 318 Munch, Edvard 444 Girl on a Beach 88 Girls on a Bridge 405 Girls on the Pier 437 Münden 446-7, 453 Munich 11. 207-37 airport 577 Alte Pinakothek 222-3 climate 45 Deutsches Museum 228-9 entertainment 232-3 festivals 42 hotels 497-9 map 208-9 Marienplatz: Street-by-Street map 210-11 Oktoberfest 11, 42, 207, 223, 227, 233 Residenz 216-17 restaurants 536-8 Schloss Nymphenburg 224-5 shopping 230-31 Street Finder 234-7 Munich Film Festival 233 Munich Tourist Board 233 Münster 386–7 map 387 Münster St Martin (Bonn) 408 Münsterland 388 Münsterplatz (Freiburg im Breisgau)

Müntzer, Thomas 188

Old Woman and Boy 405 Müritzsee 475 Museum Island (Berlin) Street-by-Street map 74-5 Museums and galleries opening hours 567 Albertinum (Dresden) 172 Albrecht-Dürer-Haus (Nürnberg) Alte Hofhaltung (Bamberg) 248 Alte Nationalgalerie (Berlin) 74. Alte Pinakothek (Munich) 222-3 Altes Museum (Berlin) 75 Altes Rathaus (Leipzig) 163 Altes Schloss (Stuttgart) 308-9 Angermuseum (Erfurt) 193 Archäologische Staatssammlung (Munich) 219 Automobile Welt Eisenach 187 Bacharchive und Bachmuseum (Leinzig) 163 Bachhaus (Eisenach) 187 Bauhaus-Museum (Weimar) 194 Bayerisches Nationalmuseum (Munich) 219 Beethovenhaus (Bonn) 408 Bergbaumuseum Rammelsberg (Goslar) 451 Bildergalerie (Potsdam) 135, 137 Bischöfliches Dom- und Diözesanmuseum (Trier) 340 Bodemuseum (Berlin) 74, 78 Bosehaus (Leipzig) 162 Brahmshaus (Baden-Baden) Brecht-Weigel-Gedenkstätte (Berlin) 101 Bröhan-Museum (Berlin) 96 Brücke-Museum (Berlin) 104 Brüder-Grimm-Museum (Kassel) 364 Buchenwald 195 Deutsches Architekturmuseum (Frankfurt am Main) 377 Deutsches Buch- und Schriftmuseum (Leipzig) 163 Deutsches Historisches Museum (Berlin) 69 Deutsches Jagd- und Fischereimuseum (Munich) 211. 213 Deutsches Museum (Munich) 228-9 Deutsches Museum für Meereskunde und Fischerei (Stralsund) 477 Deutsches Pferdemuseum (Verden an der Aller) 433 Deutsches Schifffahrtsmuseum (Bremerhaven) 433 Deutsches Technikmuseum Berlin 81 EGA and Gartenbaumuseum (Erfurt) 193 Ethnologisches Museum (Berlin) 104 Focke-Museum (Bremen) 432 Franz-Liszt Museum (Bayreuth) 252 Freilichtmuseum Schwerin-Mueß (Schwerin) 471 Fridericianum (Kassel) 331 Fuggerei-Museum (Augsburg) Fürstenbau-Museum (Würzburg)

Museums and galleries (cont.) Gedenkstätte Berlin-Hohenschönhausen (Berlin) 102 Gemäldegalerie (Berlin) 64, 84, 00 01 Gemäldegalerie Alte Meister (Dresden) 175. 176-7 German History Museum (Berlin) Germanisches Nationalmuseum (Nürnberg) 260-61 Glyptothek (Munich) 221 Goethe-Museum (Weimar) 195 Goethehaus (Frankfurt am Main) Grassimuseum (Leipzig) 162 Gutenberg-Museum (Mainz) 348 Hamburger Bahnhof (Berlin) 93 Haus am Checkpoint Charlie (Berlin) 80 Haus der Geschichte der BR Deutschland (Bonn) 409 Haus der Kunst (Munich) 218_19 Hegelhaus (Stuttgart) 309 Heinrich-Heine-Institut (Düsseldorf) 393 Hessisches Landesmuseum (Kassel) 364 Hetiens-Museum (Düsseldorf) 392 Historisches Museum (Frankfurt am Main) 376 Ikonen-Museum (Frankfurt am Main) 377 Imhoff-Stollwerck-Museum (Köln) 400 Japanisches Palais (Dresden) 173 Jüdisches Museum (Berlin) 65, 80_81 Jüdisches Museum (Frankfurt am Main) 376 Karl-May-Museum (Radebeul) 173 Käthe-Kollwitz-Gedenkstätte (Moritzburg) 167 Käthe-Kollwitz-Museum (Berlin) Kaufmann Collection (Stade) 439 Kloster Unser Lieben Frauen (Magdeburg) 152 Kraszewski-Museum (Dresden) Krims-Krackow-Haus (Weimar) 194 Kulturhistorisches Museum (Magdeburg) 152 Kulturhistorisches Museum (Stralsund) 477 Kunstgewerbemuseum (Berlin) 84. 89 Kunsthalle (Bremen) 432 Kunsthalle (Hamburg) 436-7 Kunsthalle Fridericianum (Kassel) 364 Kunsthalle St-Annen (Lübeck) 463, 465 Kunsthalle Schirn (Frankfurt am Main) 376 Kunstmuseum Bonn 409 Kunstmuseum Stuttgart 308 Kunstsammlung Nordrhein-Westfalen (Düsseldorf) 392 Kupferstichkabinett und Kunstbibliothek (Berlin) 84. 88 Kurpfälzisches Museum (Heidelberg) 299 Lenbachhaus (Munich) 221

Residenz (Munich) 216-17

Museums and galleries (cont.) Museums and galleries (cont.) Naccau Oranian Louica Henrietta Rheinisches Freilichtmuseum Liebieghaus (Frankfurt am Main) von 132-3 Kommern 406 Nassau-Oranien, Wilhelm I the Linden-Museum (Stuttgart) 310 Rheinisches Landesmuseum Great von 372 Liszt-Haus (Weimar) 195 (Bonn) 408 Nassau-Saarbrücken, Wilhelm Lutherhalle (Lutherstadt Rheinisches Landesmuseum Heinrich von 344 Wittenberg) 155 (Trier) 342 National parks 561, 563 Mainfränkisches Museum Richard-Wagner-Museum National Rail Enquiries 578 (Wiirzburg) 245 (Bayreuth) 252 Nationalpark Jasmund 479 Märkisches Museum (Berlin) 80 Roemer-Pelizaeus-Museum Nationalpark Müritz 475 Marstall (Potsdam) 135 (Hildesheim) 448 Nationalpark-Berchtesgaden 276 Marstallmuseum (Munich) 224 Römisch-Germanisches Museum Nationaltheater (Munich) 233 Maximilianmuseum (Augsburg) (Köln) 308 Natko (Nationale Koordinationsetelle Touriemus für 206 Roseliushaus (Bremen) 432 Melanchthonhaus (Lutherstadt Sammlung Berggruen (Berlin) 96 Alle) 569 Wittenberg) 155 Schack-Galerie (Munich) 219 Naturmuseum Senckenberg Mercedec Benz Museum Schinkel-Museum (Berlin) 71 (Frankfurt am Main) 377 (Stuttgart) 310 Schloss Babelsberg (Potsdam) 139 Naturpark Westensee 456 Mittelalterliches Museum Schnütgen-Museum (Köln) 400 Naumann, Johann Christoph 165 (Rothenburg ob der Tauber) 262 Schwedenspeicher-Museum Naumburg 149 Museum der Bildenden Künste (Stade) 439 Dom 122, 150–51 (Leipzig) 163 Spielzeugmuseum (Bremen) 432 Naumburger Meister 150 Museum für Angewandte Kunst Spielzeugmuseum (Nürnberg) Nazarenes 172 (Frankfurt am Main) 377 258 Nazis 58-9, 70 Museum für Indische Kunst Sprengel Museum (Hanover) 444 Bergen-Belsen 440 (Berlin) 104 Buchenwald 195 Staatliche Antikensammlungen Museum für Kunst Afrikas (Munich) 221 Feldherrnhalle (Munich) 218 (Berlin) 104 Staatliche Kunsthalle Baden-Topographie des Terrors (Berlin) Museum für Lackkunst (Münster) Baden 301 81 Staatliche Porzellan-Manufaktur Neander, Ioachim 393 Museum für Moderne Kunst (Meissen) 167 Neher, Erwin 35 (Frankfurt am Main) 376-7 Nepomuk, St 213 Staatliches Museum (Schwerin) Museum für Naturkunde (Berlin) 470 Nering, Johann Arnold 71, 98 Staatsgalerie (Stuttgart) 312-13 Nessler, Karl Ludwig 326 Museum für Ostasiatische Kunst Städelsches Kunstinstitut Nette, Johann 306 (Berlin) 104 (Frankfurt am Main) 378-9 Neubrandenburg 474 Museum für Sächsische Stadtmuseum (Baden-Baden) 301 Neuburg an der Donau 266 Volkskunst (Dresden) 172–3 Stadtmuseum (Erfurt) 193 Neue Bischofsresidenz (Passau) 274 Stadtmuseum (Munich) 214 Neue Galerie (Kassel) 364 Museum für Ur- und Frühgeschichte (Berlin) 97 Stadtmuseum (Weimar) 194 Neue Nationalgalerie (Berlin) 84, Stasi-Museum (Berlin) 102 Museum Kunst Palast 88_0 (Düsseldorf) 392 Topographie des Terrors (Berlin) Neue Pinakothek (Munich) 220 Museum Ludwig (Köln) 398 81 Neue Residenz und Staatsgalerie Museum Mensch und Natur Übersee-Museum (Bremen) 432 (Bamberg) 248 (Munich) 225 Verkehrsmuseum (Dresden) 169 Neue Synagoge (Berlin) 101 Neue Wache (Berlin) 68, 71 Villa Stuck (Munich) 226-7 Museumsdorf Düppel (Berlin) Völkerkundemuseum (Munich) Neuenfelde 439 111 Neues Museum (Berlin) 74, 75 Museumszentrum Dahlem 215 (Berlin) 104 Völkerschlachtdenkmal (Leipzig) Neues Museum (Weimar) 194 Musikinstrumenten-Museum 163 Neues Palais (Potsdam) 139 (Berlin) 85, 89 Wallraf-Richartz-Museum -Neues Rathaus (Dresden) 172 Fondation Corboud (Köln) 404-5 Neues Rathaus (Hannover) 426. Naturmuseum Senckenberg (Frankfurt am Main) 377 Weissenhofmuseum im Haus Le 444 Corbusier (Berlin) 310 Neue Galerie (Kassel) 364 Neues Rathaus (Munich) 211, 215 Neue Nationalgalerie (Berlin) 84, Westfälisches Landesmuseum für Neues Schloss (Bayreuth) 252 88-9 Kunst und Kulturgeschichte Neues Schloss (Schleissheim) 203 Neue Pinakothek (Munich) 220 (Münster) 386 Neumann, Balthasar 202 Neue Residenz und Staatsgalerie Wilhelmshöhe (Kassel) 365 Augustusburg (Brühl) 406, 407 (Bamberg) 248 Wittumspalais (Weimar) 194 Bruchsal 295 Neues Museum (Berlin) 74. 75 Music 28-9 Dom St Kilian (Würzburg) 244 Neues Museum (Weimar) 194 in Berlin 108-9, 111 Käppele (Würzburg) 245 Newton-Sammlung (Berlin) 87 festivals 40-43 Karlsruhe 300 Niedersächsisches Munich 232, 233 Kirche St Michael (Bamberg) 249 Musical Theater Berlin am Landesmuseum (Hanover) 444 Kirche St Paulin (Trier) 343 Potsdamer Platz 113 Nordamerika Ausstellung (Berlin) Poppelsdorf (Bonn) 409 Musikinstrumenten-Museum 104 Residenz (Würzburg) 246 St Catherine Hospital and Passauer Glasmuseum (Passau) (Berlin) 85, 89 Seminary (Bamberg) 249 Paula-Modersohn-Becker Vierzehnheiligen 201, 243 Museum (Bremen) 432 Nahe 332 Worms Cathedral 346 Pergamonmuseum (Berlin) 65, Nahl, Johann August 138 Würzburg Residenz 200 74, 76–7 Nannen, Henri 428 Neumark, Johann Christian 156 Pinakothek der Moderne 221 Napoleon I, Emperor 69, 103, 159, Neumarkt 15 Porsche-Museum (Stuttgart) 293 Neumünster-Kirche (Würzburg) 244 310-11 Napoleonic Wars 54-5 Neuruppin 132 Reichstadtmuseum (Rothenburg Nassau, Princess Elisabeth von 372 Neuschwanstein see Schloss ob der Tauber) 262 Nassau, Johann Moritz von 389, 410 Neuschwanstein

Nassau, Princess Luise von 373

Neuss 394

Neustrelitz 475	Olbrich, Joseph Maria 380, 390, 392	Palaces (cont.)
Neuwerkkirche (Goslar) 451	Olbricht, Friedrich 88	Neues Schloss (Bayreuth) 252
Neuzelle 140	Oldenburg 418, 429	Orangerieschloss (Potsdam) 138
New Year's Eve 43	Oldenburg, Claes 377	Residenz (Würzburg) 200, 246-7
New Zealand Embassy 567	Olympia Einkaufszentrum (Munich)	Residenzschloss (Dresden) 168–9
Newspapers 568–9	231	Schleissheim 264–5
Newton, Helmut	Olympiastadion (Berlin) 111	Schloss Babelsberg (Potsdam)
Newton-Sammlung (Berlin) 87	Olympiahalle and Olympic Stadium	139
Nicholas I, Tsar 105, 138	(Munich) 233	Schloss Belvedere (Weimar) 183,
Niedersächsisches Landesmuseum	Olympiagradian (Rarlin) 97	195 Sabless Remoth (Düsselden) 202
(Hanover) 444 Niederwalddenkmal (Rüdesheim)	Olympiastadion (Berlin) 97 Opening hours 567	Schloss Benrath (Düsseldorf) 393 Schloss Charlottenburg (Berlin)
362, 373	banks 572	95, 98–9
Nietzsche, Friedrich 34, 149, 194	museums 567	Schloss Charlottenhof (Potsdam)
Nightlife	restaurants 521	136, 138–9
Berlin 110 , 111	shops 558	Schloss Neue Kammern
Nikolaikirche (Potsdam) 135	Opera	(Potsdam) 138
Nikolaiviertel (Berlin) 80	Bayreuth 252–3	Schloss Nymphenburg (Munich)
Nikolskoe (Berlin) 105	Munich 232, 233	203, 224–5
NIX (Berlin) 107	Opernhaus (Hannover) 444	Schloss Pillnitz (Dresden) 173
Noemi & Friends (Munich) 231	Richard Wagner 252	Schloss Sanssouci (Potsdam) 10,
Nolde, Emil 391, 428, 459, 461	Sächsische Staatsoper (Dresden)	123, 138
North Friesian Landscape 30	168	Schloss Solitude (Stuttgart) 311
The Young Horses 390 Norbert, St 406	Oppenheim 349 Orangerie (Kassel) 365	Schloss Tegel (Berlin) 100–101 Schloss Thurn und Taxis
Nordamerika Ausstellung (Berlin) 104	Orangerieschloss (Potsdam) 138	(Regensburg) 269
Norddeich 23	Oranienbaum 154	Schwetzingen 294–5
Norderney 428	Oranienburg 132–3	Wasserschloss Concordia
Nordhausen 188	Orff, Carl 29	(Bamberg) 248
Nördlingen 201, 254-5	Osnabrück 429	Wilhelmshöhe (Kassel) 365
North Frisian islands 459	Osterwieck 146	Zwinger (Dresden) 123
North Rhine-Westphalia 13,	Ostfriesische Inseln (East Frisian	see also Castles
383-415	Islands) 13, 425, 428	Palatinate see Rhineland-Palatinate
climate 44	Ostfriesland (East Frisia) 428	and Saarland hotels 510–12	Ostgut (Berlin) 111	Palm, Gottlieb von 305
map 384–5	Osthaus, Karl Ernst 410	Papworth, John 311
Münsterland 388 restaurants 549–51	Ostritz 181 Ostseebad Binz 479	Parking 581
Northern Eifel 406	Ottheinrich the Magnanimous 266	Parks and gardens Bad Muskau 180
Northern Germany 417–81	Otto I, Emperor 47, 48, 320	Botanical Garden (Munich) 225
climate 44	Klosterkirche (Lehnin) 133	Burg- und Schlossgarten
German Coastline 422-3	Magdeburg 152	(Schwerin) 470
Gothic brick architecture 420-21	Quedlinburg 148	Cecilienhof (Potsdam) 134
Lower Saxony, Hamburg and	Saxony 159	EGA and Gartenbaumuseum
Bremen 425–53	tomb of 152	(Erfurt) 193
map 418–19	Otto I, King of Bavaria 221	Englischer Garten (Munich) 226
Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania	Otto II, Emperor 48	Goethes Gartenhaus (Weimar)
467–81	Otto III, Emperor 48	195
Schleswig-Holstein 455–65	Otto of Meissen 165 Otto, Nikolaus 35	Großer Garten (Dresden) 173 Grosse Wallanlagen Park
Notke, Bernt 50, 465 Nürnberg (Nuremberg) 207, 256–61	Otto, Paul 71	(Hamburg) 427
airport 577	Ottobeuren 202, 285	Herrenhäuser Gärten (Hanover) festivals 42	Ottoneum (Kassel) 365	445
Germanisches Nationalmuseum	Ottweiler 344	Hofgarten (Düsseldorf) 392-3
260-61	Oudry, Jean-Baptiste 470	Klein Glienicke (Berlin) 105
map 256–7	Overbeck, Friedrich 220, 433	Ludwigsburg 289, 306–7
Nymphenburg see Schloss	Overstolzenhaus (Köln) 400	Ludwigslust 472
Nymphenburg	Oybrin 181	Lustgarten (Berlin) 75
Nymphenburg porcelain 224	P	Neue Residenz und Staatsgalerie
0	•	(Bamberg) 248
Oberalteich 267	Pachelbel, Johann 28 Paderborn 411	Park Sanssouci 136–7 Römische Bäder (Potsdam) 138
Oberammergau 280	Painting 30–31	Schleissheim 264–5
Oberaudorf 204	Palaces	Schloss Charlottenhof (Potsdam)
Oberhausen 391	Altes Schloss (Stuttgart) 308–9	139
Oberhof 183, 191	Baroque in Southern Germany	Schloss Nymphenburg 224–5
Oberland 458	203	Schloss Tegel (Berlin) 100
Oberstdorf 285	Cecilienhof (Potsdam) 134	Schlossgarten (Stuttgart) 308
Oberwiesenthal 166	Jagdschloss Grunewald (Berlin)	Schlosspark (Berlin) 96–7
Odeon (Berlin) 113	104	Tiergarten (Berlin) 64, 87
Odo von Metz 396	Klein Glienicke (Berlin) 105	Treptower Park (Berlin) 103
Oechler 481	Leineschloss (Hanover) 444–5	Viktoriapark (Berlin) 103
Oetken, August 186	Linderhof 281	Wilhelmshöhe (Kassel) 365 Wörlitz Park 145, 156–7
Off & Co (Munich) 231	Ludwigsburg 306–7 Marmorpalais (Potsdam) 134	Parler, Peter 304
Ohlmüller, Joseph Daniel 283	mannorpaiais (i Otsuani) 134	ranci, reter jor

Neue Residenz und Staatsgalerie

(Bamberg) 248 Neues Palais (Potsdam) 139

Ohlmüller, Joseph Daniel 283 Ohm, Georg S 35

Oktoberfest (Munich) 11, 42, 207, 223, 227, 233

Parler, Peter 304
Parler family 153, 303, 304, 318
Parr, Franz 474

Parra, Johan Batista 470

Pirna, Peter Ulrich von 178

Pasinger Fabrik (Munich) 233 Picanello Antonio 213 Paphael 139 Passau 203, 241 Pissarro, Camille Sistine Madonna 177 Girl lying on a grassy slope 432 Planck, Max 35, 71, 452 Street-by-Street map 274-5 Raschdorff, Julius 73 Passauer Glasmuseum (Passau) 274 Ratgeb, Jörg 304 Passionskirche (Berlin) 111 Planetarium am Insulaner (Berlin) Rathaus (Augsburg) 287 Passports 566, 570 111 Rathaus (Bremen) 430 Patrick Hellmann (Berlin) 107 Plattenburg Castle 132 Rathaus (Goslar) 450 Playdenwurff, Wilhelm 267 Rathaus (Köln) 399 Paul VI. Pope 310 Paul. Wolfgang 35 Plön 456, 461 Rathaus (Lübeck) 462 Rathaus (Lutherstadt Wittenberg) Paula-Modersohn-Becker Museum Plötzensee Memorial (Berlin) 100 (Bremen) 432 Poelzig, Hans 173 155 Paulin, St 343 Poison Help Line 571 Rathaus (Magdeburg) 152 Paulinzelle 191 Rathaus (Munich) 207 Pokrowski, Vladimir 163 Paulskirche (Frankfurt am Main) Polak, Jan 213, 221 Rathaus (Münster) 386 Police 570, 571 Rathaus (Nürnberg) 258 Peasants' War (1524-25) 52, 53, Pomerania see Mecklenburg-Lower Rathaus (Rostock) 476 188, 189 Rathaus (Rothenburg ob der Domerania Pedetti, Mauritio 255, 300 Pommersfelden 242 Tauber) 263 Popkomm (Berlin) 111 Peenemünde 481 Rathaus (Würzburg) 244 Pöppelmann, Matthäus Daniel 167. Pei. I M 69, 71 Rathaus Schöneberg (Berlin) 103 Peichl, Gustav 378 173, 174 Rathausmarkt (Hamburg) 434 Poppelsdorf (Bonn) 409 Pensions 486 Ratibor 461 Pergamonmuseum (Berlin) 65, 74. Porcelain Ratisbon see Regensburg 76_7 Meissen porcelain 124-5, 167 Ratzeburg 461 Perlacher Einkaufspassage (Munich) Schloss Nymphenburg (Munich) Rauch, Christian Daniel 100, 103, 231 Perleberg 132 shopping 559 Ravenshriick 132 Permoser, Balthasar Porsche, Ferdinand 441 Ravensburg 318 Albertinum (Dresden) 172 Porsche-Museum (Stuttgart) 310-11 Recklinghausen Burg- und Schlossgarten Port (Hamburg) 438 festivals 40 Porta Nigra (Trier) 340 Red Army 103 (Schwerin) 470 Hofkirche (Dresden) 168 Porta Westfalica 415 Reeperbahn (Hamburg) 438 Museum der Bildenden Künste Postal services 575 Reformation 52–3, 126–7, 154 (Leipzig) 163 Potsdam 10, 129, 134-9 Regensburg 268-9 map 135 Schlossplatz (Berlin) 73 map 268-9 Potsdam Conference (1945) 139 Zwinger (Dresden) 174 Regierungsviertel (Bonn) 409 Perron, Phillip 281 Potsdamer Platz (Berlin) 92 Reichenau 320 Persius, Ludwig 105, 135, 138 Potsdamer Platz Arkaden (Berlin) Reichle, Hans St Michael Overcoming Satan 286 Peter the Great, Tsar 480 Petersberg (Erfurt) 192 Pott, Johann 34 Reichstadtmuseum (Rothenburg ob Petersen, Wolfgang 227 Pottenstein 243 der Tauber) 262 Petri, Johann Ludwig 295 Poussin, Nicolas 365 Reichstag (Berlin) 10, 22, 56, 61, 65, Praetorius, Johannes 261 Petrikirche (Lübeck) 462 93 Petrini, Antonio 249 Predigerkirche (Eisenach) 187 Reit im Winkl 204 Pevère, Antoine François the Preetz 461 Religion 568 Prenzlauer Berg (Berlin) 101 Reformation 126-7 Younger 357 Pfalz (Aachen) 396-7 Prerow 476 Remarque, Erich Maria 26, 429 Prinzregentheater (Munich) 233 Rembrandt 365, 404, 432, 443, 444 Pfalz, Sophie, Duchess von der 445 Blinding of Samson 379 Pfalzgrafenstein 355 Pritzwalk 132 Propyläen (Munich) 221 Pfarrkirche (Goslar) 450 Deposition from the Cross 223 Pfarrkirche St Iohannis Public conveniences 571 Hannah and Simeon in the Public holidays 43 (Magdeburg) 152 Temple 436 Pfarrkirche St Mariä Himmelfahrt Public transport see Travel Portrait of Hendrickje Stoffels 91 (Köln) 398 Pückler-Muskau, Prince Hermann St Paul in Prison 312 Pfarrkirche St Matthias (Trier) 343 von 141, 180 Self-Portrait with Saskia 176 Pfaueninsel (Berlin) 105 Pulheim-Brauweiler 407 Remscheid 394 Pfefferbank (Berlin) 111 Die Puppenstube (Munich) 231 Renaissance-Theater (Berlin) 113 Pfund, Paul 173 Puppentheatermuseum (Berlin) Reni, Guido 135 Pfunds Molkerei (Dresden) 173 Residenz (Munich) 216-17 Residenz (Würzburg) 200, 246–7 Pharmacies 571 Pürkel, Konrad 279 Putbus 479 Philharmonie (Berlin) 85, 89, 111 Residenzschloss (Dresden) 168-9 Philip I, Duke of Mecklenburg 481 Residenzschloss (Münster) 387 Q Phillip the Magnanimous, Restaurants 520-57 Landgrave 369, 370 Qantas 577 Baden-Württemberg 542-5 Bavaria 538-42 Philosophenweg (Heidelberg) 296 Quaglio, Domenico 283 Philosophers 34 Quasimodo (Berlin) 111 Berlin 526-8 Brandenburg 528-30 Piano, Renzo 92 Ouedlinburg 143, 148 Picasso, Pablo 221, 392, 398 Querfurt 149 Hesse 547-8 Quesnay, Abraham 72 Mother and Child 313 Lower Saxony, Hamburg and Sammlung Berggruen (Berlin) 96 Quirnheim, Ritter Mertz von 88 Bremen 552-4 Sprengel Museum (Hanover) 444 Mecklenburg-Lower Pomerania Woman in a Hat 96 556-Pictorius, Gottfried Laurenz 388 Rabe, Martin Friedrich 105 Munich 536-8 North Rhine-Westphalia 549-51 Pieck, Wilhelm 103 Rabenden, Meister von 213 Pigage, Nicolas de 294, 295, 393 Rhineland-Palatine and Saarland Radebeul 173 Pinakothek der Moderne 221 Raesfeld 33 545-6 Pirna 178 Saxony 532-4 Railways see Trains

Ramsau an der Ache 276

Saxony-Anhalt 530-32

Restaurants (cont.)	Römische Bäder (Potsdam) 138	St Blasien 327
Schleswig-Holstein 555–6 Thuringia 534–6	Röntgen, Wilhelm 35, 394	St Cajetan (Munich) 218 St Georg (Köln) 400–401
see also Food and drink	Roosevelt, Franklin 139 Roselius, Ludwig 432	St Gereon (Köln) 400–401 St Gereon (Köln) 401
Retti, Leopoldo 300	Roskopf, Wendel 181	St Goar 354
Retti, Ricardo 306	Rostock 13, 51, 468, 476	St-Hedwigs-Kathedrale (Berlin) 69,
Reunification 61	Rotes Rathaus (Berlin) 78-9	70
Reuter, Israel Berr Josaphat 395	Roth, Dieter 308	St Jakobi (Goslar) 451
Rheingau 333	Rothenburg ob der Tauber 12	St Jakobs Kirche (Rothenburg ob
Rheinisches Freilichtmuseum Kommern 406	Street-by-Street map 262–3 Rothweil, Julius Ludwig 367, 370	der Tauber) 262 St-Johannis-Friedhof (Nürnberg)
Rheinisches Landesmuseum (Bonn)	Rottaler, Lukas 213, 214	259
408	Rottmayer, Michael 242	St Kunibert (Köln) 401
Rheinisches Landesmuseum (Trier)	Rottweil 317	St Leonhardskirche (Frankfurt am
342	Rousseau, Jean Jacques 156	Main) 376
Rheinsberg 129, 132	Rübeland Caves 147	St Lorenz-Kirche (Nürnberg) 256–7
Rheintal 354–5	Rubens, Peter Paul 365, 392	St Ludwig's Church (Munich) 220
Rheinufer (Bonn) 408 Rhineland-Palatinate and Saarland	Bildergalerie (Potsdam) 135 birthplace 410	St Maria im Kapitol (Köln) 400 St Maria Lyskirchen (Köln) 400
12, 337–59	Deutsches Jagd-und	St Martin 347
climate 44	Fischereimuseum (Munich) 213	St-Matthäus-Kirche (Berlin) 85
Deutsche Weinstraße 347	Diözesanmuseum (Freising) 265	St Michael's Church (Munich) 212
hotels 506–8	Jagdschloss Grunewald (Berlin)	St Pantaleon (Köln) 401
map 338–9	104	St Pauli (Hamburg) 438–9
Moseltal 345	Kunsthalle (Bremen) 432	St Peter (Köln) 400
restaurants 545–6	Museum der Bildenden Künste	St Peter and St Paul (Goslar) 451
Rhine Valley (Rheintal) 354–5 Saarland 344	(Leipzig) 163 Niedersächsisches	St Peter und St Paul (Weimar) 194 St Petrikirche (Hamburg) 434
see also North Rhine-Westphalia	Landesmuseum (Hanover) 444	Saint-Pierre, Joseph 252
Richard the Lionheart, King of	Rape of the Daughters of	St Severi-Kirche (Erfurt) 192
England 347	Leukippos 223	St Ursula (Köln) 401
Richartz, Johann Heinrich 404	St Peter (Köln) 400	Sakmann, Bert 35
Riedel, E 215	Schloss Friedenstein (Gotha) 189	Salem 319
Riem Arcaden (Munich) 231	Schloss Georgium (Dessau) 154	Saler, J I 294
Riemenschneider, Tilman 196, 260 Bamberg Cathedral 250	Schloss Weimar (Weimar) 194 Stigmatization of St Francis 404	Sales 558 Sammlung Berggruen (Berlin) 96
Bayerisches Nationalmuseum	Rüdesheim 373	Sanssouci see Park Sanssouci
(Munich) 219	Rudolf I, Emperor 49	Sauerbronn, Baron Karl Friedrich
Bodemuseum (Berlin) 78	Rudolstadt 196	von 294
Creglingen 293	Rügen 13, 419, 423, 467, 469,	Sauerland 384, 410–11
Dom St Kilian (Würzburg) 244	478–9	Saxe-Hildburghausen, Thérèse von
Heiligenstadt 188 Mainfränkisches Museum	Ruhr River 383, 391 Rumford, Count von 226	227 Saxon Switzerland see Sächsische
(Würzburg) 245	Runge, Philipp Otto 481	Schweiz
The Stigmatization of St Francis	Morning 436	Saxony 11, 159–81
262	Rupert II, Abbot of Ottobeuren 285	climate 45
Wartburg (Eisenach) 187	Rupprecht, W 359	hotels 493-5
Rietschel, Ernst 172, 194	Ruprecht, Crown Prince 277	map 160-61
Rilke, Rainer Maria 433	Ruprecht I, Elector 289, 296	restaurants 532–4
Ring, Hermann tom 387 Ring, Ludger tom 386, 387	Ruprecht III, Elector 299 Ruska, Ernst 35	Sächsische Schweiz 178–9 Sächsische Silberstraße 166
Roads 580	Russische Kirche (Leipzig) 163	see also Lower Saxony
Röchling, Carl 344	Ry, Paul du 364, 365	Saxony-Anhalt 10–11, 143–57
Rochlitz 164	Ry, Simon Louis du 364, 365	climate 45
Rochsburg 164	Rycheza, Queen of Poland 407	Harz Mountain trail 147
Rock music	Ryckwaert, Cornelius 154	hotels 492–3
Berlin 109, 111	S	map 144–5
Rode, Christian Bernhard 78 Rödertor (Rothenburg ob der	S-Bahn (railways) 582	restaurants 530–32 Schabbelhaus (Lübeck) 464
Tauber) 263	Saalburg 371	Schack, Adolf Friedrich von 219
Rodin, Auguste 163, 197	Saalfeld 196–7	Schack-Galerie (Munich) 219
Roemer-Pelizaeus-Museum	Saarbrücken 12, 337, 344	Schadow, Friedrich Wilhelm 392
(Hildesheim) 448	Saarland see Rhineland-Palatinate	Schadow, Johann Gottfried 71, 75,
Rohr 202	and Saarland	155
Rohrer, Michael 295 Roland	Saarwerden, Friedrich von 394	Quadriga 69 Schaiblingsturm (Passau) 275
statues of 132, 146, 181, 430	Sachs, Nelly 26 Sachsen, Clemens Wenzeslaus von	Schaper, Hermann 86
Roman remains	357	Scharoun, Hans
Trier 340–43	Sachsenhausen 133	Deutsches Schifffahrtsmuseum
Romanesque architecture 334–5	Sächsische Schweiz (Saxon	(Bremerhaven) 433 baptismal fonts 460	Switzerland) 159, 178-9	Musikinstrumenten-Museum
Köln 400–401	Sächsische Silberstraße 11, 166	(Berlin) 89
Römann, Wilhelm 167	Sächsische Staatsoper (Dresden)	Philharmonie (Berlin) 84, 89
Römerberg (Frankfurt am Main) 375	168 Sailing 39	Staatsbibliothek (Berlin) 85 Weißenhofsiedlung (Stuttgart)
Römersteine (Mainz) 349	St Andreas (Köln) 398	310
Römisch-Germanisches Museum	St Annen-Stift (Goslar) 451	Wolfsburg 441
(Köln) 398	St Aposteln (Köln) 401	Schedel 258

Scheer Johann 295 Scheibe, Richard 88, 99 Scheidemann, Philipp 93 Scheinbar (Berlin) 113 Schelling, Friedrich von 316 Scherer, Hans the Younger 153 Schickhard, Heinrich 316 Schiffshebewerk (Chorin) 140 Schiller, Friedrich 26, 54 Iena 196 Marbach 305 monument to 67 Schillerhaus (Weimar) 194 statue of 72, 309 Tübingen 316 Weimar 11 122 183 194 Schillerplatz (Stuttgart) 309 Schilling, Johannes 168 Schindler, Oskar 269 Schinkel, Karl Friedrich 75, 102 Altes Museum (Berlin) 75 Elisenbrunnen (Aachen) 395 Friedrichswerdersche Kirche (Berlin) 69, 71 Iohanniskirche (Zittau) 181 Klein Glienicke (Berlin) 105 Konzerthaus (Berlin) 72 Neue Wache (Berlin) 68, 71 Neuruppin 132 Nikolaikirche (Potsdam) 135 Römische Bäder (Potsdam) 138 Schinkel-Museum (Berlin) 71 Schinkelwache (Dresden) 168 Schloss Babelsberg (Potsdam) 130 Schloss Charlottenhof (Potsdam) Schloss Ehrenburg (Coburg) 243 Schloss Stolzenfels (Koblenz) 338 Schloss Tegel (Berlin) 100 Schlossbrücke (Berlin) 72, 73 Schlosspark (Berlin) 97 Stolzenfels 354 Viktoriapark (Berlin) 103 Schinkel, K.F. 55 Schinkelwache (Dresden) 168 Schlachtberg 189 Schlaun, Johann Conrad Augustusburg (Brühl) 406 Clemenswerth 428 Münster 386, 387, 388 Schlegel, Johann Gottfried 194 Schleiden 406 Schleissheim 203, 264-5 Schleswig 460 festivals 41 Schleswig-Holstein 13, 455-65 climate 44 Helgoland 458 hotels 516-17 map 456-7 restaurants 555-6 Schlichting (Munich) 231 Schliemann, Heinrich 97 Schliersee 204 Schlitz 475 Schlöndorff, Volker 21 Schlör, Simon 309 Schloss Babelsberg (Potsdam) 139 Schloss Belvedere (Weimar) 183, Schloss Benrath (Düsseldorf) 393 Schloss Burg 394 Schloss Charlottenburg (Berlin) 95, 98_9 Schloss Charlottenhof (Potsdam) 136, 138-9 Schloss Favorite (Ludwigsburg) 203

Schloss Glücksburg 459 Schlose Güetron: 460 Schloss Lembeck 388 Schloss Mosigkau (Mosigkau) 154 Schloss Neue Kammern (Potsdam) 120 Schloss Neuschwanstein 12, 201. 282-3 Schloss Nordkirchen 388 Schloss Nymphenburg (Munich) 203, 224–5 Schloss Pfaueninsel (Berlin) 105 Schloss Pillnitz (Dresden) 173 Schloss Raesfeld 388 Schloss Ranis 197 Schloss Sanssouci (Potsdam) 10 123. 138 Schloss Seehof (Bamberg) 249 Schloss Solitude (Stuttgart) 311 Schloss Stolzenfels (Koblenz) 338 Schloss Tegel (Berlin) 100-101 Schloss Thurn und Taxis (Regensburg) 269 Schloss Weesenstein 178 Schloss Weimar (Weimar) 194 Schloss Wittenberg (Lutherstadt Wittenberg) 154 Schlose Wörlitz 123 Schlossbrücke (Berlin) 72, 73 Schlossgarten (Stuttgart) 308 Schlosskirche (Lutherstadt Wittenberg) 154 Schlosspark (Berlin) 96-7 Schlosspark Theater (Berlin) 113 Schlossplatz (Berlin) 73 Schlossplatz (Stuttgart) 308 Schlot (Berlin) 111 Schlüter, Andreas Marienkirche (Berlin) 78 Schlossplatz (Berlin) 73 statue of Friedrich Wilhelm I 78 Stralsund 477 Zeughaus (Berlin) 71 Schmalkalden 191 Schmalkalden Union 53, 126 Schmidt, Johann Georg 172 Schmidt-Rottluff, Karl 104, 165 Farm in Daugart 89 Schmitz, Bruno 163, 189, 356, 415 Schmuzer, Franz 280 Schnabel, Tilemann 369 Schnebel, Dieter 29 Schneeberg 166 Schneider, Ernst 393 Schneider, Romy 227 Schnitger, Arp 435 Schnoorviertel (Bremen) 432 Schnütgen-Museum (Köln) 400 Schoch, Johann Leopold Ludwig 156 Scholl, Joseph 350 Scholz, Julius Fighting on the Barricades in Mav 1848 55 Schonbein, Christian 35 Schönberg, Arnold 29 Schönborn, Damian Hugo von 295 Schönborn, Friedrich Karl von 246 Schönborn, Johann Philipp von 246 Schönborn, Lothar Franz von 242 Schönburg Castle 21 Schongauer, Martin 163, 445 Birth of Christ 90 Schramm, Carl Augustus 181 Schrobenhausen 266 Schröder Gerhard 61 Schroer, Hans 266 Schroh, Peter 149

Schuch, Carl 364 Schult, Johann 34 Schultes, Axel 409 Schultze-Naumburg, Paul 134 Schumann, Robert 29, 408 Schumann-Haus (Zwickau) 164 Schütting (Bremen) 431 Schütz. Heinrich 28 Schwäbisch Gmünd 304 Schwäbisch Hall 304 Schwäbische Alb 314–15 Schwangau 42, 283 Schwanthaler Ludwig Bavaria statue 227 Bayerische Staatsbibliothek (Munich) 220 Feldhermhalle (Munich) 218 Schwarzeck 204 Schwarzwald (Black Forest) 12. 322-3, 326-7 Schwechten, Franz 86 Schwedenspeicher-Museum (Stade) 439 Schwerin 13, 33, 467, 470-71 map 471 Schweriner Schloss 470 Schwetzingen 294-5 Schwind, Moritz von 186, 219, 283 Schwitters, Kurt 444 SchwuZ (Berlin) 111 Scientists and Inventors 34-5 Sckell, Friedrich Ludwig von 226, 205 Sea Life Olympiapark (Munich) 233 Sebald, St 258 Security 570-71 Sedlmayr, Helene 224 Seebüll 459, 461 Seeling, Heinrich 197 Seeon Abbey 279 Sehring, Bernhard 141 Seidl. Gabriel von Bayerisches Nationalmuseum (Munich) 219 Deutsches Museum (Munich) 228 Lenbachhaus (Munich) 221 Seiz, Johannes 342 Semper. Gottfried Brühlsche Terrasse (Dresden) 172 Festspielhaus (Bayreuth) 253 Gemäldegalerie Alte Meister (Dresden) 175, 176 Sächsische Staatsoper (Dresden) 168 Schloss Branitz (Cottbus) 141 Semperoper (Dresden) 168 Serro, Johann 284 Severinsviertel (Köln) 401 Severinus, St 274 Severus, St 192 Seybold, M 254 Seyffer, Hans 304 Shopping 558-9 Berlin 106-7 Munich 230-31 Show-jumping 38 Siegburg 407 Siegen 410 Siegessäule (Berlin) 87 Siemens, Ernest W 35 Siemenshaus (Goslar) 451 Sigismund, Emperor 52 Sigismund, Prince 213 Sigmaringen 290, 315 Silbermann, Gottfried 165, 168 Silver Sächsische Silberstraße 166

Simone Martini 197	Stadtbibliothek (Trier) 342	Т
Madonna and Child 405	Stadthagen 442	Tagebau (Berlin) 107
Simonetti, Giovanni 72	Stadtmuseum (Baden-Baden) 301	Tangermünde 153
Sindelfingen 311 Sixt Rent-a-Car 581	Stadtmuseum (Erfurt) 193 Stadtmuseum (Munich) 214	Tanzfabrik (Berlin) 111
Skiing 39, 561 , 563	Stadtmuseum (Weimar) 194	Tauberbischofsheim 292
Slegel, Georg 414	Stalin, Joseph 139	Taxes
Slevogt, Max 347, 364, 430	Starcke, Johann Georg 162, 173	VAT refunds 558 Taxis 582
Slips (Munich) 231	Stargard 474	Taylor, Elizabeth 227
Smids, Michael Matthias 133 Snethlage, Captain 105, 134	Stasi-Museum (Berlin) 102 Staufen im Breisgau 326	Tegernsee 205
Snyders, Frans 213	Stauffenberg, Claus Schenk von 88,	Telemann, Georg Philipp 28
SO 36 (Berlin) 111	100	Telephones 574–5
Soest 411	Stefenshagen 473	Television Tower (Munich) 209 Tempodrom (Berlin) 111
Soest, Albert von 440 Soest, Conrad von 367, 386, 390, 411	Steidl, Melchior 248 Steinbach, Erwin von 305	Tennis 38, 561 , 563
Sögel 428	Steinbach, Wilhelm 479	Ter Brugghen, Hendrick
Solingen 394	Steiner, Johann 309	Jacob accuses Laban of giving
Soltau 440	Steinerne Brücke (Regensburg) 268	him Lai instead of Rachel as a wife 405
Sommer, Oskar 374 Sondershausen 188	Steingaden 202	Teutoburger Wald (Teutoburg
Sophie Charlotte, Electress 98	Steinkirchen 439 Steinplatte 204	Forest) 414–15 , 429
Sophienclub (Berlin) 111	Steintor (Rostock) 476	Teutonic Order 293
Sorbs 180, 181	Stendal 153	Bad Mergentheim 292–3
South African Embassy 567	Stengel, Friedrich Joachim 344	Koblenz 356 Pfarrkirche Divi Blasii
Southern Germany 199–327 Baden-Württemberg 289–327	Steren, Johann von 244 Stiftskirche (Stuttgart) 309	(Mühlhausen) 188
The Baroque in Southern	Stimmer, Tobias 301	Thale 147
Germany 202–3	Stirling, James 308, 312	Thalhofer, Johann 247
Bavaria 239–87	Stock 278	Theater am Hallenschen Ufer
German Alps 204–5	Stolberg, Anna von 292	(Berlin) 111, 113 Theater am Kurfürstendamm
map 200–201 Munich 207–37	Stolpen 178 Stolzenfels 354	(Berlin) 113
Souvenirs, shopping 559	The Story of Berlin (Berlin) 111	Theater des Westerns (Berlin) 113
Spa vacations 562, 563	Stoß, Andrew 251	Theatinerkirche (Munich) 203, 218
Spandau 100	Stoß, Veit	Theatre Berlin 112 , 113
Specialist holidays 562 , 563 Speck, Paul 164	Archangel 260 Bamberg Cathedral 251	Deutsches Nationaltheater
Spee, Friedrich von 342	Kirche St Sebald (Nürnberg) 258	(Weimar) 194
Speed limits 580, 581	Rottweil 317	Markgräfliches Opernhaus
Speicherstadt (Hamburg) 435	St Lorenz-Kirche (Nürnberg) 257	(Bayreuth) 252 Munich 232 , 233
Speyer 346 Spiegelau 271	tomb of 259 Strabo 284	Theft 570, 571
Spiekeroog 428	Strack, Johann Heinrich 87	Theresa (Munich) 231
Spielzeugmuseum (Bremen) 432	Stralsund 423, 477	Theresienwiese (Munich) 227
Spielzeugmuseum (Nürnberg) 258	Strandbad Wannsee (Berlin) 104	Thierchen Kindermode (Munich)
Spindler + Klatt (Berlin) 111 Spirits 524	Straubing 41, 267 Strauss, Richard 28, 29, 168, 194	231 Third Reich 58–9
Spitzweg, Carl 219, 221, 267	Stuber, Nicolaus 293	Thirty Years' War (1618–48) 53, 239
Sports 38–9	Stuck, Franz von	Thonet, Michael 354
activity holidays 560–61	Die Sünde 226	Thorwaldsen, Bertel 101, 309, 377
Berlin 110 , 111 Munich 233	Villa Stuck (Munich) 226–7 Student discounts 569	Thuringia 11, 183–97 climate 45
Spranger, Bartholomeus 444	Stukenbrock 411	hotels 495–7
Spree River 73, 74, 180	Stüler, Friedrich August	map 184–5
Spreewald 10, 41, 129, 131, 141	Alte Nationalgalerie (Berlin) 75	restaurants 534–6
Sprengel, Bernhard 444 Sprengel Museum (Hannover) 444	Neues Museum (Berlin) 75 Nikolskoe 105	Thüringer Wald (Thuringian Forest) 11, 183, 185, 190–91
Spring in Germany 40	Orangerie Schloss (Potsdam)	Tickets
Staatliche Antikensammlungen	138	travelling in cities 583
(Munich) 221	Schweriner Schloss 470	Tieck, Friedrich 103
Staatliche Kunsthalle Baden-Baden 301	Sturm und Drang 26 Sturmius 368	Tiepolo, Giovanni Battista 246, 247 Tiergarten (Berlin) 64, 87
Staatliche Porzellan-Manufaktur	Stuttgart 12, 308–13	Tierpark Hellabrunn (Munich) 233
(Meissen) 167	airport 577	Tietz, Ferdinand 342
Staatliches Museum (Schwerin)	festivals 41, 42	Tilly, Johann 218, 270
470 Staatsbibliothek (Berlin) 68, 85	map 309 Staategalorio 313, 13	Time zones 569 Tintoretto 163, 465
Staatsgalerie (Stuttgart) 312–13	Staatsgalerie 312–13 Suhl 191	Tipping
Staatsoper Unter den Linden	Summer in Germany 41	in hotels 485
(Berlin) 111	Sustris, Friedrich 212, 217	in restaurants 521
Staatstheater am Gärtnerplatz (Munich) 233	Swabian Jura see Schwäbische Alb	Tischbein, Johann H W 461 Goethe in the Roman Campagna
Stachelschweine (Berlin) 113	Swimming 39 Sylt 13, 422, 455, 459	54 Goethe in the Roman Campagna
Stade 439	Synagogues	Tischbein, Wilhelm 429
Städel, Johann Friedrich 378	Neue Synagoge (Berlin) 101	Titian 365
Städelsches Kunstinstitut (Frankfurt	Syrlin, Jörg the Elder 318	Emperor Charles V 222 am Main) 378–9	Syrlin, Jörg the Younger 318	Tribute Money 177

Todtmoos 326	Unger, Georg Christian 138	Vischer workshop 471
Todtnau 326	Ungers, Oswald Mathias 377, 436	Vischering 388
Toilets, public 571	United Airlines 577	Vogeler, Heinrich 433
Tollwood Festival (Munich) 233	United States Embassy 567	Völkerkundemuseum (Munich) 215
Topographie des Terrors (Berlin)	Universitätsbibliothek (Heidelberg)	Völkerschlachtdenkmal (Leipzig)
81 Torgon 164	299 Universities	163
Torgau 164 Tourismusverband Ruppiner Land	Bonn 408	Völklingen 344 Volksbühne (Berlin) 113
563	Göttingen 452	Vos, Martin de 441
Tourist information offices 566–7	Heidelberg 297, 299	Vries, Adrian de 287, 442
Touristik Arbeitsgemeinschaft	Humboldt Universität (Berlin) 68,
Romantische Straße 563	71	W
Tours by car	Jena 196	Waase 478
Chiemsee 278–9	Unter den Linden (Berlin) 10, 68,	Waesemann, Hermann Friedrich 78
Deutsche Weinstraße 347	70–71 Urschalling 278	Wagner, Cosima 252
Moseltal 345 Münsterland 388	Ursula, St 401	Wagner, Richard 21, 28, 29, 41, 252 Bayreuth 252–3
Nationalpark Müritz 475	Usedom 423, 481	Deutsches Nationaltheater
Rhine Valley 354–5		(Weimar) 194
Sächsische Silberstraße 166	V	Festspielhaus (Bayreuth) 253
Waldecker Land 366–7	Valentin, Karl 214	Sächsische Staatsoper (Dresden)
Weser Renaissance trail 453	Valentine, St 373	168
Trabrennbahn (Berlin) 111	Van Dyck, Anton	Schloss Neuschwanstein 201
Trains 578–9 , 582 Trams 583	Bildergalerie (Potsdam) 135 Jagdschloss Grunewald (Berlin)	statue of 87 Tannhäuser 186
Tränenpalast (Berlin) 111	104	tomb of 252
Travel 576–83	Kunsthalle (Bremen) 432	Villa Wahnfried (Bayreuth) 252
air 576–7	Niedersächsisches	Wiesbaden 372
bicycles 583	Landesmuseum (Hanover) 444	Waiblingen 311
buses 583	Schloss Friedenstein (Gotha) 189	Walchensee 205
cars 580–81	Van Gogh, Vincent 96, 172	Waldbühne (Berlin) 113
in cities 582–3 coaches 581	VAT refunds 558 Vauban, Sébastien Le Preste 324,	Waldeck 367 Waldeck, Georg Friedrich von 366
ferries and ships 579	344, 347	Waldecker Land 12, 366–7
S-Bahn 582	Vegetarian food 521	Walderdorff, Johann Philipp von taxis 582	Velázquez, Diego	342
trains 578-9	Portrait of a Man 177	Waldmüller, Ferdinand Georg 220
trams 583	Velde, Henri van de 96, 410	Walhalla (Donaustauf) 255
U-Bahn 582	Velen, Alexandra II von 33	Walking excursions 560 , 563
Travellers' cheques 572	Verband Deutscher Berg- und	Bayerischer Wald 271
Treptower Park (Berlin) 103 Tresch, Aberlin 308	Skiführer (VDBS) 563 Verband Deutscher Naturparke 563	Harz Mountain trail 147 Sächsische Schweiz 178–9
Tresor (Berlin) 111	Verband Deutscher Sporttaucher	Thüringer Wald 190–91
Trier 12, 335, 339, 340-43	(VDST) 563	Wallenstein, General 477
map 341	Verden an der Aller (Bremen) 433	Wallfahrtskirche Maria Gern 277
Trifels 347	Verdun, Nikolaus von 403	Wallfahrtskirche Mariahilf (Passau)
Trost, Paul Ludwig 218	Verkehrsmuseum (Dresden) 169	275
Troth, Thilo von 149 Truman, Harry 139	Vermeer, Jan 443	Wallot, Paul 56, 65, 93 Wallraf, Ferdinand Franz 404
Trusetal 191	The Geographer 379 Girl Reading a Letter 176	Wallraf-Richartz-Museum –
Tschirnhaus, Ehrenfried Walther	The Glass of Wine 91	Fondation Corboud (Köln) 404–
von 124	Vernukken, Wilhelm 365	Walther, Wilhelm 169
Tschudi, Hugo von 220	Versailles Treaty (1919) 58, 59	Walther von der Vogelweide 244
Tübingen 316	Veste Oberhaus (Passau) 275	Wamser, Christoph 398
Turgenev, Ivan 301	Victoria, Queen of England 190	Wangerooge 428
U	Viehmarktthermen (Trier) 342	Wannenmacher, Joseph 317 Wannsee 104
U-Bahn (underground railway) 582	Vienna, Congress of (1815) 159 Vierzehnheiligen 201, 243	Waren 475
Übelhör, Johann Baptist 280	Vikings 460	Warhol, Andy 376
Übelhör, Johann Georg 280	Viktor, St 389	Wartburg (Eisenach) 32, 183, 186-7
Übersee-Museum (Bremen) 432	Viktoriapark (Berlin) 103	Wasserburg 321
Überwasserkirche (Münster) 386–7	Viktualienmarkt (Munich) 214, 231	Wasserschloss Concordia
Üblher, J G 243	Villa Stuck (Munich) 226–7	(Bamberg) 248
Ulm 290, 318 festivals 41	Villa Wahnfried (Bayreuth) 252 Vinache, Jean Joseph 172	Water, drinking 571 Water sports 560–61 , 563
Ulrich, Duke of Mecklenburg 474	Viniculture (Berlin) 107	Waterfalls
Ulrich, Prince 316	Viniversität - Die Weinschule	Hangloch-Wasserfall 327
UNESCO World Heritage Sites	GmbH 563	Trusetal 191
Bad Muskau 180	Virchow, Rudolf 71	The Watt 423, 428
Brühl 406	Virneburg, Archbishop Heinrich	Watteau, Jean-Antoine 125
Goslar 450, 451	von 372	Feast of Love 176
Hildesheim 448 Kaiserdom (Speyer) 346	VISA (credit cards) 572 Visas 566	Gersaint's Shop Sign 99 Love in the French Theatre 91
Lorsch 381	Visas 500 Visbek 429	Pilgrimage to the Isle of Cythera
Lübeck 455	Viscardi, Giovanni Antonio 212,	379
Maulbronn Abbey 302-3	213, 218	Watzmann 204
Völklinger Hütte 344	Vischer, Hans 154	Weather 44–5
Weimar 11	Vischer, Peter the Elder 258	Weber, Carl Maria von 29

Wechselburg 164	Wienhausen 441	World War II (cont.)
Weigel, Helene	Wiesbaden 12, 372	Potsdam 134
Brecht-Weigel-Gedenkstätte	Wiesinger, Wolfgang 270	Potsdam Conference 139
(Berlin) 101	Wietze 441	Würzburg 244
Weights and measures 569	Wild at Heart (Berlin) 111	Wörlitz 145
Weikersheim 293	Wilder, Billy 227	Wörlitz Park 11, 156–7
Weil der Stadt 311	Wildlife	Worms 334, 337, 346
Weilburg 370–71	Flora and Fauna 24–5	Worpswede 433, 439
Weimar 11, 122, 183, 194–5	German Alps 205	Wou, Gerhard 192
festivals 42	Wilhelm, Elector of Hesse 365	Wrede, Karl Philipp von 218
map 195	Wilhelm I, Kaiser 55, 56, 356	Writers 26–7
Weimar Republic 58, 194	monument to 189	Wühlmäuse (Berlin) 113
Weinbrenner, Friedrich 300, 301	Schloss Babelsberg (Potsdam)	Wuppertal 391
Weingarten 319	139	Wurstküche (Regensburg) 268
festivals 40	tomb of 97	Württemberg see Baden-
Weinhart, Kaspar 301	Wilhelm I, King of Wurttemberg	Wurttemberg
Weißenhofsiedlung (Stuttgart) 310	308, 311, 312	Würzburg 244–7
Weizsäcker, Richard von 61 Welf family 48, 318, 441, 443	Wilhelm II, Kaiser 77, 372 monument to 415	map 245 Residenz 200, 246–7
Welles, Orson 227	Reichstag (Berlin) 57	Residenz 200, 240-7
Welsch, Maximilian von 242, 246,	World War I 58	X
295, 377	Wilhelm IV the Steadfast 222	Xanten 383, 385, 389
Werden 390	Wilhelm V, Duke of Bayaria 212,	Aanten 363, 363, 369
Werner, Anton von	215, 267	Υ
Inauguration of the Reichstag	Wilhelm V, Prince 265	Youth hostels 486, 487
56–7	Wilhelmine, Margravine of Bayreuth	Yso, Bishop 433
Wernigerode 33, 146	252	130, Bishop 433
Wertheim 292	Wilhelmshöhe (Kassel) 365	Z
Wertheim (Berlin) 107	Willibald 255	Zanth, Karl Ludwig Wilhelm von
Weser Renaissance trail 453	Wimbachklamm 204	311
Westerland 459	Windberg 267	Zeiller, Franz Anton 285
Western Germany 329-415	Wines 525	Zeiller, Johann Jakob 285
Hesse 361-81	Deutsche Weinstraße tour 347	Zeiss-Planetarium (Berlin) 111
map 330-31	shopping 559	Zenith Flohmarkt (Munich) 231
North Rhine-Westphalia 383-415	Wine in Western Germany 332-3	Zenith Kulturhalle (Munich) 233
Rhineland-Palatinate and	Winkel 373	Zentrale für den Landurlaub
Saarland 337–59	Winningen 333	Landschriften 487
Romanesque architecture 334-5	Winter in Germany 43	Zentraler Kartenverkauf (Munich)
Wine in Western Germany 332-3	Winterfeldmarkt (Berlin) 107	233
Westfalen, Arnold von 167	Wintergarten Variété (Berlin) 113	Zentrales Fundbüro Berlin 571
Westfälische Mühlenstrasse 415	Wismar 472–3	Zeughaus (Augsburg) 286
Westfälisches Landesmuseum für	Wisniewski, Edgar 89	Zeughaus (Berlin) 69, 71
Kunst und Kulturgeschichte	Wittelsbach dynasty 49, 54	Zick, Januarius 295
(Münster) 386	Bavaria 239	Zick, Johann 247, 295
Westpark Spielzone Ost	Heidelberg Castle 298	Ziebland, Georg Friedrich 221, 283
Untersendling (Munich) 233	Hohenschwangau 283	Ziegler, Karl 35
Westphalia see North Rhine-	Ingolstadt 265	Zimmermann, Franz 225
Westphalia	Munich 210, 212, 216	Zimmermann, Johann Baptist 202,
Wettin, Albrecht 167	Schloss Dachau (Dachau) 264	225
Wettin dynasty 54, 183	Witten, Hans von 442, 451	Zingst 476
Coburg 242	Wittenberg see Lutherstadt	Zittau 181
Dresden 168, 176	Wittenberg	Zoologischer Garten (Berlin) 87,
Wettin, Ernst 167 Wettin, Friedrich von 152	Wittstock 132 Wittumspalais (Weimar) 194	111
	Witz, Konrad 260	Zucalli, Enrico 224, 319
Wetzlar 370 Weyden, Rogier van der	Wochenmarkt (Berlin) 107	Dreifaltigskeitkirche (Munich)
St Luke Painting the Madonna	Wölfel, Carl 252	213 Ettal 280
222	Wolfenbüttel 443	Schleissheim 265
Woman in a Bonnet 90	Wolff, Jakob 258	Universität (Bonn) 408
Wheelchair access see Disabled	Wolfsburg 441	Zuckmayer, Carl 102
travellers	Wolgast 480–81	Zugspitze 205
White Trash (Berlin) 111	Wolgemut, Michael 164, 254, 259,	Zuse, Konrad 35
Wichmann, Archbishop 152	261, 317	Zwickau 164
Wichmann, Ludwig 103	Women travellers 569	Zwiesel 271
Widmann, Jörg 29	World War I 58	Zwinger (Dresden) 123, 174–5
Widukind, Duke 47, 415	World War II 59 , 60	Zwingli, Huldreich 369
Wieck 476, 480	Dresden 168	0,1
Wieland, Christoph Martin 183, 194	Hamburg 438
	Peenemünde 481

Acknowledgements

Dorling Kindersley and Wiedza i Życie would like to thank the following people for their help in preparing this guide:

Additional Text

Michał Jaranowski, Barbara Sudnik-Wójcicka, Grażyna Winiarska, Konrad Gruda, Bożena Steinborn

Additional Photographs

Amin Akhtar, Francesca Bondy, Maciej Bronarski, Demetrio Carrasco, Witold Danilkiewicz, Grzegorz Klosowski, Renata and Marek Kosińscy, Sergiusz Michalski, Nils Meyer, Ian O'Leary, Jürgen Scheunemann, Andrzej Zygmuntowicz and Ireneusz Winnicki, Władysław Wisławski; Publishing Manager

Helen Townsend

Managing Art Editor

Kate Poole

Consultant

Gerhard Bruschke

Factcheckers

Barbara Sobeck, Jürgen Scheunemann

Director of Publishing

Gillian Allan

Editorial and Design Assistance

Sam Atkinson, Sonal Bhatt, Hilary Bird, Arwen Burnett, Susi Cheshire, Sherry Collins, Lucinda Cooke, Jo Cowen, Conrad Van Dyk, Marcus Hardy, Lucinda Hawksley, Jacky Jackson, Maite Lantaron, Carly Madden, Jeroen van Marle, Claire Marsden, Ferdie McDonald, Sam Merrell, Rebecca Milner, Kate Molan, Casper Morris, Sangita Patel, Marianne Petrou, Dave Pugh, Simon Ryder, Sadie Smith, Andrew Szudek, Leah Tether, Karen Villabona, Stewart I, Wild

Additional Picture Research

Rachel Barber

The publisher would also like to thank all the people and institutions who allowed photographs belonging to them to be reproduced, as well as granting permission to use photographs from their archives:

Archäologische Staatssammlung in Munich; Arthothek (Jürgen Hinrichsowi); Bavaria Filmstadt; Bayerisches Nationalmuseum in Munich; Bildarchiv Preussischer Kulturbesitz in Berlin (Heidrun Klein): Bildvorlagen Römerschatz - Gäubodenmuseum Straubing (Dr. Prammer); Bischöfliches Dom- und Diözesanmuseum Mainz (Dr. Hansowi-Jurgenowi Kotzurowi); Brecht-Weigel-Gedenkstätte in Berlin (Elke Pfeil); Bridgeman Art Library; Bröhan-Museum in Berlin (Ingrid Jagr and Frau Betzker); Brücke-Museum in Berlin; Brüder-Grimm-Museum in Kassel: Corbis: Das Domkapitel (Gertraut Mockel, Büro Dr Georg Minkenberg); Deutsches Apothekenmuseum in Heidelberg; Deutsches Historisches Museum in Berlin (Kathi Rumlow); Deutsche Presse Agentur (dpa) in Berlin (Tanija Teichmann); Deutsches Museum in Munich (Sigrid Schneider and Marlene Schwarz); Deutsches Schifffahrtsmuseum in Bremerhaven (Hansowi-Walterowi Kewelohowi): Deutsches Tapetenmuseum Kassel (Sabine Thümmler); Deutsches Technikmuseum Berlin (Renate Förster); Diözesanmuseum in Bamberg (Birgit Kandora); Dombauverwaltung des Metropolitankapitels Köln (Birgit Lambert); Dresden Museum für Geschichte der Stadt Dresden (Dr. Christel Wünsch); Flash Press Media (Sylwii Wilgockiej); Forschungs- und Gedenkstätte Normannenstraße (Stasi-Museum) in Berlin (Andrei Holland-Moritz): Fürstlich Hohenzollernsche Schlossverwaltung in Sigmaringen (Heldze Boban); Gemäldegalerie Alte Meister (Steffi Reh); Gemäldegalerie Neue Meister (Gisela Mehnert); Germanisches Nationalmuseum in Nuremberg (Hermanowi Maué); Hamburger Bahnhof in Berlin; Hamburger Kunsthalle; Hessisches Landesmuseum Kassel; Käthe-Kollwitz-Museum in Berlin (A. Ingrid Findell); Komische Oper Berlin (Gaby Hofmann); Kunstmuseum

Düsseldorf (Anne-Marie Katins): Kunstsammlungen Paula Modersohn in Bremen (Hubertusowi Morgenthalowi): Kunstsammlungen zu Weimar (Angelice Goder): Kunstverlag Maria Laach (Helmutowi Keipowi): Kurdirektion des Berchtesgadener Landes (Vroni Aigner Birgit Tica): Landesmuseum Trier (Margot Redwanz): LBB Photo Archives (Dyrektorowi Christophowi Kalischowi); Linden-Museum Stuttgart, Staatliches Museum für Völkerkunde (Dr. Doris Kurelli): Lutherstube in Wittenberg (Jutcie Strehle): Markgräflisches Opernhaus in Bayreuth: Mercedes-Benz-Museum in Stuttgart: Museum am Ostwall in Dortmund: Museum der Bildenden Künste in Leinzig (Roswitha Engel): Museum Folkwang in Essen, Stadt Essen (Mr Hildebrandowi): Museum of the City of Berlin; Porzellansammlung (Ulrike Maltschew): Rheinisches Landesmuseum Bonn (Dr Gerhard Bauchhenß): Rüstkammer (Yvonne Brandt): Schlösserverwaltung in Munich (Frau Gerum): Seebul Ada und Emil Nolde (Dr Andreasowi Fluckowi): Staatliche Graphische Sammlung in Munich (Wiebke Tomaschek): Staatliche Kunstsammlungen Dresden, Albertinum Grünes Gewölbe-Staatliche Porzellan-Manufaktur Meißen GMBH (Christine Mangold); Staatliche Schlösser und Gärten, Pforzheim (Herr Braunowi); Staatsarchiv Hamburg (Kathrin Berger); Staatsgalerie Stuttagart (Frau Fönnauer); Städelsches Kunstinstitut in Frankfurt am Main (Elisabeth Heinemann); Stadt Köln, Wallraf-Richartz-Museum in Cologne (Dr Roswitha Neu-Kock and Dr Mai): Stadtmuseum in Munich; Stiftung Luthergedenkstätten in Sachsen-Anhalt; Stiftung Preussische Schlösser und Gärten Berlin (Carli Kamarze); Superstock Polska Sp. z.o.o. (Elżbiecie Gaiewskiei): Von der Hevdt-Museum Wuppertal (Margarecie Janz); Wartburg-Stiftung in Eisenach (Petrze Wilke): Zefa (Ewie Kozłowskiei)

The publisher would also like to thank the following for their assistance on the guide:

Joanna Minz for coordinating information, Tamara and Jacek Draber for their help with correspondence and telephone contacts, Jürgen Christoffer of Deutscher Wetterdliens for meteorological information.

Picture Credits

t=top; tl=top left; tlb=top left below; tc=top centre; tcb=top centre below; tr=top right; tra=top right above; trb=top right below; cl=centre left; cla=centre left above; clb=centre left below; c=centre; ca=centre above; cb=centre below; c=centre right; cra=centre right above; cb=centre bottom right; crb=centre right below; bl=bottom left; blb=bottom left below; bc=bottom centre; br=bottom right; bra=bottom right above; brb=bottom right below; b=bottom right righ

Works of art have been reproduced with the permission of the following copyright holders: DACS, London 2006: 27cl, 31cl, 59clb, 87cl, 89tl, © Munch Museum/Munch - Ellingsen Group, BONO, Oslo/DACS, London 2006 88cr, 405tc, 437cr; © Succession Picasso/DACS, 2006 96tl, 313crb

Aachener Dom (Copyright: Domkapitel Aachen - photo. Ann Münchow) 396t, 396ca, 396cb, 396t (Skarbiec), 397ca, 397cb, 397br, 397bl; Alamy Images: alwaysstock, LLC/Michael Hill 562tr; archivberlin Fotoagentur GmbH/J. Henkelmann 107tl; Arco Images 12tr, 558cr; Jon Arnold Images/Walter Bibikow 22t; BL Images Ltd 10cl, 231cr; David R. Frazier Photolibrary, Inc. 12bc; FAN travelstock/Sabine Lubenow 11c, 11tl, 560br, 561cl; Iconotexc/Ettore Venturini 559tr; imagebroker/Manfred Bail 231tl; imagebroker/Michael Fischer 561br; imagebroker/Stephan Goerlich 232tc; ImageState/Pictor International 11br; Andre Jenny 230cr; Stan Kujawa 13tr; Yadid Levy 230bl, 522cl; Werner Otto 13br, 142; Gillian Price 560cl; John Stark 10br; Albertinum (Dresden) 172t; Allianz Arena München Stadion GmbH 233tl: Amt für Stadtmarketing und Touristik, Limburg 362cla; Archäologische Staatssammlung (Munich) 219d; Artothek 30t, 30b, 31cla, 31blb, 54t, 176ca, 176cb, 176b, 177t, 177ca, 177cb, 177b, 175cb, 222cb, 261b, 436t, 436b, 437t, 437cb, 444t; Joachim Blauel 31bra, 50t, 222t, 222b, 223cb, 260t, 294cr; Blauel/Gnamm 218t, 222ca, 223t, 223ca, 259tr; Bayer d'Mitko 223d; Sophie-R. Gnamm 226; Alexander

Koch 31trb: Christoph Sandig 470d: G. Westermann 432b. 437t Rasic AG 558bl: Ravaria Filmstadt 227t: Raverische Staatsoner Wilfried Hösl 232bl: Rerlin Tourismus Marketing GmbH www berlin-tourist-information de 97br RerlinerFestsniele Bianka Gobel 109tl: Rrecht-Weigel-Gedenkstätte (Berlin) 101c; Bridgeman Art Library 34br, 103t; Britstock 328-329; Bronarski Maciej 334t, 350t, 350c, 350b, 351t, 351ca, 351cb, 351b; Bröhan-Museum (Berlin) 96t: Brüder-Grimm-Museum (Kassel) 364tr. 368tr (© Staatliche Museum Kassel). Congress-und Tourismus-Zentrale Nürnberg 257tl; Corbis 28tr, 28bra, 28blb, 172c (© Jack Fields/Corbis), 446-447 (©Bob Krist/Corbis). 454 (© Nilk Wheeler/Corbis); Corbis Sygma/Annebicque Bernard 523tl; Michael S.Yamashita 523c; Zefa/Frank Lukasseck 182; Zefa/Herbert Spichtinger 232cr: Danilkiewicz Witold 425b, 466, 474t; Deutsches Apothekenmuseum (Heidelberg) 298tr: Deutsches Technikmuseum Berlin 81b: Deutsches Historisches Museum Berlin (Zeughaus) 26b, 28c, 34ca, 34cla, 34clb, 34crb, 34br, 35cla, 35tlb, 35tr, 35clb, 35cb, 35crb, 35cbr (Holz & Kunststoff), 36 cla, 46, 52tl (R. Bemke). 52tr (Jurgen Liepe), 52c, 52b (A.C. Theil), 53t (R. Boemke), 54b, 55t, 55cla, 56cl, 60b, 61bl, 126tr, 126b, 127t; Deutsches Museum (Munich) 228–229 (all images): Deutsches Schifffahrtsmuseum Bremerhaven 50d; Diözesanmuseum (Bamberg) 251t; dpa 26tra, 27tl, 27tr, 27cra, 27crb, 27br, 27bl, 28tl, 28tr, 35cla, 35cra, 35bl, 36tr, 60ca, 139t, 109t, 205tl, 293t, 461t; Jens Büttner 61t; Claus Felix 43b; Matthias Hiekel 40b; Peter Förster 40t; Wulf Hirschberger 41b; Ralf Hirschberger 38b; Peer Grimm 22tr; Frank Leonhardt 39t: Wolfgang Kluge 28b: Wolfgang Kumm 61br; Kay Nietfeld 38t, 39t; Frank Mächler 41t; Carsten Rehder 38t: Wulf Pfeiffer 41d: Martin Schutt 42t. 181d: Roland Scheidemann 43t: Ingo Wagner 61t: Heinz Wieseler 42b: DK Images Posteritati/Judith Miller 112cl: Dresden Museum für Geschichte der Stadt Dresden 55crb. Eisenach-Wartburg Stiftung 186cla, 186cla, 186clb, 186crb, 187c. Foto-Thueringen Barbara Neumann 122c. Gäubodenmuseum Straubing 47bl; Germanisches Nationalmuseum (Nuremberg) 260-61 (all images); Getty Images Tina & Horst Herzig 561tr; Grünes Gewölbe (Dresden) 172t. Hamburger Bahnhof (Berlin) 93bl: Hamburger Kunsthalle (Hamburg) 30cla, 436t. Hessisches Landesmuseum Kassel 364tl, 364b (© Staatliche Museum Kassel Deutsches Tanetenmuseum): Hotel Palace, Berlin 484cl. KaDeWe store, Berlin 559bl: Quelle 559bl; Käthe-Kollwitz-Museum (Berlin) 87t; Kłosowski Grzegorz 24cra: Kloster Maulbronn 302t. 302b, 303cla, 303crb, 303b; Kölner Dom 402tl, 402c, 402b. 403t, 403ca, 403cb, 403bl, 403br (© Dombauarchiv Köln, Matz und Schenk); Komische Oper (Berlin) Monika Ritterhaus 108b, 108br; Kosińscy, Renata and Marek 24clb, 24bra, 24blb, 25cla, 25tlb, 25blb, 204tl, 205ca, 205tr, 205cl, 205cr, 205br; Kunstmuseum Düsseldorf 30clb; Kunstsammlungen Paula Modersohn 433tl; Kunstverlag Maria Laach 334b, 358tl, 358tr, 358ca, 359t, 359ca, 359cb, 359b; Kurdirektion des Berchtesgadener Landes Storto, Leonberg 276b. Landesmuseum Trier Thomas Zühmer 342t; Linden Museum für Völkerkunde (Stuttgart) 310tlb; Lübeck and Travemuende Tourist-Service GmbH HLTS 462cla; Ludwigsburg - Schloss 306ca, 306cb, 306b, 307t; Lutherstube (Wittenberg) 127t. Mainz - Dom 335b (© M. Hankel-Studio); Mercedes-Benz-Museum (Stuttgart) 310tra: Meyer Nils 60cb: Michalski Sergiusz 20t:

Mittelalterliches Museum (Rothenburg ob der Tauber) 262br: Museum der Bildenden Künste (Leinzig) 51t (MdbK, Gerstenberger 1994): Museum Folkwang (Essen) 31t: Museum für Naturkunde (Berlin) 93br: Museum a Ostwall (Dortmund) 390t: Musikinstrumenten-Museum (Berlin) 85ca Nationalmuseum (Munich) 210t Opernhaus (Bayreuth) 252t. Philharmonie (Berlin) 85t; Popkomm GmbH 109bc; Presse- und Informationsamt des Landes Berlin BTM/Drewes 92bl: BTM/Koch 92cla: G. Schneider 43t. Rheinisches Landesmuseum Bonn 408t: Robert Harding Picture Library H P Merten 13cl; Rocco Forte Hotel de Rome 485br: Rosas Dance Company, Belgium Herman Sorgeloos 109cr. Schauspielhaus (Konzerthaus Berlin) 72d; Schloss Sigmaringen 315b; Karsten Schirmer 108cl: Schlösserverwaltung (Munich) 246ca. 247t. 247ca. 247cb. 247b. 282t. 282ca. 282cb. 282b: Schneider Guenter 62-3: Sea Life München 233cr: Slips Fashion, Munich 230tc: STA Travel 569tr: Staatsarchiv Hamburg 50-51: Staatliche Museen Preußischer Kulturbesitz (Berlin) 48c, 55br, 56-7, 57tl, 57br, 58t, 58cra. 58clb, 58b, 59t, 59bl, 59br, 60t, 64br, 65cra, 75t, 76ca, 77t, 89t, 90cb, 91clb, 98cla, 104t, 124tl, 125brb; Hans-Joachim Bartsch 49c, 49b, 55bl; Jorg P. Anders 84c, 84b, 88b, 90tr, 90tl, 90ca, 90b, 91t, 91cra, 91d; Grammes 48br; Klaus Göken 56b, 59c, 76b, 77d; Erich Lessing 74clb, 76t, 77cb; Jurgen Liepe 75c, 76cb; Georg Niedermeister 77ca; Arne Psille 47br. 48tr. 48bl: Steinkonf 84tr: Staatliche Porzellan-Manufaktur Meißen GMBH 34cra, 124tr, 124cra, 124clb, 124b, 125t, 125bra, Klaus Tänzer 125cra; Staatsgalerie Stuttgart 312tra, 312tlb, 312t, 312b, 313t, 313ca, 313cb, 313b: Städelsches Kunstinstitut (Frankfurt am Main) 378t. 378c, 378b, 379t, 379ca, 379cb, 379b; Stadtmuseum Berlin 69c, 71t; Hans-Joachim Bartsch 53bl; Stadtmuseur (Munich) 69c, 214tl: Hans-Joachim Bartsch 5t; Sudnik 25crb; Stasi-Museum (Berlin) 102b: Stiftung Preussische Schlösser und Gärten Berlin 54c, 98cl, 99ca, 99b, 99crb, 135cr, 136b, 139b; Superstock Polska Sp. zo.o. 324t. Tourist Office - Altötting 270t, 270b. Wallraf-Richartz-Museum (Cologne) 404t, 404ca, 404cb, 404b, 405t, 405c, 405br, 405bl (© Rheinisches Bildarchiv); www.dresden.de Christoph Münch 168tr; Zefa 25cl, 202-3c, 387b, 412-13, 422bra, 422t, 423b, 433b, 450t, 450c, 451tl, 451tr, 451b, 453b, 478t; Bloemendal 5t; Damm 21b, 398b, 288, 394b, 451tra, 467d; Eckstein 23b, 423tl, 423tr, 477b; Freytag 19b, 204tr, 327t; Haenel 1, 33tcb, 456b, 469t, 481t: Kehrer 25cr: Kinne 406t, 406b: Kohlhas 409t: Leidorf 15t, 15b; Rossenbach 8-9, 322-3, 398c, 410b, 411t, 412-13, 459b, 470t; Rose 411t; Steeger 423t; Streichan 352-3, 363t, 383b: Svenja-Foto 394t. 403cra: Waldkirch 450t: M. Winkel 402tr; Zwinger (Dresden) 174t, 174cb, 175b; Gemäldegalerie Alte Meister 176t.

LACKET

Front - Corbis: Derek Croucher main image; DK Images: Pawel Wojcik clb. Back - Alam Images: ImageState/Pictor International cla; DK Images: Dorota and Maiusz Jarymowicz tl, clb, bl. Spine - Corbis: Derek Croucher t; DK Images: Dorota and Maiusz Jarymowicz b.

Front Endpaper

ALAMY IMAGES: Werner Otto R tc; CORBIS: Zefa/Frank Lukasseck R clb.

All other images © Dorling Kindersley.
For further information see: www.dkimages.com

SPECIAL EDITIONS OF DK TRAVEL GUIDES

DK Travel Guides can be purchased in bulk quantities at discounted prices for use in promotions or as premiums. We are also able to offer special editions and personalized jackets, corporate imprints, and excerpts from all of our books, tailored specifically to meet your own needs. To find out more, please contact:

(in the United States) SpecialSales@dk.com

(in the UK) Sarah.Burgess@dk.com

(in Canada) DK Special Sales at general@tourmaline.ca

(in Australia)

business.development@pearson.com.au

Yes

No

Please

Thank you

Excuse me

Goodbye

Good evening

Until tomorrow

Good night

What is that?

See you

Why?

Where?

When?

today tomorrow

month afternoon

morning night

vear

there

here

week

yesterday

Useful Phrases

How are you?

(informal)

Fine, thanks

Until later

Where is/are?

Do you speak understand more slowly?

English?

I don't evening

Phrasebook

In an Emergency

Where is the Wo ist das telephone? Telefon? Hilfe Help! Please call a Bitte rufen Sie doctor einen Arzt Please call the Bitte rufen Sie die Polizei police Please call the Bitte rufen Sie fire brigade die Feuerwehr Stop! Halt!

Communication Essentials

Hello (good day) Guten Tag

Nein

Ritte

Danke

Verzeihung

Auf Wiedersehen

Guten Abend

Gute Nacht

Bis morgen

Was ist das?

Tschüss

Warum?

Wann?

morgen

Monat

Nacht

Morgen

Jahr

dort

hier

Woche

gestern

Abend

Wie geht's?

mir gut

Bis später

How far is it to ...? Wie weit ist es ...?

Could vou speak Könnten Sie

Danke, es geht

Wo ist/sind...?

Sprechen Sie

Englisch?

langsamer

sprechen?

Ich verstehe nicht

Nachmittag

heute

Wo?

voh ist duss tel-e-fone? hilf-uh bitt-uh roof'n zee ine-en artst bitt-uh roof'n zee dee poli-tsy bitt-uh roofn zee dee fover-vayr hult

yah

nine

hitt-uh

dunk-uh fair-tsy-hoong

goot-en tahk

owf-veed-erzay-ern

goot'n ahb'nt

biss mora'n

voss ist duss

var-room

chooss

voh

vunn

hoyt-uh morg'n

nukht

morg'n

var dort

hear vokh-uh gest'n

ahb'nt

vee gavts

meer goot

dunk-uh, es gayt

biss shpay-ter

vee vite ist ess

shpresh'n zee

eng-glish

kurnt-en zee

shpresh'n

lung-zam-er

nisht

ish fair-shtay-uh

voh ist/sind

mohn-aht

nahkh-mit-tahk

goot-uh nukht

Making a Telephone Call I would like Ich möchte

to make a telefonieren phone call I'll try again Ich versuche es later

Can I leave a Kann ich eine message? Nachricht hinterlassen? answer phone Anrufbeantworter

Verbindung

telephone card Telefonkarte Hörer receiver mobile Handy engaged (busy) besetzt wrong number Falsche

ish mer-shtuh tel-e-fon-eer'n

ish fair-zookh-uh später noch einmal es shpay-ter nokh ine-mull kan ish ine-uh nakh-risht hint-er-lahss-en an-roof-be-ahntvort-er tel-e-fohn-kart-uh hur-er han-dee b'zetst falsh-uh fair-bin-doong

Sightseeing library Bibliothek entrance ticket Eintrittskarte Friedhof cemetery train station Bahnhof gallery Galerie information Auskunft church Kirche garden Garten Palast/Schloss palace/castle place (square) Platz bus stop Haltestelle national holiday Nationalfeiertag

Theater free admission Eintritt frei hih len tak ine-tritz-kart-uh freed-hofe barn-hofe gall-er-ree owss-koonft keersh-uh gart'n pallast/shloss nlats hal-te-shtel-uh nats-von-ahl-fire-

tahk tay-aht-er ine-tritt fry

Shopping

theatre

Do you have/ Gibt es...? Is there ...? How much Was kostet das? does it cost? When do you Wann open/ öffnen Sie? close? schließen Sie? this das expensive teuer cheap preiswert size . Größe number Nummer colour Farbe brown black schwarz red blue blan green grün

gelb

Buchhandlung

geept ess

voss kost't duss? viinn off'n zee shlees'n zee duss toy-er price-vurt gruhs-uh noom-er farb-uh brown chyarts roht blau aroon

Useful Words

large gross klein small hot heice cold kalt good gut had böse/schlecht open geöffnet closed geschlossen left links rechts right straight ahead geradeaus

grohss kline hyce kult goot burss-uh/shlesht g'urff-nett g'shloss'n links reshts g'rah-der-owss

Types of Shop

vellow

bookshop

antique shop Antiquariat chemist Apotheke (pharmacy) bank Rank market Markt travel agency Reisebüro department store Warenhaus chemist's. Drogerie drugstore hairdresser Friseur newspaper kiosk Zeitungskiosk antik-var-vat appo-tay-kuh hunk

aelp

markt rye-zer-boo-roe vahr'n-hows droog-er-ree

freezz-er tsytoongs-kee-osk bookh-hant-loong bakerv Bäckerei post office Post Geschäft/Laden shop/store film processing Photogeschäft shop self-service Selbstbedienungsshop laden shoe shop Schuhladen clothes shop Kleiderladen, Boutique food shop Lebensmittelgeschäft glass, porcelain Glas, Porzellan

beck-er-eve gush-eft/lard'n fo-to-gush-eft selpst-bed-eenungs-lard'n shoo-lard'n klyder-lard'n boo-teek-uh lay-bens-mittelgush-eft glars, Port-sellahn Brötchen Brot Brühe Butter Champignon Currywurst

Bohnensuppe

Bratkartoffeln

Branntwein

Bratwurst

Dill

Εi

Eis

Ente

Fisch

Gans

Garnele

Honig

Kaffee

Kalbfleisch

Kaninchen

Kartoffelpüree

Karpfen

Käse

Kaviar

Knödel

Kopfsalat

Kohl

Krebs

Lachs

Leber

Möhre

Nuss

Olive

Petersilie

Pfeffer

Pfirsich

Pflaumen

Pommes frites

Öl

mariniert

Marmelade

Meerrettich

Mineralwasser

Kuchen

Knoblauch

Forelle

Frikadelle

Erdbeeren

brat-kar-toffln brat-voorst hret-tchen brot bruh-uh boot-ter shum-pin-yong kha-ree-voorst

brant-vine

burn-en-zoop-uh bean soup spirits fried potatoes fried sausage bread roll bread broth butter mushroom sausage with curry sauce

Staying in a Hotel

Do you have Haben Sie noch Zimmer frei? with twin beds? mit zwei Betten? with a mit einem double bed? Doppelbett? with a bath? mit Bad? mit Dusche? Ich habe eine Reservierung Schlüssel Pförtner mitt doosh-uh ish harb-uh ine-uh rez-er-veer-oong shlooss'l nfert-ner gebraten gegrillt gekocht geräuchert

Geflügel Gemüse Grütze Gulasch Gurke

goo-lush goork-uh Hammelbraten Hähnchen havnsh'n hair-ing Hering Himbeeren hoe-nikh kaf-fav kalp-flysh ka-neensh'n karpf'n kar-toff'l-poor-av kayz-uh kar-vee-ar k'nob-lowkh k'nerd'l koal konf-zal-aat krayps kookh'n lahkhs lay-ber mari-neert marmer-lard-uh may-re-tish milsh

mer-uh nooss o-leev-uh

payt-er-zee-li-uh pfeff-er nfir-zish pflow-men pomm-fritt fries soft cheese kvark ra-deesh'n radish rind-er-brat'n rind-er-roo-lard-uh beef olive rint-flysh beef rip-sh'n roht-koal red cabbage any vacancies?

with a shower? I have a reservation key porter Eating Out Do you have a table for ...? I would like to

I'm a vegetarian

please

breakfast

dish of the day

main dish

dessert

wine list

tankard

glass knife starter

the bill

plate

fork

Aal

(appetizer) spoon teaspoon cup lunch

dinner

Haben Sie einen Tisch für ? Ich möchte eine reserve a table Reservierung machen Ich bin Vegetarier

Herr Ober! The bill (check), Die Rechnung, hitte Frühstück Mittagessen Abendessen Tagesgericht Hauptgericht Nachtisch Тассо Weinkarte Krug Glas Löffel Teelöffel Trinkgeld Messer

> Vorspeise Rechnung Teller Gabel

harb'n zee nokh tsimm-er-fry mitt tsvy bett'n mitt ine'm

dopp'l-bet mitt bart

tich foor ish mer-shtuh ineuh rezer-veeroong makh'n ish bin vegg-er-tahree-er hair oh-bare!

dee resh-noong

bitt-uh

harb'n zee

froo-shtock mit-targ-ess'n arb'nt-ess'n flush-uh tahg-es-gur-isht howpt-gur-isht nahkh-tish tace uh vine-kart-uh khroog alars lerff'l tay-lerff'l trink-gelt mess-er for-shpize-uh

resh-noong tell-er gahb'l

Menu Decoder

Apfel Apfelschorle

Apfelsine

Aprikose

Artischocke

(eggplant)

Aubergine

Beefsteack

Bockwurst

Banane

Rier

upf' upf'l-shoorl-uh

upf'l-seen-uh upri-kawz-uh arti-shokh-uhor-ber-jeen-uh bar-narn-uh beef-stayk heer bokh-voorst apple apple juice with sparkling mineral water orange apricot artichoke aubergine banana steak a type of sausage Quark Radieschen Rinderbraten Rinderroulade Rindfleisch Rippchen Rotkohl

Rüben Rührei Saft Salat Salz

dill dill eve egg ice/ ice cream ice ent-uh duck avrt-beer'n strawberries fich fish for-ell-uh trout rissole/hamburger Frika-dayl-uh ganns goose gar-navl-uh prawn/shrimp fried g'braat'n g'grilt grilled g'kokht boiled g'rowk-ert smoked g'floog'l poultry g'mooz-uh vegetables arurt-ser groats, gruel goulash gherkin hamm'l-braat'n roast mutton chicken herring him-beer'n raspberries honey coffee rabbit carp mashed potatoes cheese caviar garlic noodle cabbage lettuce crab cake salmon liver marinated marmalade, jam horseradish minn-er-arl-vuss-er mineral water carrot nut

olive

parsley

pepper peach plum chips/ French ioint of beef cured pork rib rhoob'n turnip scrambled eggs rhoo-er-eye

zuft inice zal-aat salad zults salt

Salzkartoffeln	zults-kar-toff1	boiled potatoes	18	achtzehn	uhkht-tsayn
Sauerkirschen	zow-er- keersh 'n	cherries	19	neunzehn	noyn-tsayn
Sauerkraut	zow-er-krowt	sauerkraut	20	zwanzig	tsvunn-tsig
Sekt	zekt	sparkling wine	21	einundzwanzig	ine-oont-
Senf	zenf	mustard			tsvunn-tsig
scharf	sharf	spicy	30	dreißig	dry-sig
Schaschlik	shash-lik	kebab	40	vierzig	feer-sig
Schlagsahne	shlahgg-zarn-uh	whipped cream	50	fünfzig	foonf-tsig
Schnittlauch	shnit-lowhkh	chives	60	sechzig	zex-tsig
Schnitzel	shnitz'l	veal or pork cutlet	70	siebzig	zeep-tsig
Schweinefleisch	shvine-flysh	pork	80	achtzig	uhkht-tsig
Spargel	shparg'l	asparagus	90	neunzig	noyn-tsig
Spiegelei	shpeeg'l-eye	fried egg	100	hundert	hoond't
Spinat	shpin-art	spinach	1000	tausend	towz'nt
Tee	tay	tea	1 000 000	eine Million	ine-uh mill-yon
Tomate	tom-art-uh	tomato
Wassermelone	vuss-er-me-lohn-uh	watermelon	Time
Wein	vine	wine	one minute	eine Minute	ine-uh min-oot-uh
Weintrauben	vine-trowb'n	grapes	one hour	eine Stunde	ine-uh shtoond-uh
Wiener Würstchen	veen-er voorst-sh'n	frankfurter	half an hour	eine halbe Stunde	ine-uh hullb-uh
Zander	tsan-der	pike-perch			shtoond-uh
Zitrone	tsi-trohn-uh	lemon	Monday	Montag	mohn-targ
Zucker	tsook-er	sugar	Tuesday	Dienstag	deens-targ
Zwieback	tsvee-bak	rusk	Wednesday	Mittwoch	mitt-vokh
Zwiebel	tsveeb'l	onion	Thursday	Donnerstag	donn-ers-targ
			Friday	Freitag	fry-targ
			Saturday	Samstag/	zums-targ
Numbers			,	Sonnabend	zonn-ah-bent
0	null	nool	Sunday	Sonntag	zon-targ
1	eins	eye'ns	January	Januar	yan-ooar
2	zwei	tsvy	February	Februar	fay-brooar
3	drei	dry	March	März	mairts
4	vier	feer	April	April	april
5	fünf	foonf	May	Mai	my
6	sechs	zex	June	Juni	yoo-ni
7	sieben	zeeb 'n	July	Juli	yoo-lee

August

September

October

November

December

autumn (fall)

spring

summer

winter

August

September Oktober

November

Dezember

Frühling

Sommer

Herbst

Winter

ow-goost

zep-tem-ber

ok-toh-ber

no-vem-ber

froo-ling

zomm-er hairpst

vint-er

day-tsem-ber

uhkht

noyn tsayn

tserlf

dry-tsayn

feer-tsayn

zex-tsayn

zeep-tsayn

foonf-tsayn

elf

acht

neun

zehn

zwölf

dreizehn

vierzehn

fünfzehn

sechzehn

siebzehn

elf

9

10

11 12

13

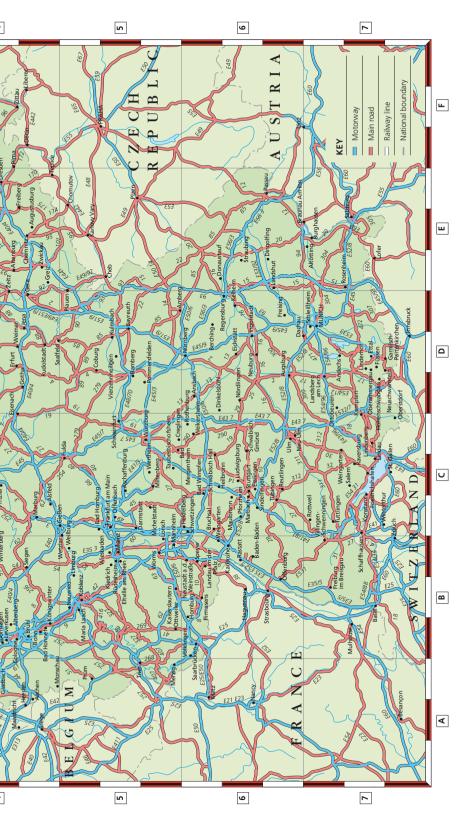

14

15

16

17

EYEWITNESS TRAVEL

"Eyewitness Travel Guides are marvels of writing, color photography, and illustration" New York Times Syndicate

PACKED WITH PHOTOGRAPHS, ILLUSTRATIONS, AND MAPS

THE FLAVORS OF GERMANY -LOCAL PRODUCE AND CLASSIC DISHES

CUTAWAYS AND FLOOR PLANS OF ALL THE MAJOR SIGHTS

HUGE SELECTION OF HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS

SIGHTS, BEACHES, MARKETS, AND FESTIVALS LISTED TOWN BY TOWN

SCENIC ROUTES AND THEMATIC TOURS

ANNUALLY REVISED

