DUBAI & ABU DHABI'S TOP 10

TOP 10 Dubai & Abu Dhabi's Highlights

The Arabian emirates of Dubai and Abu Dhabi, the richest and most powerful of the seven city-states that make up the United Arab Emirates, offer the best of East and West – Arab culture, Bedouin heritage and Islamic architecture, alongside excellent shopping, sophisticated dining and luxurious hotels. Dubai is divided by its bustling Creek and skirted with white sand beaches, while Abu Dhabi is situated on a splendid Corniche.

1 Dubai Museum
Set in a well-preserved fort, the Dubai museum, with its whimsical dioramas (below) and fascinating displays, provides a comprehensive introduction to the city (see pp8–9).

2 Dubai Creek
Criss-crossed by abras (water taxis) and *dhow*s (old wooden boats) each day, this waterway (below) is Dubai's lifeblood (see pp10–11).

3 Bastakiya
The gypsum and coral courtyard houses (left) in this quarter were constructed by Persian merchants who settled here in the last century (see pp12–13).

5 Burj Al Arab
This iconic, attention-grabbing hotel (above) is certainly a sight you cannot miss. It's the world's tallest, all-suite hotel building (see pp16–17).

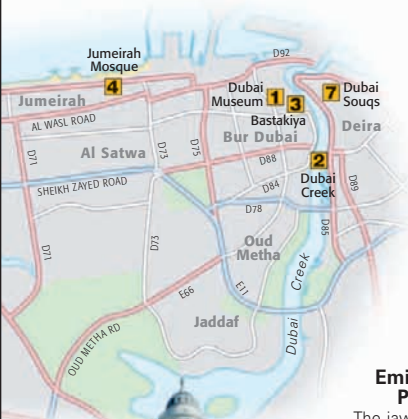

4 Jumeirah Mosque
Not only is this mosque (right) Dubai's most beautiful, it's the only mosque open to non-Muslims. A guided visit to learn about Islam and culture is a must (see pp14–15).

6 Madinat Jumeirah (Dubai)

Shop for handicrafts, dine at a waterfront restaurant, see theatre or sip a cocktail as you enjoy the sunset at this Arabian-themed souq, entertainment and hotel complex (see pp18–19).

7 Dubai Souqs

Bargain for gold, perfume, spices and textiles, or simply take in the heady atmosphere of Dubai's souqs (see pp20–21).

9 Abu Dhabi Authority for Culture and Heritage

Emirates Palace 8

The jaw-dropping display of gold lining the walls (right) and Swarovski crystals dripping from the chandeliers at Abu Dhabi's Emirates Palace hotel make for an impressive sight (see pp22–3).

10 Desert Escapes

A visit to the UAE is incomplete without a desert experience. Stay at enchanting desert resorts Al Maha or Bab Al Shams or take a fun desert safari (see pp26–7).

To enjoy the highlights at a more relaxed pace, spend a few days in Dubai, a day or two in Abu Dhabi and a day in the desert.

TOP 10 Dubai Museum

A visit to Dubai would be incomplete without a tour of this cleverly-planned museum. It offers a vivid picture of how Dubai has crammed into a third of a century what most cities achieve in several. Located near the creekside historic Bastakiya district, the museum is housed within and beneath one of the city's oldest buildings, Al Fahidi Fort. It traces the city's meteoric development from small desert settlement to centre of the Arabian world for commerce, finance and tourism. Visit here to gain a sensory insight into traditions past and present.

1 Al Fahidi Fort
Originally built in 1787, this fort, with its magnificent watch tower, was constructed to defend the Emiratis against invasion. Renovated in 1971, it now serves as a city museum.

2 Barasti Wind-tower House
The fort's courtyard houses a barasti (date palm frond) home (below) and wind-tower cooling system, common in the region up to the 1950s.

3 Bedouin Traditions Display
A gallery displays the costumes, jewellery, weapons and tools of the Bedouin people. A holographic video presentation of a tribe performing the ceremonial sword dance, the Ardah, is hypnotic.

4 Multimedia Presentation
A 10-minute film presentation, with archive footage, explains the development of modern Dubai from 1960 onward. The film takes you through a pictorial tour of Dubai's transformation over 40 years, decade-by-decade.

5 Old Dubai Souq Dioramas

Holographic technology combined with waxwork figures (left), smells, sounds and archive footage transport you into the creekside souq of half a century ago.

6 Islamic School Dioramas

Young Emiratis recite the lines of the Koran (right) under the eye of their tutor in this reconstruction of a 1950's school.

7 Desert at Night Exhibitions

Learn how animals that live in the Arabian desert have adapted to cope with lack of water, extreme temperatures and shortage of food.

8 Underwater Pearl Diving Exhibition

This gallery explains the techniques used by pearl divers (above) who wore nose clips to descend to impossible depths.

Bedouin Culture

Bedu, the Arabic word from which the name Bedouin is derived, means "inhabitant of the desert". Bedouins would move from oasis to oasis by camel and would engage in small-scale agriculture. The hardships of the desert have imbued Bedouin culture with a strong honour code and a famous hospitality.

10 Wooden Dhow

A traditional Arab vessel, the dhow (above), is on show at the museum's exit. For celestial navigation, sailors used the kamal, a device that determines latitude using the angle of the Pole Star above the horizon.

9 Archaeological Finds

Interesting artefacts from excavations of graves that date back to 3,000 BC, such as fine copper and alabaster objects and pottery (left), are on display.

TOP 10 Dubai Creek

Dubai Creek, fed by the waters of the Arabian Gulf, is the lifeblood of old and new Dubai – a vibrant mix of the past and the present. The contrast of traditional wooden dhows being unloaded at the wharfage against stunning modern architecture, such as the glass dome-fronted Bank of Dubai (see p61) and the giant ball-topped Etisalat building, is fascinating. The two sides of the Creek are Deira (north) and Bur Dubai (south) and a walk along either is an enjoyable way to discover this multi-faceted city. Getting across the Creek is easy: the nearest bridge for cars is Maktoum Bridge but the cheapest and most authentic crossing has to be by abra.

By night illuminated dhows glide along the Creek.

1 Abra Trips

Abras are flat-bottomed, open-sided water taxis (right) and are a breezy way to travel. Cram in with other passengers – the abras carry 40,000 people per day – and enjoy the great views.

2 Dhows

The dhow is the traditional sailing vessel of the Emirates. These beautiful wooden boats (left) are used for tourist rides as well as for trade.

3 Waterfront Heritage

In the Shindagha area near the Creek mouth you will find the restored house and museum of the late ruler Sheikh Saeed Al Maktoum and the Heritage and Diving Village (below), which showcases Arabian culture.

4 Wharf Walk

It's worth taking an amble alongside the colourful painted *dhow*s moored on the Creek on Baniyas Road. They arrive each day from India, Iran and Oman. You can wander by and watch their interesting wares being unloaded.

5 Bur Dubai Waterfront

The ruler's Diwan and historic architecture of "Old Dubai" can be enjoyed from the Deira side of the Creek (above): windtowers, minarets and the domes of the Grand Mosque.

6 Bait Al Wakeel

Built in 1934, this was the Dubai office of the British East India Company (below). It has been completely restored and now houses a restaurant.

7 The Diwan

With its modern white windtowers and imposing wrought-iron gates, the Diwan, or Ruler's Office, is impressive (below).

9 Creek Cruises

Several tour operators offer creek cruises with buffet lunch or dinner and entertainment on traditional wooden sailing *dhow*s. A sunset trip is a treat, especially if accompanied by live belly-dancing and Arabian music.

10 Bateaux Dubai

An evening on the Creek aboard the sleek, glass-encased Bateaux Dubai is a luxurious way to enjoy the views. Four-course dinners, white table linen and live piano music make this a romantic indulgence.

8 Creekside Park

A wonderful expanse of parkland, Creekside Park (below) stretches along the water's edge. Walk its length and enjoy the watery vistas or take a fun cable car ride from one side of the Creek to the other.

History of Dubai Creek

Once a tiny fishing settlement sprawled around the palm-fringed mouth of the Creek, Dibeï, as it was known in the 16th Century, owes its existence to the 14-km (9-mile) Dubai Creek which led into a natural harbour and established itself as a flourishing hub for entrepôt trade.

FOR 10 Bastakiya

The old and atmospheric Bastakiya quarter has benefited from extensive renovation work by Dubai Municipality. It gives a picturesque glimpse into the city's past in sharp contrast to the futuristic architecture and audacious construction projects elsewhere. Traditional sand, stone, coral and gypsum windtower houses, with elegant courtyards, can be explored as you wander the maze of shady narrow streets and alleys. The buildings have been restored to their original state, with Arabesque windows, decorative gypsum panels and screens. This area is now home to art galleries, museums and atmospheric cafés.

A Bastakiya window

☛ Set aside a couple of hours to fully see the Bastakiya quarter: late in the day, the golden light and long shadows add to the atmosphere.

☛ For a light lunch, Basta Art Café offers healthy options such as fresh soups, salad and sandwiches.

1 Bastakiya History

Bastak, in southern Iran, is the origin of the name Bastakiya. It was traders from Bastak who founded this area by the Creek in the early 1900s. Drawn by Dubai's liberal tax policies, they settled here permanently.

2 Traditional Architecture

The need to remain cool prompted the distinctive vernacular style of the windtower courtyard houses (right). Thick walls and narrow windows with intricate Arabesque designs are characteristic.

3 Al Fahidi Fort

Now Dubai Museum (see pp8–9), this Fort (above) dates back to 1787. A sighting recorded in 1822 calls this "a square castellated building, with a tower at one angle... with three or four guns mounted".

Restoration work of the original 200-year-old city wall (below) has reinforced the importance of this section of the original city as a crucial defensive zone.

5 Stamp & Coin Museum

Philately House (above) hosts an exhibition of the history of post and currency in the UAE. It explores postal activities before the federation was born.

6 Sheikh Mohamed Centre for Cultural Understanding

Established in 1999 to promote understanding of traditional Emirati culture and Islam, this centre offers walking tours, Arabic courses and cultural awareness programmes. The building is a stunning architectural example of a courtyard house.

7 Majlis Gallery

Majlis means meeting place in Arabic and this bijou art gallery, with a central garden area, is constructed around a beautifully converted whitewashed Arabic house (left). Local Emirati and expat artists feature alongside original pottery, ceramics, crafts and jewellery.

8 Basta Art Café

Set in a traditional courtyard of a Bastakiya house, Basta Art Café (below) is a great spot to sit among flowering bougainvillea and enjoy lunch or a snack.

9 XVA Gallery, Café & Hotel

Enjoy contemporary art in galleries off the shady courtyard of this restored traditional house (left). It also has a café and boutique hotel.

10 Bastakiah Nights Restaurant

This restaurant's (right) Arabian atmosphere is best experienced after dusk. The restored building has been traditionally furnished. Enjoy Arabic and Emirati food inside or on the rooftop.

Windtowers

Windtowers were the most distinctive architectural element of Arabic houses in the early 20th century. With four open sides, each of which was hollowed into a concave v-shape, wind-towers deflected the air down, cooling the rooms below. Water was thrown on the floor beneath the tower to cool the house further.

TOP 10 Jumeirah Mosque

Dubai's culture is rooted in Islam, a fact that touches all aspects of everyday life. Virtually every neighbourhood has its own mosque, but the jewel in the crown is undoubtedly Jumeirah Mosque. This fine example of modern Islamic architecture was built in 1998. It is a dramatic sight set against blue skies and especially breathtaking at night, when it is lit up and its artistry is thrown into relief. Built of smooth white stone, the mosque, with its elaborately decorated twin minarets and majestic dome, is a city landmark and an important place of worship.

The mosque's interiors

1 Opposite the mosque is Japengo Café: it's a pleasant spot for a drink or light lunch on the terrace.

2 The mosque tours are intended to help visitors gain a real understanding of the Islamic faith, so make the most of the question time to find out what you would like to know. Photography is permitted.

1 Mosque Architecture

With its vast central dome (right), this mosque is inspired by the Anatolian style. The exterior is decorated in geometric relief over the stonework.

2 Minarets

Two minarets (above) crown this mosque. The height of the tallest one – the highest point of the "House of Allah" – is determined by how far the call to prayer should be heard.

3 Mihrab

The attractive mihrab – the niche in the wall of this and every mosque that indicates the qibla, the direction one should face when praying – gives the impression of a door or a passage to Mecca (below).

4 Minbar
The minbar (above) is the pulpit from which the Imam (leader of prayer) stands to deliver the khutba (Friday sermon).

5 "Open Doors, Open Minds" Tour

The "Open Doors, Open Minds" interactive guided mosque tour run by the Sheikh Mohammed Centre for Cultural Understanding, offers an opportunity to admire the subtle interior decoration and to gain insight into the Islamic religion (right).

6 Five Pillars of Islam

The "Five Pillars of Islam" are: Shahadah, the belief in the oneness of God; Salat, the five daily prayers; Zakat, alms-giving; Siyam, self-purification and Haj, the pilgrimage to Mecca.

7 Prayers

The adhan (call to prayer) rings out five times a day – all able Muslims must supplicate themselves (below) to Allah by praying on a musalla (traditional mat).

Call to Prayer

Wherever you are in Dubai, you are likely to be within earshot of a mosque and to hear the daily calls to prayer "Allahu akbar" (God is great). Today, the modern-day call is transmitted through loudspeakers; in the past the muezzin made the call himself.

9 The Haj
Every able-bodied Muslim is expected to make the annual pilgrimage to Mecca, in Saudi Arabia, once. Each year millions of Muslims from all over the globe do so to be forgiven of sins, to pray and to celebrate the glory of Allah.

10 Mosque Etiquette
Dubai may be cosmopolitan, but in keeping with mosque etiquette, you must dress conservatively to enter (right). No shorts or sleeveless tops for either gender; women must wear a headscarf. Remove your shoes before entering.

8 Ramadan
During the holy month of Ramadan, Muslims abstain from food, drink and other physical needs. This is a time for purification and to focus on Allah.

Non-Muslims are not allowed to enter mosques, but frequent cultural visitor tours permit you to enter this mosque's interior.

TOP 10 Burj Al Arab

So recognisable that it instantly became an international symbol for modern Dubai, the Burj Al Arab (meaning "Arabian tower"), completed in 1999, is an exclusive all-suite hotel. With its helipad on the 28th floor and a restaurant seemingly suspended in mid-air, at a soaring 321 m (1,053 ft), it takes the trophy for being the world's tallest all-suite hotel. Set on its own artificial island against the backdrop of the turquoise waters of the Gulf, it is dazzling white by day and rainbow-coloured by night when its façade is used as a canvas for spectacular light displays.

The Skyview bar

To visit the interiors, you must make a reservation for afternoon tea, cocktails or a meal. To do this, call 04 301 7600 or email BAArestaurants@jumeirah.com

The dress code at the hotel means that you cannot wear jeans, t-shirts (collared shirts only), shorts, sandals (not in the case of women however), sports shoes or trainers.

1 Architectural Inspiration

The billowing sail of the traditional Arabian dhow was the inspiration for this contemporary architectural creation (right). Access is via the causeway Rolls Royces for guests or by helicopter.

2 Exterior Architecture

The shore-facing façade of the Burj is covered by a stretched translucent fabric. This is Teflon-coated woven glass fibre. It is the first time such technology has been used in this way in any building worldwide.

3 Design Details

The interior oozes with exotic opulence, from the shell-shaped reception desk (below) to the gold-leafed surfaces. The upholstery is a riot of patterns and geometric designs.

4 Interior Architecture

The vast gold columns and many layers of floors rising up (left) from the lobby give a dizzying sensation.

5 Fish Tanks

The lobby boasts two-storey high tropical aquaria, carefully maintained by a dedicated in-house team.

6 Lobby

The upper lobby is an airy space of marbles, mosaics (below) and carpets in swirling patterns. There is an impressive multi-hued dancing fountain.

7 'Underwater' Restaurant

Eating at Al Mahara is like taking a submarine voyage. Dine on fresh seafood and watch exotic fish glide by in the aquarium (below).

The Construction

The Burj Al Arab is said to be one of the most expensive buildings ever constructed and the cost has never been revealed. 250 foundation piles were driven 40 m (132 ft) deep into the seabed; 70,000 cubic m (2,472,026 cubic ft) of concrete and more than 9,000 tons of steel were needed to construct the tower structure; 43,446 sq m (467,648 sq ft) of glass cover the building; 30 different types of marble and 8,000 sq m (86,111 sq ft) of 22-carat gold leaf are incorporated in the decor.

10 Suites

The 202 duplex suites (above) are equipped with the latest remote technology, plus in-suite check-in and butlers. The two Royal Suites offer unsurpassed luxury, including a private cinema.

8 Skyview Bar

This rooftop bar with its sky-high location offers spectacular vistas of the shimmering coastline. It is reached by an express panoramic lift. A must for cocktails at sunset.

9 Spa & Swimming Pool

On the 18th floor is the Assawan Spa, a fitness facility with soothing ocean views. The decor is reminiscent of baths used by ancient Middle Eastern civilizations.

TOP 10 Madinat Jumeirah

The spirit of old Arabia is the inspiration for Madinat Jumeirah, an extravagant complex located on the beachfront comprising two luxury hotels, Al Qasr and Mina A'Salam, and the exclusive Dar Al Masyaf, 29 traditional courtyard summer houses. The charm of the place lies in its detailed Arabian architectural styling – sand-coloured windtowers, arches, stairways and terraces – as well as its ingenious construction around a series of man-made waterways. As a result, navigation around the resort is Venetian-style, in old-fashioned abras. There is an Arabian-style souq, restaurants and bars.

Souq Madinat Jumeirah

📍 If you get lost, ask for a resort map at any of the many information points. Guests can use a connecting boardwalk to nearby Wild Wadi Water Park, Jumeirah Beach Hotel and Burj Al Arab.

This souq is a beautifully recreated Arabian marketplace and as it is air-conditioned, is a delightful place to browse. On sale are Arabian handicrafts, carpets and curios, all, however, at tourist prices.

2 Madinat Amphitheatre

Built around a lagoon, this multi-purpose amphitheatre (below) seats over 1,000 people. It is designed in the style of an old fortress. The encircling citadel houses shops and restaurants.

3 Madinat Theatre

Host to the Dubai International Film Festival, the Madinat Theatre (above) – a 442-seat luxury venue – has provided this previously rather culture-starved city with a lively programme of opera, ballet, comedy and film.

4 Central Plaza

Follow the meandering paths through the souq past open-fronted shops and galleries to the central plaza, where you'll find A'Rukn – a street café with an Arabic twist – the perfect place to enjoy coffee and sample shisha.

5 Al Qasr Hotel

Al Qasr (left) is designed to reflect a Sheikh's summer residence. An opulent hotel, this quieter part of the whole complex is surrounded by water on a virtual island.

6 Mina A'Salam Hotel

Built in the style of a mythical Arabian city, this sea-facing hotel (below) is home to lively eating and drinking venues. All the rooms and suites have balconies.

7 Talise Spa

Relaxation is taken seriously in this tranquil oasis. The spa has 26 treatment rooms located on island clusters so you arrive by abra. Each treatment is described as "person-centric".

Dubai International Film Festival

Madinat Jumeirah is host to the Dubai International Film Festival (DIFF) which has seen celebrities such as Richard Gere, Oliver Stone and Laurence Fishbourne converge for a celebration of movie magic. Morgan Freeman expects that the festival will become "big enough to rival Cannes" in the years to come.

9 Canal-side Eating

Many of the restaurants and bars have large terraces overlooking the tranquil waterways, making alfresco dining a delight thanks to Dubai's reliable sunshine. Zheng He's terrace is particularly charming.

8 Arabian Waterways

There's no doubt that the beautifully designed labyrinthine canals with abras (above) are magical and romantic. Only in the desert of Dubai could such a fantastic resort rise.

10 Jambase

This is one of Dubai's most eclectic music venues (left) where you can dine and dance. It is a stylish jazz bar and offers a rare chance to listen to great live jazz, blues and R&B.

TOP 10 Dubai Souqs

Shopping in Dubai is a shopaholic's dream – there's almost nothing you can't buy here – but away from the air-conditioned marble-floored shopping malls is another experience: the souqs. Many of these, such as the gold, textile and spice souqs clustered beside the Creek, date back to Dubai's beginnings as a palm-fringed trading port. Exploring these through their warren-like alleyways is a delight and a visit to the UAE would be incomplete without spending time in at least some of these fascinating bazaars. Generally, each type of stall, be it spices, crafts, perfumes or clothing, are located close together, making it easy to spot a good deal. Bring cash and keep in mind that bargaining is expected.

Gold Souq's wares

Bargaining is expected in the souqs. Start at half of the initial price, more if you dare, and haggle with a smile until you reach a compromise.

Tax-free prices in Dubai tend to make luxury items such as CDs, perfume and electronic goods highly affordable.

There's a great choice of good-value Indian restaurants in the Bur Dubai souq area.

Most souqs tend to be open 10am–1pm & 4pm–10pm Sat–Thu, 2pm–10pm Fri

2 Deira Spice Souq

This tiny souq is a sensory delight. You can buy aromatic frankincense and myrrh (with charcoal burners for them), plus an array of spices (below) such as cloves, cardamom and cinnamon. Iranian saffron is good value, too.

1 Deira Gold Souq
 This souq gleams with gold, silver and gems. Prices are competitive; dealers come in from around the globe and strict regulations are followed.

3 Deira Perfume Souq

Fascinating shops sell heavy exotic scents like jasmine, oudh, amber and rose and will also mix individual "signature scents". Traditional Arabian attars (above) are for sale alongside Western brands.

4 Deira Covered Souq

The Deira Covered Souq feels more Indian than Arabic, with a great medley of merchandise on offer including colourful and interesting textiles, spices, kitchenware, clothes and henna being hawked.

5 Naif Rd Souq, Deira

A kitsch faux desert fort houses this traditional-style souq (below). You can find everything from cheap clothes and fake designerwear to children's toys and trinkets.

7 Bur Dubai Textile Souq

Be warned, a visit here may prompt a visit to a tailor. Wonderful fabrics of every texture and colour imaginable from all over the world – silks, satins, brocades, linens and more (above).

6 Bur Dubai Covered Souq

Beautifully restored, this creekside souq (left) is covered by an arched pergola. It makes for an atmospheric walkway lined with money lenders and little stalls.

9 Satwa "Souq"

This bustling street is a great place to rummage for cheaper products, such as fabrics, household items and electronics, as well as majlis cushion sets (below).

8 Karama "Souq"

This souq offers all kinds of "copy" items, especially watches and handbags. The quality of much of the merchandise, although fake, is astonishingly good.

Visit to a Tailor's

Dubai is a great place for tailoring, with textiles being so widely available. Various tailors' shops can be found around the Textile Souq, but also elsewhere in Satwa and Bur Dubai. Most will copy from an original item or photograph or you can select from an array of interesting pattern books.

10 Dubai Fish Souq

Hammour, a local fish, is worth a buy. Here you can also barter for fresh barracuda, giant crab (above), lobster and other shellfish.

TOP 10 Emirates Palace

Abu Dhabi's stupendous Emirates Palace hotel dominates the horizon. While its staggering size is impressive, the lavish interior is breathtaking, with gold, marble and crystal throughout. Owned by Abu Dhabi government and operated by Kempinski hotels, Emirates Palace was built over three years by the architects responsible for Claridge's in London. While the Burj Al Arab is touted as a "seven-star" hotel, a rating that doesn't exist, Emirates Palace classifies itself as just that, a "Palace", with the opulent furnishings of a royal palace, regal service and a palatial experience like no other.

The Triumphal Arch

☛ If offered a buggy ride while wandering the grounds, it would be advisable to take it, as Emirates Palace is situated on a million sq m (over 10 million sq ft) of land.

☕ For a coffee or afternoon tea, call into Al Majlis coffee lounge or the Viennese style café. For a full meal, try Mezzaluna or Sayad (see p93).

1 The Triumphant Arch

Before entering Emirates Palace you'll be impressed by a majestic pink Triumphant Arch gate with a dome on top and a long and very grand driveway. The gate is usually closed. It is only opened for royalty and dignitaries on some special occasions.

2 Palace Gardens & Fountains

The exterior of the palace (above), incorporating traditional Arabian elements, is painted to reflect the variations in colour of the Arabian sands. It is beautifully enhanced by its landscaped gardens and spectacular fountains.

3 Gold-plated Lobby

The opulence of the lobby's gold interior (left) is dazzling. Until Emirates Palace was built, Abu Dhabi was a modest city. This is the first time her wealth has been on display in such an ostentatious way.

4 Domes

There are 114 domes here. The most stunning is the Grand Atrium dome (above), decorated with silver and gold glass mosaic tiles and a gold finial at its apex.

5 Palace Suites

Emirates Palace has 302 plush rooms and 92 sumptuously decorated Khaleej and Palace Suites. On the fifth floor is a reception for kings and heads of state and on the eighth are suites designed especially for the Gulf Rulers. The Saudi suite even has its own barbershop.

6 Swarovski Crystal Chandeliers

You'll notice the extravagant use of chandeliers (above) throughout the hotel – at Emirates Palace, they're used like light bulbs and appear to be sparkling everywhere.

7 Petrified Palm Trees

There are 8,000 trees within the hotel. The date palm (below), a national icon, is everywhere. Some of the palm trees, petrified to preserve their natural beauty, look real and are very impressive.

On a Scale Like no Other

The sheer scale of Emirates Palace impresses if nothing else. Ambassadors from 17 countries greet guests in the main lobby, and there are 170 chefs to keep you sated. There's no need to book or pay an entrance fee here. Simply show up and admire the structure.

8 Algerian Sand Beach

The white sand of the 1.3 km- (1 mile) long beach was imported from Algeria. A popular beach for swimming and cricket before Emirates Palace was built, it was felt the sand wasn't soft enough for royal feet!

9 Emirates Palace Theatre

Emirates Palace has given Abu Dhabi its first theatre, the largest in the UAE, with programs such as the Russian Ballet, Arabic orchestras and musical shows like "The Spirit of the Dance".

10 Majlis with Arabian Horse Mural

The most impressive of the many plush public spaces here is the majlis (meeting area). It has a blue ceiling with frescoes and a magnificent mural of Arab stallions.

Emirates Palace has a collection of some 1,002 chandeliers made with Swarovski's premier Strauss crystals.

TOP 10 Abu Dhabi Authority for Culture and Heritage

Emiratis proudly refer to Abu Dhabi as the New York of the UAE and Dubai as its LA. They see the city as an intellectual and cultural centre (whereas Dubai is all about the glitz and glam). No two buildings exemplify this more than the Authority for Culture and Heritage and Qasr Al Hosn. The Authority aims to make the UAE heritage and culture accessible to the city's residents and visitors; the historic Qasr Al Hosn has been converted into a museum.

1 Al Hosn Palace History

Built in 1761, Qasr Al Hosn (right) is the city's oldest building. Former home to the Al Nahayan family, rulers of Abu Dhabi without interruption from the 18th century until today, it was used as the seat of governance until 1966.

2 Al Hosn Palace Gate & Wooden Door

The main entrance (left) to the fort is decorated with elegant Portuguese-style tile work that is typical of tiles found in the Islamic world. The large wooden door has a smaller door that was for daily use. It is embedded with protective black iron spikes.

3 Al Hosn Palace Towers

The several towers (above) were once used to protect the palace. The most impressive is the round tower with the blue dome.

4 Al Hosn Palace Gardens

The simple yet pretty (and underutilized) palace gardens (below) are spread across several courtyards and are shaded by date palm trees. With their trickling fountains, during the cool weather, they make a wonderful place to rest and write a postcard.

5 Al Hosn Palace Interior

The elegant palace interior (below) has long light-filled corridors from which all the high-ceilinged rooms are accessible. The palace conservation project is due to finish in 2011.

6 Interior Details

The interior is much as it was with intricately carved wooden doors, mashrabiya screens and old painted decorations featuring beautiful flowers and peacocks.

7 Authority for Culture and Heritage Architecture

The functional, concrete Authority building has an elegant colonnade designed to catch the breeze. The Islamic tiles are worth noting.

8 Authority for Culture and Heritage Exhibitions

Displays on musical instruments and history, regular performances of various arts and skills, exhibitions and thematic displays are held here.

Cultural Preservation

Emirati culture is found in its many dances and songs, its tradition of oral storytelling, its religious rituals and its wonderful Bedouin heritage. The Authority for Culture and Heritage's mission is to preserve and promote Emirati heritage and it's a great place to learn about local culture.

9 Delma Café

Delma Café is a pleasant place for fresh juices, sandwiches and sweets. You just might bump into an Iraqi composer or a Syrian poet here.

10 Heritage Corner

The wonderful live handicrafts displays outside Delma Café provide a rare opportunity to see Emirati women practicing their traditional crafts (right), such as basket weaving, saddu (textile weaving) and talli (embroidery). You can also buy the items.

Take a postcard or book along – the gardens are a lovely place to sit and relax for a while.

TOP 10 Desert Escapes

The Emirates' desert is sublime in parts and a trip here is incomplete without experiencing its myriad textures and colours. Not far out of the cities, camels graze on desert grass. If you don't have a 4WD and off-road driving skills, the best way to experience the desert is at the magical desert resorts Al Maha or Bab Al Shams, or on a popular desert safari. While desert safaris are touristy, they're lots of fun and allow you to tick off a range of experiences you otherwise wouldn't get a chance to do. If you have time, stay overnight, sleep under the stars and enjoy the silence.

1 The Desert

The UAE is all desert, apart from Al Ain's lush date palm oases, the Hajar mountains and rocky east coast. There are stunning dunes (below) dotted with camels on the roads to Hatta and Al Ain, but the most spectacular dunes are in the Liwa Oasis.

2 Desert Safaris

Tour agencies like Arabian Adventures organize exciting desert safaris. These may include an exhilarating desert drive in a 4WD (above), falconry displays, sandboarding, a sunset camel ride, Arabic buffet and belly dancing.

3 Bedouin Tents

Traditional chocolate-coloured goat- and camel-hair tents dot the desert dunes in winter. Emiratis love to get away from the cities and take their children camping so they don't forget their heritage.

To avoid dehydration in the desert, drink plenty of water. Protect yourself from the sun by slathering on sunscreen.

4 Dune Bashing

Experience an exhilarating "dune bashing" session – a white-knuckle 4WD desert drive across the monstrous sand dunes.

5 Quad Biking

Quad biking over the dunes is a popular and thrilling way of seeing the desert. This activity, however, is not for the faint-hearted and safety equipment must be worn.

6 Camel Riding

Get up-close-and-personal with this local beast of burden. Nothing is quite like a camel ride (above) along spectacular dunes at sunset on a desert safari.

7 Belly Dancing

Belly dancing is known as Oriental dancing in the Middle East. Try to pick up some moves from the dancer at the desert safari (below) – she may even pull you up for a shimmy.

8 Bedouin Feast

Try a delicious Arabic buffet (below), such as the Bedouin feast at Bab Al Shams' Al Hadheerah Desert Restaurant. Try local specialities including roasted baby camel.

10 Al Maha Resort

Book a private and romantic tent-like luxury suite, and you get your own personal plunge pool with the golden desert as your "backyard".

9 Bab Al Shams Desert Resort & Spa

The palm-shaded gardens and trickling ponds make this desert resort (below) enchanting. A wonderful infinity pool overlooks the desert. Enjoy falconry here.

Liwa Oasis

The most spectacular desert scenery can be enjoyed at Liwa Oasis, just a few hours drive from Abu Dhabi. The sand dunes of the Liwa are the prettiest-coloured, in shades of peach and apricot. They are also the largest in the UAE – best appreciated shortly after sunrise or sunset.

TOP 10 Culture & Tradition

1 Bedouin Society
The semi-nomadic lifestyle of the Bedu tribes – most of whom spent the harsh summers inland at the cool date-palm oases and their winters fishing by the sea – is a source of pride for Emiratis. ☞ Visit the Heritage Villages in Dubai (see p67) and Abu Dhabi (see p89) for a glimpse into the Bedouin culture.

2 The Camel
Mainstay of the Bedouin's nomadic life, the camel enabled tribes to move their possessions from coastal villages to inland oases. Camel's milk quenched their herders' thirst when water wasn't found, while the fur was used to make tents, textiles, rugs, bags and cloaks. ☞ Ride a camel at the Heritage and Diving Village in Dubai (see p67).

3 The Arabian Horse
Beloved by the Bedouin for their elegance and valued for their strength and sturdiness, the Arabian horse is one of the world's oldest and purest of breeds due to the Bedouin's careful inbreeding, practiced for centuries. ☞ Appreciate the beauty of the Arabian horse on display at the Heritage and Diving Village (see p67) during Eid and Shopping Festivals.

4 Falconry
In the past, falcons were used by Bedu to capture small birds and hares. Today, Emirati men still train their falcon daily.

Some desert resorts and safaris display falconry. ☞ Dubai Falcon Centre: Nad Al Sheba; open 8:30am–8:30pm Sat–Thu, 2pm–8:30pm Fri

5 The Date Palm
Dates were essential for desert survival. They were used to create tamr, a preserve, which helped sustain the Bedu over long journeys. There are over 50 date varieties in the UAE. ☞ Bateel (see p37) sells good dates.

6 Fishing and the Dhow
Historically, fishing, dhow building and pearl diving were the main occupations along the coastal settlements. Today, Emiratis still use the old wooden dhow boats for fishing, trading and tours. ☞ Visit dhow-building wharves in Abu Dhabi (see p90).

7 Poetry, Dance & Song
Emirati poetry takes many forms, from the romantic baiti style to the vernacular nabati poetry. Wedding processions are an occasion for song and dance. Songs and group dances such as the ayyalah and liwa celebrate bravery in war and at sea. 🕒 Enjoy traditional performances at the Heritage and Diving Village (see p67) during Eid and the Dubai Shopping Festival.

8 Rifle-throwing
Prior to Federation there was periodic warring between tribes, and Bedu were respected for how they handled weapons. These days, young Emirati men practice throwing their rifles high in the air while dancing and clapping. 🕒 Watch gun-throwing competitions at the Heritage and Diving Village (see p67) during Eid and the Dubai Shopping Festival.

9 Traditional Dress
Women wear a black cloak-like abaya and black shayla to cover their hair. Men wear a white dishdasha and a white or checked gutra (head scarf) with a black agal to hold it in place.

10 Henna
Intricate henna patterns were painted on pottery across the Middle East in Neolithic times, around 9000 BC. Today, Emirati women have henna designs painted on their hands and feet for weddings and other celebrations. 🕒 Get henna designs at "henna tents" in shopping malls.

TOP 10 Things to Buy

1 Gold

Dubai is "the City of Gold". The Gold and Diamond Park glitters with ornate jewellery. Gold is sold by weight; intricate designs are more expensive.

📍 Map C2 • Sheikh Zayed Rd, Interchange 4, Dubai • 04 347 7788 • Open 10am–10pm Sun–Thu, 10am–midnight Sat–Fri • www.goldanddiamondpark.com

2 Carpets

The UAE is the best place to buy Persian carpets outside of Iran. A discerning market ensures the best quality rugs come here while no tax keeps prices low. Shop around and bargain hard but most of all, enjoy the tea – the ritual is half the fun of it.

3 Arabian "Antiques" & Handicrafts

Arabian "antiques" include brass coffee pots, engraved trays and framed khanjars (daggers). You'll also find traditional Emirati handicrafts such as woven baskets, embroidery and red striped textiles made into camel bags and rugs. Moroccan lanterns, Turkish and Persian miniature paintings and Indian cushion covers are also popular.

4 Arabian Attars & Perfumes

The heady aromas of exotic Arabian attars (perfume oils) are an acquired smell. Many women buy them for the beautiful jewel-encrusted bottles. If offered oud (fragrant wood) in an incense burner, don't forget to waft the smoke under your arms – it is used traditionally as a deodorant.

Traditional Bedouin jewellery

5 Bedouin Jewellery

Much of the old silver Bedouin jewellery comes from Oman, Yemen, Afghanistan and India, but only experts can tell. Expect to find chunky bangles, necklaces, earrings and rings, engraved and intricately set with gemstones, cowrie shells and dangling little bells.

6 Pink Sushi Designs

This local label features cute handbags and quirky skirts made using the gutra, the red and white checked Emirati head-dress. They are available from various stores, including Amzaan (see p70) and Sauce (see p37).

7 Electronics/Digital Products

The range of electronic products is enormous – if there's a gadget on the market, you'll get it here. The tax-free environment means prices are low, but competition (don't be surprised to see a dozen electronics stores all in a row) means amazing prices and bargains if you shop around.

8 Global Designer Brands

Being tax-free, the world's best designers and exclusive labels here go for a fraction of the price they do elsewhere.

Buy Middle Eastern music at Virgin Megastore at the malls or at a music shop in the souqs.

DUBAI & ABU DHABI'S TOP 10

Around Dubai – Deira

THE TERM DEIRA IS USED TO DESCRIBE the bustling commercial area north of the Creek. Deira is the source of Dubai's trading roots and it is around the Creek that you really get a sense of this. There is a telling contrast between the sight of the old wooden dhows moored at the wharftside reflected in the glass façades of the spectacularly sleek skyscrapers. Much of the dhow cargo is destined for the souqs and shopping districts of buzzy Deira. As a result, this area boasts some of Dubai's most atmospheric souq-life, especially at the Gold Souq, Spice Souq and Deira Souq. A major preservation effort by Dubai Municipality means that this area offers some architectural gems like the Al-Ahmadiya School and the Heritage House. The narrow streets and the general traffic congestion in the area mean that to enjoy it all, it's really best to explore on foot.

The Al-Ahmadiya School

1 Al-Ahmadiya School
 Dubai's first school, opened in 1912, was founded by a philanthropist pearl merchant. Maths, the Holy Koran and Arabic calligraphy were taught. The boys sat on palm mats. Many such schools were located in Emirati coastal cities with the support of leading merchants and Sheikhs, who subsidised the education. This school closed in 1963. Now a museum and worth visiting for its sheer architectural grace, it offers an educational insight into the past. 📍 Map K1
 • Al Khor St • 04 226 0286 • Open 8am–7:30pm Sat–Thu, 2:30pm–7:30pm Fri

2 Heritage House
 This beautifully restored airy courtyard house dates back to the 1890s. Unusually, this 10-room building does not have a windtower, but the upper floor is designed with open doors and windows to draw in the Creek breezes. Now a museum giving an insight into Emirati life, you can explore the different rooms, all furnished to period, with dioramas. There are touch-screens too. 📍 Map K1 • Al Khor St
 • 04 226 0286 • Open 7:30am–2:30pm Sat–Wed, 2pm–5pm Fri

3 Watchtower
 Tucked away in the busy streets of Deira is a surprise: a beautifully restored mud-brick watchtower that stands in its own gardens. This round tower is Burj Nahar. It dates back to 1870 when it was one of three towers that served as part of Dubai's network of defences. Guards would scale the tower and keep watch for invaders during tribal disputes. The short masonry columns projecting above the roof level once held a palm frond (barasti) roof. 📍 Map M2 • Omar Bin Al Khattab Rd

4 Gold Souq
 You are unlikely to have ever seen so much gleaming gold as in Dubai's historic Gold Souq. The souq is still dominated by Indian and Iranian craftsmen and traders, as it has been for close on a century. It has been restored with a traditional Arabic arcade with arching wooden roof. You'll find jewellery in both Arabic and western styles (see p20).

Gold displays at Deira Gold Souq

Exotic spices at the Spice Souq

5 Spice Souq Moody and atmospheric, the Spice Souq is a sensory trip into the past, where you can wander through a maze of narrow alleyways lined with shops piled high with aromatic spices. You'll find sacks of cinammon sticks, frankincense, cumin, coriander seed and oud. Some great souvenir buys include frankincense (sold with charcoal burner), henna kits (for hand and body decoration), saffron and fragrant rose water (see p20).

6 Deira Souq This is where you get a real taste of the melting pot of cultures that is Dubai. This souq is frequented by Emiratis and expats. The shops sell everything from bright Indian clothing to colourful kitchenware to electric household appliances to pirated CDs. It's a fascinating area to wander in. If you do plan to shop, remember, nothing is sold without haggling (see p20).

Deira History

Liberal trade policies are the roots of Deira which, by the early 20th century, had developed the largest souq on the Arabian coast.

It became a natural haven for merchants who left Lingah, on the Persian coast, after the introduction of high customs there in 1902. They continued to trade with Lingah, as do many of the *dhow*s in the Creek.

7 Baniyas Square This busy commercial square and traffic junction is the heart of Deira's business district and is home to airlines, hotels, restaurants, shwarma stands and businesses. By night, it glows with Tokyo-esque neon lights and signs. The Dubai Department of Tourism and Commerce Marketing has a useful Visitors Information Bureau here. The square is named after the influential Bani Yas tribe of Abu Dhabi, from which the ruling Maktoum family of Dubai is branched. 📍 Map L2

8 Dhow Wharfs A walk along the wharfside besides Baniyas Road allows you to get up close to the painted wooden *dhow*s, the traditional Arabian sailing vessels, moored here. These ships still trade around the Gulf. Their cargo these days is tyres, refrigerators, air conditioners, electronics – just about any modern item! Moored five or six abreast, these *dhow*s have sailed to trade with Dubai from places such as Iran, Pakistan and Sudan since the 1830s. 📍 Map K3 • Baniyas Rd

9 Dubai Creek Golf & Yacht Club

This soaring white building, inspired, like the Burj Al Arab, by the sails of a dhow, and sitting amidst rolling greens, is a city landmark, visible from both Maktoum and Garhoud bridges. Opened in January 1993, the world-class golf course here is the centre-piece of a sprawling leisure complex that also incorporates a 115-berth marina. The separate yacht club incorporates the Aquarium, an excellent seafood restaurant, as well as one of Dubai's most popular alfresco eateries, the Boardwalk (see p64), which sits on stilts and offers a spectacular view of the Creek, especially at night when the illuminated *dhow*s pass by.

📍 Map K6 • Garhoud • 04 295 6000

10 National Bank of Dubai

Another architectural achievement is the National Bank of Dubai – one of the city's first iconic buildings. Built in the mid-1990s by Carlos Ott, architect of the Opéra de la Bastille in Paris, it is inspired by the dhow. Its curved curtain glass wall symbolizes the billowing sail. The base of the building is clad in green glass representing water and its roof is aluminium, the hull of the boat. It is most striking at sunset, when the mirror reflects its gold and silver lights. 📍 Map K3 • Baniyas Rd

A Souk Stroll

Afternoon

🕒 Aim to start this walk around 4:30pm, when the souq shops re-open after prayers and temperatures are cooler. Start with an abra crossing from the Bur Dubai Abra Station. You can disembark at Deira Old Souq Abra Station (see pp10–11). Take the underpass beneath Baniyas Road to emerge at the spice souq entrance. Enjoy a browse among the fragrant alleyways here. Leave the spice souq at Al-Abra St, turn right along Al-Ras St which leads into Sikkat Al-Khail St. Ahead you will see the latticed entrance to the Gold Souq with its colonnaded interior (see p59). There are more than 300 jewellery shops to explore (most take credit cards). Wander into the alleyways off the main thoroughfare and enjoy a cup of tea at one of the small cafés. Exit at the gold souq and continue along Sikkat Al-Khail St to the tiny Perfume Souq. The shop windows here are a treasure trove of bottles filled with heady Arabian scents, incense and oud.

Evening

🍴 Enjoy an evening snack by continuing along Sikkat Al-Khail St to Ashwaq Cafeteria (see p64), a down-to-earth café with outdoor tables, serving shwarmas. Next, return to the Creek to admire the Dhow Wharfage (see p84). For a relaxed end-of-day, drop in at Radisson Blu Hotel's Up on the Tenth (see p65) and chill with a cocktail and sensational sunset Creek views.

Bur Dubai

THIS BUSTLING PART OF THE CITY IS now packed with hotels, office block and residential developments, yet over a century ago it was an area of sand and barasti (palm frond houses) and windtower houses around the Creek. The best spot to get a real sense of old Bur Dubai is the historic Bastakiya quarter where the charming courtyard houses have been restored beside the Creek. This lovely atmospheric district is a quiet oasis amidst the city's hustle and bustle. Here too is the imposing Al Fahidi Fort, now Dubai Museum, the original defence outpost for Dubai. The Shindagha heritage area, right at the Creek mouth, is the spot where Dubai's role as an enterprising and cosmopolitan trading city really began. Bur Dubai's souqs, beginning with the textile- and curio-filled old Bur Dubai creekside souq are evidence of this. If you explore the streets further back, into the heart of the dizzyingly-colourful Textile Souq, you'll find a real community feel.

1 Dubai Museum & Al Fahidi Fort

Once Dubai's main defence outpost, the imposing sand-coloured Al Fahidi Fort was built in 1788 and has also served as a gaol and the ruler's residence. Renovated in 1970, it is now the city museum and worth a visit for an informative overview of the emirate's history. It makes an entertaining visit for all ages: you can walk through a souq from the 1950s, visit an oasis with a falaj (irrigation channel), learn about the desert at night and visit a traditional barasti (palm frond) house (see pp8–9).

2 Bastakiya

This is one of the oldest and most atmospheric heritage areas in Dubai. Here you can wander the alleyways between original, restored courtyard houses, many crowned by barjeel (windtowers) which were the earliest forms of air conditioning. Late afternoon is the best time to spend a couple of hours here, when the light throws the architecture into golden relief. The area has become a cultural hub for the city with many buildings converted to art galleries and courtyard cafés (see pp12–13).

3 Heritage Village & Diving Village

A microcosm of Dubai's cultural and historic past, located near the mouth of the Creek in the old Shindagha conservation area, this traditional complex is a living museum staffed by potters and weavers practising crafts as they have for centuries. There's a tented Bedouin village, armoury displays, handicraft shops, camel rides and an exhibition of Emirati cooking techniques. The Diving Village focuses on Dubai's sea-faring and pearl diving history, with displays of traditional *dhow*s and black and white photographs.

4 Sheikh Saeed Al-Maktoum House

Built in 1896 from coral stone covered in lime and sand plaster, this was the home of Dubai's former ruler until his death in 1958. The house was opened as a museum in 1986 and contains collections of photographs, coins, stamps and documents. It's worth visiting for the building itself, with its four windtowers and verandahs. Photographs from the 1950s–80s show seaplanes landing in the Creek and reveal the extraordinary pace of development. Copies of early oil prospecting agreements with international companies make fascinating reading on the Trucial Coast "oil rush." 📍 Map J1 • Al Shindagha • 04 393 7139 • Open 8am–10pm Sat–Thu, 3pm–10pm Fri • Adm

A windtower in Bastakiya

Maktoum family's settlement on Dubai Creek

The Maktoum family's reign as rulers of Dubai began in 1833, when Sheikh Maktoum bin Buti and around 800 tribesmen broke away from the Bani Yas tribe of Abu Dhabi. They settled in Shindagha, an ideal location for trade and for the development of Dubai's pearling and fishing industries.

5 Sheikh Juma Al-Maktoum House

This building is a superb example of Arab structural design. Built in 1828, the rooms help you learn about the indigenous building materials used – mountain stone, mud, coral stone and gypsum – and the importance of the windtowers for internal cooling.

📍 Map J1 • Al Shindagha • Open 8am–2:30pm Sun–Thu

6 Sheikh Obaid bin Thani House

This important property belonged to an influential member of the Qatari royal family who married into the Maktoum clan. A magnificent two-storey house with a courtyard, it was built in 1916. Offset entrances were designed to protect the privacy of the residents. The upper floor has larger openings to draw in the Creek breezes. The large lamp over the entrance harks back to the house's seafaring trading past. 📍 Map K1 • Al Shindagha • Open 9am–2pm Sun–Thu

7 Bin Zayed Mosque

An unusual square mosque without a traditional dome, the Bin Zayed Mosque was built in 1968. This spartan little place of worship is still used today. Close by is Al Mulla Mosque, made from mud and topped by a cylindrical minaret – restored according to the oral accounts of elderly Emiratis. 📍 Map J1

• Al Shindagha

8 Bait Al Wakeel

A fine example of early 20th-century coral stone architecture, the beautiful Bait Al Wakeel was once the offices of the British East India Shipping Company. This early office building, the first building in Dubai built specifically for administration, is worth a visit to check out the primitive facilities that Dubai's bureaucracy had to contend with. To the rear of the building is a casual eatery offering Creekside views. They offer decent Thai and Arabic

The Ruler's Court/Diwan at dusk

Beautiful street lamps at the Textile Souq

dishes on their menu, and it is well worth taking time out and stopping here for a juice or coffee to enjoy the bustling Creek vistas (see p11).

9 Bur Dubai Souq

This souq begins at the water's edge by the Dubai Old Souq Abra Station and, since its renovation, is now housed under an imposing arcaded wooden roof. It's a mix of old and new – here you'll find moneychangers, textiles, bargain clothes, glittery Arabian slippers and curios. This souq merges with the Textile Souq, which is fun to explore – here you'll see tailors working on old-fashioned sewing machines (see p21).

10 Ruler's Court/Diwan

A handsome cream building with imposing windtowers sits beside the Creek next to Bastakiya quarter and the Grand Mosque. The striking gold-topped wrought iron gates give a clue to its importance: this is the seat of power and is the Ruler's Court or Diwan, (Persian for couch). This is where Dubai's ruler Sheikh Mohammed's offices are located.

A Day's Exploration of Old Dubai

Morning

🕒 Start your tour at the Heritage and Diving Village at 10am, where you can learn about Emirati crafts and the history of Dubai's pearling industry. Break for fresh lemon and mint juice at any of the nearby waterside restaurants. Now head in the opposite direction to explore the rest of the Shindagha heritage area, including a visit to the museum within Sheikh Saeed Al-Maktoum House (see pp10–11). Following the curve of the Creek you will arrive at the wooden-arcaded Bur Dubai Souq. Enjoy a browse of the textile and curio stalls here. Also, peep down the alleyways for views of restored windtowers and small fabric and tailor shops. At the end of the first covered section of the souq, head left to the Creek for a great view across to Deira Spice Souq (see p20). Then wend your way through to Ali Bin Abi Thalib Rd – to your right is the unmistakable Al Fahidi Fort and Dubai Museum (see pp8–9), where you can easily spend an interesting, informative hour.

Afternoon

Head along Al-Fahidi St to the Bastakiya area where you can enjoy a leisurely courtyard lunch inside the restored building of the Basta Art Café. Afterwards, spend some time exploring Bastakiya's alleys and buildings; don't miss Bastakiah Nights and the Majlis Gallery (see pp12–13).

Sheikh Zayed Road

THE KEY ARTERY OF DUBAI, SHEIKH ZAYED RD is the outset of the highway direct to Abu Dhabi. It's becoming known as "The Strip" because, just as in Las Vegas, this symbol of Dubai's meteoric development is flanked with the most innovative and contemporary of global architecture. Coming up at Interchange One are the Burj Khalifa, the world's tallest building and The Dubai Mall, Dubai's greatest tribute to consumerism. Jumeirah & New Dubai

JUMEIRAH, A DISTRICT OCCUPYING THE PRIME BELT of coastline stretching south-west from the port area, is the most glamorous and hedonistic of the city. It's no surprise that residential property here is pricey – it's the ultimate location for a villa in the sun and the quiet leafy streets are filled with bougainvillea-clad luxury villas, usually with a BMW or a monster four-wheel drive parked outside. Here too are the city's most extravagant resort hotels, including the Burj Al Arab, the wave-shaped Jumeirah Beach Hotel, the Arabian-styled One&Only Royal Mirage and the vast Madinat Jumeirah, plus a string of others stretching out along this all-important coastal strip of the Arabian Gulf. Out at sea is the famous Palm Jumeirah Island, whose villa-topped fronds have extended the coastline by 120km. The area is excellent for shopping and leisure and for enjoying beachlife in general, whether you choose to stretch out on your hotel beach or enjoy any of the public beaches.

1 Jumeirah Beach

Strictly speaking, Jumeirah Beach is the 9-km (6 miles) stretch of golden coastline running parallel to the Jumeirah Beach Rd, lined by some of the city's most desirable villa accommodation and hotels. There's a good choice of public beaches at Umm Suqueim, Kite Beach and Russian Beach, while the pleasant Jumeirah Beach Park is a delightful spot to while away a day in the sun. 📍 Map A4 • Jumeirah

2 Burj Al Arab

Visible from almost anywhere in Jumeirah is the iconic luxury hotel, the Burj Al Arab, a symbol for the city itself and distinguished by its unusual shape mirroring the billowing sail of a dhow. Reservations are needed to visit the interior of this opulent hotel. For a great close-up view of the exterior, drop into the Jumeirah Beach Hotel (see p44) and take the super-fast glass elevator to the top floor (see pp16–17).

3 Madinat Jumeirah

This vast leisure and entertainment complex has become a major focus of the Jumeirah area – with its two hotels, Al Qasr and Mina A' Salam (see pp18–19) linked by a series of seawater-fed waterways navigated by silent battery-powered abras. There are more than 45 restaurants, bars and cafés, many offering waterside views, with the romantic seafood restaurant, Pierchic (see p83), located on a pier that stretches into the Arabian Gulf. Here too you'll find the city's hippest dance club, Trilogy, plus the Madinat Jumeirah Souq, a delightful reconstruction of a traditional Arabian bazaar (see pp18–19).

4 Wild Wadi Water Park

This huge world-class water park offers a great day out to suit all ages and bravery levels with 31 water-fuelled rides and attractions. Thrill-seekers will not be disappointed by its most challenging ride, the Jumeirah Sceirah – it's the tallest and fastest freefall waterslide outside the US. Well-staffed by lifeguards and with plenty of food outlets, it makes for a fun day out.

Jumeirah's Beaches and Dubai's Beach Culture

All of the hotels in Jumeirah are fronted by their own private stretches of golden beach onto the Arabian Gulf, but there are plenty of public beaches too, which fill up at weekends. There are also family-friendly beach parks with a small entrance charge: the best in this area is the Jumeirah Beach Park.

5 Atlantis, The Palm
 Opened in 2008 and sitting at the top end of the Palm Jumeirah is the unmistakable Atlantis hotel. This sprawling, aquatic-themed resort boasts a vast beach, an enormous marine park where visitors can swim with dolphins and an impressive adventure waterpark. An extensive range of restaurants and other facilities are also on site to keep the entire family entertained (see p44).

6 Safa Park
 You can't miss the giant Ferris wheel here, offering the best views of this huge landscaped green park stretching from Al Wasl Rd to Sheikh Zayed

Rd. It is hugely popular with local residents, many of whom make the most of its specially-sprung perimeter jogging track. It's great for kids to run free and there's lots of entertainment too with tennis courts, trampolining, mini train, a merry-go-round, obstacle course and lake where rowing boats can be hired. 📍 Map A5

7 Jumeirah Beach Park
 This lovely green park, full of mature trees, backs onto a beautiful stretch of white sand beach. It is a real gem and an ideal place to spend a day in the sun, although weekends are best avoided when it gets crowded. You can access the beach from the park along wooden walkways and there is plenty of shade on the sand under the many palm trees. It's great for children and is equipped with lifeguards, a shallow beach, showers, toilets, barbecues, picnic tables and small cafés. 📍 Map A4 of snow, it offers five slopes linked by chairlifts and tow lifts to cater to all ski levels, including the longest black indoor run in the world. There's also a snow park for little ones. Ski gear is provided in the ticket (see p32).

9 Mall of the Emirates
This is Dubai's swankiest retail complex, with more than 400 shops, selling every product you can possibly dream of. There's also a huge branch of Carrefour supermarket, Harvey Nichols and Debenhams, plus myriad fashion labels. It has a multi-screen cinema and big kids' play area, Magic Planet, plus dozens of cafés and restaurants. Map C2

10 Marina Markets
Dubai Marina is a stunning marina-side development of luxury apartment towers and offices. Unsurprisingly, alfresco waterside life has really taken off alongside the main pedestrian area, Marina Walk, where there are dozens of outdoor cafés. Friday sees the setting up of Marina Markets around the stunning central fountain and dancing water features and the arrival of dozens of colourful stalls selling art and handicrafts. It's a great chance to combine shopping with some sunshine.

Around Abu Dhabi

A STUNNING CITY OF SHINY SKYSCRAPERS LINING a splendid Corniche, oil-rich Abu Dhabi is the capital of Abu Dhabi emirate as well as of the UAE. Home to the excellent arts centre, the Abu Dhabi Authority for Culture and Heritage, it is also the country's cultural and intellectual capital. It is often compared to New York, with its more glamorous sister Dubai likened to LA. An island-city with plenty of narrow white sand beaches and crystal clear turquoise waters lapping at its shores, Abu Dhabi is popular with beachcombers and lovers of the outdoors. Local residents ritually power-walk along the city's waterfront. The median strips of its wide streets are planted with towering date palms, while its green parks are packed with playground equipment for kids.

The magnificent Emirates Palace

1 Emirates Palace
 Abu Dhabi's magnificent pink palace hotel dominates the western end of the splendid Corniche. The majestic multi-domed exterior is surpassed in extravagance by the dazzling interior, glittering with gold and sparkling with Swarovski crystals. Completed in 2005, it was constructed to provide opulent accommodation fitting for the capital's visiting dignitaries – from Saudi princes to world leaders to Hollywood stars (see pp22–3).

2 Abu Dhabi Heritage Village
 The delightful Heritage Village provides a fascinating insight into what everyday life was like in Abu Dhabi before oil was discovered. A recreation of a traditional mosque, barasti house, Bedouin camp and souq are all worth a look, but the star sight is an intriguing museum set in a fort with fabulous exhibits featuring costumes, jewellery, everyday utensils, pearling tools and weapons. There's an arcade of artisan's workshops where you can watch basket weaving, glass blowing, weaving and brass-beating.

The Discovery of Oil

The Japanese invention of the cultured pearl and the subsequent collapse of the Gulf's pearl industry led to the granting of petroleum concessions by Sheikh Shakhbut bin Sultan Al Nahayan in 1939. It turned out to be a very wise move. The discovery of oil in 1958 and its export from 1962 made Abu Dhabi a very rich city.

5 Yas Island

Opened in time for Abu Dhabi's inaugural Formula 1 Grand Prix in 2009, Yas Island is an ongoing, multi-billion dollar project that includes far more than just the impressive Yas Marina race-track. Ferrari World Abu Dhabi, the world's biggest indoor theme park, is a dominating feature, as will be the water-parks and shopping malls planned for the coming years. Completed in 2007, the building can accommodate 40,000 worshippers, although tours are available to non-Muslims. Corniche & City Walk

Morning

🕒 Get a taxi in the early morning to the big flag pole at the tip of the Breakwater for views of the city skyline. Walk to the Abu Dhabi Heritage Village close by soon after opening, and spend time admiring the recreations of old souqs, Bedouin camps and barasti living quarters. Stop by a coffee shop on the white sand beach overlooking the city for a refreshment. You'll need to pick up the pace for a brisk walk around the Breakwater and along the causeway to the Emirates Palace. Take time to admire the jaw-dropping interior and refuel at the elegant coffee shop. Then continue along the Corniche, stopping to catch stunning views of Lulu Island.

Afternoon

When you get to Sheikh Rashid bin Saeed Al Maktoum St (2nd St) you'll see the signs to Central Market – head down here to look at the giant white iconic statues of Abu Dhabi's beloved symbols – a coffee pot, cannon, incense burner and perfume sprinkler. From here, cross the busy intersection with Al Nasr and Hamdan Sts to the Cultural Foundation for lunch at Delma Café (see p25). After lunch, check out Heritage Corner. Grab a programme to see if there's a cultural performance in the evening that's worth returning for. TOP 10 Planning Your Trip

1 Passports & Visa

Complimentary 60-day visit visas are available on arrival at UAE airport immigration desks. Passports must be valid for 6 months from the date of entry to the UAE. Visas can be extended at the Department of Naturalisation and Residency (Tel: 02 398 1010). ☎ Visa free; visa extension Dh500 for 30 days • dxbimmig@emirates.net.ae • www.dnrd.gov.ae

2 Insurance

While petty crime is extremely rare in the UAE, insurance covering loss of luggage and theft is always good to have, along with comprehensive health and dental insurance. Hospitals are very efficient, but the services are expensive.

3 When to Go

Winter is usually when Dubai is at its best. This is when the Dubai Shopping Festival, Global Village and most major international sporting events take place. In recent years though, the UAE has had cool, grey, wet winters. So those wanting guaranteed sunshine should visit during Oct–Nov or Mar–Apr instead. Summer is best avoided.

4 What to Take

Bring swimwear, a hat and sun block (expensive in the UAE) for the beach. Loose linen and cotton clothes are best for sightseeing. Make sure they're not transparent – remember, it's a conservative country, so you need to dress modestly. Pack a cardigan or sweater as most indoor places are air-conditioned.

5 How Long to Stay

While Dubai makes a great 2–3 day stopover on your way somewhere, 5 days to a week is wonderful if you want to relax at a beach resort, do some serious shopping in the souqs and malls, as well as take in the sights of Dubai Creek, Bastakiya and Shindagha. Add 1–2 days to visit Abu Dhabi.

6 Electricity

UAE power sockets generally accept the UK three prong plug operating on 220/240 volts, although you may also see the European two round prong plug. It's not a bad idea to bring an adaptor that works for both. Most good hotels will have adaptors you can borrow, or you can buy them in local supermarkets.

7 Customs & Duty Free

The duty free allowance is 400 cigarettes or 2 kg of tobacco, cigars to the value of AED 3000 and 5 litres of wine or spirits. It's illegal to purchase alcohol in the UAE without a liquor license (only available to UAE Residents), so buy duty free at the airport if you want to have sunset drinks on the balcony but want to avoid expensive mini-bar costs.

8 Prohibited Items

In addition to the items on most countries' blacklists, such as firearms, illegal drugs and pornography, it is forbidden to bring in any banned movies, tv programs and offensive publications, especially films and programs that may include scenes with passionate kissing, sex, nudity or semi-nudity, drug-use or any content relating to Israel.

9 Time Zone

The UAE time zone is GMT+4. It is 6 hours behind Australian Eastern Standard Time. There is no daylight saving.

10 Opening Hours & Weekends

The UAE weekend is Friday and Saturday. Business hours aren't fixed, but generally, shopping malls open 10am–10pm Sat–Thu, opening in the late afternoon and evening on Fridays. Shops in the streets open approximately the same times but close for lunch from 1pm–4/5pm. Government departments open around 7am and close to the public around 3pm.

3 Dubai Taxis

There are taxi ranks at shopping malls. Elsewhere, flag them down on the street. All taxis use metres. The flag fall is AED 3 by day, AED 3.50 at night. A short taxi ride in Deira or Bur Dubai might cost you AED 10, from Deira to Sheikh Zayed Rd around AED 15, from Bur Dubai to Jumeirah Beach from AED 25–45. 📞 Dubai Transport: 04 208 0808 • www.dtc.dubai.ae

10 Walking

There are few places that are walkable in Dubai and Abu Dhabi, apart from Dubai's souqs and Bastakiya and Abu Dhabi's Corniche. Elsewhere, be cautious on pedestrian crossings, which drivers ignore. Walking is better in the cooler winter months. However, in the scorching heat of summer, it's not advisable as there is little shelter.

The UAE dirham is pegged to the US dollar. US$ 1 is equal to AED 3.67. All other currencies fluctuate, but at the time of writing €1 was equal to AED 5.5 and £1 was worth AED 6.

3 Banks & ATMs

Numerous international banks operate in the UAE, including HSBC, Citibank and Standard Chartered Bank. Good local banks include National Bank of Abu Dhabi, Mashreq Bank and National Bank of Dubai. Globally linked ATMs are everywhere, allowing you access to your home account.

4 Credit Cards & Travellers' Cheques

While travellers' cheques can be changed in the UAE, credit cards are preferred. Visa, American Express and Mastercard are widely accepted and credit cards can be used almost everywhere. If using travellers' cheques, opt for Thomas Cook, which has local branches.

5 Calling the UAE

To phone the UAE from abroad, dial your international access code, the UAE country code 971, then 4 for Dubai or 2 for Abu Dhabi, followed by the local number. To dial a mobile from abroad, dial 971 50 followed by the mobile number. Within the UAE, dial 050 for mobiles, 04 to call Dubai from outside the emirate and 02 to phone Abu Dhabi from another emirate.

6 Mobile Phones

9 Post Offices

TOP 10 Things to be Aware of

1 Languages

Arabic is the official language, although English is widely spoken. As 80% of the population are foreign, you'll hear scores of languages on the street. Signage is generally in both Arabic and English.

2 Islam

The UAE is an Islamic state following a tolerant version of Sharia Law, with both Sharia and civil law courts. UAE Muslims adhere to the conduct of Islam, praying five times a day, donating to charity, fasting and doing the pilgrimage to Mecca.

3 Call-to-prayer

If you stay in Deira, Bur Dubai or the Bastakiya area in particular, you'll hear the beautiful sound of the call-to-prayer echoing through the streets five times a day. Broadcast from the minarets of mosques, the call-to-prayer beckons Muslims to come and worship.

4 Respectful Conduct

Never shake hands with an Emirati woman unless offered her hand first. If visiting someone's home, remove your shoes, don't show the soles of your feet and don't eat with your left hand. Displays of affection among couples in public are frowned upon. While holding hands is acceptable, passionate kissing and embracing is not. Rude gestures and swearing are offensive.

5 Photographing Women

Photographing Emirati and other Muslim women is not acceptable without asking their permission first. Even at places where covered ladies prepare local food for sale as part of the displays, ask first before taking their photo. Photography of Sheikhs' palaces, police and military buildings, ports and airports is forbidden.

6 Dress Code

Visitors should dress modestly. Loose long linen or cotton clothing is respectful and is also suited to the scorching heat. Women should not wear tight or transparent clothing, skirts above the knee, sleeveless tops, halter-necks or shoestring straps in public, while men should refrain from wearing shorts and sleeveless tops. In Sharjah, wearing these clothes in public can incur a severe penalty.

7 Pork

Muslims do not eat pork, however, pork products are for sale to non-Muslims in "Pork Rooms" in supermarkets such as Spinneys. Most restaurants at five star hotels include pork on their menus.

8 Alcohol

It's illegal to purchase alcohol without a liquor license (only available to UAE Residents) so buy alcohol at the airport duty free shop. You can drink alcohol in hotels and licensed venues. Penalties for drunken behaviour in public are heavy. Sharjah is a dry emirate – alcohol is not sold or allowed there.

9 Sheikh Mohammed Centre for Cultural Understanding

This organization runs a number of activities under the "Open Doors, Open Minds" program, which is aimed at promoting tolerance of culture and religion. Stop at the Bastakiya courtyard house to book a tour (see pp12–13).

10 Ramadan & Islamic holidays

Religious festivals rely on the sighting of the moon. Alcohol is not served the night before a religious holiday. During the holy month of Ramadan, government offices operate on shorter hours, most shops close during the day, and eating, drinking and smoking in public is forbidden. There is no music or dancing either. After Iftar (breaking of the fast), the mood is festive – malls stay open until midnight and the celebratory spirit is infectious.

TOP 10 Things to Avoid

1 Dehydration

Whether lying by the pool or walking around town, you're equally at risk of dehydrating in the UAE's ferocious heat. To avoid dehydration, wear light clothes, avoid the sun in the hottest part of the day and drink much more water than you normally would at home.

2 Traffic Accidents

Dubai's traffic is horrific. Be vigilant as a pedestrian and as a passenger don't be embarrassed to ask your driver to "shway shway!" (slow down!).

3 Rush Hour

Don't think about going anywhere in Dubai from 8am–10am (when commuters head to work), noon–2pm (when they go home or out for lunch) and from 4pm–6:30pm. Also avoid the roads around 8pm–9pm on Thursday and Friday nights, when everyone seems to be going out.

4 Parking & Speeding Tickets

UAE parking and traffic cops take their jobs very seriously. Look out for speed signs, particularly in areas where there are road works. Always look for parking signs and orange parking metres wherever you park, especially at night. Otherwise, expect to return to a parking ticket on your windscreen.

5 Road Surprises!

While you might find those "Road Surprises!" signs amusing the first time you see them (and everyone loves to stop to take a photo of the camel sign), they're there for a reason. Slow down and look out for dips, speed bumps and sand on the road. And while they're very cute, camels can be troublesome – they just love to take a stroll on the freeway.

6 Driving in Rain & Sand Storms

Rainy weather makes driving hazardous simply because UAE residents aren't used to driving in the rain, so they won't necessarily slow down. The rate of accidents is considerably higher in wet weather. Decelerate or pull over in sand storms when visibility is poor. When you see oncoming drivers with their hazard lights on, it means conditions are even worse up ahead.

7 Swimming Dangers

When you see signs warning bathers about dangerous rips and strong undertows, these should be taken seriously. Avoid swimming if you're not a strong swimmer, or take extra care. Despite the calm appearance of the water, Dubai's beaches have very powerful undercurrents.

8 Souq Spruikers

The most annoying thing about shopping in the souqs is the spruiking. Touts aggressively attempt to lure customers into shops to buy "copy watches, copy bags, Madam!" Unless you want to buy these counterfeit goods (great value but illegal), the best strategy is to ignore them completely. Show even the slightest bit of interest or politeness, and they'll never leave you alone.

9 Drugs

Do not attempt to bring drugs into the country. Keep in mind that even some prescription drugs, such as codeine, and anti-depressant and HRT medications are banned (see p102). The UAE has a zero tolerance policy on drugs. Penalties and sentences are harsh. While the death penalty is an option, it's rarely applied. However, you're more likely to serve a long sentence and get deported.

10 Prostitutes

If you stay in Bur Dubai neighbourhoods such as Mankhool, you'll see prostitutes on the streets at night, often from China and former Soviet countries. They also frequent many bars and nightclubs in Deira and Bur Dubai. Prostitution is illegal and prostitutes are best avoided.

TOP 10 Useful Information

1 Business & Shopping Hours

The official weekend is Friday and Saturday. Everyone has a day off on the main Friday prayer day, while some work half or full days on Saturday. Government departments open 7:30am–3pm while private companies work 9am–5pm. Supermarkets open 8am–10pm while major malls open 10am–10pm. Smaller malls and independent shops do not open until the afternoon on Fridays.

2 Climate

The UAE has an arid sub-tropical climate with infrequent rainfall. The country was synonymous with year-round sunshine until the 2006 winter, one of the wettest on record. Temperatures average 20 degrees Celsius in winter to 45 degrees Celsius in summer.

3 Weights & Measures

The UAE uses the metric system, except for petrol, when it uses gallons. A wide range of measurement systems are used for clothes and shoes which are manufactured in Europe, Asia, the Middle East and North America.

4 Taxes

Residents of the UAE don't pay income tax. This is a big incentive for expats to build a life here. The only taxes here are on alcohol and the municipality and service taxes on hotel rooms.

5 Photography & Video

Emiratis are obsessed with technology so if you're after something new you'll find a wide range of well-priced digital cameras. If you need additional memory cards, tapes or batteries try the myriad electronics stores in City Centre and Baniyas Square, Deira.

6 Smoking

UAE legislation introduced in 2004 provided for a ban on smoking in public places, including shopping malls, restaurants and entertainment venues. Unfortunately this has not been enforced. By law, restaurants are required to have non-smoking sections but most don't. At the time of research the UAE was set to enforce laws and give officials power to issue on-the-spot fines to lawbreakers.

7 Homosexuality

Homosexuality is illegal and homosexual practices are punishable with harsh penalties. You'll see men from Central Asia and the Indian Subcontinent holding hands – this does not mean they are gay; they are just good friends. Likewise, you'll see Emirati men rub noses when they meet, in the same way that close male friends kiss cheeks in Europe's Mediterranean countries.

8 Women Travellers

Women travelling solo in the UAE shouldn't experience any harassment if they follow local norms. They should sit in the back seat of taxis, in the "women's section" of buses and eat in "family rooms" in cheap hotels. Dedicated women's queues at banks and government departments mean women get preferential service.

9 Contraceptives

Contraceptives can be purchased in pharmacies in the UAE without a prescription. They'll generally be kept on the shelves alongside women's hygiene products. The price is comparable to Europe and Australasia.

10 Toilets

All shopping centres, five star hotels and good restaurants and bars have clean toilets – it's okay to walk off the street to use these. In shopping centres and cheaper street eateries you may come across "hole in the ground" Oriental toilets alongside Western toilets. You will also find bidets or a hose for ablutions.

All restaurants charge municipality tax and service tax, which totals to 17.5 per cent.

TOP 10 Security & Health

1 Precautions

The biggest danger to your health and wellbeing in the UAE is the heat. Take precautions to avoid dehydration, sunburn and sunstroke. From June to August in particular, avoid walking as much as possible and take advantage of the cheap air-conditioned taxis.

2 Personal Safety

While petty crime is unheard of, be sensible – don't dress like a tourist and don't flash cash around. The most dangerous place is on the road. The UAE has one of the highest rates of road deaths on the planet. As a pedestrian be vigilant; drivers will not stop for you on a crossing, so cross only at lights where possible. If your taxi driver is driving too fast or recklessly, tell him to slow down.

3 Drinking Water & Food Safety

The tap water is safe to drink. At most, you may experience an upset tummy for a couple of days as your body adjusts to new bacteria. When eating street food, only try eateries popular with locals.

4 Consulates

Generally, embassies are in Abu Dhabi and consulates in Dubai, although there are a few exceptions. Check your consulate's UAE website for travel warnings and security information. Consulate phone numbers are listed in the Etisalat phone directory that is available in most hotel rooms.

5 Emergency Info

In case of emergency, phone the following numbers: Police 999; Ambulance 998/999; Fire Department 997; Operator 181.

6 If You Get Arrested

The UAE is an Islamic state and you can land in trouble for not respecting religious customs and decency laws. Under absolutely no condition drink alcohol and drive. In Sharjah, it's illegal for women to travel in a vehicle with men other than their husband. Women must dress modestly and not show their décolletage, upper arms or back. In Dubai and Abu Dhabi, arrests have resulted from foreigners being too affectionate in public, particularly during Ramadan. If you get arrested, do not sign anything in Arabic immediately. Your consulate should be your first call – they can help facilitate contact with a local bilingual lawyer.

7 Road Traffic Accidents

If you're in an accident, first get out of harm's way, then call the police

(999) for instructions. Do not move the car unless instructed to do so by the police. If another party is involved and you have your camera handy, take photos for insurance purposes.

8 Hospitals

Hospital standards are outstanding in the UAE at both private and public hospitals. You will find that the service is faster at emergency departments at private hospitals. ☎ Dubai: American Hospital 04 336 7777, Al Zahra Private Medical Centre 04 331 5000 • Abu Dhabi: Gulf Diagnostic Centre 02 665 8090, Centre Medical Franco-Emirien 02 626 5722

10 Pharmacies

There are many pharmacies in Dubai and Abu Dhabi that are open 24 hours. The daily newspapers list them. However, in Dubai, you can phone 04 223 2323 to find out the pharmacy nearest to you that's open, and in Abu Dhabi call 02 777 929.

TOP 10 Budget Tips

1 When Not to Go

Avoid Dubai and Abu Dhabi during major events and conferences (unless it's something you actually want to go to!) when hotel room prices go through the roof. While December and January are the coolest months, winter is the peak season and hotels charge rack rates. Ramadan is another period to avoid.

2 Summer Savings

While summer is best avoided due to the ferocious heat, this is the ideal time for budget travellers. Most hotels drop their rates by 50% and offer excellent holiday packages. The Summer Surprises shopping festival means there are great bargains to be found.

3 Internet Deals

Travellers averse to package deals can find great deals on the Internet if they can be flexible. Accommodation websites such as Expedia offer great hotels at bargain prices, particularly in the quiet periods between big events and conferences. Hotel websites, such as the Accor site, are also a great source for discounted rooms.

4 Transport

Budget travellers can save money by catching the abra across Dubai

Creek. These open-sided wooden boats cost just AED 1 per trip and connect Dubai's main sights in Deira and Bur Dubai. The buses are a cheap alternative to taxis (see p103).

5 Supermarkets

The supermarkets are excellent in the UAE. It's possible to find products from all over the world. Carrefour has a reputation for having the lowest prices. It also has the best bakery with delicious Middle Eastern pastries and an excellent deli counter where you buy olives, cheeses and cold meats for picnics and balcony snacks while you enjoy the sunset.

6 Brunches & Buffets

The Friday Brunch is a ritual for many expats. Five star hotels offer great value all-you-can-eat-and-drink brunches, including alcohol, from AED 70–200 per person. Similar mid-week buffet lunches and dinners are also great value, starting from as low as AED 47. Check local magazines for the latest offers.

7 Cheap Eats

A couple of shwarmas and a fresh mango juice make a great cheap eat. Shwarmas cost around AED 3 and juices from AED 6. If you're after something more filling, head to one of Dubai and Abu Dhabi's many cheap ethnic eateries (see p64) where you can spend as little as AED 30 per person for a curry or biryani or a few mezze dishes and a mixed Arabic grill.

8 Happy Hours

While alcohol is expensive in the UAE (it's the only thing that is taxed), you can drink cheaply if you take advantage of happy hours (generally from 6pm–8pm) and drink promotions. Many bars and clubs offer half-price drinks, two-for-one deals, two free drinks or "free bubbly for the ladies", on particular nights.

9 Free Stuff to Do

In Dubai, a walk through the Bastakiya or on Shindagha waterfront is free, while it costs nothing to stroll along Abu Dhabi's beautiful Corniche.

10 Discounts & Bargaining

Bargaining is expected in the souqs and carpet shops. Make an offer at half the price and work up from there. In electronics and jewellery stores, it's acceptable to ask if that's the best price or for a discount if you pay cash or buy two. Let them know if you found something cheaper elsewhere and they'll probably drop their price.

TOP 10 Accommodation & Dining Tips

1 Hotel Taxes

The UAE is a tax-free country. However, visitors to the UAE can expect to pay a 10 per cent government tax and a 10 per cent service charge on hotel rooms.

2 Rooms

Hotel rooms in the UAE are spacious and also extremely secure. Most rooms are air-conditioned and come well equipped with television, telephones, minibar, tea and coffee facilities, toiletries and in-room safe. The best hotels also provide complimentary newspapers and bottled water.

3 Rack Rates & Discounts

While rack rates are quoted throughout this guide, they are rarely paid in the UAE. Travellers can book online through accommodation booking sites with considerably reduced discounts or book hotels as part of a package deal, while UAE residents can call hotels and request a residents discount.

4 Concierges

UAE concierges are generally excellent. They are a good source of local information and can recommend and book restaurants and organize transport and tours. They can also arrange to store your luggage if you have a late flight.

5 Extra costs

Extras that can add significantly to hotel room bills include phone calls and minibar costs. If you need to make lots of local phone calls, buy a local SIM card and phone card. While minibar prices are comparable to bar prices, you're better off buying duty free liquor.

6 Valet Parking

Almost all UAE hotels provide valet parking free-of-charge. Rarely will guests pay for valet parking if they're staying at a hotel, although there are exceptions. If you're staying in a mid-range or budget Deira hotel, you may have to park your car at a nearby parking station. The average cost is AED 20 per night. If you're hiring a car, contact your hotel ahead of time to enquire about parking facilities.

7 Tipping

In the UAE, it's customary to tip, although not obligatory. While most restaurants include a service charge, this doesn't always go to waiting staff. If the service was good, leave a tip, anything from 5–10 per cent. If it didn't meet your expectations, don't tip. Give porters a couple of dirhams per piece of luggage and if the taxi driver was friendly and helped with luggage, leave him a few coins.

8 Restaurant Reservations

Most hotels have "Restaurant Reservations" services. Take advantage of these to make your bookings, as there's nothing as tedious as having to visit half a dozen eateries before you find a table. Restaurants fill quickly in Dubai and Abu Dhabi and it can be hard to get a table on weekends. Make bookings as far in advance as possible.

9 Meal Times

UAE residents and locals eat late compared to North American, British and Australasian diners. Arab expats and Emiratis tend to book restaurant tables from 10pm onwards, while European expats eat around 8:30pm–9pm. Eat any earlier and you'll miss out on the fun – you'll only be dining with other tourists.

10 Dress Codes

Good restaurants require smart-casual to formal dress in the UAE. Emiratis wear their best dishdashas and abayas, while expats dress up too – even in casual restaurants, women will look glam while men will wear trousers (never jeans) and a long sleeved shirt. In fine dining restaurants, a smart suit jacket is expected (although a tie is sometimes optional).
