Three Little Pigs and a Big Bad Wolf

retold by Linda B. Ross
illustrated by Liza Woodruff

❧ A Classic Tale ❧

Once there were three
little pigs.
They needed new homes.

The first little pig
made his house out of straw.

“What a fine house!”
he said.

The second little pig
made her house out of sticks.

“What a fine house!”
she said.

The third little pig
made his house out of bricks.

“What a fine house!”
he said.

One day a big bad wolf came
to the straw house.
“Let me in, little pig!”
he said.

“No!” said the first
little pig.

“Then I’ll huff and puff
and blow your house down,”
said the big bad wolf.

And he did.

The little pig ran away
to his sister’s stick house.

The next day the big bad wolf
went to the stick house.

“Let me in, little pigs!”
he said.

“No!” said the second
little pig.

“Then I’ll huff and puff
said the big bad wolf.

And he did.

The little pigs ran away
to their brother’s brick house.

The next day the big bad wolf
went to the brick house.
he said.

“No!”
said the third little pig.

“Then I’ll huff and puff
said the big bad wolf.

And he tried.

The big bad wolf huffed
and he puffed.

But he could not blow

So the big bad wolf
came up with a plan.

Down,
down,
down
he went!

But the three little pigs
had a plan, too.

“Hello, wolf!”
they said.

The big bad wolf ran away.

And the three little pigs
